sued pursuant to any act of congress by any board of commissioners, register of a land-office, or by any one authorized by law to issue such certificate, upon any warrant or order of survey, or for any donation or pre-emption claim, vest the legal title in the holder, or his assignee, and must be received as evidence of such title; and all transcripts of any official book, official entry, or other document pertaining to any land-office in this state, certified by the register of such land-office, must be received as prima facie evidence of the facts contained in such transcripts so certified, in all the courts of this state.

Stewart v. Trenier, 49 Ala. 492; s. c., 55 Ala. 448; Bonner v. Phillips, 77 Ala. 427; Case v. Edgeworth, 87 Ala. 203; Knabe v. Burden, 88 Ala. 436; Tillison v. Ewing, 91 Ala. 467; Stephenson v. Reeves, 92 Ala. 582.

1814 (2783) (3044) (2692). Deeds made and signed in land-office; how proved.—Any deed or written instrument for the conveyance or sale of land purchased or entered at any land-office of the United States in this state, made or signed in or upon any book or record of such office, may be proved by a copy thereof, certified by the register of such land-office under his hand to be a correct copy, and such copy shall be received in all courts and proceedings under the laws of this state, and may be recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the land may be; and a transcript of such record in the office of the judge of probate may be certified and used in the same manner, and in the same cases as transcripts of such records of original deeds may be.

See citations to two preceding sections.

1815 (2784) (3048) (2696). Books, etc., of surveyor-general public archives; certified copies evidence.—The books, maps and field-notes of the surveyor-general of the United States for the State of Alabama, deposited in the office of the secretary of state, are public archives of the state; and the secretary of state must, upon the application of any person, furnish certified copies, which must be received in evidence in any court.

1816 (2785) (3049) (2697). Transcripts of books kept in office of any public officer, evidence.—All transcripts of books or papers required by law to be kept in the office of any public officer, when certified by the proper custodian thereof, must be received in evidence in all courts; and it is no objection to such transcript that the book from which it is taken is a copy of office books belonging to the United States.

Transcripts.—Stanley v. State, 88 Ala. 154; Willingham v. State, 104 Ala. 59. Original record admissible.—Lawson v. O'Rear, 4 Ala. 156; Carwile v. House, 6 Ala. 710; Huckabee v. Shepherd, 75 Ala. 342; Miller v. Boykin, 70 Ala. 469; Stevenson v. Moody, 85 Ala. 33.

1817 (2786) (3050). Copy of field-notes certified by judge of probate, evidence.—Copies of the field-notes of the original government surveys of lands, furnished by the secretary of state to the judge of probate, when certified by such judge, are admissible in evidence in any court of this state.

1818 (2787) (3046) (2694) (2294). Certificate of head of depart- ment sufficient.—The certificate of the head of any bureau or department of the general government is sufficient authentication of any paper or document appertaining to his office.

State, 88 Ala. 154; Jones v. Hagler, 95 Ala. 529; Cofer v. Scroggins, 98 Ala. 342; Schwartz v. Baird, 100 Ala. 154; Willingham v. State, 104 Ala. 59.

1820 (2789) (3051) (2698) (2296). Private acts.—All private acts of the general assembly of this or any other state of the United States may be given in evidence without being specially pleaded.

Perry v. N. O., M. & C. R. Co., 55 Ala. 413; McDonald v. Mobile Life Ins. Co., 56 Ala. 468.

1821 (2790) (3045) (2693) (2293). Statutes of other states. Transcripts of acts of congress, or of the statutes of any other state or territory of the United States, certified by the secretary of state of this state as being deposited in his office, or as being deposited in the supreme court library; and public or private statutes, or the proceedings of any legislative body, purporting on the face of the book to be printed by authority of the government, or state, or territory, are evidence without further proof.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 985.

1822. Municipal ordinances and by-laws.—Any printed book, code or revision of the by-laws or ordinances of any municipal corporation of this state, purporting on the face of the book to be printed by authority or to be a code of ordinances or by-laws of such municipal corporation, or certified on such book under the hand of the clerk or recording officer of such corporation as being an official publication of ordinances or by-laws of such municipal corporation, and any ordinance or by-law certified by such official as correct, shall be prima facie evidence of the due adoption and continued existence of the by-laws or ordinances therein printed, or so certified as correct, without further proof.

1823 (2791) (3042) (2688) (2285). Interest in other states.—The secretary of state must cause to be printed, in the pamphlet acts of each session of the general assembly, the rate of interest of each state and territory; and such publication must be received as presumptive evidence of such interest.

Does not authorize court to take judicial notice of rate of other states; tabulated statement only presumptive evidence when introduced, and may be rebutted.—M. & C. P. R. Co. v. Tallman, 15 Ala. 472, 493; Clarke v. Pratt, 20 Ala. 470; Harrison v. Harrison, 20 Ala. 629; Camp v. Randle, 81 Ala. 240. In the absence of proof of foreign rate, no interest is recoverable on a judgment rendered or debt payable in another state.—Authorities supra.

ARTICLE 2.

PROCURING TESTIMONY BY SUBPŒNA.

1824 (2792) (3060) (2705) (2303). Issue of subpœna.—At the request of either party to a pending suit, his agent or attorney, the clerk of the court must issue subpœnas for witnesses, specifying therein the time and place for their appearance, the title of the suit, and the party at whose instance they are summoned, and commanding them to appear in conformity therewith and give testimony.

1825 (2793) (3061) (2706) (2304). When affidavit required for subpœna.—No subpœna can issue for a witness residing more than one hundred miles from the place of trial, computing by the route usually traveled, unless the party summoning him, his agent, or attorney, make affidavit that the personal attendance of the witness is necessary to a proper decision of the cause, and that his deposition would be insufficient for that purpose; and the fact that such affidavit has been made must be indorsed by the clerk upon the subpœna.

Ex parte Branch, 105 Ala. 231; Ala. Mid. Ry. v. Rushing, 103 Ala. 542.

1826 (2794) (3062) (2707) (2305). How and by whom executed. The subpœna must be directed "to any sheriff of the State of Alabama," and may be executed upon the witness either personally or by leaving a copy at his place of residence, unless the subpœna is issued during term time, when it must be executed by personal service.

1827 (2795) (3063) (2708) (2306). Issued to each term.—In civil cases, where the cause is not decided at the first term, witnesses must be summoned by the clerk by the issue of subpœnas to each term until the case is disposed of, unless otherwise directed by the party summoning them.

1828 (2796) (3064) (2709) (2307). Penalty for default.—Any witness who, after being subpœnaed, fails to attend pursuant to the mandate of the subpœna, and remain until his testimony is given, or he is discharged, forfeits one hundred dollars to the use of the party summoning him; and the attendance of such witness may be compelled by attachment.

1829 (2797) (3065) (2710) (2308). Proceedings to recover penalty.—A conditional judgment must, on motion of such party, be rendered against such witness, and a notice issued to him that such judgment will be made absolute unless he appear at the next court and render a good excuse for his default; and on being personally served with a copy of such notice ten days before the next or any succeeding term, if he fail to appear and render a satisfactory excuse for his default, such judgment may be made absolute, or reduced, as the court may direct.

Maclin v. Wilson, 21 Ala. 670; Emanuel v. Ketchum, Ib. 258; Spence v. Simmons, Ib. 563; Ex parte Rucker, 108 Ala. 245.

1830 (2798) (3068) (2714) (2312). Excuse; how made.—Witnesses failing to attend court may make their excuse by affidavit, or viva voce, in open court, which the court must hear at any time, unless engaged in the trial of a cause, and, if the excuse is sufficient, release the party from any fine imposed, without payment of costs.

1831 (2799) (3066) (2711) (2309). Witness imprisoned for refusal to testify.—Any witness refusing to testify, unless privileged by law from testifying in the cause, must be committed to the jail of the county, there to remain without bail until he consents to testify.

Ex parte Rucker, 108 Ala. 245.

1832 (2800) (3067) (2712) (2310). Discharged on bond.—No witness so imprisoned must be discharged at the adjournment of the court, or afterwards, until he give bond and surety in an amount to be prescribed by the judge of such court, to be approved by the judge of probate, payable to the state, and conditioned to appear at the next term and give evidence in the cause.

ARTICLE 3.

PROCURING TESTIMONY BY DEPOSITION.

1833 (2801) (3069) (2716) (2318). When deposition may be taken.—The evidence of witnesses in civil cases may be taken by deposition by either party—

1. When the witness is a woman.

2. When the witness, from age, infirmity, or sickness, is unable to attend court.

3. When the witness resides more than one hundred miles from the place of trial, computing by the route usually traveled, or resides out of, or is absent from the state.

4. When the witness is about to leave the state, and will probably not return until after the trial.

5. When the claim or defense, or a material part thereof, depends exclusively on the evidence of the witness.

6. When the witness is the governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, attorney-general, superintendent of education, commissioner of agriculture, examiner of public accounts, or the head of any other department or bureau of the state government, chancellor, judge, or clerk of any court of record, register in chancery, or sheriff; or president, director, or other officer of a bank incorporated in this state; postmaster or other officer of the United States; or practicing physician or lawyer; or a person constantly employed on any steamboat or other water-craft, or on any turnpike, or manufactory, or about the engine or other machinery of a railroad, or is a superintendent, secretary, treasurer, master of road repairs, or conductor of any railroad; or is a telegraph-operator; or a teacher of a public or private school actually engaged in teaching, or a minister of the gospel, or pastor of a religious society in charge of any diocese, parish, church, district, or circuit.

Subdivision 1.—Ex parte Jenks, 101 Ala. 429; Ex parte Branch, 105 Ala. 231. Subdivision 2.—Herndon v. Givins, 16 Ala. 261. Subdivision 3.—Ala. Mid. Ry. Co. v. Rushing, 103 Ala. 542; Nat. Fertilizer Co. v. Holland, 107 Ala. 412. Subdivision 5.—May v. May, 28 Ala. 141; Henry v. Northern Bank, 63 Ala. 527; M. & C. R. Co. v. Maples, 63 Ala. 601; Potts v. Coleman, 86 Ala. 94.

1834 (2802) (3070) (2717) (2319). Steps to be taken before issue of commission.—The party desiring to take such deposition, his agent, or attorney, must make affidavit before the clerk of the court, or any officer authorized to administer oaths, setting forth some one or more of the above causes for taking such deposition, and that the witness is material, which must be filed in the cause; and thereupon the clerk must issue a commission to one or more persons to take such deposition, and prescribe the notice to be given the opposite party, or his attorney, of the time and place of taking it. If the party on whom the notice is to be served resides out of the county, and has no attorney of record, it is sufficient to file the notice with the papers in the cause for the length of time prescribed. When the testimony is desired under the third subdivision of the preceding section, the testimony must be taken by interrogatories, as prescribed by the succeeding section.

Affidavit.—Bogia v. Darden, 45 Ala. 269; Reese v. Beck, 24 Ala. 651; Wolfe v. Parham, 18 Ala. 441; Parsons v. Boyd, 20 Ala. 112; McDonald v. Jacobs, 77 Ala. 524; Bozeman v. Bozeman, 83 Ala. 416; Birmingham Union Ry. Co. v. Alexander, 93 Ala. 133. Notice.—Reese v. Beck, 24 Ala. 651; Jordan v. Hazard, 10 Ala. 221; Cameron v. Clark, 11 Ala. 259; Garnett v. Yoe, 17 Ala. 74; Oxford Iron Co. v. Quinchett, 44 Ala. 487; Nat. Fertilizer Co. v. Holland, 107 Ala. 412; Wisdom v. Reeves, 110 Ala. 418.

1835 (2803) (3071) (2718) (2320). Interrogatories may be filed; commission; notice.—The party, after making affidavit, may file with the clerk interrogatories to be propounded to the witness, of which, and of the residence of the witness, and of the commissioner to be appointed, he must give the opposite party, or his attorney, notice in writing, who has ten days thereafter to file cross-interrogatories, to which the party filing the interrogatories may file rebutting interrogatories. After the expiration of the ten days, a commission, accompanied by a copy of the interrogatories and of the cross and rebutting interrogatories, if filed, must be issued by the clerk to take the deposition, which may be taken at such time and place as the commissioner shall appoint. On failure to give the notice herein required of the residence of the witness and the commissioner, unless the same is waived by the adverse party, the deposition of such witness must be suppressed at the cost of the party taking it.

Notice.—Reese v. Beck, 24 Ala. 651; Aicardi v. Strang, 38 Ala. 326; Cornelius v. Partain, 39 Ala. 473. Cross-interrogatories may be filed at any time before commission issues.—E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Watson, 90 Ala. 41. Party propounding cross-interrogatories without interposing objection to direct, waives right to object to responsive answers.—A. G. S. R. Co. v. Bailey, 112 Ala. 167; R. & D. R. Co. v. Greenwood, 99 Ala. 501; Potts v. Coleman, 86 Ala. 94. Scope of cross-examination.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Hall, 91 Ala. 112. Except under subdivision 3, party has option, after making affidavit, to take deposition upon open commission without interrogatories, or upon interrogatories filed; under subdivision 3, must be upon interrogatories filed.—Nat. Fertilizer Co. v. Holland, 107 Ala. 412. When taken upon open commission, notice of time and place must be given as prescribed by clerk; when upon interrogatories filed, no notice required except service of interrogatories.—Wisdom v. Reeves, 110 Ala. 418; Nat. Fertilizer Co. v. Holland, 107 Ala. 412.

1836 (2804) (3072) (2719) (2321). Notice when party resides out of county.—If the party, to whom notice is to be given under the provisions of the preceding section, resides out of, or is absent from, and has no attorney of record within the county, notice may be given by filing the interrogatories in the office of the clerk for ten days, and by the clerk mailing a copy of such notice, postage prepaid, to the opposite party or his attorney at his place of residence, if the same can be ascertained, ten days before the issuance of the commission; and the clerk must indorse upon the interrogatories the fact and date of mailing such notice.

1837 (2805) (3076) (2723) (2325). Commissioner subpœnas witnesses; default proved by his certificate.—The commissioner has power to issue subpœnas for witnesses, which may be served by the sheriff or any constable; and the certificate of the commissioner that a witness failed to appear, together with the return of the service by the officer, is evidence of the facts.

1838 (2806) (3075) (2722) (2324). Penalty for failure of witness to appear; how recovered.—Any witness whose testimony is required, and who fails, on due notice, to appear before the commissioner and give evidence, forfeits to the party aggrieved the sum of one hundred dollars, for which, on motion, judgment may be rendered by the court where the cause is pending, on five days' notice in writing; and is also liable, at the suit of the party aggrieved, to an action for damages; but the witness may make his excuse as in other cases.

1839. Defaulting witness may be committed without bail until he consents to testify.—If a witness fails, after due notice, to appear before the commissioner, or, being present, refuses to testify, the commissioner must, when requested by either party, his agent or attorney, certify the facts to the judge of the court in which the cause is pending, or to the nearest circuit judge or chancellor, if the cause is pending in a court of this state; or, if the deposition is required in a cause pending in another state or country, to the nearest circuit judge or chancellor; and thereupon, such judge or chancellor must cause the witness to be arrested and brought before him, when the witness may be examined on oath touching the default, and unless good excuse therefor is shown, he must be committed to jail, without bail, until he consents to testify, whereupon it is the duty of the sheriff to carry the witness before the commissioner; and when the witness shall have testified, the sheriff must release him from custody.

1840. If examination postponed, witness may give bail, etc. If, after the witness consents to testify, it shall be deemed expedient by the commissioner to postpone the examination to a future time, the witness may give bail, in such sum as may be prescribed by the commissioner, or by the judge or chancellor making the order of commitment, with sureties to be approved by the sheriff, and conditioned to appear before the commissioner at such future time and give his testimony in the cause. Such bail-bond binds the witness to appear and testify at the time therein designated, and at any other time to which the examination may be further postponed; and if the witness fail to appear and testify, the commissioner must certify upon the bail-bond the fact of such failure; and all the papers in the proceeding, except the commission and interrogatories, must be returned to the court from which the commission issued, if it be a court of this state; if not, then to the circuit court of the county in which the default upon the bail-bond occurred; and thereupon a conditional judgment must be rendered against the parties to the undertaking, scire facias issued and the judgment made absolute or set aside as in cases of forfeiture of undertakings of bail in criminal prosecutions. The certificate of the commissioner as herein provided is evidence of the facts therein stated. A witness who has forfeited his bail-bond must not be admitted to bail in any subsequent proceeding to compel him to testify as such witness.

1841 (2807) (3073) (2720) (2322). Duty of commissioner in executing commission.—It is the duty of the commissioner to reduce the answers of the witness to writing, or cause it to be done by the witness himself, or some impartial person, as near as may be, in the language of the witness, having first sworn him to speak the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; and the deposition, when complete, must be by the commissioner enveloped, together with the commission and any document which may have been deposed to, sealed and directed to the clerk of the court where the cause is pending, with the title of the cause indorsed thereon.

When commission may be executed.—Herndon v. Givens, 16 Ala. 262; Jordan v. Jordan, 17 Ala. 466; Dill v. Camp, 22 Ala. 249. Commissioner need not be sworn.—Wolfe v. Parham, 18 Ala. 441. Answers cannot be reduced to writing by brother of party.—Bryant v. Ingraham, 16 Ala. 116. Brother-in-law of party incompetent to act.—Ib. When party cannot object that one commissioner acted.—Douge v. Pearce, 13 Ala. 128. Failure to write name across seal of envelope, no ground to suppress deposition.—Park v. Bancroft, 12 Ala. 468. Identifying exhibits.—Mobley v. Leophart, 51 Ala. 587; Humphrey v. Dawson, 38 Ala. 199. Commissioner has no right to correct name of witness.—East v. Pace, 57 Ala. 521.

1842 (2808) (3074) (2721) (2323). Certificate of commissioner evidence; how returned.—The certificate of the commissioner of the manner, time and place of taking the deposition, and that he has personal knowledge of, or has had proof made before him of the identity of the witness, and that he, the commissioner, is not of counsel or of kin to any of the parties to the cause, or in any manner interested in the result thereof, shall be presumptive evidence of the facts stated by him; and the package may be sent by mail or by private conveyance to the clerk.

Certificate.—Broadnax v. Sullivan, 29 Ala. 320; Dill v. Camp, 22 Ala. 249; Thrasher v. Ingram, 32 Ala. 645; Bell v. Chambers, 38 Ala. 660; Boykin v. Smith, 65 Ala. 294; Roberts v. Fleming, 31 Ala. 683; Reese v. Beck, 24 Ala. 651, Dill v. Camp, 22 Ala. 249; Farrelly v. Maria, 34 Ala. 284; Gulf City Ins. Co. v. Stephens, 51 Ala. 121; Buford v. Gould, 35 Ala. 265; Stetson v. Lyons, 34 Ala. 140. Commissioner may amend at trial.—Dunlap v. Horton, 49 Ala. 412; Wolfe v. Underwood, 97 Ala. 375. Sufficiency as to date of taking.—Birmingham Union Ry. Co. v. Alexander, 93 Ala. 133.

1843 (2809) (3077) (2724) (2326). Depositions thus taken read in evidence.—Any deposition thus taken may be read in evidence, so far as the same is pertinent to the issue, and legal evidence; and if the package bears no marks of violence, or evidence of mutilation, must be presumed to be as it came from the hands of the commissioner until the contrary is shown.

When deposition taken in another suit may be read.—Holman v. Bank of Norfolk, 12 Ala. 370.

1844 (2810) (3081) (2728) (2328). Objections to the whole deposition taken before trial.—All objections to the admissibility of the entire deposition in evidence must be made before entering on the trial, and not afterwards, unless the matter is not disclosed in the deposition, and appears after the commencement of the trial.

When motion too late, if made on trial.—May v. May, 28 Ala. 141; M. & C. R. Co. v. Maples, 63 Ala. 601; Cornelius v. Partain, 39 Ala. 473; Thompson v. Rawles, 33 Ala. 29; Brice v. Lide, 30 Ala. 647; Hair v. Little, Ib. 236; Hudson v. Crow, 26 Ala. 515; DeVendal v. Malone, 25 Ala. 272; Gray v. Brown, 22 Ala. 262; Kyle v. Bostick, 10 Ala. 589; Colgin v. James, 33 Ala. 34. Deposition not to be suppressed because taken before filing of amended complaint.—Goldsmith v. Picard, 27 Ala. 142; Agee v. Williams, 30 Ala. 636. Merely announcing ready for trial is not such entering on the trial as to preclude motion to suppress.—Nat. Fert. Co. v. Holland, 107 Ala. 412.

1845 (2811) (3080) (2727). When witnesses may be re-examined on cross-interrogatories.—The party against whom the deposition of a witness has been taken may cross-examine such witness on interrogatories, under the rules for taking depositions, on making affidavit, when such witness has not been cross-examined, that a cross-examination is necessary, and that the failure to cross-examine the witness was without fault or neglect on his part, or, when the witness has been cross-examined, but such examination is imperfect or insufficient, that the cross-examination of such witness is imperfect or insufficient, and that the imperfection or insufficiency was not caused by fault or neglect on his part. Notice of the filing of interrogatories for such cross-examination, and of the name and residence of the commissioner to be appointed to take the deposition of the witness thereon, must be given, as in the case of filing direct interrogatories, to the opposite party, who has ten days thereafter to file rebutting interrogatories.

1846 (2812) (3078) (2725) (2327). Deposition; when cannot be used.—The deposition of a witness cannot be used, if it appear at the trial that the cause for which it was taken, or some other cause, does not then exist, unless such witness is dead, or of unsound mind.*

Mobile Life Ins. Co. v. Walker, 58 Ala. 290; Henry v. Northern Bank, 63 Ala. 527; M. & C. R. Co. v. Maples, 63 Ala. 601; Humes v. O'Bryan, 74 Ala. 64.

1847 (2813) (3079) (2726). When personal attendance of witnesses compelled.—When the deposition of any witness, residing in the county in which the cause is pending, shall have been taken under the provisions of this article, the court, or, in vacation, the clerk, on the application of either party, supported by the affidavit of the party, his agent, or attorney, that he believes the personal attendance of the witness on the trial is necessary, may make an order requiring such witness to attend the trial of such cause in person. A copy of the order, with a subpœna, must be served on the witness, and, on proof of such service, the deposition must be suppressed on the trial, unless the witness, from age, infirmity or sickness, is unable to attend court.

When witness physically unable to attend, etc.—Henry v. Northern Bank, 63 Ala. 527. When personal attendance of a woman, whose deposition has been taken, will be compelled.—Ex parte Jenks, 101 Ala. 429. When not. Ex parte Branch, 105 Ala. 231. Construed with section 1825.—Ex parte Branch, 105 Ala. 231.

1848 (2814) (3082) (2729). Witnesses compelled to testify in foreign suits.—The provisions of this article to compel the attendance of witnesses before commissioners and to testify, and for failure to do so, are applicable to parties litigant and causes pending in the courts of any other state or country; and a commissioner appointed under a commission issued in a cause pending in a court of another state or country has all the power and authority of a commissioner appointed under the provisions of this article; but no witness shall be required to give testimony under such commission, unless the party desiring such testimony, his agent, or attorney, first deposit with the commissioner for the witness the amount allowed by law for mileage and per diem to witnesses attending to give evidence under commission from courts in this state, which deposit may be evidenced by the certificate of the commissioner.

1849 (2815) (3083) (2730) (2329). Fees of witnesses and of commissioner.—Witnesses who attend and testify, with or without subpœna, are, on the certificate of the commissioner of the distance traveled and the number of days' attendance, entitled to the same compensation as other witnesses; and for taking and certifying the testimony of witnesses the commissioner is entitled to twenty cents for every hundred words, not including the caption, certificate or exhibits, one dollar and fifty cents for each day he is necessarily engaged, and five cents for each mile necessarily traveled by him in the taking of such testimony; all of which must, upon the certificate of the commissioner, be taxed as costs in the cause.

ARTICLE 4.

EXAMINATION OF PARTIES BY INTERROGATORIES.

1850 (2816) (3084) (2731) (2330). Interrogatories to adverse party.—Either party to a civil suit, his agent, or attorney, desiring the testimony of the other party, may file with the clerk interrogatories to be propounded to him, with an affidavit that the answers thereto will be material testimony for him in the cause.

Governed by same rules as bills of discovery in chancery, so far as respects nature of discovery and effect of answers.—Saltmarsh v. Bower, 22 Ala. 221; Crymes v. White, 37 Ala. 549; Cain Lumber Co. v. Standard Co., 108 Ala. 346. Does not affect jurisdiction of court of equity in matters of discovery.—Cannon v. McNab, 48 Ala. 99; Shackelford v. Bankhead, 72 Ala. 476. Nor exclude right to examine opposite party in open court.—Olive v. Adams, 50 Ala. 373. No objection that discovery sought does not rest within exclusive knowledge of party required to answer, or that matter can be proved by witnesses. Alston v. Graves, 6 Ala. 174. Exclusive right of party to whom interrogatories are addressed to sue out commission.—Cain Lumber Co. v. Standard Co., 108 Ala. 346. Motion to suppress; when and how made.—McCargo v. Crutcher, 27 Ala. 171. Presumption as to regularity on appeal.—Bivens v. Brown, 37 Ala. 422.

1851 (2817) (3085) (2732) (2331). Service of copy of interrogatories.—Upon the filing of such interrogatories, the clerk must issue a copy thereof, which must be served by the sheriff upon the party to whom the interrogatories are addressed, or his attorney of record, if either resides within the state. If such party and his attorney are non-residents, the clerk must send such copy by mail, postage prepaid, to one of them at his place of residence. The sheriff, or clerk, as the case may be, must indorse upon the original interrogatories the fact, manner and date of such service.

Jackson v. Hughes, 6 Ala. 257; Cain Lumber Co. v. Standard Co., 108 Ala. 330.

1852 (2818) (3086) (2733) (2332). Verification of answers.—The answers to such interrogatories may be sworn to before any officer authorized to take and certify affidavits; or, if the party testifying be a non-resident, before one of the officers mentioned in section 1799 (2768) of this Code, or a commissioner appointed by the clerk on the application of such party.

See citations to section 1799 (2768).

Feb. 27, 1889, p. 121.

1853. Corporation must answer through officer cognizant of the facts.—When the party to whom the interrogatories are addressed is a corporation, the answers thereto must be made by such officer, agent or servant of the corporation as may be cognizant of the facts.

Mobile & Ohio Railroad Co. v. Seales, 100 Ala. 368.

1854 (2818) (3086) (2733) (2332). Answers as evidence.—The answers to such interrogatories are evidence in the cause when offered by the party taking them.

Party taking has option to offer in evidence; but if offered, the whole answer, if pertinent, must be taken together.—Crocker v. Clements, 23 Ala. 296; Marx v. Leinkauff, 93 Ala. 453. Answers pertinent which tend to prove cause of action or defense set up, though not responsive.—Saltmarsh v. Bower, 22 Ala. 221; Crymes v. White, 37 Ala. 549.

1855 (2819) (3087) (2734) (2333). Impertinent questions need not be answered.—If the interrogatories are not pertinent to the issue or matter in dispute between the parties, there shall be no obligation to answer them, and, if answered, the answers may be suppressed by the court at the trial.

Culver v. Ala. Mid. Ry., 108 Ala. 330; L. & N. R. Co. v. Hall, 91 Ala. 112; Gray v. Perry, 111 Ala. 532.

1856 (2820) (3088) (2735) (2334). Proceedings on failure to answer.—If answers to the interrogatories are not filed within sixty days after service of a copy of the interrogatories, or when the answers are not full, or are evasive, the court may either attach the party and cause him to answer fully in open court, or continue the cause until full answers are made, or direct a nonsuit or judgment by default to be entered.

Legal evidence only can be elicited.—Culver v. Ala. Mid. Ry., 108 Ala. 330; Gray v. Perry, 111 Ala. 532. Court has discretion as to which mode to adopt. Pool v. Harrison, 18 Ala. 514; Goodwyn v. Harrison, 6 Ala. 438; Ex parte McLendon, 33 Ala. 276; Ex parte Grantland, 29 Ala. 69; Culver v. Ala. Mid. Ry., 108 Ala. 330. Judgment by default proper on failure to answer, though pleas are filed and jury demanded.—Alston v. Graves, 6 Ala. 174; Allen v. Lathrop L. Co., 90 Ala. 490. Error to refuse to allow servant of corporation in default to be examined.—M. & O. R. Co. v. Seales, 100 Ala. 368.

1857 (2821) (3089) (2736) (2335). Answer may be contradicted. A resort to this mode of obtaining evidence does not preclude the party calling for it from adducing other proof of the same facts, or from contradicting it.

Answer not conclusive, but witness may be impeached.—Wilson v. Maria, 21 Ala. 359.

1858 (2822) (3090) (2737) (2336). What questions must be answered.—Under the provisions of this article, the party is bound to answer all pertinent interrogatories, unless by the answer he subjects himself to a criminal prosecution.

Party must answer unless answer within statutory exception.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Hall, 91 Ala. 112. Need not answer questions calling for mere hearsay.—Culver v. Ala. Mid. Ry., 108 Ala. 330. Or matter not pertinent to any issue in the case.—Gray v. Perry, 111 Ala. 532.

ARTICLE 5.

REQUIRING THE PRODUCTION OF BOOKS AND WRITINGS.

1859. Court may, on motion and notice, require parties to produce books or writings.—In the trial of actions at law the court may, on motion and due notice thereof, require the parties to produce books or writings in their possession or power, which contain evi- Dec. 13, 1894, p. 60.

dence pertinent to the issue, in cases and under circumstances where they might be compelled to produce the same by the ordinary rules of proceedings in chancery.

Ib. 1860. Consequence of failure to comply with order.—If a plaintiff fails to comply with such order the court may, on motion, give the like judgment for the defendant as in cases of nonsuit; and if the defendant fails to comply with such order the court may, on motion, give judgment against him by default.

Secondary evidence of writing on failure of party, after notice, to produce original.—Gay v. Rogers, 109 Ala. 624.

ARTICLE 6.

PROCEEDINGS TO PERPETUATE TESTIMONY.

1861 (2823) (3091) (2738) (2337). Testimony may be perpetuated.—The testimony of a witness may be taken conditionally, and perpetuated, as provided in this article.

Winter v. Elmore, 88 Ala. 555.

1862 (2824) (3092) (2739) (2338). Affidavit specifying grounds. The applicant must make affidavit before a circuit or probate judge, or register in chancery, stating—

1. That he is a party, or expects to be a party, to a suit, either at law or in equity, in a court of this state.

2. That the testimony of a witness, whose name and place of residence is stated, is necessary to the prosecution or defense of such suit, and the facts generally expected to be proved by the witness.

1863 (2825) (3093) (2740) (2339). Order for examination; notice to adverse party.—Such judge or register must thereupon make an order allowing the examination of the witness, and, if the adverse party, or the party expected to be adverse to the application, resides in this state, a copy of such application, and notice of the time and place of such examination, must be given him, at least ten days before such examination.

1864 (2826) (3094, 3096) (2741, 2743) (2340, 2342). Notice when adverse party non-resident.—If such adverse party, or expected adverse party, is a non-resident, notice of such application, of the time and place of the examination, of the names and residences of the witnesses to be examined, and of the matter touching which the examination is to be had, must be given by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in such newspaper as the judge or register may direct; and a copy of such paper, containing such publication, must be sent by mail, directed to such adverse party at his post-office, if known; and if such adverse party is a non-resident, the examination must not be taken within less than forty days from the time of the first publication. The costs of the publication must be paid by the applicant.

1865 (2827) (3097) (2744) (2343). Examination.—Upon the application being returned executed by the sheriff, or proof of publication, as the case may be, such judge or register must take the deposition of the witness at the time and place appointed; and the examination, if necessary, may continue from day to day until completed.

1866 (2828) (3098, 3099) (2745, 2746) (2344, 2345). Examination reduced to writing, certified and filed with circuit clerk. The witness, having been first duly sworn, every question and answer must be taken down, and the deposition, when completed, carefully read to, and subscribed by the witness, certified by the judge or register, and, with all the papers, must be immediately filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for the county in which it was taken. The return of the sheriff of service of the notice and application, or affidavit by the publisher of the publication of the notice and mailing of copies to the adverse party, is presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated. The clerk must record all the papers so returned to him.

1867 (2829) (3100) (2747) (2346). Deposition; when evidence. If a trial be had between the persons described in the affidavit as parties, actual or expectant, or their successors in interest, upon proof of the death or insanity of the witness at the time of such trial, the deposition, or a certified copy thereof, may be given in evidence by either party.

1868. Testimony of non-resident witnesses perpetuated.—The testimony of a witness who is a non-resident of this state, may be taken conditionally and perpetuated as is hereinafter in this article provided. Dec. 7, 1888, p. 8, §1.

1869. Affidavit specifying grounds.—The applicant must make affidavit before a judge of probate, clerk of the circuit court or register in chancery, stating— Ib. §2.

1. That he is a party or expects to be a party to a suit, either at law or in equity in a court of this state.

2. That the testimony of a witness, whose name and place of residence are stated, is necessary to the prosecution of defense of such suit.

1870. Interrogatories; notice; commission; return; record. The applicant may file with such affidavit interrogatories to be propounded to the witness, of which, and of the residence of the witness, and of the commissioner to be appointed, such judge, clerk or register must give the opposite party, when known, or his attorney, notice in writing, who has ten days thereafter to file cross-interrogatories, to which the party filing the interrogatories may file rebutting interrogatories. After the expiration of ten days, a commission, Ib. §3.

accompanied by a copy of the interrogatories, and the cross and rebutting interrogatories, if filed, must be issued by such judge, clerk or register, to take the deposition, which may be taken at such time and place as the commissioner shall appoint; and the commissioner shall take and certify such deposition and return the same to such judge, clerk or register, in all respects as in causes pending in the chancery court. Upon the receipt of the package containing the deposition the judge, clerk or register must indorse thereon the date thereof, and how received; and must without delay, open the package and carefully and accurately copy, upon the book of final records, such deposition and all the papers, together with the indorsements thereon, relating to the proceeding, and must preserve and keep the same, subject to the order of a court in a cause then or thereafter pending between such parties.

Ib. §4. 1871. Deposition evidence on trial between parties.—If a trial be had between the persons described in the affidavit as parties, actual or expectant, or their privies or successors in interest, the deposition, or a certified copy thereof, of such non-resident witness may be given in evidence by either party.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 102, §1. 1872. Heirs and distributees may perpetuate testimony to prove kinship.—When letters testamentary or of administration have been duly granted in this state, upon the estate of a decedent who was, at the time of his death, an inhabitant of this state, any person claiming to be an heir or distributee of such decedent, may perpetuate the testimony of witnesses de bene esse, in the following cases: When the witness is over sixty years of age, or is infirm, or resides out of the state, or is about to go beyond the United States, or when the claim of such person depends exclusively on the testimony of such witness or witnesses; but such testimony can be used only for the purpose of proving that the person so claiming to be an heir or distributee of such decedent, is in fact, such heir or distributee.

Ib. §2. 1873. Affidavit showing relation; interrogatories; notice; commission; return; record.—Such person claiming to be an heir or distributee of such decedent may file an affidavit in the probate court of the county in which letters testamentary or of administration were granted, stating his relationship to or connection with such decedent, the names of the witnesses proposed to be examined, the residence of each witness and one or more of the grounds enumerated in the preceding section for taking such deposition; and with such affidavit he shall file, in such probate court, interrogatories to the witnesses so named; and thereupon a copy of such affidavit and interrogatories shall be served on the personal representative of the estate of such decedent, who shall, after such service, be allowed ten days to file cross-interrogatories, whereupon, the judge of probate must issue a commission and the same must be executed and returned, the deposition opened and, with the other papers, recorded in the book of final records in such probate court, and kept and preserved in all respects as is hereinbefore in this article provided in relation to the testimony of non-resident witnesses.

1874. Deposition evidence as to kinship in subsequent controversy.—Such deposition, taken under the provisions of the two preceding sections, or a certified copy thereof, may be given in evidence in any case wherein such claimant is a party, and his claim to be an heir or distributee of such decedent is involved. Ib. §2.

1875 (2830) (3101) (2748) (2347). Effect of such depositions as evidence.—A deposition taken under any of the provisions of this article, and read in evidence as herein provided, has the same effect as the oral testimony or the deposition of such witness, and no other; and every objection to the witness, or to the relevancy of any question put to him, or of any answer made by him, may be made in the same manner as if he was orally examined on the trial, or as if his deposition had been taken in the case.

EXAMINERS OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS. 1876-1879.

1876 (80). Examiner of public accounts, and assistant examiners of public accounts.—The governor is authorized to appoint an expert accountant of known integrity and skill who shall act as examiner of public accounts and whose duty it shall be under the direction of the governor, whenever required to do so, to audit and examine the books, accounts and vouchers of the secretary of state, the auditor, the treasurer, the superintendent of education, commissioner of agriculture, and the wardens of the penitentiary, or such officer as may have charge of the books, accounts and vouchers pertaining to the state convicts, their hires, and expenses and management, and also the books, accounts and vouchers pertaining to the revenue, receipts and expenses of the University of Alabama, the Alabama Insane Hospital, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama, the Alabama Institution for the Deaf, Dumb and the Blind, and of the several normal schools of the state, and of the several branch agricultural schools of the state. The governor shall have authority to direct and control the examiner, and when he deems it necessary may require him to examine the accounts of any state or county officer charged with the duty of collecting or disbursing any part of the public revenue. The said examiner of public accounts shall receive compensation at the rate of eighteen hundred dollars per annum, and he shall pay all of his own expenses. The governor may also appoint two assistant examiners of public accounts who shall each be subject to his direction, and each invested with all the power and charged with all the duties as herein provided with respect to the examiner of public account. The compensation of each of the assistant examiners shall be fixed by the governor at not exceeding five dollars per day while actually employed for the state; and the governor may also allow each assistant examiner the addi- As amended Feb. 12, 1897, p. 840.

tional sum of not more than two dollars and fifty cents per day for his expenses while actually employed for the state; and the governor shall prescribe the time for which said examiner and assistant examiners shall be employed. When required by the governor to do so, the examiner or one of the assistant examiners shall have the money in the treasury counted, in which the governor shall require either the auditor, the secretary of state or the attorney-general, or all of them, to be present to supervise the count and to join in certifying the result to the governor.

Ib. 1877 (81). Commission; authority.—Commissions shall issue to the examiner and to each of the assistant examiners, vesting in them authority to do and perform the acts mentioned in the last preceding section; and they shall have authority to issue subpœnas for witnesses whom they may have to examine, administer oaths to them, and to compel their attendance and shall have full authority to require officers whose books and accounts are examined, and their clerks, to render them assistance and to give them information needed in the prosecution of their investigations. Whenever any officer or clerk refuses to render the examiner or either of the assistant examiners assistance, or give them information as required by this section, or any witness fails to attend when summoned or refuses to testify, the examiner or the assistant examiner, as the case may be, must report the fact forthwith to the supreme court, circuit or city court judge or chancellor, who shall immediately issue a rule to said officer, clerk or witness to show cause why he should not be committed to jail as for contempt. On the day fixed in said rule, if it has been served, the judge or chancellor must examine said officer, clerk or witness, if he appears, and unless some lawful reason is shown for such default or refusal, must commit such offending person to jail until he renders the assistance, gives the information, or testifies as required by law. The examiner or the assistant examiner, as the case may be, shall not have power to prescribe how books and accounts shall be kept, or to regulate the mode for conducting business in any public office; and whenever the legality of any payment is involved, he shall submit the principles of law involved to the attorney-general for his advice and opinion, and be governed thereby. Said examiner or either of them may investigate and examine the books and accounts of any county official whenever directed so to do by the governor at the request of ten reputable bona fide citizens of any county, and in making such examination they shall have the same powers as are conferred upon them by law in and for the examination of state officers, and the examiner thus employed shall make a report of his findings within ten days after the conclusion thereof, to the judge of the circuit court of the circuit, who may call the attention of the grand jury thereto.

Ib. 1878 (82). Appointment revocable.—The appointment of the examiner and the appointments of the assistant examiners are revocable at the discretion of the governor. In the event of revocation, the governor may at pleasure appoint a successor.

1879 (83). Examiner's report.—The examiner and the assistant Ib.
examiners shall, from time to time, report to the governor, under oath, the results of their examination, and the true condition and state of the books and accounts examined at the time of their examinations; such reports shall be public records. Before each session of the general assembly, the governor may cause seven hundred and fifty copies of such reports with such explanations and comments as the governor may think proper, to be printed for the use of the general assembly, which said printing shall be done by the public printer, and paid for as other public printing is paid for.

Haworth, Ib. 188.

1881 (2883) (3180) (2838) (2423). Issue of executions; must be signed and tested.—The clerk must issue executions on all judgments in favor of the successful parties, as soon after the adjournment of court as practicable, within the time prescribed by this Code, unless otherwise directed. The writ must be signed by the clerk, and tested on the day it is issued.

McMahan v. Colclough, 2. Ala. 68; Kyle v. Evans, 3 Ala. 481; Haden v. Walker, 5 Ala. 86; Averett v. Thompson, 15 Ala. 678; Harrell v. Martin, 6 Ala. 587; Berry v. Perry, 81 Ala. 103.

1882 (2884) (3181) (2839) (2424). Time in which executions must issue.—When the court continues in session but one week, the clerk must issue executions within ten days thereafter; when it continues two weeks, within fifteen days thereafter; and when it continues three or more weeks, within twenty days after the adjournment of the court.

1883 (2885) (3182, 5015) (2840, 3532) (2425, 3061). Bill of costs to accompany the execution.—At the foot, or on some part of the execution, the clerk must state, in intelligible words and figures, the several items composing the bill of costs; and without such copy of the bill of costs, the execution is illegal, and shall not be levied.

1884 (2886) (3183) (2841) (2426). When may be issued before adjournment.—Upon the rendition of judgment, execution may be issued by leave of the court, before the adjournment thereof, the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, showing sufficient cause therefor by affidavit; but the defendant is not prevented thereby from moving for a new trial, or in arrest of judgment, nor deprived of any right he would otherwise have had.

Savage v. Forward, 7 Ala. 463.

1885 (2887) (3184) (2842) (2427). When must be issued immediately after adjournment.—After the adjournment of the court, and before the expiration of the time limited by section 1882 (2884) on affidavit being made and filed in his office, that the defendant is about fraudulently to dispose of, or remove his property, and that thereby the plaintiff will probably lose his debt, the clerk must issue execution against the property of the defendant.

1886 (2888) (3185) (2843) (2428). More than one writ may be issued.—More than one writ of execution may be issued at the plaintiff's cost, though the first be not returned; and when a fieri facias is returned not satisfied, or satisfied only in part an alias fieri facias may be issued.

Webb v. Bumpass, 9 Port. 201; Scull v. Godbolt, 4 Ala. 326; Leach v. Williams, 8 Ala. 759; Sellers v. Hayes, 17 Ala. 749; Pollard v. Cocke, 19 Ala. 188.

1887 (2889) (3186) (2844) (2429). When directed to coroner. When the office of sheriff is vacant, and until his successor qualifies, or when the sheriff is imprisoned, or in cases to which he is a party, or in cases in which he is interested or for any legal cause is incompetent to act, if such interest or cause appears on the face of the proceedings, the execution must be directed to, and executed by the coroner, or special coroner, as the case may be.

Pope v. Stout, 1 Stew. 375; Gresham v. Leverett, 10 Ala. 384; Governor v. Lindsay, 14 Ala. 658; Governor v. Gibson, Ib. 326.

1888 (2890) (3187) (2845) (2430). Credits to be indorsed. When a judgment has been satisfied in part, and an alias execution is issued, the clerk must indorse thereon the amount which had been previously made, with the date of its collection or payment.

1889 (2891) (3188) (2846) (2431). When against plaintiff for his costs.—When execution against the defendant is returned "no property found," execution may issue against the plaintiff, in the name of the clerk of the court, for all the costs created by him in obtaining his judgment.

Patterson v. Officers, 11 Ala. 740; McElhaney v. Flynn, 23 Ala. 819; Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345.

ARTICLE 2.

PROPERTY SUBJECT TO EXECUTION.

1890 (2892) (3209) (2871) (2455). Property subject to levy and sale under execution.—Executions may be levied—

1. On real property to which the defendant has a legal title, or a perfect equity, having paid the purchase-money, or in which he has a vested legal interest, in possession, reversion, or remainder, whether he has the entire estate, or is entitled to it in common with others.

2. On personal property of the defendant (except things in action), whether he has the absolute title thereto, or the right only to the possession thereof for his own life, the life of another, or any shorter period; but this does not apply to a possession acquired by a bona fide hiring of chattels.

3. On an equity of redemption in either land or personal property. When any interest less than the absolute title is sold, the purchaser is subrogated to all the rights of the defendant, and subject to all his disabilities.

Subdivision 1.—Lands in which defendant has vested legal interest. Bernstein v. Humes, 71 Ala. 260; Caldwell v. Lawler, 70 Ala. 293; Thweatt v. Stamps, 67 Ala. 96; Badge v. Lyon, 7 Ala. 564; Brock v. Yongue, 4 Ala. 584; McCaskle v. Amarine, 12 Ala. 17; Land v. Hopkins, 7 Ala. 115; Rhea v. Hughes, 1 Ala. 219; Goodlet v. Smithson, 5 Port. 245. Interest of mortgagee not subject to levy.—Martin v. Carter, 90 Ala. 96; Morris v. Barker, 82 Ala. 272. Perfect equity.—Smith v. Cockrell, 66 Ala. 64; Shaw v. Lindsey, 60 Ala. 344; Caldwell v. Parmer, 56 Ala. 405; You v. Flinn, 34 Ala. 409. Subdivision 2. Generally.—Goode v. Longmire, 35 Ala. 668; Thompson v. Thornton, 21 Ala. 808; Johnson v. Culbreath, 19 Ala. 348; McIntosh v. Walker, 17 Ala. 20; Thompson v. Mawhinney, Ib. 362; Wier v. Davis, 4 Ala. 442; Foster v. Mabe, Ib. 402. Interest of vendee under a conditional sale, after maturity, not subject to levy.—Jordon v. Wells, 104 Ala. 383; Fields v. Williams, 91 Ala. 502; Summer v. Woods, 67 Ala. 139. Nor holder of a mere lien.—Kennedy v. Smith, 99 Ala. 83. Mortgagor after the law-day.—Jordon v. Wells, 104 Ala. 383; Dunlap v. Steele, 80 Ala. 424; Thompson v. Thornton, 21 Ala. 808; Fontaine v. Beers, 19 Ala. 723; Magee v. Carpenter, 4 Ala. 469. Subdivision 3.—Equity of redemption in lands.—Gassenheimer v. Molton, 80 Ala. 521; Kelly v. Longshore, 78 Ala. 203; Junkins v. Lovelace, 72 Ala. 303; Shaw v. Lindsey, 60 Ala. 344. Purchaser of, may maintain ejectment.—Cotton v. Carlisle, 85 Ala. 175; Marks v. Robinson, 82 Ala. 69. Is entitled to surplus on foreclosure of mortgage. Troy v. May, 101 Ala. 401. Is not a bona fide purchaser.—Overall v. Taylor, 99 Ala. 12. Equity of redemption in personal property; how levy made; rights of purchaser.—Bingham v. Vandegrift, 93 Ala. 283; Draper v. Nixon, Ib. 436; McConeghy v. McCaw, 31 Ala. 447; Nelson v. Warren, 93 Ala. 408; Harbinson v. Harrell, 19 Ala. 753. Interest of partner in partnership.—Farley v. Moog, 79 Ala. 148; Daniel v. Owens, 70 Ala. 297; Wilson v. Strobach, 59 Ala. 488; Andrews v. Keith, 34 Ala. 722; Winston v. Ewing, 1 Ala. 129. Levy when judgment against firm only.—Baldridge v. Eason, 99 Ala. 516. When money may be levied on.—Barnett v. Bass, 10 Ala. 951.

1891 (2893). Growing or ungathered crop exempt.—No execution or other legal process must be levied upon a growing or ungathered crop of any description, except for the purpose of enforcing liens upon such crop for rent, advances, or labor, as prescribed by law.

LIEN OF EXECUTION.

1892 (2894) (3210) (2872) (2456). Extent of lien declared; how continued.—A writ of fieri facias is a lien, only within the county in which it is received by the officer authorized to execute it, on the lands and personal property of the defendant subject to levy and sale, from the time only that the writ is received by such officer; which lien continues as long as the writ is regularly issued and delivered to such officer, without the lapse of an entire term.

Bell v. King, 8 Port. 147; Campbell v. Spence, 4 Ala. 543; Hester v. Keith, 1 Ala. 316; Newcombe v. Leavitt, 22 Ala. 631; King v. Kenan, 38 Ala. 63; Childs v. Jones, 60 Ala. 352; Thames v. Rembert, 63 Ala. 562; Barclay v. Smith, 66 Ala. 230; Mathews v. Mobile Ins. Co., 75 Ala. 85; Chadwick v. Carson, 78 Ala. 116; Watson v. Steele, 78 Ala. 361; Collier v. Wood, 85 Ala. 91; Caldwell v. Pollak, 91 Ala. 353; Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345.

1893 (2895) (3211) (2873) (2457). Order of liens of different executions.—The liens of executions, as between different judgment creditors, and between judgment creditors and purchasers from the defendant for valuable consideration, are declared to be: That if an entire term elapse between the return of an execution and the suing out an alias, the lien created by the delivery of the first execution to the sheriff is lost; but if an alias be sued out before the lapse of an entire term, and delivered to the sheriff before the sale of property under a junior execution, the lien created by the delivery of the first execution must be preferred.

Generally.—Watson v. Steele, 78 Ala. 361; Perkins v. Brierfield, 77 Ala. 403; Clark v. Spencer, 75 Ala. 49; Mathews v. Mobile Ins. Co., Ib. 85; Gamble v. Fowler, 58 Ala. 576; Toney v. Wilson, 51 Ala. 499; Leach v. Williams, 8 Ala. 759; Quinn v. Wiswall, 7 Ala. 645; Cary v. Gregg, 3 Stew. 433; McBroom v. Rives, 1 Stew. 73. "Purchasers for a valuable consideration."—Carlisle v. Godwin, 68 Ala. 137; Sawyer v. Ware, 36 Ala. 675. "Delivered to the sheriff before sale under junior execution."—Lancaster v. Jordan, 78 Ala. 197. Stay of execution by order of plaintiff, waives lien as against junior creditors and purchasers.—Decatur Chem. Wks. v. Moses, 89 Ala. 538; Carlisle v. Godwin, 68 Ala. 137; Clark v. Spencer, 75 Ala. 49; Ins. Co. v. McCreary, 65 Ala. 127; Albertson v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 711; Patton v. Hayter, 15 Ala. 18; Bates v. Bailey, 57 Ala. 73; Branch Bank v. Robinson, 5 Ala. 623; Branch Bank v. Broughton, 15 Ala. 127; Campbell v. Spence, 4 Ala. 543. But not as against the defendant.—Keel v. Larkin, 72 Ala. 493; Dryer v. Graham, 58 Ala. 623. Priority lost by discharge of levy on refusal to give indemnity bond.—Cotten v. Thompson, 25 Ala. 671; Otey v. Moore, 17 Ala. 280. But not the defendant's forfeiture of forthcoming bond.—Caperton v. Martin, 5 Ala. 217. Nor by the filing of a creditor's bill.—Mathews v. Mobile Ins. Co., 75 Ala. 85; Dargan v. Waring, 11 Ala. 988. Sale of lands under junior execution; prior liens unaffected.—Caldwell v. Houser, 108 Ala. 125; Lancaster v. Jordan, 78 Ala. 197. Otherwise as to personal property.—Caldwell v. Houser, 108 Ala. 125; Jones v. Davis, 2 Ala. 731. Paramount execution may be levied, pending a claim suit under levy of junior execution.—Langdon v. Brumby, 7 Ala. 53; Ex parte Tillman, 93 Ala. 101. Proceeds of sale under several executions; how priorities determined.—Caldwell v. Houser, 108 Ala. 125; Chandler v. 1894 (2896) (3212) (2874) (2458). Lien destroyed by supersedeas or injunction.—The execution of a bond for an appeal, by which the judgment is suspended, or the execution of a bond by the defendant, upon the proper officer granting an injunction, supersedeas, or restraining order, destroys the lien created by the delivery of a fieri facias to the sheriff.

Campbell v. Spence, 4 Ala. 543.

1895 (2897) (3213) (2875) (2459). Execution levied after defendant's death.—A writ of fieri facias, issued and received by the sheriff during the life of the defendant, may be levied after his death, or an alias issued and levied, if there has not been the lapse of an entire term, so as to destroy the lien originally created.

LEVY, SALE AND RETURN; VENDITIONI EXPONAS; CONVEYANCE.

1896 (2898) (3189) (2851) (2436). Time of receipt, and, if more than one, order of receipt indorsed.—The sheriff or other officer receiving an execution must indorse thereon the day, month and year of its receipt; and when more than one execution against the same defendant comes to his hands on the same day, if not received at the same time, he must indorse thereon the order in which they are received.

Childs v. Jones, 60 Ala. 352; Hester v. Keith, 1 Ala. 316.

1897 (2899) (3190) (2852) (2437). To be executed with diligence and returned.—He must execute the writ with diligence, and, if practicable, perform the mandate thereof, and make return of his acts to the clerk, three days before the first day of the return-term of the writ.

1900 (2902) (3193) (2855) (2440). Return from another county; money sent therefrom.—The return of an execution, or other process, by a sheriff of a county other than that from which the process issued, may be made through the public mail; and the certificate of the postmaster that it was placed in his office in time, by the usual course of mail, to reach the court-house of the county where the return has to be made, by the return-day of the writ, shall be presumptive evidence for the sheriff of the fact; but the sheriff is not authorized to send money by the mail without the consent of the plaintiff in execution.

1901 (2903) (3194) (2856) (2442). Sheriff's duty when levy is on live stock.—When live stock is levied on and remains in the hands of the officer for sale, he must provide sustenance therefor; and it is his duty to hire out or employ the horses or other stock, if practicable, for their support; and if unable to do so, he must be allowed by the court a reasonable compensation for their support, which he may retain from the proceeds of the sale.

1902 (2904) (3195) (2857) (2443). Description of property indorsed; notice of levy on land.—When a levy is made on real or personal property, a full description thereof, with the date of the levy, must be indorsed upon, or appended to the execution; and when the levy is on real estate, personal notice thereof must be given to the defendant, or a notice thereof in writing left at his residence, if resident in the county; if not resident in the county, then by putting up a written notice at the court-house door; and the manner of giving notice must be stated in the return.

Failure to give notice of levy, mere irregularity.—Lewis v. Watson, 98 Ala. 479; White v. Farley, 81 Ala. 563; Barron v. Tart, 18 Ala. 668; Randolph v. Carlton, 8 Ala. 606; Taulmin v. Heard, 14 Ala. 23; Fambro v. Gantt, 12 Ala. 298; Prewitt v. Garrett, 6 Ala. 128. Discharge of levy for want of indemnity, suspends lien in favor of junior creditors and purchasers.—Cotten v. Thompson, 25 Ala. 671; Otey v. Moore, 17 Ala. 280; Pickard v. Peters, 3 Ala. 493.

1904 (2906) (3197) (2859) (2445). Right to give such bond in case of several executions.—If a party having the prior lien refuses to give such indemnity on demand of the sheriff, the party having the next lien in order may give it, and have the property sold for his benefit.

See citations to preceding section.

1905 (2907) (3198) (2860) (2446). Time and place of sale. Lands, when levied on under execution from any court of record, must be sold on any Monday in the month at the court-house of the county; other property may be sold on any day, except Sunday, either at the court-house, the residence of the defendant, the place where levied on, or the neighborhood thereof, as may be most expedient. The sale may be continued from day to day, if rendered necessary by the inclemency of the weather, or from inability to conclude the sale in one day.

1906 (2908) (3199) (2861) (2447). Notice of sale.—In sales of personal property, notice must be given by advertisement at the court-house door, and also by publication in a newspaper, if one is published in the county, for ten days previous to such sale, but only one insertion in such newspaper shall be necessary; and in sales of real property, the publication in such newspaper must be once a week for three successive weeks, and by posting up notice for thirty days at the court-house door previous to the sale. As amended Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1193.

Holly v. Bass, 68 Ala. 206; Ray v. Womble, 56 Ala. 32; Brandon v. Snows, 2 Stew. 255; see citations to section 1897 (2899).

1907 (2909) (3200) (2862) (2448). When property of principal first levied on.—When execution issues against two or more persons, any of whom were sureties on the contract before the judgment, the sheriff must levy on the property of the principal first, if any can be found in the county, on the application of such surety; and he may require of the surety affidavit of the fact of suretyship, which he must file with the execution.

1908 (2910) (3201) (2863) (2449). Indorsement of, and receipt for, collection.—When money is collected on an execution, the officer collecting it must indorse thereon, or append thereto the amount collected, specifying the judgment, interest thereon, and costs, with his own commissions, and sign his name thereto; and he must also, if required, receipt in like manner to the defendant.

1909 (2911) (3202) (2864) (2450). Substitution of other prop- erty.—The debtor has the right, on the day of sale, to substitute other property of equal value, not covered by any lien, in lieu of that levied on; which fact, and a description of the property substituted, must be indorsed on, or appended to the execution, and the substituted property be sold in lieu of that levied on.

1910 (2912) (3203) (2865) (2451). Notice of collection to be given.—When the money, or any part thereof, has been made on an execution, the officer must give the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, personal notice thereof within ten days thereafter, if resident in the county; if not resident in the county, and he knows the residence of them, or either of them, such notice may be sent by mail through the post-office.

1911 (2913) (3204) (2866) (2452). When excess of sale, or money collected paid to defendant.—When, at an execution sale, the amount of the sale exceeds the judgment, interest and costs, the excess must be paid to the debtor, or his legal representative; and when money is paid or collected on an execution, the whole or any part of which is enjoined in chancery, the same must on demand be refunded to the debtor, or his legal representative, if it has not been paid over to the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, without notice of the injunction.

1912 (2914) (3205) (2867) (2453). Description of land sold and price indorsed on writ.—When land is sold under execution, a description of the land and the price obtained for it must be indorsed upon, or appended to the writ by the officer making such sale.

Webb v. Bumpass, 9 Port. 201; Randolph v. Carlton, 8 Ala. 606; Deloach v. State Bank, 27 Ala. 437.

1913 (2915) (3206) (2868) (2454). Return as to goods not sold; writ issues for sale thereof; form.—When goods levied on remain in the hands of the officer unsold, it is his duty to make return of the fact, and thereupon the clerk must issue a writ for the sale thereof in substance as follows:

"The State of Alabama, } To the sheriff of said county:
—— county. }

You are hereby commanded to sell those goods and chattels of —— ——, which you have taken pursuant to our command, and which, according to your return, remain in your hands unsold, to satisfy —— —— the sum of —— dollars, recovered by him of the said —— —— by the judgment of our circuit court, held for the county of —— on the —— day of ——, 18—, and —— dollars, costs of suit; and make return of this writ and the execution thereof according to law.

Witness my hand, this —— day of ——, 18—.

—— ——, Clerk."

1914 (2917) (3208) (2870). Sheriff required to make deeds. When real estate, or any interest therein, has been sold by any sheriff, he shall, upon compliance by the purchaser with the terms of sale, and the payment or tender of the fees for executing the deed therefor, execute a deed for such real estate, or interest therein sold, and deliver the same to the purchaser within five days after such sale.

Sheriff's deed must be attested or acknowledged as other deeds.—Eureka Lumber Co. v. Brown, 103 Ala. 140; Lord v. Folmar, 57 Ala. 615.

1915 (2916) (3207) (2869). Conveyance by sheriff of lands sold by predecessor.—When any sheriff, authorized by law to sell real estate, makes such sale, and dies or vacates his office before making a conveyance to the purchaser thereof, the court from which the writ issued, upon proof of the sale and of the payment of the purchase-money, may order the successor in office of the sheriff making such sale to make a conveyance of such lands to the purchaser; and such conveyance shall relate back to the date of the sale. If the purchaser is the plaintiff in the judgment, proof that he has credited, or the fact that he does credit on the record the defendant with the amount of the purchase-money, less the necessary expenses and costs, is equivalent to proof of payment of the purchase-money.

FORTHCOMING BONDS AND EXECUTION THEREON.

1916 (2918) (3214) (2887) (2467). Personalty restored if forthcoming bond executed.—When personal property is levied on by the sheriff, if the defendant executes bond with sufficient surety, in double the amount of the execution, payable to the plaintiff, and conditioned to deliver the property levied on to the proper officer by twelve o'clock, noon, of the day, and at the place appointed for the sale thereof, the sheriff must restore the property to the defendant.

Obligors cannot question the levy.—Bolling v. Vandiver, 91 Ala. 375; Roswell v. Hobbie, 85 Ala. 73; Cooper v. Peck, 22 Ala. 406; Meredith v. Richardson, 10 Ala. 828; Cawthorne v. McCraw, 9 Ala. 519; Mead v. Figh, 4 Ala. 279; Easley v. Walker, 10 Ala. 671; Anderson v. Rhea, 7 Ala. 104; Jemison v. Cozens, 3 Ala. 637. But irregularities before the levy, are not waived.—Van Cleave v. Haworth, 5 Ala. 188; Page v. Coleman, 9 Port. 275; McDaniel v. Johnston, 110 Ala. 526. Bond cannot be amended without consent of the obligors.—Flournoy v. Mims, 17 Ala. 36. When good as a common-law obligation.—Meredith v. Richardson, 10 Ala. 828. One of several defendants may give bond.—Sheppard v. Melloy, 12 Ala. 561. Seizure of property under paramount lien, or judicial proceeding, discharges sureties.—Watson v. Simmons, 91 Ala. 567; Bolling v. Vandiver, 91 Ala. 375; Cordoman v. Malone, 63 Ala. 556; Glover v. Taylor, 41 Ala. 124; Cole v. Conolly, 16 Ala. 271.

1917 (2919) (3215) (2888) (2468). Issue of execution on forfeiture of bond.—If the property is not delivered according to the condition of the bond, the sheriff must return it forfeited within five days thereafter to the clerk's office out of which the execution issued, indorsing thereon a forfeiture of the bond; and it is then the duty of the clerk, without delay, to issue execution on the forfeited bond against all the obligors therein for the judgment and costs, upon which no security of any kind can be taken, which he must indorse on the writ.

Issued only on bonds in statutory form.—Flournoy v. Mims, 17 Ala. 36; Branch Bank v. Darrington, 14 Ala. 192; Gayle v. Hudson, 10 Ala. 116; Meredith v. Richardson, Ib. 828; Moffitt v. Branch Bank, 7 Ala. 593; Lunsford v. Richardson, 5 Ala. 618. When execution may be amended.—Sheppard v. Melloy, 12 Ala. 561; Anderson v. Rhea, 7 Ala. 104; Deloach v. State Bank, 27 Ala. 437. Supersedeas, when proper remedy.—Anderson v. Rhea, 7 Ala. 104; Lunsford v. Richardson, 5 Ala. 618; Taylor v. Powers, 3 Ala. 285. Forfeiture of bond does not impair plaintiff's lien.—Branch Bank v. Curry, 13 Ala. 304; Campbell v. Spence, 4 Ala. 543; Crawford v. Bank, 5 Ala. 55; Caperton v. Martin, Ib. 217.

1918 (2920) (3216) (2889) (2469). Certain persons denied right to give forthcoming bonds.—The two preceding sections do not apply to executions issued on judgments against sheriffs, coroners, or other officers of court, against whom judgment is obtained for failing to pay over money collected by or paid to them in their official capacity; and the clerk must indorse on all such executions, "no security of any kind to be taken."

1919 (2921) (3217) (2890) (2470). When value may be tendered for property destroyed.—When property is restored to the defendant on the execution of a forthcoming bond, and the same dies, or is destroyed before the day for the delivery thereof, without fault on his part, the obligors in the bond may tender the value thereof to the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney; and if such tender is refused, the obligors in such bond may, on petition to the judge of the circuit court, supersede the same.

ARTICLE 6.

REGISTRATION OF JUDGMENTS AND DECREES, AND EXECUTIONS THEREON.

Feb. 26, 1889, p. 60, §1.

1920. Judgments and decrees may be registered.—The owner of any judgment or decree for the payment of money rendered by any court of record, may file in the office of the judge of probate of any county a certificate of the clerk or register of the court by which the judgment or decree was rendered, which certificate shall show the style of the court which rendered the judgment or decree, the amount and date thereof, the amount of costs, the names of the parties, and the names of the plaintiff's attorney, and shall be registered by the judge of probate in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. The register shall show also the date of filing and the name of the owner of the judgment or decree.

Ib.

1921. Registered judgment or decree a lien on property of defendant.—Every judgment or decree when filed and registered as provided in the preceding section shall be a lien upon all the property of the defendant in the county where registered which is subject to levy and sale under execution; and such lien shall continue for ten years from the date of registration. The registration of the judgment or decree shall be notice to all persons of the existence of the lien.

Mere filing does not create lien; registration necessary.—Sorrell v. Vance, 102 Ala. 207. Lien not destroyed by death of debtor; enforceable in equity. Enslen v. Wheeler, 98 Ala. 200. Judgment registered fastens lien, which stay of execution by plaintiff's order does not impair.—Decatur C. & C.

Works v. Moses, 89 Ala. 538. Certificate need not recite waiver of exemptions contained in judgment.—Reynolds v. Collier, 103 Ala. 245. In determining priority of judgments registered on the same day fractions of a day will be computed.—German Security Bank v. Campbell, 99 Ala. 249; Lang v. Phillips, 27 Ala. 311. See also Rochester v. Armour, 92 Ala. 432; Motley v. Jones, 98 Ala. 443; Halsey v. Murray, 112 Ala. 185.

1922. Execution on registered judgments.—Upon any judgment or decree which has been registered as provided in this article within one year from the date of its rendition, execution may be issued at any time within ten years from the date of such registration, whether execution has been previously issued or not. Feb. 5, 1891, p. 375.

Execution must issue within lifetime of debtor, unless within the exception provided by section 1895 (2897).—Enslen v. Wheeler, 98 Ala. 200.

1923. Entry of payments and satisfaction of registered judgments; penalty.—Sections 1065 (1868) and 1066 (1869) of this Code are appliable to registered judgments and decrees. Feb. 26, 1889, p. 60, §3.

See citations to those sections.

ARTICLE 7.

REVIVOR OF JUDGMENTS AND EXECUTIONS THEREON.

1924 (2922) (3173) (2829) (2418). If execution is issued in a year, others may issue for ten.—When execution has been issued on a judgment within a year after its rendition, and has not been returned satisfied, another execution may be issued at any time within ten years after the test of the last, without a revival of the judgment.

Judgment presumed to have been kept alive, on motion to quash execution issued within ten years.—McDaniel v. Johnston, 110 Ala. 526; McClarin v. Anderson, 104 Ala. 201; Sellers v. Hayes, 17 Ala. 749. Execution on dormant judgment, voidable only; remedy.—Deloach v. Robbins, 102 Ala. 288; Gardener v. M. & N. R. Co., Ib. 635; McCall v. Rickarby, 85 Ala. 152; Perkins v. Brierfield, 77 Ala. 403; Leonard v. Brewer, 86 Ala. 390. Remedy by execution does not bar action on judgment.—Field v. Sims, 96 Ala. 540; Elliott v. Holbrook, 33 Ala. 659; Kingsland v. Forrest, 18 Ala. 519.

1925 (2923) (3174) (2830) (2419). Scire facias when execution did not issue within a year.—No execution shall issue on a judgment or decree of the circuit, chancery, or probate court, on which an execution has not been sued out within one year after its rendition, until the same has been revived by scire facias. If the defendant is a resident of the state, personal service must be had upon him of the scire facias requiring him to show cause at the next ensuing term why the plaintiff should not have execution. When the defendant is a non-resident, service may be had in the manner following: The plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, must make affidavit of such non-residence, and that the judgment or decree is unsatisfied; whereupon the clerk, register, or judge of probate, shall cause publication to be made, once a week for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, requiring the defendant to show cause why the plaintiff should not have execution on his judgment or decree; and a copy of the paper containing such publication must be forwarded by mail to the defendant, if his post-office is known.

Draper v. Nixon, 93 Ala. 436; Leonard v. Brewer, 86 Ala. 390; Betancourt v. Eberlin, 71 Ala. 461; Lowry v. Newsom, 51 Ala. 570; Brevard v. Jones, 50 Ala. 221; Sharp v. Herrin, 32 Ala. 502; Glass v. Glass, 24 Ala. 468; Hanson v. Jacks, 22 Ala. 549; Barron v. Tart, 19 Ala. 78; Miller v. Shackleford, 16 Ala. 95; Turner v. Dupree, 19 Ala. 198.

1926 (2925) (3176) (2834). Execution issues in favor of representative.—When a plaintiff dies after the rendition of a judgment or decree in his favor, and such judgment or decree is unsatisfied, execution may issue thereon in favor of the personal representative of such deceased plaintiff as provided in section 1924 (2922); and in like manner when a judgment or decree is rendered in favor of an executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee, who dies, resigns, or is removed, or whose authority ceases from any cause, execution may issue in favor of the successor without a revival.

Smith v. Alexander, 80 Ala. 251; Stewart v. Nuckols, 15 Ala. 225.

1927 (2926) (3177) (2835). Revivor in favor of personal representative.—When the plaintiff in any judgment or decree dies, the same may be revived in favor of the personal representative of the plaintiff in the manner provided in section 1925 (2923).

Baker v. Ingersoll, 37 Ala. 503.

1928 (2927) (3178) (2836). Assignee may have execution.—If an assignment of a judgment or decree is made or indorsed on the execution-docket, or on the margin of the record of the judgment or decree, and is attested by the clerk, register, or judge of probate, the assignee may have execution thereon in the name of the plaintiff for the use of the assignee, whether the plaintiff be living or dead.

Gardener v. M. & N. R. Co., 102 Ala. 635; Moorer v. Moorer, 87 Ala. 545.

1929 (2928) (3178) (2836). Also scire facias.—The assignee of a judgment or decree, if the assignment be in writing, may by scire facias have the same revived in his name in the manner provided in section 1925 (2923).

Moorer v. Moorer, 87 Ala. 545.

1930 (2923) (3174) (2830) (2419). Presumption of satisfaction after ten years.—If ten years have elapsed from the rendition of the judgment or decree without issue of execution, or, if ten years have elapsed since the date of the last execution issued, the judgment or decree must be presumed satisfied, and the burden of proving it not satisfied is upon the plaintiff.

1931 (2924) (3175) (2833) (2421). Scire facias barred after twenty years.—No scire facias shall issue to revive a judgment or decree after the lapse of twenty years from its rendition.

ARTICLE 8.

EXECUTIONS ISSUED BY JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

1932 (3345) (3627) (3230) (2783). Issue and return of execu- tions.—After the lapse of five days from rendition of judgment by a justice of the peace, if an appeal is not taken, the justice must, unless otherwise directed, issue a writ of fieri facias for the satisfaction of the judgment, which must be signed by him, dated on the day it was issued, and made returnable before him, not less than twenty nor more than sixty days from the date of its issue; and alias writs shall be made returnable in like manner.

Issuance of writ a ministerial act.—Kyle v. Evans, 3 Ala. 481; Sandlin v. Anderson, 82 Ala. 330. Execution before the lapse of five days irregular, and may be quashed, but is not void.—Waldrop v. Friedman, 90 Ala. 157; Sandlin v. Anderson, 76 Ala. 403. When no return-day named, writ returnable at the end of sixty days.—Waldrop v. Friedman, 90 Ala. 157; Samples v. Walker, 9 Ala. 726; Wofford v. Robinson, 7 Ala. 489. If return-day more than sixty days, it must be levied within the sixty days.—Mitchell v. Corbin, 91 Ala. 599. No levy can be made after the return-day, but sale may be made.—Waldrop v. Friedman, 90 Ala. 157; Morgan v. Ramsey, 15 Ala. 190; Smith v. Mundy, 18 Ala. 182. When writ merely irregular, and when void.—Cooper v. Jacobs, 82 Ala. 411; Sandlin v. Anderson, Ib. 330; McElhaney v. Flynn, 23 Ala. 819. Levy.—Chandler v. Francis, 94 Ala. 233; Jones v. Davis, 2 Ala. 731.

1933 (3346) (3628) (3231) (2784). Form of execution.—The writ must be, in substance, as follows:

"State of Alabama, ——— county. } To any lawful officer of the county of———:

You are hereby commanded, of the goods and chattels of —— ——, you make the sum of ——— dollars, which —— —— recovered before me of him, on the —— day of ———, 18—, besides ——— dollars, his costs; and make return to me on the —— day of ——— next, at ———, in your county, how you have executed this writ.

Witness my hand, this —— day of ———, 18—.

1934 (3347) (3629) (3232) (2785). When may be issued immediately.—If the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, make oath in writing before the justice, that the plaintiff is in danger of losing the fruit of his judgment by delay, the justice must issue execution thereon immediately.

1935 (3348) (3632) (3235) (2788). When execution may be stayed.—The defendant may, at any time before the issue of execution, stay the issue thereof for thirty days, if the judgment is for less than twenty dollars, or for sixty days, if for more than twenty dollars, by executing an undertaking in writing, payable to the plaintiff, in double the amount of the judgment, with sureties to be approved by the justice, and conditioned to pay the judgment at the expiration of the stay; and if not paid, execution may issue therefor against the defendant and the sureties on such undertaking.

1936 (3349) (3647) (3250) (2804). Execution to another county. When a defendant in judgment removes to another county, or has property in any other county than that in which the judgment was rendered, execution on such judgment may be issued by the justice, and directed to any constable of such county, which must be certified by the judge of probate of the county in which the judgment was rendered, or by a justice of the county to which it is sent, who has knowledge of the handwriting of the justice issuing it.

Burgess v. Sugg, 2 Stew. & Port. 341; Jordan v. Mead, 12 Ala. 247; Street v. McClerkin, 77 Ala. 580. See note to next section.

1937 (3350) (3648) (3251) (2805). By whom executed.—Such execution may be executed by any constable of the county to which it is sent, and must be by him returned to the justice issuing it, as in other cases.

If execution not authenticated as required by the preceding section, a levy under it is void.—Street v. McClerkin, 77 Ala. 580. Must be directed "to any constable" of the county to which it is sent (naming the county), else it is void.—Campbell v. Smith, Ala. (22 So. 545).

1938 (3351) (3649) (3252) (2806). Lien of execution.—Executions issued by justices are liens on the property of the defendant on which they are levied from the time of the levy.

1939 (3352) (3650) (3253) (2807). Order of payment of several executions against same defendant.—If more than one execution comes to the hands of the constable against the same defendant at different times, the first received by him must be first satisfied; and if they come to his hands at the same time, and all cannot be fully satisfied, each must receive a ratable proportion of the funds; and it is the duty of the constable to indorse on every execution received by him the true date of the receipt thereof.

1940 (3353) (3652) (3255) (2809). When indemnity may be required.—When a reasonable doubt exists as to the title of the defendant to personal property, the constable may refuse to levy, or may release a levy already made, unless indemnified by the plaintiff; and if there are two or more executions in his hands, the plaintiff in the execution first received has the prior right to give such indemnity; and upon his refusal, the plaintiff in the execution next received may give the indemnity, and have the property sold for his benefit.

Murray v. Ezell, 3 Ala. 148.

1941 (3354) (3643) (3246) (2800). Forthcoming bond; effect of. When a levy is made on personal property, the defendant may retain the possession thereof until the day of sale, upon executing a forthcoming bond, payable to the plaintiff, in double the amount of the judgment, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the constable, with condition to have the property forthcoming at twelve o'clock of the day, and at the place appointed for the sale.

1942 (3355) (3644) (3247) (2801). Execution issues on forfeiture of bond; no stay allowed.—If the property is not delivered at such time and place, the constable must return the bond forfeited to the justice, who must thereupon, without delay, issue execution thereon for the amount of the judgment and costs against the defendant and the sureties on the bond, upon which no further stay of execution must be taken.

1943 (3356) (3645) (3248) (2802). Proceedings on forfeited bond, when execution issued from another county.—If property is levied on by a constable under an execution from another county, and the property is not delivered on the day of sale according to the forthcoming bond, the constable must return the bond forfeited to any justice of his county, together with a copy of the execution, who must proceed thereon in the same manner as if the judgment had been rendered by him; and the constable must then return the execution to the justice who issued it, with an indorsement showing the levy, and the execution and forfeiture of the bond.

1944 (3357) (3646) (3249) (2803). Defects in form do not affect bond.—Any undertaking entered into by the parties, with the consent of the justice or constable, as a stay of execution, or forthcoming bond, and which has the effect to stay execution, or continue the property levied on in the possession of the defendant, must be deemed sufficient, though defective in form.

Applies to defects of form and not of substance.—Cobb v. Thompson, 87 Ala. 381; Olmstead v. Thompson, 91 Ala. 127.

1945 (3358) (3637) (3241) (2794). Time and place of sale of personal property.—Personal property, levied on under an execution issued by a justice of the peace, must be sold at the residence of the defendant, or at such other place within the precinct in which the property is levied on, as may be most for the benefit of the parties, between the hours of eleven in the morning and four in the afternoon.

Jones v. Davis, 2 Ala. 730; Street v. McClerkin, 77 Ala. 580.

1946. Notice of sale.—Sales under any process issued by a justice must be advertised for ten days by posting written notices of the time and place of sale in three public places in the precinct in which the sale is to be made; and when the sale is to be made in the precinct in which the court-house is located, one of such notices must be posted at the court-house door. Feb. 22, 1889, p. 40.

1947 (3359) (3638) (3242) (2796). Levy on land; when made, and proceedings thereunder.—If the defendant has no personal property known to the constable, or if it is insufficient to satisfy the execution, he must indorse the fact upon the execution, and may then levy on land of the defendant subject to execution, describing it in his levy, and make return thereof to the justice, who shall thereupon transmit all the papers in the cause to the next circuit court, or court having like jurisdiction.

McDaniel v. Moody, 3 Stew. 314; Weir v. Clayton, 19 Ala. 132; Brown v. Higginbottom, Ib. 207; Langdon v. Raiford, 20 Ala. 532; Ellis v. White, 25 Ala. 540; Jones v. Calloway, 56 Ala. 46; Sherry v. Brown, 66 Ala. 51; Dickerson v. Carroll, 76 Ala. 377; Toenes v. Moog, 78 Ala. 558; Johnson v. Dismukes, 104 Ala. 520.

1948 (3360) (3639) (3243) (2797). Notice of levy on land.—If the defendant on whose land the levy is made, is a resident of, and within the county, personal notice of the levy must be given him; otherwise, he must be served by posting a notice in a conspicuous place on the land levied on.

1949 (3361) (3640) (3244) (2798). Sale of land ordered on motion.—If the proceedings before the justice are regular, and establish a judgment against the defendant, issue of execution and levy on land for want of personal property, and notice thereof, and no sufficient objection is made, the court must, on motion of the plaintiff, direct a sale of the land for the satisfaction of the judgment.

1950 (3362) (3642) (3245) (2799). Record and writ for sale of land.—The clerk of the court in which the motion is made must record all the proceedings before the justice, together with the return of the constable, the motion of the plaintiff and the order of the court thereon, and must issue a writ directing the sheriff to sell the land for the satisfaction of the judgment.

1951 (3363) (3658) (3261) (2815). Issue of alias executions without revival.—When an execution has been issued within six months after the rendition of judgment, and has not been returned satisfied, another execution may be issued thereon at any time within three years thereafter, without a revival of the judgment.

Henderson v. Gandy, 11 Ala. 431; Brevard v. Jones, 50 Ala. 221; Sandlin v. Anderson, 76 Ala. 403; Field v. Sims, 96 Ala. 540.

1952 (3364) (3659) (3262) (2816). When scire facias necessary; bar to revival of judgment.—When execution has not been thus sued out, no execution can issue until the defendant is notified to appear at a time and place designated by the justice, and show cause why the plaintiff should not have execution of his judgment; but no judgment can be revived after the lapse of five years from the rendition thereof, or from the issue of the last execution thereon.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

ARTICLE 1.—GOVERNOR. 1953–1973.
2.—SECRETARY OF STATE. 1974–1992.
3.—STATE AUDITOR. 1993–2012.
4.—STATE TREASURER. 2013–2026.
5.—ATTORNEY-GENERAL. 2027–2032.

ARTICLE 1.

GOVERNOR.

1953 (66) (65) (67) (53). Governor's oath, by whom and when administered.—The oath required by the fifteenth article of the constitution of this state is administered to the governor by the presiding officer of either house of the general assembly, or any officer authorized to administer an oath, in the presence of both houses of the general assembly.

1954 (67) (66) (68) (54). His salary.—The salary of the governor is three thousand dollars per annum.

1955 (644, 645) (538) (632, 633) (557, 558). Governor controls property of state; exceptions.—All property belonging to the state, not including money or evidences of debt, is, unless otherwise provided by law, under the control of the governor.

1956 (57) (56) (58) (50). Duty as to offices and rooms in capitol.—The governor must assign rooms in the capitol to the secretary of state, auditor, attorney-general, superintendent of education, treasurer, railroad commission, president of inspectors of convicts, and adjutant-general; and in the absence of any legislative provision, designate the purposes to which other rooms are to be applied.

1957. Governor may negotiate temporary loans to meet deficiencies in treasury.—Should any deficiency occur in the state treasury at any time, the governor may negotiate temporary loans, not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to supply such deficiency. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 71.

1958 (58) (57) (59) (51). Private secretary and his salary.—He may employ a private secretary, whose annual salary shall be fifteen hundred dollars, payable as in case of other officers employed at the seat of government.

1959 (59) (58) (60). Recording secretary and his salary.—He may employ a recording secretary at an annual salary of one thousand dollars, payable as the salaries of other officers employed at the seat of government.

1960 (60) (59) (61). Governor may discontinue services of secretaries.—The governor may discontinue the services of one or both of such secretaries, whenever the services may be no longer needed.

1961 (61) (60) (62). Private secretary made keeper of the capitol.—The private secretary of the governor is made keeper of the capitol, and he is required to perform the duties of that office.

1962 (62) (61) (63). His duties as keeper of the capitol.—The duties of such office are to take care of the capitol, the grounds, inclosures, furniture, and all other property of the state on the premises, under the general control and supervision of the governor; and also in the recess of the general assembly, to have all the apartments that are not regularly used and occupied, and the public entries, walls and stairs in each story well cleaned and ventilated.

1963 (63) (62) (64). His pay for services as such keeper.—The private secretary, for his services as keeper of the capitol, shall receive the annual sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, to be paid at the same times and in the same manner as his salary.

1964. May employ messenger to executive office.—The governor may employ one messenger to the chief executive office, whose compensation is three hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly, out of any money not otherwise appropriated, on the auditor's warrant, drawn upon the governor's certificate.

1965 (68) (70) (73). Employment of additional clerks in the state departments.—1. Whenever the employment of any clerical assistance, in addition to that prescribed by law, in any of the state departments, may become necessary in the transaction of the public business, the head of such department must certify to the governor an application for such additional force, setting forth the contingency and the nature and extent of the work to be done, and that the same cannot be performed within the time that the public interest requires by the regular force employed in such department, and thereupon the governor, being satisfied that the public interest demands such service, must issue an order authorizing the employment of such clerical assistance for such time as he may deem necessary, and cause the application to be filed in his office; and no such clerk or assistant shall be employed until such application is certified and such order passed.

2. All such clerks must perform not less than eight hours' service in every twenty-four hours, or the writing of not less than ten folio pages in every twenty-four hours, for the time for which they are employed.

3. The compensation of such clerks must be paid upon account stated, certified by the head of the proper department that the same is correct, and for services performed under the provisions of this section, and approved by the governor, upon the warrant of the auditor, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

1966 (69) (71) (74). Servants for executive and judicial offices. The governor must employ not more than four servants for the executive and judicial offices of the state at the capitol, and prescribe their duties; the compensation of each servant not to exceed twenty-five dollars per month, and to be paid monthly out of any money not otherwise appropriated, on the auditor's warrant, drawn upon the governor's certificate.

1967. Must employ watchmen at capitol.—The governor must employ not more than three watchmen at the capitol, and prescribe their duties. The compensation of each watchman is six hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly, out of any money not otherwise appropriated, on the auditor's warrant, drawn on the governor's certificate.

Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1334, §1.

1968. Powers of watchmen.—Such watchmen are invested with all the powers, rights and privileges of sheriffs as far as may be necessary in the making of arrests and the preservation of order in the capitol and grounds, and preventing injury to the property of the state.*

*An act approved December 9, 1896 (Pamph. Acts, p. 143), entitled "An act for the protection of the state capitol and the grounds around it," is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Alabama, That the watchmen at the capitol be designated as capitol policemen and be required to wear a gray uniform, and that it shall be their duty to arrest any person who sets up a nuisance, or commits any depredation within the capitol building, or upon the capitol grounds; or any person who injures without permission the flowers or shrubbery therein, or who is guilty of any indecent or boisterous conduct, or who throws stones or other missiles at the building, or the windows thereof, or who defaces the walls or floors, or who writes, prints or makes any letters or figures thereon, and that each of said acts hereby declared a misdemeanor, and it shall be the duty of said policemen to take such person before the city recorder or any justice of the peace of the city of Montgomery, who shall have power to punish such offenders by a fine of not exceeding fifty dollars, and if the same be not paid, or secured, he or she shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than three days.

1969. City council of Montgomery, with approval of the governor, may pass ordinances to protect state property.—The city council of Montgomery may, with the approval of the governor, pass such ordinances as may be necessary for the protection of the grass, trees, and other public property on the capitol grounds; but no ordinance or by-law of the city council of Montgomery shall be operative within the capitol building or grounds without the consent of of the governor.

1970 (237) (145) (140) (101). Governor obtains acts of congress for judges of probate.—The governor must obtain a sufficient number of the copies of the acts of each session of congress, to furnish one copy to the office of each judge of probate, for the use of the citizens of his county.

1971 (65) (64) (66). Bonds approved by the governor filed with auditor.—All bonds approved by the governor, except the auditor's bond, must be filed in the auditor's office.

1972 (17) (17) (21) (20). When governor may employ counsel. When any suit is instituted against any person deriving title from the state, to recover any lands within the limits of the same, under pretense of any claim inconsistent with its sovereignty and jurisdiction, the governor, at the expense of the state, must employ counsel and provide for the defense of such suit.

1973. Must copyright reports and statutes.—The governor must cause to be copyrighted, for the use and benefit of the state, each volume of the published reports of the decisions of the supreme court, the pamphlet acts of the general assembly at each session thereof, and each volume of this Code.

ARTICLE 2.

SECRETARY OF STATE.

1974 (84) (73) (75) (56). Duties of secretary of state.—It is the duty of the secretary of state—

1. To keep the state seal, the original statutes and public records of the state, the records and papers belonging to the general assembly, keeping the papers of each house separate.

2. To attest commissions, pardons and all other public documents from the executive of the state, and, when necessary, affix the seal of the state thereto, and certify the same in his official capacity.

3. To record, in books proper for that purpose, all grants and patents issued by the state.

4. To keep all books, maps and other papers appertaining to the survey of any lands belonging to the state, and the books and papers belonging to the land-office at Courtland.

5. The books, maps and field-notes of the late surveyor-general of the United States, for this state, are public archives of the state, and the secretary of state must keep them in his office, and must, upon application, give certified copies from the same, which shall be received in evidence in any of the courts of this state.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That said capitol policemen shall be under the direction of the governor's private secretary, subject to the approval of the governor."

6. To certify, on application and the payment of lawful fees, copies of all records, grants, papers and laws of the several states, or of the United States.

7. To make annually, by the thirtieth day of September, a verified and itemized account of all moneys and fees received in his office, and of all payments and disbursements made by him; which must be reported to and filed with the governor, and by him must be transmitted to the next succeeding general assembly.

8. To supply the books and stationery to the general assembly, the executive, judges of the supreme court, and the several departments of state.

9. To give notice to the solicitors of the respective circuits of all officers who fail to file their bonds in his office, or make returns of elections, within the time prescribed.

10. He must procure the acts and resolutions of the general assembly, of which distribution is directed, to be half-bound and lettered.

11. He must receive from the state printer ten additional copies of all bills, joint resolutions and memorials printed by order of either house of the general assembly, and on the adjournment of each session of the general assembly, have one of each of such copies bound together in a cheap form, and file them and the copies not bound in his office.

12. He must, on entering into the contract provided for in section 965 (832), furnish to the courts of county commissioners, from the records now in his office, exact copies of the field-notes of the original surveys of all the lands in their respective counties; which shall be on books of proper size, to be supplied by such courts, at the close of which he shall append his certificate as to the correctness thereof under the great seal of the state.

13. He is authorized to procure from the general land-office, at Washington City, complete lists of the entries of public lands in Alabama, so as to be enabled to complete the Alabama state tract-books in his office to date; the expense attending the procurement of which to be paid upon his certificate to the auditor, who shall draw a warrant on the state treasurer.

14. He must procure lists of entries of public lands in this state annually, so as to comply with the following subdivision of this section, the expense to be paid as provided in the last foregoing subdivision.

15. He must, by the first day of October, in each year, enter on the tract-books a list of all the lands (not already so entered) sold by the United States, and must make out and furnish each probate judge, by the first day of January, in each year, a register or statement showing all the lands so sold in the county of such judge, and not embraced in any register or statement previously furnished; and he may employ a person at not exceeding thirty cents per page of ordinary foolscap paper, to be paid on the warrant of the auditor, in favor of the person so employed, upon the certificate of the secretary of state, stating that the services have been correctly performed according to the contract, and specifying the amount due therefor.

16. To perform such other duties as he is or may be required to perform by law.

1975 (88) (77) (78). His bond.—The secretary of state must give bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be approved by the governor, and deposited in the office of the auditor.

1976 (86) (75) (76) (57). His salary.—The annual salary of the secretary of state is eighteen hundred dollars.

1977 (87) (76) (77) (58). Fees to be charged by him.—He shall charge the person for whom the service is rendered the following fees: For copying any law, or other matter, where the copy is desired, fifteen cents for every hundred words; for any certificate, and the annexation of the seal of the state, one dollar; for the issue of a patent, and the annexation of the seal of the state, one dollar; and all such fees shall be paid into the state treasury.

1978 (85) (74). Duties under section 30, article four, of the constitution.—The secretary of state is charged with the duty of making and executing contracts, with the approval of the governor, the auditor and the treasurer, required by section 30, of article four, of the constitution, as follows:

1. The secretary of state shall, from the best information he can obtain, fix a maximum price at which all stationery, paper and fuel, used by the general assembly, or by other departments of the state government, shall be purchased by the state, and a maximum price for the distribution of laws, journals and department reports, printed, bound, or distributed for the state, and also a maximum price for any repairing or furnishing the halls and rooms used for the general assembly, or its committees, which may at any time seem to him to be necessary; and, having so fixed such maximum price, shall, at the times prescribed in section 3387, advertise for bids for furnishing such supplies or doing such work for the state, in not less than two, nor more than four newspapers published in this state, one of which to be published at the city of Montgomery, at a price not to exceed the maximum fixed.

2. Such advertisement shall be made for at least three successive weeks, by giving at least one insertion of the same in each week in such papers, inviting sealed proposals for furnishing the proposed materials or work, naming in such advertisement a day after which such bids will close; and immediately after the day named, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the secretary shall open such bids as may have been received for the specified materials or work advertised for, and shall accept the lowest responsible bid for the same below the maximum price, subject to the approval of the governor, the auditor and the treasurer of the state, after the contract has been executed by and between the secretary of state and such accepted bidder.

3. The secretary of state shall, from the best sources of information obtainable, ascertain the probable amount of supplies needed in any fiscal year, or the probable amount of work or repairs needed for any given time during the term of his office, and contract for same in such quantity and amount as, in his judgment, will be for the best interest of the state; and to this end, he may call on the heads of the other departments of the state government for such estimates of work and materials needed by them, which estimates shall be so furnished when called for.

4. Before any such contract shall be submitted to the governor, auditor and treasurer, for their approval, the contractor shall furnish to the secretary of state bond, with good and sufficient surety, in double the amount involved in such contract, conditioned for the faithful performance of the same, to be approved by him, which bond so approved shall accompany such contract when the same is presented for the approval of the governor, auditor and treasurer, and, when so approved by them, shall be a valid contract; and all such bonds shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and there recorded.

5. Whenever requested by the secretary of state, the governor, auditor and treasurer shall meet in the office of the governor, or of the secretary of state, for the purpose of examining any contract made under this section, and each of them shall indorse thereon in writing his approval or disapproval thereof, if the same is accompanied by the bond required by subdivision 4 of this section.

6. In case the lowest responsible bidder shall fail to execute his contract or give the required bond under this section, then the secretary of state shall award the contract to the next lowest responsible bidder, and in case of a second failure, then the next lowest responsible bidder, and so on until a contract is executed and approved; and in case all the bids are exhausted and no contract concluded, then he may proceed to readvertise as before, until the object is accomplished.

7. The bid of no member or officer of any department of the state government shall be accepted, nor any bid in which it may be ascertained that any such member or officer is in any way interested; and any such contract, if made, shall be void, and no payment shall be made thereon.

8. The secretary of state must pass upon the compliance of any contract made in pursuance of this section; if he shall find the same to conform, in every respect, to the terms and stipulations of the contract, he shall certify the same, together with the amount due thereon, to the auditor, who shall draw his warrant on the treasurer, in favor of the party entitled thereto, for the amount so certified by the secretary of state.

1979 (89) (78) (79). Custody of books.—The secretary of state has the charge of all books owned and kept for sale by the state, and it is his duty to sell the same; and he is liable upon his official bond for failure of any of the duties imposed in selling the same, and for failure to pay over the money received therefor.

1980 (90) (79) (80). Files list of books with the governor and makes returns to the auditor.—He must, at the commencement of his term of office, file in the governor's office a list of such books as come into his possession for sale, and he must, at the end of every quarter of such term, return to the auditor a certified statement showing the number and description of books sold, and the amount of money received therefor at prices fixed upon such books, and pay the same into the treasury for the use of the state.

1981 (92) (81) (82). Keeps account of sales and money.—He must keep, in his office, a book, in which shall be entered an account of books sold, and of money paid over.

1982 (91) (80) (81). Duty and liability on expiration of office. At the end of his term of office, or his resignation, he must file in the office of the governor a full statement of the books sold and remaining on hand, to be turned over to his successor, and is liable on his bond for failure to comply with the requisitions of this section, and the three preceding sections.

1983. Receipt of doorkeeper sufficient voucher for books, etc. Feb. 2, 1895, p. 322. The receipt of the doorkeeper of the senate or house of representatives is a sufficient voucher for the secretary of state, for each book so receipted for; and the receipt of a member of either house to the doorkeeper thereof is a sufficient voucher for the doorkeeper.

1984 (232) (140) (135) (96). Secretary of state distributes acts and resolutions.—The secretary of state must retain for the use of the executive offices, and the two houses of the general assembly, one hundred and fifty copies of the acts and resolutions of each session, and transmit to the department of state of the United States two copies; to the executive of each state and territory two copies, with the request to forward to the executive of this state the same number of copies of the laws of such state or territory; and distribute to the governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, attorney-general, superintendent of education, commissioner of agriculture, examiner of public accounts, state health officer, adjutant-general, president of the convict bureau, president of the railroad commission, clerk of the supreme court, secretary of the senate and clerk of the house of representatives, one copy each, and to the president of the University of Alabama for the use of the law department, two copies; also, to each chancellor, judge of the supreme, circuit or city court, solicitor, United States district judge and United States district attorney in this state, one copy each; also, four copies to the supreme court library, and one copy each to the department of justice of the United States and the United States circuit court of appeals for the fifth circuit; also, two copies to the librarian of congress at Washington for the purpose of copyright.

1985 (234) (142) (136) (97). Copies sent judges of probate, for certain officers, and remaining copies sold.—He must also transmit to the judge of probate of each county, for such judge, each member of the general assembly, clerk of any court of record, sheriff, register in chancery, and each justice of the peace within his county, one copy each; and the remaining copies must be sold as other books and documents, the property of the state, at two dollars a copy, and the proceeds thereof paid into the treasury.

1986 (235) (143). When duplicate copies furnished to judicial officers.—Whenever any of the supreme court reports, or other books, furnished by the state to the judicial officers thereof, have been destroyed by fire without fault on their part, or on the part of their predecessors in office, the secretary of state shall furnish to the incumbents duplicate copies, if in the possession of the state, and not required for use by the state, or otherwise appropriated; but before he shall do so, the secretary of state shall be satisfied by affidavit, or other evidence, that such books were destroyed by fire without fault on the part of such officers or their predecessors.

1987 (236) (144) (137) (98). To retain fifty copies of journals, and distribute remainder.—He must retain fifty copies of the journals of each house, for the use of the executive offices and members of the general assembly, and must distribute to the state officers designated in section 1984 (232) one copy each; the remaining copies must be transmitted to the judges of probate of the several counties, in proportion to their population, to be by them distributed among the civil officers of their counties.

1988 (233) (141). Distribution to A. and M. College, and Institute for Deaf and Dumb and the Blind.—It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to furnish the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institute, at Talladega, with a copy each of such reports of the several departments of the state, and of the trustees of the State University, and committees visiting the university and asylum, as may be made to the different sessions of the legislature, and also a copy each of the journals of the senate and house of representatives, for permanent preservation in their libraries.

1989 (238) (146) (141) (102). Distribution of books and papers in relation to public lands.—Books and documents in relation to the public lands, after retaining one copy for the use of the executive and state departments, and one for the supreme court library, are to be distributed by the secretary of state among the judges of probate, for the use of the citizens of their respective counties.

1990 (239) (147) (142) (103). The acts of congress to be distributed.—The acts of congress are to be sent to each of the judges of probate, and the expense thereof paid out of the state treasury, on warrant of the auditor, drawn upon the certificate of the secretary of state.

1991 (240) (148) (143) (104). Distribution of other books and documents.—The other books and documents are to be distributed with the acts and journals.

1992 (93) (82) (89). Preservation of fuel.—The secretary of state must provide that the fuel of the state, after being delivered, is preserved from waste, and any sum necessary for this purpose must be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, on the warrant of the auditor, upon account and certificate of the secretary of state that the account is correct and according to contract, and approved by the governor, and that the sum was necessary to protect the state against loss in the waste of fuel.

STATE AUDITOR.

1993 (94) (83) (90) (59). Bond of auditor.—The auditor must, before entering on the duties of his office, give bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, which bond must approved by the governor, and filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

1994 (95) (84) (91) (61). Seal and its device.—He must keep a seal with the device, "The State of Alabama, Auditor's Office."

1995 (96) (85) (414) (365). His duties.—It is the duty of the auditor—

1. To superintend the fiscal affairs of the state, as required by law.

2. To keep and preserve in his office, in suitable books, fair and accurate accounts between this state and the United States, including the two and three per cent. funds, the surplus revenue funds, and the funds arising from the distribution of the sales of the public lands.

3. To keep the accounts in relation to the school fund, and every other special or trust fund in which the state is interested, the keeping of which is not specially intrusted to other officers.

4. To keep an account of all state bonds issued and paid, and of all interest paid.

5. To keep all accounts between the state and the treasurer, charging him with the balance due when he came into office, and with all moneys received by him, and crediting him with all warrants drawn on the state treasury and paid by him.

6. To audit and adjust the accounts of all public officers, keeping a regular account with every person in each county in the state who is by law authorized to collect and receive any part of the state revenue, in suitable books, in which he must charge such persons with all sums of money due from them severally, and credit each with all moneys paid by him to the treasurer, having first certified to that officer the amount or balance due.

7. To examine and adjust the claims of all persons against the state, where provision for the payment thereof has been made by law.

8. To draw warrants on the treasurer for the payment of all moneys directed by law to be paid out of the treasury, in favor of the person authorized to receive the same; stating in such warrant on what account the same is due, and in case of special appropriation, referring to the law under which it is drawn.

9. To direct the forms to be used by all public officers in collecting, keeping the accounts, and making returns of the state revenue.

10. To have printed by the state printer, immediately after each session of the general assembly, all laws in relation to the revenue passed at such session, and to send a copy certified by the secretary of state to each of the tax-assessors, tax-collectors, and judges of probate.

11. To take and keep copies of his official letters.

12. To take receipts for all warrants he draws, and to preserve, arrange and file in his office all such receipts, and all accounts by him allowed, with the vouchers and papers relating to the same.

13. To proceed against all defaulters, as required by law.

14. To publish in some newspaper at the seat of government, annually, a list of defaulters to the state, whose accounts have remained due and unpaid for one year, with the amount due from each, how the debt accrued, and when it became due.

15. To keep a docket of all suits brought against defaulters, showing the time when commenced, to what sheriff directed, the sheriff's return, and when and how settled.

16. To examine all bonds for the two per cent. fund, and all other securities for money belonging to the state, kept in his office, from time to time, as to the sufficiency of the securities; and on discovering any deficiency therein, forthwith to report the same to the governor, and to put such bonds or securities in suit when necessary for the collection of the principal and interest.

As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 73, §1.

17. To report annually, in writing, to the governor, to be laid before the general assembly, his views as to the proper subjects of taxation, with such plans and estimates as in his opinion are expedient for using the public money to the best advantage for diminishing the public expenses, and sustaining the credit of the state; detailed estimates of the expenditures to be defrayed from the treasury for the two ensuing years must accompany the report, and also tables showing in detail the names of all persons in whose favor warrants have been drawn for the preceding fiscal year, when drawn, under what law in case of special appropriations, and for what amount; the amount of total assessments made in each county for the same year, showing in separate columns the amount of total assessments on each item of taxation, the amount in each county for retail and other licenses, the amount of insolvencies, of commissions, the net amount of revenue paid into the treasury for such year, the condition of the school fund, the two and three per cent. fund, and all other funds, the accounts of which are by law required to be kept in his office.

Ib. 2.

18. He shall embrace in his report a detailed statement of all payments made from the contingent fund during the fiscal year, setting forth the date and nature of the claim, and name of the person in whose favor each warrant was drawn, and the same must be printed in connection with his report upon the finances.

19. To condense his report as far as consistent with intelligibility of its material parts, and to have fifteen hundred copies of the same printed for the use of the general assembly as soon as practicable after the close of the fiscal year.

20. To keep a book in which he shall make an entry of the amount of taxes received from each county, and from whom received; and the entries in such book shall be embraced in his annual report.

21. He must certify under his official seal, at all times when necessary for the public use, and on application and payment of the legal fees therefor, for private or personal use, copies of any paper required to be kept in his office.

22. To perform such other duties in relation to the fiscal affairs of the state as are, or may be required of him by law.

1996 (97) (86) (93) (63). His salary and fees.—The annual salary of the auditor shall be eighteen hundred dollars, to be paid in such manner as is now prescribed by law; and he must charge fifty cents for each annexation of his official seal for private or personal use, and for other services the same fees as the secretary of state for similar services; and all such fees shall be paid into the state treasury.

1997 (98) (87) (94) (64). Office under superintendence of governor.—The office of the auditor is under the general superintendence of the governor.

1998 (99) (88) (95). Clerks; salary.—The auditor may employ three clerks in his office, and remove them at pleasure, one at an annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars and two at an annual salary each of twelve hundred dollars, payable as the salaries of other officers are paid; and for additional clerical assistance in that office there is appropriated annually the sum of twelve hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 789.

1999 (100) (89) (96). Qualifications and duties of clerks.—Such clerks must, before entering upon their duties, comply with such requisitions as the auditor may prescribe for his own security, and take an oath faithfully to discharge all such duties in the auditor's office, and connected with it, as are, or may be confided to them, and also the oath required of public officers.

2000 (101) (90) (97). Official acts.—The official acts of one of these clerks, to be assigned as chief clerk by the auditor, shall be presumed to be by the authority of, and shall be taken as done by the auditor, who shall be responsible for the same.

2001 (102) (91) (98). Duration of appointment.—The appointment of such clerk shall not be for a longer time than two years, and shall not continue longer than the incumbent making the appointment remains in office.

2002 (103) (92) (99). Auditor to keep bonds approved by the governor.—The auditor must keep all bonds approved by the governor, and place them in his iron safe or vault for safe-keeping.

2003 (104) (93) (418) (366). May require proof of correctness of claim.—The auditor has authority to require information on oath, to be by him administered, from any person, touching any claim or account he is required to audit.

2004 (105) (94) (416). Evidence preliminary to payment from contingent fund.—No money shall be paid out of the contingent fund, except upon account stated, setting forth the items upon which payment is claimed, signed by the proper party, with such authentication as the governor may require of the correctness of the same.

2005 (106) (95) (417). Register of bonds in office.—All bonds of the state, redeemed or paid, must be registered in the auditor's office.

2006 (107) (96) (419) (367). Must not draw warrant in favor of defaulter.—He must not give any public defaulter any warrant for moneys due him from the state, except the balance which is due after the application of the amount due from the state to the extinguishment of the debt, interest and damages, if any are given by law, due from such defaulter.

State v. Brewer, 62 Ala. 215.

2007 (108) (97) (420) (368). Not to receive revenue unless expressly authorized.—The auditor has no authority, in any suit or proceeding by him commenced or directed, or in any other case, unless such authority is expressly given, to receive any of the state revenue.

2008 (109) (98) (421) (369). Accounts against state to be itemized and verified.—All accounts against the state must be accurately and fully itemized, and accompanied with the affidavit of the party, stating the correctness of the same, and that no portion of such account has been paid.

2009 (110) (99) (4436). Verification of claims against the state. No claim against the state must be allowed, or ordered to be paid by the legislature, until satisfactory evidence is produced, by affidavit duly administered and authenticated, that the same is justly due and unpaid; and such affidavits must be filed with the secretary of state at the close of each session.

2010 (111) (100). When required to issue duplicate warrants. The auditor must issue duplicate warrants upon the treasury, whenever he is satisfied that the original warrant has been destroyed or lost; and the party holding the duplicate shall have the same right as if he held the original, and the treasurer is authorized to pay the same.

2011 (112) (355) (424) (371). Fiscal year.—The fiscal year ends on the thirtieth day of September.

2012 (643) (537) (431) (385). Bonds, etc., deposited with auditor, and payments made to treasurer.—All bonds and other securities for money belonging to the state, or under the control thereof, are to be deposited with, and kept in the office of the auditor; and all payments on the same must be made to the treasurer, being first certified to him by the auditor.

STATE TREASURER.

2013 (114) (101) (100) (65). Treasurer's bond.—The state treasurer, before entering upon the duties of his office, must give bond in the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, with two or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the governor, and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and filed and kept in the office of the auditor.

2014 (115) (102) (101) (67). Settlement of accounts and delivery of books, etc., on removal or resignation.—If the state treasurer resigns, or is removed, he must, within ten days after such resignation or removal, state his account, and deliver the books, papers and money belonging to the treasury to his successor, taking his receipt therefor; and the auditor must record and file in his office a statement of such settlement and receipt, and report the same to the next session of the general assembly.

2015 (116) (103) (102) (68). When auditor to state accounts, etc.—If the treasurer, in the event of his resignation or removal, within ten days thereafter, fails to comply with the provisions of the preceding section, or if he dies or absconds, the auditor, after giving ten days' notice, by publication in some newspaper at the seat of government, must proceed, in the presence of any person attending on the part of such late treasurer, to state his account, and deliver the books, papers and moneys belonging to the treasury to his successor, taking his receipt for the same; to record and file such receipt and statement, and report the same to the next general assembly.

2016 (117) (104) (103) (69). Governor has superintendence of office.—The governor exercises a general superintendence over the office of state treasurer.

2017 (118) (105) (104) (70). His salary.—The annual salary of the state treasurer is two thousand one hundred dollars.

2018 (120) (107) (422) (370). Duties of treasurer.—It is the duty of the state treasurer—

1. To receive and keep the moneys of the state.
2. To pay all warrants drawn under authority of law by the auditor on the treasurer, and to pay no money out of the treasury except on the warrant of the auditor.
3. To take receipts for all payments.
4. To file such receipts and warrants, and to number the same in chronological order, for each fiscal year.
5. To keep accounts of the receipts and expenditures of the public money.
6. To enter in his books the amount of money he receives for taxes, licenses, or on any other account for the state, so that the net proceeds of the whole revenue, as well as every branch thereof, and the amount of disbursements distinctly appear.

7. To give information in writing to the general assembly, or either house thereof, or to the governor, when required, reporting all matters appertaining to his office.

As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 73, §3.

8. To report annually, in writing, to the governor, to be laid before the general assembly, the amount paid into the treasury for the preceding fiscal year, showing the amount paid in by each county, and distinguishing such counties as have made partial payments from those which have paid in full; also statements of all sums of money he has paid out on account of the state for such year, specifying the amount, to whom paid, and for what, with an exact statement of the balance in the treasury.

9. To condense his report, as far as is consistent with intelligibility of its material parts, and to have fifteen hundred copies of the same printed for the use of the general assembly, as soon as possible after the close of the fiscal year.

10. To act as agent for the state, to receive the whole or any portion of the two or three per cent. fund, and to give on the part of the state his receipt therefor.

11. To perform such other duties in relation to the fiscal affairs of the state as are, or may be by law required of him.

2019 (121). Fiscal agency in New York for payment of interest. For the purpose of paying the interest on the bonded indebtedness of the state, which is payable in the city of New York, the treasurer, with the written approval of the governor, shall, from time to time, as he may see fit, designate some well-known, responsible, solvent bank or banking-house in such city, at which such interest will be paid.

As amended Feb. 4, 1893, p. 288.

2020 (122). Money for payment of interest, how drawn.—Not less than one nor more than two months before the first days of January and July of each year, the treasurer must certify to the governor the amount of money which will probably be needed to pay the interest on the bonded indebtedness of the state falling due next thereafter, and payable in the city of New York, and at the treasury of the state; and the governor shall thereupon, in writing, direct the auditor to draw his warrant on the treasury in favor of the treasurer for such amount, or so much thereof as the treasurer may deem necessary, to be paid out of any fund appropriated for the payment of interest on such indebtedness; and upon the receipt of such warrant, the treasurer shall enter the amount thereof, on the appropriate book of his office, to the credit of "Interest Account," and shall thereafter, from time to time, debit such account with amounts paid on such interest at the treasury, and at the fiscal agency provided for in the preceding section, and for the expenses necessarily incurred in providing for the payment of such interest.

Ib.

2021 (123). How money sent to fiscal agency.—The money to pay the interest on such bonded indebtedness which is to be paid in the city of New York, shall be by the treasurer remitted by express or otherwise, as he may deem best, to the fiscal agency in such city, without taking out special insurance, except in cases where the governor in writing directs such insurance to be taken out.

2022 (124). Payment of interest in New York.—It is the duty of the fiscal agent in the city of New York to pay the interest on the bonded indebtedness of the state, upon presentation of the proper coupons and checks, and, upon payment, to immediately cancel such coupons and checks, and to forward the same to the treasurer by express, or otherwise, as he may direct.

2023 (125). When treasurer not liable for loss in providing for payment of interest.—The treasurer shall not be liable for any loss or damage sustained by the state in carrying out the provisions of the four preceding sections, which does not result from any fault or negligence on his part.

2024 (119) (106) (106). Custodian of state bonds redeemed, and duties in reference to them.—The treasurer is the custodian of all redeemed bonds and paid coupons of the state, which must be canceled; and he must register them in a book kept for that purpose, in such manner as to show a full and complete identification by date, number, amount, rate of interest, time and place of payment, and by whom issued, and such registry must be carefully preserved; and all bonds of the state, redeemed or paid, must be canceled and filed in the office of the treasurer.

2025. Must record paid and canceled coupons.—The treasurer must enter, in suitable books kept for that purpose, a record of all paid and canceled coupons of the coupon bonds called "Class A," "Class B" and "Class C," and all the six per cent. bonds, and all the coupon bonds which the state may hereafter issue, such record to be made as soon as practicable after such payment and cancellation. Feb. 28, 1887, p. 104.

2026. When duplicate of lost or destroyed registered state bond may issue.—Whenever it shall be made to appear to the governor, auditor and treasurer, by clear and satisfactory evidence, that any duly registered bond of the State of Alabama bearing interest has been lost or destroyed so that the same is not held by any person as his property, they shall issue a duplicate of such registered bond, in like amount, bearing like interest and executed and marked in like manner as the bond so proved to have been lost or destroyed. But the owner of such lost or destroyed bond shall first execute a penal bond in double the amount of such lost or destroyed bond and the interest which would thereafter accrue thereon, with two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the governor, payable to the State of Alabama, with condition to indemnify and save harmless the state from any claim because of such lost or destroyed bond. Such penal bond shall be filed and kept in the office of the treasurer, and a copy thereof, duly certified by the treasurer, is admissible in evidence in any court. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1044.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

2027 (126) (108) (107) (71). His bond.—The attorney-general, before entering upon the duties of his office, must give bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and, upon requisition of the governor, must give additional bond whenever the public interest demands. His bond must be approved by the governor, and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and filed in the office of the auditor.

1. He must give his opinion in writing, or otherwise, on any question of law connected with the interests of the state, or with the duties of any of the departments, when required by the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, superintendent of education, commissioner of agriculture, examiner of public accounts, president of the convict bureau, state health officer, or railroad commissioners, in writing to do so; and he shall also give his opinion to the chairman of the judiciary committee of either house, when required, upon any matter under the consideration of the committee.

2. He must, on the application of the governor, prepare all contracts and writings in relation to any matter in which the state is interested.

3. He must attend, on the part of the state, to all criminal cases pending in the supreme court, and to all civil suits in which the state is a party in the same court. He shall also attend to all causes other than criminal that may be pending in the courts of Montgomery county, in which the state may be in any manner concerned; and when required to do so by the governor, in writing, shall appear in the courts of other states, or of the United States, in any cause in which the state may be interested in the result.

Ex parte State, Ala. (21 So. 210).

4. He must superintend the collection of all notes for school lands which may be turned over to him by the superintendent of education; and for this purpose may appoint agents in different parts of the state.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 852.

5. He must, in the month of October of each even-numbered year, make to the governor a report of the business of his office for the two years next preceding, with such suggestions tending to the suppression of crime and the improvement of the criminal administration as he may deem proper. Such report shall also contain a statement of the number of criminal cases disposed of in the entire state for the past two years, as shown by reports of solicitors; and, taking each character of cases separately, it shall show the number disposed of in each judicial circuit, and in each city or criminal court or other court or territory having a separate solicitor, the number of convictions, the number of acquittals, the number of nolle prosequies entered, the number of cases which were abated or otherwise disposed of; the number of sentences to death, the number of sentences to the penitentiary, the number of other sentences including fines imposed, and the totals under each head above mentioned. Such report may also contain such opinions of the attorney-general as may be deemed of public interest; and such report shall, when printed, be transmitted by the governor to the general assembly.

6. He shall keep and preserve, with proper indexes thereto, press copies of all his official opinions and correspondence.

7. He shall keep, in a well-bound book with proper index thereto, a docket of all civil suits and claims in which the state is in any manner concerned and to which he is required to give attention, showing the names and address of the parties, the nature and amount of the suit or claim, when and in what court suit was brought, the steps taken therein and the final determination and result thereof; and, as to claims for collection, showing, also, when and from whom the claim was received by him, the name and address of any agent or attorney to whom sent for collection and the date thereof, and, in all cases, the amount and date of each collection, the amount of commissions or other expenses deducted, if any, the net amount collected, when and to whom paid over and the receipt of the proper officer therefor.

2029. May institute and prosecute civil actions for the state. The attorney-general is authorized to institute and prosecute, in the name of the state, all suits and other proceedings at law or in equity, requisite or necessary to protect the rights and interests of the state.

2030. May appoint clerk.—The attorney-general may appoint one clerk in his office and remove him at pleasure. The salary of such clerk is six hundred dollars per annum, payable as the salaries of other officers are paid.

2031 (128) (110) (109) (73). His salary.—The salary of the attorney-general is twenty-five hundred dollars per annum. Dec. 8, 1890, p. 51, §1.

2032. Fees and commissions to be paid into state treasury. Ib. §2. All fees and commissions to which the attorney-general is entitled by law, shall, when collected, be paid into the state treasury.

2042 (2516) (2829). Record, receipt for, and copy of declaration. Such declarations of claims of exemptions shall be recorded in a separate book, kept for that purpose, and the judge of probate, on request, shall give a receipt therefor, and shall furnish a certified copy thereof, when requested, on payment of lawful fees therefor.

A certified transcript, or the record-book itself admissible in evidence. Weis v. Levy, 69 Ala. 209; Stevenson v. Moody, 85 Ala. 33; Cofer v. Scroggins, 98 Ala. 342.

2045 (2519) (2830). Effect of filing claim as to levy on property therein embraced.—After such declaration of claim has been filed for record, the property therein embraced shall not be subject to levy, unless there is indorsed on the process the fact that there has been a waiver of exemption as to the kind of property on which the levy is sought to be made, or the claim is contested.

2046 (2520) (2830). How contest of such claim instituted.—A plaintiff, in person, or by his agent or attorney, may contest a claim of exemption after a declaration thereof has been filed, by making and filing with the officer holding the process an affidavit that, in his belief, either (1) the claim is invalid entirely, or (2) it is invalid in part, or is excessive, specifying wherein such invalidity or excess consists, and if excessive, also specifying the property alleged to be in excess, to be, in all cases, the last named in the claim; and, if the claim is of personal property, he must also deliver to the officer a bond in double the value of the property sought to be levied on, with sureties to be approved by the officer, payable to the defendant claiming the exemption, and conditioned that if the plaintiff fails in the contest, he will pay the defendant all such costs and damages as he may sustain by reason of the wrongful institution of the contest; and thereupon the officer shall proceed to make a levy, and, within three days thereafter, shall notify the defendant in writing of the same.

No bond required of plaintiff to obtain levy on property of defendant not theretofore claimed as exempt.—Ex parte Redd, 73 Ala. 548. But if valid claim has been made and filed in probate office, affidavit and bond essential unless waiver indorsed on process.—Clark v. Spencer, 75 Ala. 49; Bledsoe v. Gary, 95 Ala. 70; Totten v. Sale, 72 Ala. 488. Sheriff has not right to disregard claim.—Kennedy v. Smith, 99 Ala. 83; Milligan v. Cox, 108 Ala. 497. Unless the writ shows that the claim is invalid.—Ex parte Barnes, 84 Ala. 540; Bryan v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 569. Contestation of a claim is a suit in which plaintiff in execution is the actor.—McCrary v. Chase, 71 Ala. 540. The onus is on the plaintiff.—Kolsky v. Smith, 99 Ala. 83. Insufficiency of claim waived if affidavit of contest filed without objection.—Young v. Hubbard, 102 Ala. 373.

2047 (2521) (2834). Claim and contest when no declaration filed; notice of claim; effect of failure to contest.—The right of homestead or other exemption shall not be waived or lost by a failure, before the levy of process, to file for record a declaration claiming the same; but the defendant, in person, or by his agent or attorney, may, at any time after the levy and prior to a sale, file with the officer making the levy a claim in writing, verified by oath, to such property, or any part thereof, as exempt, and if of a part, describing the same, and, within three days thereafter, such officer must give to the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, written notice of the filing of the claim; and thereupon the plaintiff, in person, or by his agent or attorney, may contest the claim in the mode provided in the last preceding section, except that no bond need be executed; and on the institution of such contest, the officer shall, within three days thereafter, give the defendant written notice of the same. But if the plaintiff does not institute such contest within ten days after notice of the claim, the levy shall be discharged, and the property, if personal, be returned to the defendant, and the plaintiff shall be taxed with the costs of making the levy and keeping the property; but when the levy has been made on personal property the defendant must file with his claim the statement of personal property, choses in action and money, with the value and location thereof, as required by the provisions of section 2051 (2525).

Defendant claiming exemption must affirmatively show the right thereto. Ely v. Blacker, 112 Ala. 311. The contestation of claim is essentially a suit in which plaintiff in execution is actor.—McCrary v. Chase, 71 Ala. 540.

Towns, 90 Ala. 479. Must be contested ten days after notice or right to contest lost.—Block v. Bragg, 68 Ala. 291; Block v. George, 70 Ala. 409. Though indemnity given, sheriff cannot sell, if plaintiff, after notice, fails to contest.—Kennedy v. Smith, 99 Ala. 83. Claim filed with officer after levy is insufficient unless accompanied with proper inventory sworn to and filed.—Ex parte Redd, 73 Ala. 548; Tonsmere v. Buckland, 88 Ala. 312. If inventory insufficient defect in claim is waived if plaintiff in writing demand a complete inventory.—Trager v. Feibleman, 95 Ala. 60. What an insufficient inventory.—Tonsmere v. Buckland, 88 Ala. 312.

2048 (2522) (2836). When, on contest, property delivered to defendant.—When any contest of a claim of exemption to personal property has been instituted, the defendant claiming the exemption, may, within five days after service of notice of the contest, deliver to the officer making the levy a bond in double the amount of the value of the property, to be fixed by, and with sureties to be approved by the officer, payable to the plaintiff and conditioned that if the defendant is cast in the contest he will, within thirty days thereafter, deliver the property to such officer, and will pay all costs and damages that may result from its detention, and thereupon the property shall be delivered to the defendant.

Ex parte Harrison, 75 Ala. 543; Ex parte Barnes, 84 Ala. 540.

2049 (2523) (2836). When property delivered to plaintiff; when to defendant without bond.—If the defendant fails to deliver such bond within the five days allowed him, and the plaintiff shall, within five days thereafter, deliver to the officer a bond in the amount and with the sureties provided in the preceding section, conditioned that if the plaintiff is cast in the contest, he will, within thirty days thereafter, deliver the property to the defendant, and pay all costs and damages that may result from the detention thereof, the property shall be delivered to the plaintiff; but if the plaintiff fails to deliver such bond within the five days allowed, the property must be returned to the defendant without bond.

Ex parte Haralson, 75 Ala. 543.

2050 (2524) (2836). On contest, papers returned to court.—In case of such contest, the officer making the levy must, within fifteen days after the institution of the contest, return the process and other papers to the court to which the process is returnable, accompanied with a full statement of the facts.

Levy v. Moog, 69 Ala. 63.

process is returned, the defendant claiming the exemption shall, within the first three days of the term, file a full and complete inventory, duly verified by oath, of all his personal property, except the wearing-apparel, portraits, pictures and books specifically exempted from levy and sale, with the value and location of each item of such property, and of all money belonging to him, whether in his possession or held by others for him, and of all debts and choses in action belonging to him, or in which he is beneficially interested, with the value of each of them; and if such inventory is not filed within the time prescribed, the plaintiff shall not be required to tender an issue on the claim, but the court must render judgment by default against the defendant, unless good and sufficient cause be shown to the contrary.

Ex parte Redd, 73 Ala. 548; Davis v. Hays, 89 Ala. 563; Tonsmere v. Buckland, 88 Ala. 312; Buckland v. Tonsmere, 90 Ala. 503; Mitchell v. Corbin, 91 Ala. 599; Decatur Mercantile Co. v. Deford, 93 Ala. 347; Trager v. Feibleman, 95 Ala. 60; Bledsoe v. Gary, 95 Ala. 70; Young v. Hubbard, 102 Ala. 373; Roden v. Brown, 103 Ala. 324; Ely v. Blacker, 112 Ala. 311.

2052 (2526) (2838). Issues in, and trial of contest; exceptions and appeal.—The contest of any claim of exemption shall stand for trial at the first term of the court after the return of the process, when, if both parties appear, an issue or issues shall be formed under the direction of the court, as to whether the property in contest, or any and what part of it, is exempt as claimed; and such issue or issues, if in the circuit court, or court of like jurisdiction, or probate court, or before a justice of the peace, shall be tried as other cases therein are tried, or if in the chancery court, as the chancellor may direct; and in all cases, the party in whose favor the levy was made shall be deemed the plaintiff, upon whom shall rest the burden of proof, and both parties shall be entitled to the same right of objection, exception and of appeal, as in other cases. No contest, however, of a homestead exemption shall be had before a justice of the peace; but when such contest is founded on the levy of process returnable before such officer, the same, with all the papers, shall be returned to the next term of the circuit court, or other court having like jurisdiction, and there tried as other contests are tried in such court.

Sherry v. Brown, 66 Ala. 51; Levy v. Moog, 69 Ala. 63; Beckert v. Whitlock, 83 Ala. 123; Allen v. Towns, 90 Ala. 479; Kelly v. Edmundson, 105 Ala. 619; Moore v. Scharf, 110 Ala. 518. On contest, valuation ascertained at time of trial.—Moore v. Scharf, 110 Ala. 518.

erty in contest is found exempt, judgment must be rendered against him for the costs of the levy and contest, and releasing the property from the levy; but if the defendant fails to appear in support of his claim of exemption, or if on the trial all the property is found liable to the process, judgment must be rendered against him for costs, and condemning the property to sale.

Beckert v. Whitlock, 83 Ala. 123; Allen v. Towns, 90 Ala. 479; Kolsky v. Loveman, 97 Ala. 543.

2057 (2531) (2839). Failure to include property in inventory, or to deliver property not claimed as exempt.—When, on a contest of a claim of exemption to personal property, an inventory has been filed by the defendant, an issue may be tendered by the plaintiff that the defendant has other personal property subject to levy and sale under the process, not embraced in the inventory, or that the inventory discloses that the defendant has other personal property subject to levy and sale under the process, not embraced in the claim of exemption, which he has failed to deliver to the officer levying the process; and if such issue is determined in favor of the plaintiff, the value of such property shall be ascertained and estimated in ascertaining the amount of the exemption to which the defendant is entitled, and be deducted from his claim in contest, as if such property had been selected by him as part of his exemption.

Davis v. Hays, 89 Ala. 563; Trager v. Feibleman, 95 Ala. 60; Pinkus v. Bamberger, 99 Ala. 266.

2058 (2532) (2836). When bond given, value of property and damages assessed.—When bond has been executed by the plaintiff or defendant for the forthcoming of the property in contest, the value of the property and the damages resulting from its detention must be assessed by the court or jury trying the contest; and if the unsuccessful party fails for twenty days after judgment to deliver the property and pay the damages, as required by the condition of the bond, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to make due return of that fact; and upon such return being made, the bond shall have the force and effect of a judgment, and execution may issue thereon, against the obligors on the bond for the value of the property and the damages assessed, or either, and costs.

Claim of exemption against garnishment must be filed in court where proceedings pending.—Todd v. McCravey, 77 Ala. 468; Tonsmere v. Buckland, 88 Ala. 312; Courie v. Goodwin, 89 Ala. 569. Must file inventory prescribed in section 2051 (2525).—Tonsmere v. Buckland, 88 Ala. 312; Buckland v. Tonsmere, 90 Ala. 503; Decatur Mercantile Co. v. Deford, 93 Ala. 347; Young v. Hubbard, 102 Ala. 373; Roden v. Brown, 103 Ala. 324. When wages claimed as exempt, inventory not necessary.—Courie v. Goodwin, 89 Ala. 569. May be contested as prescribed in section 2047 (2521).—Tonsmere v. Buckland, 88 Ala. 312. Right lost if does not precede condemnation.—Randolph v. Little, 62 Ala. 396, (overruling Webb v. Edwards, 46 Ala. 16); Craft v. L. & N. R. Co., 93 Ala. 22; White v. Hobart, 90 Ala. 368; Toenes v. Moog, 78 Ala. 558; Tonsmere v. Buckland, 88 Ala. 312.

2060 (2534) (2832). Homestead exemption; proceedings on contest when it exceeds value or area allowed.—If, on the trial of a contest of a claim of homestead exemption, it is found that the homestead, as claimed, exceeds two thousand dollars in value, or one hundred and sixty acres in area, the court shall forthwith issue an order to the sheriff, returnable to the next term thereafter, commanding him to summon three disinterested householders or freeholders of the county in which the homestead is situated, who, after having been sworn by the sheriff, or some officer authorized to administer oaths, to faithfully discharge their duty, shall, if practicable, set off and allot, by metes and bounds, the homestead exempt to the defendant from levy and sale under the process, having regard both to the quality and value of the real estate, and to the selection of the defendant, and taking land most contiguous to the dwelling, and including such dwelling and appurtenances; and the commissioners, as soon as practicable, shall make return of the homestead so allotted and set off by them, in writing subscribed by them, to the sheriff, who shall make due return thereof to the court issuing the order; and the homestead thus allotted and set off shall be released from the levy, and the residue of the land sold under the order of the court, unless for good cause shown, the courts shall set aside the commissioners' return, in which event, another order for summoning commissioners shall be issued. If the commissioners summoned, or any of them, shall fail to act, the sheriff shall summon others to fill their places.

Jaffrey v. McGough, 88 Ala. 648; Hardy v. Sulzbacher, 62 Ala. 44; Clark v. Spencer, 75 Ala. 49; Keel v. Larkin, 72 Ala. 493; Peevy v. Cabaniss, 70 Ala. 253; Jones v. DeGraffenreid, 60 Ala. 145; Pomroy v. Bunting, 42 Ala. 250; Moses v. McClain, 82 Ala. 370.

2061 (2535) (2832). Proceedings in such case when area cannot be reduced.—If the homestead, after having been reduced to its lowest practicable area, still exceeds in value two thousand dollars, thereby rendering it impracticable to allot and set it off under the preceding section, the commissioners shall so make return to the sheriff, who shall thereupon proceed, as in other cases, to advertise and offer the same for sale under the process; and if at the sale he receives a bid therefor exceeding two thousand dollars, he shall sell the same, and of the purchase-money two thousand dollars shall be paid to the defendant, or into court for him, in lieu of the homestead, and the excess only shall be applied to the satisfaction of the process; but, if no bid in excess of two thousand dollars shall be received, the sheriff shall discharge the levy at the plaintiff's cost, and return the process; and thereafter no process issued to enforce the plaintiff's demand shall be levied on such homestead, so long as it shall continue a homestead, except on the written demand of the plaintiff, accompanied by an offer in writing to purchase the same for an amount exceeding two thousand dollars, which offer must state the amount, and, at the election of the defendant, shall be binding on the plaintiff.

See citations to preceding section.

2062 (2536) (2832). Disposition of purchase-money in lieu of homestead, when defendant dies.—When a sale is made under the preceding section, and the defendant dies before receiving the two thousand dollars standing in lieu of the homestead, the same shall be paid to his personal representative, who shall receive and hold it subject to the homestead rights of the defendant's widow and minor child or children, or either, if there be such; but, if there be none such, the personal representative shall first apply the same to the payment of the demand for the enforcement of which the process issued, and the balance he shall administer as personal assets of the estate.

Kennedy v. First Nat. Bank, 107 Ala. 170. See citations to section 2060 (2534).

2063 (2537) (2837). When wife or minor child may interpose claim; revivor.—If a husband or father, entitled to a homestead or other exemption, absconds, or abandons his family, or leaves the state, or is insane, or is confined under a charge or conviction for felony or misdemeanor, or is under any other disability or inability, the wife, or if there is no wife, the minor child or children, residents of this state, with the intention so to continue, shall be entitled to interpose any and all claims of homestead or other exemption which the husband or father could have interposed; but the right to such exemptions shall continue only so long as the wife and minor child or children, or either, shall remain bona fide residents of this state. In the event of the death of the husband or father pending any contest of a claim of homestead, or other exemption, such contest may be revived in the name of the widow, if there be one, or if there be none, in the name of the minor child or children, if there be such; but if neither widow nor minor shild is left surviving, the claim of exemption shall abate, and the property ordered sold for the satisfaction of the process.

Cofer v. Scroggins, 98 Ala. 342. See citations to section 2033 (2507).

2064 (2538) (2832). When homestead may be sold on bill in equity.—When the homestead, after being reduced to the lowest practicable area, exceeds two thousand dollars in value, and the husband has aliened the same by deed, mortgage, or other conveyance, without the voluntary signature and assent of the wife, shown and acknowledged as required by law, the husband, or if he fails to act, the wife, or if there is no wife, or she fails to act, his minor child or children may, by bill in equity, have the land sold, and the homestead interest separated from that of the alienee.

Thompson v. Sheppard, 85 Ala. 611.

2065 (2539) (2843). When homestead not abandoned by leasing or temporary leaving.—When a declaration of claim to a homestead exemption has been filed in the office of the judge of probate, leaving the homestead temporarily, or a leasing of the same shall not operate an abandonment thereof, or render it subject to levy and sale; but the right thereto shall remain the same as if the actual occupancy thereof had continued.

2066 (2540) (2833). When no action lies against officer levying process on exempt property.—If no declaration of claim of exemption has been filed in the office of the judge of probate, or if so filed, and the same is contested, no action shall lie against the officer levying the process, on the ground that the property levied on is exempt.

Lien not impaired.—Sims v. Eslava, 74 Ala. 594. When sale set aside.—Allen v. Towns, 90 Ala. 479.

2068 (2542) (2844). By what law right governed; how ascertained, etc.—The right of homestead or other exemption shall be governed by the law of force when the debt or demand was created; but the mode and remedy for asserting, ascertaining, contesting and determining claims thereto shall be as prescribed in this chapter.

EXEMPTIONS FROM ADMINISTRATION AND THE PAYMENT OF DEBTS.

2069 (2543) (2821, 2827). Homestead exemption in favor of widow and minor children.—The homestead of any resident of this state, leaving surviving him at his death a widow and minor child or children, or either, with the improvements and appurtenances, not exceeding in value two thousand dollars, and in area one hundred and sixty acres, shall be exempt from administration and the payment of debts contracted after the twenty-third day of April, 1873, in favor of such widow and minor child or children, or either, in any event, during the life of the widow, or the minority of the child or children, whichever may last terminate; and the rents and profits of such homestead, if there be a widow and no minor child, shall enure to her benefit during her life; or if there be a minor child or children, and no widow, then to the benefit of such child or children during minority; or if there be both widow and minor child or children, then to their equal benefit during the life of the widow and the minority of the child or children. Such homestead may be retained by the widow or minor child or children, until it is ascertained whether the estate is solvent or insolvent; and if the estate is insolvent, it shall vest in them absolutely.

payment of debts contracted after the twenty-third day of April, 1873, all the wearing-apparel of the decedent, and of the widow and minor children, all yarn and cloth on hand intended for their use and consumption, all books kept for use in the family, all family portraits and pictures, all grain, stores and groceries on hand, necessary for the support of the family for twelve months after the decedent's death, and all bedding and household and kitchen furniture, necessary for the use and comfort of the family; to be selected by the widow, if there be one, or if there be no widow, or she fails to act, by the guardian of the minor child or children.

2075 (2547) (2826). Delivery of personalty exempt.—The personal property exempted under this article shall be delivered to the widow, if there be one, to be by her employed or used in maintenance of herself and minor children; or if there be no widow, then to the guardian of the minor children, to be by him employed or used in the maintenance of his wards.

Davenport v. Brooks, 92 Ala. 627.

2076 (2564). Use, etc., of such property before exemptions set apart; right to sue and defend.—Before grant of administration, and before the exempt property is set apart, the right of the widow and minor child or children, or either, to the use and benefit of such property shall be the same as if it had been set apart as exempt; and suits respecting the same may be maintained or defended by the widow, or if there is no widow, by the minor child or children, as fully, and to the same extent as if such property had been set apart as exempt from administration.

SETTING APART EXEMPTIONS TO WIDOW AND MINOR CHILDREN.

2078 (2548) (2825). Commission to set apart personal property exempt.—When a decedent, who was at the time of his death a resident of this state, leaves surviving him a widow and minor child or children, or either, who are bona fide residents of this state, the probate court, at the time of appointing appraisers of the estate, shall issue a commission to them, stating the names of the widow and minor child or children, or either, as the case may be, and the nature and extent of the personal property exempt in their favor, and directing the appraisers to set apart the same.

Thompson v. Thompson, 91 Ala. 591.

2079 (2549). Duty of appraisers to set same apart; return. The appraisers, as early as practicable, shall set apart the personal property exempt under the provisions of section 2072 (2545) having regard, as far as consistent with their duties, to the selection made by the widow, or the guardian of the minor child or children, if such selection is made; and they shall also set apart personal property to the amount of one thousand dollars in value, exempt under the provisions of section 2073 (2546) estimating it at its appraised value, and permitting the widow, or if there is no widow, or she fails to act, the guardian of the minor child or children, to select the same; and within ten days thereafter, the appraisers shall return, with the inventory and appraisement, a report of the property so set apart, showing each item thereof, and its appraised value.

Ex parte Reavis, 50 Ala. 210; Thompson v. Thompson, 51 Ala. 493; David v. David, 56 Ala. 49; Leslie v. Tucker, 57 Ala. 483; Darden v. Reese, 62 Ala. 311; Tucker v. Henderson, 63 Ala. 280; Hunter v. Hall, 76 Ala. 546; Little v. McPherson, 76 Ala. 552.

2080 (2550). Appraisement of homestead exemption.—The appraisers shall also appraise the homestead of the decedent, occupied by him at the time of his death, or to which he was then entitled, and they shall report the appraisement thereof when the inventory and appraisement of the personal property are returned, with a full and accurate description of the same; and, if it is a part of a tract of land exceeding in area one hundred and sixty acres, they shall also report that fact.

2081 (2551). Proceedings to set apart homestead, when it exceeds value or area allowed.—When it appears from the report of the appraisers that the homestead exceeds in value two thousand dollars, or in area one hundred and sixty acres, the probate court shall forthwith appoint three commissioners, who shall, as soon as practicable, not exceeding thirty days after their appointment, set off and allot, by metes and bounds, the homestead exempt, having regard to both the quality and value of the real estate, and to the selection of the widow, or, if there is no widow, or she fails to act, of the guardian of the minor child or children, if there is such guardian, and including the dwelling and appurtenances; and, within ten days thereafter, the commissioners shall return to the court in writing the homestead set off and allotted by them. If the homestead, after being reduced to its lowest practicable area, still exceeds two thousand dollars in value, thereby rendering it impracticable to allot and set it off, the commissioners shall report that fact to the court.

2082 (2552). Proceedings on failure of appraisers to set apart exemptions, and to appraise homestead.—If, for more than twenty days after the grant of administration, the appraisers should fail to set apart the personal property exempt in favor of the widow and minor child or children, or either, or to appraise the homestead, or to make the report in reference to the homestead hereinbefore required, then, upon the written application of the widow, or of the guardian of the minor child or children, the probate court shall appoint three commissioners, who shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, not exceeding thirty days, set apart the personal property exempt and appraise the homestead in the manner required of the appraisers; and, if practicable, they shall also allot and set off the homestead exemption in the manner provided in the preceding section; and, within ten days thereafter, they shall report to the court in writing the personal property set apart, with the value of each item thereof, and the homestead allotted and set off, with a full and accurate description of the same. If the homestead, after being reduced to its lowest practicable area, still exceeds two thousand dollars in value, thereby rendering it impracticable to allot and set it off, the commissioners shall report that fact.

Thompson v. Thompson, 91 Ala. 591; Dossey v. Pitman, 81 Ala. 381. Notice. See Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504; Wilburn v. McCalley, 63 Ala. 436; Keel v. Larkin, 72 Ala. 493.

2083 (2553). Exemption in lieu of homestead; how claimed and set apart.—When an exemption of real estate in lieu of homestead is claimed under section 2070 (2544), a petition in writing, duly verified by oath, must be filed by or on behalf of the widow and minor child, or children, or either, as the case may be, in the probate court having jurisdiction of the administration of the estate, setting forth the facts authorizing such exemption, describing the real estate out of which the exemption is claimed, and stating its value; and thereupon the court shall appoint three commissioners, who shall set off and allot the same by metes and bounds; and within ten days thereafter they shall make a written report to the court of the exemption set off and allotted by them.

2084 (2554) (2841). Exceptions to report of homestead or other exemption; day fixed for hearing, and notice thereof.—When any homestead or other exemption has been allotted or set apart by the appraisers, or by commissioners, the personal representative, widow, minor child or children, or other person in interest, feeling aggrieved, may, within thirty days after the making of the report, file written exceptions thereto, stating the grounds of such exceptions; and thereupon the court must fix a day for the hearing of the exceptions, of which ten days' notice must be given by personal service, if the adverse parties reside in the state, or if they reside out of the state, by publication in some newspaper published in the county. If the exceptions are filed by the widow and minor child or children, or either, such notice must be served on the personal representative; but if filed by the personal representative, or other person, the notice must be served on the widow, if there be one, or if not, and the minor children are over the age of fourteen years, on them, but if they are under the age of fourteen years, then on their guardian, or if there be none, on the person having the charge or custody of them; and if there is no guardian, the court must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent such minor child or children.

Dossey v. Pitman, 81 Ala. 381.

2085 (2555). How issue made up and tried.—On the day fixed for the hearing of such exceptions, an issue shall be made up under the direction of the court, and the same shall be tried as other issues in that court are tried, the party excepting being the plaintiff, on whom shall rest the burden of proof; and on the hearing the court may confirm or set aside the report, as the right may appear.

2086 (2556). Proceedings when exemption of personalty excessive or insufficient.—But if the exceptions relate to the exemption of personal property, and are based on the ground that it is excessive or insufficient, the court, if the exceptions are sustained, must not set aside the report, but shall ascertain the amount of such excess or insufficiency, and, if excessive, shall order the restoration to the personal representative of property sufficient in value to cure the excess, describing the same, and enforce such order by a writ of restitution; but, if insufficient, the court shall order the personal representative to deliver to the party or parties thereto entitled property sufficient to make up the deficiency; and the personal representative shall forthwith obey such order, and report to the court the property so delivered by him and its value.

2087 (2557). Proceedings when report set aside.—If the report is set aside, the court must appoint three commissioners, who shall allot and set apart such exemptions, and report the same to the court under the provisions of this article, when the same proceedings may be had as on the report first made; and so on until the exemptions are finally allowed.

2088 (2558). Costs on exceptions; against whom awarded.—If the exceptions are filed by the widow, or on behalf of the minor child or children, and are not sustained, the costs shall be taxed against the widow or the next friend of the child or children, or against both, if they joined in the exceptions; and in all other cases against the unsuccessful party.

2090 (2560). Report of appraisers as to homestead; exceptions and proceedings.—When the report of the appraisers shows that the homestead does not exceed in value two thousand dollars, or in area one hundred and sixty acres, exceptions may be filed thereto by the personal representative or other person in adverse interest; and if such exceptions are filed, proceedings may be had thereon, as in case of a report, allotting or setting apart the homestead.

Dossey v. Pitman, 81 Ala. 381.

2091 (2561). Proceedings when no exceptions are filed.—If no exceptions are filed to the report of the appraisers under the provisions of the preceding section, or to the report allotting or setting apart any homestead or other exemption, within the time allowed for filing such exceptions, a decree must be entered confirming the report, and allowing the exemption as reported.

2092. When widow and minors retain possession of homestead incapable of allotment.—When the homestead, after being reduced to its lowest practicable area, still exceeds two thousand dollars in value, and no exemption in lieu of homestead has been obtained, the widow and minor child or children, or either, may retain the possession of the homestead as thus reduced, free from the payment of rent, until the same shall be sold, or there is a division of the lands of the decedent; and, in the event of a sale of such homestead in the course of administration, it shall be sold separately from the other lands of the decedent, if there be other.

2094. When widow and minors purchasers, credit of two thousand dollars allowed on bid; conveyance.—When the purchase of such homestead is by or on behalf of the persons entitled to homestead exemption, the sum of two thousand dollars need not be actually paid to the representative, but, if the sale is confirmed, may be credited on the bid; and on the payment of the residue of such bid, a proper conveyance must be made to them as such purchasers, vesting the title in the persons entitled to the exemption, share and share alike.

sale, no bid in excess of two thousand dollars is received, the representative must report that fact to the court; and thereupon the court must make an order directing the report to lie over thirty days, during which time any person interested in the sale may file written exceptions attacking the fairness of the sale, stating the grounds of such exceptions; and upon the filing of such exceptions a day must be appointed to hear the same and ten days' notice thereof given and other proceedings had as provided in this article for the hearing of exceptions to a report allotting homestead, so far as such provisions are applicable.

2096. If exceptions sustained, resale ordered; otherwise, homestead set apart by order of court.—If, on the hearing of such exceptions, the court is satisfied from the evidence that the failure to obtain a bid of more than two thousand dollars was due to a want of fairness in the conduct of the sale, or to fraud or collusion thereat, an order must be made directing a resale of such homestead; but if no exceptions are filed and sustained to such report, the court must make an order revoking the order of sale of the homestead and setting apart such homestead to the widow and minor child or children, or either, as the case may be.

Feb. 12, 1887, p. 112.

Bell v. Hall, 76 Ala. 546; James v. Clark, 89 Ala. 606; Gamble v. Kellum, 97 Ala. 677; DeArmond v. Whitaker, 99 Ala. 252; Smith v. Boutwell, 101 Ala. 373.

2098 (2563). If property does not exceed exemptions, same set apart.—If such property, real or personal, or both, does not exceed in amount or value the exemptions allowed in such property, the commissioners must set apart the same to the widow and minor child or children, or either, as exempt from administration; and within ten days thereafter, they shall return to the court the inventory and appraisement with a report of their action in the premises.

2099. Exceptions.—Exceptions to such report may be filed, heard and determined as in other cases of exception to reports setting apart exemptions.

2100. Absolute title vests in widow, etc.—If no exceptions are filed and sustained to such report of the commissioners setting apart exemptions, the title to the property so set aside, whether real or personal, vests absolutely in the widow and minor child or children, or either, as the case may be, share and share alike. Dec. 13, 1892, p. 138.

2101. Actual occupancy of homestead by widow and minors not essential to preservation of right.—When homestead exemption has been allotted to the widow and minor child or children, or either, under any of the provisions of this chapter, they shall not be held to have abandoned or forfeited the same by a removal therefrom. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 113.

Not retroactive.—Banks v. Speers, 97 Ala. 560.

2102 (2565). Qualification and oath of commissioners.—Commissioners appointed to allot or set apart the homestead or other exemptions under this chapter must be disinterested householders or freeholders of the county, and, before executing their commission, must be sworn by some officer authorized to administer oaths, or by one of themselves, to faithfully discharge the duties for which they were appointed.

2103 (2566). Fees to commissioners.—Commissioners appointed under any of the provisions of this chapter shall be entitled to compensation for their services, at the rate of two dollars per day during the time they are actually engaged.

ARTICLE 5.

WAIVER OF EXEMPTIONS.

2104 (2567) (2846). Right of waiver declared.—Any person, by an instrument in writing, may waive his right to an exemption in any property exempt from levy and sale under execution or other process.

Exemption a personal privilege and may be waived.—Brown v. Leitch, 60 Ala. 313; Martin v. Lile, 63 Ala. 406; Clark v. Spencer, 75 Ala. 49; Motley v. Jones, 98 Ala. 443. Intention to waive must be clearly expressed.—Knox v. Wilson, 77 Ala. 309. But a technical construction will not be adopted. Lesser v. Scholze, 93 Ala. 338. Note waiving exemptions creates no lien. Craft v. Stoutz, 95 Ala. 245. Waiver good only during life of maker—as against widow and minors.—Wiggins v. Mertins, 111 Ala. 164. Waiver executed in another state; when good here.—Holland v. Bergan, 89 Ala. 622. When not.—Seay v. Palmer, 93 Ala. 381.

2105 (2568) (2847, 2848). Waiver as to personalty; how made. As to personal property, the waiver may be made by a separate instrument in writing, subscribed by the party making the same, or it may be included in any bond, bill of exchange, promissory note, or other written contract executed by him.

In absence of fraud or misrepresentation, party signing instrument containing waiver cannot avoid because not informed of contents.—Goetter v. Pickett, 61 Ala. 387; Pacific Guano Co. v. Anglin, 82 Ala. 492. Instrument waiving "all exemptions" is effectual as to all personalty.—Brown v. Leitch, 60 Ala. 313; Neely v. Henry, 63 Ala. 261; Terrell v. Hurst, 76 Ala. 588; Wagnon v. Keenan, 77 Ala. 519; Agnew v. Walden, 95 Ala. 108. When intended to apply to part only, such part must be specified.—Neely v. Henry, 63 Ala. 261. Waiver in partnership note binds only the partner executing unless authorized by the others.—Terrell v. Hurst, 76 Ala. 588; Reed L. Co. v. Lewis, 94 Ala. 626. But they must controvert the fact of waiver, before judgment.—Hutchison v. Powell, 92 Ala. 619. Investment of money or property in homestead; good as against waiver as to personalty.—Reeves v. Peterman, 109 Ala. 366. Waiver ineffectual as against widow and minor children of deceased maker.—Wiggins v. Mertins, 111 Ala. 164. Waiver note indorsed in blank; waiver not binding on indorser.—Jordan v. Long, 109 Ala. 414.

2106 (2569) (2847, 2848). Waiver as to homestead; how made. As to the homestead, the waiver must be by a separate instrument in writing, subscribed by the party making the same and attested by one witness; and if such party is a married man, such waiver shall not be valid without the voluntary signature and assent of the wife, shown and acknowledged as her signature and assent to conveyances of the homestead are required to be shown and acknowledged. And if such party is a married woman, such waiver shall be executed only in the mode prescribed by section 2528 (2348) for the alienation of her lands.*

Waiver in promissory note, though attested by witness, not valid as to homestead; must be in separate instrument.—Neely v. Henry, 63 Ala. 261; Baker v. Keith, 72 Ala. 121; Terrell v. Hurst, 76 Ala. 588; Wagnon v. Keenan, 77 Ala. 519; Holland v. Bergan, 89 Ala. 622. Waiver of "all homestead exemptions"; when void.—Reed Lumber Co. v. Lewis, 94 Ala. 626.

2107 (2570) (2849). How waiver alleged and proved.—In any suit, at law or in equity, in which a waiver of the right of homestead or other exemption is sought to be enforced, the fact of waiver and its extent must be averred in the complaint, petition, or bill, and by appropriate pleading may be controverted; and if such averment is sustained, the fact of waiver and its extent must be declared in the judgment or decree, and indorsed on the execution or other process issued thereon; and such waiver shall extend to the costs of the suit.

Fact of waiver must be averred in complaint; or, when suit commenced by attachment, indorsed on writ.—Goetter v. Pickett, 61 Ala. 387; Taylor v. Cockrell, 80 Ala. 236; Fears v. Thompson, 82 Ala. 294; Hutchison v. Powell, 92 Ala. 619. When specially controverted, issue must be found in favor of plaintiff, else waiver cannot be incorporated in judgment.—Taylor v. Cockrell, 80 Ala. 236. Presumption in favor of judgment.—Hearn v. State, 62 Ala. 218; Hosea v. Talbert, 65 Ala. 173; Hutchison v. Powell, 92 Ala. 619; Agnew v. Walden, 95 Ala. 108. Waiver lost by failure of judgment to recite fact. Hosea v. Talbert, 65 Ala. 173; Courie v. Goodwin, 89 Ala. 569; Agnew v. Walden, 95 Ala. 108. "And against this judgment, and the execution to be issued thereon, there is no exemption of personal property of the defendant"; when proper judgment-entry.—Brown v. Leitch, 60 Ala. 313; Wagnon v. Keenan, 77 Ala. 519. When fact of waiver controverted and evidence in conflict, jury determines issue.—Slaughter v. First Nat. Bank, 109 Ala. 157.

As amended Dec. 3, 1896, p. 33.

2108 (2571) (2850). Waiver indorsed on attachment; evidence produced or affidavit filed.—When such suit is commenced by attachment, or, in aid thereof, an ancillary attachment is sued out, the officer issuing the writ, on the plaintiff, in person, or by his agent or attorney, producing before him the written evidence of the waiver, or making and filing with him an affidavit that the exemption has been waived, must indorse on the writ the fact of such waiver and the extent thereof.

In suit commenced by attachment, fact of waiver must be indorsed on writ.—Fears v. Thompson, 82 Ala. 294; Hutchison v. Powell, 92 Ala. 619. But if only averred in complaint, to which defendant pleads without objection, failure to indorse writ is waived.—Hutchison v. Powell, Ib. In absence of averment, waiver clause excluded as evidence, or recital excluded from judgment entry.—Golden v. Conner, 89 Ala. 598.

2109 (2572). Proceedings in attachment, on claim of exemptions, when waiver not sustained.—When such attachment is levied on property embraced in a declaration of claim of exemption which has been filed for record, or subsequent to the levy a claim to such property as exempt is interposed, if, on the trial, the averment of waiver is not sustained, the levy shall be discharged and the property returned to the defendant, unless the plaintiff, within five days after judgment, shall contest the claim; and if he should desire to contest, such contest may be instituted and prosecuted as in other cases.

2110 (1364) (1586) (1282) (1099). Lawful fence defined.—All inclosures and fences must be made at least five feet high, and if made of rails, the rails not more than four inches apart from the ground to the height of every two feet, or, if made of palings, the palings not more than three inches apart, or if made with a ditch, such ditch must be four feet wide at the top, and the fence, of whatever material composed, at least five feet high from the bottom of the ditch, and three feet high from the top of the bank, and so close as to prevent stock of any kind from getting through; but a rail fence five feet high, with the rails not more than eighteen inches apart from the ground to the height of every three feet, shall be a lawful fence so far as cattle, horses and mules are concerned.

2111. Fence made of three or more wires lawful as to mules, horses and cattle.—A fence made of three or more wires securely fastened to trees or posts not more than eight feet apart, the wires being not more than fifteen inches apart and the top wire at least four feet from the ground, is a lawful fence so far as concerns mules, horses and cattle. Feb. 27, 1889, p. 63 §1.

2112. Fence made of seven or more wires lawful as to all live stock.—A fence made of seven or more wires securely fastened to trees or posts not more than eight feet apart, the first four wires being of four-inch barb and not over four inches apart, commencing with first wire four inches from the ground, the fifth wire not over six inches from the fourth, the sixth wire not over eight inches from the fifth and the seventh wire fifteen inches from the sixth, is a lawful fence as against all stock whatsoever. Ib. §2.

lawful one; penalty for injury to cattle.—If any trespass or damage is done by any animal breaking into lands not inclosed by a lawful fence as defined in this chapter, the owner is not liable therefor; and if any person injures or destroys any such animal, he is liable to the owner for five times the amount of injury done, to be recovered before any court of competent jurisdiction.

Smith v. Causey, 22 Ala. 568; s. c., 28 Ala. 655; Tankersly v. Wedgworth, 22 Ala. 677; Jean v. Sandiford, 39 Ala. 317; Joiner v. Winston, 68 Ala. 129; McKenzie v. Gibson, 73 Ala. 204; Wilhite v. Speakman, 79 Ala. 400; Hurd v. Lacy, 93 Ala. 427; Shehane v. Bailey, 110 Ala. 308.

2114 (1366) (1588) (1284) (1101). Penalty for setting stakes, pits, etc.—If any person, not having a fence as herein prescribed, sets in his inclosure any stakes, pits, poison, or anything which may injure or kill any animal or stock, such person forfeits fifty dollars for every such act to any person suing for the same; and any stakes, pits, or poison on any such lands are presumptive evidence that the same were set by the person in charge of such land.

Feb. 26, 1887, p. 67.

2115 (1367) (1589) (1285) (1102). Damages for trespass by stock.—If any stock trespass upon any lands inclosed as herein prescribed, or embraced in a district in which such stock is by law prohibited from running at large, the owner of such stock must pay the damages; and for each trespass after the first, double damages.

2116 (1368) (1590) (1286) (1103). Remedy.—Upon complaint made before any justice of the precinct, he must immediately issue an order in writing to three disinterested householders of the neighborhood, not related to either of the parties, reciting the complaint, and directing them to examine the fence, ascertain its condition, and report the same in writing to the justice; and such report is evidence of the condition of the fence.

2119 (1371) (1593) (1289) (1106). Assessment of value of partition fence.—If the parties cannot agree, on application by either to a justice of the precinct in which such fence is, such justice must issue an order to three disinterested freeholders of such precinct, not related to either of the parties, to examine such fence, and to ascertain the amount to be paid to the owner erecting the same; and such freeholders, on a day to be by them appointed, of which both parties must have notice, must examine such fence and report to the justice the proportionate amount to be paid to the person erecting the fence; and if such amount is not paid within ten days after such report, the justice must issue execution therefor, with costs, as provided in the following section, to be collected and returned as other executions.

2121 (1373) (1595) (1291) (1108). Oath of viewers.—The fence-viewers, before proceeding to act, must take an oath, which may be administered by one to the other, to discharge their duties fairly and impartially.

2122 (1374) (1596). Where adjacent owners agree to keep up separate parts of partition fence.—Where a partition fence has been, or may hereafter be established by agreement of adjacent owners of land, each to keep up a particular part of such fence, if either fails to keep such part assigned to him in good repair, it shall be lawful for the other joint owner to repair such fence, the cost thereof to be paid by the one so failing; and if they cannot agree as to the amount to be paid for such repairs, the same to be ascertained and collected as provided by the preceding sections.

FORCIBLE ENTRY AND UNLAWFUL DETAINER. 2124-2149.

2124 (3378) (3694) (3297) (2850). Cognizable before justice of the peace.—The forcible entry upon and detainer, or the unlawful detainer of lands, tenements and hereditaments, is cognizable before a justice of the peace of the county in which the offense is committed.

Not unconstitutional.—Ward v. Lewis, 1 Stew. 26; Beck v. Glenn, 69 Ala. 121; Webb v. Carlisle, 65 Ala. 313; Nicrosi v. Phillipi, 91 Ala. 299. Triable only before justice of the peace.—Lykes v. Schwarz, 91 Ala. 461; Olmstead v. Thompson, 91 Ala. 130.

2125 (3379) (3695) (3298). Courts for such trials always open. Courts having jurisdiction under this chapter must be held open at all times, for the consideration and determination of questions arising under this chapter, and judgments had thereon without delay.

2126 (3380) (3696) (3299) (2851). Forcible entry and detainer defined.—A forcible entry and detainer is, where one, by force or strong hand, or by exciting fear or terror, enters upon and detains lands or tenements in the possession of another; as by breaking open doors, windows, or any other part of a house, whether any person be within or not; by threats of violence to the party in possession, or by such words or actions as have a tendency to excite fear or apprehension of danger; by putting out of doors, or removing the goods or chattels of the party in possession; or by entering peaceably, and then, by unlawful refusal, or by force or threats, turning or keeping the party out of possession.

Nature of the remedy.—Knowles v. Ogletree, 96 Ala. 555; Welden v. Schlosser, 74 Ala. 355; Hamilton v. Adams, 15 Ala. 596; Wright v. Lyle, 4 Ala. 112. "Unlawful refusal" defined; presupposes a prior demand. Demand need not be in writing and may be inferred from acts or declarations.—Knowles v. Ogletree, 96 Ala. 555; Welden v. Schlosser, 74 Ala. 355. Plaintiff must show actual prior possession.—O'Donohue v. Holmes, 107 Ala. 489; Knowles v. Ogletree, 96 Ala. 555; Espalla v. Gottschalk, 95 Ala. 254; Clements v. Hays, 76 Ala. 281; Brady v. Huff, 75 Ala. 80; May v. Taylor, 56 Ala. 190; House v. Camp, 32 Ala. 541; Lecatt v. Stewart, 2 Stew. 474; Cunningham v. Green, 3 Ala. 127; Clark v. Stringfellow, 4 Ala. 353; McRae v. Tillman, 6 Ala. 486; Mead v. Daniel, 2 Port. 86; McDonald v. Gayle, Minor, 98. A tenant in possession may sue.—House v. Camp, 32 Ala. 541; McRae v. Tillman, 6 Ala. 486; McDonald v. Gayle, Minor, 98. That defendant entered as agent merely, no defense.—Luling v. Sheppard, 112 Ala. 588.

Action defined; grows out of relation of landlord and tenant.—Giddens v. Bolling, 92 Ala. 586; Brown v. Beatty, 76 Ala. 250; Houston v. Fariss, 71 Ala. 570; Norwood v. Kirby, 70 Ala. 397; Beck v. Glenn, 69 Ala. 121; Hurst v. Thompson, 68 Ala. 560; Womach v. Powers, 50 Ala. 5; Spear v. Lomax, 42 Ala. 576; Dwine v. Brown, 35 Ala. 596; Russell v. Desplous, 29 Ala. 308; Rainey v. Capps, 22 Ala. 288; McGonegal v. Walker, 23 Ala. 361; Stinson v. Gossett, 4 Ala. 170; Mounger v. Burks, 17 Ala. 48. May be brought against one holding under, or by collusion with the tenant.—Kellum v. Balkum, 93 Ala. 317; Giddens v. Bolling, 92 Ala. 586; Espalla v. Gottschalk, 95 Ala. 254; McGonegal v. Walker, 23 Ala. 361; Snoddy v. Watt, 9 Ala. 609; Clark v. Stringfellow, 4 Ala. 353; Mounger v. Burks, 17 Ala. 48. Prior possession; possession of tenant is possession of landlord.—Kellum v. Balkum, 93 Ala. 317; Nicrosi v. Phillipi, 91 Ala. 299; Espalla v. Gottschalk, 95 Ala. 254; Anderson v. Anderson, 104 Ala. 428; Barefoot v. Wall, 108 Ala. 327; Giddens v. Bolling, 92 Ala. 586; Brown v. Beatty, 76 Ala. 250; Houston v. Fariss, 71 Ala. 570; Norwood v. Kirby, 70 Ala. 397; Beck v. Glenn, 69 Ala. 121; Lecatt v. Stewart, 2 Stew. 474. The heir acquires the possession of his ancestor.—Kellum v. Balkum, 93 Ala. 317; Hightower v. Fitzpatrick, 42 Ala. 597; Stinson v. Gossett, 4 Ala. 170; Dwine v. Brown, 35 Ala. 596; McKeen v. Nelms, 9 Ala. 507. The administrator that of his intestate.—Espalla v. Gottschalk, 95 Ala. 254; Nicrosi v. Phillipi, 91 Ala. 299; Spear v. Lomax, 42 Ala. 576. Attornment; will support the action.—Barefoot v. Wall, 108 Ala. 327; Anderson v. Anderson, 104 Ala. 428; Nicrosi v. Phillipi, 91 Ala. 299; Kellum v. Balkum, 93 Ala. 317. No defense to action by original landlord.—Pugh v. Davis, 103 Ala. 316. Equity will not enjoin such action.—Davis v. Pou, 108 Ala. 443. Demand; distinct from notice to terminate tenancy at will; in such case, two notices may be necessary.—McDevitt v. Lambert, 80 Ala. 536. Must be in writing. Bates v. Ridgeway, 48 Ala. 611. And in name of plaintiff.—Kennedy v. Hitchcock, 4 Port. 230. Secondary evidence of, when admissible.—King v. Bolling, 77 Ala. 594; Dumas v. Hunter, 30 Ala. 75. Proceeding may be revived against personal representative.—Ridgeway v. Waugh, 57 Ala. 423. Judgment; conclusive of the questions involved.—Hamilton v. Adams, 15 Ala. 596; Norwood v. Kirby, 70 Ala. 397; Davis v. Pou, 108 Ala. 443; Brady v. Huff, 75 Ala. 80; Chestnut v. Tyson, 105 Ala. 149; Bishop v. Truett, 85 Ala. 376. Verdict.—Beck v. Glenn, 69 Ala. 121; Spear v. Lomax, 42 Ala. 576; Huffaker v. Boring, 8 Ala. 87; Grice v. Furguson, 1 Stew. 36. Declarations of tenant; when admissible.—Turnley v. Hanna, 82 Ala. 139; Humes v. O'Bryan, 74 Ala. 71.

2128 (3382) (3698) (3301) (2853). What estates in land included.—The two preceding sections extend to, and comprehend terms for years, and all estates, whether freehold or less than freehold.

2129 (3383) (3699) (3302) (2854). Issue and form of notice upon complaint filed.—Upon complaint being made, the justice of the peace must issue a notice to the party against whom the complaint is made, to the following effect:

"The State of Alabama, ——— county. } To ——— ———:

You are hereby commanded to be and appear before me, at ———, on the —— day of ———, 18—, to answer to, and make defense against a complaint exhibited to me against you by ——— ———, for a forcible entry and detainer (or for an unlawful detainer, as the case may be).

Witness my hand, this —— day of ———, 18—.

Sufficiency of complaint.—Ward v. Lewis, 1 Stew. 26; Mead v. Daniel, 2 Port. 86; Bliss v. Winston, 1 Ala. 344; Cunningham v. Green, 3 Ala. 127. Wright v. Lyle, 4 Ala. 112; Huffaker v. Boring, 8 Ala. 87; Bell v. Killcrease, 11 Ala. 685; Matlock v. Thompson, 18 Ala. 600; House v. Camp, 32 Ala. 541; Ferguson v. Carter, 40 Ala. 607; Townsend v. VanAspen, 38 Ala. 572; Jonsen v. Nabring, 50 Ala. 392; Spear v. Lomax, 42 Ala. 576; Hightower v. Fitzpatrick, Ib. 597. When a misjoinder of plaintiffs.—Ware v. Warwick, 48 Ala. 295. Forcible entry and unlawful detainer may be joined.—Littleton v. Clayton, 77 Ala. 571. Parol evidence admissible to identify the lands.—Giddens v. Bolling, 92 Ala. 586.

2130 (3384) (3700) (3303) (2855). Time and mode of serving notice.—The notice must be served on the defendant at least six days before the return-day of the process, and may be served on him anywhere within the state. The return of the service thereof by any sheriff or constable of the state is sufficient, or proof of the fact may be made before the justice. It is sufficient to leave a copy thereof at his usual place of abode.

2132 (3386) (3701) (3304) (2856). Issue and trial.—If the parties appear, an issue must be made between them upon the complaint; but if the defendant, having been duly cited, does not appear, or appearing declines to plead, the cause proceeds as if the defendant had pleaded not guilty; or, for good cause, the trial may be postponed not more than fifteen days, at the cost of the applicant.

2133 (3387) (3702) (3305) (2857). If plaintiff succeeds, writ of restitution issued; costs.—If the justice determines in favor of the plaintiff, he must record the decision, and render judgment with costs, upon which he must issue a writ of execution, commanding the sheriff to restore the plaintiff to the possession of his lands and tenements according to the complaint, and to levy and sell a sufficiency of the defendant's goods and chattels, lands and tenements, to satisfy the costs of the proceedings.

Writ may issue immediately.—Olmstead v. Brewer, 91 Ala. 124; Olmstead v. Thompson, Ib. 130. When judgment reversed on appeal, circuit court may award writ to restore possession.—Wright v. Hurt, 92 Ala. 591. See note to section 2127.

2135 (3389) (3704) (3307) (2859). Title not in issue.—The estate or merits of the title cannot be inquired into on the trial of any complaint exhibited under this chapter.

"Merits of the title."—Davis v. Pou, 108 Ala. 443; Pugh v. Davis, 103 Ala. 316; O'Donohue v. Holmes, 107 Ala. 489; Knowles v. Ogletree, 96 Ala. 555; Espalla v. Gottschalk, 95 Ala. 254; Nicrosi v. Phillipi, 91 Ala. 299; Kellum v. Balkum, 93 Ala. 317; Houston v. Farris, 71 Ala. 570; Bishop v. Truett, 85 Ala. 376; Murphree v. Bishop, 79 Ala. 404; Brown v. Beatty, 76 Ala. 250; Beck v. Glenn, 69 Ala. 121; Townsend v. VanAspen, 38 Ala. 572; Milner v. Wilson, 45 Ala. 478; Ward v. Lewis, 1 Stew. 26; Webb v. Carlisle, 65 Ala. 313; Dumas v. Hunter, 25 Ala. 711; Clark v. Stringfellow, 4 Ala. 353; Cunningham v. Green, 3 Ala. 127. Muniments of title admissible as evidence of the extent of possession only.—Barefoot v. Wall, 108 Ala. 327; O'Donohue v. Holmes, 107 Ala. 489; Turnley v. Hanna, 82 Ala. 139; Brady v. Huff, 75 Ala. 80; Bohannon v. State, 73 Ala. 47; Cunningham v. Green, 3 Ala. 127.

Statute must be pleaded.—Hightower v. Fitzpatrick, 42 Ala. 597; Furguson v. Carter, 40 Ala. 607. Does not run until right of action accrues.—Posey v. Pressly, 60 Ala. 243. Promise to pay rent prevents the running of the statute. King v. Bolling, 77 Ala. 594; Barefoot v. Wall, 108 Ala. 327.

2137 (3391) (3709) (3312). Damages for detainer after expiration of term of lease.—Any person who, having entered into the possession of lands and tenements under a contract of lease, forcibly or unlawfully retains the possession thereof after the expiration of his term, or refuses to surrender the same on the written demand of the lessor, his agent, or attorney, or legal representative, is liable for double the amount of the annual rent agreed to be paid under such contract, and for such other special damages as may be thereby sustained by the party thus unlawfully kept out of possession, to be recovered as now provided by law in actions of unlawful detainer, or by an action at law for damages.

Landlord entitled to recover "double the amount of the annual rent" without regard to the time of the wrongful detention.—Ullman v. Herzberg, 91 Ala. 458; Lykes v. Schwarz, Ib. 461. And such other damages as he may sustain.—Powell v. Sturdevant, 85 Ala. 243. If rent and damages claimed exceed one hundred dollars, the justice has no jurisdiction to award them. Lykes v. Schwarz, supra. Neither has the circuit court on appeal.—Ib.; Giddens v. Bolling, 92 Ala. 586. Remedy is by separate action.—Ib., see also Spear v. Lomax, 42 Ala. 576; Lomax v. Spear, 51 Ala. 532; Hurst v. Thompson, 68 Ala. 560.

2138 (3392) (3708) (3311) (2863). Proceedings no bar to other remedies.—No proceeding had under this chapter, or judgment rendered, bars or prevents the party injured from prosecuting an action of trespass, or other action, against the aggressor or party offending.

Belshaw v. Moses, 49 Ala. 283; Abrams v. Watson, 59 Ala. 530.

2141 (3395) (3715) (3318) (2869). Fine against defaulting witness.—Any witness, duly subpœnaed, and failing to attend, or refusing to testify, may be fined by the justice of the peace not exceeding one hundred dollars, for the use of the county, for which he may issue execution directed to the constable.

2142 (3396) (3716) (3319) (2870). Notice to witness before judgment is made absolute.—The judgment specified in the preceding section must not be made absolute, until ten days after service of a written notice on such witness, informing him of the rendition of such judgment.

Appeal bond secures only such judgment as could be rendered by the justice.—Lykes v. Schwartz, 91 Ala. 461; Waite v. Ward, 93 Ala. 271. See note to next section.

2145 (3401) (3711) (3314) (2865). When writ of restitution in unlawful detainer, etc., not suspended.—In cases of forcible entry or unlawful detainer, an appeal does not prevent the issue of a writ of restitution, unless the defendant also executes bond, with sufficient sureties, payable to the plaintiff, in the sum of twice the yearly value of the rent of the premises, to be ascertained by the justice, with condition to pay the plaintiff all such damages as he may sustain by the prosecution of the appeal.

Supersedeas bond only stays writ of restitution, and secures the plaintiff for rent and damages pending the appeal.—Lykes v. Schwartz, 91 Ala. 461; Waite v. Ward, 93 Ala. 271; Robbins v. Battle House, 74 Ala. 499.

Giddens v. Bolling, 92 Ala. 586; Lykes v. Schwartz, 91 Ala. 461; Waite v. Ward, 93 Ala. 271.

Feb. 16, 1897, p. 1125, §1. 2147. When defendant may remove cause from justice's to circuit court for trial of title; petition and contents.—Any defendant in a suit for forcible entry and detainer or unlawful entry and detainer may remove such action from the justice of the peace or other officer before whom the same is brought, to the circuit court of the county in which the real estate sued for is situated in the following manner: The defendant desiring to remove such case shall, at any time before the judgment is rendered against him by the justice or other officer before whom the same is brought, file a sworn petition to the judge of probate of the county in which such suit is commenced, or any judge of the circuit court or judge of the city court or chancellor in the state. Such petition to contain the following statements: The fact that such suit is pending before a justice of the peace or other officer, the name of the plaintiff, with description of the property sued for, the name and title of the officer before whom the suit is pending, the county and precinct of the justice, and also stating that the defendant entered on the land sued for peaceably and under claim of title thereto and not under claim of any agreement, contract or understanding with the plaintiff, or those under whom he claims, and that petitioner bona fide desires to contest with plaintiff the title to said land, and asking that such suit be removed from before such justice or other officer to the circuit court of the county in which such lands are situated.

Ib. §2. 2148. Order on petition; bond; writ to justice, etc.—Upon the presentation of a verified petition as provided for in the preceding section to any judge or chancellor as above set forth, it shall be the duty of the judge or chancellor to forthwith indorse thereon an order directed to the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which such land lies, commanding him, on petitioner entering into a bond in an amount to be fixed by such judge or chancellor in such order, payable to the plaintiff in such suit, with surety to be approved by said clerk, and conditioned to pay all costs of suit and all damages which may be assessed in the circuit court against the defendant for the rent, or for the use and occupation of said lands, and all other damages which may be assessed against the defendant in the event the plaintiff should recover in the said cause, to issue a writ directed to such justice or other officer before whom such suit is pending, commanding him to certify all the papers and proceedings in such case to the circuit court of said county; and the justice of the peace or other officer to whom such writ is issued shall at once on the service thereof certify and transmit all the papers and proceedings in said case to said circuit court.

2149. Trial of title in circuit court as in statutory ejectment; rents; judgment; execution against sureties on removal bond. On the trial of all cases removed under the provisions of the two preceding sections, to the circuit court, the plaintiff must recover on the strength of his legal title as in a statutory action in the nature of an action of ejectment, unless he can prove that the defendant, or those under whom he claims, entered on said lands under some contract or agreement between plaintiff, or those under whom he claimed, or by use of force; in which latter case no inquiry can be had as to the respective strength of the legal title of the plaintiff or defendant. On the trial of such cases in the circuit court evidence may be introduced to the rental value of the land sued for during the detention, and should the jury find for the plaintiff they will assess his damages, and judgment shall be rendered accordingly. Writs of possession and fieri facias shall issue on such judgment as in cases of judgment in statutory real actions, and should the same be returned "no property found," as to damages and costs assessed against the defendant, execution may at once issue against the sureties provided for by the preceding section for all such damages and costs.

Westcott, 91 Ala. 143; Howell v. Carden, 99 Ala. 100; O'Neil v. Birmingham Brewing Co., 101 Ala. 383. But not if mortgagor sells as agent of mortgagee.—Hindman v. Dill, 11 Ala. 689; Ticknor v. Wiswall, 9 Ala. 305; Constantine v. Twelves, 29 Ala. 607; Brown v. Lyon, 17 Ala. 659; Miller v. Stetson, 32 Ala. 161; Perry Ins. Co. v. Foster, 58 Ala. 502; Benedict v. Renfro, 75 Ala. 121; Murray v. McNealy, 86 Ala. 234; Howell v. Carden, 99 Ala. 100; Troy Fertilizer Co. v. Norman, 107 Ala. 667. Nor when mortgage given to secure purchase-money of goods presently purchased from mortgagee. Adkins v. Bynum, 109 Ala. 281. Mortgage on farm supplies, to be used in growing mortgaged crop, excepted.—Ravises v. Alston, 5 Ala. 297; DuBose v. DuBose, 7 Ala. 235; Bank v. Clarke, 7 Ala. 765; Graham v. Lockhart, 8 Ala. 9; Perry Ins. Co. v. Foster, 58 Ala. 502; Pugh v. Harwell, 108 Ala. 486. Recording equivalent to change of possession.—Benedict v. Renfro, 75 Ala. 121; Howell v. Carden, 99 Ala. 100; Cooper v. Berney Nat. Bank, 99 Ala. 119. See also citations to section 2156 (1735). Pleading; existing and subsequent creditors may join in bill to set conveyance aside.—O'Neil v. Birmingham Brewing Co., 101 Ala. 383.

1. Every agreement which, by its terms, is not to be performed within one year from the making thereof.

2. Every special promise by an executor or administrator to answer damages out of his own estate.

3. Every special promise to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another.

4. Every agreement, promise, or undertaking, made upon consideration of marriage, except mutual promises to marry.

5. Every contract for the sale of lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or of any interest therein, except leases for a term not longer than one year, unless the purchase-money, or a portion thereof, be paid, and the purchaser be put in possession of the land by the seller.

Contracts not void, but voidable.—Patterson v. Ware, 10 Ala. 444; Gillespie v. Buttle, 15 Ala. 276; Flinn v. Barber, 64 Ala. 193; Cooper v. Hornsby, 71 Ala. 62; Gordon v. ARTICLE 2.

CONTRACTS IN CONSIDERATION OF NOT BIDDING FOR PUBLIC LANDS.

2161 (1740) (2129) (1871) (1559). Such contracts void; penalty for making them.—All contracts in violation of the provisions of the two preceding sections are void; and any person violating such provisions forfeits double the amount of money or value of the thing received, or agreed to be received; one half to the use of the person suing for the same, and the other half to the state.

2162 (1741) (2130) (1873) (1561). Improvements on such lands may be sold.—Nothing in the preceding sections of this article must be so construed as to prevent any person who has made improvements on public lands from selling the same, and receiving the purchase-money therefor.

GAMBLING AND WAGERING CONTRACTS.

2163 (1742) (2131) (1874) (1562). Gambling contracts void, and money paid may be recovered.—All contracts founded, in whole or in part, on a gambling consideration, are void; and any person who has paid any money, or delivered any thing of value, lost upon any game or wager may recover such money, thing, or its value, by action commenced within six months from the time of such payment or delivery.

Negotiable instruments made on a gaming consideration, are void, even in the hands of an innocent holder, unless induced by the representations of the indorser.—Manning v. Manning, 8 Ala. 138; Givens v. Rogers, 11 Ala. 543; Ivey v. Nicks, 14 Ala. 564; Hawley v. Bibb, 69 Ala. 52; Lee v. Boyd, 86 Ala. 283. Contracts for "futures," the actual delivery of the goods not being contemplated, are void.—Hawley v. Bibb, 69 Ala. 52; W. U. Tel. Co. v. Way, 83 Ala. 542; Lee v. Boyd, 86 Ala. 283; Perryman v. Wolffe, 93 Ala. 290; Hanna v. Ingram, 93 Ala. 482; Peet v. Hatcher, 112 Ala. 514. Policy of insurance taken out by one on the life of another in whom he has no insurable interest, is void.—Helmetag v. Miller, 76 Ala. 183; Sands v. Hammell, 108 Ala. 624. If several interested in money lost, each may maintain a separate action for what he lost.—Davis v. Orme, 36 Ala. 540. Bailee or trustee, losing money, may recover.—Harris v. Brooks, 56 Ala. 388; Lee v. Boyd, 86 Ala. 283. Liability of stakeholder.—Wood v. Duncan, 9 P. 227; Shackelford v. Ward, 3 Ala. 37; Ivey v. Phifer, 11 Ala. 535; Lewis v. Burton, 74 Ala. 317. Revocation; recovery back; executed; in pari delicto.—Thornhill v. O'Rear, 108 Ala. 299.

2164 (1743) (2132) (1875) (1563). Any person may recover money so paid for the use of the wife or child of the loser.—Any other person may also recover the amount of such money, thing, or its value, by action commenced within twelve months after the payment or delivery thereof, for the use of the wife, or if no wife, the child or children, and if no child or children, the next of kin of the loser.

Separate action for husband's share of money lost in joint wager lies, although winner was induced to believe that loser had no interest.—Davis v. Orme, 36 Ala. 540.

2165 (1744) (2133) (1876) (1564). One judgment bars other suits for the same cause.—A judgment under either of the two preceding sections for the amount of money paid, thing delivered, or its value, is a good defense to any action brought for such money, thing or its value, under the provisions of the other section.

2166 (1745) (2134) (1877) (1565). The winner may be garnished by a creditor.—Any creditor of such losing party may, at any time within two years from the payment of such money, or delivery of such thing, garnish the winner as other debtors are garnished; and if such garnishee fail to appear, judgment may be rendered against him as against other garnishees failing to answer; the answer of the garnishee shall not be evidence against him in a criminal prosecution.*

2168 (1747) (2136) (1879) (1567). A prior judgment bars the garnishment.—In like manner, a judgment recovered under the provisions of the first two sections of this article is a defense to any proceeding on any garnishment served after the recovery of such judgment; and the court may make any order staying proceedings as may be necessary to protect the rights of the defendant.

2169 (1748) (2137) (1881) (1570). The answers of the parties do not subject them to prosecution.—In any action brought under the provisions of this article, either party may be examined on interrogatories as in other cases; but the answer of the party cannot be used against him in any criminal prosecution.

CONTRACTS MADE ON SUNDAY.

2170 (1749) (2138) (1882) (1571). Such contracts void except in case of necessity, or for works of charity.—All contracts made on Sunday, unless for the advancement of religion, or in the execution, or for the performance of some work of charity, or in case of necessity, are void.

Promissory note made on Sunday is void and incapable of confirmation. O'Donnell v. Sweeney, 5 Ala. 467; Shippey v. Eastwood, 9 Ala. 198; Dodson v. Harris, 10 Ala. 566; Saltmarsh v. Tuthill, 13 Ala. 390; Hauerwas v. Goodloe, 101 Ala. 162. Note or contract, dated or agreed to, on Sunday, but shown to have been made on a secular day, is valid.—Butler v. Lee, 11 Ala. 885; Aldridge v. Bank, 17 Ala. 45; Flanagan v. Meyer, 41 Ala. 132; Burns v. Moore, 76 Ala. 339; Phœnix Ins. Co. v. Boulden, 96 Ala. 609. But absolutely void if dated on a secular day and made on Sunday.—Flanagan v. Meyer, 41 Ala. 132; Burns v. Moore, 76 Ala. 339; Anderson v. Bellenger, 87 Ala. 334 (distinguishing Saltmarsh v. Tuthill, 13 Ala. 390). Gift may be made on Sunday.—Wheeler v. Glasgow, 97 Ala. 700. Statute of limitations cannot be extended, nor estoppel arise, from a promise made on Sunday.—Hussey v. Roquemore, 27 Ala. 281; Bumgardner v. Taylor, 28 Ala. 627. Money, deposited on Sunday, and afterwards converted, may be recovered.—Tamplin v. Still, 77 Ala. 374. Verdict may be received on Sunday; judgment being entered afterwards.—Reid v. State, 53 Ala. 402; Chamblee v. State, 78 Ala. 466. Contract, void because made on Sunday, may be looked to to explain possession of land.—Rainey v. Capps, 22 Ala. 288. What necessity will make Sunday contract valid.—Shippey v. Eastwood, 9 Ala. 198; Hooper v. Edwards, 18 Ala. 280; s. c., 25 Ala. 528; Hammons v. State, 59 Ala. 164; Burns v. Moore, 76 Ala. 339; W. U. Tel. Co. v. Wilson, 93 Ala. 32. Bail-bond is a work of necessity, and execution on Sunday makes valid contract.—Hooper v. Edwards, 18 Ala. 280; s. c., 25 Ala. 528; Hammons v. State, 59 Ala. 164. Telegram announcing death of relative a necessity.—W. U. Tel. Co. v. Wilson, 93 Ala. 32. But not the prevention of delay in traveling.—Burns v. Moore, 76 Ala. 339. When question of necessity one for the jury.—Burns v. Moore, supra; Hooper v. Edwards, 18 Ala. 280; s. c., 25 Ala. 528.

2.—ANSWER OF GARNISHEE AND PROCEEDINGS THEREON. 2187–2207.
3.—GARNISHMENTS ISSUED BY JUSTICES OF THE PEACE. 2208–2212.

GARNISHMENT DEFINED; WHEN AND HOW ISSUED AND DISSOLVED.

A legal, not an equitable remedy.—Thomas v. Hopper, 5 Ala. 442; Price v. Masterson, 35 Ala. 483; Goden v. Pierson, 42 Ala. 370; Henry v. Murphy, 54 Ala. 246; Edmondson v. DeKalb County, 51 Ala. 103; Harris v. Miller, 71 Ala. 26; Henderson v. Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co., 72 Ala. 32; Carroll v. Milner, 93 Ala. 301; Cross v. Spillman, 93 Ala. 170; Pollock v. Jones, 96 Ala. 492; First Nat. Bank v. Dunn, 102 Ala. 204; Francis-Chenoweth Hardware Co. v. Bailey, 104 Ala. 566; White v. Simpson, 107 Ala. 386. Of statutory creation and must be exercised within statutory limits, but remedial.—Jones v. Crews, 64 Ala. 368; Behman v. Hudman, 79 Ala. 532; s. c., 85 Ala. 135; Adams v. Creen, 100 Ala. 218; Porter & Blair Hardware Co. v. Perdue, 105 Ala. 293; White v. Simpson, 107 Ala. 386. Writ is mere process, not pleading; if defective, must be reached by plea in abatement or motion to quash, not by demurrer. Curry v. Woodward, 50 Ala. 258; Lady Ensley Furnace Co. v. Rogan, 95 Ala. 594. Only such demands can be reached as lie in contract, and which defendant could enforce in an action at law.—Harrell v. Whitman, 19 Ala. 135; Roby v. Labuzan, 21 Ala. 60; Walke v. McGehee, 11 Ala. 273; s. c., 15 Ala. 183; Cook v. Walthall, 20 Ala. 334; Self v. Kirkland, 24 Ala. 275; Lundie v. Reeves, 103 Ala. 301. Notice not necessary before issuance of writ.—Teague v. LeGrand, 85 Ala. 493; Birmingham Nat. Bank v. Mayer, 104 Ala. 634.

2172 (2968, 2971) (3219, 3218) (2892) (2471). Garnishment may issue pending suit, or after judgment.—The plaintiff in any pending suit for the recovery of money, or the plaintiff or his assignee in any judgment or decree on which execution can issue, may obtain process of garnishment as defined in the preceding section.

Must issue from the court having jurisdiction of the original proceeding. First Nat. Bank v. Dunn, 102 Ala. 204. May issue on decree in chancery. Jones v. Crews, 64 Ala. 368; Long v. Walker, 84 Ala. 72. Against married women.—Long v. Walker, 84 Ala. 72.

2173 (2968, 2973) (3219) (2892) (2471). Affidavit required in all cases.—To obtain such writ of garnishment, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, must make, before an officer authorized to administer oaths, and file with the justice of the peace or clerk of the court in which the suit is pending or the judgment or decree was rendered, an affidavit stating the amount due from the defendant to the plaintiff, or his assignee, and that process of garnishment is believed to be necessary to obtain satisfaction thereof, and that the person to be summoned as garnishee is believed to be chargeable as garnishee in the cause. It is not ground of objection that two or more persons having separate interests are mentioned as garnishees.

2174 (2968) (3219) (2892) (2471). Bond required when garnishment issues pending suit.—When the garnishment is in aid of a pending suit, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, must also give bond in double the amount claimed in the suit, with sufficient surety to be approved by the officer issuing the writ, with condition that the plaintiff will prosecute the garnishment to effect, and pay the defendant all such damages as he may sustain from the wrongful or vexatious suing out of such garnishment; and such bond, as to suit thereon, is subject to the provisions of this Code relating to suits on attachment bonds.

Long v. Walker, 84 Ala. 72.

2177 (2952) (3276) (2951) (2524). Debts or demands in suit subject to garnishment.—A debt or demand which is subject to garnishment may be reached and subjected, though suit may be pending thereon; and if the suit be not pending in the court from which the garnishment issues, the court, on proof by the garnishee of the pendency of the garnishment, must, on the rendition of judgment, stay execution until notified by the clerk of the court in which the garnishment or attachment is instituted, that final judgment has been rendered; in which case it must make the appropriate order according as the judgment is rendered for the plaintiff or defendant.

Includes judgments.—Skipper v. Foster, 29 Ala. 330; Calhoun v. Whittle, 56 Ala. 138. When garnishee sued by defendant for same debt; stay of pro-

Lies against executor to subject money due by him officially to himself personally.—Dudley v. Falkner, 49 Ala. 148. Administrator may be summoned within six months, but no judgment may be rendered until the lapse of the statutory period.—Moore v. Stainton, 22 Ala. 831. Administrator cannot question ownership of original judgment.—Jackson v. Shipman, 28 Ala. 488.

Judgment cannot go against garnishee unless he admits sufficient assets to pay amount.—Corbitt v. Pynes, 45 Ala. 258. See also citations to preceding section.

2180 (2950) (3273) (2948) (2521). Money in hands of officers or attorneys.—Money in the hands of an attorney at law, sheriff, or other officer may be garnished; and in the case of officers of the court, the money must be paid into court, to abide the result of the suit, unless the court otherwise direct.

Does not authorize subjection of funds held by county treasurer in his official capacity to payment of a judgment against county.—Edmondson v. DeKalb Co., 51 Ala. 103. Nor to subject the salary of a public official in the hands of disbursing officer; applies to funds of private individuals.—Mayor v. Rowland, 26 Ala. 498; Pruitt v. Armstrong, 56 Ala. 306. Nor to subject taxes due municipal corporation.—Underhill v. Calhoun, 63 Ala. 216 (overruling Smoot v. Hart, 33 Ala. 69). Nor to subject money taken by an officer from the person of one unlawfully arrested.—Ex parte Hurn, 92 Ala. 102; Cunningham v. Baker, 104 Ala. 160. When served, officer must at once deliver money to the clerk, unless court directs otherwise.—Warren v. Mathews, 96 Ala. 183. Fund when paid into court after levy may be again attached by garnishment against clerk.—Warren v. Mathews, 96 Ala. 183.

2181 (2951) (3275) (2950) (2523). Money in the hands of a trustee.—Money or effects of the defendant, in the hands of a trustee, may be garnished and held subject to the validity of the instrument creating the trust, or the excess remaining in the trustee's hands after the execution of the trust, if valid; but if the deed be held void, the trustee, if not guilty of actual fraud, may retain for a debt due himself, and must be protected so far as he has acted in good faith under the trust before the service of the garnishment.

Compensation of retiring trustee in the hands of successor may be reached. Stuckey v. McKibbon, 92 Ala. 622. When no judgment can be rendered against trustee.—Lightfoot v. Rupert, 38 Ala. 666. If trust or mortgage is accepted with knowledge of fraudulent intent of grantor, trustee cannot retain for his own debt.—Price v. Masterson, 35 Ala. 483; Hall v. Heydon, 41 Ala. 242.

Feb. 26, 1889, p. 94. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 881.

2182 (2972) (3220) (2893) (2472). Subscription for stock in corporation may be garnished.—Any creditor of a corporation may, by garnishment, subject the unpaid subscription of any stockholder in such corporation to the payment of its debts, without regard to whether the corporation can maintain suit against the stockholder for such subscription or not.

Lies although corporation not then engaged in business and has no president or directors.—Curry v. Woodward, 53 Ala. 371. Lies although subscription was in form for bonds, with agreement that fully paid stock was also to be delivered.—Davis v. Montgomery F. & C. Co., 101 Ala. 127. Judgment may be had although no call has been made for unpaid subscription, if amount and time of payment is definite.—Curry v. Woodward, 44 Ala. 305; s. c., 50 Ala. 258; Teague v. LeGrand, 85 Ala. 493; Ruse v. Bromberg, 88 Ala. 627; Davis v. Montgomery F. & C. Co., 101 Ala. 127; White v. Kahn, 103 Ala. 308. Recitals of judgment for want of answer.—Carroll v. Milner, 93 Ala. 301 (overruling Gunn v. Howell, 27 Ala. 663).

Feb. 12, 1891, p. 590.

2183. Defendant may give bond and collect money from garnishee.—When garnishment has been issued in aid of a pending suit or upon a judgment, the defendant may make and file with the justice or clerk issuing the garnishment, bond in such sum as the justice or clerk may prescribe, not exceeding twice the amount of the plaintiff's demand, payable to the plaintiff, with sufficient surety, to be approved by such justice or clerk, conditioned to pay the amount for which the garnishee may be found indebted or liable to the defendant, and the costs of the garnishment; and thereupon the money or property in the hands of the garnishee is discharged from the garnishment and the garnishee relieved of all liability therefor to the plaintiff; but the garnishee must answer and, except as is herein otherwise provided, the cause must proceed and be determined as if such bond had not been executed. If the garnishee is found to be indebted or liable to the defendant in money or property, the amount or value thereof must be ascertained and judgment rendered for such amount or value against the defendant and the sureties on such bond, and for the costs of the garnishment. But such judgment, exclusive of the costs of the garnishment, must not exceed the amount of the judgment, interest and costs in the original suit, or the amount of the bond. If the garnishee shall fail to answer, a conditional judgment may be rendered against him and proceedings had thereon as in other cases, and if the conditional judgment is made absolute, judgment for the like amount must be rendered against the defendant and the sureties on his bond, and for the costs of the garnishment, subject to the limitations above expressed; and execution thereon may issue against the defendant and his sureties on such bond, but not against the garnishee. No judgment must be rendered against the bond until judgment has been rendered in the original suit in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant. The garnishee is not discharged from liability to the defendant until he has paid the debt or satisfied the demand the garnishment was intended to reach.

Balkum v. Reeves, 98 Ala. 460; Balkum v. Strauss, 100 Ala. 207; Guilford v. Reeves, 103 Ala. 301; Collins v. Baldwin, 109 Ala. 402.

2184. Defendant may give bond in double the plaintiff's demand and dissolve the garnishment.—The defendant may, instead of the bond mentioned in the preceding section, give bond in double the amount of the plaintiff's demand, payable to the plaintiff, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the justice or clerk, and conditioned to pay such judgment as may be rendered or ascertained to exist in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant in the cause, and costs of suit; and thereupon the garnishment is dissolved and the garnishee discharged and need not answer; and upon the trial of the cause, if judgment is rendered or ascertained to exist in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant, the court must also render judgment against the obligors in the bond for the amount of such judgment, interest thereon, and the costs of suit. The giving of the bond herein authorized operates to discharge all the garnishees in the cause, whether one or more.

Garnishee may discharge judgment unless it is superseded by bond. Montgomery G. L. Co. v. Merrick, 61 Ala. 534. May discharge judgment although it is irregular.—Duncan v. Ware, 5 S. & P. 119; Gunn v. Howell, 35 Ala. 144. Need not wait for issue of execution to coerce payment.—Crawford v. State, 9 Ala. 887; Skipper v. Foster, 29 Ala. 330. Conclusiveness. White v. Simpson, 107 Ala. 386.

2186. Defects of form or substance amendable.—The provisions of section 564 (2998) of this Code are applicable to garnishments.

White v. Simpson, 107 Ala. 386; Buford v. Welborn, 6 Ala. 818.

ARTICLE 2.

ANSWER OF GARNISHEE AND PROCEEDINGS THEREON.

2187 (2974) (3293) (2968) (2540). Answer of garnishee.—The garnishee must answer under oath according to the terms of the garnishment, and may, if required by the plaintiff, be examined orally in the presence of the court.

Answer not a part of the record unless made so by bill of exceptions or recitals for judgment-entry.—Stubblefield v. Hagerty, 1 Ala. 38; Fortune v. State Bank, 4 Ala. 385; Gaines v. Bierne, 3 Ala. 114; Saunders v. Camp, 6 Ala. 73; Price v. Thomason, 11 Ala. 875; Wicks v. Bank, 12 Ala. 594; Jones v. Howell, 16 Ala. 695; Bostwick v. Beach, 18 Ala. 80; Easton v. Lowery, 29 Ala. 454; Corbitt v. Pynes, 45 Ala. 258; D. C. & N. O. Ry. Co. v. Crass, 97 Ala. 519. Garnishee must answer as to debt or contract at time of service, and during the whole intervening time until discharged.—Roby v. Labuzan, 21 Ala. 60; Central Plank Road Co. v. Sammons, 27 Ala. 380; N. O. M. & C. R. Co. v. Long, 50 Ala. 498; Lady Ensley F. Co. v. Rogan, 95 Ala. 594. Answer, if not controverted, is taken as strictly true.—Allen v. Morgan, 1 S. 9; Robinson v. Rapelye, 2 S. 86; Presnall v. Mabry, 3 P. 105; Smith v. Chapman, 6 P. 365; Stubblefield v. Hagerty, 1 Ala. 38; Mims v. Parker, 1 Ala. 421; Foster v. Walker, 2 Ala. 177; Fortune v. State Bank, 4 Ala. 385; Blair v. Rhodes, 5 Ala. 648; Price v. Thomason, 11 Ala. 875; Hurst v. Home Protection Ins. Co., 81 Ala. 174; White v. Hobart, 90 Ala. 368; White v. Kahn, 103 Ala. 308. But denials may be overcome by attendant facts stated orally by garnishee. White v. Kahn, 103 Ala. 308. May be filed at any time before judgment for want of answer; court may extend time.—Talladega Mer. Co. v. McDonald, 97 Ala. 508. Considered as filed when filed in fact.—Foster v. White, 9 P. 221.

May be amended, and action of court not revisable.—Buford v. Welborn, 6 Ala. 818. If evasive may be treated as a nullity, stricken from the file and judgment nisi rendered.—Scales v. Swan, 9 P. 163; Miles v. Parker, 1 Ala. 421; Mobile St. Ry. v. Turner, 91 Ala. 213; White v. Kahn, 103 Ala. 308. If it shows that indebtedness will contingently arise in the future, garnishment may be continued.—Security Loan Asso. v. Weems, 69 Ala. 584; Hurst v. Home Protection Ins. Co., 81 Ala. 174; White v. Hobart, 90 Ala. 368; Lady E. F. Co. v. Rogan, 95 Ala. 594. If it shows that defendant has performed services under subsisting contract, the compensation not having been fixed, garnishee cannot be discharged.—S. & N. A. R. Co. v. Faulkner, 49 Ala. 115. If written answer is unsatisfactory garnishee may be examined orally. Wright v. Swanson, 46 Ala. 708; Talladega Mer. Co. v. McDonald, 97 Ala. 508. Oral examination in open court is contemplated.—Scales v. Swan, 9 P. 163; Stubblefield v. Hagerty, 1 Ala. 38; Gaines v. Bierne, 3 Ala. 114; Leigh v. Smith, 5 Ala. 583; Bostwick v. Beach, 18 Ala. 80; Easton v. Lowery, 29 Ala. 454; Wright v. Swanson, 46 Ala. 708. Answer as evidence.—Pollock v. Jones, 96 Ala. 492. Judgment for want of answer cannot be rendered on third day. Randolph v. Peck, 4 Ala. 389; Case v. Moore, 21 Ala. 758. After answer, garnishee presumed to be in court at every stage of the case and until it is finally disposed of.—Duffy v. Buchanan, 8 Ala. 27; Bostwick v. Beach, 18 Ala. 80; Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274; Security Loan Asso. v. Weems, 69 Ala. 584; Cross v. Spillman, 93 Ala. 170; Talladega Mer. Co. v. McDonald, 97 Ala. 508. Answer of maker of negotiable paper must show its character to be protected.—Gatchell v. Foster, 94 Ala. 622. See also citations to section 2196 (2981).

2188. When garnishee may pay fund into court.—When the garnishee admits indebtedness or liability to the defendant, and the defendant has not executed bond for the dissolution of the garnishment as provided in this chapter, the garnishee may, by order of the court first had and obtained, pay the amount of such indebtedness or liability, or so much thereof as the court may direct, into the hands of the clerk to be held subject to the judgment in the cause; and such payment has the effect to discharge the garnishee from liability for the amount so paid and interest subsequently accruing thereon, but does not prevent the interposition and trial of collateral issues as provided in this article.

2189. Court may order money loaned pending suit.—The court may, in its discretion, direct the clerk to lend the money at interest, for such time as may be prescribed, on note or bond payable to the clerk and secured by mortgage, with power of sale, upon unencumbered real estate in value double the amount of the loan. The court may make all necessary orders for the collection and proper application of the fund, and may, by the consent of the party found to be entitled thereto, direct the clerk to transfer or assign such note and mortgage to such party, who may exercise the power of sale and otherwise enforce collection in his own name.

2190 (2975) (3222) (2897). Answer of corporation; by whom made.—No person shall answer, on behalf of any corporation, any process of garnishment, unless he shall make affidavit that he is the duly authorized agent of the corporation to make such answer.

To protect garnishee and plaintiff.—Gatchell v. Foster, 94 Ala. 622. General appearance a waiver of defect arising from want of affidavit.—M. & C. R. Co. v. Whorley, 74 Ala. 264.

admitted, if less than the amount of the judgment against the defendant; if more or equal thereto, for the amount thereof; and if the debt or demand is not then payable, execution must be suspended until its maturity.

When answer authorizes judgment.—Presnall v. Mabry, 3 P. 105; Smith v. Chapman, 6 P. 365; Baker v. Moody, 1 Ala. 312; Self v. Kirkland, 24 Ala. 275; Hall v. Magee, 27 Ala. 414; S. & N. R. Co. v. Faulkner, 49 Ala. 115; N. O. M. & C. R. Co. v. Long, 50 Ala. 498; Leslie v. Merrill, 58 Ala. 322; Security Loan Asso. v. Weems, 69 Ala. 584; Wooldridge v. Holmes, 78 Ala. 568; Gatchell v. Foster, 94 Ala. 622. When it does not authorize judgment.—King v. Murphy, 1. S. 228; Presnall v. Mabry, 3 P. 105; Smith v. Chapman, 6 P. 365; Foster v. White, 9 P. 221; Stubblefield v. 2192 (2977). Judgment on demand payable in personal property, or on contract to deliver personal property.—If the garnishee is liable for the delivery of personal property, or for the payment of money which may be discharged by the delivery of personal property, the value of the property must be ascertained, and a judgment rendered against the garnishee that, if he do not, by a day to be fixed by the court, which must be a day after the maturity of such contract, deliver such property to the sheriff or other lawful officer, he must pay the value thereof, or the sum of money which was payable therein; and, upon the return of the sheriff, or such other officer, that such property was not delivered, or the value thereof or such sum of money was not paid to him, as required by the judgment, execution must be issued for the ascertained value of such property, or for the sum of money payable therein, if the same is less than the amount of the judgment against the defendant in the original suit; if more, or equal thereto, for the amount thereof. If such property is delivered to the sheriff, or other lawful officer, he must proceed to a sale thereof as if under execution against the defendant.

2193 (2978) (3295, 3296, 3297) (2970, 2971, 2972) (2542, 2543, 2544). Judgment and proceedings on answer admitting possession of effects of defendant.—If the garnishee admits the possession of effects of the defendant, the subject of levy and sale under legal process, judgment of condemnation must be rendered, that such effects be delivered up on demand, after the rendition of judgment in favor of the plaintiff in the original suit, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the judgment, and the sheriff must make sale thereof. If the garnishee fails to deliver such effects to the sheriff on demand, he must make return thereof to the clerk, who must thereupon issue an execution against the garnishee in favor of the plaintiff for the amount of the judgment and costs. If, however, such failure is without fault or negligence on the part of the garnishee, he may tender to the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, the value of such effects, and if such tender is refused, he may obtain relief by supersedeas.

Jones v. Crews, 64 Ala. 368; McKleroy v. Cantey, 95 Ala. 295. If goods sold after service money judgment may be had against garnishee.—McKleroy v. Cantey, 95 Ala. 295.

2194 (2979). Judgment when garnishee admits possession of money.—If the garnishee admits the possession of money belonging to the defendant, he must pay the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the plaintiff's demand and costs, into court, to await the order of the court; and if he fails to make such payment, he is liable as if he had admitted an indebtedness for the amount of such money.

McKleroy v. Cantey, 95 Ala. 295; L. E. Furnace Co. v. Rogan, 95 Ala. 594; Cunningham v. Baker, 104 Ala. 160.

2195 (2980) (3298) (2973) (2545). Proceedings on failure to answer.—If the garnishee fails to appear and answer, a conditional judgment must be rendered against him for the amount of the plaintiff's claim, as ascertained by his judgment, to be made absolute, unless he appears within the first three days of the next term and answers; and a notice of the judgment must be issued to him by the clerk, to be served on him, as other process, by the sheriff. If he fails to appear at the next term, after notice executed, or if two notices be returned "not found" by the sheriff of the county in which the garnishment was executed, the judgment must be made absolute.

Conditional judgment must be for a sum certain; final judgment for lack of an answer is a mere confirmation of the conditional judgment.—Dickerson v. Walker, 1 Ala. 48; Drane v. King, 21 Ala. 556; Bonner v. Martin, 37 Ala. 83. General appearance waives lack of notice.—D. C. & N. O. R. Co. v. Crass, 97 Ala. 519. The two notices must be returned one to each of the two terms.—D. C. & N. O. R. Co. v. Crass, 97 Ala. 519. Failure to give notice of conditional judgment an irregularity for which judgment will be set aside on seasonable application.—Tillis v. Prestwood, 107 Ala. 618. Answer may be filed at any time before judgment is claimed; court may extend time. Talladega Mer. Co. v. McDonald, 97 Ala. 508. Final judgment follows proper judgment nisi as of course.—Scales v. Swan, 9 P. 163. What necessary to authorize final judgment for want of answer.—Jones v. Hart, 2 Ala. 73; Blair v. Rhodes, 5 Ala. 548; Lowry v. Clements, 9 Ala. 422; Dew v. State Bank, 9 Ala. 323; Morris v. Russell, 20 Ala. 357. Wood v. Russell, 22 Ala. 645; Goode v. Holcombe, 37 Ala. 94. Judgment for want of an answer could not be rendered on third day.—Randolph v. Peck, 4 Ala. 389.

made, that he believes it to be untrue; and thereupon, an issue must be made up, under the direction of the court, in which the plaintiff must allege in what respect the answer is untrue; and if required by either party, a jury must be impaneled to try such issue.

Contest must be inaugurated during term at which answer is made; court may extend time.—Graves v. Cooper, 8 Ala. 811; Lockhart v. Johnson, 9 Ala. 223; McDaniel v. Reed, 12 Ala. 615; Marston v. Carr, 17 Ala. 325; Ex parte Opdyke, 62 Ala. 68; Cross v. Spillman, 93 Ala. 170; Lindsay v. Morris, 100 Ala. 546; Brake v. Curd, 102 Ala. 339. Affidavit need only allege that affiant believes the answer to be untrue.—Donald v. Nelson, 95 Ala. 111; Brake v. Lehman v. Hudmon, 79 Ala. 532; s. c., 85 Ala. 135; Birmingham Nat. Bank v. Mayer, 104 Ala. 634. If issue insufficient objection should be made by demurrer; if frivolous, by motion to strike.—Lindsay v. Morris, 100 Ala. 546. Joinder in issue waives previous irregularities.—Hazard v. Franklin, 2 Ala. 349; Betts v. Brown, 5 Ala. 414; Marston v. Carr, 16 Ala. 325; Sevier v. Throckmorton, 33 Ala. 512; Birmingham Nat. Bank v. Mayer, 104 Ala. 634. If issue is formed against garnishee, he is liable for costs.—Thompson v. Allen, 4 S. & P. 184. On appeal from a justice issue must be tendered anew. Lehman v. Hudmon, 79 Ala. 532; s. c., 85 Ala. 135. Plaintiff is the actor and onus is on him; answer is evidence for him, but not for garnishee.—Myatt v. Lockhart, 9 Ala. 91; Price v. Mazange, 31 Ala. 701; Sevier v. Throckmorton, 33 Ala. 512; Godden v. Pierson, 42 Ala. 370; Lehman v. Hudmon, 79 Ala. 532.

2197 (2982) (3300) (2975) (2547). Contest of answer by defendant.—The defendant, upon the coming in of the answer, may allege that the garnishee is indebted to him in a larger sum than he has admitted, or is otherwise liable to him on a demand, the subject of garnishment, or that he holds money or effects of the defendant not admitted in his answer, which being reduced to writing, setting forth particularly in what respect the answer is deficient, and being sworn to, an issue must thereupon be made up, under the direction of the court, which must be tried by a jury, if required by either party; but such controversy shall not prevent the plaintiff from taking judgment upon the answer of the garnishee.

Jones v. Kolisenski, 11 Ala. 607; Edmondson v. DeKalb Co., 51 Ala. 103; Ex parte Opdyke, 62 Ala. 68; Cross v. Spillman, 93 Ala. 170.

2198 (2983) (3301) (2976) (2548). Judgment when answer is not sustained.—If such issue is found against the garnishee, judgment must be rendered against him in favor of the plaintiff, if necessary to satisfy his claim or judgment against the defendant, or in favor of the defendant, if such judgment has been satisfied.

White v. Simpson, 107 Ala. 386.

2199 (2984) (3302) (2977) (2549). On suggestion by garnishee of claim by another, such claimant made a party.—When the garnishee, by his answer as originally filed, or by any supplemental answer thereafter, at any time before final judgment against him, alleges that he has been notified that another person claims title to, or an interest in the debt or demand, or money, or effects, which by his answer he has admitted to be due or owing, or to be in his possession, the court must suspend proceedings against the garnishee, and cause a notice to issue to such person to appear at the next term of the court, and contest with the plaintiff the right to such debt, demand, money, or effects.

Suggestion of claim may be made and notice issued at any time after answer and before the termination of suit.—Camp v. Hatter, 11 Ala. 151; Ex parte Opdyke, 62 Ala. 68; Donald v. Nelson, 95 Ala. 111. If garnishee does not suggest claim no evidence of it can be received and judgment goes for plaintiff.—Moore v. Jones, 13 Ala. 291; Fowler v. Williamson, 52 Ala. 16; Ex parte Opdyke, 62 Ala. 68; Donald v. Nelson, 95 Ala, 111; Woodlawn v. Purvis, 108 Ala. 511. What sufficient notice to garnishee of adverse claim.—Fowler v. Williamson, 52 Ala. 16. One notice to several claimants sufficient.—Blackman v. Smith, 8 Ala. 203. Sufficient if answer of one of several joint garnishees discloses claim.—Smoot v. Eslava, 23 Ala. 659. Whenever any claim is disclosed, proceedings must be suspended and notice given to claimant; until then no judgment can be rendered against garnishee.—Payne v. Mayor, 4 Ala. 333; Covington v. Kelly, 6 Ala. 680; Johnson v. Burnett, 12 Ala. 743; Moore v. Jones, 13 Ala. 296; Evans v. Norman, 14 Ala. 662; Conoley v. Cheesborough, 21 Ala. 166; Andrews v. If bond to dissolve garnishment has been given proceedings against obligees suspended.—Guilford v. Reeves, 103 Ala. 301. Notice need not issue nor proceedings be suspended on suggestion that other creditors have garnished.—Brooks v. Hildreth, 22 Ala. 469; Security Loan Asso. v. Weems, 69 Ala. 584; Guilford v. Reeves, 103 Ala. 301. Plaintiff must be diligent to bring in claimant.—Mock v. King, 15 Ala. 66. Claimant must appear at term to which he is cited; court may extend time.—Ex parte Opdyke, 62 Ala. 68. Garnishee pays, after notice, at his peril.—Saller v. Ins. Co., 62 Ala. 221. Where fund belonged to woman's statutory separate estate.—Saunders v. Garrett, 33 Ala. 454; Flournoy v. Owens, 74 Ala. 446.

2200 (2985) (3303) (2978) (2550). Proceedings to try such claim.—If he appears, he must be required to propound his claim in writing, and make oath thereto, upon which the plaintiff must take issue in law, or in fact, and the issue in fact must be tried by a jury, if required by either party. If the issue be found for the plaintiff, judgment must be rendered against the garnishee on his answer; if for the contestant, the garnishee must be discharged.

If claimant fails to appear after notice he is estopped from setting up claim against garnishee.—Smoot v. Eslava, 23 Ala. 659; Saller v. Ins. Co., 62 Ala. 221. Sufficiency and mode of forming issue.—Goodwin v. Brooks, 6 Ala. 836; Moore v. Jones, 13 Ala. 296. Issue is between plaintiff and claimant; not between rival claimants.—Brooks v. Hildreth, 22 Ala. 469; Winslow v. Plummer, 50 Ala. 182. Burden on claimant to show consideration of claim, and that it arose before service of garnishment.—Camp v. Hatter, 11 Ala. 151; Scott v. Stattsworth, 12 Ala. 25; Winslow v. Bracken, 57 Ala. 368; Ex parte Opdyke, 62 Ala. 68; Clark v. Few, 62 Ala. 243. Facts tending to show a transfer before service are admissible. Brooks v. Hildreth, 22 Ala. 469. Claimant liable for costs if unsuccessful. Blackman v. Smith, 8 Ala. 203; Camp v. Hatter, 11 Ala. 151; Seals v. Holloway, 77 Ala. 344. Claimant cannot take advantage of irregularities in garnishment suit; may show that garnishment void.—Winslow v. Bracken, 57 Ala. 368; Clark v. Few, 62 Ala. 243; Reynolds v. Collins, 78 Ala. 94. If claimant prevails garnishee must be discharged.—Evitt v. Lowery Banking Co., 96 Ala. 381.

2201 (2986) (3304) (2979) (2551). When a contestant is a non-resident.—If the contestant be a non-resident, the contest must be stayed six months, and the same proceedings had as in the case of a non-resident defendant.

Sheppard v. Buford, 7 Ala. 90 (correcting Fortune v. State Bank, 4 Ala. 385).

2202 (2987) (3305) (2980) (2552). If resident contestant be not found, judgment against the garnishee.—If two notices to the resident contestant be returned "not found," judgment must be rendered against the garnishee on his answer.

Simmons v. Guyon, 57 Ala. 111; Donald v. Nelson, 95 Ala. 111; Guilford v. Reeves, 103 Ala. 301.

2204 (2989) (3307) (2982) (2554). Bills of exceptions in such cases.—Upon the trial of these collateral issues, either party may reserve any question by bill of exceptions for revision; and judgment for costs must be rendered against the unsuccessful party.

2205 (2990) (3308) (2983) (2555). Appeals.—An appeal lies to the supreme court at the instance of the plaintiff, the defendant, the garnishee, the contestant, or claimant.

2206 (2991) (3309) (2984) (2556). Garnishee recovers his costs on a discharge.—When the answer of the garnishee is not controverted, or, if controverted, is found for him, he is allowed the pay of a juror during his attendance, for which execution may issue; if there be no effects, then from the plaintiff, for which he may have judgment and execution.

2207 (2992) (3310) (2985) (2557). Proceedings on death of garnishee or contestant.—If the garnishee die after he has been summoned as garnishee, and pending the litigation, the proceedings may be revived against his legal representatives; so, if the contestant die, after notice to appear and contest with the plaintiff.

Linn v. Taylor, 42 Ala. 303.

ARTICLE 3.

GARNISHMENTS ISSUED BY JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

2208. What provisions applicable.—The provisions of this Code relating to garnishments and proceedings therein, not contrary to the provisions of this article and so far as applicable, shall apply to and govern in like cases triable before justices of the peace.

2209 (3340) (3688) (3291) (2844). Answer of garnishee; evidence on appeal.—The garnishee must answer on oath in writing, or his statement must be reduced to writing by the justice; and if an appeal is taken, the answer made before the justice is evidence against the garnishee in the circuit court.

Proceedings on appeal by garnishee.—Lehman v. Hudmon, 79 Ala. 532; s. c., 85 Ala. 135. When defendant appeals from judgment against himself and plaintiff recovers judgment in appellate court, the justice's judgment against the garnishee may be then enforced by procedendo to the justice.—Edwards v. Nordholm, Ala. (22 So. 549).

2210 (3342) (3690) (3293) (2846). Contest of garnishee's an- swer and collateral issues tried without jury.—When the answer of a garnishee is contested, or when any collateral issue arises from a contest between a transferee or claimant of the debt attached and the plaintiff, the question must be decided by the justice, without the intervention of a jury.

2211 (3343) (3691) (3294) (2847). Execution for balance of judgment unsatisfied.—When the property in the hands of the garnishee is not sufficient to satisfy the judgment, execution may issue for the residue, and be levied on any other property of the defendant subject to levy and sale.

Plaintiff may file bill in equity to enforce vendor's lien.—White v. Simpson, 107 Ala. 386.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY. 2213–2240.

2213 (24) (24) (27) (26). House of representatives.—The house of representatives of the general assembly consists of one hundred members distributed among the several counties as follows: The counties of Autauga, Baldwin, Bibb, Blount, Butler, Cherokee, Chilton, Choctaw, Clay, Cleburne, Coffee, Colbert, Conecuh, Coosa, Covington, Crenshaw, Cullman, Dale, DeKalb, Elmore, Escambia, Etowah, Fayette, Franklin, Geneva, Greene, Lamar, Lawrence, Limestone, Macon, Marion, Marshall, Monroe, Pickens, Randolph, Shelby, St. Clair, Walker, Washington and Winston shall each elect one representative. The counties of Barbour, Bullock, Calhoun, Chambers, Clarke, Hale, Henry, Jackson, Lee, Lauderdale, Lowndes, Madison, Marengo, Morgan, Perry, Pike, Russell, Sumter, Talladega, Tallapoosa, Tuscaloosa and Wilcox shall each elect two representatives. The counties of Dallas and Mobile shall each elect three representatives. The county of Montgomery shall elect four representatives; and the county of Jefferson shall elect six representatives.

2214 (28) (28) (30) (27). Senatorial districts.—The senate of the general assembly shall consist of thirty-three members, and the state is divided into thirty-three senatorial districts, as follows: First, Lauderdale and Limestone; second, Lawrence and Morgan; third, Winston, Blount and Cullman; fourth, Madison; fifth, Jackson and Marshall; sixth, Etowah and St. Clair; seventh, Calhoun and Cleburne; eighth, Talladega and Clay; ninth, Randolph and Chambers; tenth, Tallapoosa and Coosa; eleventh, Tuscaloosa; twelfth, Lamar, Fayette and Walker; thirteenth, Jefferson; fourteenth, Pickens and Sumter; fifteenth, Chilton, Shelby and Elmore; sixteenth, Autauga and Lowndes; seventeenth, Butler, Conecuh and Covington; eighteenth, Perry and Bibb; nineteenth, Choctaw, Clarke and Washington; twentieth, Marengo; twenty-first, Monroe, Escambia and Baldwin; twenty-second, Wilcox; twenty-third, Henry, Dale and Geneva; twenty-fourth, Barbour; twenty-fifth, Pike, Coffee and Crenshaw; twenty-sixth, Macon and Bullock; twenty-seventh, Lee and Russell; twenty-eighth, Montgomery; twenty-ninth, DeKalb and Cherokee; thirtieth, Dallas; thirty-first, Colbert, Franklin and Marion; thirty-second, Greene and Hale; thirty-third, Mobile.

2215 (31) (31) (37) (32). Biennial sessions and length; place of meeting.—The general assembly shall meet biennially, at the capitol, in the senate chamber, and in the hall of the house of representatives (except in cases of the destruction of the capitol, or epidemic, when the governor may convene them at such place as he may deem best), on the day prescribed by law, and shall not remain in session longer than fifty days.

2216 (32) (32) (38). Time of meeting.—The general assembly shall meet on Tuesday after the second Monday in November, 1898, and biennially thereafter on the same day.

2217 (33) (33) (39) (33). Election by general assembly; how conducted.—All elections by the general assembly are to be conducted as follows:

1. On the day and hour appointed for the election, the members of both houses must assemble in the hall of the house of representatives.

2. The names of the members of each house are to be called by their respective clerks, each member voting viva voce as his name is called.

3. The result must then be ascertained by the president of the senate and the speaker of the house, and announced by the last-named officer.

4. The votes are to be given for but one election at the same time and a majority of the whole number of votes given is necessary to a choice.

2218 (34) (34) (40) (34). Committee appointed to examine offices of auditor and treasurer.—During the first week of each regular session of the general assembly, the presiding officers must appoint a committee of three members of each house, jointly to examine the offices of auditor and treasurer.

2220 (36, 37) (36, 37) (42, 43) (36, 37). What the committee must report.—Such committee must report to their respective houses during the session of the general assembly the amount of money received into and paid out of the treasury during the two preceding fiscal years, on warrants drawn by the auditor, if such auditor was authorized by law to draw such warrants; specifying such as, in their opinion, were drawn without authority, and their reasons therefor; the time when the treasurer in office entered upon his duties, and the amount of money received by him up to the time of such examination; the balance in the treasury on the first day of November preceding, and at the time of such examination; the condition of such offices, and the correctness of all books and accounts required by law to be kept therein.

2221 (38) (38) (44) (38). Papers of general assembly, deposit of.—At the close of each session, the secretary of the senate, and the clerk of the house of representatives, and secretary of state must select all the papers belonging to the general assembly, except such as relate to unfinished business, and deposit them in the office of the secretary of state.

2222 (39) (39) (45) (39). Engrossed copies of laws, etc., to be preserved.—The engrossed copies of all laws and joint resolutions passed by the general assembly must be preserved by the chairman of the enrolling committee, and deposited in the office of the secretary of state.

2223 (40) (40) (46) (40). Papers and documents, how filed and arranged.—The secretary of the senate, and the clerk of the house of representatives must, within ten days after the adjournment of each session, assort all the papers and documents of their respective houses, relating to the unfinished business of the session, and arrange them in files, as follows:

1. All petitions, with the accompanying documents, to be arranged and filed in alphabetical order, tied up in convenient packages, with a label on each, showing the character of the documents, and the session to which they relate.

2. All bills rejected on the first reading must be arranged, filed and labeled in like order; and so of bills rejected on the second and third reading; the labels in each case showing on what reading the bills were rejected.

3. All communications from the governor, auditor, treasurer, or other officer or person, which have been received during the session, and not entered at length on the journals, must be arranged, filed and labeled in separate packages, showing from what department, officer, or person the same were received.

4. Reports from standing and select committees must be arranged, filed and labeled in like manner.

5. Any other papers or documents, not included under either of the foregoing heads, must be arranged, filed and labeled as miscellaneous papers; the labels showing the session to which they belong, and, as near as practicable, the character of the papers; and in every instance, to which branch of the general assembly they belong.

2224 (41) (41) (47) (41). Secretary of state to receipt for papers.—The records, papers and documents, thus arranged, filed and labeled, must be delivered to the secretary of state, who, upon receipt of the same, must certify that such secretary and clerk have respectively complied with the requirements of the preceding section; and no warrant must be drawn by the auditor, and no money paid by the treasurer, for such services, without the production of such certificate, which must be kept by the treasurer as a voucher.

2225 (42) (42) (48) (42). Oath of office; by whom administered.—The oath of office may be administered to the members of the general assembly by any judge of the supreme, circuit or probate court, or justice of the peace, or the president of the senate, or the speaker of the house of representatives; and the president of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives may be sworn in by any member of their respective houses.

2226 (43) (43) (49) (43). Pay and mileage of officers and members.—The president of the senate and speaker of the house of representatives shall each receive six dollars for each day's attendance, and each member of the general assembly shall receive four dollars for each day's attendance; the president of the senate and speaker of the house and each member of the general assembly shall be allowed ten cents for every mile's travel in going to and returning from the seat of government, according to the distance herein specified, to wit: Autauga, thirty miles; Baldwin, one hundred and ninety-five miles; Barbour, one hundred miles; Bibb, one hundred and five miles; Blount, one hundred and fifty miles; Bullock, forty-five miles; Butler, forty-five miles; Calhoun, one hundred and fifty miles; Chambers, eighty-three miles; Chilton, forty miles; Cleburne, one hundred and sixty miles; Cherokee, one hundred and eighty-three miles; Choctaw, two hundred and twenty-three miles; Clarke, two hundred and twenty-three miles; Clay, one hundred and thirty-five miles; Coffee, one hundred and two miles; Conecuh, eighty-two miles; Colbert, two hundred and twenty-six miles; Coosa, one hundred and twenty-six miles; Covington, one hundred and fifteen miles; Crenshaw, sixty-seven miles; Cullman, one hundred and fifty miles; Dale, one hundred and four miles; Dallas, fifty miles; DeKalb, one hundred and eighty-six miles; Elmore, twenty miles; Escambia, one hundred and fourteen miles; Etowah, one hundred and sixty miles; Fayette, one hundred and ninety-one miles; Franklin, two hundred and forty-four miles; Geneva, one hundred and twenty miles; Greene, one hundred and eighty-seven miles; Hale, one hundred and two miles; Henry, one hundred and ten miles; Jackson, two hundred and fifty miles; Jefferson, ninety-six miles; Lauderdale, two hundred and thirty-one miles; Lamar, two hundred and fifty miles; Lawrence, two hundred and eighteen miles; Lee, sixty-six miles; Limestone, two hundred and fourteen miles; Lowndes, twenty-five miles; Macon, forty-five miles; Madison, two hundred and fifteen miles; Marengo, one hundred and five miles; Marion, two hundred and fifty miles; Marshall, two hundred and forty-two miles; Mobile, one hundred and eighty-five miles; Monroe, one hundred and nine miles; Montgomery, ——; Morgan, one hundred and eighty-three miles; Perry, eighty miles; Pickens, one hundred and eighty miles; Pike, seventy-six miles; Randolph, one hundred and twenty miles; Russell, seventy-four miles; Shelby, seventy-five miles; St. Clair, one hundred and forty miles; Sumter, one hundred and thirty-five miles; Talladega, one hundred and ten miles; Tuscaloosa, one hundred and fifty-two miles; Tallapoosa, ninety-seven miles; Walker, one hundred and fifty-three miles; Washington, two hundred and fifty miles; Wilcox, one hundred and ten miles; Winston, one hundred and eighty-eight miles.

2227 (44) (44) (50) (44). Pay in case of sickness.—If, in consequence of sickness, any member is detained, after leaving home, in going to the seat of government, or is unable to attend the house, or senate, after he arrives there, he is entitled to the same pay as an attending member.

2229 (46) (45) (51). Mileage when intervals between sessions are not more than four days.—When the interval between a regular and called session, or between a called and regular session, is not more than four days, no mileage shall be allowed.

2230 (47) (46) (52) (45). Amount of pay due, how certified. The compensation due to the officers and members of the general assembly must be certified by the president and speaker, respectively, to the auditor, who must issue his warrant therefor on the state treasurer.

2231 (48) (47). Notice of local law.—The notice required in article four, section 24, of the constitution, shall be given in some newspaper printed in the county where the passage of the local or special law is desired, or by posting such notice at three public places in the county or locality where the matter or things to be affected by the proposed legislation may be situated. If the notice be given through a newspaper, it must be given at least three times, commencing at least twenty days before the introduction of the bill; and a copy of the notice, specifying the time when the same was made and how made, and verified by the affidavit of a responsible person taken before a justice of the peace or notary public, shall accompany the bill on its introduction into either house of the general assembly.

2234 (51) (50). Compensation of secretary and clerk and assistants; additional duties of assistants.—The secretary of the senate, and the clerk of the house of representatives shall each receive six dollars per day. The assistant secretary of the senate and the assistant clerk of the house of representatives shall each receive six dollars per day; and, in addition to their regular duties, shall keep a register of all the bills, resolutions and memorials that may be introduced by the members of their respective houses, showing the title of each bill, resolution and memorial, the time when, and by whom introduced, the date of their several readings, and, if referred, to what committee, and the final disposition thereof.

2236 (53) (52). Pages and their compensation; messenger of the house and his compensation.—The president of the senate shall appoint two pages for the senate, and the speaker of the house of representatives shall appoint three pages and one messenger for the house. The pages and messenger shall each receive two dollars and a half per day.

2237 (55) (54). Committee clerks, and additional clerical assistance; compensation.—Each house may, by resolution, provide for the employment of committee clerks, when necessary, whose compensation shall not exceed four dollars per day; and also for the employment of additional clerical assistance, when the business of either house shall require it; and the clerks so employed shall each receive four dollars per day for the time actually employed, to be certified as other officers.

2238 (54) (53). Servants employed by doorkeepers; compensation.—The doorkeeper of the senate may employ one servant for the senate, and the doorkeeper of the house of representatives may employ not more than two servants for the house, who shall each receive two dollars and a half per day.

2240. Secretary of senate and clerk of house to file papers and furnish copy of journal.—Within forty days after the adjournment of any session of the general assembly, the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives must file and arrange the papers of their respective houses in the office of the secretary of state and copy and deliver to the public printer the journals of their respective houses, with proper indexes thereto; and for such services, when performed, they shall receive respectively, the sum of four hundred dollars.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY. 2241-2246.

2242. His duties.—It shall be the duty of the state geologist to devote such portion of his time as may not be required for the discharge of his duties as a professor in the University of Alabama, to making exploration and examination of the mineral, agricultural and other natural resources of the state so as to determine accurately the quality and character of its soils and their adaptation to agricultural purposes, and especially the occurrence and quality of phosphates, marls, gypsum, and other natural fertilizers; its mineral resources and their location, character and capacity for development; Feb. 19, 1883, p. 57. Ib. Feb. 3, 1854, p. 41. Feb. 6, 1891, p. 427.

its water-powers and their capacities; its forest trees and their utilities and distribution; and it shall be the duty of him and his assistants, whenever they discover any valuable deposits of iron or other ore, coal, phosphates, marls, or other substances of value, to notify immediately the owners of the land upon which such deposits occur. He shall make to the general assembly biennially a report of his explorations and examination, together with analyses of soils, ores, minerals and mineral waters, with maps, charts, and drawings; which report shall be printed and shall be the exclusive property of the state. He shall also make collections of specimens and illustrations of the geological and agricultural resources of the state, one of which shall be deposited in the cabinet of the University of Alabama, a second in the cabinet of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and a third in the office of the commissioner of agriculture in the capitol at Montgomery.

Feb. 19, 1883, p. 57.

2243. Assistants.—The state geologist shall have power to appoint, with the approval of the governor, such assistants, including a competent chemist, and for such periods and with such compensation as he may deem necessary to the best interests of the survey.

Feb. 6, 1891, p. 427, §2.

2244. Annual appropriation.—There is appropriated, out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the geological and agricultural survey provided for in this chapter, annually, the sum of seven thousand and five hundred dollars. Upon the requisition of the state geologist, when approved by the governor, the auditor shall draw his warrant on the treasurer for the amount appropriated, in such sums as may be needed from time to time for the purposes of the survey herein provided for; and for all expenditures made under the provisions of this chapter, except for the payment of the salary of the state geologist, the approval of the governor must be obtained, and the vouchers of the state geologist for all such expenditures must be filed with the auditor and a statement of his receipts and expenditures shall accompany each biennial report of the state geologist.

Ib.

2245. Salary.—The state geologist shall receive out of such appropriation a salary of fifty dollars a month as state geologist during the time he shall be engaged in performing his duties as professor of mineralogy and geology in, and is paid a salary by, the University of Alabama; and when not so employed and paid by the said university, he shall receive a salary of two hundred dollars a month.

Ib.

2246. Expenses of survey.—The balance of the annual appropriation herein provided for, shall be devoted, so far as may be necessary to execute the purposes of this chapter, to the discharge of the expenses of the survey, including the compensation of all temporary and permanent assistants; traveling expenses of the geological corps; purchase of apparatus and material for making chemical analyses; other necessary expenditures for outfit; expenses incurred in providing for the transportation, arrangement and proper exhibition of the geological and other collections made under authority of this chapter, and the engraving of maps and sections to illustrate the biennial reports.

ARTICLE 1.

APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIANS OF MINORS.

Domicil of infant.—Carlisle v. Tuttle, 30 Ala. 613; Johnson v. Copeland, 35 Ala. 521; Daniel v. Hill, 52 Ala. 430; Metcalf v. Lowther, 56 Ala. 312; Desribes v. Wilmer, 69 Ala. 25; Moses v. Faber, 81 Ala. 445; Allgood v. Williams, 92 Ala. 551; Merrill v. Morrissett, 76 Ala. 433. Appointment of guardians during late civil war.—Troy v. Ellerbe, 48 Ala. 624; Corbitt v. Carroll, 50 Ala. 315; Parks v. Coffey, 52 Ala. 32; Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368. What considerations should control court in making appointment.—Lee v. Lee, 67 Ala. 406; Desribes v. Wilmer, 69 Ala. 25. Appointment of non-resident not void, but voidable.—Martin v. Talley, 72 Ala. 23; Broughton v. Bradley, 30 Ala. 679; Brock v. Frank, 51 Ala. 85. Effect of marriage of female guardian.—Carlisle v. Tuttle, 39 Ala. 613; Pistole v. Street, 5 Porter, 64; Cavanaugh v. Thompson, 16 Ala. 817; Williamson v. Hill, 6 Port. 184; McGinty v. Mabry, 23 Ala. 672; Calloway v. Gilmer, 36 Ala. 354; Martin v. Foster, 38 Ala. 688; Gravett v. Malone, 54 Ala. 19. Validity of appointment cannot be collaterally assailed. Speight v. Knight, 11 Ala. 461. See same subject in "Executors and Administrators." When stranger preferred to father.—Huie v. Nixon, 6 Port. 77. When guardian estopped from denying validity of appointment.—Harbin v. Bell, 54 Ala. 389. Trustees in invitum, when.—Corbitt v. Carroll, 50 Ala. 315; Lee v. Lee, 67 Ala. 406. Jurisdiction of chancery court not affected.—Lee v. Lee, 55 Ala. 590; Fulgham v. Herstein, 77 Ala. 496.

Selection of guardian by minor.—Kelly v. Smith, 15 Ala. 687; Moses v. Faber, 81 Ala. 445.

2249 (2372) (2750) (2410) (2014). Father entitled to preference; guardian's control of ward.—When a minor has a father living, and has an estate in his own right, a guardian must be appointed for him; and his father, if a suitable and proper person, and willing to give bond and qualify as guardian, is entitled to a preference. No such guardian can exercise any control over the person of his ward during the life of the father, or during the life of the mother, if the ward is a female, or a male under the age of fourteen years.

Removal of parent from custody of minor.—Striplin v. Ware, 36 Ala. 87. Custody of children on divorce or separation.—Anonymous, 55 Ala. 428; Lee v. Lee, 55 Ala. 590; Hansford v. Hansford, 10 Ala. 561; Bryan v. Bryan, 34 Ala. 516.

2250 (2373) (2751) (2411) (2015). Testamentary guardian. Guardians may be appointed by the last will and testament of the father, if the right is claimed within six months after the will is admitted to probate; but the mother is entitled to the custody of the person of the ward until it is fourteen years of age.

Appointment of administrator with will annexed, confers no authority to act as testamentary guardian.—Dunham v. Hatcher, 31 Ala. 483; Desribes v. Wilmer, 69 Ala. 25.

2251 (2374) (2752) (2412). Non-resident minors.—The court of probate of the county in which the property, or a part of the property of a minor, not residing in the state, may be, has authority to appoint a guardian of the property within this state of such minor, but only one such appointment shall exist at the same time.

2252 (2375) (2756) (2452). Selection of guardian.—If there be two or more applicants for the guardianship of a minor, the judge of probate must prefer that person who is of nearest relationship, and will, in the opinion of the judge, best manage the estate of the ward.

2253 (2376) (2765) (2423). General guardian of county.—The judge of probate may appoint a general guardian for the county, who must be appointed and act as guardian when no other fit person applies for appointment and qualifies; the term of office of such general guardian continues during the term of the judge by whom he is appointed, unless he is reappointed; and if reappointed, his bond, if deemed sufficient, shall remain as a continuing security, or he may be required to execute a new bond.

ARTICLE 2.

APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIANS OF PERSONS OF UNSOUND MIND.

2255 (2390) (2753, 2754) (2414, 3193) (2016, 2754). Appointment.—The court of probate has authority, and it is a duty to appoint guardians for persons of unsound mind residing in the county, having an estate, real or personal, and of persons of unsound mind residing without the state, having within the county property requiring the care of a guardian, under the limitations, and in the mode hereinafter prescribed.

2258 (2393) (2758) (3190) (2751). Jury summoned; writ of arrest.—The judge of probate must issue a writ directed to the sheriff, commanding him to summon twelve disinterested persons of the neighborhood for the trial thereof, and also issue subpœnas for witnesses, as the parties may require, returnable to the time of trial; he must also issue a writ directed to the sheriff to take the person alleged to be of unsound mind, and, if consistent with his health or safety, have him present at the place of trial.

2260 (2395) (2760) (3192) (2753). On verdict of insanity, papers filed, and guardian appointed.—If the jury find by their verdict that the facts alleged in the petition are true, and that such person is of unsound mind, the court must cause the petition, and all the proceedings thereon to be recorded, and appoint a suitable guardian of such person.

Inquisition without notice invalid.—McCurry v. Hooper, 12 Ala. 823; Eslava v. Lepretre, 21 Ala. 504; Molton v. Henderson, 62 Ala. 426. Service of writ of arrest sufficient.—Fore v. Fore, 44 Ala. 478. Appointment without inquisition void.—Eslava v. Lepretre, 21 Ala. 504; Moody v. Bibb, 50 Ala. 245; Molton v. Henderson, 62 Ala. 426. If inquisition had before sheriff, void.—Laughinghouse v. Laughinghouse, 38 Ala. 257. Substantial compliance with statute sufficient.—Fore v. Fore, 44 Ala. 478. Non compos mentis defined.—In re Carmichael, 36 Ala. 514; Rawdon v. Rawdon, 28 Ala. 565; Stubbs v. Houston, 33 Ala. 555; White v. Farley, 81 Ala. 563.

2261 (2396) (2761). Proceedings when person of unsound mind is confined in asylum.—If the person alleged to be of unsound mind is a resident of the county, and is at the time of the application confined in an hospital or asylum within or without the state, the inquisition may be had and taken without notice to him; but on the filing of the application, the court must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent and defend for him; it is the duty of such guardian by answer to put in issue the facts stated in the application, and to employ counsel at the expense of such person of unsound mind to appear and defend.

2262 (2397) (2804) (3197) (2758). Application for revocation of guardianship.—At any time after the inquisition, the person ascertained to be of unsound mind, by himself, or by next friend, may apply in writing to the court of probate for a revocation of the proceedings against him, and of the letters of guardianship; the application to be accompanied by the certificate in writing of two physicians, or of two other competent persons, stating that after examination of such person, they believe him to be of sound mind.

2266 (2401) (2803) (3196) (2757). Revocation on application of guardian.—If, at any time after his appointment, the guardian becomes satisfied that the ward has been restored to sanity, and is capable of managing his estate, and the judge of probate is of opinion, from the proof and the facts stated, that such representation is correct, he must make an order that the guardian be discharged, and that the estate of the ward be restored to him.

2267 (2402) (2755) (2415). Non-resident persons of unsound mind.—The court of probate of a county in which a person of unsound mind residing without the state may have property, real or personal, requiring the care of a guardian, may appoint a guardian for the property of such person which may be within this state, if such person has been declared of unsound mind by a court having jurisdiction in the state of his residence.

2268 (2403) (2755) (2415). Application for appointment of guardian for such non-resident; proceedings.—The application for the appointment of a guardian for such person, must be in writing, must be verified by affidavit, and must state the name, sex, age and residence of such person, the court by which he was declared of unsound mind, and the property requiring the care of a guardian. On the filing of such application, the court must appoint a day for the hearing thereof, of which notice must be given for three successive weeks by publication in some newspaper published in the county, or if there be no such paper published in the county, by publication in a paper published in an adjoining county, and a copy of such paper must by the judge of probate be mailed to such person at the post-office nearest his residence; and the court must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent and defend for such person, and it is the duty of such guardian to put in issue the facts stated in the application; if on the hearing the application is not granted, the court must render a decree against the applicant for all the costs of the proceedings, including the reasonable compensation of the guardian ad litem.

2269 (2404) (2756) (2452). Selection of guardian.—If there are two or more applicants for the guardianship of a person of unsound mind, the court must prefer that person who is of nearest relationship, and will, in the judgment of the court, best manage the estate of the ward.

2270 (2405) (2765, 2767) (2423, 2416) (2017). General guardian; sheriff may be appointed.—The general guardian of the county must be appointed guardian of a person of unsound mind, if no other suitable person applies for appointment and qualifies; and if there be no general guardian, the sheriff must be appointed.

BONDS OF GUARDIANS; RIGHTS OF SURETIES.

2272 (2378, 2406). Bond of guardian.—Before the issue of letters of guardianship, other than letters to the general guardian, or to the sheriff, the judge of probate must require the guardian appointed to enter into bond with sufficient sureties, payable to the judge of probate, in a penalty prescribed by him, which must be a sum not less than double the estimated value of the personal property, and double the rental value of the real estate of the ward for a term of three years, or, at the discretion of the judge, may be a sum equal to double the estimated value of the estate of the ward, real and personal, with condition for the faithful performance of all the duties which are, or may be required of him by law.

What is valid bond.—Brunson v. Brooks, 68 Ala. 248; Evans v. Daughtry, 84 Ala. 68; Wright v. Lang, 66 Ala. 389; Smith v. Kirkland, 81 Ala. 345; Marks v. Bank, 79 Ala. 550; Alston v. Alston, 34 Ala. 15. Signatures to bond, when sufficient.—Hall v. Hall, 43 Ala. 488. When condition does not limit guardianship to person of infant.—Alston v. Alston, 34 Ala. 15. No action can be maintained while relation of guardian and ward exists.—Eiland v. Chandler, 8 Ala. 781. Reformation of bond in equity.—Hall v. Hall, 43 Ala. 488; Whitehead v. Brown, 18 Ala. 682; Bailey v. Timberlake, 74 Ala. 221; Robertson v. Walker, 51 Ala. 484. Liability on bond.—Moore v. Wallis, 18 Ala. 458; Williams v. Harrison, 19 Ala. 277; Alston v. Alston, 34 Ala. 15; Tyson v. Sanderson, 45 Ala. 364; Corbitt v. Carroll, 50 Ala. 315; Anderson v. Thomas, 54 Ala. 104; Lee v. Lee, 67 Ala. 406; s. c., 55 Ala. 590; Stephens v. Taylor, 62 Ala. 269; Chancy v. Thweatt, 91 Ala. 329; Jones v. Beverly, 45 Ala. 161; Owens v. Grimsley, 44 Ala. 359. When action at law cannot be maintained.—Hailey v. Boyd, 64 Ala. 399.

2273 (2383, 2407). Bond of guardian obtaining order to sell lands.—A guardian, other than the general guardian of the county, or the sheriff, or a testamentary guardian relieved from giving bond with sureties, who has not given bond in double the estimated value of the property or estate, real and personal, of the ward, must not obtain an order for the sale of lands of the ward and must not make sale of any lands of the ward, until he has given bond with sufficient sureties, in a penalty equal to double the estimated value of such lands, payable to the judge of probate, and with condition that he will faithfully account for the proceeds of such sale.

2274 (2379) (2762) (2417) (2018). Testamentary guardian may be relieved from giving bond.—A father may by his last will relieve the guardian of his appointment for his minor child or children from giving bond and sureties for the faithful performance of his duties as guardian; but the authority of such guardian shall not extend to any other property or estate of such minor child or children, than such as is derived by gift, devise, descent, or distribution from the father, unless he give bond, with sufficient sureties, as is required of other guardians.

2275 (2380) (2762) (2417) (2018). Bond may be required of testamentary guardian.—Before the issue of letters of guardianship to a testamentary guardian, relieved from giving bond and sureties, or at any time thereafter, if the judge of probate deems it necessary for the safety of such minor child or children, he may require of such guardian bond with sufficient sureties; or, on the application of such minor child or children, by next friend, and for good cause shown, may require of such guardian bond with sufficient sureties; in either case, if such guardian fails, for ten days after the requisition of such bond, to give the same, the judge of probate must withhold from him letters of guardianship, or if letters have issued, must remove him, and recall and revoke such letters.

2276 (2381) (2766) (2424). Bond of general guardian.—The general guardian of the county must give bond with at least two good and sufficient sureties, in a penalty to be prescribed by the judge of probate and payable to him, with condition to faithfully perform all the duties which are, or may be required of him by law during the time he acts as such guardian.

2277 (2382) (2767) (2416) (2017). Additional bond of sheriff as guardian.—If the sheriff is appointed guardian of a minor, or of a person of unsound mind, and when the appointment is made, or at any time subsequent during the continuance of the guardianship, the judge of probate is of the opinion the official bond of such sheriff is not sufficient security for the protection of the ward, he may require of him an additional official bond, in such penalty as he may prescribe; and if such sheriff, for ten days after notice that such additional bond is required, fails to give the same, he vacates his office, and the judge of probate must certify the vacancy to the appointing power.

2278 (2384, 2408) (2764) (2418) (2019). New or additional bond may be required.—The judge of probate has authority, and it is his duty, whenever he deems it necessary for the safety of the ward, to require the guardian to give a new or additional bond, and, if on notice of such requisition such guardian fails for ten days to give such new or additional bond, to remove him and revoke his letters.

Sureties not liable after discharge.—Hamner v. Mason, 24 Ala. 480; Lee v. Lee, 55 Ala. 590; s. c., 67 Ala. 406.

2279 (2385, 2409) (2764) (2418) (2019). Discharge of surety; new bond.—Upon the application in writing of any surety or sureties upon the bond of a guardian, requesting to be discharged from future liability as such surety or sureties, or upon the application in writing of the personal representative, or of an heir or devisee of a deceased surety upon such bond, requesting that the estate of such deceased surety be discharged from future liability by reason of such suretyship, it shall be the duty of the court to give to such guardian notice of such application and to require him, within fifteen days after the service of the notice, to make a new bond; and upon the failure to make such bond, such guardian shall be removed and his letters revoked; and upon such removal he shall make settlement of his guardianship. Any number of persons having the right to make application under this section may join in the application.

2280. Effect of new bond.—When a new bond is given under the preceding section, the surety on whose application, or the estate of the deceased surety on whose behalf the application was made, as the case may be, is discharged as to all breaches subsequent to the execution and approval of the new bond.

2281 (2387). Informal or irregular bond.—The bond of the general guardian of the county, or of the guardian of a minor, or of a person of unsound mind, is valid and operative as a statutory bond, and is of the same obligation, force and effect as a statutory bond, though it may not be approved, or in the penalty, or payable, or with the condition required by law.

2282 (2388). Conditional execution or delivery of bond.—A surety on the bond of the general guardian of the county, or on the bond of the guardian of a minor, or person of unsound mind, cannot avoid liability thereon, on the ground that he signed or delivered it on condition that it should not be delivered to the judge of probate, or should not become perfect, unless it was executed by some other person who does not execute it.

2283 (2389). Judge liable for neglect or omission in taking bond.—The judge of probate, and the sureties on his official bond are liable to any person injured for any neglect or omission of the judge in not taking from a guardian a good and sufficient bond, or for taking thereon insufficient surety; or for the neglect or omission to require the execution of a new, or of an additional bond, in the cases in which such bond is required by law, if he knows, or has good cause to believe that the case exists in which such new or additional bond should be required.

2284 (2386) (2763) (2419) (2020). Approving, filing and record of bonds.—All bonds given by guardians must be approved by the judge of probate issuing the letters of guardianship, and must be filed and recorded in his office.

DUTY AND AUTHORITY OF GUARDIANS; LEASE AND SALE OF PROPERTY; MAINTENANCE; REINVESTMENT.

2285 (2411) (2770) (2420) (2021). Guardians to return an inventory.—Within three months after the appointment, the guardian must make and subscribe, upon oath, an inventory of all the estate, real and personal, of the ward, and subsequently, as additional property may be received, which must be filed and recorded.

2286 (2412) (2773) (2426) (2024). Management of ward's estate, and loan of his money.—It is the duty of the guardian to manage the estate of his ward frugally, and to improve it to the best of his skill and ability. He must, if practicable, lend out all surplus money of the ward on bond and mortgage, or on good personal security, and, if the bond is not renewed annually, require the interest to be paid at the end of each year.

No loans made when security doubtful.—McLean v. Hosea, 14 Ala. 194; Hall v. Hall, 43 Ala. 488; Ashley v. Martin, 50 Ala. 537; Lee v. Lee, 55 Ala. 590; s. c., 67 Ala. 406. Guardian not responsible when good security taken. Newman v. Reed, 50 Ala. 297; Gould v. Hayes, 19 Ala. 438; Henderson v. Simmons, 33 Ala. 291; Ivey v. Coleman, 42 Ala. 409; Stewart v. Stewart, 31 Ala. 207; Ashley v. Martin, 50 Ala. 537. When guardian liable for interest on moneys not loaned.—Thompson v. Thompson, 92 Ala. 545; Brand v. Abbott, 42 Ala. 499; Bryant v. Craig, 12 Ala. 354; Owen v. Peebles, 42 Ala. 338; Brewer v. Ernest, 81 Ala. 435. Mortgage securing ward's money, being accounted for by guardian, becomes his property.—Wright v. Robinson, 94 Ala. 479. Want of diligence.—Mason v. Buchanan, 62 Ala. 110; Ferguson v. Lowery, 54 Ala. 510; Harbin v. Bell, 54 Ala. 389; Ashley v. Martin, 50 Ala. 537; Brewer v. Ernest, 81 Ala. 435; Stewart v. McMurry, 82 Ala. 269.

2287 (2413) (2774) (2427). Debtors to guardians to pay compound interest.—All contracts made with guardians, verbal or written, for the payment of money, bear compound interest after maturity, if not otherwise expressed; and judgments rendered thereon also bear compound interest.

See citations to section 2348.

2288. Jurisdiction of court of probate as to real estate of the ward.—The court of probate from which the appointment of a guardian of a person of unsound mind, or of a minor, is derived, has jurisdiction of the real estate of the ward situated in any county in the state.

Matthews v. Matthews, 104 Ala. 303, overruling Turnipseed v. Fitzpatrick, 75 Ala. 297.

2289 (2414). Lease of lands.—The guardian may, publicly or privately, lease the lands of the ward for a term not exceeding one year, making a report thereof to the court of probate.

2291 (2416). Report of leasing.—If the application is granted, the guardian must, within thirty days after making the lease, report the same in writing, under oath, to the court of probate, accompanied with a duplicate of the lease; and if upon examination the court is satisfied that the terms of the order of the court have been complied with, and that the payment of the annual rent is properly secured, an order of confirmation must be made and entered of record. Until such order of confirmation, the lease is not valid and operative. If the court is not satisfied that there has been compliance with the terms of the order, or that the payment of the annual rent is secure, an order must be entered rejecting the report; and the guardian may proceed to a subsequent leasing, subject to rejection or confirmation by the court.

2292 (2417). Lease of mineral lands.—On the application in writing of a guardian, verified by affidavit, showing that it would be to the interest of the ward that mines or quarries should be opened on lands of the ward possessing, or supposed to possess minerals, ores, clay, stone, slate, or valuable deposits, or that mines, or quarries which have been opened should be worked, the court of probate may, by order, authorize the guardian to lease, publicly or privately, such lands for a term not exceeding ten years. Such order must not be made until after the appointment of a guardian ad litem to represent the ward, and until by proof the court is satisfied that it would be to the interest of the ward to lease the lands for the purpose of opening and working mines or quarries thereon, or for the working of mines or quarries which have been opened.

2293 (2418). Rent or royalty.—The court may authorize the guardian to lease such lands for a rent payable in money at such time as the court may appoint, or for a royalty or galiage rent, or for a footage rent, as to the court may seem most advantageous to the ward.

2294 (2419). Report of leasing.—The guardian must, within thirty days after making such lease, report the same in writing, under oath, to the court of probate, accompanied with a duplicate of the lease; and if upon examination the court is satisfied that the terms of the order have been complied with, and that the payment of the rent or royalty reserved is properly secured, an order of confirmation must be made and entered. Until such order of confirmation, the lease is not valid and operative. If the court is not satisfied that there has been compliance with the terms of the order, or that the payment of the rent or royalty reserved is properly secured, an order rejecting the report must be entered; and the guardian may proceed to a subsequent leasing, subject to rejection or confirmation by the court.

2295 (2420). Land held in common with adults.—Such lease must not be made of lands held in common with persons who are of full age, without their consent in writing, or unless they join in the execution thereof.

2296 (2421) (2778) (2429). Improvements or repairs on real estate.—It is the duty of the guardian to keep in tenantable repair and condition the real estate of the ward, and he has authority to make all such improvements and repairs thereon as are necessary and proper for that purpose; but if such improvements or repairs cannot be made without an expenditure from the principal of the funds of the ward, such expenditure must not be made without an order of the court of probate; and such order must not be made without proof, by two disinterested witnesses, of facts which show that it would be advantageous to the ward.

2297 (2422) (2777) (2428) (2025). Estate of ward may be kept together.—If the estate of the ward consists of a farm or plantation, of stock, farming implements and provisions, the court of probate, on the application of the guardian, verified by affidavit, showing that it would be to the interest of the ward, may order such estate to be kept together, and the farm or plantation cultivated for such period, not exceeding ten years, as the court may prescribe.

2299 (2424). Guardian, in such case, must make annual settlements.—A guardian, keeping together the estate and cultivating the lands of the ward, must make a settlement annually; and if on such settlement it appears that the estate of the ward is being diminished in value by reason of the keeping of the estate together, and the cultivation of the lands, the court must revoke the order authorizing the same.

2300 (2425) (2777) (2428) (2025). Estate held in common or jointly.—If several minors, having a farm or plantation, stock, farming implements and provisions in common or jointly, have a common guardian, he may obtain authority and keep the estate together, subject to the provisions of the two preceding sections.

2301 (2426). Compromise of debts due ward.—The court of probate may authorize a guardian to compromise any claim or debt due the ward, which is doubtful of collection, and has not become so by reason of the negligence of the guardian.

2302 (2427). Proceedings to obtain order of compromise.—An order of compromise must not be granted otherwise than on the application in writing of the guardian, verified by affidavit, describing the claim or debt, stating the terms on which a compromise can be effected, and the facts relied on as showing that the compromise would be of advantage to the ward; the court, on the filing of the application, must appoint a day for the hearing thereof, not less than five, nor more than ten days thereafter, and must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the ward, who must put in issue the facts stated in the application, and require proof thereof.

2303 (2428). Order of compromise.—If, on the hearing, the court is satisfied the claim or debt has not become of doubtful collection by reason of the negligence of the guardian, and that a compromise thereof on the terms proposed would be of advantage to the ward, an order must be entered authorizing the guardian to make the compromise on the terms proposed, and to make report thereof. On the filing of the report, if the court is satisfied that the order has been complied with, an order of confirmation must be entered; otherwise, the report must be set aside.

2304 (2429). Real estate may be taken in compromise.—The court may authorize the guardian to take real estate in compromise of the debt or claim, if satisfied that it is of advantage to the ward, the title to such real estate being conveyed to the ward, and the conveyance thereof filed with the report of compromise; and the report must not be confirmed until the court is satisfied that the title conveyed to the ward is good and sufficient.

2305 (2441) (2788) (2437). Guardians may invest in real estate. Guardians may invest the money of their wards in real estate situated in any part of the state; and the guardians, acting in good faith, shall not be individually responsible for a depreciation in value of the land purchased with the funds of the ward, when such depreciation may result from causes which cannot be prevented by the guardian.

2306 (2442) (2789) (2438). Title, how made.—The real estate purchased by the guardian, with the funds of the ward, must be conveyed to the ward, but must be managed and controlled by the guardian for the benefit of the ward, and the guardian must render annual accounts of the rents and profits of the lands to the court having jurisdiction of the guardianship.

2307 (2443) (2790) (2439). Liability of guardian.—The guardian is liable to the ward for any loss sustained by the ward by the failure or defect of title to the land purchased by the guardian for the ward.

2308 (2430). Sale of debts or other choses in action of ward. The court of probate may authorize the guardian to make sale of debts or other choses in action of the ward, which are of doubtful collection or recovery, and have not become so by reason of the negligence of the guardian.

Power of guardian over choses in action belonging to ward. Mason v. Buchanan, 62 Ala. 110; Woodward v. Donally, 27 Ala. 198.

2309 (2431). Proceedings to obtain order of sale.—An order to sell such debts or choses in action must not be made otherwise than upon the application in writing of the guardian, verified by affidavit describing the debts or choses in action, or exhibiting a descriptive list thereof, and stating the facts relied on as showing that a sale thereof would be of advantage to the ward; the court, on the filing of the application, must appoint a day for the hearing thereof, not less than five, nor more than ten days thereafter, and must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the ward, who must put in issue the facts stated in the application, and require proof thereof.

Sale cannot be collaterally impeached. Daughtry v. Thweatt, 105 Ala. 615.

2310 (2432). Hearing; order of sale.—If on the hearing, the court is satisfied from the evidence that the facts stated in the application are true, and that such debts or choses in action are of doubtful collection or recovery in consequence of no negligence of the guardian, an order of sale must be made and entered, and the terms and place of sale must be prescribed by the court.

2311 (2432). Debtor cannot purchase his own debt.—The debtor or other person against whom such debt or chose in action may exist, cannot, directly or indirectly, purchase at such sale, a debt or chose in action existing against him; and if at any time it shall be discovered that the purchase was in violation of this provision, the guardian or his successor in interest may sue for and recover upon such debt or chose in action in all respects as if no sale had been made; but the amount bid at the sale shall be held and treated as a payment, at that date, upon the debt or chose in action.

2312 (2433). Report of sale.—The title of the ward to such debts or choses in action will not vest in the purchaser until the sale has been reported to, and confirmed by the court; within thirty days after making such sale, the guardian must make report thereof to the court, and if the court is satisfied that the terms of sale have been complied with, an order of confirmation must be entered, and the guardian must be ordered to transfer in writing to the purchaser or purchasers such debts or choses in action.

2313 (2444) (2783) (3194) (2755). Maintenance of family of person of unsound mind.—The court of probate, on the application of the guardian of a person of unsound mind, must direct what portion of the income, or of the principal of the estate of such person, may be appropriated by the guardian to the support of the family, including the education of the minor children of such person.

When lands of infant, not chargeable.—St. Joseph v. Augustini, 55 Ala. 493. What probate court has jurisdiction.—Matthews v. Matthews, 104 Ala. 303 (overruling Turnipseed v. Fitzpatrick, 75 Ala. 297). When petition without equity.—Creagh v. Tunstall, 98 Ala. 249.

2314 (2445) (2779, 2780) (2453, 2433, 2434) (2027, 2028). Maintenance and education of minors.—If the income of the estate of a minor be insufficient for his maintenance and education in a manner suitable to his prospects and condition in life, the court of probate, on the application of the guardian in writing, may order him to appropriate so much, or such part of the principal of the estate of the minor as may be necessary for his maintenance and education.

2315 (2446) (2779, 2780) (2453, 2433, 2434) (2027, 2028). Contents of application.—The application under either of the two preceding sections must be verified by the affidavit of the guardian, and must state the facts which show the necessity for the appropriation.

2316 (2447) (2779, 2780) (2453, 2433, 2434) (2027, 2028). Hearing; guardian ad litem; evidence; order.—On the filing of the application the court must appoint a day, not less than twenty nor more than thirty days thereafter, for the hearing, and must appoint a proper person as guardian ad litem to represent the ward who must put in issue the facts stated in the application and require proof thereof; and if, on the hearing, the court is satisfied from the evidence that the facts stated in the application are true, an order must be made and entered directing what sum or portion of the income or of the principal of the estate of the ward, if he be a person of unsound mind, may be appropriated by the guardian to the support of the family of such person and the education of his minor children, or what portion of the principal of the estate of the ward, if he be a minor, may be appropriated to his maintenance and education.

2317 (2434) (2782) (2430). Sale to pay debts, etc., of person of unsound mind.—The court of probate may authorize the guardian of a person of unsound mind to sell any property of such person, real or personal, when necessary for the payment of debts or liabilities of such person, incurred before the inquisition against him, or before the appointment of a guardian, or incurred after such inquisition and the appointment of a guardian for the maintenance of such person or for the maintenance of his family, or for the education of his minor children; or for the maintenance, in future, of the ward or of his family, or the education of his minor children.

Unauthorized sale of lands by guardian; remedy of ward.—Shorter v. Frazer, 64 Ala. 74.

2318 (2435). Application for order; contents.—To obtain such order of sale the guardian must make application in writing, verified by affidavit, stating the facts showing a necessity for the sale, and describing the property of which sale is to be made; and when the application is for the sale of property to pay debts or liabilities of the person of unsound mind, incurred before the appointment of a guardian, it must further state the amount and character of each such debt or liability, and the name of the creditor.

2319 (2448) (2780) (2433, 2434) (2027, 2028). Sale for maintenance and education of minor.—If the income of a minor is insufficient for his maintenance and education, in a manner suitable to his prospects and condition in life, and such maintenance and education cannot be furnished him otherwise than by a sale of his estate, real or personal, the court of probate may, on the application in writing of the guardian, order a sale of the property of the minor, real or personal, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for his maintenance and education.

When probate court has authority to order sale of land.—Mahon v. Tatum, 69 Ala. 466; Hudson v. Helmes, 23 Ala. 585; Matthews v. Matthews, 104 Ala. 303. Sale for reimbursement of guardian, when.—Bellamy v. Thornton, 103 Ala. 404.

2320 (2449) (2780) (2433, 2434) (2027, 2028). Application for order; contents.—To obtain such order of sale the guardian must make application in writing, verified by affidavit, stating the facts showing a necessity for the sale, and describing the property of which sale is to be made.

2321 (2439) (2785) (2436) (2029). Sale for reinvestment.—The court of probate may authorize the guardian to sell any property of the ward and direct the investment of the proceeds in bonds, notes, or bills of exchange at interest on mortgage security, or in other property or securities, in the name of the ward.

2322. Contents of application for order of sale for reinvestment. To obtain such order of sale the guardian must make application in writing, verified by affidavit, describing the property sought to be sold and stating the facts showing that the interest of the ward would be promoted by the proposed sale and reinvestment.

2323. Day fixed for hearing; guardian ad litem; notice.—On the filing of an application for the sale of property of the ward, other than debts and choses in action, whether for the payment of debts and maintenance of a person of unsound mind, or for the maintenance and education of a minor, or for reinvestment, the court must appoint a day for the hearing, not less than twenty nor more than thirty days thereafter, and must appoint a suitable and competent person, not of kin or of counsel to the petitioner, as guardian ad litem to represent the ward, who must put in issue the facts stated in the application and require proof thereof; and if the application be for the sale of real estate, the judge of probate must give notice of the filing and nature thereof and of the day appointed for the hearing, by advertisement for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, or, if there be no such paper, by posting notice at the court-house door and at three other public places in the county; and if the ward be a minor and reside in this state, and the application be for the sale of real estate, in addition to the notice by publication, notice must be given by citation, to be personally served on the minor if he be above the age of fourteen years, or, if he be under that age and the father or mother be not the guardian, such notice must be given the father if living and residing in the state, or if he be dead, or insane, or a non-resident, or imprisoned under a sentence for crime, or has not the custody of the child, such notice must be given the mother if living and residing in the state.

2324. Testimony; how taken and preserved.—On the hearing of an application by a guardian to sell property of the ward, for any purpose for which a sale may be authorized, the court may receive any competent legal evidence, whether by deposition or record, or oral testimony of witnesses in open court; but such oral testimony must be reduced to writing and subscribed by the witness; and all such testimony must be filed and carefully preserved, but not recorded, and, for all the purposes of an appeal, shall be considered part of the record.

2325 (2436, 2439, 2451). Hearing; order of sale; place and terms.—If, on the hearing, the court is satisfied from the evidence that the facts stated in the application are true, and that it is necessary, or will be to the interest of the ward to sell the property or any part thereof for the purposes stated in the application, a decree must be made and entered authorizing the guardian to sell the property, or any part thereof, at public outcry, upon such terms and at such place as the court may prescribe, the order of sale describing the property to be sold; but lands must be sold in the county where they lie, and if they lie in one body, but in more than one county, they may be sold in either of the counties, as the court may direct.

2326. Notice of sale.—The guardian must give notice of the day, place and terms of sale, and a description of the property to be sold, by advertisement for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the sale is to take place; and in case of a sale of lands lying in one body, but in more than one county, such notice must be given in each of the counties. If there be no such paper published in the county, or in any county in which notice is required to be given, then, as to the county having no such paper, the notice must be given by posting at the court-house door and at three other public places in the county. But when the property is perishable, or the expense of keeping it is very great, the sale may be made after five days' notice, which may be given by one insertion in a newspaper published in the county where the sale is to take place, or, if there be no such paper, by posting at the court-house door and at three other public places in the county. And in addition to the notice herein prescribed, the court may direct the giving of notice by printed handbills, or posters, to be distributed and posted in the manner best calculated to give extended notice of the sale.

2327. Hours of sale.—A sale by a guardian must not commence before the hour of eleven in the morning, nor continue longer than four in the afternoon; and, if not completed within those hours, it may be continued from day to day.

2328. Guardian may reject inadequate bid.—If the highest amount bid for the property, or any part thereof, is, in the opinion of the guardian, greatly less than its fair value, he may withdraw the property and postpone the sale thereof.

2329. Failure of purchaser to comply; resale; deficiency.—If the purchaser fails to comply with the terms of the sale, the guardian may again proceed to advertise and sell the property; and if, at another and a completed sale, the property sells for a sum less than the amount bid at the former sale, the purchaser so in default is liable to the guardian for the deficiency, and also the expense of the resale.

2330 (2437, 2452). Report of sale.—Within thirty days after the sale, the guardian must make report thereof, in writing, verified by affidavit, to the court of probate, and the court must examine the same, and may also examine witnesses in relation thereto.

2331. When sale set aside.—If, on such examination, the court is satisfied that the sale was not fairly conducted, or that the amount for which the land, or any portion of the same sold, is not equal to its fair value, or that the terms of sale, as prescribed by the court, have not been complied with, the court may vacate such sale, either in whole or in part.

2332. When sale vacated, another sale to be made.—When a sale is vacated the guardian may again proceed to advertise and sell the property as authorized by the order of sale; but the court may, on vacating a sale, modify or change the order as to the place and terms of sale, one or both, and may correct any misdescription of the property therein.

2333. Sale not to be confirmed until ten days after report filed. An order confirming a sale of lands must not be made until after the expiration of ten days from the time the report of sale is filed.

2334 (2438). Confirmation of sale.—If the court is satisfied that the sale of the lands, or any interest therein, has been fairly conducted, and that, at such sale, the sum bid is equal to the fair value of the lands, and that the terms of sale, as prescribed by the court, have been complied with, and that the purchase-money has been paid, or if the sale is on credit, that the payment of the purchase-money is properly secured, an order of confirmation must be entered; but the title of the ward is not divested until the purchase-money is fully paid, the fact of payment reported to the court, and an order made directing a conveyance to be executed.

2335. Report of payment of purchase-money.—When lands have been sold on credit, and when the whole of the purchase-money has been paid, the guardian must, within thirty days after such complete payment has been made, report the fact of such payment to the court of probate; and if he fail to do so within the time herein specified, such report may be compelled of him, in the manner provided by sections 180 (2125) and 181 (2126) of this Code.

2336. Conveyance; when, by whom and to whom made.—After such confirmation, and when the whole of the purchase-money has been paid by the purchaser, or his heirs or any other person holding under him, directly or derivatively, on the application of such purchaser, or his heirs, or such other person holding under him, or of the guardian, the court must order a conveyance to be made to such purchaser, or to his heirs, or such other person holding under him, as the case may be, by the guardian, or such other person as the court may appoint, conveying all the right, title and interest which the ward had at the time of the sale, in such lands; and such order shall operate to vest the right, title and interest of the ward in such purchaser, or his heirs, or such other person holding under him.

2337. Compelling report of sale; correcting mistake in description of lands.—The provisions of sections 180 (2125), 181 (2126), 184 (2129), 185 (2130) and 186 (2131) of this Code are applicable to sales of lands by guardians.

ARTICLE 5.

SETTLEMENTS OF GUARDIANS.

2338 (2453). Jurisdiction of court of probate.—The court of probate from which the appointment of a guardian of a person of unsound mind, or of a minor, is derived, has jurisdiction of the settlement, partial or final, of the accounts of the guardian.

Probate and chancery courts have concurrent jurisdiction.—Hailey v. Boyd, 64 Ala. 399; Owens v. Grimsley, 44 Ala. 359; Lee v. Lee, 55 Ala. 590.

2340 (2455). Notice of settlement.—The court must also appoint a day for the settlement, of which notice must be given, as the court may direct, either by advertisement for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county, or for the same length of time by posting notices at the court-house door and at three other public places in the county.

Allowance to father or guardian out of ward's estate.—Waldrom v. Waldrom, 76 Ala. 285; Calhoun v. Calhoun, 41 Ala. 369.

2342 (2457). Decree on account.—After the examination of the vouchers, and the audit and statement of the account, the court must render a decree passing the same, and declaring the amount of the charges against the guardian, and of the credits allowed him, which must be entered of record; and the account and vouchers must be recorded.

Allowance for money paid.—Brewer v. Ernest, 81 Ala. 435.

Conclusiveness of annual settlements.—Ashley v. Martin, 50 Ala. 537; May v. Duke, 61 Ala. 53; Radford v. Morris, 66 Ala. 283; Bentley v. Dailey, 87 Ala. 406; Thompson v. Thompson, 92 Ala. 545; Turrentine v. Daly, 82 Ala. 205. Conclusiveness of final settlement.—Lewis v. Allred, 57 Ala. 628; Stabler v. Cook, 57 Ala. 22; Boswell v. Townsend, 57 Ala. 308; Bowden v. Perdue, 59 409.

2344 (2459). Final settlement.—On the death, resignation, or removal of the guardian, or on the expiration of his authority otherwise, or on the arrival of the ward at full age, or on his restoration to sanity, or on his death, or on the marriage of the ward, if a woman, and her husband is of age, a final settlement of the guardianship must be made; such settlement, in the event of the death of the guardian, to be made by his personal representative.

Jurisdiction statutory and limited.—Lewis v. Allred, 57 Ala. 628; Glass v. Glass, 80 Ala. 241. When void for want of jurisdiction.—Cox. v. Johnson, 80 Ala. 22. Settlement, burden of proof.—Jackson v. Harris, 66 Ala. 565. On marriage, female ward may require settlement.—Wise v. Norton, 48 Ala. 214. Ratification; equitable relief against settlement.—Jackson v. Harris, 66 Ala. 565; Caldwell v. Gillis, 2 Port. 526; Myer v. Rives, 11 Ala. 760; Ferguson v. Lowery, 54 Ala. 510; Malone v. Kelley, 54 Ala. 532; Voltz v. Voltz, 75 Ala. 555. Settlement during minority and before resignation, void.—Lee v. Lee, 67 Ala. 406; Lewis v. Allred, 57 Ala. 628; Glass v. Glass, 76 Ala. 368; see also Spencer v. Spencer, 50 Ala. 445. Annual settlements presumed correct. Bentley v. Dailey, 87 Ala. 406; Ashley v. Martin, 50 Ala. 537; Radford v. Morris, 66 Ala. 283. Necessary parties when guardian a married woman.—McGinty v. Mabry, 23 Ala. 672; Whitten v. Graves, 40 Ala. 578. Jurisdiction of chancery court.—Bruce v. Strickland, 47 Ala. 192; Hays v. Cockrell, 41 Ala. 75; Carswell v. Spencer, 44 Ala. 204; Lee v. Lee, 55 Ala. 590; Striplin v. Ware, 36 Ala. 87; Lee v. Lee, 67 Ala. 406; Cox v. Johnson, 80 Ala. 22; Hailey v. Boyd, 64 Ala. 399; Fulgham v. Herstein, 77 Ala. 496; Snedicor v. Carnes, 8 Ala. 655. Settlement when guardian becomes non compos mentis.—Modawell v. Holmes, 40 Ala. 391; Walker v. Clay, 21 Ala. 797; Ex parte Northington, 37 Ala. 496; McLeod v. Mason, 5 Port. 223. Judgment against infant without guardian ad litem, erroneous, not void.—Levystein v. O'Brien, 106 Ala. 352. Need not appear that successor was made a party.—McLeod v. Mason, 5 Port. 223.

2345 (2460). Proceedings for final settlement.—The guardian, or his personal representative, must file in the court of probate a full account of the guardianship, accompanied by the vouchers, and verified by affidavit; and on the filing of such account and vouchers, the court must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the ward, if he be a minor or of unsound mind.

Guardian ad litem; decree not invalid because it shows that the minor was represented on settlement by the succeeding guardian, instead of guardian ad litem.—Jones v. Fellows, 58 Ala. 343. Settlement without acceptance of appointment by guardian ad litem, void.—Laird v. Reese, 43 Ala. 148; Smith v. Smith, 21 Ala. 761. What not an acceptance.—Ib. Statute does not require that minor over fourteen years of age should have opportunity of choosing guardian ad litem.—Stabler v. Cook, 57 Ala. 22. Settlement made with infant properly represented by guardian ad litem, as binding on infant as a similar settlement made with an adult.—Stabler v. Cook, 57 Ala. 22. Appointment without notice an irregularity merely.—Frierson v. Travis, 39 Ala. 150. But to sustain decree, the record must affirmatively show that the guardian ad litem accepted the appointment.—Ib. Neither guardian nor sureties can avoid settlement because ward was not represented by guardian ad litem, but the ward may.—May v. Duke, 61 Ala. 53; Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 107; Lewis v. Allred, 57 Ala. 628.

2346 (2461). Notice of settlement.—The court must appoint a day for the settlement, of which ten days' notice must be given to the succeeding guardian, if there be such guardian, or to the personal representative of the ward, if the ward be dead, or to the ward if he be a resident of the state, and has arrived at full age, or has been restored to sanity, by the service of citation; and notice must also be given, as the court may direct, either by advertisement for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, or for the same length of time by posting notice at the court-house door, and three other public places in the county.

Notice by publication sufficient.—Stabler v. Cook, 57 Ala. 22. What not a compliance with statute.—Frierson v. Travis, 39 Ala. 150; Preston v. Dunn, 25 Ala. 507. When presumed on collateral attack.—Stabler v. Cook, 57 Ala. 22. When guardian cannot object to want of notice.—Treadwell v. Burden, 8 Ala. 660; McLeod v. Mason, 5 Port. 223.

To what credits guardian entitled.—May v. Duke, 61 Ala. 53; Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 107; Cunningham v. Pool, 9 Ala. 615; Newman v. Reed, 50 Ala. 297.

2348 (2463). Decree on account.—After the examination of the vouchers, and the audit and statement of the account, the court must render a decree passing the same, and declaring the amount due the ward, if there be any amount due him, which must be entered of record, and the account and vouchers must be recorded.

Conclusiveness of decree.—Chilton v. Parks, 15 Ala. 671; Lewis v. Allred, 57 Ala. 628; Foust v. Chamblee, 51 Ala. 75; Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 107. Force and effect of decree.—Treadwell v. Burden, 8 Ala. 660; Waldrom v. Waldrom, 76 Ala. 285. Decree against sureties not authorized.—Ib. When, though void, an admission of indebtedness.—Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 107; Hughes v. Mitchell, 19 Ala. 268. Interest; compound interest; liability of guardian for.—Bryant v. Craig, 12 Ala. 354; Calhoun v. Calhoun, 41 Ala. 369; Brand v. Abbott, 42 Ala. 499; Tyson v. Sanderson, 45 Ala. 364; Vaughan v. Bibb, 46 Ala. 153; Starling v. Balkum, 47 Ala. 314; Childress v. Childress, 49 Ala. 237; Ashley v. Martin, 50 Ala. 537. Personal decree against ward not authorized.—Duval v. Chaudron, 10 Ala. 391. When guardian not entitled to notice of time of rendition of decree.—Allman v. Owen, 31 Ala. 167. Binding on sureties.—Gravett v. Malone, 54 Ala. 19. When void.—Ib. When will not be reversed for failure to set out names of all the wards.—Newman v. Reed, 50 Ala. 297.

2349 (2464). Enforcement of decrees against guardians, or their representatives, and sureties.—The court of probate may, by attachment, compel a guardian to obey its orders or decrees; and all final decrees rendered against a guardian, or against the personal representative of the guardian, on a final settlement, have the force and effect of a judgment at law, on which execution may issue against the guardian, or his personal representative, and against the sureties of the guardian, whether such settlement is voluntary or involuntary, and whether such settlement is made by the guardian while living, or by his personal representative after his death; and upon such decrees, process of garnishment may issue from the court of probate in like cases and manner as it may issue on judgments in courts of law, and may, in like manner, be prosecuted to judgment against the garnishee.

Final decree should be against guardian, not against sureties, also.—Smith v. Jackson, 56 Ala. 25. Decrees on final settlement, have force and effect of judgment at law, and execution may issue.—Treadwell v. Burden, 8 Ala. 660.

2350 (2465). Compensation of guardian.—A guardian is entitled for his services to commissions of two and one-half per cent. on his disbursements, and two and one-half per cent. on his receipts, and on final settlement an allowance must be made of actual expenses necessarily incurred by him; and for special or extraordinary services rendered, such compensation must be allowed as is just; but no allowance of actual expenses, or for special or extraordinary services must be made, except upon an itemized account of such expenses, or of such special or extraordinary services, verified by affidavit; and in its decree the court must state each item of such services for which compensation is allowed.

Guardian not entitled to commissions on amount of decree against him. Allen v. Martin, 34 Ala. 442. Nor to compensation for lending out funds. Allen v. Martin, 36 Ala. 330. Failure to make annual settlement does not deprive guardian of right to compensation.—Neilson v. Cook, 40 Ala. 498; Powell v. Powell, 10 Ala. 900; Craig v. McGehee, 16 Ala. 41. Allowance of counsel fees.—Modawell v. Holmes, 40 Ala. 391.

2351 (2466). Commissions on money, etc., paid or delivered to ward or successor.—Upon the final settlement of a guardianship, the guardian, if he has not been guilty of fraud or gross negligence, must be allowed reasonable commissions, not exceeding two and one-half per cent., on the value of all personal property surrendered to the ward, or to his personal representative, or on the amount of money paid or decreed to be paid to the ward, or to his personal representative, or to a succeeding guardian; but if the value of such personal property and of such money exceeds twenty thousand dollars, the commissions on the excess must not be more than one per cent.

ARTICLE 6.

COMPELLING SETTLEMENTS OF GUARDIANS.

2352 (2467). Compelling partial settlement.—The court of probate may, at any time it is deemed necessary for the safety of the ward, require a guardian to make partial settlement of his guardianship; of the requisition the guardian must have notice for ten days by the service of citation, and may appear and show, if he can, that such settlement is not necessary.

2353 (2468). Partial settlement may be compelled.—On the application of the ward by next friend, showing satisfactory cause, the court may issue a citation to the guardian, requiring him to appear and show cause why he should not make a partial settlement of his guardianship, of which citation there must be service for ten days before the day appointed for the appearance of the guardian; and if on the hearing it should appear that there is no satisfactory cause for ordering such settlement, the application must be dismissed at the costs of the next friend.

2354 (2469). Neglect to make partial settlement.—If a guardian fails to make a partial settlement as often as such settlement is required of him, the court must issue to him a citation, requiring him to make such settlement; and all the costs thereof, and of the citation, must be taxed against him personally, and must not be charged against the ward or his estate, unless he appears in answer to the citation and shows a satisfactory excuse for his failure, and file his accounts and vouchers for such settlement.

Citation to guardian and proceedings preliminary to settlement.—Childress v. Childress, 49 Ala. 237; Waldrom v. Waldrom, 76 Ala. 285; Thompson v. Hartline, 84 Ala. 65. Relief against probate decree; opening case.—Waldrom v. Waldrom, 76 Ala. 285; Morrow v. Allison, 39 Ala. 70; Cowan v. Jones, 27 Ala. 317; Gamble v. Jordan, 54 Ala. 432; Hall v. Pegram, 85 Ala. 522; Croft v. Ferrell, 21 Ala. 351. Conclusiveness of final settlement.—Moore v. Baker, 39 Ala. 704; Duke v. Duke, 26 Ala. 673; Bogia v. Darden, 45 Ala. 269; Croft v. Ferrell, 21 Ala. 351.

2356 (2471). Representative of deceased guardian required to make final settlement.—On the death of a guardian, at any time after the expiration of six months from the qualification of his personal representative, such representative may be required, on ten days' notice, by the service of citation, to appear and make settlement of the guardianship of his testator or intestate.

2357 (2472). Guardian failing to obey citation.—If a guardian fails to obey a citation requiring him to appear and file his accounts and vouchers for a final or partial settlement, the court of probate may, by attachment, compel his appearance, and may, if on appearance he refuses to file such accounts and vouchers, or to show good cause for his omission, imprison him for a period not exceeding six months.

2358 (2473). Court may state account against guardian or his representative.—If a guardian, after notice, fails to file his accounts and vouchers for a final or partial settlement, or, if the personal representative of a guardian, after notice, fails to file the accounts and vouchers of his testator or intestate for final settlement, the court of probate has authority to state an account against the guardian, or against his personal representative, from the materials on file or of record in the court, and from such evidence as may be adduced, charging such guardian with all wherewith he is by law chargeable, and crediting him with all wherewith by law he ought to be credited.

2359 (2474). Notice of statement of account, and of day appointed for passing same.—After the statement of such account, the court must appoint a day for passing the same, of which notice must be given by advertisement, for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, or, if there be no such paper, by posting notice at the court-house door and three other public places in the county.

2360 (2475). Appearance of guardian or of his representative. If, on or before the day so appointed, the guardian, or the personal representative of the guardian, if the account is stated against such representative, appears and files his accounts and vouchers for settlement, and pays such costs as have accrued under the proceedings, the court must set aside such proceedings and proceed to settlement in the manner prescribed by law, on the accounts and vouchers so filed.

2361 (2476). Failure of guardian or representative to appear. But, if such guardian or personal representative fails to appear and file his accounts and vouchers for settlement, any person having an interest may appear and contest such account, and the court must hear and determine such contest, and, whether such contest be made or not, must render a decree on such account, which has the force and effect of a decree rendered on a voluntary settlement by such guardian or personal representative.

ARTICLE 7.

RESIGNATION AND REMOVAL OF GUARDIANS.

2362 (2477) (2768). Resignation.—A guardian may resign by writing subscribed by him, or his duly authorized agent, filed in the court of probate, and on the filing of such resignation, the fact thereof must be entered of record, and an order made revoking his letters of guardianship; but such resignation does not affect the liability of the guardian or his sureties.

2363 (2478) (2769) (2447) (2037). Removal of guardian.—A guardian may be removed and his letters of guardianship revoked for any of the following causes:

1. For his removal from the state.

2. For a willful failure to file in the time prescribed an inventory of the estate of the ward.

3. For a willful disobedience to an order of the court, requiring him to make a partial settlement of his guardianship.

4. For continued or habitual inebriety, or imbecility of mind, or continued sickness rendering him incapable of the discharge of his duties.

5. Because of a conviction of felony, for which he is sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary, or to hard labor.

6. For the waste of the ward's property, or neglect of his affairs, or for any other good and sufficient cause.

Removal from state and non-residence.—Dupree v. Perry, 18 Ala. 34; Eiland v. Chandler, 8 Ala. 781; Speight v. Night, 11 Ala. 461; Huie v. Nixon, 6 Port. 77; Cockrell v. Cockrell, 36 Ala. 673. Other cases on removal.—Lee v. Lee, 55 Ala. 590; Striplin v. Ware, 36 Ala. 87; Repitoe v. Hall, 1 Stew. 166; Desribes v. Wilmer, 69 Ala. 25; Thompson v. Hartline, 84 Ala. 65; Boynton v. Nelson, 46 Ala. 501; Childress v. Childress, 49 Ala. 237.

2364 (2479). Application for removal; notice.—An application for the removal of a guardian may be made by the ward, by next friend, which application must be in writing, verified by affidavit, and must specify the grounds of removal; on the filing of the application, the court must appoint a day for the hearing, of which notice must be given the guardian for at least five days by the service of citation, if he resides in the state, and if he resides without the state, by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county for at least three successive weeks, or if there be no paper published in the county, by posting notice at the court-house door and three other public places in the county.

2365 (2480). Hearing.—On the day appointed, or on any other day to which the hearing may be continued, the court may proceed to hear the evidence and pass upon the application; but if the cause of removal alleged is continued or habitual inebriety, or imbecility of mind, or continued sickness, or for the waste of the property of the ward, or neglect of his affairs, either party, on request, is entitled to a trial of the issues of fact by a jury.

2366 (2481). Costs.—If the application is determined against the ward, the next friend must be taxed with the costs; if determined against the guardian, he must be taxed with the costs.

2367 (2482). Removal by court.—The court of probate may, without an application by the ward, remove a guardian for any of the causes specified, first giving him notice as is required on the filing of an application for removal, and must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the ward in any proceeding taken by it for the removal.

ARTICLE 8.

REMOVAL OF PERSON OR PROPERTY OF WARD FROM ONE COUNTY TO ANOTHER.

2368 (2483) (2802) (2445) (2035). Removal of person or property from one county to another.—The court of probate from which letters of guardianship have issued, has authority to order the removal to another county of the person and property of a ward, if it be shown that such removal will advance the interests of the ward.

2369 (2484) (2796, 2802) (2441, 2445) (2031, 2035). Mode of obtaining authority for removal.—Authority for such removal may be obtained on the application in writing, verified by affidavit, of the guardian, or of the ward by next friend, stating the facts which show that the removal will advance the interests of the ward; and if it be made by the ward by next friend, a day must be appointed for the hearing, of which ten days' notice must be given the guardian by the service of citation; if it be made by the guardian, a day, not less than ten days after the filing of the application, must be appointed for the hearing, and a guardian ad litem appointed to represent the ward, who must put in issue the facts stated in the application, and require proof thereof.

2370 (2485) (2796) (2441) (2031). Order of removal.—If, on the hearing, the court is satisfied that the removal will advance the interests of the ward, an order authorizing it must be made and entered; otherwise, the application must be dismissed, and the guardian, or the next friend, as the application may be made by the one or the other, must be taxed with the costs.

2371 (2486). Grant of guardianship in county to which removal is authorized.—If the removal authorized is of the person and property of the ward, a transcript of the record of the proceedings must be made and certified, and filed in the court of probate of the county to which the removal is to be made; and on the filing of such transcript, such court has jurisdiction to grant guardianship of the person and property of the ward; and on such grant being made, and a transcript thereof, duly certified, being filed in the court of probate authorizing the removal, such removal may be made; the guardian so appointed has full authority to demand, recover and receive the property of the ward from and after the making of the removal.

2372 (2487). Settlement of former guardian.—On the filing of such transcript, the court must require the guardian of its appointment to make a final settlement of his guardianship; and when such settlement is made, must certify a transcript thereof to the court of probate of the county to which the removal was authorized.

2373 (2488). Removal of property only.—If the removal authorized is of the property only of the ward, the jurisdiction of the court authorizing the removal is not affected, and it must retain jurisdiction of the guardianship, as if such removal had not been authorized.

ARTICLE 9.

REMOVAL OF PERSON OR PROPERTY OF WARD TO ANOTHER STATE.

2374 (2489) (2800). Removal of property of minor residing without the state.—When the parent having the legal custody of a minor child, whether the father or mother, resides without the state, or removes with such child from the state, becoming a resident of another state, the court of probate, or the court of chancery, having jurisdiction of the estate of the minor, has authority to order the removal of the property of the minor to the state of the residence of the parent.

2376 (2491). Order of removal.—The court, if satisfied of the truth of the application, and that the transcript of the appointment of the guardian in the state of the residence of the parent is in due form, and properly certified, and that the court making the appointment had jurisdiction, must make an order authorizing the removal of the property of the minor, and authorizing such guardian to receive the same.

2377 (2492) (2801). Guardian in this state to make settlement. If such minor have a guardian in this state, of the appointment of the court, or subject to the jurisdiction of the court, an order must be made and entered, requiring such guardian to make a final settlement of his guardianship.

2378 (2494) (2797) (2442) (2032). Removal of property when guardian and ward are non-residents.—When the guardian and ward are both non-residents, and the ward is entitled to any property in this state, or is, or will be entitled to any money from any estate, the administration of which is pending in this state, whether such estate shall or shall not have been finally settled, and the money or property may be removed to another state without conflict with any restriction or limitation thereupon, and without impairing the right of the ward thereto, such money and property may be received and removed to the state of the residence of the ward, upon application of the guardian to the judge of probate of the county in which the property of the ward, or the principal part thereof, may be, or in which such administration may be pending, in the manner following.

What constitutes non-residence.—Carlisle v. Tuttle, 30 Ala. 613. Cause for removal.—Lary v. Craig, 30 Ala. 631.

2379 (2493) (2796) (2441) (2031). Removal of ward and his estate to another state, when permitted.—The guardian may remove the person and estate of his ward to another state, by making a full settlement, with the judge of the probate court where his letters were granted, of his guardian accounts, and procuring a transcript of the record of a court of competent jurisdiction of such other state, certified according to the act of congress, showing the appointment of such person as guardian of the ward, the execution of bond with surety for the performance of the trust, in twice the value of the estate of the ward, and adducing testimony that the sureties to such bond are sufficient. Thereupon, the judge of probate must make an order authorizing such removal.

Removal, when permitted.—Cook v. Wimberly, 24 Ala. 486; Metcalf v. Lowther, 56 Ala. 312; Carlisle v. Tuttle, 30 Ala. 613; Johnson v. Copeland, 35 Ala. 521.

2380 (2495) (2798) (2443) (2033). Notice and evidence in such proceeding.—The guardian must produce a transcript from the records of a court of competent jurisdiction, certified according to the act of congress, showing that he has been appointed guardian of the minor in the state in which he and the ward reside, and has duly qualified as such according to the laws thereof, and given bond, with surety, for the performance of his trust; and must also give ten days' notice to the resident executor, administrator, or guardian, if there be such, of the intended application; thereupon, if good cause be not shown to the contrary, and the judge of probate shall be satisfied, upon proof being made, that it will be for the interest of the minor, such judge of probate must make an order granting such guardian leave to remove the property of his ward to the state or place of his residence, which is an authority to him to sue for and recover the same, in his own name for the use of his ward.

2381 (2496) (2799) (2444) (2034). When representative discharged.—Such order is a discharge of the executor, administrator, or other person, in whose possession such property may be at the time of the order made.

Feb. 26, 1889, pp. 49, 52.

2382. Sale of property to effect removal.—When the property of a minor is ordered to be removed from the state, under any provision contained in this article, the court making the order may, on the application of the person by whom such order of removal was obtained, order the sale of any property, real or personal, of such minor, as may be necessary to effect such removal.

2383. Contents of application.—The application for such order of sale must be in writing, verified by affidavit, must describe the property sought to be sold, and must state the facts showing that the interest of the minor would be promoted by the proposed sale.

2384. Proceedings.—The proceedings under such application must in all respects conform to and be governed by the provisions of article 4 of this chapter relating to the sale of the property of a minor for reinvestment. But the court, in the order of sale, must appoint a suitable person commissioner to make the sale; and, except as hereinafter provided, the authority and duty of such commissioner is the same as that of a guardian authorized to sell property of his ward for reinvestment. If the commissioner so appointed fails to act, or to complete the sale, another may be appointed at any time, by an order of the court.

2385. Proceeds of sale to be paid into court.—The commissioner must, as soon as practicable after the receipt of the purchase-money for the property sold by him, pay the same to the judge of probate, or register in chancery, as the case may be, of the court ordering the sale; and such money must be retained and safely kept by such judge or register, until the sale has been duly confirmed or vacated. If the sale be vacated, the purchase-money must be, by such judge or register, returned to the purchaser; if the sale be confirmed, such money must be, by such officer, paid over to the foreign guardian entitled to receive the same, after deducting therefrom, the costs and expenses attending the sale, including compensation to the commissioner in the amount of two and one-half per cent. upon the proceeds of such sale, but in no case more than one hundred dollars.

2386. Duplicate receipts to be taken and copy transmitted. When a foreign guardian receives any money or property to be removed to another state, under any of the provisions of this article, he shall execute and deliver to the person or officer from whom he receives such money or property, receipts therefor, in duplicate, one of which must be, by such person or officer, duly forwarded by mail to the presiding officer of the court from which such guardian received his appointment.

ARTICLE 10.

JUDGE OF PROBATE CUSTODIAN OF FUNDS OF MINOR, OR OF PERSON OF UNSOUND MIND, NOT EXCEEDING ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS; DISBURSEMENT OF SAME.

2387 (2497) (2756) (2452). Judge of probate must not act as guardian.—The judge of probate is incompetent, during his term of office, to act as guardian of any minor, or person of unsound mind, residing in his county, but may be custodian of the funds of a minor, or of a person of unsound mind, not having a guardian, as is authorized in this article.

2388 (2498) (2809). Funds of which judge of probate is custodian.—The funds of a minor, or of a person of unsound mind, not having a general guardian, not exceeding in amount one hundred dollars, accruing on a settlement made by an executor or administrator, or guardian, in the court of probate, or from sales of property made under the decree or order of the court by commissioners, to effect partition or division, or in the hands of a predecessor in office, must be paid to the judge of probate.*

When demand dispensed with.—Bradley v. Harden, 73 Ala. 70.

2389 (2499) (2810). Duty and authority of judge.—It is the duty of the judge to keep such money safely, and he has authority to expend the same in the maintenance and support of the minor or Feb. 20, 1889, p. 40.

*The words "residing in this state" stricken out by joint committee.

person of unsound mind, or his wife and minor children; and for receiving and keeping such money he is entitled to a commission of one and one-half per cent. But when the minor is of the age of eighteen years, or is a married woman, and is of sound mind, the judge of probate may pay such money to such minor, whose receipt therefor is a discharge of the judge of probate.

2390 (2500) (2811). Judge must make settlements with clerk of circuit court.—At the expiration of his term of office, or on the appointment of a guardian for such minor or person of unsound mind, or on the death of either, or on the arrival at the age of eighteen years of such minor, or if a female, on her marriage, or on the expenditure of such money, the judge must make with the clerk of the circuit court a final settlement of his accounts and vouchers; of the day appointed for such settlement, the clerk must give notice for three consecutive weeks, by posting notices at the court-house door and three other public places in the county; and he must carefully examine such accounts and vouchers, allowing only such vouchers as are shown to be just and proper; and must charge such judge interest on the money received, unless he makes and files an affidavit that he has not used such money, or allowed its use by others; and if a balance is found due on such settlement from such judge, the clerk must state the amount thereof. For his services in making such settlement, the clerk is entitled to a fee of one dollar and a half.

2391 (2501) (2813). Balance recoverable by motion.—If such judge fails, for three days after demand made by the party entitled to any such balance, to pay such balance, the same with interest is recoverable of him and the sureties on his official bond, or either of them, on two days' notice, by motion in the circuit court, or before a justice of the peace, having jurisdiction, with twenty per cent. damages on the principal of such balance.

HEALTH AND QUARANTINE. 2392-2442.

2392 (1260) (1504) (1207) (956). Municipal and county authorities may establish hospitals.—The corporate authorities of any town or city and the court of county commissioners may establish within the town or city, or within the county, hospitals, temporary or permanent, for the reception of the sick or infirm, or of persons suspected to have infectious or contagious diseases, and may make all needful rules and regulations for the control and management thereof. The corporate authorities and the court of county commissioners may unite in the establishment of such hospitals, if deemed expedient, making them common for the use of the town or city and of the county, and in the making of rules and regulations for the control and management thereof.

2393 (1261) (1505) (1208) (957). Nuisances to health; strangers with contagious diseases.—When a health officer makes complaint, on oath, that there is good cause of suspicion or belief that there is on any lot, or in any house or vessel within the town, city, or county any cause of disease or infection, necessary to be destroyed or removed, or one or more persons, not in his own place of residence, infected with a dangerous contagious disease, and that he has been refused admittance into such house, lot, or vessel, the mayor or intendant, or a justice of the peace of the county in which such lot, house, or vessel is, may issue his warrant, directed to the sheriff, marshal, constable, or other lawful officer, requiring him to enter such house, lot, or vessel, and, under the direction of such health officer, to remove such infected person, or to remove or destroy the source of such infection or disease.

2394 (1262) (1506) (1209) (958). Warrant, how executed; pay for nursing, etc.—To execute such warrant, any outer or inner door may be forced in the daytime; and all expenses incurred in the execution thereof, and for maintaining, nursing and curing any person removed therefrom, must be paid by such person, or by the owner of the house, lot, or vessel; or if such person or owner is a married woman, by her husband; if a minor, by his parents or guardian; and if not so paid, then by the town, or city, or county by which they were incurred; the person by whom such expenses should have been paid being liable to such town, city, or county for the amount thereof.

2395. General quarantine; duty of governor.—The governor, on recommendation of the state board of health, or whenever he deems it necessary for the protection of the health of the people of this state or any portion thereof, may proclaim, declare, establish and conduct through the state board of health, and enforce such quarantine measures, not inconsistent with the constitution of the United States and the laws thereof, as to him may seem expedient, but not such as to prevent the establishment and enforcement by county and municipal authorities of local quarantines, as provided by law. And the state board of health, under the direction and control of the governor, may take such preliminary steps and make such investigation as may be deemed necessary to guard the health of the people. Feb. 26, 1887, p. 105, §§1, 2.

2396. Expenses of general quarantine.—The sum of five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is annually appropriated to defray the expenses that may arise under the operation of the preceding section, to be paid by the state auditor on the order of the presiding officer of the state board of health, approved by the governor, and which shall be annually accounted for by the state board of health in a report to the governor, showing by items all expenditures from this fund. Ib. §3.

2397. Quarantine officers authorized to administer oaths and make arrests.—The quarantine officers charged with the enforcement of quarantine must take an oath to faithfully discharge their duties; and such officers are authorized to administer oaths and examine persons under oath, and to make arrests touching violations of the quarantine.

2398 (1263) (1507) (1210) (959). Quarantine-ground; assent of county commissioners requisite, if without town limits.—Any town or city may establish a quarantine-ground therefor; but if the place fixed upon for the purpose is without the limits of such town or city, the assent of the court of county commissioners of the county in which such place is, must first be obtained.

2399 (1264) (1508) (1211) (960). Regulations.—The corporate authorities of a town or city may, from time to time, prescribe the quarantine to be observed by all vessels arriving within the harbor or vicinity thereof, and regulations therefor, not contrary to law.

2400 (1265) (1509) (1212) (961). Regulations extend to persons and goods arriving in, and going on board vessel.—Such regulations may extend to all persons, goods and effects arriving in such vessel, and to all persons going on board of the same.

2401 (1266) (1510) (1214) (963). Vessels quarantined.—The health officer of a town, city, or county may, under the direction of the corporate authorities, or of the court of county commissioners, cause any vessel arriving therein, or in the vicinity, if the vessel or cargo is, in his opinion, so foul or infected as to endanger the public health, to be removed to the quarantine-ground, or other proper place, to be purified.

2402 (1267) (1511) (1217) (966). Escapes from quarantine.—If any person ordered to remain in quarantine escapes, any justice of the peace, on complaint thereof, on oath, must issue his warrant to the sheriff, or to a constable, or other lawful officer, to arrest and deliver such person to the custody of the officers of the quarantine; and any such person attempting to escape may be forcibly detained at the place of quarantine by such officers.

2403 (1268) (1512) (1218) (967). Quarantine of travelers.—Any person coming into a town, city, or county by land, from a place infected with a contagious disease, may be compelled to perform quarantine by a health officer, and restrained from traveling until discharged.

2404 (1269) (1513) (1219) (968). Expenses of quarantine.—All expenses incurred by any town, or city, or county, on account of any person, vessel, or goods, under quarantine regulations, must be reimbursed by such person; or, in case of a vessel, or goods, by the owner thereof; and the vessel or goods may be detained until such expenses are paid.

2405 (1270). Bringing into, or removal of within county, persons laboring under disease.—Persons laboring under a pestilential or infectious disease must not be taken into a county, or, being within the county, must not be removed from place to place therein, except under such regulations as may be prescribed by the county board of health.

2406 (1271). Bringing into, or removal of within county, body of deceased person.—The body of a person who has died from a pestilential or infectious disease, must not be brought into a county, or, being within the county, must not be removed from place to place therein, except under such regulations as may be prescribed by the county board of health.

2407 (1272) (1515) (1222). Authority of court of county commissioners.—The court of county commissioners is invested with the authority conferred upon towns as to quarantine, and the establishment of hospitals for persons infected with contagious diseases; and may make such rules and regulations as are necessary to prevent the introduction or spread of contagious or infectious diseases, and, to effect that purpose, may appoint such guards and superintendents as may be deemed necessary.

2408 (1273). Authority of judge of probate.—The judge of probate, if he deem it necessary, and is supported in his opinion by the certificate of three respectable citizens of the county, one of whom is a licensed physician, has authority to appoint guards and superintendents, and to establish hospitals to prevent the introduction or spread of contagious diseases; and, if he exercises the authority, must, as soon as practicable thereafter, convene the court of county commissioners, and such court may ratify, change, or disaffirm his acts.

2409. Quarantine board of Mobile bay.—The president of the board of revenue and road commissioners of Mobile county, the mayor of the city of Mobile, the health officer of the city of Mobile, the president of the chamber of commerce of Mobile, the president of the medical association of Mobile, the probate judge of Baldwin county, and the person selected by the county commissioners of Baldwin county, as health officer of that county, and their successors in office shall, virtute officii, constitute a quarantine and health board to be known and designated as the "Quarantine Board of Mobile Bay," no member of which shall receive any compensation for his personal service, except that the members of such board from Baldwin county shall be, in a sworn statement, paid for all actual expenses incurred in attendance on the meetings of the board; and that the board may from time to time, inspect the quarantine plant, and may hire a tug or other suitable boat for the purpose, and pay the expenses of the trips made for the purpose of such inspections. But such board shall not have the power or authority to take away from the Mobile board of health any of the powers or duties not in conflict with this chapter in regard to the actual administration of quarantine devolved upon such board of health by the existing health and quarantine laws. Feb. 16, 1891, p. 862, §§1, 12, 14.

2410. Organization of board.—The persons named in the preceding section shall assemble in the city of Mobile, which shall be the headquarters of such board, and organize by the election of a president, vice-president, secretary and health officer of the board, and, from time to time, such officers as may be necessary for carry- Ib. §2.

ing out the purposes of their organization. The president and vice-president shall, and any of the other officers may, be members of the board, and a majority of the board shall be a quorum for the purpose of organization or transaction of business. But the failure of the board to organize promptly shall not prevent the subsequent organization thereof.

Ib. §3. 2411. Site for quarantine plant; condemnation; appeal.—It shall be the duty of the board to select a site for the erection of a modern and approved quarantine plant at some suitable place at or near the entrance to Mobile bay, either on the shore or in the waters of such bay, which shall be approved in writing by the governor of this state before the location of the plant thereat. In case the site selected be the property of private persons or corporations the board, by proceedings in its name, may condemn such site, or the use or easement therein as may be needed, to the uses and purposes of such quarantine plant, just compensation being first paid the owner thereof, to be determined in manner and form as provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use. And in case an appeal is taken from the preliminary assessment of damages, upon tender to the owner, or payment of the award of damages into court, the board shall have the right to take possession of such site, and proceed with the erection of such plant, pending the appeal.

Ib. §4. 2412. Erection of plant.—The board, with the means at hand, and with such other pecuniary aid and material and labor as may be donated by private parties, or by the county commissioners of the counties of Baldwin and Mobile, who are hereby authorized to give such aid from the county funds, or by the city of Mobile, must erect the most substantial, modern and approved quarantine plant available for the purpose of disinfecting and fumigating vessels in the most perfect manner and with the least delay, with such piers, docks, wharves, storehouses, hospitals and other structures as may be deemed necessary or proper to be constructed for the discharge and fumigation of cargo, and for the care of sick or well persons detained in quarantine.*

Ib. §5. 2413. Regulations for quarantine; authority of board.—The board may, from time to time, prescribe the observance of quarantine by all vessels arriving in the bay or harbor of Mobile, or the vicinity thereof, and make regulations therefor which may be necessary or desirable to insure the preservation of the public health, such regulations to extend to all persons, goods and effects arriving in such vessels, and to all persons going on board of the same, as well as to the vessels themselves; and may require such vessels to be unladen, and the same to be cleansed, and the vessel, cargo and ballast, and the clothing and effects of all passengers and crew to be thoroughly fumigated and disinfected, or destroyed, where necessary.

Ib. §6. 2414. Same; vessels to come to anchor; rules for masters.—All vessels entering Mobile bay shall heave to, or come to anchor, as soon as a safe berth can be reached, as close to the quarantine as practicable, or as may be required by the regulations of the board, and display a signal for the quarantine officer, and shall not leave such berth until the quarantine officer has duly boarded and inspected such vessels, their passengers and crew, and has licensed the vessel to go on her way, or has directed her to quarantine-station; and if such vessel, under the rules and regulations and proclamations in existence, be required to go into, or observe quarantine, it shall be the duty of the master, or other person in charge of the vessel, and the passengers and crew thereof, to promptly conform to the orders and direction of such quarantine officer, and when in quarantine to strictly observe all the rules and regulations in force in reference thereto. And it shall be the duty of the board to supply the lower-bar pilots and the masters of all tugboats with a sufficient number of copies of directions printed in English, Spanish, French and German, of the rules required to be observed by the masters of such vessels in coming to anchor, displaying signal, and awaiting and submitting to the inspection of the boarding quarantine officer, and as to the duty of such master or person in charge of such vessel in answering all questions that may be propounded to him by such officer, and of the penalties for failing to fully and truly make answer thereto; and it shall be the duty of lower-bar pilots and masters of tugs engaged in towing vessels across the lower bar, to furnish the masters of such vessels with such printed directions, and conduct such vessels to the places designated for anchorage, prior to boarding, and to explain to or otherwise instruct the masters of such vessels as to the nature and kind of quarantine signal to be displayed by them.

2415. Same; rules for masters and pilots of tugs.—The board has authority, and it is its duty, to adopt such rules and regulations for the conduct of the master and crew of tugs and pilots, who shall be required to, or who shall perform any service for any vessel entering the bay of Mobile, and is authorized to require any such person coming in contact with any such vessel, cargo, or person infected or supposed to be infected, to observe such reasonable quarantine as may, in the judgment of the board, be necessary under the circumstances. Ib. §7.

2416. Inspection fees; payment; lien on vessel.—The board may establish and collect fees for the inspection of all steamships and other vessels coming into the bay of Mobile, not exceeding the following sums respectively: For steamships, twenty-five dollars; sailing-ships, twenty dollars; barks and four-masted schooners, fifteen dollars; brigs and three-masted schooners, ten dollars; tugs and two-masted schooners, seven and one-half dollars; other vessels, three dollars. But the board may relieve fishing, oyster, pleasure, pilot and other small boats and tugs regularly engaged in towing across the bar of Mobile bay, and small craft regularly plying in Mobile bay, and all vessels under five tons from inspection or the payment of the inspection fee, requiring such vessels, in its discretion, from time to time, to be inspected and to pay the fees above Ib. §9.

provided. The fees herein provided to be paid are payable on demand by the master or other person in charge of such boat or vessel, and are a lien on such boat or vessel.

Ib. §10. 2417. Value of services and material to be paid by vessel; quarantine fee.—In addition to the inspection fees, the board is authorized to charge and collect from the officers in charge of each vessel the actual or estimated cost for all services performed, including material furnished for the vessel in cleaning and fumigating the same, cargo or ballast, and unloading and loading the same, and in addition may charge a quarantine fee for the maintenance and operation of the plant of not exceeding seventy-five dollars in any one case; they shall also be authorized to charge for medicines, board and hospital attendance furnished to passengers and crew an amount fixed by the board to cover the actual expenses and cost of such medicines, board and hospital attendance; all of which charges must be settled on demand by the master of such vessel, and shall be a lien on such vessel. And the board, in the charging of any such fees and expenses, may discriminate in favor of vessels which are, by themselves or with other vessels, running regular lines, or which have to observe quarantine more than once during the same year.

Ib. §11. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1062, §2. 2418. Quarantine fund; auditing accounts.—All fees and dues collected by the board, its officers or agents, shall be covered into the treasury of Mobile county, and shall there be kept by the treasurer thereof as a special fund, designated "the quarantine fund." It shall be the duty of the board to audit monthly the accounts, receipts, and expenditures of the officers of the board, and to direct the payment of the balance on hand into the treasury of Mobile county, and no expenditure of such fund shall be made except on warrant drawn upon the treasurer of such county by the president, and countersigned by the secretary, of the board. But a fund not exceeding two hundred dollars, may be kept in the hands of the officer in charge of the quarantine plant, with which to purchase fish, vegetables, fruits, etc., or to meet other expenses, concerning the disbursement of which he shall render monthly accounts to the board.

Ib. §§11, 12. 2419. Salaries and wages of officers and employes.—It shall be the duty of the board to fix the salaries and wages of all employes, and no officer or employe of the board shall be paid or allowed to collect or receive for any services rendered by him in connection with such quarantine, any fee or compensation, other than the regular salary fixed by the board.

Ib. §13. 2420. Removing vessel from quarantine without permission; escape from quarantine.—It shall be a misdemeanor for any master or person in charge of any vessel to remove or take such vessel from quarantine before she is given pratique, or to procure or aid such vessel to be so removed; and every person ordered to remain in quarantine who shall escape or depart before being discharged therefrom, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and any justice of the peace or mayor of any city, on complaint, may issue his warrant to a sheriff or constable, or any lawful officer to arrest and deliver any such person to the custody of the officers of quarantine; and any person so attempting to escape may be forcibly detained or placed in quarantine by such officers.

2421. Examinations under oath.—Any master of a vessel, or other person therein, or who is suspected of having come into contact therewith, may be sworn by the inspecting, boarding or health officer, touching his previous history, or that of his ship, cargo, ballast, crew or passengers, for such length of time, and in reference to such matters as may be necessary to enable the officers to determine whether or not it is proper for such vessel, passengers or crew to observe quarantine. Ib. §14.

2422. Expenses of "The Quarantine Board of Mobile Bay."—The amount necessary for the full construction, completion and equipment of this quarantine plant, and the authorized wharves, piers, docks, and other structures, over and above the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, shall be borne by the county of Mobile; and the entire expense of maintaining such quarantine, including all repairs, additions and improvements that may be made by the board, over and above the amount received for fees and dues collected by such board, shall be borne by the county of Mobile and the city of Mobile, equally, each paying one-half of the same; and it shall be the duty of the board of revenue and road commissioners and of the mayor and general council of the city of Mobile to make proper provisions therefor. Ib §8. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1062, §1.

2423 (1278) (1536). State board of health.—The Medical Association of the State of Alabama, organized in accordance with the provisions of the constitution adopted at the annual meeting of the association, held at Tuscaloosa in March, 1873, and confirmed by an act of the general assembly approved February 6, 1893, is constituted the state board of health.

2425 (1279) (1537). Duties of state board of health.—The state board of health must exercise a general superintendence and control over the county boards of health; must prescribe rules and regulations for the conduct of such boards, and must declare their duties; and must place themselves in communication with the hospitals, asylums and other like public institutions in the state; and must take cognizance of the interest of health and life among the people generally; must investigate the causes, and means of prevention of endemic and epidemic diseases; must investigate the influences of localities and employments upon the public health; and must act as an advisory board to the state in all hygienic and medical matters.

2426 (1280) (1538). Report annually to the governor.—The state board of health must, annually, make to the governor a report of their investigations and transactions during the preceding year, and the governor must cause such number of copies of such reports to be printed for distribution as he may deem necessary; in such report or reports, the board must make such suggestions as to legislative action as they deem advisable.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 72.

2427. Duty of state health officer in case of quarantine.—The state health officer, under the direction and control, and under the rules and regulations of the state board of health, shall have the power, and it shall be his duty, by and with the consent and concurrence of the municipal authorities and the county health officer, to modify the restrictions of all quarantines established by county and municipal authorities in this state; to make them more stringent, whenever they are in his judgment not sufficient for the protection of the people; and to lessen the stringency whenever in his judgment they interfere with travel and traffic to an extent beyond what is necessary for such protection.

2428 (1281) (1539). County boards of health.—The county medical societies in affiliation with the Medical Association of the State of Alabama, and organized in accordance with the provisions of its constitution, are constituted boards of health for their respective counties, and are under the general superintendence and control of the state board of health.

2429 (1282). Duties of county board of health.—It is the duty of the county board of health—

1. To supervise the administration of the health laws of the state in the county, and especially the regulations made for the protection of the public health, and for the collection of vital statistics.

2. To examine, as far as practicable, into all cases of malignant, pestilential, infectious, epidemic and endemic diseases occurring in the county, and the causes thereof, and to take such steps as may be necessary for their abatement and prevention.

3. To examine into all such nuisances as tend to endanger public health, and to take such steps as may be necessary for their abatement and prevention.

4. To exercise a general superintendence over the sanitary regulations of the public institutions situate in the county, including hospitals, asylums, workhouses, prisons, markets and public schools.

5. To supervise and regulate all matters pertaining to quarantine, quarantine physicians, the examination, detention and disinfection of vessels, railroad-cars and other vehicles employed in the transportation of persons or freight; and for the examination and detention of all persons coming into the county, infected or suspected of being infected with contagious or infectious diseases, and of all persons, vessels, railroad-cars, or other vehicles, or freights coming from places against which quarantine has been proclaimed.

6. To appoint a health officer for the county, and to do and perform such other duties as are, or may be required of them by law.

2430 (1283). Report of county board.—The county board of health must make to the court of county commissioners, or the board of revenue, and to the state board of health, during the month of January of each year, a full and complete annual report of all the sanitary work done in the county, during the preceding year, by them or under their orders, which must contain all the vital and sanitary statistics of the county, together with such other information, suggestions and recommendations in regard to the public health as they may deem advisable, or may be, from time to time, required by the court of county commissioners, or board of revenue, or by the state board of health.

2431 (1284) (1541). County, city, or town may invest county board of health with powers.—The court of county commissioners, or the proper corporate authorities of any city or town, may, jointly or separately, invest the county board of health with such executive powers and duties as may be deemed necessary for the preservation and promotion of the public health, and for the prevention of the introduction or spread of contagious or infectious diseases; such powers to be exercised, and such duties to be performed under such rules and regulations as may be determined upon between such board and such court, or corporate authorities.

2432 (1285) (1542). Sanitary regulations; expenses.—In the exercise of such powers and performance of such duties, in the administration of all sanitary regulations, the appointment of officers or servants is reserved exclusively to the board of health; but the matter of expenditures is reserved exclusively to the court of county commissioners, or to the proper corporate authorities of the town or city.

2433 (1286) (1543). No other local boards than county boards of health to be established.—No local board of health, or executive medical body of any name or kind, for the exercise of public health functions, other than the county board of health, must be established in any county, town, or city.

2434 (1287). Health officer of county.—The county board of health must elect a health officer of the county, and fix the term of his office; such officer to be removable at the pleasure of the board.

2435 (1288). Bond; salary of health officer.—The health officer must enter into bond with sufficient sureties, payable to the judge of probate of the county, in a sum equal to twice the amount of his annual salary, with condition for the faithful performance of all such duties as are, or may be required of him by law; his salary shall be fixed by the court of county commissioners, or board of revenue, and must be paid annually from the county treasury, on the warrant of the judge of probate, or clerk, or secretary of the board of revenue.

2436 (1289). Duties of health officer.—It is the duty of the health officer—

1. To keep, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the county board of health, a book to be styled "register of births," in which he must register all births occurring in the county, reported to him, specifying, so far as reported, the sex and color of the child, the date of birth, the name or names of the parent or parents, with such other details as he may be required to enter; also a book to be styled "register of deaths," in which he must register all deaths occurring in the county reported to him, specifying the date, cause and place of death, the name, age, sex and color of the deceased person, with such other details as he may be required to enter; also a book to be styled "register of infectious diseases," in which he must register all cases of pestilential or infectious diseases occurring in the county reported to him, with such other details as he may be required to enter.

2. Under the direction and control of the county board of health, and in accordance with the health laws of the state, to exercise a general supervision over the sanitary interests of the county, and if discovering any cause of disease, or the existence of anything detrimental to the public health, to compel the removal thereof, so far as he is authorized by law; and if he have not authority of law to compel such removal, to make report to the county board of health of the particular facts, with such suggestions as to special action as he may deem advisable.

3. To make diligent inquiry into all cases of pestilential or infectious disease occurring in the county, coming to his knowledge, or of which he is informed, reporting the facts thereof to the county board of health, and employing all such means as he has authority to employ to prevent the spread of such disease.

4. To obtain, from time to time, at the expense of the county, necessary supplies of reliable vaccine matter, which, without charge, he must, on application, furnish to the practicing physicians of the county, and, when prepared, to vaccinate without charge, all indigent persons of the county applying at his office.

5. To discharge such other executive health functions as are, or may be required of him by the county board of health.

6. To make to the county board of health such reports of his official transactions as they may require.

2437 (1290). Assistant health officers.—The county board of health shall also appoint such assistant health officers, and in such numbers, and distributed in such way through the county, as to them the public convenience may seem to require. These assistant health officers shall keep, severally, registers of births, registers of deaths, and registers of infectious diseases of the same character as those required to be kept by the county health officers. Physicians, midwives, and other citizens may report births, deaths, and cases of pestilential or infectious diseases to an assistant health officer, instead of to the county health officer, whenever they find it more convenient to do so. The same regulations that may apply, from time to time, to reports made to the county health officers, shall also apply to reports made to an assistant health officer. An assistant health officer must make such reports of the births, the deaths, and the cases of pestilential or infectious diseases, registered by him, as the county board of health may, from time to time, prescribe; and must serve, without compensation, and may be at any time summarily removed by the county board of health.

2438 (1291). Report of births.—It is the duty of a physician, midwife, or other person, attending any case of midwifery, or childbirth, within such time as may be fixed by the county board of health, to make to the county health officer a full report of such case, specifying, so far as known, the name or names of the parent or parents, their race and place of birth, the date of the birth, the sex and color of the child, with such other details as may be prescribed by the county board of health.

2439 (1292). Report of infectious diseases.—It is the duty of every physician, attending or treating any case of pestilential or infectious disease, within such time as may be prescribed by the county board of health, to make a full report thereof to the county health officer specifying the name of the patient, the locality within which such patient was or may be found, the character of the disease, and such other details as are, or may be prescribed by the county board of health. If a case of pestilential or infectious disease, not attended or treated by a physician, should occur, it is the duty of the head of the family in which it occurs, or of the person on whose premises it occurs, to make a like report thereof to the county health officer.

2440 (1293). Certificate of death.—The county health officer must supervise all certificates of death, requiring them to conform to the rules of the county board of health; and must make such certificate, if otherwise a proper certificate cannot be obtained, notifying the coroner of all cases in which his intervention is necessary.

2441 (1294). Report of death.—It is the duty of a physician, or midwife, or other person, having, at the time of death, charge of a sick person, to make to the county health officer, within such time as may be fixed by the county board of health, a full report of such death, specifying the name, age, sex, color, date, place, and cause of death, with such details as may be prescribed by the county board of health.

2442. (1295). Annual appropriation to State Medical Association.—For the purpose of carrying into execution the health laws, there is appropriated to "The Medical Association of the State of Alabama," annually, the sum of three thousand dollars, to be expended under its direction, and to be paid on the warrants of the auditor on the treasurer, on the requisition of the president of the association; and the association must render to the governor, annually, an itemized account of the expenditures of such appropriation.

PUBLIC ROADS.

2443 (1387) (1619) (1310) (1129). Superintendence of roads by county commissioners.—The court of county commissioners of the several counties is invested with a general superintendence of the public roads within their respective counties, and may establish new, and change and discontinue old roads, in the manner hereinafter provided.

The power herein exercised is quasi legislative and other courts will not revise except in so far as it interferes with property rights.—Commissioners v. Hearne, 59 Ala. 37; Hill v. Bridges, 6 Port. 197; Moore v. Hancock, 11 Ala. 245; Parnell v. Commissioners, 34 Ala. 278; Commissioners v. Bowie, Ib. 461; Creswell v. Commissioners, 24 Ala. 282. What is a public road.—Mills v. State, 20 Ala. 88; McDade v. State, 95 Ala. 28. Certiorari.—Commissioners v. Hearne, 59 Ala. 371.

2444 (1388) (1620) (1311) (1130). Grades for public roads.—Public roads are of three grades—the first, thirty feet wide, with bridges and causeways fifteen feet wide; the second, twenty feet wide, with bridges and causeways fifteen feet wide; and the third, fifteen feet wide, with bridges and causeways ten feet wide—all grades to be cleared of trees and other obstructions, the stumps and roots to be cut out entirely; and lanes through plantations of such width as may be prescribed by the court, not exceeding thirty feet.*

2445 (1389) (1621) (1312) (1131). New road, or change of road. No public road can be established, changed, or discontinued, except on application to the court of county commissioners.

Dedication.—McDade v. State, 95 Ala. 28; Western Ry. v. Grand Trunk Ry., 96 Ala. 272; Harper v. State, 109 Ala. 66.

2446 (1390) (1622) (1313) (1132). Petition; notice.—Such application must be by petition; and at least thirty days' notice of the intended application must be given by advertisement at the court-house door, and at three other public places in the county, two of which shall be in the immediate neighborhood of the road to be established, changed, or discontinued.

On certiorari record must show everything necessary to jurisdiction.—Commissioners v. Hearne, 59 Ala. 371.

2447 (1391) (1623) (1314) (1133). Viewers appointed to mark out road and assess damages.—When a new road is to be established, or an old road changed, the court must issue an order to seven disinterested householders of the county, to view and mark out the best route for such proposed road, and to assess the value of the land of each landowner that will be taken, if the road is opened over the route marked out.

*As amended by joint committee.

Commissioners v. Street, Ala. (22 So. 629).

2448 (1392) (1624) (1315) (1134). Viewer's oath, return, etc. The viewers, before acting, must take an oath to view and mark out the road described in the order, to the greatest advantage to the public, and with as little prejudice to individuals as possible, and without partiality or favor; and to justly assess the value of the land of each landowner, which will be taken for said road; and must, after viewing and marking out the route and making the assessment of compensation that each landowner will be justly entitled to, if his lands are taken for said road, return the same to the court; whereupon the court must cause a notice to be served on the owner or owners of each tract or parcel of land, over which the road has been marked out, showing the route marked out, the quantity of land that will be taken from said owner, if the road is opened, and the amount of compensation that the viewers report should be paid to said owner; and appointing a day on which the court will hear any objections to said report, or to any valuation therein shown.

Commissioners v. Street, Ala. (22 So. 629).

2449 (1393) (1625) (1316) (1135). Hearing of objections to report and valuation; accepting route; opening road, etc.—On the day appointed, the court must hear any objection made to the route marked out, or to the amount of compensation which the viewers have reported should be paid any landowner for the land which will be taken up by said road, if opened; and may increase said compensation to such an amount as they deem just; and may accept the route and confirm the report, or may reject the route and set aside the report. If the court accept the route, and confirm the report, and no appeal is taken from that order and judgment, within the time hereinafter prescribed, the court must cause the compensation adjudged to the landowner to be paid or tendered to him; and must thereupon make an order for the opening of such road; but a road must not be opened between the first day of March and the tenth day of July in any one year, nor over any land while a crop is growing thereon, unless the crop was planted after the order was made, nor during the pendency of an appeal provided for herein.

Commissioners v. Street, Ala. (22 So. 629).

2450 (1394). Appeal by owner of land.—The owner of the lands, if dissatisfied with the assessment of damages made by the viewers, is entitled, as of right, to an appeal from the judgment of the court of county commissioners confirming the same to the circuit court of the county, and on such appeal to a trial de novo by jury; such appeal to be taken within ten days from such judgment by giving security for the costs thereof to be approved by the judge of probate or the clerk of the court of county commissioners; and on the giving of such security, the judge of probate or the clerk of the court of county commissioners must file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court a full and complete transcript of all proceedings had in the court of county commissioners, including the certified assessment of damages.

Commissioners v. Street, Ala. (22 So. 629).

2451 (1395) (1629) (1320) (1139). Who liable to do road duty. All persons are liable to work on the public roads, except those exempted by the following section.

Non-residents or mere sojourners not liable.—Spann v. State, 14 Ala. 588.

As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 67.

2452 (1396) (1630) (1321) (1140). Persons exempt.—All females, and all male persons under the age of eighteen, and over the age of forty-five, years; all persons who have lost an arm or a leg; and all persons who by nature or disease are rendered incapable of hard labor, who shall procure a certificate of such incapacity from the county board of health, are exempt from working on public roads; but where there is no county board of health, the certificate of such incapacity from two reputable practicing physicians shall be sufficient.

2453 (1397) (1631) (1322) (1141). Extent of liability to work. No person or hand is liable to work any public road, every part of which is distant more than six miles from his residence; or to work more than ten days in any one year, not counting the days engaged in opening new roads.

As amended Feb. 21, 1893, p. 780.

2454 (1398) (1632) (1323) (1142). Road precincts apportioned; overseers.—For the purpose of keeping roads in repair, the court of county commissioners or board of revenue, at its last regular term in every fourth year, must divide the county into a convenient number of road precincts, and must, at the same court, appoint three apportioners for each election precinct, which apportioners shall forthwith proceed to appoint an overseer to each road precinct; such overseer must be between the ages of twenty-one and fifty years; and the apportioners must return a list of overseers appointed by them to the probate judge of their county, within thirty days after their appointment, who shall issue commissions as prescribed by law.*

Allison v. State, 60 Ala. 54.

As amended Dec. 10, 1892, p. 71.

2455 (1399) (1633) (1324) (1143). Term of apportioners and overseers.—Apportioners and overseers must not serve longer than four years from the day of appointment, and if said term of four years is served out, they shall be entitled to a certificate of exemption for the next two years, and if any person be appointed to serve out the unexpired term of any apportioner or overseer, such person shall, at the expiration of the term for which he has been appointed, be entitled to a certificate of exemption from road service for one-half the length of time next after such term expires that he has served.*

*As amended by joint committee.

2456 (1400) (1634) (1325) (1144). Vacancy in office of apportioner.—On failure of the court to act, or in case of vacancy, the judge of probate appoints apportioners, who hold for the unexpired terms.

2457 (1401) (1635) (1326). Apportioners fill vacancies in office of overseer.—The apportioners must fill all vacancies in the office of overseer in their respective precincts.

2458 (1402) (1636) (1327) (1145). Oath of apportioners.—Apportioners, before entering on their duties, must take an oath faithfully to discharge all their duties, to the best of their skill and judgment, without partiality or favor.

2459 (1403) (1637) (1328) (1146). When new roads established. When a new road is established, such road must be divided into precincts; overseers appointed for each precinct, who hold until the term fixed for the appointment of overseers for the county; and an order directed to such overseers, issued by the judge of probate, directing the opening of the road through their precinct, which must be served by the sheriff and returned, as hereinafter provided for the service and return of copies of appointment on overseers.

2460 (1404) (1638) (1329) (1147). Copy of order of appointment to be furnished to sheriff.—The judge of probate must, within ten days after the appointment of overseers and apportioners, furnish the sheriff with a copy of the order of appointment.

2461 (1405) (1639) (1330) (1148). Statement to be attached to copy for apportioners.—The copy of the order appointing apportioners must be accompanied with a statement, signed by the judge of probate, of the overseers on any road precinct within their election precinct; a description of such road precinct, with the names and grades of the road assigned to such overseer.

2464 (1408) (1642) (1334) (1152). Valid from time of service. A service of the copy of such appointments and statements, although not made within the time prescribed, is valid from the time of service.

2465 (1409) (1643) (1335) (1153). Excuse or resignation.—Any person appointed apportioner, or overseer, may send his excuse for not accepting, or after he has accepted, may resign his appointment, to the judge of probate.

*As amended by joint committee.

2466 (1410) (1644) (1336) (1154). What the excuse or resignation must show.—Such excuse or resignation must be in writing, the causes for not accepting, or the reasons for resigning stated, and must be sworn to.

Statute points out only mode in which responsibilities of office may be escaped.—Allison v. State, 60 Ala. 54.

2467 (1411) (1645) (1337) (1155). Excuse or resignation, how passed on.—The judge of probate, with the concurrence of the court of county commissioners, may pass upon the sufficiency of such excuse or resignation of any person for not accepting the appointment of overseer, or of any person who may resign his commission as overseer of any road in their respective counties.

2468 (1412) (1646) (1338) (1156). Duties of apportioners.—It is the duty of the apportioners—

1. To make a list of all persons and hands within their precincts, subject to work on public roads, within fifteen days after being served with a copy of their appointment, and to correct such list from time to time as may be necessary during their term.

2. Within twenty days after such service, to apportion such persons and hands among the overseers, any portion of whose road is within their precinct, impartially according to the portion of such road within their precinct, the grade of the same, and its importance to the public; and to change such apportionment from time to time as a due regard to the public interest may require.

3. To provide each overseer in the precinct, within five days after any apportionment, with a correct list of the persons and hands apportioned to him.

4. To inspect, from time to time, the public roads within their precinct, notice the character of the repairs, and observe if such road is regularly posted, and direction-boards put up as required by law.

5. To appoint one of their number to attend court, and report to the grand jury any overseer who has, in any particular, failed to discharge his duty upon any road or portion of road within his precinct.

Williams v. State, 45 Ala. 55.

6. To see that all defaulters are prosecuted for not working.

7. To discharge the same duties in reference to bridges built under contract with the court of county commissioners, and in reference to persons violating section 5386 (4120) of this Code, which are mentioned in the three subdivisions next preceding.

2470 (1414) (1649) (1341) (1159). Duties of overseer.—It is the duty of overseers of public roads—

1. On the apportioners failing to furnish a list of persons and hands, within the time prescribed, to apply for, and, if possible, obtain the same.

2. To call out the persons and hands subject to work on their road precinct, at their discretion, and to work with the same ten days in the year, if such number of days' work is necessary to keep their precinct in good repair.

3. To measure, within three months after being notified of their appointment, their respective precincts in continuation, and to set up, at the end of each mile, neat and permanent mile-posts, marked with the number of miles to the court-house, or other noted place to which the road leads.

4. Where the road in their precinct forks or turns out, or crosses another public road, to erect within the same index-boards, with proper directions, pointing towards the place to which such turnout, fork, or cross-road leads.

Pullum v. State, 88 Ala. 190.

5. To build bridges and causeways whenever the same are necessary, unless the court of county commissioners deem it expedient to have the same built by contract.

6. Where a space is left on the continuation of the same road between two precincts in the same county, or on the county line in different counties, to unite with the overseer on the other side of such space, and his hands, either in working such intermediate space, or in building the bridges and causeways necessary to bring the two precincts together.

7. To report to the grand jury any apportioner in any election precinct in which his road, or any portion of the same, is situated, who fails to discharge any of his duties.

8. To prosecute all defaulters for not working on roads, as hereinafter provided.

9. To keep the ford of the stream in order, if deemed practicable by the apportioners of the precinct, when any bridge has fallen down or become dangerous.

10. When toll-bridges on public roads are constructed across watercourses, to keep open and in good condition the existing fords at such crossings, and the land entrance thereto on either side of the same.

11. To perform such other duties as are, or may be required of them by law.

McCullough v. State, 63 Ala. 75.

2471 (1415) (1650) (1342). Fences not to be joined to bridges without an order.—No person must join a fence to a bridge on a public road without the authority of an order from the commissioners' court, which may be obtained upon petition to such court, showing that the water over which the bridge passes is not necessary to the traveling public, or to the stock of the neighborhood.

2472 (1416) (1651) (1344) (1160). Apportionment valid until new one made.—In case no regular apportionment of hands is made, the overseer must act under the last apportionment; and in such case, all persons and hands living within two miles of any portion of the precinct, and not apportioned elsewhere, are liable to work, on being warned by the overseer, as hereinafter provided.

2473 (1417) (1652) (1345) (1161). When none has been made. If no apportionment whatever has been made, or the overseer cannot, on diligent inquiry, ascertain the same, all persons and hands living less than three miles from any portion of his precinct, and not apportioned elsewhere, are liable to work, on being warned, as hereinafter provided.

2475 (1419) (1654) (1347) (1163). Contracts for timber; value of timber; how assessed.—The overseers may also make contracts with the owners of land for timber to build bridges and causeways, and if they cannot agree, each must appoint a disinterested person; and in case of refusal so to do by such owner, the overseer must appoint two persons, who, after being sworn to act impartially, must value such timber; and if they cannot agree, must call in an umpire, whose decision is final; and the valuation so made, and reduced to writing, on the production of the same, with the certificate of the overseer, must be allowed by the court of county commissioners, and paid out of the county treasury, unless the charges are excessive, in which case such court may allow the reasonable value.

2476 (1420) (1655) (1348) (1164). Tools other than farming tools; how obtained.—If any other instruments than ordinary farming tools are necessary to keep the road in repair, the overseer may receive them in exchange for the labor of hands, or he may apply to the court of county commissioners, which court may authorize him to contract for such, and to such an amount as, in its discretion, it thinks proper, and pay for the same out of the county treasury.

2477 (1421) (1656) (1349) (1165). Who to aid in opening new roads.—On the opening of new roads, all persons not exempt, living within three miles thereof, are liable to work thereon; and the overseers opening such roads must warn all such persons within that distance, and must proceed against any of them failing to attend and work, as against other defaulters.

2479 (1423) (1658) (1351) (1167). Persons giving warning exempt.—The person serving the notice may be excused from work, at the discretion of the overseer, for all or any number of days that the hands may work on such warning.

2480 (1424) (1659) (1352) (1168). If warned on two roads.—If any person has been warned to work on two roads at the same time, he must work on the one on which he was first warned, if residing within six miles of any portion of such precinct, and not apportioned to any other.

2481 (1425) (1660) (1353) (1169). Penalty for default.—If any person warned fails to attend, or send a substitute, with the proper tools, agreeable to the notice, or fails faithfully to perform his duty, such person must pay for each day's default not less than one nor more than three dollars, to be recovered before any justice of the election precinct in which such road is, in the name of the county.

Brown v. State, 63 Ala. 97; Ward v. State, 88 Ala. 202; Geneva Co. v. Hall, 93 Ala. 488.

2482 (1426) (1661) (1354) (1170). The overseer may excuse defaulters; return list of defaulters; no security for costs required.—The overseer may excuse defaulters, on showing a good excuse on oath, which may be administered by the overseer, within five days after the default; and he must, at the expiration of that time, return on oath a list of defaulters, who are not excused, to any justice of the precinct through which such road, or any portion of the same, passes, who may hear excuses at the trial; and no security for costs in the proceedings for such defaults shall be required.

2483 (1427) (1662) (1355) (1171). List is evidence of default. Such list is presumptive evidence of the default against the person named therein, and should the county fail, the costs must be paid as in state cases.

2484 (1428) (1663) (1556). Process.—The overseers of public roads are authorized and empowered and in precincts where there is no constable or sheriff shall be required to serve all process that may be issued from the magistrate's court in the election precinct, against defaulters, to work on such overseer's road; and such overseer shall receive the same fees for such service as are allowed by law to constables for the same; but such overseer must only serve process where there is no constable in the precinct in which such process is issued by the justice of the peace. As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 81.

2485 (1429) (1664) (1357) (1172). Proceedings and penalty for failure to prosecute defaulters.—If any overseer fails to prosecute all defaulters as herein required, any justice of the precinct in which such overseer's road, or any portion of the same, is, must on application of an apportioner of such precinct, or any person liable to work thereon, issue a summons to such overseer, requiring him, on a day named therein, to show cause why such defaulters were not prosecuted; and if the overseer, on such summons being personally served, fails to show cause, the justice must give judgment against him for as much as the fines against the defaulters would have amounted to, at two dollars a day for each defaulter, not exceeding the amount of fifty dollars, to be paid, when collected, into the county treasury by the officer collecting the same.

2486 (1430) (1665) (1358) (1173). No property is exempt from execution.—No property owned by any defaulter in not working a public road is exempt from execution issued on a judgment found on such default.

2487 (1431) (1666) (1359) (1174). Road-books.—The judges of probate must keep road-books, containing a complete list of all the public roads in their counties, their names, grades, and the road precincts, so that an easy reference may at all times be had.

2488 (1432) (1668) (1362). Telegraph-wires falling on roads. Every telegraph company must, at each and every point where the wire of any line of telegraph may cross any private or public road, erect substantial, durable and permanent posts or piers, to prevent the falling of the wires so as to obstruct or interfere with the travel on such road; and upon failing to erect posts or piers, as herein prescribed, and upon the falling of any telegraph-wires so as to obstruct or interfere with the travel along any private or public road, it is the duty of any justice in the county, upon complaint that the wires of any telegraph-line have fallen across or along any road, private or public, to issue notice to any officer or agent of such company to be found within the county, to appear before him at such time, not short of ten days' notice, as he may appoint; and upon proof that the wires are down, or have been down for one day, he shall enter a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, for every day the wires are permitted to remain down.

2489 (1433) (1669) (1363). Notice in absence of officer or agent; fine, how enforced.—If no officer or agent of the company is found in the county, then, and in that case, notice posted at two or more places near the line of telegraph, in the neighborhood of the place where the wires have fallen, citing the company for five days to appear before a justice of the peace, shall be deemed and held sufficient notice; and if the company shall not defend, by some agent or officer, fine may entered by default; and if the company shall fail or refuse, for the space of sixty days, to pay any fine imposed under this article, such telegraph-line shall be deemed a public nuisance, and upon due notice the same shall be subject to be abated as such, by proceedings before the circuit court of the county in which such wires shall be permitted to continue down, in the same manner as other nuisances are abated.

As amended Nov. 29, 1890, p. 6.

2491 (1435) (1671) (1365) (1177). Gates.—The courts of county commissioners, in their respective counties, may authorize gates to be erected across a public road at such places, and under such conditions and restrictions as will produce the least possible injury to the public.

2492 (1436) (1672) (1375). Other roads may be established. Other public roads, besides those in this article above provided for, may be established by the courts of county commissioners of the several counties in this state, under the following regulations: Any person desiring the establishment of a public road under the provisions of this section, may file a petition in the court of county commissioners of the county in which the road is proposed to be established, specifying the length, width, points and directions of the desired road, and the names of the owners of the lands over which it is to pass, and setting forth that such road is for the public benefit. Upon the filing of such petition, the court of county commissioners must set a day for acting thereon, and must cause a written notice thereof to be served upon the owners of the lands over which the desired road is to pass, at least twenty days before the time set for the hearing of such petition. If, upon the hearing of such petition, it shall be made to appear to the court that the road applied for is necessary for the good of the state, the county, or neighborhood in which it is to be established, the court may order it to be laid off and established in the same manner, and under the same regulations as other public roads are required by law to be laid off and established; but no road shall be established, under this section, exceeding twenty feet in width, or in such manner as to run through any person's orchard, garden, or curtilage, without his written consent, filed in such court.

Commissioners' Court v. Street, Ala. (22 So. 629).

2493 (1437) (1673) (1376). Damages.—The person applying for the establishment of a road under the preceding section shall, when the damages are assessed to the owner of the lands over which it is to pass, in the manner provided by law, and before the road shall be cut out or opened, pay such damage to the owner or person entitled thereto, unless the court shall order such damages to be paid as now provided in other cases; and, in assessing such damages, the jury shall take into consideration the expense of erecting fences along the line of such road, and the annual expense of keeping up such fences.

Commissioners' Court v. Street, Ala. (22 So. 629).

2494 (1438) (1674) (1377). Costs.—When any road shall be established under the provisions of section 2492 (1436), the person petitioning therefor shall pay all the costs of the proceedings, and all the expenses of putting the road in condition for use, unless the court establishing the road shall order such costs and expenses to be paid out of the county treasury.

2495 (1439) (1675) (1378). Who keeps such road in repair. The person obtaining the establishment of a road under section 2492 (1436) and such other persons as shall habitually use the road, shall keep the same in repair without being exempt from road duty, unless the court of county commissioners shall otherwise order.

ARTICLE 2.

PRIVATE ROADS.

2496 (1440) (1676) (1379). Establishment of private roads. Private roads may be established by the court of county commissioners, on the application of any person; such roads not to exceed fifteen feet in width, and to be opened and kept in repair by the person on whose application they are established, without exemption on public roads.

Declared to be constitutional.—Steele v. Commissioners, 83 Ala. 304.

2497 (1441) (1677) (1380). Proceedings same as in case of public roads; location of road; damages.—In establishing a private road, the same rules must be observed, and the same proceedings had, as in the case of public roads; but no road must be opened through any person's yard, garden, orchard, stable, lot, gin-house, or curtilage, without his consent; and the applicant must pay the owner of the land over which such road passes, all damages resulting thereto from the establishment of such road, to be assessed as in case of public roads.

ARTICLE 3.

BRIDGES, CAUSEWAYS AND FERRIES.

2498 (1442) (1678) (1381) (1189). How established.—The court of county commissioners of each county is invested with authority to establish toll-bridges, free bridges, causeways and ferries within their respective jurisdictions, as hereinafter provided, and may levy a special tax to build such bridges and causeways, when, in the opinion of such court, the public good requires it.

2500 (1444) (1680) (1383) (1191). License for ferries, etc.; bond. The court of county commissioners may license any person to establish a ferry, bridge, or causeway, for a term not exceeding ten years, and fix the rates of toll and ferriage, without discriminating in favor of the inhabitants of their county; requiring the applicant to give bond and surety, to be approved by the judge of probate, in not more than two thousand dollars, payable to the county, and conditioned, if a ferry, to keep safe and convenient boats, with a sufficient number of ferrymen, and to keep the banks on each side of the watercourse in good repair; if a toll-bridge or causeway, that it shall be well built, of the width prescribed for the grade of the road it is in, and kept in good repair, so that it can be passed at all times with safety and convenience; which bond must be filed in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the license is granted.

Court has a discretion to be exercised with reference to public good and private injury.—Cox v. Easter, 1 Port. 130; Dyer v. Tuscaloosa Co., 2 Port. 296; State v. Commissioners, 3 Port. 412. License is an incorporeal hereditament which may be aliened and descends to heir.—Lewis v. Gainesville, 7 Ala. 85. Court has no power to revoke except for cause pointed out by statute. Lamar v. Commissioners, 21 Ala. 772. Absence from state of licensee no reason for revoking.—Garrett v. Ricketts, 9 Ala. 529. License presumed, when.—Milton v. Haden, 32 Ala. 30. Complete when order made and bond approved.—Collins v. Ewing, 51 Ala. 101.

2501 (1445) (1681) (1384). Regulation and alteration of tolls. The court of county commissioners has authority to regulate and fix the rates of toll on all toll-bridges and ferries in their respective counties, and, from time to time, alter the same, when, in the judgment of the court, the same shall be necessary and proper; but nothing contained in this section shall be so construed as to interfere with the chartered rights of the owners of any toll-bridge or ferry in this state; and no alteration in the tolls of any chartered bridge or ferry shall be made by the court of county commissioners, except upon the application of the owner of such bridge or ferry, or of a majority of the owners thereof.

2502 (1446) (1682) (1385) (1192). Additional bond.—The judge of probate must, when directed by the court of county commissioners, or whenever, in his opinion, the public good demands, require an additional bond to be given; and should the same not be given within ten days after such requisition, such failure must be reported to the next term of the court of county commissioners, and the license revoked.

2503 (1447) (1683) (1386) (1193). Who entitled to license; established only on a public road.—On application for ferries, where the banks on each side belong to the same person, he is entitled to the prior right of establishing a ferry; when the banks belong to different persons, the court may grant the license at its election, to either of such owners making the application; but should any person, not the owner of the land on either bank of the river where it is proposed to establish a ferry, make application for a license, he shall be required to produce before the court a statement in writing from the owner thereof, saying that he is not an applicant for such license; but no license for a ferry shall be granted until thirty days' notice of the intended application shall have been given, by notice posted at the court-house door, and at three other public places in the county, two of which shall be in the immediate vicinity where it is proposed to establish such ferry; and if the river is the dividing line between two counties then the notice shall be posted in both counties; and where the application is made in a county where the owner of the land resides, personal notice shall be given to him. Such license for a ferry shall be granted only at the crossing of a river at a point where a public road has been established.

2504 (1448) (1684) (1387) (1194). Compensation of the owner of the land.—The owner of any land appropriated for a public ferry must make application to the first term of the court, after the license is granted, and such court must appoint seven disinterested householders to assess his damages; such householders must be sworn to act impartially, must view the land and assess the damages for its appropriation, and report the same to the judge of probate; if such damages are not paid within thirty days after notice by the owner of such ferry, the court, on application of the owner of the land, must revoke the license.

2505 (1449) (1685) (1388) (1195). Toll-bridges, etc., between counties may be established by the court of either county.—Toll-bridges, ferries and causeways on the line between any two counties may be established by the court of either county; and in such case, the bond is to be approved by, and filed in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the license is granted.

2506 (1450) (1686) (1389) (1196). Not to be within two miles of another; exception.—No licensed toll-bridge or ferry must be established on the same watercourse within two miles of any other, unless within that distance of some town or city containing not less than five hundred inhabitants.

2507 (1451) (1687) (1390) (1197). Suit on bond.—Any person injured by a breach of any bond given under this article may sue thereon in his own name, and recover damages to the extent of the injury; and such bonds are not discharged by a single recovery, but may be sued on from time to time until the whole penalty is exhausted.

Lessee of ferry liable for losses in crossing.—Ladd v. Chotard, Minor, 366; Taylor v. Rushing, 2 Stew. & Port. 160. Ferryman is a common carrier. Babcock v. Herbert, 3 Ala. 392.

2508 (1452) (1688) (1391) (1198). Detention at ferry.—Any person unreasonably detained at a public ferry, toll-bridge, or causeway, may, for each detention, recover of the owner ten dollars before any justice of the county.

Ferryman bound to transport persons after night, unless circumstances render it dangerous.—Pate v. Henry, 5 Stew. & Port. 101; Koretke v. Irwin, 100 Ala. 323.

2510 (1454) (1690) (1394) (1201). Injuring bridge or causeway; passing round toll-gate; penalty.—If any person breaks or injures any gate to a toll-bridge or causeway, or obstructs, injures, or destroys such bridge or causeway, or passes round or under the same, with intent to avoid the payment of toll, such person forfeits to the owner ten dollars for each of such acts, and is also liable to an action for damages.

2511 (1455) (1691) (1395) (1202). Fords.—Any person may, however, ford any watercourse at any public ferry, without being liable to toll.

2512 (1456) (1692) (1396) (1203). Damages for injury by defect in bridge or causeway.—When a bridge or causeway has been erected by contract with the county commissioners, with a guaranty, by bond or otherwise, that it shall continue safe for the passage of travelers and other persons for a stipulated time, any person injured, in person or property, before the expiration of such period, by a defect in such bridge or causeway, may sue in his own name on the bond or other guaranty, and recover damages for the injury; and if no guaranty has been taken, or the period has expired, may sue and recover damages of the county.

Unprecedented flood or other casualty no defense.—Meriwether v. Lowndes, 89 Ala. 362. Liability is purely statutory, and does not extend to loss of stock running at large.—Lee v. Yarbrough, 85 Ala. 590. County liable where no bond taken.—Greene v. Eubanks, 80 Ala. 204. Liability of county for defects in highways not covered by this section.—Barbour v. Brunson, 36 Ala. 362; Covington v. Kinney, 45 Ala. 176; Barbour v. Horn, 48 Ala. 649; Sims v. Butler, 49 Ala. 110; Askew v. Hale, 54 Ala. 639. Action under this section does not lie in favor of person injured against one who has merely contracted to keep bridge in repair.—Williams v. Stillwell, 88 Ala. 332; Lee v. Yarbrough, 85 Ala. 590. Claim must be presented for allowance before suit.—Barbour v. Horn, 41 Ala. 114; Schroeder v. Colbert, 66 Ala. 137. What complaint must allege.—Barbour v. Horn, 41 Ala. 114; s. c., 48 Ala. 566; s. c., Ib. 649. Measure of damages.—James v. Conecuh, 79 Ala. 304. Contract and bond may be proved by parol if not to be found.—Williams v. Colbert, 81 Ala. 216. No action lies unless bridge erected under contract, etc.—Roberts v. Cleburne Co., Ala. (22 So. 545).

2513 (1457) (1693) (1397). Suit brought for failure to repair bridge.—When any bridge has been erected by contract with the county commissioners, with guaranty, by bond or otherwise, to stand for a stipulated period, and is, during such period, washed away, or so damaged as to become unsafe to the public, the court of county commissioners shall, upon the fact being made known to them by any freeholder of the county, notify the contractor to rebuild such bridge, if it be washed away, or repair it, if damaged; and in case of his refusal or neglect to do so in a reasonable time (to be judged of by the court), shall order suit to be brought in the name of the county on such bond.

2514 (1458) (1694). Riparian owners authorized to charge toll. Riparian owners upon the navigable and other waters of this state, who maintain in good order, for public convenience, erections and ferries upon the banks or shores of such waters, shall be entitled to charge usual and reasonable rates for the use thereof, or such rates as are prescribed in the several acts heretofore passed, authorizing such erections or ferries, or agreed on by such owners with the corporate authorities of any city, or town, or county, in which they are situated; but no erection or structure, or ferry of any kind, shall be permitted injuriously to affect the rights of navigation in such waters.

ARTICLE 4.

WATERCOURSES.

2515 (1459) (1723) (1440) (1205). Navigable streams.—All navigable waters in this state are public highways.

Bullock v. Wilson, 2 Port. 436; Mayor, etc., v. Eslava, 9 Port. 577; Ellis v. Carey, 30 Ala. 725; Glass v. State, Ib. 529; Rhodes v. Otis, 33 Ala. 578; Peters

v. N. O. M. & C. R. Co., 56 Ala. 528; Dickey v. State, 68 Ala. 508; Lewis v. Coffee County, 77 Ala. 190.

2516 (1460) (1724) (1441) (1206). Obstructions, how removed. The court of county commissioners is authorized to make contracts for opening or clearing out any navigable stream within the county, and for keeping the same free from obstructions.

2518 (1462) (1726) (1443) (1208). Hands to work on it as road duty.—When any watercourse is established as a road precinct, hands must be apportioned to, and the same cleared out, obstructions removed, and kept in good order by the overseer, under the same regulations and penalties, as to apportioners, overseers and hands, as are applicable by the provisions of this chapter to public roads.

CHAPTER 60.

HUSBAND AND WIFE. 2520-2537.

2520 (2341). Separate property of wife.—All property of the wife, held by her previous to the marriage, or to which she may become entitled after the marriage, in any manner, is the separate property of the wife, and is not subject to the liabilities of the husband.

Statute abrogates distinction between statutory and equitable separate estates; applies to property acquired prior to statute (Feb. 28, 1887).—Rooney v. Michael, 84 Ala. 585; Ramage v. Towles, 85 Ala. 588; Manning v. Pippen, 86 Ala. 357; Bruce v. Bruce, 95 Ala. 563; Turner v. Bernheimer, Ib. 241; Scharf v. Moore, 102 Ala. 468; Connolly v. Mahoney, 103 Ala. 568; Gunn v. Hardy, 107 Ala. 609; Simmons v. Richardson, Ib. 697. And to contracts made on day statute passed.—Young v. Pollak, 85 Ala. 439. But does not affect the rights or remedies of third persons existing at the time of its passage.—Jordan v. Smith, 83 Ala. 299; Maxwell v. Grace, 85 Ala. 577; Ernst v. Hollis, 89 Ala. 638; Darden v. Gerson, 91 Ala. 323; Jernigan v. Flowers, 94 Ala. 508; Gunn v. Hardy, 107 Ala. 609. Nor apply to estate limited by ante-nuptial contract. Smith v. Turpin, 109 Ala. 689; M. & C. R. Co. v. Bynum, 92 Ala. 335; Maxwell v. Grace, 85 Ala. 579. Nor to personal property acquired under the laws of another state.—Gluck v. Cox, 75 Ala. 310; s. c., 90 Ala. 331; Bush v. Garner, 73 Ala. 162; Loeb v. McCullough, 78 Ala. 533, 535. As between husband and wife, possession is referred to title.—Hawkins v. Ross, 100 Ala. 459; Allen v. Hamilton, 109 Ala. 634; McLeod v. Bishop, 110 Ala. 640; Larkin v. Baty, 111 Ala. 303. Same; adverse possession.—Harper v. Rudd, 89 Ala. 371; Gafford v. Strauss, Ib. 283. Conveyance from husband to wife; attack by creditors; burden of proof.—Robinson v. Mosely, 93 Ala. 70; Vaught v. Oehmig, 95 Ala. 306; Schloss v. McGuire, 102 Ala. 626; Nat. Bank v. Dickinson, 107 Ala. 265; McTeers v. Perkins, 106 Ala. 411. Same; property purchased by husband, and title taken in name of the wife.—Stoutz v. Huger, 107 Ala. 248; Kelly v. Connell, 110 Ala. 543. Same; improvements erected by the husband on the wife's lands.—Ware v. Seasongood, 92 Ala. 152; s. c., 104 Ala. 212; Nance v. Nance, 84 Ala. 375.

2521 (2342). Earnings of wife.—The earnings of the wife are her separate property; but she is not entitled to compensation for services rendered to or for the husband, or to or for the family.

Schlapback v. Long, 90 Ala. 525; Bates v. Morris, 101 Ala. 282; Larkin v. Woosley, 109 Ala. 258.

2522. Wearing-apparel of wife.—The wearing-apparel of the wife, however acquired, is her separate property.

2523 (2343). Damages for injuries to person or reputation. All damages which the wife may be entitled to recover for injuries to her person or reputation, are her separate property.

Barker v. Anniston, etc., St. Ry. Co., 92 Ala. 314.

2525 (2345). Liability for post-nuptial contracts and torts of wife.—The husband is not liable for the debts or engagements of the wife, contracted or entered into after marriage, or for her torts in the commission of which he does not participate; but the wife is liable for such debts or engagements, or for her torts, and is suable therefor as if she were sole.*

The husband, and not the wife, is liable for injuries caused by a vicious dog owned by her.—Strouse v. Leipf, 101 Ala. 433.

2526 (2346). Wife's power to contract.—The wife has full legal capacity to contract as if she were sole, except as otherwise provided by law.*

Contracts of the wife relating to her personal property, governed by the law of the husband's domicil, unless contract made where property is situate. Union Nat. Bank v. Hartwell, 84 Ala. 379.

2527 (2347). How wife sues, and must be sued.—The wife must sue alone, at law or in equity, upon all contracts made by or with her, or for the recovery of her separate property, or for injuries to such property, or for its rents, income, or profits, or for all injuries to her person or reputation; and upon all contracts made by her, or engagements into which she enters, and for all torts committed by her, she must be sued as if she were sole.

Wife may sue husband for property acquired from him prior to statute. Bruce v. Bruce, 95 Ala. 563; Rollins v. State, 98 Ala. 79. Share of wife in estate, on final settlement, decreed to her alone.—King v. Brown, 108 Ala. 68. Wife sues alone to enforce a vendor's lien for purchase-money.—Bogan v. Hamilton, 90 Ala. 454. And is suable alone in such case; coverture no defense where no personal decree is sought.—Crampton v. Prince, 83 Ala. 246; Bogan v. Hamilton, 90 Ala. 454; Joseph v. Decatur, 102 Ala. 346. Must sue alone as stockholder to dissolve a private corporation.—Wolfe v. Underwood, 91 Ala. 523. And to recover property acquired by gift from, or contract with the husband.—Allen v. Hamilton, 109 Ala. 634. Husband not a proper party to a bill against the wife for partition of lands in which she has an interest.—Marshall v. Marshall, 86 Ala. 383. "Rents, income, or profits," when property held under ante-nuptial contract, who must sue.—M. & C. R. Co. v. Bynum, 92 Ala. 335. May be made co-defendant with husband in bill to foreclose mortgage on his lands in which she joined.—Kimbrell v. Rogers, 90 Ala. 339. Not properly joined as co-complainant in a bill to remove a cloud upon the title to the husband's homestead.—Grider v. Amer. Mort. Co.

*As amended by joint committee.

Whilst the application is pending, the court may direct an injunction to issue, or make any order that the safety and well-being of the wife or children may require.

CHAPTER 61.

INNKEEPERS. 2538-2543.

2538 (1324) (522). Hotel and inn keepers must be licensed.—All keepers of a public inn or hotel must obtain license from the judge of probate of the county in which such inn or hotel is situate, and must pay to the judge such tax or the price of such license as is by law imposed.

2539 (1325). Liability of inn or hotel keepers.—In the absence of a special contract, as is authorized in the succeeding section, the rights of guests, and the liability of the keeper remain as at common law.

2540 (1326) (525). Special contract between inn or hotel keeper and guest authorized.—The keeper of a public inn or hotel may require any guest, or person proposing to become a guest, to enter into a special contract as to the kind and place of board, entertainment, or lodging to be furnished such guest, and the price therefor to be paid; and if such guest refuses to enter into such contract and to accept such board, entertainment, or lodging at the price proposed, as the keeper may offer, the keeper may refuse to receive or to entertain such guest, and because of such refusal shall not incur any liability whatever. Such special contract must be in writing, signed by both parties; and thereby the inn or hotel keeper may limit his liability for the safety of the goods of such guest, as it is defined or declared by the common law.

2542 (1328) (1550) (1243). Not liable for articles not deposited. Such hotel or inn keeper as shall comply with the requirements of the preceding section, shall not be liable for any money, jewelry, watches, plate, or other things made of gold or silver, or of rare and precious stones, or for other valuable articles of such description as may be contained in small compass, which may be abstracted or lost from any such public inn or hotel, if the same shall not be left with the hotel or inn keeper, his clerk, or agent for deposit, unless such loss shall occur through the fraud of the hotel or inn keeper, or some clerk or servant employed by him in such inn or hotel.

2543 (1329) (1551) (1244). Liability on failure to comply.—Any hotel or inn keeper, who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of section 2541 (1327) shall not be entitled to the exemptions and benefits contained in the preceding section, but shall, in all respects, be liable as at common law.

2544. Incorporation; name and powers.—The institution for the custody and treatment of insane persons, already located in the county of Tuscaloosa, and near the city of Tuscaloosa, is a body corporate and politic, under the name and style of the Alabama Bryce Insane Hospital, and by that name may sue and be sued, may contract and be bound; may have, possess and enjoy real and personal property, and have perpetual succession; may have and use a common seal, and break or alter the same at pleasure; and for the purpose herein set forth, have all powers incident to corporations of such nature, and suits for and against such corporation shall be brought only in the appropriate courts of the county of Tuscaloosa. Feb. 9, 1893, p. 344, §1.

Ib. §2. 2545. Trustees; appointment and compensation; filling vacancies; president and secretary.—The affairs of said corporation shall be managed and controlled by a board of seven trustees, four of whom shall constitute a quorum, who shall elect a president and secretary from their number for their own government, but who shall receive no compensation for their services other than the amounts of their traveling expenses actually paid out while attending the meetings of the board, or while on other business of the hospital to which they have been appointed by the board. Such trustees shall be nominated by the governor to the senate for confirmation or rejection. The governor shall fill all vacancies that shall occur in the recess of the senate, and his appointments shall hold until confirmed or rejected by the senate. Three of such trustees shall reside in the neighborhood of the hospital, and shall constitute the resident board, to manage such business of the hospital as shall be delegated and committed to them by the full board at their regular meetings. The other four members of the board shall be appointed from other parts of the state. The term of service for each trustee shall be six years. When a trustee is appointed to fill a vacancy, the appointment shall be for the unexpired term of the member of the board who has vacated the office; and the present arrangement whereby the terms of office of different trustees expire in periods of two years, shall continue.

Ib. §2. 2546. Trustees; powers and duties; meetings; reports.—The board of trustees shall hold at least one regular meeting during the year. They shall determine the time when the fiscal year of the hospital shall close, and as near after that date as practicable, they shall hold an annual meeting, when they shall make a thorough inspection and examination of the hospital and its management, which session of the board shall embrace at least two days; and at which session they shall adopt and transmit to the governor a full report of all the affairs of the hospital. At their meeting preceding the session of the general assembly, the trustees shall make their report to the governor to be annual or biennial, as the case may be, so as to embrace all the time between the sessions of the general assembly. One thousand copies of this report the governor shall cause to be printed at the expense of the state, one half of which shall be distributed among the members of the general assembly, and the other half shall be sent to the superintendent, to be distributed at his discretion to other similar institutions, or otherwise. The board of trustees shall adopt rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, for their own government, and for the government of the resident board; and shall adopt and have printed, rules and regulations for the management of the hospital, which shall specify, as far as practicable, the duties of the different officers and employes.

Ib. §2. 2547. Treasurer; bond and salary.—The trustees shall elect from outside their number, a suitable person as treasurer of the hospital, and determine his salary, who shall give a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by the resident board, which bond shall amply secure all funds and other effects of the hospital placed in his hands.

Ib. §§3, 14.

2548. Superintendent; qualifications, powers and duties; term, removal and salary; assistants and employes.—For the direct control and management of the hospital, the trustees shall, when necessary, elect a superintendent, and determine his salary, who shall in all his duties be their principal executive officer, and be held strictly accountable to them. Such superintendent must be a physician, who, before he assumes the duties of his office, must qualify himself to practice medicine under the existing laws of the State of Alabama. He must be of prompt business habits, and of a humane, kindly disposition. Such superintendent must be appointed for a term of not less than eight years, and must not be removed except for incompetency or unfitness, fully declared and shown, or for neglect of the trust reposed in him. Such superintendent, with the concurrence of the resident board, shall appoint all the assistant physicians, stewards, supervisors, nurses, attendants and other employes of the hospital, who are under his control and government; and shall have the power to remove them from the employ of the hospital at his discretion; and he shall determine, with the concurrence of the resident board, all the salaries, wages and other compensations that shall be paid said officers and employes. And he shall grant admission to any trustee at any time into any of the wards or departments of the hospital, and free access to any of its books and records.

Ib. §4.

2549. Admission of patients; qualifications for admission.—The hospital shall be maintained solely for the support, custody and treatment of insane persons; no other class of patients shall be admitted. No patient shall be received into the hospital without the proper papers hereinafter specified from the judge of probate of the county in which the patient resides. A person shall be considered insane or fit to be a patient in the hospital, who exhibits, in the first place, such a degree of brain debility, or mental aberration, as to render him (or her) constantly troublesome, or a nuisance, or dangerous to others, or dangerous to his (or her) own life or person, or dangerous to property; in the second place, this disability must not be transient like delirium in a fever, but of a more or less permanent character; in the third place, lack or loss of mental ability to properly conduct his (or her) usual work or business, shall be considered along with aberrant conduct in determining the question of a person's insanity.

Ib. §5.

2550. Same; order of admission.—In order of admission into the hospital, when its means of accommodation are crowded, preference shall be given to recent, curable cases, over chronic or incurable. Among those to whom preference shall be last given, shall be idiots, or any who have been imbecile and weak-minded from childhood; to those who are subject to epileptic convulsions; and to those whose temporary insanity is produced by the injurious use of alcoholic drinks or opiates.

Ib. §6. 2551. Same; preliminary steps; duty of probate judge; application.—When a relative, friend or other citizen interested, is desirous of placing a person in the hospital as a patient, he shall apply to the judge of probate of the county in which such person resides, and the judge of probate, without delay, shall proceed to investigate the case, by examining witnesses or not, as he sees fit; and if he is reasonably convinced that the application is a just one, he shall have prepared as full and explicit answers to the following list of interrogatories as is practicable, which answers he shall forward at once to the superintendent of the hospital, with an application for the admission of the person:

1. What is the name of the person in full? Age? Sex? Color? Civil condition (single or married)? Where born?

2. Is the person idiotic? Or has he (or she) been eccentric, imbecile or weak-minded since childhood?

3. Has the person epileptic convulsions or fits of any kind?

4. Can the person's insanity be attributable to the injurious use of alcoholic drinks or opiates?

5. Will the person's expenses in the hospital be paid by the state or by whom?

6. How long has the present insane condition of the person lasted, and did it begin suddenly or gradually?

7. Has he (or she) ever been insane before? When, and how long each time?

8. Has the person ever before been a patient in an insane asylum, or been confined in jail, or a poorhouse on that account?

9. In what way does the person's insanity now exhibit itself?

10. State any delusions the person may have.

11. Is the patient easily managed at home? And what means of restraint have been used?

12. Is the patient cleanly or filthy in habits? Does he (or she) ever attempt self-injury or suicide? Does he (or she) ever attempt to injure others, or threaten it? Is he (or she) destructive of clothing or property? How well does he (or she) attend to ordinary work or business?

13. In what other ways, than being insane, is he (or she) sick or diseased?

14. What near relatives of the person are, or have been, insane? Or idiotic? Or epileptic? Or inebriate?

Ib. §7. 2552. Same; reply of superintendent.—On receiving the application and the answers to the above list of interrogatories, the superintendent shall promptly forward a reply to the judge of probate, in accordance with the crowded condition of the hospital, and in accordance with the above instructions as to the order of admission of patients, whether the patient can be received or not.

Ib. §8. 2553. Same; certificate of judge; removal of patient; expenses of indigent patient.—When informed by the superintendent that the person can be received as a patient into the hospital, the judge of probate shall call at least one respectable physician, the family physician of the person, if practicable, and other credible witnesses, and investigate the facts of the case, either with or without a jury, and either with or without the presence in court of the person whose sanity is in question, according to his discretion; and if the judge, or the jury, if there be one, believe that satisfactory evidence has been adduced to show the person to be insane, the judge of probate must make certificates similar to the forms set out in this chapter, and send the insane patient, with the certificates committing him (or her) to the insane hospital. A copy of the certificate, committing the patient to the insane hospital, shall also be kept on file in the office of the probate judge. The judge of probate can deputize the sheriff, or other officers, or a friend or friends of the patient to carry him (or her) to the hospital. All necessary expenses incurred by county officers or others in conveying indigent patients to the hospital shall be paid out of the county treasury on order of the court of county commissioners.

Ib. §9.

2554. Same; duty of judge to ascertain financial condition of patient; expenses of paying or indigent patient; certificate.—At the same time that the judge of probate, or the jury, as the case may be, investigates the fact of the sanity or insanity of the person, if judged insane, the judge or the jury shall also examine witnesses under oath as to the financial standing and condition of the person, and if it appear that he (or she) has not sufficient means or estate to pay for his (or her) support in the hospital, the judge shall so state the fact in the certificate similar to the form set out in this chapter, and the expenses of the patient in the hospital shall be paid by the state in the manner specified in this chapter. If, however, it appear that the patient in his own estate, or his parents, if a minor, is possessed of sufficient means, or if his relatives or friends are willing to provide for his support, the judge of probate shall state the fact in the certificate that he (or she) will be a paying patient, and the judge of probate shall contract with the responsible parties, in the form specified, for the quarterly payment in advance of the amount charged under the direction of the resident board of trustees for the ordinary support and treatment of patients in the hospital. If, however, the patient's guardian or friends wish to pay for extra attention, diet, or treatment for the patient, the superintendent is authorized to furnish the same, in so far as the keeping of such paying patients does not interfere with or disturb the general mangement or discipline of the institution.

Ib.

"I (A. B.), judge of probate of the county of ——, and the State of Alabama, do hereby certify that it having been alleged to me that (C. D.), a resident of said county, is insane, and that his (or her) own and the public welfare demand that he (or she) be sent for custody and treatment to the Alabama Bryce Insane Hospital, pursuant to the statutes in such cases made and provided, I have called before me the following credible witnesses (stating their names), and Dr. ——, a reputable physician, practicing medicine in this state, and having examined them under oath, and fully investigated the facts of the case, with the said (C. D.) present in court (or not, as the case may be), and having considered it necessary to call a jury (or not, as the case may be), I do hereby certify that sufficient proof has been adduced before me (or to the jury) to satisfactorily show the said (C. D.) to be insane, and that he (or she) ought to be committed to the Alabama Bryce Insane Hospital for safe-keeping and treatment.

I further certify that the following credible witnesses (stating their names) have been examined as to the financial condition of the said (C. D.), and that satisfactory proof has been adduced to show that he (or she) has (or has not) sufficient means to pay his (or her) expenses in the Alabama Bryce Insane Hospital; and I therefore commit him (or her) to that institution as a paying (or indigent) patient.

Given under my hand at ——, in the county and state aforesaid, this —— day of ——, in the year ——.

A. B.,
Judge of Probate."

Ib 2556. Same; bond of paying patient.—If the finding of the judge of probate, or the jury, if there be one, be that the patient is financially able to pay his or her expenses in the hospital, the judge of probate shall cause the following bond to be made by at least two solvent and responsible parties, which bond shall be sent, together with the certificates of insanity, to the superintendent of the hospital:

"Know all men by these presents, that we —— ——, and —— ——, of the county of ——, in the State of Alabama, are held and firmly bound unto the Alabama Bryce Insane Hospital in the penal sum of three hundred dollars, for the payment of which we hereby bind ourselves, jointly and severally.

Sealed with our seals, and dated this —— day of ——, A. D. ——.

The conditions of the above obligation are as follows: Whereas (C. D.) of the county of ——, State of Alabama, is about to be admitted as a paying patient into the Alabama Bryce Insane Hospital; now, if while he shall remain therein, the undersigned shall constantly supply him with suitable clothing, and pay all charges of said hospital against him quarterly in advance; and whenever his removal shall be required, immediately remove him; and if he shall escape from said hospital, pay all reasonable charges incurred in restoring him; and if he die therein, pay all reasonable expenses incurred for his funeral; and in case of failure to perform promptly and faithfully any of the above conditions, pay all losses that accrue to said hospital by litigation, collector's fees, or otherwise, then this obligation shall be void; otherwise to remain in full force.

Witness our hands and seals, this —— day of ——, A. D. ——.

E. F. (Seal.)
G. H. (Seal.)

I hereby certify that in my opinion the obligors in the above bond have executed the same in good faith, and that the amount of the penalty specified therein can be recovered from them by due process of law.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand at ——, this —— day of ——, A. D. ——.

A. B.,

Judge of probate of —— county and State of Alabama."

Signers jointly and severally liable.—Enslen v. Ala. Ins. Hospital, Ala. (21 So. 74).

2557. Release of obligors on bond of paying patient.—In any case in which satisfactory evidence is adduced before the judge of probate that a paying patient in the hospital, has, since admission, and since his last advance payment of quarterly dues, become indigent in circumstances, so that he can no longer pay the ordinary charges of the hospital for his support, the judge of probate can relieve his bondsmen, and shall at once notify the superintendent of the fact, who, at the end of the current quarter, must transfer his name from the list of paying patients to the list of indigent patients whose expenses are paid by the state. But, however, the appeal to the judge and the notice to the superintendent must both have been made before the close of a quarter for which payment has been made. Ib. §10.

2558. When bond may be required of patient admitted as indigent; duty of probate judge.—If in any case in which a person who has been admitted into the hospital as an indigent patient it shall be brought to the attention of the probate judge of the county from which the patient was sent, that such patient has since admission become possessed of means sufficient to pay for his (or her) support in the hospital, the judge shall at once investigate the case, and if he find the facts to be as stated, he shall, upon penalty of having the patient returned by the superintendent to the care of his (or her) friends or relatives, cause to be made a bond for the support of the patient as hereinbefore specified. Friends or relatives can have any patient transferred from the indigent to the paying class upon paying into the hands of the steward of the hospital the charges for three months in advance, and giving bond for the continued payment of the same. Ib. §11.

2560. Furloughs granted by superintendent; readmission.—The superintendent of the hospital shall have the authority, if he think it will benefit the patient, to furlough any patient at the request of his (or her) friends or relatives, for a period not exceeding six Ib. §13.

months; but the furlough shall be granted only at the request of friends who shall pay all the traveling expenses of the patient from and back to the hospital, and send some person to accompany the patient on the way from and back to the hospital, if thought best by the superintendent; and if, at the expiration of six months the patient has not been returned to the hospital, or an application has not been made for an extension of the furlough, his (or her) name shall be transferred from the furlough to the discharged list; and readmission cannot be obtained without a certificate from the judge of probate of the county in which the person resides, in the same manner as if the person had never been a patient of the hospital.

Ib. §16. 2561. Expenses of removal of patient restored to sanity.—When a patient shall have been restored to normal mental condition sufficiently long to warrant the opinion on the part of the superintendent that such patient has recovered, the superintendent shall inform the friends or relatives of his (or her) recovery; and if the friends or relatives do not furnish the means to pay the necessary traveling expenses home, the superintendent shall notify the probate judge of the county from which the patient was sent of the fact, and the county commissioners of said county shall pay the reasonable and actual expenses of such removal out of the treasury of said county.

Ib. §17. 2562. Patients brought without certificate; duty of probate judge of Tuscaloosa county.—When any person shall be brought as a patient to the hospital without the proper certificate from the judge of probate of the county in which he (or she) resides, it shall be the duty of the judge of probate of the county of Tuscaloosa to examine such person as to his (or her) insanity and pecuniary ability, and give the proper certificates of admission; and it shall be the duty of the superintendent to record the patient as coming from the county in which he (or she) resides, and to notify the judge of probate of that county of the facts in the case; and said patient shall be under the control of the probate court of said county as to the payment of traveling expenses and other matters as herein provided.

2564 (1251) (1495) (1068). Governor causes removal to hospital on report of physician.—The governor must, when any case of insanity is reported to him, under the preceding section, appoint three physicians of skill and experience; of whom the physician of the convicts must be one, to examine the persons reported to be insane, and report to him the result of such examination; and if such board of physicians shall report such person insane, and a fit subject for the hospital for insane persons, the governor must cause such person to be removed to the hospital for insane persons at Tuscaloosa, at the cost of the state.

2565 (1252) (1496) (1069). Compensation for removal.—The same compensation must be allowed for guarding any insane convicts in the penitentiary, to and from the insane hospital, as is allowed to sheriffs and guards carrying prisoners to the penitentiary, to be paid by the state.

2566 (1253) (1497) (1070). Restored convict returned or discharged.—A convict to the penitentiary, sent to the insane hospital, must, upon his restoration to sanity before the expiration of his term of imprisonment, be returned to the penitentiary or discharged, as the governor may order.

2567 (1254) (1498) (1072). Convict insane at the expiration of his term.—When any person is imprisoned in the penitentiary of this state, under a sentence of a circuit court, and is insane at the expiration of his term of imprisonment, the lessee must report the same to the governor, who must cause an examination to be made of the extent and character of such insanity; and if upon such investigation it be found that such person is a proper subject for confinement in the hospital for insane persons, he must order him to be removed from the penitentiary to the hospital, and if such person be in indigent circumstances, and had no known place of residence previous to his confinement in the penitentiary, the expenses of keeping such person must be paid by the state.

2568. Admission of insane criminal must be prearranged with superintendent.—No insane criminal or person guilty of crime must be sent to the hospital until the sheriff or other person having the legal custody of such patient shall have forwarded to the superintendent of the hospital a written application, accompanied by a certified copy of the order of the court or the judgment under the authority of which the committal was made, and shall have received information in reply that there is room in the hospital building for such patient. Feb. 11, 1891, p. 476.

2569. Exemption of employes from certain duties.—The superintendent and other regular employes of the hospital shall be exempt from militia service, from liability to work on the public roads, and from serving on juries. Feb. 9, 1893, p. 344, §19.

2570. Police of grounds; appointment, powers and duties.—The superintendent of the hospital has authority to appoint or employ one or more suitable persons to act as police officers to keep off intruders and prevent trespasses upon and damage to the property of the hospital. Such persons shall be charged with all the duties and invested with all the powers of police officers, and may eject trespassers from the hospital buildings and grounds, and may, without warrant, arrest persons guilty of disorderly conduct, or of trespass on the property of the institution, and carry them before the nearest justice of the peace or other officer charged with the trial of such offenders, before whom, upon proper affidavit charging the offense, such person so arrested may be tried and convicted as in case of persons brought before him on a warrant; and such officer or officers shall have authority to summon a posse comitatus. Ib. §20.

Ib. §21. 2571. Superintendent not compelled to attend as a witness in certain cases; deposition.—The superintendent of the hospital shall not be compelled to attend, as a witness, to testify as an expert in any case or on any question of insanity or psychological medicine; provided he shall certify in writing to the court from which the summons is issued, within ten days after the service of the summons, that his absence from the hospital will, in his best judgment, interfere seriously with his professional duties as superintendent. But defendants in criminal cases, and the state, by consent of the defendant, and in civil cases, either party, may take the deposition of the superintendent as to all matters involving his opinion as an expert, when such testimony is admissible.

Ib. §22. 2572. Public highways not permitted through grounds; exception.—No public highway shall be allowed on or over the grounds of the hospital without the consent of the superintendent and resident board of trustees, granted by resolution to be recorded on the minutes of the board.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 79, §1. 2573. Trustees may give certain rights, and quitclaim lands to the United States for certain purposes.—The trustees are authorized and permitted to grant to the United States government, the privilege to open rock-quarries along the banks of the Warrior river on the lands of the hospital under such regulations and requirements as they may think proper, so as to guard against injury to the remaining lands of the hospital, free of charge or rent of any kind. And the board of trustees may quitclaim to the United States so much of the land as may be needed for the foundation of the walls of locks and dams and lock-tender houses, along the banks of the Warrior river, in the county of Tuscaloosa, under such regulations and requirements as they may see proper.

Feb. 9, 1893, p. 344, §15. 2574. Appropriation; disposition of unexpended balance.—A sum, regulated by the board of trustees, not exceeding three dollars per week for each indigent and criminal patient, shall be paid by the state for the support of the hospital, on the last days of March, June, September and December of each year; and the auditor of public accounts shall issue his warrant for that amount, on the order of the treasurer of the hospital, countersigned by the superintendent. And any balance remaining in the hands of the treasurer or steward on the thirtieth day of September of each year, shall be placed to the credit of a fund which shall be expended for permanent improvements, under the direction of the resident board of trustees.

INSURANCE COMPANIES.

ARTICLE 1.—THE DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE AND PROVISIONS REGULATING THE BUSINESS OF INSURANCE GENERALLY. 2575–2613.
2. PROVISIONS FOR THE PROTECTION OF LOCAL AGENTS OF FOREIGN COMPANIES. 2614–2618.
3.—PROVISIONS DESIGNED TO PREVENT TARIFF ASSOCIATIONS TO FIX RATES OF INSURANCE. 2619–2621.
4.—FIRE-INSURANCE PATROL. 2622–2625.

ARTICLE 1.

THE DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE AND PROVISIONS REGULATING THE BUSINESS OF INSURANCE GENERALLY.

2575. Definition of terms used in this article.—When consistent with the context, and not obviously used in a different sense, the term "company" or "insurance company" as used in this article includes all corporations, associations, partnerships or individuals engaged, directly or indirectly, as principals in any business of insurance; the word "domestic" designates those companies incorporated or formed of individuals living in this state; and the word "foreign" when used without limitation, includes all those formed by authority of any other state or government; the terms "unearned premiums" and "reinsurance reserve" and "liability reserve" and "net value of policies" or "premium reserve" severally intend the liability of an insurance company upon its insurance contracts, other than accrued claims, computed by rules of valuation established by section 2583; by the term of "net assets" is meant the funds of an insurance company available for the payment of its obligations in Alabama. Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1377, §1.

2576. Contract of insurance defined.—A contract of insurance is an agreement expressed or implied by which one party, for a consideration, promises to pay money, or its equivalent, or to do some act of value to the assured upon the destruction or injury of something in which the other party has an insurable interest. Ib. §2.

2577. Insurance commissioner; his duties and powers; deputy-commissioner.—The department of insurance shall have for its chief officer the secretary of state, who shall be styled the "Insurance Commissioner ex officio." The insurance commissioner shall exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred and imposed upon him by this article, or by any other law of the state. He may appoint a deputy-commissioner to assist him in the discharge of his duties, who shall receive an annual salary to be fixed by the governor, not to exceed twelve hundred dollars, to be paid by fees collected from insurance companies as provided in this article, and who shall be removable at the pleasure of the insurance commissioner. The said deputy-commissioner shall give bond with a guarantee company, or Ib. §3.

Ib. §4. 2578. General supervision of insurance companies; visitation and examination; penalties.—Before granting certificates of authority to an insurance company to issue policies or make contracts of insurance, the insurance commissioner shall be satisfied, by such examinations and evidence as he sees fit to make and require, that such company is duly qualified under the laws of the state, to transact business therein. As often as once in two years the insurance commissioner shall personally or by his deputy or some competent person appointed by him for that purpose, visit each domestic insurance company and examine its affairs, especially as to its financial condition and ability to fulfill its obligations, and whether it has complied with the law. He shall also make an examination of any such company whenever he deems it prudent to do so or upon the request of five or more of the stockholders or persons pecuniarily interested therein, who shall make affidavit of their belief, with specifications of their reasons therefor, that such company is in unsound condition. Whenever he deems it prudent for the protection of policy-holders in this state that any company authorized to do business in this state has violated any of the provisions of this article, he shall, in like manner, visit and examine, or cause to be visited and examined by some competent person or persons he may appoint for that purpose, any foreign insurance company applying for admission or already admitted to do business by agencies in this state. For the purposes aforesaid, the commissioner or his deputy or person making the examination, shall have free access to all the books and papers of an insurance company that relate to its business, and to the books and papers kept by any of its agents, and may summon and qualify as witnesses under oath and examine the directors, officers, agents and trustees of any such company, and any other persons, in relation to its affairs, transactions, and condition. Any insurance company examined under the provisions of this article, shall pay the proper charges incurred in such examination, including the expenses of the insurance commissioner or his deputy, and the expenses and compensation of his assistants employed therein. Whoever, without justifiable cause, neglects upon due summons to appear and testify before the insurance commissioner or his deputy or any person appointed by him as provided in this section, and whoever obstructs the insurance commissioner, his deputy or examiner, in his examination of insurance companies, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. Any insurance company violating any provision of this section or refusing to submit to the aforesaid examination when requested, shall forfeit their right to do business in this state for the next twelve months thereafter, and the insurance commissioner shall immediately revoke the license, if already issued, to said insurance company, to do business in this state; Provided, that in case of foreign life-insurance companies, for the purposes of this article, the insurance commissioner shall accept as true and correct the sworn published statement made to and approved by the insurance commissioner, or like officer, of the state in which said company is incorporated.

Ib. §5.

2579. When commissioner must revoke authority of foreign company.—If the insurance commissioner is of the opinion, upon examination or other evidence, that a foreign insurance company is in an unsound condition, that its actual funds, exclusive of its capital, are less than its liabilities, or if it has failed to comply with the law, or if its officers or agents refuse to submit to examination, or to perform any legal obligation in relation thereto, or fail to pay any judgment against it by a citizen of this state, he shall revoke or suspend all certificates of authority granted to it or its agents, and shall cause notification thereof to be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation, and no new business shall thereafter be done by it or its agents in this state while such default or disability continues, nor until its authority to do business is restored by the insurance commissioner; Provided, however, that unless the ground for revocation or suspension relates only to the financial condition or soundness of the company, or to a deficiency in its assets he shall notify the company not less than ten days before revoking its authority to do business in this state, and he shall specify in the notice the particulars of the supposed violation.

Ib.

2580. When domestic company restrained and receiver appointed.—If, upon examination, the insurance commissioner is of opinion that any domestic insurance company is insolvent, or has exceeded its powers, or has failed to comply with any provision of the law, or that its condition is such as to render its further proceedings hazardous to the public, or to its policy-holders, he shall apply to a court of competent jurisdiction through the attorney-general for the state, to issue an injunction restraining it in whole or in part from further proceedings with its business. Such court may, in its discretion, issue the injunction forthwith, or upon notice and hearing thereof, and after a full hearing of the matter, may dissolve or modify such injunction, or make it perpetual, and may make all orders and decrees needful in the premises and may appoint agents or receivers to take possession of the property and effects of the company, and to settle its affairs, subject to such rules and orders as the court may from time to time prescribe, according to the course of proceedings in equity.

Ib. §6.

2581. Proceedings when capital of domestic company impaired. Whenever it appears to the insurance commissioner that the capital of a domestic insurance company is impaired to the extent of twenty per cent. or more, he shall notify the company that its capital is legally subject to be made good; and if such company shall not, within sixty days after such notice, satisfy him that it has repaired its capital, as provided by law, he shall institute proceedings against it, in accordance with the preceding section.

Ib. §7. 2582. When domestic life company notified to issue no new policies until capital made good.—When the assets of a domestic life-insurance company, exclusive of its capital, are not of net cash value equal to its liabilities, including the net value of its policies, or when a domestic life-insurance company shall show an impairment of twenty per cent. of its capital, computed by the rules of valuation established by section 2583, he shall notify such company and its agents to issue no new policies until its assets come equal to its liabilities.

Ib. §8. 2583. Method of ascertaining status of foreign life and domestic companies.—The insurance commissioner shall each year compute the net value on the thirty-first day of December of the preceding year, of all outstanding policies of life-insurance in companies authorized to make insurance on lives in this state upon the basis of the "combined experience" or "actuaries' table" or the "American experience table" rate of mortality, with the interest at four per cent. per annum; and the aggregate net value, so ascertained, of the policies of any such company, shall be deemed its liability on account of its policy obligations, other than accrued claims, to provide for which it shall hold assets of an amount equal to such net value above all other liabilities. Whenever a foreign life-insurance company shall present to the insurance commissioner a certificate from the insurance commissioner of another state, as to the value of its policies in force, the insurance commissioner of this state shall be allowed to accept such valuation in lieu of his own valuation; Provided, that the valuation shall be made according to the standard fixed in this section. To determine the liability upon its contracts of insurance of an insurance company other than life, the insurance commissioner shall require such companies to charge as the liability for reinsurance of outstanding policies fifty per cent. of the premiums received on policies or risks having not more than one year to run, and a pro rata of all premiums received on policies or risks having more than one year to run, and in the case of companies doing a liability insurance an additional reserve fund shall be charged and known as "liability reserve" to an amount of not less than three hundred dollars for each suit pending against such company's policyholders for which it may be liable in the lower court and seven hundred dollars additional when such suit is appealed by the defendant to a higher court. The insurance commissioner shall allow to the credit of an insurance company, in the account of its financial condition, on such assets as are or can be made available for the payment of losses in Alabama. He shall not allow stockholders' obligations of any description as part of the assets or capital of any insurance company unless the same are secured by collateral satisfactory to the insurance commissioner.

Ib. §9. 2584. Annual statement to be filed with insurance commissioner; form; contents and publication; designating agent for service of process; gross premium tax; penalties.—No foreign insurance company shall be admitted and authorized to do business in this state until—First. It shall file or deposit with the insurance commissioner a properly certified copy of its charter, or deed of settlement and a statement of its financial condition and business on the thirty-first day of December next preceding, in such form as has been determined upon at the last convention of insurance commissioners of the United States immediately preceding the year in which such statement is filed, with such additional information as the insurance commissioner may require for the protection of Alabama policy-holders.

(a) All companies must state the total amount of gross premiums received, designating the amount received in this state, and shall at the same time pay to the insurance commissioner the sum of one dollar upon each one hundred dollars of said gross premiums so received in this state, and the company neglecting to make such returns accurately and in full at the time of filing the annual statement, shall pay to the state, in addition to said taxes, the sum of five hundred dollars within sixty days from date of notice of such delinquency and shall be debarred from transacting any business of insurance in this state until said taxes and penalties are fully paid.

(b) Its statement shall be subscribed under oath by the president and secretary, or other chief officers or managers, and shall be renewed annually on or before the first day of March of each year (but the insurance commissioner may for good cause extend the time), or as soon thereafter as the insurance commissioner may require, and shall contain a full report of its condition as prescribed in this section, on the thirty-first day of December preceding, which statement shall be published by it at its own expense in a daily newspaper of general circulation in this state. Upon failure of any company to comply with this section promptly, fully and correctly, such company will forfeit its right to do business in this state for one year thereafter, and shall pay to the state the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars and shall forever thereafter be debarred from doing business in this state until such penalty is fully paid.

(c) The annual statement of a company of a foreign country shall only be required to embrace its business and conditions in the United States.

(d) Any company willfully making a false annual or other statement required of it by law, and persons making oath to and subscribing the same, shall severally be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor exceeding one thousand dollars, and any person making oath to such false statement shall be deemed guilty of the crime of perjury, and punishable for such under the criminal laws of this state.

Second. It shall satisfy the insurance commissioner that it is fully and legally organized under the laws of its state or government to do the business it proposes to transact; that, if a life-insurance company, it has on deposit with the treasurer of the state, or with the proper officer of some other state, securities to the actual cash value of at least one hundred thousand dollars, consisting of bonds of this state, the United States, or the state in which such company is organized, or notes or bonds secured by mortgages on real estate for double the amount; and such companies shall file with the insurance commissioner the certificate of the official with whom the securities are deposited, stating the name and amount of each of said bonds, notes, or stocks, and that he is satisfied they are worth one hundred thousand dollars, and that the deposit is made with him by the company for the protection of all policy-holders and creditors in the United States; that, if an insurance company other than life, it has an actual paid-up cash capital of not less than one hundred thousand dollars, of which at least fifty thousand dollars shall be invested in bonds of the United States, or other good securities, to be certified as such by the insurance commissioner of the state in which said company is organized, reckoning the same at their current market value; or in lieu of a cash capital stock such company shall have and maintain a warranty capital or surplus above all liabilities, including reinsurance reserve of not less than one hundred thousand dollars; Provided, however, that companies transacting the business of plate glass or live stock insurance exclusively shall not be required to have a cash capital or surplus of more than fifty thousand dollars.

Third. It shall, by a duly executed instrument filed in this office, constitute and appoint the insurance commissioner, or his successor, its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all lawful processes in any action or legal proceeding against it may be served, and therein shall agree that any lawful process against it which may be served upon its said attorney, shall be of the same force and validity as if served on the company, and that the authority thereof shall continue in force irrevocably as long as any liability of the company remains outstanding in this state. Any process issued by any court of record in this state, and served upon such commissioner by the proper officer of the county in which said commissioner may have his office, shall be deemed a sufficient process on said company; and it is hereby made the duty of the insurance commissioner, promptly after such service of process by any claimant, to forward by registered mail an exact copy of such notice to the company.

Ib. §§10, 16. 2585. Agents to be licensed; certificate.—Insurance companies not corporated by the laws of the State of Alabama, but legally authorized to do business in this state through regularly commissioned and licensed agents located in this state, shall not make contracts of insurance on life or property herein, save through agents of such companies regularly commissioned and licensed to write policies of insurance in Alabama; Provided, however, that this article shall not apply to fire-insurance companies covering actual property of railroad companies engaged in interstate commerce. Every insurance company licensed to do business in this state under the provisions of this article, shall obtain from the insurance commissioner a certificate of authority for every individual agent writing or soliciting insurance for them in this state, and such certificate shall be renewable in January of each year.

2586. Companies and societies excepted.—Nothing in this article contained shall be construed to apply to any fire-insurance company underwriting the property of cotton manufacturers exclusively, nor to any secret benevolent society such as Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Ancient Order of United Workmen, National Union, or other orders of like kind. Ib. §11.

2587. Guarantee fund of foreign companies to secure policy-holders and creditors.—Any foreign company, if incorporated or associated under the laws of any government or state other than the United States shall not be admitted until, besides complying with the conditions of section 2584, it has made a deposit with the treasurer of this state or with the financial officer of some other state of the United States a sum of not less than two hundred thousand dollars. Such deposit must be in exclusive trust for the benefit and security of all the company's policy-holders and creditors in the United States, and may be made in bonds of this state or of the United States, or of some state in the United States, or other good securities satisfactory to the insurance commissioner, and such deposit shall be deemed for all purposes of the insurance law, the capital of the company. Ib. §12.

2588. Companies of foreign countries may appoint trustees to hold its guarantee and indemnity fund.—Any admitted company of a foreign country may appoint trustees who are citizens of the United States and approved by the insurance commissioner to hold funds in trust for the benefit of its policy-holders and creditors in the United States. Said trustees shall be named by the directors of the company and a certified copy of the record of the appointment of such trustees, and of the deed of trust shall be filed in the office of the insurance commissioner, who may examine such trustees and assets in trust, and all books and papers relating thereto in the same manner that he may examine the officers, agents, assets and affairs of insurance companies. The funds so held by such trustee, so far as the same are in securities, money, or credits admissible as sound assets in the financial accounts of insurance companies, shall, together with its deposits made in accordance with the preceding section, constitute the assets of such company as regards its policy-holders and creditors in the United States. Ib. §13.

2589. Domestic life companies must have one hundred thousand dollars invested in approved securities.—Every life-insurance company doing business in Alabama, chartered by the laws of this state, shall be required for better protection of the policy-holders, to keep at all times the sum of one hundred thousand dollars invested in bonds, securities, or mortgages on real estate for double the amount loaned, to be certified as safe and worth this amount by the insurance commissioner. Ib. §14.

2590. Domestic fire companies must have one hundred thousand dollars paid-up capital; exception.—Fire-insurance companies Ib.

chartered by the laws of this state shall not be allowed to transact business in this state, unless possessed of at least one hundred thousand dollars paid-up capital; Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to mutual fire-insurance companies heretofore chartered by the state.

Ib. §15. 2591. Domestic companies, other than life and fire, hereafter organized; minimum capital.—Every insurance company hereafter incorporated, or organized under the laws of this state, for the purpose of engaging in any insurance business other than that of life and fire insurance, before actively engaging in such business, shall be required to have not less than fifty thousand dollars of paid-up capital; Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to any company incorporated or organized under the laws of this state prior to the eighteenth day of February, 1897, for the purpose of engaging in the insurance business, and then actively engaged in such business.

Ib. §17. 2592. "Lloyd's" may transact business of insurance, other than life, on certain conditions.—Associations of individuals, whether organized within the state or elsewhere, formed upon the plan known as "Lloyd's"—whereby each associate underwriter becomes liable for a proportionate part of the whole amount insured by policy—may be authorized to transact business of insurance, other than life in this state, in like manner and upon the same terms and conditions as are required of and imposed upon insurance companies regularly organized. Provided, however, that all such "Lloyd's," whether organized within this state or elsewhere, not having an actual paid-up cash capital, shall make the same deposit, and upon the same terms and conditions as required by section 2587 of foreign insurance companies incorporated or associated under the laws of any government or state other than the United States or one of the United States.

Ib. §18. 2593. Insurance commissioner must keep records and make report to governor.—The insurance commissioner shall keep and preserve in permanent form a record of his proceedings, including a concise statement of the result of official examinations of insurance companies. He shall, annually, and as early as consistent with full and accurate preparation, make a report to the governor of his official transactions and shall include in such report a statement of the receipts and expenditures of his department for the preceding year; an exhibit of the financial condition and business transactions of the several insurance companies, as disclosed by their annual statements, abstracts of which statements shall appear therein, and such other information and comments in relation to insurance and the public interest therein as he deems fit to communicate.

Ib. §19. 2594. Domestic companies taxed one per cent. on gross premiums.—Domestic insurance companies shall, at the end of each twelve months and in the same manner as foreign insurance companies, pay one dollar on each one hundred dollars of gross premiums received on policies issued in this state, and be subject to the penalties provided in section 2584 for foreign companies; Provided, that any insurance company paying to the state a tax on its property or shares may deduct the same from this tax.

Ib. §20. 2595. Deposits, charges and payments required by other states of insurance companies of this state, also required of insurance companies of such states.—Whenever the existing or future laws of any other state of the United States shall require of the insurance companies incorporated by, or organized under, the laws of this state, or the agents thereof, any deposit of securities in such state for the protection of policy-holders, or otherwise, greater than the amount required for similar purposes from similar companies of other states by the then-existing laws of this state, then, in every such case, all companies of such states establishing, or having heretofore established, an agency or agencies in this state, shall be, and are hereby, required to make the same deposit for a like purpose with the treasurer of the state, and to pay into the treasury of this state the taxes, fines, penalties, license fees, or otherwise, an amount equal to the amount of such charges and payments imposed by the law of such state upon companies of this state and the agents thereof.

Ib. §21. 2596. Misrepresentations in application or proof of loss; when material.—No written or oral misrepresentation of warranty therein made, in the negotiation of a contract or policy of life-insurance, or in the application therefor or proof of loss thereunder, shall be deemed material to defeat or void the policy, or prevent its attaching, unless such misrepresentation is made with actual intent to deceive, or unless the matter misrepresented increase the risk of loss.

Ib. §22. 2597. Life-policies incontestable after three annual premiums paid.—No life-insurance company shall contest a claim under any policy of insurance on the plea of fraud or irregularities in application after three annual premium payments have been made on policy, but must pay the full amount of policy within sixty days after proofs of death have been received at the home office of the company in the United States.

Ib. §23. 2598. Policy issued by foreign company not invalidated by war, etc.—No policy of insurance issued to a citizen of this state by an authorized company organized under the laws of a foreign country, shall be invalidated by the occurrence of hostilities between such foreign country and the United States.

Ib. §24. 2599. State treasurer to take and hold deposits of securities; exchange and withdrawal of same.—The treasurer of the state, in his official capacity, shall take and hold deposits made by any domestic insurance company, for the purpose of complying with the laws of any other state, to enable such company to do business in such state, and shall, also, in like manner, take and hold any deposit made by a foreign insurance company under any law of the state. The company making such deposit shall be entitled to the income thereof, and may, from time to time, with the consent of the treasurer, when not forbidden by the law under which the deposit is made, change in whole or in part the securities which compose the deposit, for other competent securities of equal value. Upon request of any domestic insurance company, said treasurer may return to such company the whole or any portion of the securities of such company, when he shall be satisfied that the securities so asked to be returned are subject to no liability, and not required to be longer held by any provision of law, or purpose of the original deposit. And he may return to the trustees, or other representatives authorized for that purpose, of a foreign insurance company, any deposit made by such company, when it shall appear that such company has ceased to do business in the state, and is under no obligation to policy-holders or other persons in the state, or in the United States, for whose benefit such deposit was made.

Ib. §25. 2600. Dividends of domestic companies to be made from surplus profits only.—It shall not be lawful for the directors, trustees or managers of any insurance company, incorporated by the laws of this state, to make any dividend, except from the surplus profits. Any dividend made contrary to this section shall subject the company making the same to forfeiture of its charter.

Ib. §26. 2601. License, fees and charges; expenses of department to be paid from that fund.—The insurance commissioner shall collect from each company filing copy of charter or deed of settlement and financial statement one hundred dollars, and same amount with each annual statement thereafter for the privilege of carrying on its business in the State of Alabama; for each certificate or renewal thereof to an insurance agent or solicitor, two and one-half dollars; for each seal of office, with certificate, one dollar; for copies of any paper on file or deposit with the insurance commissioner, or in his office, ten cents per hundred words; Provided, that the auditor shall pay upon vouchers approved by the governor out of this fund alone the expenses of the insurance department.

Ib. §27. 2602. Contracts of insurance to be in plain language, free from ambiguity; rebates on premiums prohibited; penalty.—No life, nor any other insurance company, nor any agent thereof, shall make any contract of insurance, nor agreement as to policy-contract, other than is plainly expressed in the policy issued thereon; nor shall any such company or agent pay or allow, or offer to pay or allow as inducement to insurance, any rebate of premiums payable on the policy, nor shall any particular policy-holder of the same class be allowed any advantage in the dividends or other benefits to accrue thereon, or any valuable consideration or inducement whatever not specified in the policy-contract of insurance. Any company or agent directly or indirectly violating this section shall be held guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for the first offense, and shall be fined not less than two hundred and fifty dollars for each subsequent offense.

Ib. §28. 2603. Who are agents of foreign companies; penalty for acting without license.—Any person who solicits insurance on behalf of any insurance company not organized under or incorporated by the laws of this state, until such company has fully complied with all the requirements of this article, and until such company has received from the insurance commissioner the certificate of authority to transact business of insurance in this state, or takes or transmits, other than for himself, any applications for insurance, or any policy for insurance, to or from such company, or in any way gives notice that he will receive or transmit the same, or receives or delivers a policy of insurance of any such company, or examines or inspects a risk, or receives, collects, or transmits any premium of insurance, or makes or forwards any diagram of any building or buildings, or does or performs any other act or thing in the making or consummating of any contract of insurance with or for any insurance company, other than for himself, or examines or adjusts, or aids in adjusting any loss or on behalf of any such insurance company, whether any such acts shall be done at the request or instance or by the employment of such insurance company, or of or by any other person, shall be held guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction by a court having jurisdiction, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or may be imprisoned in the county jail not more than thirty days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Ib. §29.

2604. Liability of agent for loss sustained on contract unlawfully made by him.—Any agent or person shall be personally liable for the full amount of loss sustained on all contracts of insurance unlawfully made by or through him, directly or indirectly for or in behalf of any insurance company not authorized by insurance commissioner to do business in this state at the time the application for such insurance was made, or at the date when such insurance policy became effective.

Ib. §30.

2605. Persons placing insurance with unlicensed foreign company must report to insurance commissioner and pay tax on gross premium; penalty, etc.—Any person who may desire to place his insurance in foreign companies not authorized to do business in this state may place such insurance, but the person placing such insurance shall at once make return of his action in this behalf to the insurance commissioner, together with one per cent. on the gross premiums received on the insurance so placed, and it shall be lawful under such contracts of insurance for any person to adjust a loss under same; Provided further, that when any losses are adjusted as provided in this section, it shall be the duty of such adjuster before entering into an adjustment of such loss, directly or indirectly, or the company or companies represented by him, to cause to be paid to the insurance commissioner of this state one-half of one per cent. of the amount paid on such loss, and for failure to comply with the requirements of this proviso, such adjuster shall be subject to all the pains and penalties inflicted by the second preceding section upon agents for acting as agents of unlicensed insurance companies, and in addition thereto such adjuster and insurance company or companies represented by him shall be forever barred from adjusting a loss or doing business in this state.

Ib. §31. 2606. When contract of insurance regarded as made in this state.—All contracts of insurance, the application for which is taken within the state, shall be deemed to have been made within this state, and subject to the laws thereof.

Ib. §32. 2607. Proceeds of life-insurance exempt from creditors of the assured or beneficiary, regardless of amount.—Any person may insure his own or her own life for the sole benefit of his or her estate, his wife or her husband, his or her children, or others, as shall be provided in the policy of insurance, and the sum or amount of insurance becoming due and payable by the terms of the application and policy shall be exempt from all creditors of the assured or beneficiary, and must be paid to the beneficiary so named in the policy, or to his or her assigns.

Ib. §33. 2608. When sheriff must summon jury and investigate cause of fire; report facts to insurance commissioner, and keep record of fires.—The sheriff of each county shall, when required by the insurance commissioner, in addition to his duties now required by law, appoint a competent jury, who shall be property-holders, of not more than three citizens of the same county to investigate the cause, origin and circumstances of every fire occurring or threatened in such county in which insured property has been destroyed or damaged or threatened to be destroyed or damaged by fire who shall be paid out of the insurance fund a per diem of one dollar and fifty cents and mileage of three cents per mile. Such investigation shall be begun within two days, not including the Lord's day, of the occurrence of such fire, and the sheriff shall direct such investigation. The jury investigating shall, within one week after investigation begins, furnish to the said sheriff a written statement of all the facts relating to the cause and origin of the fire, the kind, value and ownership of the property destroyed and such other information as may be required by the sheriff or insurance commissioner. The sheriff of each county shall keep a complete record of all fires where property has been insured, occurring in his county as may be required of him by the insurance commissioner, which record shall at all times be open to public inspection, and such portions of it as the insurance commissioner may desire must be transcribed and forwarded to him.

Ib. §34. 2609. Sheriff may swear witnesses, take testimony, make arrests, etc.—The said sheriff shall, when in his opinion said proceedings are necessary, take or cause to be taken, the testimony on oath of all persons supposed to be cognizant of any facts, or to have means of knowledge in relation to the matters as to which an examination is herein required to be made, and shall cause the same to be reduced to writing; and if the evidence, in his opinion, is sufficient to charge any person with arson he shall cause the arrest of such person and shall furnish to the proper solicitor all evidence, names of witnesses and other information in his possession. He shall have the powers of a justice of the peace in addition to his regular powers as sheriff for the purpose of summoning witnesses before him to testify, and false swearing in any matter or proceeding aforesaid shall be deemed perjury, and shall be punished as such. He and his jury shall, in the performance of his duty, have the authority to enter upon and examine any insured building or premises where any fire has occurred and other buildings and premises adjoining same. All investigations held by or under the direction of the sheriff may in his discretion be private, and witnesses may be kept separate and apart from each other and not allowed to communicate to any one on the subject under investigation until the report is made public.

Ib. §35.

2610. Fire and police departments of cities must assist sheriff in such investigations; removing combustible material; appeal; penalty.—In regularly incorporated cities, towns or villages having fire departments and police protection it shall be the duty of the members of the fire and police departments to render every assistance to the sheriff or jury that may be required of them before, during or after that investigation, that would aid in the conviction of any one guilty of arson. The chiefs or their assistants of the fire and police departments of any city, town or village shall have the right at all reasonable hours, for the purpose of examination, to enter into and upon all buildings and premises within their jurisdiction. Whenever any of said officers shall find in any building or upon any premises combustible material or inflammable conditions dangerous to the safety of such building or premises, they shall order the same to be removed or remedied, and such shall forthwith be complied with by the owner of said building or premises; Provided, however, that if the said owner feels aggrieved he may appeal to the sheriff, and unless his decision revokes the officer's order, such shall be complied with immediately by the owner. Any owner of buildings or premises failing to comply with the orders of the authority above specified within one week after notice shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars, nor more than fifty dollars for each day's neglect. Any officer referred to in this section who neglects or refuses to comply with any of the requirements of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars for each offense.

Ib. §36.

2611. Expenses of sheriff's investigation; how paid.—The sheriff may employ clerks and an assistant, and incur such expenses as may be necessary in the performance of his duties, not to exceed such sum as the insurance commissioner may recommend, which must be paid only out of the insurance fund, and must render to the insurance commissioner in such form as may be required an itemized account of all such expenditures before payment is made.

Ib. §37.

2612. Inquisitorial power vested in grand jury, who must be specially charged, etc.—Inquisitorial power shall be, and the same is hereby given the grand juries of this state, to inquire into any violation of this article and present or indict such person or persons violating the same, and the judges of the courts of this state having proper jurisdiction, shall give this in charge to the grand juries of their respective courts.

Ib. §38. 2613. Penalties to be sued for by solicitor and paid over to insurance commissioner, less twenty-five per cent.—For violation of any provision of this article, the penalty whereof is not specifically provided herein, the offender shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars and every penalty provided for in this article shall be sued for and recovered in the name of the State of Alabama by the solicitor of the circuit in which the offense is committed, and when sued for and collected must be paid by the solicitor to the insurance commissioner, less twenty-five per cent. to be retained by said solicitor for his services, and in the case of non-payment of such penalty, the party, if not a corporation so offending, shall, on conviction, be imprisoned in the county jail or sentenced to hard labor for the county for a period not to exceed six months, in the discretion of the court of trial; and should a judgment, decree, or order of a court be entered or made after service of process as prescribed by this article against a company, the same shall be valid and binding on said corporation, as if it had been incorporated by the general assembly and served with process in this state, and when collected must be paid as directed for an individual, and in the event of non-payment such insurance company shall forever be debarred from transacting business in this state.

ARTICLE 2.

PROVISIONS FOR THE PROTECTION OF LOCAL AGENTS OF FOREIGN COMPANIES.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1530, §1. 2614. Foreign companies doing business here must contract through local agents; exception.—Fire, fire marine, and marine insurance companies not organized under the laws of this state, but legally authorized to do business in this state through regularly commissioned agents located in this state, shall not make contracts of fire, fire marine, and marine insurance on property herein save through agents of such companies regularly commissioned to write policies or certificates of fire, fire marine, or marine insurance in this state; Provided, that this article shall not apply to such companies covering the actual property of railroad companies doing directly a transportation business over its own line beyond the limits of this state.

Ib. §2. 2615. Foreign company applying for license must file affidavit showing compliance with preceding section, etc.—Before issuing certificate of license to any fire, fire marine, or marine insurance company to transact the business of fire, fire marine, or marine insurance in this state, the auditor shall require in any case, in addition to the requirements already provided by law, that each and every such fire, fire marine, or marine insurance company shall file with him the affidavit of its president or other chief officer that it has not violated any of the provisions of this article for the space of twelve months last past, and that they accept the terms and obligations of this article as a part of the consideration of their license.

Ib. §3.

2616. Auditor may institute investigation; bond; costs and expenses.—Complaint being filed with the auditor by any citizen of this state that any company authorized to do business in this state has violated any of the provisions of this article, the auditor shall diligently investigate the matter, and if necessary examine by himself or his accredited representative at the head office located in the United States of America, and also such other offices or agents of such companies as may be deemed proper, all books, records and papers of the same and also the officers thereof under oath as to such alleged violation or violations; Provided, that before making such examination the auditor shall require the party or parties making complaint to file with him a good and sufficient bond to cover any expense or cost that may be necessary in making such examination, and in the event the insurance company be found not guilty of a violation of this article, then said bond shall be responsible for all the expense incurred by reason of said investigation; but should said company be found guilty of a violation of this article, then said company shall be responsible for the expense thereof.

Ib. §4.

2617. Company violating this article forfeits right to do business in the state.—Any fire, fire marine, or marine insurance company violating any provision of this article or refusing to submit to the aforesaid examination when requested, shall forfeit their right to do business in this state for the next twelve months thereafter, and the auditor shall immediately revoke the license already issued to said fire, fire marine, or marine insurance company, to do business in this state.

Ib. §5.

2618. Payment of expenses of examination may be enforced by suit.—If any such company shall fail or refuse to pay such expenses of examination upon the presentation of a bill therefor by the auditor, the said auditor may bring suit against such company in any court of competent jurisdiction.

ARTICLE 3.

PROVISIONS DESIGNED TO PREVENT TARIFF ASSOCIATIONS TO FIX RATES OF INSURANCE.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1428, §1.

2619. Contract of insurance made by company belonging to tariff association construed to add twenty-five per cent. to face of policy.—Every contract or policy of insurance hereafter made or issued shall be construed to mean that in the event of loss or damage thereunder, the assured or beneficiary thereunder may, in addition to the actual loss or damage suffered, recover twenty-five per cent. of the amount of such actual loss, any provision or stipulation in such contract or policy to the contrary notwithstanding; Provided, at the time of the making of such contract or policy of insurance, or subsequently before the time of trial, the insurer belonged to, or was a member of, or in any way connected with, any tariff association or such like thing by whatever name called, or who had made any agreement or had any understanding with any other person, corporation or association engaged in the business of insurance as agent or otherwise about any particular rate of premium which should be charged or fixed for any kind or class of insurance risk; And provided further, no stipulation or agreement in such contract or policy of insurance to arbitrate loss or damage nor to give notice or make proofs of loss or damage shall in any such case be binding on the assured or beneficiary, but right of action accrues immediately upon loss or damage.

Ib. §2. 2620. Jury finding certain facts must add amount of penalty to verdict, etc.—If it is shown to the reasonable satisfaction of the jury by a preponderance of the weight of the testimony that such insurer at the time of the making of such agreement or policy of insurance or subsequently before the time of trial belonged to, or was a member of, or in any way connected with any tariff association or such like thing by whatever name called, either in or out of this state, or had made any agreement or had any understanding either in or out of this state with any other person, corporation or association engaged in the business of insurance as agent or otherwise about any particular rate of premium which should be charged or fixed for any risk of insurance on any person or property or on any kind or class of insurance risk, they must, if they find for the assured or beneficiary, in addition to his actual damages, assess and add twenty-five per cent. of the amount of such actual loss, and judgment shall be rendered accordingly.

Ib. §3. 2621. Liberal construction to be given this article.—This article shall be liberally construed to accomplish its object.

ARTICLE 4.

FIRE-INSURANCE PATROL.

2622 (1381) (1605). Organization and powers of fire-insurance patrol.—Fire underwriters and insurance agents of any city may provide a patrol of men, and superintendent and accommodations and apparatus therefor, to prevent and extinguish fires, and to save property or life endangered by fire; such patrol and superintendent may for such purposes enter a building on fire, or in danger of taking fire, subject to the control of the chief engineer or fire-marshal.

2623 (1382) (1606). How patrol maintained.—Annually, in January, or as soon thereafter as practicable, there shall be held, after ten days' notice in a daily newspaper of such city, a meeting of underwriters and agents engaged in fire-insurance business in such city, at which each underwriter and agent is entitled to one vote. A majority vote shall determine as to the maintenance of such patrol, and fixing the expenses thereof for the next year, not to exceed two per cent. of all premiums (except on cotton) reported, as provided in the next succeeding section, and assess the same proportionally to the premiums (except on cotton) reported by each underwriter or agent, determining the time of payment. Such assessment is collectible in any court of competent jurisdiction, on suit of a person designated by such underwriters and agents for that purpose.

2624 (1383) (1607). Semi-annual report of premiums collected. At such meetings the fire underwriters and agents may require a semi-annual statement, under oath, of fire premiums received for insuring property in such city (except on cotton), to be made to any person they may designate, on the first days of January and July, by each fire underwriter or agent in such city.

2625 (1384) (1608). Penalty for failure to make report; how suit brought.—The person so selected may, in writing, demand such report within ten days after the first days of January and July; and any underwriter or agent, who neglects to render such statement for fifteen days after such demand, shall forfeit fifty dollars for the use of such fire-patrol fund, and also twenty-five dollars for each additional day of neglect, to be computed to the day of trial, to be recovered on suit of such person so selected, in any court of competent jurisdiction.

CHAPTER 64.

INTEREST AND USURY. 2626–2632.

2626 (1750) (2088) (1827) (1519). Rate of interest fixed at eight per cent.—The rate of interest upon the loan or forbearance of money, goods, or things in action, is eight dollars upon one hundred dollars for one year; and at that rate for a greater or less sum, or a longer or shorter time.

Lex loci contractus controls the rate of interest.—McGarry v. Nicklin, 110 Ala. 559; Falls v. U. S. Sav. B. & L. Co., 97 Ala. 417; Camp v. Randle, 81 Ala. 240; Cubbedge v. Napier, 62 Ala. 518; Hanrick v. Andrews, 9 Port. 9. Courts do not take judicial notice of the rates of interest in other states.—Ins. Co. of N. A. v. Forcheimer, 86 Ala. 541; Camp v. Randle, 81 Ala. 240; Clark v. Pratt, 20 Ala. 470; Harrison v. Harrison, Ib. 629; Peacock v. Banks, Minor, 387; Hunt v. Mayfield, 2 Stew. 124; Crawford v. Simonton, 7 Port. 110. Contract made in one state, to be performed in another, may stipulate for the rate of interest in either.—McGarry v. Nicklin, 110 Ala. 559; Amer. Mtg. Co. v. Sewall, 92 Ala. 163; Cubbedge v. Napier, 62 Ala. 518; Hunt v. Hall, 37 Ala. 702; Hanrick v. Andrews, 9 Port. 9. In the absence of a stipulation in such case, contract bears rate of interest of the place of payment.—Hunt v. Hall, 37 Ala. 702; Hanrick v. Andrews, 9 Port. 9. Parol evidence not admissible to show place of payment of note.—Moore v. Davidson, 18 Ala. 209.

2627 (1751) (2089) (1828) (1520). Interest accrues on breach of contract.—All contracts, express or implied, for the payment of money, or other thing, or for the performance of any act or duty, bear interest from the day such money, or thing, estimating it at its money value, should have been paid, or such act, estimating the compensation therefor in money, performed.

Generally, interest is compensation for the withholding of the principal, and when the principal is ascertained to be due, interest follows as an incident.—State v. Lott, 69 Ala. 147; Flinn v. Barber, 64 Ala. 193; Boyd v. Gilchrist, 15 Ala. 849; Whitworth v. Hart, 22 Ala. 343; Cheek v. Waldrum, 25 Ala. 152; Hollingsworth v. Hammond, 30 Ala. 668; Tarleton v. Goldthwaite, 23 Ala. 346; Lewis v. Bradford, 8 Ala. 632; Reynolds v. Mardis, 17 Ala. 32; Godwin v. McGehee, 19 Ala. 468; Bradley v. Harden, 73 Ala. 70; Lewis v. Lee County, Ib. 148; Sawyers v. Baker, 77 Ala. 461; Comer v. Lehman, 87 Ala. 362; Neal v. Clay, 48 Ala. 252. Interest is in lieu of damages allowed at common law for withholding debt.—Vincent v. Gilmer, 51 Ala. 387; McWhorter v. Standifer, 2 Port. 519. Courts of chancery allow interest whenever it would be recoverable at law.—Stickney v. Moore, 108 Ala. 590; Chambers v. Wright, 52 Ala. 444; Crocker v. Clements, 23 Ala. 296; Tarleton v. Goldthwaite, Ib. 346; Godwin v. McGehee, 19 Ala. 468. Demand; when necessary, interest does not run until made.—Tyree v. Parham, 66 Ala. 424; Hunter v. Wood, 54 Ala. 71; Ingersoll v. Campbell, 46 Ala. 282; Gunn v. Howell, 35 Ala. 144; Maxcy v. Knight, 18 Ala. 300; Vaughan v. Goode, Minor, 417. Interest not allowed when statute prescribes a specific penalty, by way of damages, for the default.—James v. Governor, 1 Ala. 605. Nor in statutory action to recover damages for trespass by cattle.—Jean v. Sandiford, 39 Ala. 317. Nor in action of trespass quare clausum fregit.—Glidden v. Street, 68 Ala. 600. But allowed in action for negligent killing of stock.—G. P. R. Co. v. Fullerton, 79 Ala. 298; A. G. S. R. Co. v. McAlpine, 75 Ala. 113; Borden v. Bradshaw, 68 Ala. 362. And on breach of warranty in a sale of real or personal property.—Kingsbury v. Milner, 69 Ala. 502; Caldwell v. Sawyer, 30 Ala. 283; Rowland v. Shelton, 25 Ala. 217; Marshall v. Wood, 16 Ala. 806; Stoudenmier v. Williamson, 29 Ala. 558. And on contract payable in, or for the delivery of, specific property.—Neel v. Clay, 48 Ala. 252. Attorney; when liable for interest on money collected.—Gunn v. Howell, 35 Ala. 144; Kimbro v. Waller, 21 Ala. 376; Sally v. Capps, 1 Ala. 121; Barton v. Peck, 1 S. & P. 486; McBroom v. Governor, 6 Port. 32. Is liable for interest on money received from fund in court.—Smith v. Alexander, 87 Ala. 387. Commission merchant; when interest allowed on balance due customer.—Tyree v. Parham, 66 Ala. 424. When interest begins to run on unpaid subscriptions for stock in private corporation, in favor of creditors.—Nat. Com. Bk. v. McDonnell, 92 Ala. 387. Interest on mortgage debt, as between tenant for life and remainderman, owning the equity of redemption.—Ohmer v. Boyer, 89 Ala. 273. Accounts.—Prestridge v. Patrick, 46 Ala. 653; Shields v. Henry, 31 Ala. 53; Waring v. Henry, 30 Ala. 721; Marr v. Southwick, 2 Port. 351; Moore v. Patton, Ib. 451. Bills, notes, bonds.—Hunt v. Hall, 37 Ala. 702; Maxcy v. Knight, 18 Ala. 300; Moore v. Davidson, Ib. 209; Vaughan v. Goode, Minor, 417. Note and mortgage construed together to ascertain when interest begins to run. Prichard v. Miller, 86 Ala. 500. A promise to pay a sum certain "with interest," bears interest from date.—Campbell v. Jones, 79 Ala. 475.

2628 (1752) (2090) (1829) (1521). Interest on judgments. Judgments and decrees for the payment of money, other than costs, bear interest from the day of rendition.

Billingsley v. Billingsley, 24 Ala. 518; Kyle v. Mays, 22 Ala. 692; Ijams v. Rice, 17 Ala. 404; Crawford v. Simonton, 7 Port. 110; Sanders v. Rives, 3 Stew. 109.

2629 (1753) (2091) (1830) (1522). Partial payments applied to interest.—When partial payments are made, the interest due is first to be paid, and the balance applied to the payment of the principal.

Handley v. Dobson, 7 Ala. 359; Coleman v. Smith, 55 Ala. 368; Vaughan v. Smith, 69 Ala. 92; Milhous v. Dunham, 78 Ala. 48.

2630 (1754) (2092) (1831) (1523). Interest on usurious contracts; recovery back of usury.—All contracts for the payment of interest upon the loan or forbearance of goods, money, things in action, or upon any contract whatever, at a higher rate than is prescribed in this chapter, are usurious and cannot be enforced, either at law or in equity, except as to the principal; and if any interest has been paid, the same must be deducted from the principal, and judgment rendered for the balance only. And when the principal and a higher rate of interest thereon than is prescribed by law have been paid, the excess over and above the principal and legal interest with interest on such excess from the time of the completed payment, may be recovered by suit brought within one year from the time of such completed payment.*

Usury is a personal defense.—Stickney v. Moore, 108 Ala. 590; Moses Bros. v. Home B. & L. Assn., 100 Ala. 465; Speakman v. Oaks, 97 Ala. 503; Welsh v. Coley, 82 Ala. 363; Kilpatrick v. Henson, 81 Ala. 464; Griel v. Lehman, 59 Ala. 419; McGuire v. VanPelt, 55 Ala. 344. Plea of usury; when insufficient.—Powell v. Crawford, 110 Ala. 294; Moses Bros. v. Home B. & L. Ass'n, 100 Ala. 465; Woodall v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 368; Burns v. Campbell, 71 Ala. 271; Masterson v. Grubbs, 70 Ala. 406. When defense waived.—Welsh v. Coley, 82 Ala. 363; Munter v. Linn, 61 Ala. 492; Mitchell v. McCullough, 59 Ala. 179. Usury in mortgage debt no defense to action for the recovery of real or personal property mortgaged.—Powell v. Crawford, 110 Ala. 294; Bradford v. Daniel, 65 Ala. 133; Kelly v. M. B. & L. Assn., 64 Ala. 501. But see Hooper v. Birchfield, Ala. (22 So. 68). Person acquiring commercial paper at a usurious discount, not a bona fide holder.—Hart v. Adler, 109 Ala. 467; McCall v. Rogers, 77 Ala. 349; Wailes v. Couch, 75 Ala. 134; Carlisle v. Hill, 16 Ala. 398; Saltmarsh v. Tuthill, 13 Ala. 390. When sale of valid note at greater rate of discount than legal interest is not usurious.—Capital City Ins. Co. v. Quinn, 73 Ala. 558; Wildsmith v. Tracy, 80 Ala. 258; Ala. Gold Life Ins. Co. v. Hall, 58 Ala. 1. Mortgagee whose debt is usurious, not a bona fide purchaser.—Smith v. Lehman, 85 Ala. 394; Meyer v. Cook, Ib. 417. Nor purchaser of property in payment of usurious debt.—Peterson v. Steiner, 108 Ala. 629; LeGrand v. Eufaula Nat. Bk., 81 Ala. 123. When such sale not fraudulent.—Loucheim v. First Nat. Bk., 98 Ala. 521; Harris v. Russell, 93 Ala. 59; Lehman v. Greenhut, 88 Ala. 478. Broker's commission; when do not render contract usurious.—George v. New Eng. Mtg. Co., 109 Ala. 548; Amer. Mtg. Co. v. King, 105 Ala. 358; Land Mtg. Co. v. Vinson, Ib. 389; Amer. Mtg. Co. v. Peoples, 102 Ala. 241; Allen v. MCullough, 99 Ala. 612; Amer. Mtg. Co. v. Sewell, 92 Ala. 163; Ginn v. New Eng. Mtg. Co., Ib. 135; Woosley v. Jones, 84 Ala. 88. Compound interest; when contract for, not usurious. Gross v. Coffey, 111 Ala. 468; Stickney v. Moore, 108 Ala. 590; Ginn v. New Eng. Mtg. Co., 92 Ala. 135; Caldwell v. Dunklin, 65 Ala. 461; Broughton v. Mitchell, 64 Ala. 210; Paulling v. Creagh, 54 Ala. 646. Contracts for sale of lands, when usurious.—Dykes v. Bottoms, 101 Ala. 390; Dawson v. Burrus, 73 Ala. 111; Stewart v. Cross, 66 Ala. 22; Uhlfelder v. Carter, 64 Ala. 527; Bradford v. Daniel, 65 Ala. 133. Effect of subsequent agreement to pay usury.—Woodall v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 368; Allen v. Turnham, 83 Ala. 323; VanBiel v. Fordney, 79 Ala. 76. Stipulation in mortgage for attorney's fee is not usurious.—Harmon v. Lehman, 85 Ala. 379; Shelton v. A. & T. Co., 82 Ala. 315. Usury in contract for advances by warehouseman.—Harmon v. Lehman, 85 Ala. 379; Smith v. Lehman, Ib. 394. For advances by mortgagee.—Meyer v. Cook, 85 Ala. 417. Rule in equity; where the payee seeks relief on usurious contract.—Hawkins v. Pearson, 96 Ala. 369; Hunt v. Acre, 28 Ala. 580; Noble v. Walker, 32 Ala. 456. Where the maker seeks relief.—Eslava v. Crampton, 61 Ala. 507; Rogers v. Torbut, 58 Ala. 523; Uhlfelder v. Carter, 64 Ala. 527. What holder of commercial paper must show to avoid defense of usury.—Hanrick v. Andrews, 9 Port. 9. Of non-commercial paper.—McCullough v. Mitchell, 64 Ala. 250; Masterson v. Grubbs, 70 Ala. 406.

2631 (4140) (4435) (1689) (1417). Banker discounting paper at more than eight per cent. forfeits all interest.—Any banker who discounts any note, bill of exchange, or draft at a higher rate of interest than eight per cent. per annum, not including the difference of exchange, cannot enforce the collection of the same, except as to the principal; and if any interest has been paid, the same must be deducted from the principal and judgment rendered for the balance only. As amended Feb. 4, 1893, p. 244.

2632 (1755) (2093) (1832) (1524). Interest at one hundred per cent. on notes and change-bills of one dollar or less.—All change-bills and notes for a sum not exceeding one dollar, issued or circulated in this state without authority of law, bear interest at the rate of one hundred per cent. per annum, from the day of their date, or time of issue, or circulation; and may be sued by the holder thereof, without regard to the person to whom the same are payable, and a recovery had against the person issuing or giving circulation to the same.

CHAPTER 65.

INTERPLEADER AT LAW. 2633-2635.

Applies only when facts would authorize resort to bill of interpleader in chancery; that jurisdiction not impaired.—Nelson v. Goree, 34 Ala. 565; Johnson v. Maxcy, 43 Ala. 521, 541; Jackson v. Jackson, 84 Ala. 343; s. c., 91 Ala. 292; Crass v. M. & C. R., 96 Ala. 447. Failure to object to order of substitution waives irregularity.—Nelson v. Goree, 34 Ala. 565. Defendant availing himself of benefit of statute admits sufficiency of complaint; claimant can only contest for the money.—Johnson v. Maxcy, 43 Ala. 521. Plea suggesting claim of another, but not praying an order requiring him to defend, demurrable.—Atkins v. Knight, 46 Ala. 539.

2634 (2611). When defendant in detinue may require adverse claimant to come in and defend.—The defendant in an action for the recovery of chattels in specie, not claiming title, may, at any time before issue joined, make affidavit that a person not a party to the suit, without collusion with him, claims the chattels, or a part thereof, and pray an order that such person be required, on notice, to come in and defend; and thereupon, if such person do not voluntarily come in and make himself a party defendant, the court must, if he resides within the state, order a summons to issue to him to appear at the next term and make himself a party defendant, of which service must be made for at least ten days before the return-day; or, if he resides without the state, order notice to him, by publication for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county, or, if there be no such paper, in a newspaper published nearest to the county. If such person appears and makes himself a party defendant, the defendant may be discharged; and if the defendant has retained possession of the chattels, giving bond, the court may order the chattels to be delivered to such person, on his giving bond with sufficient surety, to be approved by the clerk, payable to the plaintiff, in the penalty of the bond of the defendant, with condition that if he is cast in the suit he will, within twenty days thereafter, deliver the chattels and pay all such damages as may be assessed for the detention thereof, and all costs adjudged against him. If such person refuse or neglect for three days after being made a party defendant to give such bond, the chattels must be delivered to the plaintiff, on his giving bond with sufficient surety, to be approved by the clerk, payable to such person, in the penalty of the bond of the defendant, and with like condition; on the execution and approval of either bond, the bond of the defendant is discharged and must be canceled. The bonds taken under this section, on breach of the condition thereof, and on the return of the sheriff, as in the case of bonds taken from plaintiff or defendant in other actions for the recovery of chattels in specie, have the force and effect of judgments, on which execution may issue against all or any of the obligors. If such person, on notice, does not come in and defend, the judgment rendered in the action bars him from maintaining any action against plaintiff or defendant for the chattels, or the taking, or conversion, or detention thereof. If the plaintiff fail to give bond as provided in this section, the chattels must be delivered to the defendant.

When outstanding superior title in another may be set up by defendant without employing statute.—Behr v. Gerson, 95 Ala. 438; Jackson v. Jackson, 97 Ala. 372; Powell v. Robinson, 76 Ala. 423; Young v. E. Ala. Ry. Co., 80 Ala. 100; Calhoun v. Thompson, 56 Ala. 166; Croswell v. Lehman, 54 Ala. 363.

2635. Affidavit when defendant a corporation; by whom made. When the defendant is a corporation the affidavit under either of the two preceding sections may be made by such officer, agent or servant of the corporation as may have knowledge of the facts set forth in the affidavit.

CHAPTER 66.

JUDICIAL POWER; RECORDS; SUBSTITUTION. 2636-2653.

2636 (646) (539). Judicial power.—The judicial power of the state is vested in the senate sitting as a court of impeachment; the supreme court, the circuit courts, the chancery courts, the courts of probate, the county courts, the courts of county commissioners, the justices of the peace, and notaries public exercising the jurisdiction and powers of justices of the peace; such inferior courts of law or equity, as have been, or may be established by law; and such officers or persons as have been, or may be by law invested with powers of a judicial nature.

A special judge appointed under section 928 to hold a term of the circuit court "is as much an officer of this state during the time and for the purpose for which he was appointed as the regular incumbent," and the same judicial notice will be taken of his authority.—Bell v. State, Ala. (22 So. 526).

2637 (647) (540). Judge is incompetent to try certain cases. No judge of any court, chancellor, county commissioner, or justice must sit in any cause or proceeding in which he is interested, or related to either party within the fourth degree of consanguinity or affinity, or in which he has been of counsel, or in which is called in question the validity of any judgment or judicial proceeding in which he was of counsel, or the validity or construction of any instrument or paper prepared or signed by him as counsel or attorney, without the consent of the parties entered of record, or put in writing, if the court is not of record.

Not exclusive of disqualifications imposed by the common law.—Pegues v. Baker, 110 Ala. 251; Medlin v. Taylor, 101 Ala. 239; Gill v. State, 61 Ala. 169. Judge of probate whose election is contested incompetent to try another contest on same grounds.—Medlin v. Taylor, 101 Ala. 239. Justice who married defendant's first cousin, the wife having died leaving children, incompetent.—Pegues v. Baker, 110 Ala. 251. Judge being first cousin of person slain, incompetent to try one charged with the homicide.—Gill v. State, 61 Ala. 169. The incompetency extends to preliminary orders, as setting day, determining number and drawing jurors.—Salm v. State, 89 Ala. 56. But not to mere ministerial acts involving no discretion.—Hayes v. Collier, 47 Ala. 726; Heydenfeldt v. Towns, 27 Ala. 423. Judge of probate who is a surety on administrator's bond incompetent to preside on settlement. Wilson v. Wilson, 36 Ala. 655. Judge who is surety on bail-bond in bastardy, incompetent.—State v. Castleberry, 23 Ala. 85. Being connected by marriage with prosecutor in burglary does not qualify.—Newman v. State, 49 Ala. 9. In proceeding by State Bar Association to disbar an attorney, circuit judge not incompetent because he is a member of the association.—Ex parte State Bar Association, 92 Ala. 113. Interest of county commissioners in claim does not render allowance void.—Jeffersonian Pub. Co. v. Hilliard, 105 Ala. 576. Adjudication by a judge of his own incompetency is not conclusive.—Medlin v. Taylor, 101 Ala. 239; Ex parte State Bar Association, 92 Ala. 113; Ellis v. Smith, 42 Ala. 349; Lyon v. State Bk., 1 S. 442. Objection to judge on account of interest cannot be raised on motion to quash execution on the judgment.—Collins v. Hammock, 59 Ala. 448. Regularity of proceedings before special judge cannot be raised on petition for prohibition.—Epperson v. Rice, 102 Ala. 668. Judgment of disqualified judge, rendered without consent entered of record, not void but voidable.—Hine v. Hussey, 45 Ala. 496; Hayes v. Collier, 47 Ala. 726; Trawick v. Trawick, 67 Ala. 271; Plowman v. Henderson, 59 Ala. 559; Koger v. Franklin, 79 Ala. 505; Jeffersonian Pub. Co. v. Hilliard, 105 Ala. 576. When mandamus will lie to compel presiding judge to proceed to try case.—Ex parte State Bar Association, 92 Ala. 113. If presiding judge competent, power cannot be conferred on special judge. Ex parte State Bar Association, 92 Ala. 113. Judge may not be challenged in his own court.—Lyon v. State Bank, 1 S. 442.

2638 (648) (542) (637) (561). Powers of courts to inflict summary punishment.—The power of the several courts in this state to issue attachments and inflict summary punishment for contempts, does not extend to any other cases than—

1. Disrespectful, contemptuous, or insolent behavior in court, tending, in anywise, to diminish or impair the respect due to judicial tribunals, or to interrupt the due course of trial.

Withers v. State, 36 Ala. 252; Powell v. State, 48 Ala. 154.

2. A breach of the peace, boisterous conduct, violent disturbance, or any other act calculated to disturb or obstruct the administration of justice, committed in the presence of the court, or so near thereto as to have that effect.

3. The misbehavior of any officer of the court, in his official transactions, or the disobedience or resistance of any officer of the court, party, juror, witness, or any other person, to any lawful writ, process, order, rule, decree, or command thereof.

Ex parte Walker, 25 Ala. 81; Ex parte Hamilton, 51 Ala. 66; Goldthwaite v. Ellison, 99 Ala. 497, 500.

4. Deceit, or abuse of the process or proceedings of the court, by any person or party, or any unlawful interference with the process or proceedings of the court.

5. Refusing to be sworn, or to answer, either in court or before the grand jury, any lawful question as a witness or garnishee.

6. When summoned as a juror in a court, improperly conversing with a party to an action, to be tried at such court, or with any other person in relation to the merits of such action, or receiving a communication from a party, or other person, in respect to it, without immediately disclosing the same to the court.

7. Conversing with a juror, knowing him to be such, in relation to the merits of any action which he is engaged in the trial of; or supplying any juror with refreshments of any kind, except water, during the time he is engaged in the trial of any cause, without leave of the court.

2639 (649) (543) (638) (562). Other powers.—Every court has power—

1. To preserve and enforce order in its immediate presence, and as near thereto as is necessary to prevent interruption, disturbance, or hindrance to its proceedings.

2. To enforce order before a person or body empowered to conduct a judicial investigation under its authority.

3. To compel obedience to its judgments, orders and process, and to the orders of a judge out of court, in an action or proceeding therein.

4. To control, in furtherance of justice, the conduct of its officers, and all other persons connected with a judicial proceeding before it, in every matter appertaining thereto.

5. To administer oaths in an action or proceeding pending therein, and in all other cases where it may be necessary in the exercise of its powers and duties.

6. To amend and control its process and orders, so as to make them conformable to law and justice.

Amendments nunc pro tunc can be made only on record evidence.—Ex parte Gilmer, 64 Ala. 234; M. & C. R. Co. v. Whorley, 74 Ala. 264; Ex parte Henderson, 84 Ala. 36; Kuehlthau v. State, 92 Ala. 91.

2640 (650) (544) (639) (563). Punishment for contempt.—For the effectual exercise of the powers conferred by the preceding section, the court may punish for contempt in the cases provided for in this chapter.

Right of trial by jury does not apply to contempt proceeding.—Ex parte Hamilton, 51 Ala. 66.

2641 (652) (546) (641) (565). Reading of minutes.—The minutes of the court must be read each morning in open court, and, on the adjournment of the court, must be signed by the judge.

Statute directory; failure of judge to sign minutes does not affect the validity of judgments or decrees.—Bartlett v. Lang, 2 Ala. 161; Frazier v. Praytor, 36 Ala. 691.

2642. Double records dispensed with.—The orders, judgments and decrees entered upon the minutes of the court are parts of the record of the causes to which they pertain, and need not be copied into the final record. If so copied, no fee shall be charged therefor.

2643 (651) (545) (640) (564). No records or papers removed from county.—No records or papers of any court must be removed out of the county, except in cases of invasion or insurrection, whereby the same may be endangered, or unless by order of the court.

2644 (653) (562). Papers to be recorded on filing.—The original pleading in civil suits, at law or in equity, the original process issuing thereon, all affidavits and bonds taken in the course thereof, must be recorded immediately on the filing thereof, or on the return of such process; and the costs of such record are taxable as part of the costs of the cause. If the original pleading, or process, or affidavit, or bond, should be lost, a copy of such record, duly certified, shall stand in the place, and have the force and effect of the original. The original pleading, or the affidavit, or bond, must not be taken from the office of the clerk or register until after the record thereof, and such record forms part of the final record of the cause.

Record, and not original papers, is legal evidence of what it contains. Duncan v. Freeman, 109 Ala. 185. But if record not made up, original papers admissible.—Wharton v. Thomason, 78 Ala. 45.

2645. When record used on trial of cause.—When such original papers have been lost, mislaid or destroyed and have not been substituted as provided in the preceding section, the record thereof may be used upon the trial of the cause in all respects as the original; and no previous notice of such use of the record is necessary. In such case, the court may, if deemed advisable, direct the clerk or register, within a specified time, to make and file in the cause, a certified copy of the record so used upon the trial, the costs thereof to be paid as the court may direct.

2646 (654) (562, 565). Taking file in pending suit from office. The file pertaining to a pending suit must not be taken from the office of the clerk, or register, or judge of probate, except by an attorney or solicitor of record of a party to the suit, upon a receipt in writing signed by such attorney or solicitor, stating the number and title of the cause, and the papers contained in the file. If any of such papers are lost or mislaid before a return of the file, and a surrender of the receipt, the costs of substituting them must be paid by such attorney or solicitor.

2647 (656) (555) (648, 649). Substitution of lost or destroyed court records and papers.—All courts have the inherent power, if original papers or records, pertaining to matters of civil jurisdiction, or to civil cases which are pending, or which have been determined, are lost or destroyed, to cause a substitution thereof, and the substituted paper or record is of equal validity with the original.

Independent of statute, courts have power to substitute lost records. Dozier v. Joyce, 8 Port. 303; Williams v. Powell, 9 Port. 493; McLenden v. Jones, 8 Ala. 298; Doswell v. Stewart, 11 Ala. 629; Murray v. Tardy, 19 Ala. 710; Bishop v. Hampton, Ib. 792; Adkinson v. Keel, 25 Ala. 551; Taylor v. McElrath, 35 Ala. 320; Pruitt v. Pruitt, 43 Ala. 73; Shiver v. Shiver, 45 Ala. 349; Dabney v. Mitchell, 54 Ala. 198, 66 Ala. 495; Bradford v. State, 54 Ala. 230; Lilly v. Larkin, 66 Ala. 110, 122; McBryde v. Rhodes, 69 Ala. 133; Ward v. State, 78 Ala. 455. Correctness of original record not inquired into on motion to substitute.—Ward v. State, 78 Ala. 455; Peddy v. Street, 87 Ala. 299. Any number of parties may join in the notice and motion.—Pruitt v. Pruitt, 43 Ala. 73. Court to which cause transferred may substitute lost transcript. Dunn v. State, 60 Ala. 35.

2648 (657). Substitution in pending cause or proceeding.—If the cause or proceeding, in which the substitution of a lost or destroyed paper is proposed, be pending and undetermined, the substitution must be made on notice of not less than one day to the adverse party, or his attorney or solicitor of record, if he have such attorney or solicitor, accompanied with a copy of the paper offered in substitution. But if such adverse party, or his attorney or solicitor of record, do not reside in the county, notice may be given by the filing of the paper, and the entry of a motion to substitute, or the filing of such motion, for one day prior to the making thereof. On the hearing of such motion, affidavits and counter-affidavits may be received as to the correctness of the proposed substitute.

Pruitt v. Pruitt, 43 Ala. 73; Shiver v. Shiver, 45 Ala. 349; Ward v. State, 78 Ala. 455.

2649 (658) (554, 556). Substitution, if cause or proceeding be not pending.—If, after the determination of any civil cause or proceeding, the original papers, or any part thereof, pertaining thereto, which are not of record, are lost or destroyed; or if the record of such papers, with such papers, should be lost or destroyed; or if the record of any judgment or decree, or of any judicial proceeding, or quasi judicial proceeding, or any part thereof, should be lost or destroyed, any party in interest may, on application in writing, stating the facts, accompanied with the substitute proposed of such lost or destroyed paper or record, verified by affidavit, obtain an order of substitution. If the adverse party be of full age, of sound mind and a resident of the state, notice of the application and a copy thereof, accompanied with a copy of the proposed substitute, must be served on him at least ten days before the term of the court in which such application is made. If he be of unsound mind, or an infant, residing in the state, notice must be served on his guardian, or, if he have no guardian, upon the person with whom he resides, or in whose care or custody he may be. But if such party, whether he be of full age and sound mind, or an infant, or of unsound mind, reside without the state, or his residence be unknown, upon affidavit stating the facts, the register, or the clerk of the court, or the judge of probate, or the justice of the peace must make and enter an order of publication as to such party, and cause notice to be given by publication for three successive weeks in some public newspaper published in the county; or if there be no such newspaper, in a newspaper published in an adjoining county. If the adverse party be of unsound mind, or an infant, the court must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent and defend for him. On the hearing the court may receive affidavits and counter-affidavits as to the correctness of the proposed substitute.

Box v. Delk, 47 Ala. 729; Tanner v. Mills, 50 Ala. 356; Lilly v. Larkin, 66 Ala. 110, 122; McBryde v. Rhodes, 69 Ala. 133; Peddy v. Street, 87 Ala. 299.

2650 (661) (559, 560) (652, 653). Records of deeds or other instruments lost or destroyed.—If the record of a deed, contract, conveyance, or other instrument, the record of which is by law required or authorized, be lost or destroyed, the original of such deed, contract, conveyance, or instrument may be recorded again, and such record shall have relation to, and be operative from the day the original record was operative. If the original be lost or destroyed, a copy thereof may be recorded, on proof of its correctness, of the record, and of the loss or destruction of the original; and the record of such copy shall have relation to, and be operative from the day the original record was operative. But in case of the loss or destruction of the original, an application for the record of the copy must be made to the court, or successor of the court, in which the original record was made, and notice thereof given to the party in adverse interest, as is prescribed in the preceding section.

See citations to three preceding sections.

2651 (662) (557) (650). Costs of substitution.—Any proceedings for substitution under any of the provisions of this chapter, if there be no defense, shall be paid by the party applying for such substitution; if a defense is interposed, by the unsuccessful party; but in no case shall any officer be entitled to any fees in such proceedings, if the loss or destruction of the paper or instrument, sought to be substituted, was caused by his neglect or fault.

2652 (659) (558) (651). Appeal from order granting or refusing substitution.—From any order of a court of record, granting or refusing substitution under the preceding section, an appeal lies to the supreme court as from final judgments or decrees in civil cases; and bills of exceptions may be taken as in other civil cases. From an order of the justice of the peace, an appeal to the circuit or city court lies, as in other cases, and the trial is de novo.

2653 (660). Substitution of records of supreme court.—If the records of the supreme court, or any part thereof, be lost or destroyed, the same may be substituted under such rules and regulations as the court may prescribe.

CHAPTER 67.

JURORS AND JURIES. 2654–2657.

2654 (2750) (3017) (2667) (2263). How jurors drawn.—Jurors for the trial of civil cases are drawn, summoned, impaneled and sworn as directed by the provisions of chapter 166 of this Code.

2655 (2751) (3016) (2666) (2262). Challenges.—Each party has the right to challenge four of the jury peremptorily.

Neither party has a right before challenge to interrogate a juror to ascertain whether he is subject to challenge.—K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Malone, 109 Ala. 495; Bales v. State, 63 Ala. 30. Or to require the court to do so.—Hawes v. State, 88 Ala. 37.

Demand should be made before organization of jury entered upon.—McArthur v. Carrie, 32 Ala. 75. All persons litigant on one side, whether plaintiffs or defendants, regarded as one party.—M. & E. Ry. Co. v. Thompson, 77 Ala. 448; R. & D. R. Co. v. Greenwood, 99 Ala. 501. Each party is entitled to a panel of twenty-four jurors before striking.—Smith v. Kaufman, 100 Ala. 408; Adams v. Thornton, 82 Ala. 260. If number reduced by excuses, panel should be again filled to twenty-four.—Smith v. Kaufman, 100 Ala. 408; even though a jury had been obtained.—Birmingham, etc., Co. v. Ralph, 92 Ala. 273. Failure of parties on one side to agree among themselves cannot prejudice other side; court may allow each to strike in rotation.—M. & E. Ry. Co. v. Thompson, 77 Ala. 448. Does not preclude challenge because of bias or interest.—Dothard v. Denson, 72 Ala. 541; Davis v. Hunter, 7 Ala. 135. Challenge for favor; investigation by the court.—Calhoun v. Hannan, 87 Ala. 277.

2657 (2753) (3026) (2676) (2272). When state, county, or city interested, citizens competent jurors.—In actions to which the state, or a county, or a city or town, is a party, or has an interest, citizens of the state, county, city, or town, are not disqualified by reason of interest.

ARTICLE 1.

TERM OF OFFICE AND GENERAL JURISDICTION.

As amended Feb. 26, 1889, p. 58.

2658 (835) (754) (838) (708). Two justices for each precinct; term of office.—Within the limits of every election precinct there shall be two justices of the peace, elected as provided in the chapter on "Elections," who shall hold office for four years and until their successors are qualified.

Local officer whose official acts are confined to prescribed limits.—Ex parte Davis, 95 Ala. 9.

2659 (836) (755, 299) (839) (709). Vacancies; how filled, etc. Vacancies in the office of justice are to be filled by appointment of the governor; and the justice appointed must be duly commissioned, and holds office for the unexpired term of his predecessor.

2660 (837) (300) (315) (270). Notice of vacancy.—When a vacancy in any election precinct is occasioned by the death or removal from such precinct of any justice, the other justice for such precinct, if there be one, and if not, the constable therein, must give notice to the judge of probate of such vacancy, the cause and the name of the justice whose office is vacated; and the judge of probate must thereupon notify the governor.

2661 (838) (756) (840) (710). Bond; by whom approved.—Before entering on the duties of the office, they must give bond and surety, payable and conditioned as provided by law, in the sum of one thousand dollars, which bond must be approved by the judge of probate of the county, and filed and recorded in his office.

Liability on bond.—Lester v. Governor, 12 Ala. 624; McGrew v. Governor, 19 Ala. 89; Kelly v. Moore, 51 Ala. 364; Irion v. Lewis, 56 Ala. 190; Mason v. Crabtree, 71 Ala. 479; Olmstead v. Brewer, 91 Ala. 124. When sureties are estopped from alleging that their principal was not a justice.—Williamson v. Woolf, 37 Ala. 298. What a sufficient consideration for bond.—Williamson v. Woolf, 37 Ala. 298.

2662 (839) (757) (841) (711). Jurisdiction.—Justices of the peace have original jurisdiction within their respective counties, to be exercised as provided by law—

1. Of all actions founded on contract, when the sum claimed does not exceed one hundred dollars.

2. Of all actions founded on any wrong or injury, when the damages claimed do not exceed one hundred dollars, except in actions of libel, slander, assault and battery, and ejectment, of which actions they have not jurisdiction.

3. Of all actions of forcible entry and unlawful detainer.

4. Of all actions brought to recover specific property, when the value does not exceed one hundred dollars.

5. In such other cases as jurisdiction is, or may be given by law, not contrary to the constitution.

Had no civil jurisdiction at common law.—Horton v. Elliott, 90 Ala. 480; Boynton v. State, 77 Ala. 29; Taylor v. Woods, 52 Ala. 474. Jurisdiction conferred by the constitution not self-executing; given force and effect alone by statute.—K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Whitehead, 109 Ala. 495; Carter v. Alford, 64 Ala. 236; Taylor v. Woods, 52 Ala. 474; Pearce v. Pope, 42 Ala. 319. Jurisdiction above fifty dollars not exclusive.—K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Whitehead, 109 Ala. 495. Test of jurisdiction is the amount in controversy, or sum claimed.—Long v. Bakefield, 48 Ala. 608; Lykes v. Schwartz, 91 Ala. 461. Objection must be made before justice, or is waived on appeal.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Baker, 96 Ala. 435; Western R. Co. v. Lazarus, 88 Ala. 453; Burns v. Henry, 67 Ala. 209; Carter v. Alford, 64 Ala. 236; Glaze v. Blake, 56 Ala. 379. Subdivision 1.—Hogan v. Odam, 3 Stew. 59; Witherspoon v. Barber, Ib. 335; Cothran v. Weir, 3 Ala. 24; Hart v. Turk, 15 Ala. 675; Rose v. Thompson, 17 Ala. 628; Vaughan v. Robinson, 20 Ala. 229; Crabtree v. Cliatt, 22 Ala. 181; Pike v. Bright, 29 Ala. 332; Herrin v. Buckelew, 37 Ala. 585; Pearce v. Pope, 42 Ala. 319; Long v. Bakefield, 48 Ala. 608; Solomon v. Ross, 49 Ala. 198. Subdivision 2.—Taylor v. Woods, 52 Ala. 474; Burns v. Henry, 67 Ala. 209; Glaze v. Blake, 56 Ala. 379; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Christian, 82 Ala. 307; Brown v. A. G. S. R. Co., 87 Ala. 370. Subdivision 3.—See note to section 2124 et seq. Subdivision 4.—Rogers v. Gaines, 73 Ala. 218; Carter v. Alford, 64 Ala. 236; Glaze v. Blake, 56 Ala. 379; Burns v. Henry, 67 Ala. 209. Remittitur of excess beyond jurisdiction.—Nibbs v. Moody, 5 S. & P. 198; Bentley v. Wright, 3 Ala. 607; Henderson v. Plumb, 18 Ala. 74; Crabtree v. Cliatt, 22 Ala. 181; Solomon v. Ross, 49 Ala. 198; Wharton v. King, 69 Ala. 365; Davis v. Bedsole, Ib. 362; Davis v. Jones, 109 Ala. 418. Remedy, when judgment in excess of jurisdiction.—A. G. S. R. Co. v. Christian, 82 Ala. 307; Burns v. Henry, 67 Ala. 209; Brown v. A. G. S. R. Co., 87 Ala. 370; Rodgers v. Gaines, 73 Ala. 218.

2663 (840) (758) (842) (712). Authority.—Every justice is a conservator of the peace within his county, and has authority therein—

1. To administer oaths and take affidavits, except in those cases in which the power is expressly restricted to some other officer.

2. To punish for contempt, by fine as high as six dollars, and by imprisonment, not exceeding six hours; one or both.

3. When the office of constable in his precinct is vacant, or in other case of emergency, to appoint a person to act in his place, without giving bond and surety, in the execution of all process, except the collection of executions.

4. To take the acknowledgment or probate of all deeds, or conveyances required to be recorded, and certify the same for registration.

5. To exercise such other powers as are, or may be conferred on him by law.

Conservator of the peace throughout his county.—Boynton v. State, 77 Ala. 29; Ex parte Davis, 95 Ala. 9. Subdivision 1.—Bloodgood v. Smith, 14 Ala. 423. Omission to certify affidavit, if actually sworn to, not fatal.—McCartney v. Branch Bank, 3 Ala. 709. Mere clerical errors, harmless.—Schwartz v. Baird, 100 Ala. 154; Coleman v. State, 63 Ala. 93. Subdivision 3.—Special constable may levy attachment returnable before the justice.—Bransfield v. Austin, 49 Ala. 227; Solomon v. Ross, 49 Ala. 198; Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413. But not, if returnable to circuit court.—Carter v. Ellis, 90 Ala. 138; Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413. "Case of emergency" determined by the justice. Noles v. State, 24 Ala. 672. Subdivision 4.—Authority to take acknowledgments; confined to his own county.—Edinburgh, etc., Co. v. Peoples, 102 Ala. 240; Amer. Mtg. Co. v. King, 105 Ala. 358; N. E. Mtg. Co. v. Payne, 107 Ala. 578.

2664 (841) (759) (843) (713). Duties.—It is the duty of every justice of the peace—

1. To keep a docket of all cases brought before him, in which must be entered the names of the parties, the return of the officer, and the entry of the judgment, specifying the amount of the same, and the day of its rendition.

2. To issue all process necessary to maintain his jurisdiction and enforce his authority, under such rules and regulations as are, or may be provided by law.

3. To keep his office in the election precinct for which he is elected or appointed.

4. To pay over all moneys he may collect or receive, by virtue of his office, to the person entitled thereto, without delay.

Must be an "entry of the judgment."—Francis v. Bailey, 104 Ala. 566; Little v. Fitts, 33 Ala. 343; Crabtree v. Cliatt, 22 Ala. 181. When not void for uncertainty.—Wyatt v. Judge, 7 Port. 37; Lightsey v. Harris, 20 Ala. 409. Subdivision 2.—Kyle v. Evans, 3 Ala. 481. Subdivision 3.—Ex parte Davis, 95 Ala. 9. Subdivision 4.—Has no authority to collect money before judgment.—Mason v. Crabtree, 71 Ala. 479. Money collected cannot be retained for his debt, nor is it subject to set-off.—Lowrie v. Stewart, 8 Ala. 163; Spence v. Mitchell, 9 Ala. 744; Prewett v. Marsh, 1 S. & P. 17. See also Garretson v. Joseph, 100 Ala. 279.

2665 (842) (760) (844) (714). Removal from precinct vacates office.—Justices of the peace vacate their offices by removing from their election precincts, and are liable to a penalty of forty dollars for acting as justice after such removal, to be recovered before any justice of the county in which such justice resides, by any one suing for the same; one half to the use of the person suing for the same, and the other half to the use of the county.

GENERAL RULES OF PROCEDURE.

2666 (3300) (3602) (3203) (2764). Time and place of trial.—Justices of the peace must designate certain days, at least once a month, and appoint a particular place within their precincts, for the trial of civil causes, but, in cases of emergency, they may make their process returnable at any other time or place; and at such time and place all civil actions and proceedings cognizable before them must be tried, unless otherwise provided.

Justice cannot generally try case out of his precinct.—Taylor v. Woods, 52 Ala. 474; Boynton v. State, 77 Ala. 29; Horton v. Elliott, 90 Ala. 480; Ex parte Davis, 95 Ala. 9. But may issue process anywhere in the county returnable to his office.—Ex parte Davis, 95 Ala. 9.

"The State of Alabama, } To any lawful officer of the county of —— county. } ——:

Summon —— —— to appear before me, on the —— day of ——, next, at —— (designating the place), to answer the complaint of —— ——, and there make return of this summons.

Witness my hand, this, the —— day of ——, 18—.

—— ——, Justice of the Peace."

When cause of action sufficiently shown.—Freeman v. Speegle, 83 Ala. 191; Smith v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 98 Ala. 154; Heard v. Harris, 68 Ala. 43; Brown v. State, 63 Ala. 97; Johnson v. State, 73 Ala. 21; Independent Pub. Co. v. Amer. Press Ass'n., 102 Ala. 475; Smith v. Dick, 95 Ala. 311; W. U. T. Co. v. Meyer, 61 Ala. 158. Amendments; allowed, unless they work a change of the form of action, or an entire change of parties, plaintiff or defendant.—Lagerfelt v. McKie, 100 Ala. 430; Smith v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 98 Ala. 154; M. & M. R. Co. v. McKellar, 59 Ala. 458. Departure; reached by motion to strike, not by demurrer, or plea in abatement.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Barker, 96 Ala. 435; Freeman v. Speegle, 83 Ala. 191.

2668 (3302) (3605) (3206) (2767). Service of summons.—The summons must be executed three days before the return-day thereof, by personal service on the defendant.

2669 (3303) (3606) (3207) (2768). In what precinct suit to be brought.—Unless otherwise provided, no person can be sued out of the precinct of his residence, or of that in which the debt was created, or the cause of action arose; and if suit is brought contrary to the provisions of this section, it must, on motion, be dismissed by the justice.

*Applies to suits begun by summons, not by attachment.—Thompson v. Clopton, 31 Ala. 647; Atkinson v. Wiggins, 69 Ala. 190; Ex parte Davis, 95 Ala. 9.

2670 (3304) (3607) (3208) (2769). When there are several defendants.—When there are more defendants than one, the suit may be brought in the precinct of the residence of any one of them.

2671 (3305) (3608) (3209) (2770). When there is no justice in precinct.—If there is no justice, or notary public having the jurisdiction of a justice, within the precinct of the defendant's residence, or if he is from any cause incompetent to try the cause, the summons must be issued and the cause tried by the justice of an adjoining precinct competent to try the same.

Taylor v. Woods, 52 Ala. 474; Boynton v. State, 77 Ala. 29; Horton v. Elliott, 90 Ala. 480; Ex parte Davis, 95 Ala. 9.

2672 (3306) (3609). When branch summons may issue.—When a joint or joint and several cause of action exists, and the defendants reside or may be found in different counties, original and branch summons may be issued by any justice of the peace having jurisdiction of any one of such defendants, and be executed in any county, and must be returned and filed with the justice of the peace issuing the same, and shall constitute but one suit, in the same manner as if only one summons had issued against all the defendants; and it shall be the duty of the justice of the peace, on issuing such branch summons, to indorse thereon that it is a branch of the original suit, and that all the summons constitute one suit, and are for one and the same cause of action.

2673 (3313) (3603, 3617, 3662) (3219) (2780). What circuit-court rules applicable.—As to parties, trial, competency of witnesses, admissibility of evidence, regulation of suits, and the time within which suits may be brought, unless otherwise provided, suits before justices of the peace shall be governed by the same rules and provisions, so far as they are applicable, as suits in the circuit court.

Bullock v. Ogburn, 13 Ala. 346; Pike v. Bright, 29 Ala. 332; Levystein v. Marks, 56 Ala. 564; Ryall v. Prince, 82 Ala. 264. Applies to pleas in abatement. Noles v. Marable, 50 Ala. 366; Perry v. Hurt, 54 Ala. 285; Beck v. Glenn, 69 Ala. 121.

2674 (3315) (3630, 3631) (3233, 3234) (2786, 2787). Set-off and recoupment in such suits.—The rules and provisions of law relating to set-off and recoupment, which prevail in the circuit court, shall also, so far as applicable, prevail in suits before justices of the peace; and the defendant, if his demand is greater than that of the plaintiff, may have judgment for the residue, if it does not exceed one hundred dollars; if it exceeds that sum, and the defendant enters on the docket of the justice satisfaction of so much of his claim as equals the amount of the plaintiff's demand, as ascertained by the justice, and tenders the plaintiff a receipt therefor, judgment must be rendered in favor of the defendant for costs; and the amount so entered on the docket shall be taken as a credit on the defendant's demand.

Smith v. Fleming, 9 Ala. 768; Bowman v. Gary, Minor, 326; Wharton v. King, 69 Ala. 365.

2675 (3317) (3618) (3221) (2782). Judgments in detinue.—In actions for the recovery of specific personal property, the justice must ascertain the value of each article separately, if practicable, and also assess damages for its detention, if he finds for the plaintiff; if he finds for the defendant, he must in like manner ascertain the value, and, if in the possession of the plaintiff, assess damages for its detention. Judgment against either party must be for the property sued for, or its alternate value, with damages for its detention to the time of trial.

Applies when property is in possession of the unsuccessful party.—Brown v. Brown, 5 Ala. 508; Robinson v. Richards, 45 Ala. 354; Wittick v. Keiffer, 31 Ala. 199; Jones v. Pollen, 66 Ala. 306. Measure of damages the highest value between commencement of suit and time of trial.—Johnson v. Marshall, 34 Ala. 524; Freer v. Cowles, 44 Ala. 314; Holly v. Flournoy, 54 Ala. 99; Worthan v. Gurley, 75 Ala. 356. If property to be had, the defendant has no election to pay the value, and retain the property.—Robbins v. Richards, 45 Ala. 354. Misuser and abuse of property legitimate element of damages, in addition to value.—Worthan v. Gurley, 75 Ala. 356; Freer v. Cowles, 44 Ala. 314.

2676 (3316) (3660) (3263) (2817). Effect of death of either party. When any of the parties to a suit die during its progress, the suit abates, unless the cause of action survives, when it may be revived within six months thereafter, by five days' notice to the legal representative to appear and prosecute or defend the suit, unless such legal representative voluntarily makes himself a party; and upon the death of the defendant being made known to the justice, he must continue the cause six months.

2677 (3314). Judgment by default or nil dicit.—No judgment by default or nil dicit shall be entered by a justice of the peace until twelve o'clock of the day to which the process is returnable.

Judgment by default against corporation must show proof of service.—Ind. Pub. Co. v. Am. P. Asso., 102 Ala. 475.

2678 (3318) (3633) (3237) (2790). Effect of judgment as a bar. A judgment rendered by a justice of the peace on the merits of the case is a bar to any other suit for the same cause of action.

Boswell v. Tunnell, 10 Ala. 958; Waddle v. Ishe, 12 Ala. 308; Ex parte Davis, 95 Ala. 9; Cotton v. Holloway, 96 Ala. 544.

2679 (3319) (3634) (3238) (2791). Evidence of judgment.—A statement of any judgment rendered by a justice of the peace, made and certified by him, or his successor in possession of his docket, is presumptive evidence of the fact.

Generally.—Ware v. Roberson, 18 Ala. 105; Burns v. Campbell, 71 Ala. 271. Admissible only in civil cases.—Watson v. State, 63 Ala. 19; Burns v. Campbell, 71 Ala. 271; Lunsford v. Dietrich, 86 Ala. 250. Statute merely cumulative. Blackman v. Dowling, 57 Ala. 78. When secondary evidence admissible. Roach v. Privett, 90 Ala. 391; Burns v. Campbell, supra.

2680 (3320) (3635) (3239) (2792). Completion of unfinished business on vacancy in office.—When a justice of the peace dies, resigns, or removes from his precinct, the remaining justice of the peace, or if there is none, the nearest justice to his place of residence, is authorized to complete the unfinished business, in the same manner as if it had been commenced before him.

Horton v. Elliott, 90 Ala. 480; Ex parte Davis, 95 Ala. 9.

2681 (3307) (3610) (3212) (2773). Taking of depositions and examination of witnesses.—The depositions of witnesses in cases before justices of the peace may be taken, on application to the justice, in the same manner, and upon the same grounds as in cases in the circuit court, and also when the witness is a non-resident of the county and lives ten miles, or more, from the place of trial; in all other cases, witnesses must be examined orally before the justice.

2682 (3308) (3611) (3213) (2774). Issue and service of subpœnas.—The justice, on the application of either party, must issue subpœnas for witnesses, stating therein the names of the parties, by whom the witness is summoned, and the time and place of trial; which must be executed by the constable in the same manner as the summons.

2683 (3309) (3612) (3214) (2775). Service of subpœna in another county.—Where the witness is not a resident of the county, but resides within ten miles of the place of trial, computing the distance by the route usually traveled, the subpœna may be served either by a constable of the county in which it was issued, or by one in which the witness resides; but in the latter case, a justice of such county must certify that he is an acting constable thereof.

2684 (3310) (3613, 3614) (3215, 3216) (2776, 2777). Fine against defaulting witness.—If any witness duly summoned fails to attend, a conditional fine of ten dollars may be entered against him by the justice, which must be made absolute, if the witness, upon notice issued by the justice, and served three days before the trial, fails to make a sufficient excuse, either in person, by some one who knows the facts constituting the excuse, or by affidavit before some officer authorized to administer oaths, and presented at the time designated for the trial thereof; and if the fine is made absolute, execution must issue therefor, and the proceeds, when collected, must be paid to the county treasurer.

2685 (3311) (3614) (3216) (2777). Attendance, how enforced; liability.—A witness may also be compelled by attachment to appear and testify; and he is also liable to the party summoning him for any injury caused by the want of his testimony.

2686 (3312) (3615) (3217) (2778). Fees to witnesses.—Witnesses are entitled to fifty cents per day while in attendance on the trial, to be taxed as part of the costs.

ARTICLE 3.

TRIAL BY JURY.

2687 (3370) (3619) (3222). Appeal to jury, how taken; subpœnas for witnesses.—Any party, dissatisfied with the judgment rendered by a justice of the peace, may, within five days thereafter, appeal to a jury, on giving bond with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the justice, in double the amount of the judgment and costs, with condition for the payment of such judgment as may be rendered against him; and such justice, his successor in office, or any other justice of the peace in the county, may issue subpœnas for all witnesses that the parties may desire.

E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Hughes, 76 Ala. 590.

person so liable on a separate piece of paper, which must be deposited in a box marked "number one"; and must draw therefrom not less than five, nor more than seven of the names so deposited, from time to time, as may be necessary to try the causes pending in their courts, which names must be entered in the justice's docket, and deposited in a box marked "number two"; and after all the names are drawn from number one, they must commence drawing from number two, and so on alternately.

2690 (3373) (3622) (3225). Penalty on jurors for failure to attend; how deficiency supplied.—The justices or justice of each precinct may draw a jury at any time within five days after judgment is rendered, should an appeal be taken within that period; and any person so drawn and summoned by a constable three days before court, neglecting to attend, shall be subject to the same fines and forfeitures, and be proceeded against in the same manner as witnesses are for failing to attend justices' courts; and the constable, by direction of the justice, must fill and complete such jury from the bystanders in case of deficiency of jurors; but there must be at least three of the original panel on such jury.

2692 (3376) (3625) (3228). Oath of jurors.—The following oath must be administered to the jury by the justice of the peace, before any cause is submitted for their consideration: "You, and each of you, do solemnly swear that you will well and truly try all issues submitted to you by the court during the day, and a true verdict render according to the law and the testimony; so help you God."

2693 (3374) (3623) (3226). Pay of jurors.—Such jurors shall be entitled to fifty cents each for their attendance, which must be taxed in the bill of costs.

2694 (3377) (3626) (3229). Jury trials only at regular terms; exception.—The jury trial, within the meaning of this chapter, must be had on a regular court-day, as provided for in section 2666 (3300) unless it becomes necessary to adjourn such court to a stated time, not beyond ten days, in order to dispose of the causes pending therein.

CHAPTER 69.

LANDS OF THE STATE.

ARTICLE 1.—SALT SPRINGS. 2695–2698.
2.—GRANTS BY THE STATE. 2699–2702.

ARTICLE 1.

SALT SPRINGS.

2696 (640) (527) (622). Governor appoints agent.—The governor may appoint a suitable agent, whose duty it shall be to superintend the salt springs and salt lands donated to the state by the congress of the United States; to prevent all trespass and waste on such lands; to lease the springs and lands on such terms and conditions as he may see fit not to exceed ten years at any one time; to settle all accounts with any former agent or agents, lessee or lessees; to take charge of all property of every kind on such lands; to collect all property, debts and demands, due the state from all persons, and generally, to save and to secure to the state whatever property, debts and demands may be due the state on account of such lands. The agent shall report, every six months, to the governor all the property of every kind collected or received, and all settlements made by him, and, generally, all his actings and doings in regard to the salt lands.

2697 (641) (528) (623). Compensation.—The agent shall receive such compensation for his services as the governor may deem proper and right, not to exceed one thousand dollars for any one year, and may be removed at any time by the governor, and a successor appointed.

2698 (642) (529) (624). Former agents and lessees to settle. All former agents and lessees, and all debtors and other persons having property or debts due the state, are authorized and required to settle and deliver the same to the agent appointed by the governor under this article.

ARTICLE 2.

GRANTS BY THE STATE.

2699 (1875) (2228) (1620) (1350). Grants by state made by patent.—For the conveyance of any real property belonging to the state, a patent issues under the seal of the state, signed by the governor, and attested by the secretary of state.

2700 (1876) (2229) (1621) (1351). Grants and patents recorded. The secretary of state must record, in well-bound books, all grants and patents issued by the state.

2701 (1877) (2230) (1622) (1352). Patent issues on payment, certified by treasurer.—All purchasers of real property belonging to this state, their heirs and assigns, except in cases otherwise provided by this Code, are entitled to receive a patent therefor, on producing to the secretary of state a certificate signed by the state treasurer, that the amount due for such real estate has been paid into the state treasury.

2702. Patents for swamp and overflowed lands.—The governor is authorized and empowered to issue patents to the purchasers of the swamp and overflowed lands, or lands in lieu of swamp and overflowed lands, which may have been patented to this state, or which may hereafter be so patented, upon satisfactory proof being made to him that such lands have been fully paid for in money or in scrip sold and transferred by him and authorized by the acts of congress to be received in payment for such lands. Nov. 26, 1888, p. 5.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

ARTICLE 1.—LANDLORD'S LIEN FOR RENT OF FARM-LANDS AND ADVANCES. 2703–2715.
2.—LANDLORD'S LIEN FOR RENT OF STOREHOUSES AND OTHER BUILDINGS. 2716–2721.
3.—USE AND OCCUPATION. 2722.

ARTICLE 1.

LANDLORD'S LIEN FOR RENT OF FARM-LANDS AND ADVANCES.

2703 (3056) (3467). Lien declared.—A landlord has a lien, which is paramount to, and has preference over all other liens, on the crop grown on rented lands for rent for the current year, and for advances made in money, or other thing of value, either by him directly, or by another at his instance or request for which he became legally bound or liable at or before the time such advances were made, for the sustenance or well-being of the tenant or his family, or for preparing the ground for cultivation, or for cultivating, gathering, saving, handling, or preparing the crop for market; and also on all articles advanced, and on all property purchased with money advanced, or obtained by barter in exchange for articles advanced, for the aggregate price or value of such articles and property.

Nature, priority and extent of lien.—Mecklin v. Deming, 111 Ala. 159;

Waite v. Corbin, 109 Ala. 154; Ballard v. Mayfield, 107 Ala. 396; McCarty v. Roswald, 105 Ala. 511; Bowling v. Crook, 104 Ala. 130; Belser v. Youngblood, 103 Ala. 545; Kelly v. Eyster, 102 Ala. 325; Ehrman v. Oats, 101 Ala. 604; Atkinson v. James, 96 Ala. 214; Clanton v. Eaton, 92 Ala. 612; Richards v. Bestor, 90 Ala. 352; Bryan v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 569; Powell v. Warren, 82 Ala. 557; Thornton

v. Strauss, 79 Ala. 164; Ehrman v. Oats, 101 Ala. 604; Coffey v. Hunt, 75 Ala. 236; Scaife v. Stovall, 67 Ala. 237; Westmoreland v. Foster, 60 Ala. 448; Price v. Pickett, 21 Ala. 741; Thompson v. Merriman, 15 Ala. 166. That tenant has other property subject to lien, no defense.—Andrews Mfg. Co. v. Porter, 112 Ala. 381; Couch v. Davidson, 109 Ala. 313; Waite v. Corbin, Ib. 154. Notice of lien; knowledge that crop grown on rented premises sufficient.—Kelly v. Eyster, 102 Ala. 325; Atkinson v. James, 96 Ala. 214; Manasses v. Dent, 89 Ala. 565; Lomax v. LeGrand, 60 Ala. 537; Westmoreland v. Foster, Ib. 448; Scaife v. Stovall, 67 Ala. 237. Officer levying other process, must, at his peril, pay off rent lien, although tenant has other property sufficient.—Andrews Mfg. Co. v. Porter, 112 Ala. 381; Couch v. Davidson, 109 Ala. 313; Smith v. Huddleston, 103 Ala. 223. Attorney's fee stipulated in lease, may be recovered in attachment for rent.—Richards v. Bestor, 90 Ala. 352. When lien enforced in equity.—Carmen v. Ala. Nat. Bank, 101 Ala. 189; Bingham v. Vandegrift, 93 Ala. 283; Coffey v. Hunt, 75 Ala. 236; Westmoreland v. Foster, 60 Ala. 448; Abraham v. Hall, 59 Ala. 386. Rights of mortgagee holding subject to landlord's lien.—Ballard v. Mayfield, 107 Ala. 396; Belser v. Youngblood, 103 Ala. 545; Keith v. Ham, 89 Ala. 590; Bird v. Womack, 69 Ala. 390. When several rentals of separate parcels, lien only on crop grown on each parcel for the rent thereof.—Nelson v. Webb, 54 Ala. 436.

2704 (3057) (3468). Maturity of rent and advances.—Unless otherwise stipulated, such rent and advances shall become due and payable on the twenty-fifth day of December of the year in which the crop is grown.

Dozier v. Robinson, 82 Ala. 408; Campbell v. Hatchett, 55 Ala. 548; Horton v. Miller, 84 Ala. 537.

2705 (3058) (3469). Lien continues and attaches to crop of succeeding year.—When the tenant fails to pay any part of such rent or advances, and continues his tenancy under the same landlord, on the same or other lands, the balance due therefor shall be held and treated as advances to him by the landlord for the next succeeding year, for which the original lien for advances, if any remain unpaid, shall continue on the articles advanced, or property purchased with money advanced, or obtained by barter in exchange for articles advanced, and for which a lien shall also attach to the crop of such succeeding year.

Reese v. Rugely, 82 Ala. 267; Powell v. State, 84 Ala. 444; Gunter v. Dubose, 77 Ala. 326; Thompson v. Powell, Ib. 391; Cockburn v. Watkins, 76 Ala. 486; Fitzsimmons v. Howard, 69 Ala. 590.

2706 (3059) (3470). Assignment; remedies of assignee.—The claim of the landlord for rent and advances, or for either, may be by him assigned; and the assignee shall be invested with all the landlord's rights, and entitled to all his remedies for their enforcement.

Generally.—Clanton v. Eaton, 92 Ala. 612; Leslie v. Hinson, 83 Ala. 266; Drakford v. Turk, 75 Ala. 339; Coffey v. Hunt, Ib. 236; Bell v. Hurst, Ib. 44; Corbitt v. Reynolds, 68 Ala. 223; Westmoreland v. Foster, 60 Ala. 448; s. c., 52 Ala. 223. Assignment by parol, or by delivery of the rent note, sufficient in equity.—Wells v. Cody, 112 Ala. 278. May be assigned by mortgage.—Ballard v. Mayfield, 107 Ala. 396.

2707 (3060) (3471). Rent and advances; recovery of.—Separate actions may be brought for rent and for advances, or both may be combined in the same action.

2708 (3061) (3472). Lien enforced by attachment; grounds. The landlord, or his assignee, may have process of attachment for the enforcement of his lien for rent and advances, or either, when such rent and advances, or either, as the case may be, are due, and the tenant fails or refuses, after demand made, to pay the same; and also in the following cases, whether such rent and advances, or either, are due or not:

1. When there is good cause to believe that the tenant is about to remove from the premises, or otherwise dispose of any part of the crop, without paying such rent and advances, or either, and without the consent of the landlord, or, when the claim has been assigned, of the assignee.

2. When the tenant has removed from the premises, or otherwise disposed of any part of the crop without paying such rent and advances, or either, and without the consent of the landlord, or, when the claim has been assigned, of the assignee.

3. When the tenant has disposed of, or there is good cause to believe that he is about to dispose of, any of the articles advanced or obtained by purchase with money advanced, or by barter in exchange for any article advanced, in fraud of the rights of the landlord, or of his assignee, as the case may be.

Remedy by attachment cumulative.—Carmen v. Ala. Nat. Bank, 101 Ala. 189; Atkinson v. James, 96 Ala. 214; Ellis v. Martin, 60 Ala. 394; Campbell v. Hatchett, 55 Ala. 548; Westmoreland v. Foster, 60 Ala. 448; McDonald v. Morrison, 50 Ala. 30. Writ should issue against the crop; when issued against estate generally, may be abated, but is not void.—Bryan v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 569; Agee v. Mayer, 71 Ala. 88; Ellis v. Martin, 60 Ala. 394; DeBardeleben v. Crosby, 53 Ala. 363. When attachment issues on a cause of action not authorized, defect reached by rule on plaintiff to show cause why same be not dissolved.—Mortgage Co. v. Turner, 95 Ala. 272; Adair v. Stone, 81 Ala. 113; Drakford v. Turk, 75 Ala. 339; Rich v. Thornton, 69 Ala. 473; Dryer v. Abercrombie, 57 Ala. 497; Brown v. Coats, 56 Ala. 439. But attachment will not be dissolved, when part of demand only is not within the statute. Giddens v. Bolling, 93 Ala. 92; Ballard v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 616. See also Albright v. Mills, 86 Ala. 324; Perkerson v. Snodgrass, 85 Ala. 137; Baxley v. Segrest, Ib. 183; Reese v. Rugely, 82 Ala. 267; Dozier v. Robinson, Ib. 408; Horton v. Miller, 84 Ala. 537; Knowles v. Stovall, 67 Ala. 237; Shield v. Dothard, 59 Ala. 595; Staggers v. Washington, 56 Ala. 225.

2709 (3062) (3473). Affidavit and bond required.—Before such attachment is issued, the plaintiff, or his agent, or attorney, must make affidavit, setting forth the amount that is or will be due for rent and advances, or either, as the case may be, or, if the rent is not payable in money, the value of the part of the crop, or other thing agreed to be paid as rent, that one of the causes for issuing an attachment prescribed in the preceding section exists, and that the attachment is not sued out for the purpose of vexing or harassing the defendant; and must also execute a bond in double the amount claimed, with sufficient surety, payable to the defendant, and with condition that the plaintiff will prosecute the attachment to effect, and pay the defendant all such damages as he may sustain from the wrongful or vexatious suing out of such attachment.

What affidavit should show when claim for advances.—Ballard v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 616; Beard v. Woodard, 78 Ala. 317; Flexner v. Dickerson, 65 Ala. 129; Fitzsimmons v. Howard, 69 Ala. 590; Gunter v. Dubose, 77 Ala. 326; Reese v. Rugely, 82 Ala. 267. When affidavit sufficient.—Ballard v. Mayfield, 107 Ala. 396; Baxley v. Segrest, 85 Ala. 183; Knowles v. Steed, 79 Ala. 427; Robinson v. Holt, 85 Ala. 596; Staggers v. Washington, 56 Ala. 225; Goldsmith v. Stetson, 39 Ala. 183. When and how objection made.—Ballard v. Mayfield, supra; Perkerson v. Snodgrass, 85 Ala. 137; Horton v. Miller, 84 Ala. 537; Knowles v. Steed, 79 Ala. 427; Gunter v. Dubose, 77 Ala. 326; Graham v. Hughes, Ib. 590; Walker v. Ivey, 74 Ala. 475; Goldsmith v. Stetson, 39 Ala. 183; Mobile Life Ins. Co. v. Teague, 78 Ala. 147.

2710 (3063) (3473). Issue and trial of attachment; on what property leviable.—Such attachment may be issued by any officer authorized to issue attachments in other cases, and made returnable before any court of competent jurisdiction, and must be tried in the same manner and upon the same notice as other attachment causes are tried, and may be levied on the crop, or the proceeds thereof, and on the articles advanced, and property purchased with money advanced, or obtained by barter in exchange for articles advanced.

Bryan v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 569; Lehman v. Howse, 73 Ala. 302; Robinson v. Lehman, 72 Ala. 401; Agee v. Mayer, 71 Ala. 88; Ellis v. Martin, 60 Ala. 394; DeBardeleben v. Crosby, 53 Ala. 363; Ehrman v. Oats, 101 Ala. 604; Rowe v. Baber, 93 Ala. 422; Perkerson v. Snodgrass, 85 Ala. 137; Barnett v. Warren, 82 Ala. 557; Knowles v. Steed, 79 Ala. 427; Busbin v. Ware, 69 Ala. 279; Westmoreland v. Foster, 60 Ala. 448; Staggers v. Washington, 56 Ala. 225; Price v. Pickett, 21 Ala. 741; Hawkins v. Gill, 6 Ala. 620.

2711 (3064) (3474). Relation between party furnishing land and party furnishing team and labor.—When one party furnishes the land, and another party furnishes the labor and team to cultivate it, with stipulations, express or implied, to divide the crop between them in certain proportions, the relation of landlord and tenant, with all its incidents, and to all intents and purposes, shall be held to exist between them; and the portion of the crop to which the party furnishing the land is entitled shall be held and treated as the rent of the land.

Statute remedial merely.—Gardner v. Head, 108 Ala. 619; Adams v. State, 87 Ala. 89; Smith v. State, 84 Ala. 438; Collier v. Faulk, 69 Ala. 58; Holcombe v. State, Ib. 218; McCall v. State, Ib. 227; Wilson v. Stewart, Ib. 302.

2712 (3065) (3475). What a contract of hire; lien of laborer, and proceeding to enforce.—When one party furnishes the land and the team to cultivate it, and another party furnishes the labor, with stipulations, express or implied, to divide the crop between them in certain proportions, the contract of hire shall be held to exist, and the laborer shall have a lien upon the crop produced by his labor for the value of the portion of the crop to which he is entitled; and such lien shall have the same force and effect, and shall be enforced in the same manner, and under the same conditions, and in the same cases as the lien in favor of a landlord; but no more of the crop shall be levied on than may be necessary to satisfy the demand.

See citations to preceding section.

2713 (3066) (3476). When levied on crop of subtenant; vacation of levy.—When lands are cultivated by a subtenant, and an attachment or other process is sued out by the superior landlord, or his assignee, for the purpose of enforcing his lien for rent and advances, or either, the crop of the tenant in chief must first be exhausted, before levy is made on the crop of the subtenant; but if the tenant in chief makes no crop, or if the crop made by him is not sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's demand, then a sufficient amount of the crop of the subtenant may be levied on to supply the deficiency; and any levy made in violation of this section may be vacated on motion, at the first term of the court thereafter.

Bain v. Wells, 107 Ala. 562; Starke v. Bernheim, 102 Ala. 464; Albright v. Mills, 86 Ala. 324; Steinhardt v. Bell, 80 Ala. 208; Lehman v. Howze, 73 Ala. 302; Robinson v. Lehman, 72 Ala. 401; Agee v. Mayer, 71 Ala. 88.

2714 (3067) (3477). When subtenant may require attachment against tenant in chief; effect of failure to attach.—The subtenant may notify the superior landlord, or his assignee, of the existence of any one of the several causes authorizing the issue of an attachment against the crop of the tenant in chief, and if such notice is given, and an affidavit is made by the subtenant before an officer authorized by law to administer oaths, setting forth the existence of any one of such causes, and is served by the subtenant, in person, or by his agent, on such landlord, or his assignee, at the time the notice is given, and the landlord, or his assignee, fails or refuses to proceed within a reasonable time thereafter against the crop of the tenant in chief, he thereby loses his right to proceed against the crop of the subtenant for any deficiency in the crop of the tenant in chief to satisfy his claim, in so far as that deficiency resulted from such failure or refusal to proceed.

See citations to preceding section.

2715 (3068) (3478). Article applies to tenant in chief and subtenant.—The provisions of this article shall apply to parties occupying the relation of tenant in chief and subtenant.

ARTICLE 2.

LANDLORD'S LIEN FOR RENT OF STOREHOUSES AND OTHER BUILDINGS.

Lien attaches under this section only when "the building is the leading inducement for taking the lease."—Garrison v. Webb, 107 Ala. 499; Union Warehouse v. McIntyre, 84 Ala. 78. Lien for the entire rent attaches to such property of the tenant as has at any time during the term, "enjoyed the protection of the premises for which the rent is claimed"; but not to all his effects.—Ex parte Barnes, 84 Ala. 540; Andrews Mfg. Co. v. Porter, 112 Ala. 381; Couch v. Davidson, 109 Ala. 313; Scott v. Renfro, 106 Ala. 611; Smith v. Huddleston, 103 Ala. 223; Aderhold v. Blumenthal, 95 Ala. 66; McKleroy v. Cantey, Ib. 295; Weil v. McWhorter, 94 Ala. 540; Stephens v. Adams, 93 Ala. 117; Abraham v. Nicrosi, 87 Ala. 173. Not lost by removal of property, nor by sale (except merchandise sold in the usual course of trade) to a purchaser with notice of the tenancy.—Andrews Mfg. Co. v. Porter, 112 Ala. 381; Scott v. Renfro, 106 Ala. 611; Couch v. Davidson, 109 Ala. 313; Aderhold v. Blumenthal, 95 Ala. 66; McKleroy v. Cantey, Ib. 295; Seisel v. Folmar, 103 Ala. 491; Weil v. McWhorter, 94 Ala. 540. Lien attaches when property brought on premises; prevails over subsequent mortgage.—Seisel v. Folmar, 103 Ala. 491; Union Warehouse v. McIntyre, 84 Ala. 78; Kyle v. Swem, 99 Ala. 573. But not over mortgage to secure purchase-money.—Glass v. Tisdale, 106 Ala. 581. Lien prevails over claim of exemptions.—Smith v. Huddleston, 103 Ala. 223; McKleroy v. Cantey, 95 Ala. 295; Bryan v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 569; Ex parte Barnes, 84 Ala. 540. Waiver of exemptions in rental contract does not affect lien.—Stephens v. Adams, 93 Ala. 117. Lien attaches to the proceeds of goods in hands of an assignee; may be reached by garnishment.—McKleroy v. Cantey, 95 Ala. 295. See also note to section 2703.

2717 (3070). Lien enforced by attachment; grounds.—The landlord shall have the right, for the enforcement of such lien, to sue out an attachment before any officer authorized to issue attachments, and returnable to any court having jurisdiction of the amount claimed, when the rent, or any installment thereof, is due, and the tenant fails or refuses, on demand, to pay such rent or installment; and also in the following cases, whether due or not:

1. When the tenant has fraudulently disposed of his goods, or is about to fraudulently dispose of his goods.

2. When the tenant has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors.

3. When the tenant has made a complete transfer of all, or substantially all of his goods, without the consent of the landlord, or without first having paid the rent in full for the term.

Remedy by attachment cumulative; other remedies may be pursued. Andrews Mfg. Co. v. Porter, 112 Ala. 381; Couch v. Davidson, 109 Ala. 313; Smith v. Huddleston, 103 Ala. 223; Carmen v. Ala. Nat. Bank, 101 Ala. 189; McKleroy v. Cantey, 95 Ala. 295; Aderhold v. Blumenthal, 95 Ala. 66; Bingham v. Vandegrift, 93 Ala. 283. See citations to section 2703.

2718 (3071). Affidavit and bond for attachment.—Before such attachment is issued, the plaintiff, or his agent or attorney, must make affidavit, setting forth the amount that is, or will be due for the rent, that one of the causes for issuing an attachment prescribed in the preceding section exists, and that the attachment is not sued out for the purpose of vexing or harassing the defendant; and must also execute a bond in double the amount claimed, payable to the defendant, with sufficient surety, and with condition that the plaintiff will prosecute the attachment to effect, and pay the defendant all such damages as he may sustain from the wrongful or vexatious suing out of such attachment.

2719 (3072). On what property leviable; priority of lien.—Such attachment may be levied on so much of the goods, furniture and effects of the tenant as will satisfy the plaintiff's demand for rent; and such levy shall have priority over the levy of any other attachment on such goods, furniture and effects, in favor of any other creditor.

Abraham v. Nicrosi, 87 Ala. 173; Stephens v. Adams, 93 Ala. 117.

2720 (3073). By what law attachment proceedings governed. The law governing the issue, levy, trial and other proceedings in attachment suits in general, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, shall govern in all cases arising under this article.

2721 (3074). Lien and remedy vests in assignee.—The lien provided in this article shall vest in any assignee of the claim for rent; and such assignee shall be invested with all the rights of the landlord, and entitled to all his remedies for their enforcement.

ARTICLE 3.

USE AND OCCUPATION.

2722 (2715) (2956) (2607) (2206). When action sustained.—A reasonable satisfaction may be recovered for the use and occupation of land—

1. When there has been a demise by deed, or by parol, and no specific sum agreed on as rent.

2. When the defendant has been let into possession upon a supposed sale of the lands, which, from the act of the defendant, has not been consummated.

3. When the tenant remains on the land by sufferance of the owner. When after a demise the tenant, having had thirty days' previous notice, holds over without the consent of his landlord, he shall pay to such landlord double the value of the customary rent of the property so withheld.

To support this action, a contract, express or implied, either creating the technical relation of landlord and tenant, or bringing the parties into a relation importing like rights and duties, is indispensable.—Davidson v. Ernest, 7 Ala. 817; Smith v. Houston, 16 Ala. 111; Catterlin v. Spinks, Ib. 467; Tully v. Dunn, 42 Ala. 262; Crommelin v. Thiess, 31 Ala. 412; Wolffe v. Wolff, 69 Ala. 549; Fielder v. ARTICLE 1.

MECHANICS AND MATERIAL-MEN.

2723 (3018) (3440, 3441). Lien declared.—Every mechanic, person, firm or corporation who shall do or perform any work or labor upon, or furnish any material, fixture, engine, boiler or machinery for any building or improvement on land, or for repairing, altering or beautifying the same, under or by virtue of any contract with the owner or proprietor thereof, or his agent, architect, trustee, contractor or subcontractor, upon complying with the provisions of this article, shall have a lien therefor on such building or improvement, and on the land on which the same is situated, to the extent in ownership of all the right, title and interest therein of the owner or proprietor, and to the extent in area of the entire lot or parcel of land in a city, town or village; or, if not in a city, town, or village, of one acre; or, if employes of the contractor or persons furnishing material to him, the lien shall extend only to the amount of any unpaid balance due the contractor by the owner or proprietor, and such employes and material-men shall also have a lien on such unpaid balance. But if the person, firm or corporation, before furnishing any material, shall notify the owner or his agent in writing that such certain specified material will be furnished by him to the contractor for use in the building or improvements on the land of the owner or proprietor at certain specified prices, unless the owner or proprietor or his agent objects thereto, the furnisher of such material shall have a lien for the full price thereof as specified in the notice to the owner or proprietor without regard to whether the amount of the claim for such material so furnished exceeds the unpaid balance or not, unless on the notice herein provided for being given, the owner or proprietor or his agent shall notify such furnisher in writing before the material is used, that he will not be responsible for the price thereof.

Who has lien.—Randolph v. Builders', etc., Co., 106 Ala. 501. Mechanics and material-men.—Randolph v. Builders', etc., Co., 106 Ala. 501; Wadsworth v. Hodge, 88 Ala. 500; Eufaula Water Co. v. Brown, 100 Ala. 217; Smith v. Joseph, 65 Ala. 475; Ex parte Schmidt, 62 Ala. 252. Created rather by the law than by contract.—Wadsworth v. Hodge, 88 Ala. 500; Osborn v. Johnson Wall Paper Co., 99 Ala. 309. Neither acceptance of note for material nor stay of execution destroys lien.—Leftwich L. Co. v. Florence M. B.

L. & S. Asso., 104 Ala. 584; Ross v. Perry, 105 Ala. 533; Lane & Bodley Co. v. Jones, 79 Ala. 156. Effect of destruction of building by fire before completion.—Cutcliff v. McAnally, 88 Ala. 507. Materials must have been furnished for the particular building on which a lien is sought.—Cook v. Rome Brick Co., 98 Ala. 409. Burden on plaintiff to show that the materials were used in the building.—May & Thomas Hd. Co. v. McConnell, 102 Ala. 578.

2724 (3019) (3442). Priority of lien.—Such lien, as to the land, shall have priority over all other liens, mortgages, or incumbrances created subsequently to the commencement of the work on the building or improvement; and, as to the building or improvement, it shall have priority over all other liens, mortgages, or incumbrances, whether existing at the time of the commencement of such work, or subsequently created; and the person entitled to such lien may, when there is a prior lien, mortgage, or incumbrance on the land, have it enforced by a sale of the building or improvement under the provisions of this article, and the purchaser may, within a reasonable time thereafter, remove the same.

As between mortgagees and attaching creditors; burden of proof.—Leftwich L. Co. v. Florence M. B. L. & S. Asso., 104 Ala. 584; Wimberly v. Mayberry, 94 Ala. 240; Birmingham B. & L. Co. v. May & Thomas Hardware Co., 99 Ala. 276; Welch v. Porter, 63 Ala. 225; Turner v. Robbins, 78 Ala. 592; Young v. Stoutz, 74 Ala. 574. Prevails over claim of homestead exemption. Tyler v. Jewett, 82 Ala. 93; McAnally v. Hawkins L. Co., 109 Ala. 397.

2725 (3020) (3443). When building is on leased land.—When the building or improvement is erected under or by virtue of any contract with a lessee in possession, and the erection thereof is not in violation of the terms or conditions of the lease, the lien shall attach to such building or improvement, and to the unexpired term of the lease, and the holder of the lien shall have the right to avoid a forfeiture of the lease by paying rent to the lessor, as it becomes due and payable, or by the performance of any other act or duty to which the lessee may be bound; and if the lien is enforced by a sale of the building or improvement, the purchaser may, at his election, become entitled to the possession of the demised premises, and to remain therein for the unexpired term, by paying rent to the lessor, or performing any other act or duty to which the lessee was bound, as if he were the assignee of the lease; or he may, within sixty days after the sale, remove such building or improvement from the premises; and if he elects to take possession and to remain therein until the expiration of the term of the lease, he may, within a reasonable time after the expiration of the term, remove such building or improvement from the premises. If, before a sale, the holder of the lien has made any payments of rent, or other pecuniary compensation to the lessor, which ought to have been paid by the lessee, he shall be reimbursed such payments from the proceeds of the sale.

Lien, extent of.—Rothe v. Bellingrath, 71 Ala. 55.

2726 (3021). Right of lessor to discharge lien or prevent removal of building.—When a lien attaches under the preceding section, the lessor, at any time before a sale of the property, shall have a right to discharge the same, by paying to the holder the amount secured thereby, including costs and all moneys he may have paid to the lessor to prevent a forfeiture of the lease; and after a sale, he shall have the right to prevent the removal of the building or improvement from the premises by paying to the purchaser the value of such building or improvement; and upon such payment, either to the holder of the lien or to the purchaser, such building or improvement shall become the property of the lessor.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1288, §2.

Claims properly filed, subsequent withdrawal permissible.—Bell v. Teague, 85 Ala. 211. Verification of demand, when sufficient.—Leftwich L. Co. v. Florence M. B. L. & S. Asso., 104 Ala. 584. When not sufficient.—Globe I. R. & C. Co. v. Thacher, 87 Ala. 458; Florence B. & I. Asso. v. Schall, 107 Ala. 531; McConnell v. Meridian Sash & Blind Factory, 112 Ala. 582. Statement of account filed, when sufficient.—Greene v. Robinson, 110 Ala. 503; Garrison v. Hawkins L. Co., 111 Ala. 308; Leftwich L. Co. v. Florence M. B. L. & S. Asso., 104 Ala. 584; Bell v. Teague, 85 Ala. 211; Hughes v. Torgerson, 96 Ala. 346; Bedsole v. Peters, 79 Ala. 133; Lane & Bodley Co. v. Jones, Ib. 156; Montgomery Iron Works v. Dorman, 78 Ala. 218; Turner v. Robbins, 78 Ala. 592; Welch v. Porter & Co., 63 Ala. 225; Cook v. Rome Brick Co., 98 Ala. 409; Cutcliff v. McAnally, 88 Ala. 507.

2728 (3023). By what officers oath administered out of state. If the oath to such statement is made beyond this state, it may be administered by any officer authorized to take acknowledgments and proofs of conveyances beyond the state.

2729 (3024) (3445). Record of statement and fee therefor. The judge of probate shall indorse on such statement the date of its filing, and shall record the same in a book kept for that purpose, which shall be properly labeled and indexed, and note thereon the date of filing; for all which he shall receive fifteen cents a hundred words, which shall be secured to the party filing the statement by such lien.

As amended Feb. 19, 1889, p. 88.

Effect as notice.—Bell v. Teague, 85 Ala. 211.

2730 (3025). Selection when tract exceeds one acre.—When the land on which the building or improvement is situated is not in a city, town or village, and exceeds in area one acre, any person having a lien, or his personal representative, may at any time prior to filing his statement in the office of the judge of probate, select the one acre which shall be subject to the lien; such selection to include the site of such building or improvement and the land contiguous thereto, and to constitute but one lot or parcel.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1288, §3.

Ib. §4. 2731 (3026) (3457). When lien claimed by other than contractor; notice to owner; unpaid balance subject.—Every person, except the original contractor, who may wish to avail himself of the provisions of this article, shall, before filing his statement in the office of the judge of probate, give ten days' notice in writing to the owner or proprietor, or his agent, that he claims a lien on such building or improvement, setting forth the amount thereof, for what and from whom it is owing; and after such notice, any unpaid balance in the hands of the owner or proprietor shall be held subject to such lien. But the provisions of this section shall not apply to the case of any material furnished for such building or improvement of which the owner was notified in advance as provided in section 2723 (3018).

Subcontractor's lien; extent of.—Greene v. Robinson, 110 Ala. 503; Mobile St. Ry. v. Turner, 91 Ala. 213; Trammell v. Hudmon, 86 Ala. 472.

Ib. §5. 2732 (3027) (3458). List of employes furnished owner; effect of failure.—The original contractor shall, when so required, furnish to the owner or proprietor a complete list of all the material-men, laborers and employes who have furnished any material, or have done any labor, or performed any service, or who may be under any contract or engagement to furnish any material, or to do or perform any service for such contractor for or on such building or improvement, with the terms and price thereof; and if he fails or refuses to furnish such list or to give such information, or if he shall fail to pay any material-man, subcontractor, laborer or employe in accordance with any special contract made with the owner or proprietor, he shall thereby forfeit his right to a lien under this article.

Notice to owner.—Osborn v. Johnson Wall Paper Co., 99 Ala. 309; Trammell v. Hudmon, 86 Ala. 472; Seibs v. Engelhardt, 78 Ala. 508; Nunnally v. Dorand, 110 Ala. 539.

Ib. §6. 2733 (3028, 3048). Jurisdiction of suits.—When the amount involved exceeds fifty dollars, actions for the enforcement of liens under this article may be brought in the circuit court or court having like jurisdiction, or in the chancery court, of the county in which the property is situated, and where resort is had to the chancery court, no special ground of equitable jurisdiction need be alleged or proved. In all other cases actions to enforce such liens shall be brought before justices of the peace.

When in court of equity.—Colby v. St. James Church, 99 Ala. 259; Walker v. Daimwood, 80 Ala. 245; Wimberly v. Mayberry, 94 Ala. 240; Chandler v. Hanna, 73 Ala. 390; Birmingham B. & L. Asso. v. May & Thomas Hardware Co., 99 Ala. 276; McAnally v. Hawkins L. Co., 109 Ala. 397; Garrison v. Hawkins L. Co., 111 Ala. 308; Wadsworth v. Hodge, 88 Ala. 500. As to employes and material-men of subcontractor, only in equity.—Nunnally v. Dorand, 110 Ala. 539; Trammell v. Hudmon, 78 Ala. 222.

2734 (3029) (3446). How suits brought; pleadings and practice. Such actions, when brought in the circuit court or court of like jurisdiction, shall be commenced by summons and complaint, and when brought before justices of the peace, by summons. The complaint, or, when brought before justices of the peace, the statement indorsed on the summons, shall contain a description of the property on which the lien is claimed, and shall allege the facts necessary to entitle the plaintiff to the lien and the enforcement thereof; in all other respects, the pleadings, practice and proceedings shall be the same as in ordinary civil actions at law.

Florence B. & I. Asso. v. Schall, 107 Ala. 531; Chandler v. Hanna, 73 Ala. 390; Globe I. R. & C. Co. v. Thacher, 87 Ala. 458; Porter v. Miles, 67 Ala. 130; Colby v. St. James Church, 99 Ala. 259; Osborn v. Johnson Wall Paper Co., 99 Ala. 309; Cook v. Rome Brick Co., 98 Ala. 409; Hughes v. Torgerson, 96 Ala. 346.

2735 (3030) (3447). Parties to such actions.—In such actions, all persons interested in the matter in controversy, or in the property charged with the lien, may be made parties; but such as are not made parties shall not be bound by the judgment or proceedings therein.

Proper parties, who are.—Roman v. Thorn, 83 Ala. 443; Trammell v. Hudmon, 78 Ala. 222; Trammell v. Hudmon, 86 Ala. 472; Young v. Stoutz, 74 Ala. 574; Hughes v. Torgerson, 96 Ala. 346; Wimberly v. Mayberry, 94 Ala. 240; Porter v. Miles, 67 Ala. 130; Lee v. Wimberly, 102 Ala. 539; Leftwich L. Co. v. Florence M. B. L. & S. Asso., 104 Ala. 584; Florence B. & I. Asso. v. Schall, 107 Ala. 531; Pensacola R. Co. v. Schaffer, 76 Ala. 233.

2736 (3031) (3448). Revivor in case of death.—On the death of any party to such suit, his personal representative shall be made a party thereto, plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be, and it shall not be necessary to make his heirs or devisees parties; but if he has no personal representative, and it is not desired to have one appointed, his heirs or devisees may be made parties.

If owner dies before suit, heirs necessary parties.—Hughes v. Torgerson, 96 Ala. 346.

2737 (3032) (3448). Infants, lunatics; service on; guardian ad litem; judgment.—When infants or persons non compos mentis are made parties defendant in such suit, the court must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent them and to protect their interests therein; and the judgment and proceedings in any such suit shall be as binding on them as on adults or persons of sound mind. If the infants are fourteen years of age, or over, service shall be made on them personally; if under the age of fourteen years, it shall be made for them on the person having charge or custody of them.

2738 (3033). Service by publication.—When any defendant is absent from, or a non-resident of the state, or secretes himself so that service of process cannot be had upon him, upon affidavit being made of such fact, publication shall be made as to such defendant, as in cases commenced by attachment.

2739 (3034). Issues, verdict and judgment.—Any defendant, by appropriate plea, may put in issue the fact of indebtedness, or the existence of the lien, or both, and may interpose any other defense applicable to the suit; and if the court by its finding, or the jury by their verdict, as the case may be, ascertain that the plaintiff has a lien as claimed, judgment shall be rendered for the amount secured thereby, interest and costs, against the party liable for the same, and establishing the lien, and condemning the property to sale for the satisfaction thereof; but if the finding or verdict is for the plaintiff only on the issue of indebtedness, a judgment shall be rendered in his favor for the amount thereof as in other cases.

Judgment, what must recite.—Porter v. Miles, 67 Ala. 130; Turner v. Robbins, 78 Ala. 592; Hughes v. Torgerson, 96 Ala. 346; Florence B. & I. Asso. v. Schall, 107 Ala. 531; Lee v. Wimberly, 102 Ala. 539. Sufficiency of verdict. Bedsole v. Peters, 79 Ala. 133; Ex parte Schmidt v. Smith, 62 Ala. 252.

2740 (3035) (3450). Judgment by default.—Judgment by default may be rendered against any defendant, except infants and persons non compos mentis, who, after service has been perfected on him, fails to appear within the time required by law in other cases.

2741 (3036) (3453). Enforcement of judgments.—Judgments establishing the lien, and ordering the property sold for the satisfaction thereof, may be enforced by writs of fieri facias or venditioni exponas; but if by fieri facias, the clerk shall indorse thereon the fact that the lien has been established and a description of the property.

2742 (3037). Enforcement of judgment when rendered by justice of the peace.—Upon the rendition of such judgment by a justice of the peace, he shall transmit all the papers and a certified transcript of the judgment to the clerk of the circuit court, or court of like jurisdiction; and thereupon such clerk shall enter the cause on the execution-docket, record the judgment, and issue a writ of fieri facias or venditioni exponas, as on judgments rendered in that court.

2743 (3038) (3459). Suits by employes, etc.; contractor necessary party; garnishment against owner.—If the suit is by an employe of the contractor, or by any person who has furnished to him material for the building or improvement, the contractor shall be a necessary party defendant thereto; and in such suit, on motion of the plaintiff, the owner or proprietor may be cited to answer under oath how much was owing by him to the contractor, at the time of the service on him of the notice required by section 2731 (3026), on his contract with such contractor; and such answer may be controverted, and proceedings had and judgment rendered as in garnishment cases.

2744 (3039) (3459). When contractor must defend suit, and owner entitled to withhold or recover money from contractor. When the lien is sought to be enforced by any person other than the contractor, it shall be the duty of the contractor to defend the suit at his own expense; and after notice of an intention to file a statement of the lien, and pending the suit, the owner or proprietor may withhold from the contractor money sufficient to cover the amount claimed, and the probable costs and expense of suit; and in case of recovery against the owner or proprietor, or his property, he shall be entitled to deduct from the amount owing by him to the contractor the amount of such judgment, costs and expense; and if he shall have settled with the contractor, he shall be entitled to recover from the contractor the amount recovered of, and paid by him; and such recovery may be had in the same court, on motion, on three days' notice.

Porter v. Miles, 67 Ala. 130.

2745 (3040) (3461). Liens of employes, etc., on equal footing. All liens arising under this article, except in favor of the original contractor, shall stand on an equal footing, and be first paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the property, or money collected from the owner or proprietor; and if such proceeds and money are insufficient to satisfy such liens in full, the same shall be distributed pro rata among the holders thereof; but no person shall be entitled to participate in such distribution until he has obtained judgment establishing his lien.

Lee v. Wimberly, 102 Ala. 539.

2746 (3041) (3454). Limitation.—Except in cases hereinafter provided, all liens arising under this article shall be deemed lost, unless suit for the enforcement thereof is commenced within six months after the maturity of the entire indebtedness secured thereby. As amended Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1238, §7.

Begins to run, when.—Garrison v. Hawkins L. Co., 111 Ala. 308; Cutcliff v. McAnally, 88 Ala. 507. Must be pleaded.—Garrison v. Hawkins, L. Co., 111 Ala. 308. Applies to new parties by amendment.—Seibs v. Engelhardt, 78 Ala. 508.

2747 (3042). Additional time to representative for filing statement and bringing suit.—If any person entitled to a lien under this article shall die before the time has elapsed for filing his statement in the office of the judge of probate without filing it, his personal representative may file the same within three months after the grant of letters; and if such person shall die before commencing suit for the enforcement of his lien, and the lien is not lost at the time of his death, his personal representative may bring suit for the enforcement thereof at any time within six months after the grant of letters.

2748 (3043). Suits against representatives within six months after grant of letters.—The provisions of this Code prohibiting the bringing of suits against personal representatives within six months after the grant of letters, shall not apply to suits brought under the provisions of this article.

2749 (3044) (3455). Satisfaction acknowledged of record. Whenever any such lien has been fully satisfied, the holder thereof must acknowledge satisfaction of the same on the margin of the record in the office of the judge of probate.

2750 (3045) (3456). Penalty for failure.—Any holder of such lien who, after having been fully paid, fails for ten days after demand to so acknowledge satisfaction thereof, shall be liable to any person thereby injured to the amount of such injury.

2751 (3046) (3460). "Owner or proprietor" defined.—Every person, including married women and cestuis que trust, for whose use, benefit, or enjoyment any building or improvement shall be made, is embraced within the words "owner or proprietor," as used in this article.

Includes married women and cestuis que trust.—Youngblood & Ehrman v. McAnally, 88 Ala. 512; Cutcliff v. McAnally, Ib. 507; Wadsworth v. Hodge, Ib. 500; Copeland v. Kehoe, 67 Ala. 594; Schmidt v. Joseph, 65 Ala. 475; Ex parte Schmidt, 62 Ala. 252.

2752 (3047). Lien may be assigned.—Any claim for which a lien is provided in this article may be assigned; and the assignee shall be thereby invested with all the rights of the original holder of the lien, and be entitled to all his remedies to enforce them.

Leftwich L. Co. v. Florence M. B. L. & S. Asso., 104 Ala. 584; Lee v. Wimberly, 102 Ala. 539; Westmoreland v. Foster, 60 Ala. 448.

BLACKSMITHS AND WOOD-WORKMEN.

2753 (3049) (3462). Lien declared.—Any blacksmith, wood-workman, or other mechanic, who contributes his labor and material, or either, to the production, manufacture, or repair of any vehicle, implement, machine, or article of any kind, shall have a lien thereon in the hands of any person for whom such vehicle, implement, machine, or article was made or repaired, or to whom sold, and in the hands of any purchaser with notice of such lien, for the agreed price, or the value if no price was agreed upon, of the labor and material, or either, contributed to the production, manufacture, or repair of the same.

2754 (3050) (3464). Attachment to enforce lien; bond and affidavit.—Any person entitled thereto may enforce such lien in any court of law, of competent jurisdiction, by attachment issued by any officer authorized to issue such writs, upon executing bond as in other cases of attachment, and upon making affidavit that the attachment is not sued out for the purpose of vexing or harassing the defendant, and describing the property on which the lien is claimed, and setting forth all the facts necessary to the creation of the lien under the preceding section, and the amount due, and that one of the following causes of attachment exists:

1. That the person for whom such vehicle, implement, machine, or article was made or repaired, or to whom sold, is the owner thereof, and that the price, if agreed on, or if not, the value of the same, or of the repair thereof, or some part of either, is due and unpaid.

2. That the person for whom such vehicle, implement, machine, or article was made or repaired, or to whom sold, has transferred or sold the same to a purchaser with notice of the lien, and that the price, if agreed on, or if not, the value of the same, or of the repair thereof, or of some part of either, is due and unpaid.

Affidavit before unauthorized officer; objection too late after judgment. Ballard v. Mayfield, 107 Ala. 396.

2755 (3051) (3463). Joinder of persons having liens on same property; verdict, judgment and distribution.—Persons having liens under the provisions of this article, on the same property, may join in the same action for the enforcement of their respective liens; and when there is such joinder, the court or jury trying the cause must ascertain the amount due to each of the plaintiffs secured by the lien, and judgment must be rendered accordingly; but the failure of one or more of the plaintiffs to establish his or their liens shall not defeat a recovery by the others. The proceeds of the sale of the property levied on, if not sufficient to satisfy the demands of all the plaintiffs, shall be distributed, after payment of the costs, pro rata among them.

2756 (3052) (3463). Proceedings when one or more fail to join in action.—When persons having such liens on the same property, refuse, after notice in writing, to join in such action, the persons giving the notice may proceed without them, on making affidavit of the fact of such notice and refusal; and notice of the levy of the attachment must be served on the persons refusing to join in the manner and within the time required for the service of such notice on the defendant; and such persons, either at the trial, or at any time prior thereto, on making affidavit setting forth all facts necessary to the creation of their liens, and the amounts thereof, may be made plaintiffs in the action, and the cause shall then proceed as if commenced jointly by them with the original plaintiffs; but on their failure to thus join, the cause shall proceed for the benefit of the original plaintiffs, who shall, in that event, be entitled to priority of satisfaction.

2757 (3053) (3464). Limitation.—Proceedings for the enforcement of any lien created by the provisions of this article must be commenced within six months after the demand becomes due; and unless commenced within that time, the lien is lost.

ARTICLE 3.

ON SHIPS, STEAMBOATS AND OTHER WATER-CRAFT.

2758 (3054) (3465). Lien declared.—A lien is hereby declared on any ship, steamboat, or other water-craft, whether registered, enrolled, or licensed, or not, that may be built, repaired, fitted, furnished, supplied, or victualed, within this state, for work done, or material supplied by any person within this state, in or about the building, repairing, fitting, furnishing, supplying, or victualing such ship, steamboat or other water-craft, and for the wages of the masters, laborers, stevedores and ship-keepers of such ship, steamboat, or other water-craft, in preference to other liens thereon for debts contracted by, or owing from the owners thereof; and for wharfage and dockage; and such lien may be asserted in any court of competent jurisdiction.*

No distinction between the two classes of creditors named.—McClure v. Dellett, 38 Ala. 336.

2759 (3055) (3466). Limitation.—Proceedings to enforce such lien must be commenced within six months after the demand becomes due; and unless commenced within that time, the lien is lost.

*As amended by joint committee.

ARTICLE 4.

TENANTS IN COMMON.

2760 (3075) (3479). Lien of tenant in common on crop of cotenant.—Persons farming on shares, or raising crops by joint contributions, in such manner as to make them tenants in common in such crops, or their assignees, shall each have a lien upon the interest of the other in such crops for any balance due for provisions, supplies, teams, materials, labor, services and money, or either, furnished to aid in cultivating and gathering such crops, under contract, or furnished when the interest of such crops requires it, in case of a failure of either to contribute the amount and means as agreed upon by the parties.

Statute liberally construed.—Mooney v. Hough, 84 Ala. 80; Winslow v. State, 97 Ala. 68.

2761 (3076) (3480). Lien enforceable by attachment; grounds; remedy cumulative.—Such lien may be enforced by attachment upon the grounds, and in the manner provided for the enforcement of the landlord's lien on crops grown on rented lands; but this section shall not prevent the enforcement of such lien by any other remedy.

Irregularities in proceedings before justice not available on appeal.—Horton v. Miller, 84 Ala. 537; Knowles v. Steed, 79 Ala. 427. Affidavit sufficiency. Reese v. Rugely, 82 Ala. 267; Horton v. Miller, 84 Ala. 537; Watts v. Womack, 44 Ala. 605; Ballard v. Stevens, 92 Ala. 616.

ARTICLE 5.

AGRICULTURAL SUPERINTENDENTS AND LABORERS, AND RAILROAD EMPLOYES.

2762 (3077) (3481). Lien in favor of railroad laborers and employes.—Laborers and employes of each railroad company operated in this state, except the officers thereof, shall have a lien for all debts due to them for work and labor done and performed by them for such company, which shall extend to, and cover all the property, rights, effects and credits of every description belonging to such company, and situate in this state.

2763 (3078) (3482). Lien in favor of agricultural laborers and superintendents.—Agricultural laborers and superintendents of plantations shall have a lien upon the crops grown during the current year in and about which they are employed, for the hire and wages due them for labor and services rendered by them in and about the cultivation of such crops under any contract for such labor and services; but such lien shall be subordinate to the landlord's lien for rent and advances, and to any other lien for supplies furnished to make the crops.

Embraces services rendered under implied contract.—Wilson v. Taylor, 82 Ala. 368; Johnston v. Hannah, 66 Ala. 127. Judgment at law not a bar to other remedies.—Wilson v. Taylor, 89 Ala. 368. Against whom it prevails. Townsend v. Brooks, 76 Ala. 308; Scaife v. Stovall, 67 Ala. 237; Starke v. Bernheim, 102 Ala. 464.

2764 (3079) (3484). Limitation.—The liens created by this article shall be held to have been waived or abandoned, unless proceedings to enforce the same are commenced within six months after the work shall have been completed.

2765 (3080) (3485). Liens enforced by attachment.—For the enforcement of such liens the persons entitled may sue out attachments before any officer authorized to issue such writs, returnable before any court of competent jurisdiction; but before any attachment shall issue, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, must make affidavit of the amount due, that the same remains unpaid, and that the attachment is not sued out for the purpose of vexing or harassing the defendant, and must describe therein the property on which the lien is claimed.

Not lost by taking judgment at law.—Wilson v. Taylor, 89 Ala. 368.

2766 (3081) (3486). When attachment issues whether debt due or not; additional affidavit.—An agricultural laborer or superintendent of a plantation may sue out an attachment, whether his demand is due or not; but, in either event, he shall, in addition to the affidavit required in the preceding section, make affidavit that such demand is or will be due, as the case may be, and that the defendant, without the consent of, and contrary to his agreement with the plaintiff, is about to remove the crop from the premises without paying such demand, or that the defendant has so removed such crop, or some portion thereof.

Wilson v. Taylor, 89 Ala. 368.

2767 (3082) (3487). Bond required before issue of attachment. Before any attachment shall be issued under the provisions of this article, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, must also execute a bond in double the amount claimed, payable to the defendant with sufficient surety, to be approved by the officer issuing the attachment, with condition that the plaintiff will prosecute the attachment to effect, and pay the defendant all such damages as he may sustain from the wrongful or vexatious suing out of such attachment.

2770 (3085) (3490). Property or proceeds subject to garnishment.—All the property upon which a lien is created under the provisions of this article, or the proceeds thereof, in the hands of third parties, shall be subject to garnishment for the enforcement and satisfaction of such lien; and such garnishment, and the proceedings thereunder, shall be governed by the laws of force relating to other garnishments, so far as the same are applicable.

2771 (3086) (3491). Other remedies.—Nothing in this article contained shall be so construed as to prevent any person having a lien thereunder from resorting to any other remedy, legal or equitable, which he may have for the enforcement of his lien or the collection of his demand.

2772 (3087) (3492). When crop not to be removed.—No part of any crop levied on under the provisions of this article shall be removed from the premises on which it was raised until all claims for rent and advances for the current year have been satisfied.

2773 (3088) (3493). When prior liens must be satisfied.—Any officer enforcing the satisfaction of any lien under the provisions of this article, shall first apply the proceeds of the crop or property in his hands to the payment of any debt or claim of any third party which constitutes a prior lien upon such crop or property, if the priority of such lien has been established, and the claim ordered to be paid by the court before which the case is tried.

ARTICLE 6.

LIVERY-STABLE KEEPERS.

2774 (3089) (3494). Lien declared.—Any keeper, owner, or proprietor of a livery-stable shall have a lien on all stock kept and fed by him, for the payment of his charges for keeping and feeding such stock, and he shall have the right to retain the stock, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the payment of such charges.

At common law an agistor had no lien for pasturage.—Pearce v. Jennings, 94 Ala. 524. Subordinate to prior recorded mortgage.—Chapman v. First Nat. Bk., 98 Ala. 528.

2775 (3090) (3495). Sale to satisfy lien.—If the charges when due, are not paid within ten days after demand therefor, such keeper, owner or proprietor is authorized, on giving thirty days' notice of the time and place of such sale, by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county in which the stable is located, once a week for three successive weeks, or, if there be no such paper, by posting the notice in three conspicuous places in the county, to sell the stock for the payment of the charges and expense of keeping and of the sale; and the balance, if any there be, he shall pay over to the owner.

ARTICLE 7.

OWNERS OF STALLIONS, JACKS, BULLS, RAMS, HE-GOATS AND BOARS.

As amended Feb. 2. 1895, p. 367.

2776 (3091) (3496). Lien declared.—The owner of every stallion, jack, bull, ram, he-goat, or boar, who keeps it for profit and charges a price for the service thereof, shall have a lien, for the amount of the stipulated price thereof, on any mare, jenny, cow, ewe, she-goat or sow, to which such stallion, jack, bull, ram, he-goat or boar is put, and also on the colt, calf, lambs, kids, or pigs born next after such service or contract therefor, and such lien shall be paramount to, and have precedence over, all other liens on the colt, calf, lambs, kids, or pigs born next after such service.

Subordinate to prior recorded mortgage.—Mayfield v. Spiva, 100 Ala. 223.

2777 (3092). Attachment; grounds for.—For the enforcement of such lien the owner of any such animal may have process of attachment from any court having jurisdiction of the amount claimed, leviable on the animal or animals upon which the lien exists—

1. When such claim is due, and the defendant, on demand, fails or refuses to pay.

2. Whether such sum is due or not, when the defendant has traded off, or otherwise disposed of, or there is good reason to believe he is about to trade off, or otherwise dispose of, or remove from the county, any of the animals on which the lien exists, without paying the stipulated price for such service.

2778 (3093). Affidavit and bond required.—Before such attachment shall issue, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, must make affidavit of the amount of such stipulated price, whether the same is, or is not due, and if not due, when the same will become due, that the attachment is not sued out for the purpose of vexing or harassing the defendant, and that some one of the enumerated causes for such attachment exists, and must describe therein the property on which the lien is claimed; and he must also execute bond as prescribed by section 2767 (3082).

ARTICLE 8.

FOR STUMPAGE.

2780. Lien declared.—Owners of land, or their assignees, shall have a lien upon timber sold therefrom for purposes of rafting, shipment, or manufacture, for the stipulated price or value thereof, commonly known as stumpage. Dec. 17, 1894, p. 250, §1.

2781. Attachment; grounds.—For the enforcement of such lien, the owners of such land, or their assignees, may have process of attachment from any court having jurisdiction of the amount claimed leviable upon the timber upon which the lien exists— Ib. §2.

1. When such claim is due and the defendant, on demand, fails or refuses to pay the same.

2. Whether such claim is due or not, when the defendant has removed any part of such timber from such land without paying the stipulated price, or the value thereof when no price has been stipulated, and without the consent of the owners of such lands, or, if the claim has been assigned, without the consent of the assignee.

3. Whether such claim is due or not, when the plaintiff has good cause to believe that the defendant is about to remove any part of such timber from such land without paying the stipulated price thereof, or, in the event no price has been stipulated, the value thereof, and without the consent of the owners of such lands, or, if the claim has been assigned, without the consent of the assignee.

ARTICLE 9.

OWNERS OF BOOMS AND BULKHEADS.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 992.

2784. Lien declared.—Any riparian proprietor who has lawfully erected or maintains in front of his property, in any water of this state, any boom, bulkhead, piles, or other structure, shall have the right to charge any person who shall fasten thereto any vessel, boat, flatboat, raft, log or stick of timber or wood, five dollars a day for every vessel or boat other than a flatboat; two dollars a day for each flatboat; five cents a day for every pole, log or stick of timber or wood, and shall have a lien for the collection of such charges upon such vessel, boat, flatboat, raft, log or stick of timber or wood.

2785. Attachment; grounds.—For the enforcement of such lien, the owner of such boom, bulkhead, piles, or other structure, may have process of attachment from any court having jurisdiction of the amount claimed leviable upon the vessel, boat, flatboat, raft, log or stick of timber or wood upon which the lien exists—

1. When such claim is due and the defendant, on demand, fails or refuses to pay the same.

2. Whether such claim is due or not, when the defendant has removed, or there is good reason to believe he is about to remove, any of the property on which the lien declared in the preceding section exists, without paying such charges.

2786. Affidavit and bond required.—Before such attachment shall issue, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, must make affidavit of the amount of such charge, whether the same is or is not due, and if not due, when the same will become due, that the attachment is not sued out for the purpose of vexing or harassing the defendant, and that some one of the enumerated causes for such attachment exists, and must describe therein the property on which the lien is claimed, and he must also execute bond as prescribed by section 2767 (3082).

2787. Time, notice and manner of trial.—Cases arising under this article shall stand for trial at the time, and shall be tried in the manner, and upon the notice required in other attachment cases; and shall be barred unless brought within six months from the time of accrual.

ARTICLE 10.

PUBLIC GINNERS.

2788. Lien declared.—Any public ginner who shall give public notice of the price for ginning, and the price at which bagging and ties will be furnished, by posting the same at the gin and at three public places in the county, shall have a lien paramount to all other liens upon all cotton ginned and baled by him under any contract with the owner of such cotton for the amount agreed upon for such ginning and baling, or, in the event no price was agreed upon, then for the advertised price, so long as the cotton ginned and baled remain at the gin or in possession of the owner of the gin, and if such cotton should be removed without the knowledge and consent of the ginner, the lien herein declared shall follow the cotton. The ginner shall have the right to hold any cotton ginned by him until the full amount of the charges due thereon shall have been paid. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 589.

2789. Sale to satisfy lien.—If the charges when due are not paid within ten days after demand therefor, the ginner is authorized, if he has retained possession of the cotton subject to the lien, on giving thirty days' notice of the time and place of such sale by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county in which the gin is located, once a week for three successive weeks, or, if there be no such paper, by posting the notice in three public places in the county, to sell the cotton to the highest bidder for the payment of the expenses of such sale and the charges for ginning and baling; and the residue, if any there be, he shall pay over to the owner.

2790. If cotton removed, attachment.—If the cotton subject to the lien declared in this article shall have been removed without the knowledge and consent of the ginner and without paying the charges for ginning and baling, the ginner may have process of attachment from any court having jurisdiction of the amount claimed, leviable on the cotton ginned and baled.

2791. Affidavit and bond required.—Before such attachment shall issue, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, must make affidavit of the amount due, that the attachment is not sued out for the purpose of vexing or harassing the defendant, and that the enumerated grounds for such attachment exist, and must describe therein the property on which the lien is claimed, and he must also execute bond as prescribed by section 2767 (3082).

2792. Time, notice and manner of trial.—Cases of attachment arising under this article shall stand for trial at the time, and shall be tried in the manner, and upon the notice required in other attachment cases, and shall be barred unless brought within six months from accrual.

CHAPTER 72.

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS.

ARTICLE 1.—TIME IN WHICH SUITS MUST BE BROUGHT. 2793-2802.
2.—GENERAL RULES. 2803-2824.

ARTICLE 1.

TIME IN WHICH SUITS MUST BE BROUGHT.

2793 (2612) (3223) (2898) (2474). Limitation of actions.—Civil suits must be commenced, after the cause of action has accrued, within the period prescribed in this chapter, and not afterwards.

The statute does not annul contracts, nor extinguish debts; merely bars the remedies specified.—Ware v. Curry, 67 Ala. 274; Molton v. Henderson, 62 Ala. 426; Jones v. Jones, 18 Ala. 248; Towns v. Bardwell, 1 Stew. & Port. 36. Statute liberally construed.—Martin v. Tally, 72 Ala. 23. Bar, when complete, not affected by change of statute.—Ala. State Land Co. v. Beck, 108 Ala. 71. One remedy may be barred without affecting others.—Ware v. Curry, 67 Ala. 274; Chapman v. Lee, 64 Ala. 483; Ivey v. Owens, 28 Ala. 641. As to property, statute operates on the title, defeating that of the true owner and vesting it in the adverse possessor.—Molton v. Henderson, 62 Ala. 426; Brown v. Brown, 5 Ala. 508; Doyle v. Bouler, 7 Ala. 246; Jones v. Jones, 18 Ala. 248; Farmer v. Eslava; 11 Ala. 1028; Howell v. Hair, 15 Ala. 194; Newcombe v. Leavitt, 22 Ala. 631; Lay v. Lawson, 23 Ala. 377; Burks v. Mitchell, 78 Ala. 61; Alexander v. Wheeler, Ib. 167. Statute does not run against the state.—Ware v. Swann & Billups, 79 Ala. 330; Swann & Billups v. Lindsey, 70 Ala. 507; Swann & Billups v. Larmore, Ib. 555; Wright v. Swan, 6 Porter, 84; Kennedy v. Townsley, 16 Ala. 239; Iverson v. Dubose, 27 Ala. 418; Ware v. Greene, 37 Ala. 494. Nor against the federal government.—Wagnon v. Fairbanks, 105 Ala. 527; Wiggins v. Kirby, 106 Ala. 262; Stephens v. Moore, Ala. (22 So. 542). Nor against action to abate a public nuisance.—Webb v. Demopolis, 95 Ala. 116; Reed v. May. & Ald. of Birmingham, 92 Ala. 339; Olive v. State, 86 Ala. 88; Wright & Rice v. Moore, 38 Ala. 593. Nor against express, continuing trusts, until there has been a repudiation of the trust, and that fact brought to the knowledge of the beneficiary.—DeBardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 82 Ala. 574; McCarthy v. McCarthy, 74 Ala. 546; Whetstone v. Whetstone, 75 Ala. 495; Hastie v. Aiken, 67 Ala. 313; Causler v. Whorton, 62 Ala. 358; Blackwell v. Blackwell, 33 Ala. 57. Nor against remainder-man, until the termination of life-estate.—Pickett v. Pope, 74 Ala. 122; Bass v. Bass, 88 Ala. 408; Gindrat v. Western Ry., 96 Ala. 162; McLeod v. Bishop, 110 Ala. 640. Implied or constructive trusts are within the statute.—Nettles v. Nettles, 67 Ala. 599; Maury v. Mason, 8 Porter, 211; Wood v. Wood, 3 Ala. 756; Kimbro v. Waller, 21 Ala. 376; Tarleton v. Goldthwaite, 23 Ala. 346; Martin v. Branch Bank, 31 Ala. 115; Lockard v. Nash, 64 Ala. 385. When perfect against trustee, beneficiary also barred.—Molton v. Henderson, 62 Ala. 426; Colburn v. Broughton, 9 Ala. 351; Bryan v. Weems, 29 Ala. 423; Fleming v. Gilmer, 35 Ala. 62; Love v. Love, 65 Ala. 554. Statute runs against grantee of the government.—Dillingham v. Brown, 38 Ala. 311. And against state when a mere trustee.—Miller v. State, 38 Ala. 600; Molton v. Henderson, 62 Ala. 426; Ware v. Swann & Billups, 79 Ala. 330. And against political subdivisions of the state.—Wyatt v. Tindall, 97 Ala. 594; Miller v. State, 38 Ala. 600. When statute begins to run—generally, not until there is some one entitled to sue, and some one against whom suit may be brought.—Manning v. Pippen, 86 Ala. 357; S. A. & M. R. Co. v. Buford, 106 Ala. 303; Baker v. Barclift, 76 Ala. 414; Swann v. Lindsey, 70 Ala. 507; Underhill v. Mobile Ins. Co., 67 Ala. 45; Wyatt v. Rambo, 29 Ala. 510; Lawson v. Lay, 24 Ala. 184; Hopper v. Steele, 18 Ala. 828; Bohannon v. Chapman, 17 Ala. 696; Chambers v. Marks, 93 Ala. 412; Phillips v. Taylor, 96 Ala. 426. When begins to run between guardian and ward.—Taylor v. Kilgore, 33 Ala. 214; Alston v. Alston, 34 Ala. 15; Garrett v. Garrett, 69 Ala. 429. In favor of sureties on bond of personal representative.—Bonner v. Young, 68 Ala. 35; Fatman v. Fatman, 82 Ala. 223; Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124; Baker v. ARTICLE 2.

GENERAL RULES.

2803 (2620) (3232) (2906) (2482). When entry on lands presumed.—When a right of entry on lands accrues, the entry must be considered as having been made, and the cause of action as having then accrued.

2804 (2621) (3233) (2907) (2483). When right of entry not tolled.—The right of entry is not tolled by a descent cast.

2805 (2622) (3234) (2908) (2484). Time of absence from state deducted.—When any person is absent from the state during the period within which a suit might have been brought against him, the time of such absence must not be computed as a portion of the time necessary to create a bar under this chapter.

Stevenson v. Anderson, 87 Ala. 228; Smith v. Bond, 8 Ala. 386; Bohannon v. Chapman, 13 Ala. 641; State Bank v. Seawell, 18 Ala. 616; oleman v. Holmes, 44 Ala. 124; Scruggs v. Orme, 46 Ala. 533; Wright v. Preston, 55 Ala. 570; Minniece v. Jeter, 65 Ala. 222; Huss v. Central R. Co., 66 Ala. 472; Wright v. Strauss, 73 Ala. 227.

Bynum v. M. & C. R. Co., 100 Ala. 311; Napier v. Foster, 80 Ala. 379; Roland v. Logan, 18 Ala. 307; Young v. Davis, 30 Ala. 213; Bercy v. Lavretta, 63 Ala. 374; Morrison v. Stevenson, 69 Ala. 448; Hill v. Huckabee, 70 Ala. 183.

2807 (2624) (3236). Additional time allowed infants, etc.—If any one entitled to bring any of the actions enumerated in this chapter, or to make an entry on land, or defense founded on the title to real property, be, at the time such right accrues, within the age of twenty-one years, or insane, or imprisoned on a criminal charge for any term less than for life, he or she shall have three years, or the period allowed by law for the bringing of such action if it be less than three years, after the termination of such disability to bring suit, or make entry or defense; but no disability shall extend the period of limitation so as to allow such action to be commenced, or entry or defense made, after the lapse of twenty years from the time the cause of action or right accrued.*

Exception extends to all actions enumerated in this chapter.—Thompson v. Hartline, 105 Ala. 263; Woodstock Iron Co. v. Roberts, 87 Ala. 436; Taylor v. Forsey, 56 Ala. 426; McCartney v. Bone, 40 Ala. 533; Greenwood v. Coleman, 34 Ala. 150. Does not apply to infant, who has a trustee capable of suing.—Lee v. Wood, 85 Ala. 169; Martin v. Tally, 72 Ala. 23; Molton v. Henderson, 62 Ala. 426; Bryan v. Weems, 29 Ala. 423; Fleming v. Gilmer, 35 Ala. 62. Does not suspend running of statute; three years' extension may be a part of period necessary to create the bar.—Black v. Pratt Coal & Coke Co., 85 Ala. 504; Tayloe v. Dugger, 66 Ala. 444; Riggs v. Fuller, 54 Ala. 141; Daniel v. Day, 51 Ala. 431. Exceptions mentioned are exclusive.—Barclay v. Smith, 66 Ala. 230; Alexander v. Hill, 88 Ala. 487; Newburn v. Bass, 82 Ala. 622; Howell v. Hair, 15 Ala. 194. Infants allowed a reasonable time after maturity to disaffirm and redeem from a trustee purchasing at his own sale. Lovelace v. Hutchinson, 106 Ala. 417; Alexander v. Hill, 88 Ala. 487; James v. James, 55 Ala. 525.

Minniece v. Jeter, 65 Ala. 222; Wright v. Strauss, 73 Ala. 227; Howell v. Hair, 15 Ala. 194.

2809 (2626) (3238) (2912) (2488). Limitations not applicable to current accounts between merchants.—The limitations in this chapter provided do not apply to such actions as concern the trade of merchandise between merchants and merchants, their agents and factors, while the accounts between them are current.

McCulloch v. Judd, 20 Ala. 703; Bradford v. Spyker, 32 Ala. 134; Shaw v. Yarborough, 3 Ala. 588.

2810 (2627) (3239) (2913) (2489). How time reckoned on mutual accounts.—When there are mutual accounts between persons who are not merchants, the time must be computed from the date of the last item, unless the account is liquidated, and a balance struck.

Wilson v. Calvert, 18 Ala. 274; Todd v. Todd, 15 Ala. 743; Ware v. Manning, 86 Ala. 238.

2811 (2628) (3240) (2914) (2490). What necessary to remove bar.—No act, promise, or acknowledgment is sufficient to remove the bar to a suit created by the provisions of this chapter, or is evidence of a new or continuing contract, except a partial payment made upon the contract by the party sought to be charged before the bar is complete, or an unconditional promise in writing, signed by the party to be charged thereby.

Partial payments.—Cameron v. Cameron, 95 Ala. 344; Chapman v. Barnes, 93 Ala. 433; Wright v. Payne, 62 Ala. 340; Minniece v. Jeter, 65 Ala. 222; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438; Scott v. Ware, Ib. 174; Acklen v. Hickman, 60 Ala. 568; Harwood v. Harper, 54 Ala. 659; Knight v. Clements, 45 Ala. 89; Taylor v. Perry, 48 Ala. 240; Lewis v. Ford, 67 Ala. 143; Royston v. May, 71 Ala. 398; Curtis v. Daughdrill, Ib. 590; Watson v. Dale, 1 Porter, 247; McGehee v. Greer, 7 Porter, 537. New promise.—Crawford v. Childress, 1 Ala. 482; Chapman v. Barnes, 93 Ala. 433; Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Jordan v. Hubbard, 26 Ala. 433; Bumgardner v. Taylor, 28 Ala. 687; Evans v. Carey, 29 Ala. 99; Duffie v. Phillips, 31 Ala. 571; Bradford v. Spyker, 32 Ala. 134; Pearson v. Darrington, Ib. 227; Strickland v. Walker, 37 Ala. 385; Greening v. Brown, Minor, 353; Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553. Effect of partial payment or new promise by one joint obligor against another.—Lowther v. Chappell, 8 Ala. 353; Moore v. Lessuer, 18 Ala. 606; Myatt v. Bell, 41 Ala. 222; Espy v. Comer, 76 Ala. 501. By personal representative on estate.—Townes v. Ferguson, 20 Ala. 147; Pitts v. Wooten, 24 Ala. 474; Hall v. Darrington, 9 Ala. 502. By personal representative on rights of heirs.—Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala.

Wright v. Paine, 62 Ala. 340; Massie v. Boyd, 87 Ala. 672; Owens v. Henderson, 7 Ala. 641; Mobile Savings Bk. v. McDonnell, 83 Ala. 595.

2813 (2630) (3242) (2916) (2492). In actions seeking relief on ground of fraud.—In actions seeking relief on the ground of fraud, where the statute has created a bar, the cause of action must not be considered as having accrued until the discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts constituting the fraud, after which he must have one year within which to prosecute his suit.

What fraud within saving clause of the statute.—Heflin v. Ashford, 85 Ala. 125; Scruggs v. Decatur M. & L. Co., 86 Ala. 173; Duncan v. Williams, 89 Ala. 341; Tillison v. Ewing, 91 Ala. 467; Henry v. Allen, 93 Ala. 197; Underhill v. Mobile Ins. Co., 67 Ala. 45; McCarthy v. McCarthy, 74 Ala. 546; Holt v. Wilson, 75 Ala. 58. Saving of statute may be pleaded at law; not grounds for equitable relief.—Henry v. Allen, 93 Ala. 197; Tillison v. Ewing, 87 Ala. 350; Proskauer v. Peo. Sav. Bank, 77 Ala. 257; Curry v. Peebles, 83 Ala. 225; Smith v. Cockrell, 66 Ala. 64; Porter v. Smith, 65 Ala. 169.

2814 (2631) (3243) (2917) (2493). Commencement of suit.—The suing out of a summons is the commencement of a suit, whether it be executed or not, if the suit be continued by an alias, or recommenced at the next term of the court.

West v. Engle, 101 Ala. 509; Ware v. Swann & Billups, 79 Ala. 330.

2815 (2632) (3244) (2918) (2494). What time after death and before grant of letters not computed.—The time between the death of a person and the grant of letters testamentary or of administration, not exceeding six months, is not to be taken as any part of the time limited for the commencement of actions by or against his executors or administrators.

McNeill v. McNeill, 35 Ala. 30; Pickett v. Hobdy, 63 Ala. 609; Allen v. Elliott, 67 Ala. 432; Lewis v. Ford, Ib. 143; Lee v. Downey, 68 Ala. 98.

2816 (2633) (3245) (2919) (2495). Nor six months personal representative exempt from suit.—The six months, during which an executor or administrator is exempt from suit after the grant of letters, is not to be taken as any part of the time limited for the commencement of an action against him.

Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438; Allen v. Elliott, 67 Ala. 432; Hood v. League, 102 Ala. 228.

2817. Presentation of claim against estate of decedent suspends statute until notice given to sue.—When a claim against the estate of a decedent has been duly presented, the limitation for the commencement of suit thereon is suspended until the personal representative, or heir, or devisee of such decedent shall, by notice in writing, require such claimant, or any one having the beneficial interest in such claim, to bring suit thereon.

2818. Personal representative may require suit brought on disputed claim within six months.—The personal representative of the estate of a decedent may give notice in writing to the claimant, or any one having the beneficial interest in a claim against the estate of the decedent, that such claim is disputed in whole or in part, if in part, specifying the part disputed, and require suit to be brought thereon; and if suit is not brought thereon pursuant to such notice within six months from the time of giving the notice, or, if the claim be not due, within six months from the time it becomes due, and prosecuted with diligence according to the ordinary course of law, such claim, or, if disputed only in part, the part so disputed, is barred. But if the personal representative and the claimant or person having the beneficial interest shall, at any time before the bar herein prescribed is complete, agree upon the amount of such claim, suit thereon need not be brought or prosecuted under this section. If the plaintiff in such suit shall fail to recover upon the disputed part of his claim, he must be taxed with the costs of the suit. This section does not apply to claims against estates declared insolvent.

2820 (2635) (3247) (2921) (2497). Time of injunction or prohibition not computed.—When the commencement of an action is stayed by injunction or statutory prohibition, the time of the continuance of the injunction or prohibition is not computed as part of the time.

2821 (2636) (3248) (2922) (2498). When operation of statute not suspended.—A disability which did not exist when the cause of action accrued does not suspend the operation of the limitation, unless the contrary is expressly provided.

Black v. Pratt Coal & Coke Co., 85 Ala. 504; Caldwell v. Thorp, 8 Ala. 253; Branch Bank v. Donelson, 12 Ala. 741; Lowe v. Jones, 15 Ala. 545; Lee v. Leachman, 22 Ala. 452; Reed v. Minell, 30 Ala. 61; Daniel v. Day, 51 Ala. 431; Smith v. Roberts, 62 Ala. 83; Molton v. Henderson, Ib. 426; Underhill v. Mobile Ins. Co., 67 Ala. 45.

2822 (2637) (3249) (2923) (2499). All disabilities to cease before time begins.—When two or more disabilities coexist at the time the cause of action accrued, the limitation does not attach until all are removed.

2823 (2638) (3250) (2924) (2500). When war suspends statute. When the United States is at war with a foreign country, and either party to a contract is a subject or citizen thereof, the time of the continuance of the war is not computed as part of the time limited for the commencement of the suit.

2824 (2639) (3251) (2925) (2901). Notes put in circulation as money.—The provisions of this chapter do not apply to actions to enforce payment of bills, notes, or other evidences of debt issued or put in circulation as money.

CHAPTER 73.

MANDAMUS, PROHIBITION, CERTIORARI AND OTHER REMEDIAL WRITS OF A SUPERVISORY NATURE. 2825–2833.

2825 (3158). Application for; pleadings and right of amendment.—All applications for mandamus, prohibition, certiorari, or other remedial writ of a supervisory nature, shall be commenced by a petition verified by affidavit, in which the facts shall be stated as briefly and succinctly as the case will admit of; and any defendant may demur, plead, or answer as to all such matters as may be necessary to his defense; and any of the pleadings in such proceedings may be amended as often as occasion may require to attain the ends of justice, and by striking out parties and adding new parties; and upon the issues thus presented, the court shall award the relief, if any, to which the petitioner is entitled.

Mandamus as a civil remedy remains as at common law; the statute provides machinery.—Leigh v. O'Bannon, 69 Ala. 261. Issues in name of the state and is designed to prevent a failure of justice.—State v. Williams, 69 Ala. 311. Lies only against officers, public or corporate.—Taylor v. Kolb, 100 Ala. 603; Winter v. Baldwin, 89 Ala. 483; Foster v. White, 86 Ala. 467. Office of writ.—State v. Hamil, 97 Ala. 107; State v. Williams, 69 Ala. 311; Ex parte State Bar Asso., 92 Ala. 113; Taylor v. Kolb, 100 Ala. 603. Practice under statute; what relator must show.—Speed v. Cocke, 57 Ala. 209; Foster v. White, 86 Ala. 467. Motion entertained in supreme court, without petition.—Ex parte Tower Mfg. Co., 103 Ala. 415; Ex parte Garland, 42 Ala. 559. Though original petition may be there filed.—Ex parte Charleston, 107 Ala. 688. The jurisdiction exercised by the supreme court in mandamus to review non-appealable interlocutory orders is appellate in its character and cannot be invoked by strangers.—Garrison v. Webb, 107 Ala. 499. When such jurisdiction exercised.—Ex parte Sayre, 95 Ala. 288; Jennings v. Pearce, 99 Ala. 303; Bridgeport E. & I. Co. v. Bridgeport L. & I. Co., 104 Ala. 276; Ex parte Nicrosi, 103 Ala. 104; Ex parte Fechheimer, 103 Ala. 154; Ex parte Tower Mfg. Co., 103 Ala. 415; Knight v. Farrell, Ala. (20 So. 974). Discretion in granting or refusing writ.—Taylor v. Kolb, 100 Ala. 603. Mandamus to compel performance of corporate duty; parties and proof.—M. & G. R. Co. v. Comr's Court, 97 Ala. 105. Common-law certiorari; application; proof.—Ind. Pub. Co. v. Am. Press Asso., 102 Ala. 475.

2826 (3159). Truth or sufficiency of answer may be put in issue. In any such proceeding, the return or answer shall not be conclusive, but the truth or sufficiency thereof may be put in issue and controverted.

Right of appeal existed prior to statute.—Withers v. State, 36 Ala. 252, 260.

2828 (3161). Bill of exceptions taken; judgment on appeal. In addition to the questions which may be presented on such appeal to the supreme court for review under existing laws and rules of court, either party may, by a bill of exceptions, also present for review the judgment of the court upon the evidence; and the supreme court shall review the same, and, in case there is error, shall render such judgment in the cause as the primary court should have rendered, or reverse and remand the same for further proceedings, as to the supreme court may seem right.

2829 (3162). Revivor in case of vacancy in office.—If any officer against whom such proceedings are had, should die, or otherwise vacate his office, while the same are pending, whether on appeal or otherwise, the same may be revived against his successor in office, in the manner in this chapter provided.

2830 (3163). Proceedings to revive, when against one officer. If such proceedings are against one officer only, and pending the same he shall die, or otherwise vacate his office, the petitioner shall in writing, addressed to his successor in office, briefly and succinctly set forth the character and then condition of the proceedings and the relief thereby sought, and demand of such successor the performance of the duty sought to be enforced, which writing must be personally handed to him; and if he shall fail or refuse to speedily perform the same, upon proof that such writing has been served on him, and that he has failed or refused to perform such duty properly, the court shall forthwith revive the proceedings against him, and proceed to a final determination thereof in all respects in the same manner as if no such vacancy had occurred.

2831 (3164). Proceedings abate on performance of duty by successor; costs.—If such successor, upon such demand, shall speedily perform the duty therein demanded, the proceedings shall thereby abate, and the court may render judgment for the costs of the proceedings against the person who has vacated the office, or, if he is dead, against his executor or administrator; and to this end, the court shall have the power to make his executor or administrator a party by appropriate process; but all questions of costs under this chapter shall rest in the discretion of the court.

2832 (3165). Proceedings to revive, when against several officers; costs.—If such proceedings are against more than one officer, and pending the same any of them shall die, or otherwise vacate the office, the proceedings may be revived against his or their successors in the same manner as if the same had been against one officer only; and if such successor or successors, not failing or refusing on demand to perform the required duty, shall in writing state his or their willingness to perform the same, and it shall appear to the court that he or they cannot perform such duty because of the failure or refusal of his or their associates in office and co-defendants to co-operate in the performance thereof, he or they shall not, in that event, be liable for any part of the costs.

2833 (3166). Common law not repealed; certain proceedings excepted from operation of this chapter.—The common law, as now in force in this state, touching any of the matters embraced in this chapter, is not repealed, but left in full force; the true intent and meaning of this chapter being to provide a plain, more speedy and less expensive mode of procedure in all cases to which it applies; nor shall the provisions of this chapter be held to apply to a certiorari obtained in the supreme court, upon a suggestion of diminution of the record; nor is anything in this chapter contained intended to repeal, alter, or change any statute of this state, now in force, in reference to proceedings for habeas corpus or mandamus.

MARKS AND BRANDS. 2834–2836.

2834 (1361) (1583) (1278) (1094). Earmarks and brands. Every person in this state, owning any cattle, hogs, sheep, or goats running at large, must have an earmark or brand different from that of his neighbors.

It is larceny to steal a hog running at large, although it be not marked or branded.—Bazell v. State, 89 Ala. 14.

2835 (1362) (1584) (1279) (1095). Recorded in the office of probate judge.—Such marks and brands must be recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which such cattle, hogs, sheep, or goats run; but the same brand or mark must not be recorded to more than one person in the same locality.

2836 (1363) (1585) (1280) (1096). Books open to inspection. When a dispute occurs as regards a brand or mark, the person who has first recorded the same is entitled thereto; and the judge of probate must allow all citizens of the county to inspect, without charge, the book in which the marks or brands are recorded.

2837 (2307) (2670) (2331) (1942). Incestuous marriages forbidden.—The son must not marry his mother or stepmother, or the sister of his father or mother, or the widow of his uncle. The brother must not marry his sister or half-sister, or the daughter of his brother or half-brother, or of his sister or half-sister. The father must not marry his daughter or granddaughter, or the widow of his son. No man shall marry the daughter of his wife, or the daughter of the son or daughter of his wife; and all such marriages are hereby declared incestuous.

2838 (2308) (2671) (2332) (1943). Applies to illegitimate relatives.—The provisions of the preceding section apply to illegitimate, as well as to legitimate children and other relations.

2839 (2309) (2672) (2333) (1944). What minors incapable of marriage.—A man under the age of seventeen, and a woman under the age of fourteen years are incapable of contracting marriage.

Marriage voidable merely.—Beggs v. State, 55 Ala. 108; Cooley v. State, Ib. 162.

2840 (2310) (2673) (2334) (1945). When issue not illegitimate. The issue of any incestuous marriage, before the same is annulled, shall not be deemed illegitimate.

2841 (2311) (2674) (2335) (1946). By whom solemnized.—Marriages may be solemnized by any licensed minister of the gospel, in regular communion with the Christian church or society of which he is a member; by a judge of the supreme, circuit, or city court, or by a chancellor within this state; or by a judge of probate, or any justice of the peace within his county.

2842 (2312) (2675) (2336) (1947). By pastor of any religious society.—Also by the pastor of any religious society according to the rules ordained, or custom established by such society; and the clerk or keeper of the minutes of such society must keep a register, and enter therein a particular account of all marriages solemnized by the society; which register, or a sworn copy thereof, is presumptive evidence of the fact.

2843 (2313) (2676) (2337) (1948). By Quakers, or other Christian society.—The people called Mennonists, or Quakers, or any other Christian society, having similar rules or regulations, may solemnize marriage according to their forms by the consent of the parties, published and declared before the congregation assembled for public worship.

A marriage good at common law is valid here.—Campbell v. Gullatt, 43 Ala. 57; Williams v. State, 54 Ala. 131; Beggs v. State, 55 Ala. 108; Farley v. Farley, 94 Ala. 501. License must be issued by the judge or his duly qualified clerk; authority cannot be otherwise delegated.—Ashley v. State, 109 Ala. 48.

2845 (2315) (2678) (2339) (1950). When consent of parents and bond required.—If the man intending to marry be under twenty-one, and the woman under eighteen years of age, and have not had a former wife or husband, the judge of probate must require the consent of the parents or guardians of such minors to the marriage, to be given either personally or in writing; and if the latter, the execution thereof must be proved. The judge of probate must also require a bond to be executed in the penal sum of two hundred dollars, payable to the State of Alabama, with condition to be void if there is no lawful cause why such marriage should not be celebrated.

Cotten v. Rutledge, 33 Ala. 110; Fitzsimmons v. Buckley, 59 Ala. 539.

2846 (2316) (2679) (2340) (1951). Registry of licenses.—The judge of probate must keep a book, in which is to be registered all licenses issued by him, and must state whether the parties, or either of them, were of the age specified in the preceding section. If not, he must also state whether either of them had been previously married, or if consent had been given to the marriage by the parent or guardian. If such consent was in writing, he must transcribe it on the same page on which he records the license; and the record so made, or a certified copy thereof, is presumptive evidence of the facts.

Beggs v. State, 55 Ala. 108.

2847 (2317) (2680) (2341) (1952). Marriage certificate recorded with license.—All persons or religious societies, solemnizing marriage in virtue of a license, or according to their peculiar forms, must, within one month thereafter, certify the fact in writing to the judge of probate, setting forth the names of the parties, and the time and place of the celebration thereof; which certificate must be recorded in the book kept for the registry of licenses; and a certified copy thereof is presumptive evidence of the fact.

2848 (2318) (2681) (2342) (1953). Penalty for issuing license improperly.—A judge of probate, issuing a license for the marriage of a minor contrary to the provisions of this chapter, forfeits two hundred dollars to the parent, or to the guardian of such minor for the use of his ward, for which the parent or guardian may sue.

Cotten v. Rutledge, 33 Ala. 110; Wood v. Farnell, 50 Ala. 546; Fitzsimmons v. Buckley, 59 Ala. 539; Roberts v. Pippen, 75 Ala. 103; Fulghum v. Roberts, Ib. 341; Bell v. Wallace, 81 Ala. 422; Riley v. Bell, 89 Ala. 597; Battles v. Tallman, 96 Ala. 403; Jeffreys v. Malone, 105 Ala. 489.

2849 (2319). Penalty, when not recoverable.—If it be shown that the parent or guardian consented to the marrriage, or that the judge of probate issuing the license was misled as to the age of such minor by his or her personal appearance, and that at the time of the issue of the license an affidavit was made before him by such minor, or by some other credible person claiming to know the fact, that such minor was of the age required by law, the penalty given by the preceding section is not recoverable.

2850 (2320) (2682) (2344) (1955). Penalty for marrying persons without license.—Any judge, minister of the gospel, or justice of the peace, who joins persons in marriage without a license, as required by this chapter, or who goes out of the state and marries persons, one or both of whom reside in this state, without such license, or a license from the state in which the marriage is celebrated, forfeits one thousand dollars, one half to the use of the state, and the other half to the use of any person who may sue for the same.

2851 (2321) (2683) (2348) (1959). Fees for marrying.—Any judge, justice of the peace, or licensed minister of the gospel, celebrating the rites of matrimony, is entitled to two dollars.

CHAPTER 76.

MILITIA. 2852–2896.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1308, §1.

2852. Alabama National Guard; the governor commander-in-chief.—The active volunteer organized military forces of the state shall constitute and be known as the "Alabama National Guard," and may consist of not more than four regiments of infantry, one regiment of cavalry, one regiment of artillery and a signal-corps, and the governor of the state shall be the commander-in-chief thereof.

Ib. §2.

2853. The staff of the commander-in-chief.—The staff of the commander-in-chief shall consist of the following officers to be appointed by and commissioned as officers of the Alabama National Guard, holding office at his pleasure: One adjutant-general, who shall be the chief of the staff; one inspector-general, one judge-advocate general who shall be a counsellor at law of a supreme court of at least five years' standing; one surgeon-general who shall be a graduate of some incorporated school of medicine and of at least five years' practice; one chief of engineers; one quartermaster-general; one chief of ordnance; one paymaster-general; one commissary-general of subsistence, and one inspector-general of rifle practice, each of the grade of colonel of cavalry; one assistant adjutant-general of the grade of lieutenant-colonel of cavalry; four aides-de-camp each of the grade of lieutenant-colonel of cavalry.

Ib. §3.

2854. Duties of adjutant-general.—The adjutant-general is chief of staff to the governor. He shall preserve the arms, and other military stores of the state, and distribute them to the state guard at the expense of the state; keep a roster of all the officers of the Alabama National Guard and keep on file in his office all reports made to him. He shall as often as may be necessary, cause so much of the laws relating to the volunteer forces of the state as may be in force, to be printed, bound and distributed, a copy to each commissioned officer, and prepare and publish all necessary blank books, forms, notices and stationery, and furnish them to the state guard at the expense of the state; and the auditor shall draw a warrant on the treasurer therefor. The adjutant-general shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by the commander-in-chief. The assistant adjutant-general shall assist the adjutant-general, and in his absence, perform all his duties. The several staff-officers shall perform the same duties, as nearly as the circumstances of the case will permit, as are performed by the staff-officers of like rank in the United States army, and any and all such other duties as may be required of them by the commander-in-chief. The adjutant-general must, ten days before each session of the general assembly, report to the governor the number and condition of the state guard and of the public arms and accoutrements of the state.

2855. Military forces formed into a brigade; election and term of office of brigadier-general.—The organized military forces of this state shall be formed into a brigade, and be under the direct command of the brigadier-general, who shall hereafter be elected by the field-officers by ballot, or in such other manner as may be determined upon by the governor in his discretion, and his office shall be for a term of four years and until his successor is duly qualified. Ib. §4.

2856. Brigadier-general to appoint subordinate officers.—The brigadier-general shall appoint one assistant adjutant-general who shall be chief of the brigade staff; one chaplain, one inspector, one judge-advocate, one surgeon, one ordnance officer, one quartermaster, one commissary of subsistence, and one inspector of rifle practice, each of the grade of major of infantry, and four aides-de-camp of the grade of captain of infantry. Ib. §5.

2857. Duties of assistant adjutant-general and brigade staff-officers.—The duties of the assistant adjutant-general of the brigade staff shall be to keep a roster of all the officers of the Alabama National Guard, and keep on file in his office all reports made to him, and such other duties as may be required of him by the brigadier-general. The several brigade staff-officers shall perform the same duties as are performed by such staff-officers under United States army regulations, and all such other duties as may be required of them by the brigadier-general. Ib. §6.

2858. Regiments, field and staff officers, etc.—Each regiment of infantry, cavalry, or artillery shall consist of not less than eight nor more than twelve companies, troops, or batteries. The field-officers of the regiment shall consist of one colonel, one lieutenant-colonel, and three majors who shall be elected by the line-officers of the regiment by ballot, or in such other manner as may be determined upon by the governor in his discretion, whose term of office shall be for four years and until their successors are duly qualified. The colonel of a regiment shall appoint his commissioned and non-commissioned staff-officers as follows: One adjutant, one chaplain, one quartermaster, one commissary of subsistence, one inspector of rifle practice and surgeon, each of the grade of captain, and one assistant surgeon with the grade of first lieutenant, and the non-commissioned staff as follows: One sergeant-major, one quartermaster-sergeant, one trumpeter, one band-leader, one commissary-sergeant, one ordnance sergeant and two hospital stewards, who shall have the grade of first sergeant and hold office subject to the pleasure of the colonel. The commissioned staff-officers shall be commissioned as in the case of other commissioned officers upon certificate of appointment from the colonel, and who shall hold office for the term of the officer making the appointment, or at the pleasure of such officer, and the colonel may also detail a color-bearer and such clerks for the Ib. §7.

adjutant's office as he may deem necessary. Each squadron or battalion shall consist of not more than four nor less than two companies, troops, or batteries. The majors of a battalion or squadron shall appoint the commissioned and non-commissioned staff thereof as follows: One adjutant, one assistant surgeon, of the grade of first lieutenant, and the non-commissioned staff as follows: One hospital steward with the grade of second sergeant, and may in his discretion detail one color-bearer, provided that when such battalion or squadron is not a part of a regiment the major may appoint an adjutant, surgeon, quartermaster and commissary of subsistence, with the grade of captain, and a quartermaster-sergeant, trumpeter, hospital steward, and commissary-sergeant, with the grade of second sergeant.

Ib. §8. 2859. Officers of company, troop, or battery.—The line-officers of each company, troop, or battery, shall consist of a captain and two lieutenants, who shall be elected by the non-commissioned officers, and enlisted men of such company, troop, or battery, and who shall hold office for a term of three years and until their successors are duly qualified. The brigadier-general may in his discretion authorize any company or troop of the Alabama National Guard to elect, in addition to the other commissioned officers, an additional second lieutenant, and a battery to elect one first lieutenant and one second lieutenant, in addition to the other commissioned officers, who shall be elected, commissioned and qualified as in the case of other commissioned officers. The company, troop, or battery commanders shall appoint the non-commissioned officers as follows: For company, five sergeants, one quartermaster-sergeant and four corporals; for troop, five sergeants, one quartermaster-sergeant, one veterinary-sergeant, one guidon-sergeant, one trumpeter and four corporals; for battery, five sergeants, one quartermaster-sergeant, one veterinary-sergeant, one guidon-sergeant, one trumpeter and eight corporals.

Ib. 2860. Number of men requisite to each company, troop, or battery.—Each company, troop, or battery shall in addition to its commissioned and non-commissioned officers, have the following number of enlisted men who must be over eighteen years of age: For company or troop, not less than twenty-six nor more than eighty-six; for battery, not less than twenty-six nor more than one hundred and four, and should the number at any time be below the minimum required by this section, then such company, troop, or battery shall be declared by the commander-in-chief inefficient for such service and must be disbanded.

Ib. 2861. How new company, troop, or battery formed, assigned and equipped.—Upon the petition of forty or more men liable to military duty addressed to the adjutant-general, setting forth the residence of the petitioners, and that they desire to form a military company, troop, or battery, the governor may in his discretion order any officer of the state guard to organize the petitioners into a company, troop, or battery, and said officer must superintend an election by ballot at a time and place selected by such officer. The officer elected to command such troop, company, or battery must forthwith appoint from his enlisted men the non-commissioned officers as provided in this chapter; said non-commissioned officers shall receive a certificate or warrant of their grade signed by the commanding officer and countersigned by the adjutant of the regiment or squadron or battalion if not part of a regiment. After a company, troop, or battery is duly organized it must be assigned to one of the regiments, squadrons, or battalions of the Alabama National Guard and the officers commissioned; and the adjutant-general shall, from the undistributed arms of the state, issue to the commanding officer of the company, at the expense of the state, upon his giving satisfactory bond for the safe custody and return thereof, suitable arms and equipments and camp equipage, and may prescribe by general or special order, rules for the use and preservation thereof.

2862. Non-liability of officers for arms and other property lost by fire, riot, etc.—No commissioned officer giving bond for the safe-keeping of arms or other public property, is liable for loss by fire or riot, or insurrection or other casualty of the services, unless held liable by a board of survey, to be appointed by and whose finding is approved by the governor. Ib.

2863. Allowance; how and when drawn.—In commutation of the expense which each active company of the Alabama National Guard bears in providing drill-rooms and a place for the safe-keeping of arms and ammunition and in defraying the necessary expenses, there shall be allowed to the commanding officer of each company, troop, or battery, the sum of sixteen dollars and sixty-six and two-third cents per month, payable quarterly, if the company, troop, or battery number at least twenty-five uniformed privates and non-commissioned officers, has such parades and drills, at which not less than twenty-five, rank and file, attend, as the governor may prescribe in general orders, not less than one public or private drill a month, and otherwise keep in such state of efficiency as the governor may deem necessary to constitute an active military organization. To secure such allowance for any quarter, the commanding officer must make affidavit before any officer authorized to administer oaths, that his company, troop, or battery during the time for which the allowance is claimed, had the number of drills and parades required, with the number of men prescribed therein, and was, during such period, an active and efficient military organization. Such claim so verified shall be forwarded to the commanding officer of the regiment to which the company, troop, or battery is attached, and by him to the adjutant-general, with such recommendation as he deems proper. If satisfied that it is just, the governor shall approve the same, and direct the auditor to draw his warrant for such amount in favor of the commanding officer of the company, troop, or battery. Ib.

2864. County commissioners may appropriate money to pay expenses of companies.—The county commissioners in each county Ib.

are hereby authorized and empowered, in their discretion, to appropriate a sufficient sum out of the moneys in the county treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the necessary expenses of the companies, troops, or batteries of the Alabama National Guard located in their respective counties, not to exceed the sum of twenty-five dollars per month for such expenses of any one company.

Ib. 2865. Monthly drills, etc.—The commanding officer of any company, troop, or battery may, and on the direction of the regimental, squadron, or battalion commander, must order at least one drill a month, and officers and members failing, without good excuse, to attend such drill, shall be subject to a fine in the discretion of a company, troop, or battery court martial, not exceeding twenty dollars. The commanding officer of a regiment, squadron, or battalion, when two or more companies, troops, or batteries are stationed at the same place, must order a squadron or battalion drill or dress parade once in each month, and on Memorial day, and on the occasion of the funeral of any officer or member of the state guard, and any officer or member of the state guard failing, without good excuse, to obey such order, shall be fined, in the discretion of a regimental, squadron, battalion, or summary court martial, not exceeding thirty dollars, and may be dishonorably dismissed from the service of the state.

Ib. 2866. Badge of honor.—Any officer, non-commissioned officer, or private, who shall have faithfully served in the state guard, in any grade, for six consecutive years, shall have conferred upon him the right to wear a veteran's badge, which shall be prescribed by the governor.

Ib. 2867. Movement of troops.—No company, troop, or battery, shall go out of the county in which it is stationed as a military organization, except by permission of the regimental, squadron, or battalion commander, or the brigadier-general, or the governor; nor shall any company, troop, or battery, or regiment, squadron, or battalion go out of the state, except by permission of the governor.

Ib. §9. 2868. Signal-corps.—The brigadier-general may, upon the approval of the governor, organize a signal-corps, which shall consist of one signal-officer of the grade of first lieutenant, and such corps shall not exceed forty non-commissioned officers and privates.

Ib. §10. 2869. Band of musicians.—The commanding officer of a regiment, or a squadron, or battalion not a part of a regiment, may organize and uniform at the expense of the regiment, or squadron, or battalion, a band of musicians to be under his direction and command, who, while on duty, shall be subject to all laws and regulations for the government of the Alabama National Guard, and they shall be mustered in as prescribed by this chapter for enlisted men, and shall be counted in the aggregate force, and such commanding officer may, in his discretion, disband such band and revoke the warrant of the band-leader.

Ib. §11. 2870. Absence from four consecutive monthly drills forfeits right to vote.—No officer, non-commissioned officer, or enlisted man shall be entitled to vote at any election for commissioned officers of the Alabama National Guard who has been absent for four consecutive monthly musters of the company, troop, or battery of which he may be a member; Provided, that nothing in this section shall apply to field-officers.

Ib. §12. 2871. Election upon the expiration of term of field or line officer; certificate to governor.—Upon the expiration of the term of office of any field-officer, or any vacancy occurring by reason of death, resignation, removal, or other cause, the brigadier-general, upon orders from the governor, shall order the commanding officer of a regiment, squadron, or battalion, if not a part of a regiment, to elect such field-officer under such rules and regulations as provided by this chapter, of which action at least fifteen days' notice must be given to the commanding officers of the companies, troops, or batteries in which regiment, squadron, or battalion said election is to be held, and in event there is a tie vote for any office, the brigadier-general shall cast the deciding vote for such field-officer. Upon the expiration of the term of office of any line-officer, or whenever there is a vacancy by reason of death, resignation, removal, or other cause, the colonel shall order the company officers to elect such officer in the manner required by this chapter, and must give at least ten days' notice of such election by orders published at the armory of such company, troop, or battery, where said election is to take place. A certificate must be forwarded through military channels to the commander-in-chief, stating that such elections as required by this chapter were held in accordance with the orders received, which certificate must be accompanied by such oath of office as may be prescribed by the adjutant-general.

Ib. 2872. When grade lost by resignation.—Whenever the resignation of any officer is forwarded, and is approved by the commander-in-chief, such officer loses his grade if elected his own successor; Provided, however, if such officer is elected to another organization he may accept such second election and be commissioned accordingly, taking grade from the date of his original commission, but the acceptance of the second election shall vacate the office to which he was first elected.

Ib. 2873. Transfers.—Any non-commissioned officer or enlisted man may be transferred at the request of his company, troop, or battery commander to any other company, troop, or battery, upon the approval of the brigadier-general.

Ib. 2874. Company may adopt rules and regulations, etc.—Each company may adopt such rules as to admission of members as it deems best, and may provide for the discharge of any of its members by rules or by-laws, provided that such rules or by-laws are first approved by the brigadier-general, and any person discharged in accordance with such rule or by-laws after the same shall have been approved by the brigadier-general, ceases to be a member of the Alabama National Guard.

Ib. 2875. Discharge.—No non-commissioned officer nor enlisted man shall be discharged from the Alabama National Guard except as provided in the preceding section, or upon order of the governor, or by application therefor approved by his company and regimental commander.

Ib. 2876. Term of enlistment and oath.—The term of enlistment in the Alabama National Guard shall be for three years, and the following oath of enlistment must be administered by the commanding officer of any company, troop, or battery, to persons enlisting: "I do solemnly swear that I will support the constitution of the State of Alabama, and obey all lawful orders of my superior officers while I remain a member of the Alabama National Guard."

Ib. §13. 2877. System of discipline.—The system of discipline and exercises of the Alabama National Guard shall conform generally to that of the army of the United States as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by congress, and to all provisions of the laws of the United States, except as otherwise provided in this chapter, or may hereafter be provided for by the laws of this state.

Ib. §14. 2878. When company, troop, or battery may be disbanded.—Any company, troop, or battery of the Alabama National Guard may be disbanded in the discretion of the brigadier-general or the commander-in-chief upon a petition signed by a majority of such company, troop, or battery approved by the regimental commander, or the commander of the squadron or battalion not a part of a regiment, or when the commanding officer of any regiment, or squadron, or battalion not a part of a regiment reports that such a company, troop, or battery is inefficient and ought to be disbanded for the good of the service, or whenever a board of officers who shall be appointed by the brigadier-general, and shall consist of not less than three from such regiment, squadron, or battalion not a part of a regiment shall report that it would be to the good of the service to disband such organization.

Ib. §15. 2879. Uniform.—Uniform of officers, non-commissioned officers and enlisted men shall conform in style and material to that of the United States army, excepting as follows: 1. The collar ornament of the undress uniform of commissioned officers shall be the letters "ALA." embroidered in gold-bullion instead of the letters "U. S.," and the cap ornament shall have the coat of arms of the State of Alabama instead of that of the United States; the eagle on such ornament shall be embroidered in gold-bullion and the shield in silver-bullion. 2. The trousers for the enlisted men shall have one-half inch stripes extending the length of the outer seam, the color to be in accordance with the branch of service to which such enlisted man belongs.

Ib. 2880. Governor may issue public arms to chartered institutions, etc.—The governor may in his discretion issue public arms and equipments received from the United States to chartered institutions of learning which adopt a military system, upon bond, with sureties, for the preservation and return thereof when called for by him, and upon such terms as he may require.

2881. Selling or detaining military property.—Any person who sells, purchases, retains, or has in his possession or custody, without right, any military property belonging to the state, or any regiment, squadron, or battalion, or company, troop, or battery of Alabama National Guard, who, after proper demand, refuses to deliver the same to any officer entitled to take possession thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor; and any person belonging to the Alabama National Guard who, contrary to the lawful order of the proper officer, retains in his possession or control any military property of the state, is guilty of a misdemeanor; and any commanding officer may take possession of such military property mentioned in this section, wherever the same may be found. Ib.

2882. Undistributed military property; clerk of the adjutant-general; duties; salary.—The governor shall, whenever necessary, designate a repository for the undistributed military property of the state, and appoint a competent person, whose duty it shall be to keep such property in serviceable order, and to have mended at the expense of the state such small arms and property of the state as may need repair. Such appointee shall be the clerk of the adjutant-general, and shall receive a salary of not less than fifty nor more than seventy-five dollars a month, at the discretion of the governor, to be paid monthly, and shall execute a bond in the sum of one thousand dollars, payable to the state, for the faithful performance of his duties, to be approved by the adjutant-general and renewable at his discretion. Ib.

2883. All officers to be commissioned by the governor; qualifications.—All officers shall be commissioned by the commander-in-chief, and no person shall be commissioned in the Alabama National Guard who is not a citizen of this state nor above the age of twenty-one years, nor until such officer shall have passed a satisfactory examination before a military board which shall be appointed by the brigadier-general, to consist of not less than three members, who shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, administer oaths and take testimony as is possessed by general courts martial, and no person shall be eligible for election or appointment to office in the Alabama National Guard for a period of sixty days after he shall have been reported adversely by the examining board. The report of such examining board must be forwarded through the proper military channels to the commander-in-chief; Provided, that nothing in this section shall apply to the staff of the commander-in-chief. Ib. §16.

2884. Commanding officer may reduce to ranks, etc.—The commanding officer of any company, troop, or battery may reduce a non-commissioned officer to the ranks for cause satisfactory to himself and approved by the regimental, squadron, or battalion commander, not a part of a regiment. The report of such reduction, and the Ib. §17.

reasons therefor, must be forwarded through military channels to the adjutant-general.

Ib. §18. 2885. Discharge for removal from state, etc.—Any officer, non-commissioned officer or enlisted man who cannot after due diligence be found, or who shall remove his residence from the state, or to such distance from the armory of his organization as to render it impracticable for him to perform military duty, or who shall be convicted of a felony, may be discharged by the commander-in-chief upon request of the commanding officer of the regiment, squadron, or battalion not part of a regiment, with the approval of the brigadier-general.

Ib. §19. 2886. Courts martial; findings to be approved by the governor; expenses; procedure.—For the administration of military justice there may be general courts martial, regimental courts martial, squadron or battalion courts martial, not part of a regiment, summary courts martial, and company courts martial, to be appointed and have authority as follows: 1. General courts martial shall consist of not less than three nor more than five officers, exclusive of the judge-advocate, which court shall be appointed by the brigadier-general, or the governor in his discretion. Such court shall have jurisdiction of all military offenses committed by officers of the Alabama National Guard, and may cashier or dismiss them from service, and may also impose a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, and in default of the payment of the fine may sentence the offender to imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months. 2. Regimental, squadron or battalion courts martial, not part of a regiment, shall be appointed by the commanding officer of such regiment, squadron, or battalion, not part of a regiment, and shall have jurisdiction of all military offenses committed by non-commissioned officers and privates of such regiment, squadron, or battalion, not part of a regiment, and shall consist of not less than three nor more than five commissioned officers exclusive of the judge-advocate, who shall have power to sentence to dishonorable discharge from the Alabama National Guard, and may also impose a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars, and imprisonment for not more than sixty days in the county jail, either or both. 3. Summary courts martial shall consist of not more than three officers to be appointed by the commanding officer of any regiment, squadron, or battalion, not a part of a regiment, who may have jurisdiction of all military offenses committed by a non-commissioned officer and privates of such regiment, squadron, or battalion, not a part of a regiment, as may be brought before it by the commanding officer of the regiment, squadron, or battalion, not a part of a regiment, and such summary court shall have power to impose a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars and imprisonment for not more than six days in the county jail, either or both. 4. Company courts martial: Every company in such manner as its by-laws may prescribe, which by-laws must first be submitted to and approved by the brigadier-general, may provide for company courts martial for minor offenses against its by-laws and such company courts martial may dismiss any non-commissioned officer or private from the service, and may also impose fines not exceeding twenty-five dollars and imprisonment for not more than ten days in the county jail, either or both. 5. No finding of any court martial shall be executed until approved by the brigadier-general and commander-in-chief, and whenever the findings of a court martial is so approved the commander-in-chief shall cause the proper orders to be issued to the sheriff of the county in which such court is held to carry the fine of the court into effect in such manner as provided in civil cases, and if any person is sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail, the commander-in-chief shall order the commanding officer of such person to cause his arrest and delivery to the jailer of the nearest jail, to be therein confined for the term of the sentence. 6. All expenses incurred in the conduct of any court martial, including the payment of one stenographer, witnesses—who shall be allowed the same fees as in civil cases—and officers of the court—who shall be paid one-half of the pay and allowance which such officers of like grade are entitled by law to receive in the United States army—shall be paid by a warrant on the auditor upon the approval of the brigadier-general and commander-in-chief. 7. The proceedings of all courts martial shall be in accordance with United States army regulations, or customs of the service prevailing in the United States army. 8. The following offenses committed by any officer, non-commissioned officer, or private of the Alabama National Guard, are offenses against the military law within the meaning of this article, to wit: Desertion, cowardice, insubordination, drunkenness while on duty or in uniform, resistance to, or disrespect of any guard, or patrol, or sentinel, disrespect of, or resistance to, a superior officer in the execution of any lawful power of his office, violation or neglect of any lawful order, or of any camp or police regulation, or of any duty enjoined upon any officer, non-commissioned officer, or private, by this chapter, or misappropriation of any funds or property of the state, or of any regiment, squadron or battalion or company, troop or battery of the state guard, or of any offense involving moral turpitude, and any conduct unbecoming an officer or a gentleman, or any violation of the state law or articles of war are military offenses, to be tried by court martial as prescribed by this chapter. 9. Courts martial shall have power to subpœna any witness residing within one hundred miles of the place where the court is sitting, to appear and testify before it; and it shall be the duty of any sheriff receiving any subpœna issued by direction of a court martial and signed by the judge-advocate thereof, to make service and return of service as provided by law in civil cases; and any person failing to appear and testify according to such subpœna, without lawful excuse, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction be fined not more than one hundred dollars and may be imprisoned not more than sixty days in the county jail, either or both.

Ib. §20. 2887. Expenses incurred by traveling in obedience to governor's orders; how paid.—Any person traveling in obedience to the orders of the governor shall be paid all actual expenses incurred in the performance of such duty, and the governor shall prescribe rules and regulations for the presentation, verifying and paying of all expenses authorized by this chapter, and upon his direction in writing to the auditor he shall draw his warrant in favor of such person for the amount due him as approved by the governor.

Ib. §21. 2888. Medical supplies; how paid for; penalty for fictitious claims.—The surgeon of each regiment will be allowed to purchase with the approval of the commander-in-chief at the expense of the state all necessary medicines, bandages, surgical instruments, etc., that may be necessary for the proper taking care of the troops while in active service, and for the expenses so contracted such surgeon shall file his claim with the adjutant-general, not later than three months after the accrual of such expenses, and the auditor shall at once draw a warrant on the treasurer for the payment of the same, and any surgeon filing false or fictitious claims under this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall on conviction be fined not more than one hundred dollars, and may be imprisoned in the county ja. for a period of sixty days, either or both.

2889. Exemption from poll-tax and jury duty; how membership proved.—Every officer, commissioned or non-commissioned, musician and private of the Alabama National Guard is exempt from poll-tax and jury duty, during his active membership; any local or special laws to the contrary notwithstanding. The commanding officer of each company, troop, or battery, shall furnish each member of his command with a certificate of membership as may be prescribed by the adjutant-general, signed by each commanding officer, which shall prove such exemption in any court, but such certificate shall be revoked whenever the holder is absent from four consecutive drills or parades without good excuse, and which shall be good only during the calendar month for which it bears date. The commanding officer of a regiment, squadron, or battalion shall furnish a similar certificate to each of his staff and non-commissioned staff and musicians.

2890 (176). Pay in active service.—All officers of the Alabama National Guard, ordered into the service of the state to aid in the enforcement of the laws thereof, shall receive one-half of the pay and allowance which officers of like rank in the United States army are entitled by law to receive, and non-commissioned officers and privates shall receive double the pay and the same allowances provided by law for the same rank of non-commissioned officers and men in the United States army.

2891 (177). Preservation of order when in active service.—The commanding officer of troops in camp, or in other active service, may establish a guard-house. In such guard-house he may incarcerate any non-commissioned officer or private, or any commissioned officer, refusing to submit to arrest, and any civilian guilty of drunkenness, breach of the peace, disorderly conduct in camp, or within one-eighth of a mile thereof. The commanding officer may cause the removal from the camp, and grounds within one-eighth of a mile of its boundary, of any drunk or disorderly, or any disreputable person. If such person return to such limits without the permission of the commanding officer, or if he resists removal, he may be confined in the guard-house until he submits to leave, or may be turned over to a civil officer. The commanding officer shall prevent the sale or giving away of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquor within the camp, or one-eighth of a mile thereof. He may use the whole force at his command for the proper police of his camp and the enforcement of order and discipline.

2892. Commanding officer may close places where intoxicating liquors are sold.—Whenever any part of the Alabama National Guard are actually on duty by order of the governor, or other civil magistrate, to aid in the enforcement of the laws, the commanding officer of such troops may order the closing of any place where intoxicating liquors, arms, ammunition, dynamite, or other explosives are sold, and forbid the selling, bartering, lending or giving away of any of said articles so long as any of the troops remain on duty in the city, town, or village, or in the vicinity, where such place may be located, whether any civil officer has forbidden the same or not; and the commanding officer of such troops may continue the prohibition in force until the departure of the troops, although the sheriff, mayor or intendant of the county, town or village may have prescribed an earlier date at which such occupation may be carried on.

2893 (178). Encampments.—The governor may annually order into active service the whole, or such portion of the Alabama National Guard as he may deem proper, for the purpose of perfecting them in military discipline and drill; the period of such service being fixed by the governor. When so ordered into service, the state shall furnish rations for officers and men, and pay such expenses of such encampment as the governor may deem proper, including the traveling expenses of officers and men incurred in obeying such orders.

2894 (180). Enforcing attendance.—Whenever any part of the Alabama National Guard are called into the active service of the state for any purpose whatsoever, the commanding officer shall have power to enforce the attendance of officers and men; and any officer or man failing to report when ordered, without sufficient excuse, to be judged by the court martial, shall be deemed and treated a deserter.

2895 (179). Government of encampments.—Whenever any portion of the said troops are ordered into active service, either for the purpose of perfecting them in military discipline and drill, or to aid in the enforcement of the laws of this state, officers and men so ordered into service shall, during such time, be governed by the articles of war and the rules and regulations of the United States army then in force, so far as consistent with the constitution of this state.

2896 (197). Forfeiture of quarterly allowance, etc.—Any company ordered into camp for the purpose of perfecting it in military discipline and drill, and failing to attend such camp with not less than twenty-five rank and file, shall, unless excused by the commanding officer of the regiment, forfeit all right to any quarterly allowance for the remainder of the year, including such as may be then due and unpaid; and any such company failing, without good excuse, to be judged of by the regimental commander, to attend two consecutive encampments, shall be disbanded.

MILLS AND MILLERS. 2897, 2898.

2897 (1376) (1598) (1293) (1110). Rotation in grinding.—The owners and keepers of public mills, and their employes, must grind the grain brought to their mills in rotation, as it is received, and as well as the condition of the mill and water will permit; and may take and receive for toll one-eighth of the grain, and no more; but nothing in this section is to be so construed as to prevent the owner of any mill from grinding his own grain any time.

2898 (1377) (1599) (1294) (1112). Public mills defined.—All grist-mills, which grind for toll, are public mills, within the meaning of this chapter.

CHAPTER 78.

MINES AND MINING. 2899–2936.

Feb. 16, 1897, p. 1099, §1.

2900. Qualifications of mine-inspectors.—The chief mining-inspector shall be a practical miner of at least five years' experience, and his two associates, who shall be practical miners of at least five years' experience. No one shall be appointed mine-inspector who, or the wife of whom, owns and operates, in whole or in any part, mining property. Ib. §2.

2901. Duties of mine-inspectors.—The mine-inspectors shall give their whole time and attention to the duties of their offices. It shall be the duty of mine-inspectors to examine all the mines in this state at least every three months, to see that all the requirements of this chapter are strictly observed and carried out; inspectors shall particularly examine the works and machinery belonging to any mine, examine into the state of the mines as to ventilation, circulation and condition of air, drainage and general security; they shall make a record of all examinations of mines, showing the date when made, the condition in which the mines are found, the extent to which the laws relating to mines and mining are observed or violated, the progress made in the improvements and security of life and health sought to be secured by the provisions of this chapter, number of accidents, injuries received, or deaths in and about the mines, the number of persons employed in or by each mine, together with all such other facts and information of public interest concerning the condition of mines, development and progress of mining in this state, as he may think useful and proper, and so much thereof as may be of public interest, to be included in his biennial report. Ib. §26.

2902. Governor may remove inspector for incompetency or malfeasance and appoint successor.—The governor may discharge a mine-inspector at any time, upon the filing of a written complaint substantiated by sufficient proof for unfairness, unfitness, incompetency, or malfeasance, and appoint his successor for the unexpired term. Ib. §28.

2903. Inspectors must make biennial report to governor.—The inspectors of mines shall, biennially, prior to the assembling of the general assembly, make a written report to the governor, stating the condition of the mining interests in this state, with such suggestions and information as may be of interest to the mining industry, and said report to be printed on the order of the governor. Ib. §31.

2904. Appropriation.—For the purpose of defraying the expenses of the inspector as provided under this chapter, the sum of nine hundred dollars shall be, and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury; said appropriation shall be paid to the chief inspector of mines on his application, showing to the state auditor the amounts necessary to be expended for the actual expenses of the board of inspectors, quarterly. Ib. §35.

2905. Board for examination of mine-bosses; examination and certificate; fee; compensation of members.—The chief inspector of mines, who shall be chairman of the board, together with two practical miners, and two operators of mines (a majority of whom may act), shall constitute a board of examiners, to examine and give Ib. §8.

certificates of fitness to persons as mine-bosses in any coal-mine in this state. A fee of five dollars shall be paid to the chief-inspector of mines by each person examined, to be used as an examiners' fund, before the examination is begun. Out of the examiners' fund there shall be paid to each member of the board, except the chief inspector of mines, who shall serve without extra pay, four dollars per day. Said board shall meet every six months at the office of the chief inspector, and remain in session not longer than three days. The members of such board, except the chief inspector of mines, shall hold office for two years from the first day of May, 1897, and shall be appointed by the governor.

Ib. §16. 2906. Qualifications of applicants for certificates; classification. Applicants for first and second class mine-foreman's certificates shall be at least twenty-three years of age, and shall have at least five years' practical experience after having attained to the age of fifteen years, as miners, superintendents at or inside of any coal-mine, and shall be citizens of this state and men of good moral character, and men of known temperate habits. The said board shall be entitled to grant certificates of competency of two grades, namely: Certificates of the first class to persons who have had experience in mines generating gases, and who shall have the necessary qualifications to fulfill the duties of mine-foreman in such mines; and certificates of the second class to persons who give satisfactory evidence of their ability to act as mine-foreman in mines not generating explosive gases.

Ib. §5. 2907. Mine owner or operator must provide standard scales for weighing coal.—The owner or operator of each coal-mine at which the miners are paid by weight, shall provide such mines with suitable scales, of standard make, for the weighing of all coal, when contracted for to be weighed.

Ib. §4. 2908. Coal to be weighed and full weight credited to miner at two thousand pounds a ton.—All coal mined in this state contracted for payment by the ton or other weight, shall be weighed, and the full weight thereof shall be credited to the miner of such coal, and two thousand pounds of coal shall constitute a ton.

Ib. §6. 2909. Check-weighman, with access to scales, weights and accounts.—In all mines the miners employed and working therein may furnish a check-weighman, who shall at proper times have full access and examination of such scales and seeing all measures and weights, and accounts kept of the same; Provided, that not more than one person shall have such right of access, examination and inspection of scales, measures and accounts at the same time.

Ib. §7. 2910. Chief inspector to procure, at expense of state, standards, balances and other means of adjusting scales.—The chief mine-inspector shall procure from the state, at the state's expense, a full and complete set of standards, balances and other means of adjustment such as are necessary in the comparison and adjustment of scales, beams and other necessary apparatus to be used for a just weighing of coal and other materials at the mines according to the state standard of weights; and it shall be the duty of said inspector to examine, test, and adjust, as often as occasion demands, all scales and other apparatus used in weighing at mines.

2911. Mine-inspector, miners, owners of the mine and other interested persons may inspect scales and record of weights.—The mine-inspector, miners employed in the mines, and the owner of the land or persons interested in the rental and royalty of such mines, shall at all proper times have full right of access to scales used at said mines, including bank book in which the weight of coal is kept, to examine the amount of coal mined for the purpose of testing the accuracy thereof. Ib. §25.

2912. Who may act as foreman; fees for examinations and certificates.—No person shall act as foreman in any coal-mine in this state generating explosive gases unless he is in possession of a first-class certificate of competency. The fee for examination and issuing a first-class certificate shall be five dollars, and for a second-class certificate, three dollars. Ib. §17.

2913. Mine-operator must make annual report to chief inspector of mines.—On or before the twenty-fifth day of January in each year the operator or superintendent of every coal-mine shall send to the chief inspector of mines a correct report if required, specifying with respect to the year ending the thirty-first day of December, preceding, the name of the operator and location of office of the mine, and the quantity of coal mined. The report shall be in such form and give such information regarding such mine as may be from time to time required and prescribed by the chief inspector of mines. Blank forms for such report shall be furnished by the chief inspector of mines. Ib. §18.

2914. Ventilation of mines.—The operator or superintendent of every coal-mine, whether shaft, slope, or drift, shall provide and hereafter maintain, ample means of ventilation for the circulation of air through the main entries and all other working-places to an extent that will dilute, carry off, and render harmless the noxious gases generated in the mines. It shall be the special duty of the inspector and his assistants to carry out the provisions of this section; and it shall also be the duty of each and every mine-operator and mine-boss to assist the inspector and his assistants in carrying into effect said provisions. Ib. §8.

2915. Duty of mine-inspector when informed of insufficient ventilation.—If at any time the inspector or his assistants are notified that the ventilation in any coal-mine within this state is insufficient, the said chief inspector, or one of his assistants shall proceed within five days to investigate said complaint or complaints by personal inspection of any mine or mines in which the quality or quantity of air is complained of, and if on investigation he finds that the air in any mine is insufficient, he shall direct the operator or operators of this mine to adopt such measures for the proper ventilation of such mine, as he deems necessary. In the event that the inspector or one of his assistants fails, without sufficient cause, or refuses to make the in- Ib.

vestigation herein provided for, in addition to the penalty prescribed by law, he may be removed from office by the governor.

Ib. §9. 2916. State to furnish necessary instruments for testing air in mines.—The chief mine-inspector shall be furnished by the state all necessary instruments for measurement of air in mines, and whatever chemical instruments the said inspector may recommend from time to time.

Ib. §10. 2917. Stretchers, blankets, oil, bandages, etc., to be kept at mines.—It shall be the duty of the operator, agent or superintendent of each mine to keep at the mouth of the mine, or at any such other place about the mine as shall be designated by the chief mine-inspector, a stretcher, properly constructed, and a woolen and waterproof blanket in good condition for use in carrying away any person who may be injured at the mines; Provided, that where more than two hundred men are employed, two stretchers and two woolen and waterproof blankets shall be kept in mines generating fire-damp. A sufficient quantity of linseed or olive oil, bandages and linen shall be kept in the store at the mines for use in emergencies and bandages shall be kept at all mines.

Ib. §11. 2918. Breaks-through.—It shall be the duty of the chief mine-inspector to require the proper breaks-through to be made in all room-pillars, at such distances apart, as, in the judgment of the mine-inspectors may be deemed requisite; said breaks-through to be made and paid for according to the contract existing between the said owners and operators of the mine and the miners, at the time the said breaks-through are ordered to be made.

Ib. 12. 2919. Props and other timber to be supplied by operators.—The owners, agents and operators of any coal-mine shall keep a sufficient supply of props and other timber used in the mines, so that the workmen may at all times be able to prop their working-places, and the owner, agent or operator shall afford the miners working in their mines proper facilities for the delivery of props and other timber needed by them in their respective working-places.

Ib. §13. 2920. Safety-lamps must be furnished by operator; how kept; duty to report injury.—All safety-lamps used for examining mines, or for working therein, shall be the property of the operator, and shall be in the care of the mine-foreman, his assistant or fire-boss, or other competent persons, who shall fill, trim and examine and deliver the same locked in a safe condition to the men when entering the mines before each shift, for which service a charge not exceeding cost of labor and material may be made by the operator. A sufficient quantity of safety-lamps, but not less than twenty-five per centum of those in use, shall be kept at each mine where gas has at any time been generated in sufficient quantities to be detected by ordinary safety-lamps, for use in case of emergency. It shall be the duty of every person who knows his safety-lamp to be injured or defective to promptly report such fact to the party authorized herein to receive and care for said lamps, and it shall be the duty of that person to promptly report such fact to the mine-foreman.

2921. Each mine must have at least two available openings when required by the inspector.—Whenever required by the chief mine-inspector it shall be the duty of the owner, operator or manager of all coal-mines to have and maintain at least two available openings to the surface from each seam or stratum of the coal worked in such mine, one of said openings to be known as a manway or escapeway in case of accident. Said manway or escapeway shall be kept in good condition and shall be at all times reasonably safe for entering and leaving the mines; reasonable time, however, shall be given to the said operator, owner or general manager to prepare the second opening, in no case exceeding one year, from the time such order is made, unless, in the opinion of the chief mine-inspector, a longer time is required, in which case they shall allow the additional time necessary and so ordered. Ib. §14.

2922. Not more than twenty men to work without escapeway. Not more than twenty men shall be allowed to work in any new mine hereafter to be opened until an escapeway is provided for. Ib. §15.

2923. Maps of underground mines.—The owner, agent or operator of all underground mines in this state shall make or cause to be made by a competent engineer, an accurate and exact map of such mine, showing the exact position of such mine in reference to the section lines which shall be connected with some known boundary corner of the section, or subdivision of the section. Said map shall show accurately the position of any branches, creeks or river under which said mine may extend; also, as near as possible, the position of any old mine near by, and said map shall be sworn to by the engineer making same. The new work inside of mines must be added to said map or a new map filed at least in every twelve months. Said map shall be filed in the office of the chief inspector of mines who shall provide a suitable and safe place for keeping it. The chief inspector of mines, with the approval of the board of examiners, may refuse to receive maps made by persons claiming to be mining engineers, who are not known to be such and of good standing and character in their profession. The mine-boss in charge of such mine shall certify to the correctness of said map. The map shall be made on a uniform scale of not less than two hundred feet to the inch; any person may secure a copy of any map on file in the inspector's office by paying reasonable charges for making such map, and such copy, when certified by the inspector, shall be evidence in any court in this state. Ib. §19.

2924. Chief inspector to give written instructions as to the manner of working gaseous mines and examine machinery.—The chief inspector of mines shall give directions to the mine-operators, owners and general managers as to the method of working gaseous mines, and the manner of working and propping the roof in any and all mines, and shall examine the machinery and appliances used in working the same. All such directions shall be given in writing, subject, however, to the approval of the board of examiners, as herein provided. Ib. §20.

Ib. §21. 2925. Doors used in ventilating system to be self-closing.—The doors used in a system used in ventilating or regulating the ventilation of mines shall be so hung and adjusted that they will close themselves, or by supplying them with springs and pulley so that they cannot be left standing open.

Ib. §22. 2926. Safety-catches, brakes, props and indicators to be attached to cages.—Approved safety-catches shall be attached to the cage used for the purpose of hoisting and lowering persons into and out of the mines. An adequate brake shall be attached to every brake, drum or machine for lowering and hoisting persons into and out of the mines, and also props and indicators which shall show to the person who works the machine the position of the cage or load in the shaft or on the roadway.

Ib. §24. 2927. Character of engineers; must not allow unauthorized interference with engine.—The owner, agent or operator, or agent of any coal-mine shall place in charge of any engine used for conveying into and hoisting out of said mine, none but an experienced, competent and sober engineer. No engineer in charge of such an engine, or machinery, shall allow any person except such as may be deputed for that purpose, by the owner, agent, or operator to interfere with it, and no person shall interfere with or intimidate the engineer in the discharge of his duty.

Ib. §23. 2928. Precautions against dangerous accumulations of gas. When a place is likely to obtain a dangerous accumulation of gases or water, works, when approaching such places shall not exceed eight feet in width, and there shall be constantly kept at a sufficient distance ahead, not less than three yards in advance, one bore-hole near the center of the working, and sufficient flank bore-holes on each side, six feet apart and six feet in depth.

Ib. §26. 2929. When gas is known to exist in mine a competent fire-boss must be employed; his duties.—When gas is known to exist, the owner, agent or operator of any coal-mine shall employ a competent fire-boss, whose duties it shall be to examine every place in the mine before the men are permitted to enter for work. Said fire-boss shall be at some convenient place each day to inform every man as to the state and condition of his working-place before entering. Said work shall be carefully examined every morning with a safety-lamp by the fire-boss before the workmen are allowed to enter therein.

Ib. §29. 2930. Explosions and accidents causing personal injury must be forthwith reported to inspector, who must investigate and make record of same.—When by reason of any explosion or accident in any mine in this state, or the machinery connected therewith, loss of life or serious personal injury shall occur, it shall be the duty of the person having charge of such mine to give notice thereof forthwith to the chief inspector of mines or any inspector, and it shall be the duty of the chief mine-inspector or any inspector upon being notified of any fatal accident, as herein provided, to immediately repair to the scene of the accident and make such suggestions as may appear necessary to secure the safety of any persons who may be endangered. The said mine-inspector shall keep on file a list of all fatal accidents, and to enable them to make the investigation, he shall have the power to compel the attendance of persons to testify.

2931. Rules to be posted for information of employes.—For the purpose of making known the rules and provisions of this chapter to all persons employed in or about the mines to which this chapter applies, an abstract of the chapter and rules shall be posted up in legible characters in some conspicuous place or places at or near the mines where they may be conveniently read by the persons employed, and so often as they become obliterated or destroyed, the owner, operator or superintendent shall cause them to be renewed with all reasonable dispatch. Any person who pulls down, injures or defaces such abstract of the chapter or rules when up in pursuance of the provision of this chapter shall be guilty of an offense against this chapter. Ib. §32.

2932. Rules.—RULE 1. No unauthorized person shall enter the mine without permission from the superintendent or mine-foreman. Ib. §33.

RULE 2. All employes shall inform the mine-foreman or his assistant of the unsafe condition of any working-place, hauling-roads or traveling-ways, or of damages to doors, brattices or stoppings, or of obstructions in the air-passages when known to him.

RULE 3. Every workman employed in the mine shall examine the working-place before commencing work, and after any stoppage of work during the shift he shall repeat the examination.

2933. Women and boys under twelve not to work in mines.—No woman, nor any boy under the age of twelve years, shall be employed to work or labor in or about any mine in this state. Ib. §27.

2934. Controversies between operators and inspectors; how settled; discretion of inspectors.—In case of any controversy or disagreement between inspectors and the owner or operator of any mines, or the persons working therein, or in case of conditions of emergency requiring counsel, the chief mine-operator may call on the board of examiners for such assistance and counsel as may be necessary. Should the mine-inspector find any of the provisions of this chapter violated or not complied with by the owner or lessee or agent in charge of any mines, he shall immediately notify such owner, lessee or agent in charge of such neglect or violation; unless the same is within a reasonable time rectified, or the provisions of this chapter are fully complied with, he shall institute a prosecution. The inspector shall exercise a sound discretion in enforcement of provisions of this chapter, and if in any respect which is not provided against by or may result from any rigid enforcement of any expressed provision of this chapter, the inspector finds any matter, thing, or practice in or connected with any such mines to be dangerous or defective, so as to, in his opinion, threaten or tend to the bodily injury of any person, the inspector may give notice in writing thereof to the owner, agent or manager of the mine, and shall state in such notice the particulars in which he considers such mine or any part thereof, or any matter, thing or practice, to be dangerous Ib. §37.

or defective and require the same to be remedied, giving a reasonable time to have the same done. For the purpose of making the inspection and examination provided for in this section the mine-inspector and board of examiners shall have the right to enter any mine at a reasonable time by day or night, but in such manner as shall not unnecessarily obstruct the workings of the mine, and the owner or agent of such mine is hereby required to furnish the means of such inquiry and inspection if within their power.

Ib. §38. 2935. Controversies between chief mine-inspector and operator referred to the judge of probate; appeal; penalty.—Whenever any agent or operator of any mines shall refuse or fail to comply with any order or direction of the chief mine-inspector after the expiration of a reasonable time, it shall be the duty of the mine-inspector to refer the matter to the judge of probate of the county in which the mine is located. Upon such reference the judge of probate shall set a day for the hearing of the same, and issue citation to the owner or operator of the mine to appear and contest the same if he sees proper; said citation to be served by the sheriff of the county at least ten days before the day of trial. Upon the application of either party the judge of probate must issue subpœna for witnesses, to be served by the sheriff as in other cases. After hearing the case the probate judge must render such decision as he may deem just and equitable, from which decision either party may appeal to the circuit court within sixty days. From the decision of the circuit court either party may appeal to the supreme court of Alabama. If no appeal is taken the decision shall be final and binding on said operator or mine-owner, and any mine owner or operator who refuses to carry out the final order or determination of the case after a reasonable time shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and must on conviction be fined not more than one thousand dollars.

Feb. 8, 1893, p. 331. 2936. When adjacent owner may inspect mine.—Whenever the owner or lessee of any land adjacent to other land upon which any mine is being worked, shall have reason to believe that such mine is being so worked as to encroach upon his land, and has been refused by the owner, operator, or manager of the mine permission at reasonable times to enter upon said mine with a competent engineer for the purpose of inspecting and surveying such mine, he may make application under oath to the probate court of the county in which the mine is situated, setting out the facts and praying for an order that such mine shall be surveyed. Upon the hearing, after such notice to the owner, operator or manager of the mine as the court may prescribe, the court may make an order requiring the sheriff of the county to employ a competent engineer to make a survey of such mine and file such survey in the office of the judge of probate, and such survey, when filed, shall be received in any court as prima facie correct. The court may at any time during the progress of the proceeding require such security for costs, and may tax the costs in such manner, as may be just and equitable.

CHAPTER 79.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

ARTICLE 1.—INCORPORATION AND POWERS OF TOWNS. 2937–2967.
2.—PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL CITIES AND TOWNS. 2968–2973.

ARTICLE 1.

INCORPORATION AND POWERS OF TOWNS.

2937 (1486) (1763) (1483) (1220). Mode of incorporating a town.—When the inhabitants of a town not incorporated, the population of which is not less than one hundred nor more than three thousand, shall desire to be organized into a town, they may file with the judge of the probate court of the county in which they reside, a petition in writing signed by twenty or more adult male inhabitants, stating the name and the boundaries of the town proposed to be incorporated.

2938 (1487) (1764) (1484) (1221). Election directed.—The judge of the probate court must direct an election to be held within thirty days after the filing of the petition, at a place within the limits of the proposed town to be designated by him, and shall give notice of the time and place of such election to the inhabitants of the territory affected thereby by publication in a newspaper or in such other way as may seem to him proper. He shall also appoint three inspectors of election who shall manage the election.

2939 (1488) (1765) (1485) (1222). Who may vote.—Every qualified elector who has resided within the boundaries of the proposed town for three months next preceding the election may vote at such election.

2940 (1489) (1766, 1767) (1486, 1487) (1223, 1224). How election conducted.—The election to determine whether or not the proposed town shall be incorporated must be conducted in all respects as provided by the general election laws and under the same sanctions and penalties, except that no official ballot need be provided, but every voter may furnish his own ballot and must write or print thereon "corporation" or "no corporation."

2941 (1490) (1768) (1488) (1225). If majority vote for "corporation," town declared incorporated.—The inspectors must, within five days thereafter, certify the result to the judge of probate; and, if a majority of the votes cast at the election are for "corporation," he must, within three days, make an entry of record that the inhabitants of such town are incorporated by the name, and with the boundaries designated in the petition; whereupon, the inhabitants of the town are incorporated, and invested with the rights incident to such corporations.

2944 (1493) (1770, 1771) (1490, 1491) (1227, 1228). Inspectors for election of corporate authorities; notice.—The judge of probate must notify the sheriff of the entry of record of such incorporation, and the sheriff must, within ten days, appoint three inspectors, a place of voting in such corporation, and a day not more than fifteen days from such notification, for the election of the intendant and aldermen. Notice of the day and place of such election must be by the sheriff posted at two public places in the town at least five days before the election.

2946 (1495) (1777) (1497) (1234). Subsequent elections.—All elections after the first are to be ordered, and inspectors and voting-places appointed by the corporate authorities of the town; and the qualifications of voters must be the same as at the first election. All ties must be determined by lot.

2947 (1497) (1779) (1499) (1236). On failure of election, officers hold over.—Should the election not take place on the day appointed, the corporation is not for that cause dissolved; but the corporate authorities must appoint some other day, as early as practicable, for holding the election.

2948 (1498) (1780) (1500) (1237). Quorum of board; removal of officers.—A majority of the whole number of intendant and aldermen constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; but a smaller number may make adjournments, and have power to compel the attendance of absent members by imposing fines. Two-thirds of the whole number of the corporate authorities may remove any officer or member for malconduct or disorderly behavior.

2949 (1499) (1781) (1501) (1238). Increase of aldermen.—Whenever, in the opinion of the corporate authorities, it is expedient to increase the number of aldermen to nine, they may direct nine to be elected at the next and every succeeding annual election, and may, in like manner, reduce the number to five again.

2950 (1500) (1782) (1502) (1239). Powers of the corporate au- thorities.—The corporate authorities of the town have the following powers:

1. To pass such by-laws and ordinances as may be necessary to enforce the powers in this article to them granted, and for their own government, not contrary to law.

2. To prevent and remove nuisances at the expense of the person causing the same, or upon whose property the same may be found.

3. To license, tax, regulate and restrain theatrical and other shows and amusements, and the retailing of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors within the corporate limits.

May prohibit sale of liquor.—Smith v. Warrior, 99 Ala. 481.

4. To restrain and prohibit gaming, houses of ill-fame, disorderly conduct and breaches of the peace.

5. To establish night and day watches and patrols, and to appoint captains thereof.

6. To establish and regulate markets and town prisons; sink and repair public wells, and make all needful provisions for furnishing the town with water; and keep in repair all necessary streets, alleys and drains.

McCain v. State, 62 Ala. 138; Webb v. Demopolis, 95 Ala. 116; Harn v. Dadeville, 100 Ala. 199.

7. To license and regulate wagons, carts, drays, hacks and carriages running in such town for hire.

8. To appoint a marshal, treasurer, clerk, and all necessary officers, prescribe their duties, and fix their compensation, and fix the compensation of the intendant.

9. To impose fines, not exceeding fifty dollars, for breaches of their by-laws or ordinances, and to collect the same by execution against the property of the offender; and any person failing to pay such fine may be sentenced to hard labor on the streets of the town for a period not exceeding thirty days; to punish disorderly conduct or a breach of the peace by imprisonment for a period not exceeding thirty days.

Ex parte Moore, 62 Ala. 471; Ex parte Russellville, 95 Ala. 19.

10. To supply all vacancies in their own body, and the persons so appointed shall hold until their successors are elected at the next election and qualified.

11. To purchase, hold and dispose of real property and such personal property as may be necessary for the use of the corporation.

12. To exercise such other powers as are conferred on them by law.

No power to make and enforce quarantine regulations.—New Decatur v. Berry, 90 Ala. 432. Or to engage in wharfing.—Webb v. Demopolis, 95 Ala. 116.

2952 (1502) (1784) (1504) (1240). Authority of marshal.—The marshal has authority, within the corporate limits, to execute the lawful ordinances of such corporate authorities, and must, without warrant, arrest all persons breaking the peace, or violating any ordinance, and bring the offenders before the intendant.

2953 (1503) (1785) (1505) (1241). Ordinances not enforced until published.—No by-law or ordinance of the town must be enforced until it has been published at least ten days in three public places in the town, and also in a newspaper, if any is published within the corporate limits.

Pitts v. Opelika, 79 Ala. 527.

2954 (1504) (1786) (1506) (1242). Powers of taxation.—On all real property situate within the boundaries of such town, and on all personal property of the inhabitants thereof, the corporate authorities may levy annually a tax, not exceeding one-half of one per cent., on the value thereof, as assessed for state taxation during the preceding year; a poll-tax of not exceeding two dollars on each adult male inhabitant who has resided therein three months next preceding such levy; on each vehicle used for the transportation for hire of persons or property within the corporate limits, a license-tax not exceeding thirty dollars; on each retailer of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, a license-tax not less than twenty nor more than five hundred dollars; on each dealer in drugs or medicines, goods, wares or merchandise, a license-tax not exceeding twenty-five dollars; on each auctioneer, a license-tax not exceeding fifty dollars; on each pack of playing-cards sold or exchanged, a tax not exceeding one dollar.

2955 (1505) (1787) (1507) (1243). Assessment annual.—The corporate authorities may cause an assessment of all property subject to taxation to be made annually, the assessment naming the owner of the property, when known; if not known, assessing it to owner unknown.

2956 (1506) (1788) (1508) (1244). Notice of meeting to correct errors in assessment.—The assessment must be returned to the intendant, who must cause ten days' notice of the time and place when the corporate authorities will correct mistakes in such assessment, to be given by advertisement in a newspaper, if any is published in such town, and, if not, the notice must be posted at some public place therein, at least ten days before the time for such correction.

2957 (1507) (1789) (1509) (1245). Errors corrected; assessment approved.—The corporate authorities must attend at such time and place and correct all mistakes in the assessment, and, when corrected, mark upon the same, "approved," and deliver it to the person appointed to collect the taxes.

2958 (1508) (1790) (1510) (1246). Assessment has force of judgment.—The assessment, when so approved, has the force and effect of a judgment and execution, and the person appointed to collect the taxes may, on a failure to pay, collect the same by levy and sale of the property of the person so failing, or, if the assessment be to owner unknown, by a sale of the property.

2959 (1509) (1791, 1792) (1511, 1512) (1247, 1248). Notice of sale.—Of all sales of personal property under the preceding section, ten days' notice of the time and place must be posted at a public place in the town; and of all sales of real property for the non-payment of taxes, thirty days' notice must be given by advertisement in a newspaper published in the town, or, if there be none, the notice must be posted at some public place therein for thirty days before the sale.

2960 (1510) (1793) (1513) (1549). Contents of notice.—Such notice must state—

1. The description of the property.

2. The name of the person to whom assessed, unless assessed to owner unknown, in which case it must be so stated.

3. The amount of taxes assessed and the costs, including expenses of the notice.

2961 (1511) (1794) (1514) (1250). Hours of sale.—All sales of property for the non-payment of taxes under this article must commence between the hours of ten and twelve in the morning, and not continue past the hour of four in the afternoon, and may continue from day to day until completed.

2962 (1512) (1795) (1515) (1251). Certificate of purchase of real estate.—The collector or person making the sale must give to the purchaser of real estate a certificate of purchase, stating the authority under which the sale was made, the time and place of sale, the notice thereof which was given, the amount of the taxes and costs for the payment of which the sale was made, the name of the owner to whom such taxes were assessed, if known, and if unknown, the fact that he is unknown, a description of the property, the name of the purchaser, the amount bid, and the payment of the bid.

2963. Deed to purchaser.—After the expiration of two years from the date of the sale of any real estate for taxes the intendant of the town then in office must execute and deliver to each purchaser, or person to whom the certificate of purchase has been assigned, upon the surrender of the certificate, a deed to the real estate purchased as described in the certificate; and such deed, when properly acknowledged and recorded, shall convey to and vest in the grantee all the right, title, interest and estate of the former owner of such real estate, and shall be in all the courts of the state, prima facie evidence of the facts recited therein.

2964 (1513) (1796) (1516) (1252). Redemption.—Real estate so sold for taxes may be redeemed at any time within two years from the sale, on payment of the amount for which the property sold, with interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, and all taxes which have accrued subsequently; and if the purchaser does not reside within the corporate limits, payment may be made into the corporation treasury for him.

2965 (1514) (1797) (1517) (1253). By persons under disability. Infants, married women and persons of unsound mind may redeem their real property so sold on the same terms, on application to the court of chancery within one year after the removal of their respective disabilities.

2966 (1515) (1798) (1518) (1254). Inhabitants exempt from road duty.—The inhabitants of such town are exempt from working on roads without the corporate limits.

2967 (1516) (1799) (1519) (1255). Change of name or boundary. Ten adult male inhabitants may, by petition in writing to the judge of probate, propose an alteration or change of the name, or of the boundaries of the town, stating the alteration or change proposed; and on the filing of such petition, the judge of probate must order an election to be held and conducted in all respects as the election for the original incorporation; and if at such election a majority vote for the proposed alteration or change, the fact must be certified to such judge by the inspectors, and on the filing of such certificate he must make and enter an order allowing such alteration or change; but the boundaries of the town cannot be extended until the consent in writing, signed by them, of at least two-thirds of the owners of the real estate situate within the extension has been filed in the office of the judge of probate.

ARTICLE 2.

PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL CITIES AND TOWNS.

2968 (1517) (1800). Punishment of female.—For a violation of an ordinance or by-law of a town or city, a female must not be punished by subjecting her to work on the streets.

2969 (1518). Appeals from judgments of conviction for a violation of municipal ordinances or by-laws.—If not otherwise provided by the charter of a town or city, an appeal to the circuit court of the county will lie from a judgment of conviction for a violation of an ordinance or by-law of the town or city; such appeal to be taken within five days after the rendition of such judgment, and to be governed in all respects by the laws regulating appeals from judgments of justices of the peace in criminal cases.

2970 (1519) (1801). May regulate running of trains; may prohibit the standing thereof on or across streets.—Towns or cities have power to regulate the running of railroad trains or engines within the corporate boundaries, limiting the moving or running thereof to a speed of not more than four miles per hour; and to prohibit the standing thereof on or across the streets or highways within the corporate boundaries.

2971 (1380) (1604) (1299) (1119). Magazine to be built.—It is the duty of the corporate authorities of every city or town corporate within the state to provide a suitable fire-proof building without the limits of the town or city, for the storage of gunpowder or other explosive material, on such terms as the corporate authorities may prescribe.

2972. Mayor or intendant has power to close certain places in case of riot.—Whenever any mob, riot, or tumult, has occurred, or there is reasonable cause to apprehend an occurrence thereof in any city, town, or village, or in the vicinity thereof, the mayor or intendant shall have power to issue his proclamation ordering the closing of all barrooms, saloons, shops, or other places where the business of selling intoxicating liquors, arms, ammunition, dynamite, or other explosives, is carried on, and forbidding the selling, lending, giving away, bartering, or otherwise disposing of any of such articles, until such time as in his judgment such occupation may be carried on without danger to the public peace and safety.

2973 (1520). Municipal special tax kept separate.—Unless otherwise provided by its charter, when a special tax is levied by a town or city for any purpose, the levy, collection and disbursement thereof shall be separate in all respects from the levy, collection and disbursement of general municipal taxes; and all moneys, books, receipts, vouchers and warrants relating thereto shall be kept separate, and express on their face that they relate to the special tax, and state the object of the tax; but the same officers may act in the levy, assessment, collection and disbursement of the general and special taxes, unless otherwise provided. If, after the purpose of the special tax is accomplished, there remains a balance over, it shall be transferred to the general fund of the corporation.

ARTICLE 1.—DUTIES OF HARBOR-MASTER AND PORT-WARDENS OF MOBILE. 2974–2991.
2.—PILOTS AND PILOTAGE. 2992–3013.
3.—SHIPS AND SEAMEN. 3014–3020.

ARTICLE 1.

DUTIES OF HARBOR-MASTER AND PORT-WARDENS OF MOBILE.

2974. Southern boundary of the harbor of Mobile.—The southern boundary of the harbor of Mobile is the outer bar to the southward of Sand Island. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 1038, §1.

2975. Appointment of port-wardens and harbor-master; term; removal.—On the fifteenth day of March of each even-numbered year, or as often as there shall be a vacancy, there shall be appointed by the mayor of Mobile, the president of the Mobile chamber of commerce, the president of the board of underwriters of Mobile, the president of the Mobile cotton exchange, and the president of the board of revenue and road commissioners of Mobile county, three persons, who shall be denominated port-wardens of Mobile; one of whom shall be designated as harbor-master. For refusal to perform duty, neglect of duty, or other improper conduct in the dis- Ib. §2. As amended Feb. 18, 1895, p. 752, §1.

charge of duty, or for ineligibility under this article, either of said wardens may be removed by the said officers charged with the appointment, whose action shall be final.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 1038, §3.

2976. Who disqualified.—No agent or inspector of any insurance company; no person employed by the master, owner or consignee of any vessel for any purpose, in connection with vessels, except as in this article provided; no person who furnishes supplies or material of any description to vessels, and no person who has any interest, direct or indirect in the business of auctioneer, shall be appointed harbor-master or port-warden. And no person employed, concerned or interested in any business of commerce connected with shipping, shall be appointed, or shall exercise the duties of harbor-master, save where a port-warden may temporarily fill such function during the absence of the harbor-master, under the provisions hereinafter made.

Ib. §4. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1038, §3.

2977. Territorial limits of powers; exceptions.—The powers of the harbor-master and port-wardens, except as in this article is otherwise provided, are limited to the corporate limits of Mobile, and in and upon that portion of Mobile river lying north of the corporate limits of Mobile and extending northwardly past the mouth of Chikisa Bogue to the place at which part of the waters of the Mobile river flows into the Spanish river. But on the request of a master or consignee of a vessel beyond these limits, any of them may survey or inspect such vessel, her hatches, cargo or stowage.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 1038, §5.

2978. Office and record.—The harbor-master and wardens must keep an office in the city of Mobile, and there make and preserve a full record of their official acts, and docket of their official fees, showing their amounts and from what vessel or person collected, and on what account, and at what times; all of which shall be at all times open to public inspection free of charge; and the harbor-master shall keep such office open daily, except Sundays, from eight o'clock A. M. to four o'clock P. M., and remain in his office when not actively engaged elsewhere in the performance of his duties.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 752, §§3, 4.

2979. Duties and powers; deputy.—The harbor-master shall, on the request of the owner, master or consignee of any vessel arriving within the limits stated in this article, regulate and station such vessel, and may from time to time remove any such as are not employed or immediately about to be employed in receiving or discharging cargo or ballast, if necessary to make room for such other vessels as may require immediate accommodation for receiving or discharging ballast or cargo. He shall not interfere with the selection by the master, owner, agent or consignee of a vessel of a wharf, bulkhead or shore-berth for the discharge or receipt of cargo or ballast where such wharves, bulkheads or shore-berths so selected are erected within the limits and in the manner of construction fixed by the Mobile river commission, nor station such vessel at other berths than the one so selected by the master, agent, owner or consignee, unless the person or authority controlling such selected wharf prohibits its use for such purpose by the vessel. He may require persons in charge of vessels, made fast to a wharf or the shore, or lying in the stream, to adjust their spars so that they will not interfere with other vessels, or project over a street. He has authority to determine how far and when persons in charge of vessels shall accommodate each other in their station, but shall not have authority or power to prohibit vessels from receiving or discharging cargo while lying moored in the Mobile river, if they be so moored as not to unduly interfere with navigation, or with each other. But in case no request is made within a reasonable time by the owner, master, agent or consignee, the harbor-master shall have authority to locate vessels at proper places. The harbor-master shall allow vessels to load in the stream above One Mile creek, but shall have power to place such vessels so as to avoid undue interference with navigation and with such others while taking on cargo, lying at anchor. He shall not require vessels taking berths above One Mile creek to occupy or make fast to shore-berths against the wish of the officer or master controlling the vessel. It shall be the duty of the harbor-master to cause to be printed from time to time and to keep posted in his office, and in all ship-chandlers' and ship-brokers' offices, in the chamber of commerce and in the cotton exchange, the laws and rules governing him and the harbor and river of Mobile. In case of sickness or temporary absence, the harbor-master may appoint by writing in his stead, pro tempore, one of the other wardens, who while so acting shall have all the powers of harbor-master; but no such absence, except in case of sickness, shall extend beyond one week at any one time, unless leave therefor be first given him by the officers who are charged with the appointment.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 752, §4.

Ib. §8.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 1038, §6.

2980. Resisting harbor-master; penalty.—Any person in charge of a vessel who resists or opposes the harbor-master, or acting harbor-master, in the lawful execution of his duties, shall be fined by the mayor of Mobile not exceeding fifty dollars, to be collected, enforced and applied as fines for violations of municipal ordinances of that city.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 1038, §7.

2981. Opening hatches; survey of cargo; record.—The harbor-master or warden must, on written application by the owner, master, or consignee of a vessel arriving within the corporate limits of Mobile, or within the bay or river of Mobile, inspect the hatches, be present at the opening thereof, and survey the stowage of the cargo of said vessel. And it shall be the duty of the harbor-master to give reasonable notice of the time of opening and inspection of hatches and survey of stowage to all consignees in writing, or by advertisement, and said consignees or their agents shall be allowed to be present at such time of opening, survey and inspection. The record of the inspection and survey shall state whether the hatches were properly covered and secured, shall designate, by marks and numbers, every package of merchandise surveyed, and if any package had the appearance of being damaged shall state how such package appeared to have received damage.

Ib. §8.

2982. Inspection and sale of damaged merchandise; certificate.

Ib. §9.

Any two of the harbor-master and wardens, where applied to for that purpose, must inspect damaged cotton or merchandise arriving within the corporate limits of Mobile, or in the bay of Mobile, and if the owner or consignee thereof orders it sold under their direction, attend and direct the sale at public auction, if in their opinion, the damage thereto is sufficient to justify its sale, but only upon forty-eight hours' notice of the time and place of sale in some newspaper of Mobile. They must give a certificate of such survey and of the correctness of such sale under their hands.

Ib. §10. 2983. Survey of vessel; expenses.—Any two of the harbor-master and wardens shall, when called upon by the master, owner or consignee of any vessel, survey the same, and may employ carpenters to open the ceiling, strip the sheathing, bore the timbers and perform such other work as shall be necessary to a correct survey; and in case of survey of merchandise, may employ laborers to move, open, cooper, or otherwise arrange cotton or merchandise to be surveyed, the expense thereof to be paid by the person requiring the service.

Ib. §11. 2984. Discharge of ballast.—The harbor-master and wardens may, by resolution, direct where ballast, sweepings, screenings, cinders, sawdust, shavings, refuse and rubbish of any kind shall be discharged in and about the harbor and bay of Mobile, and any river emptying into Mobile bay, and prescribe reasonable rules as to the manner of such discharge, and the masters of a vessel, or any other person who violates such directions as to place of discharge, shall forfeit five hundred dollars for each offense, to be recovered, with costs, in any court of competent jurisdiction at the suit of the harbor-master or other informer; one-half of the sum so forfeited shall be paid to the informer, and the other half into the treasury of the city. But any vessel may lawfully discharge ballast upon any wharf or bulkhead erected in the manner and within the limits of construction established by the Mobile river commission, if the person or authority controlling the wharf or bulkhead, assent thereto, all such wharves and bulkheads so constructed and placed being hereby made lawful places for the discharge of ballast. The harbor-master must keep the persons having the charge or care of vessels arriving in ballast well advised of all regulations as to any rules which may be made regulating the mode of discharging ballast, and must exercise a general surveillance over such discharges where made in or along Mobile river, but without any fee or reward therefor beyond his regular salary, and without delaying the lawful discharge. On the arrival of every vessel in ballast in the city of Mobile the harbor-master shall notify the mayor of said city of such arrival and the kind of ballast she has on board; and if the city purchase or acquire such ballast, the harbor-master must locate the vessel for its discharge at such accessible place as the mayor may indicate, and no wharfage shall be charged or demanded of the city or any vessel by the superintendent of the wharves for the use of the wharves for discharging such ballast thereon, if it be promptly removed.

2985. Anchorage; regulations.—It is the duty of all vessels coming to anchor in the channel of Mobile bay or of Mobile river, to so anchor that the vessel shall be and remain parallel to the fairway of the stream or the channel, and for that purpose sufficient anchors shall be placed fore and aft to hold the vessel in position. But this shall not be required of vessels engaged in the United States naval, lighthouse, or revenue service, nor to small boats of fifty tons burthen or less; nor to vessels temporarily coming to anchor in stress of weather, or while awaiting the assignment of a berth by the harbor-master; but in such cases it shall be the duty of the harbor-master, or his deputy, to assign such vessel to a berth as soon as possible. Dec. 10, 1892, p. 38, §§1, 2.

2986. Same; penalty; enforcement.—Any vessel, except those noted in the foregoing exception, so anchoring in the channel of Mobile bay, or of Mobile river, which shall fail to promptly comply with the requirements of the foregoing section, shall forfeit the sum of not exceeding fifty dollars for each twelve hours or fraction thereof that such vessel shall so fail to comply, after being duly assigned a berth as hereinabove provided, the amount of such forfeit to be fixed by the court or jury trying the same, which penalty may be collected by a suit in personam against the master or against any one or more owners of the vessel by attachment of the vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture in the name of the state on the relation of the harbor-master; and any amount recovered in any judgment, whether against the master or owners, and the cost of suit, shall be a lien upon such vessel; and it is the duty of the solicitor of Mobile county to institute and prosecute such suits upon the grounds therefor being substantiated by the oath of the harbor-master, or by any one of the port-wardens, or two reputable citizens. All moneys recovered in such suits or proceedings shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the Mobile river commission. Ib. §2.

2987. Ship-channel; regulations.—The harbor-master and wardens shall have the general supervision of the navigation of the ship-channel connecting the river Mobile with the lower bay, and shall, from time to time, prescribe rules and regulations under which it may be used, and may define the circumstances under which the harbor-master shall grant permits to vessels to enter and use the same when drawing more than twelve feet of water, and forbid the use thereof by vessels of such draft without such permit. But it shall be the duty of the officers charged with the appointment of port-wardens on the first day of September in each year, or as soon as practicable thereafter, to fix the maximum draft at which any vessel may proceed through the channel, and to so instruct the harbor-master. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 1038, §12.

2988. Damage to channel or marks; penalty; enforcement. If any person in any manner, by his negligence, or wantonly, shall damage any ship-channel, natural or artificial, in the river or bay of Mobile, or if any person shall damage any beacon-stake, piling or other thing, or channel-mark, used in connection with the navi- Ib. §13.

gation thereof, he shall be required by the harbor-master to repair such damage, and on failure to do so within ten days after such notice, the offender forfeits five hundred dollars, to be recovered with costs in any court of competent jurisdiction at the suit of the harbor-master or an informer, the recovery to be applied under the direction of the harbor-master, first to the repair of the damage so done, and the surplus, if any, to go to the informer.

Ib. §14. 2989. Fees.—The owner, master or consignee of a vessel, or the owner or consignee of a cargo, requesting in writing the service, shall, for the service so rendered on said written request and not otherwise, pay the harbor-master and port-wardens the following fees: For every survey of the hatches or of stowage of the cargo of a vessel, three dollars, and an additional one dollar for the expense of giving the notice. For every survey of damaged cargo, cotton or merchandise, ten dollars. For every survey of a vessel, ten dollars. For attending, directing and certifying the sale of damaged cotton or merchandise, fees as follows: On sums not exceeding two hundred dollars, five per cent.; on those not exceeding five hundred dollars, five per cent. on the first two hundred, and two per cent. on the remainder; on those exceeding five hundred dollars and not exceeding one thousand dollars, five per cent. on the first two hundred, two per cent on the next three hundred, and one per cent. on the remainder; on those exceeding one thousand dollars, the above fees up to the first thousand dollars, and one quarter of one per cent on the remainder.

Ib. §15. As amended Feb. 18, 1895, p. 752, §2. 2990. Harbor-master neglecting duty; penalty; enforcement. On the neglect or refusal of the harbor-master, or warden acting at any time pro tempore as harbor-master, promptly to perform his duties imposed by this article, or those required to be done on the request of the owners, master or consignee of any cargo, or of a person or authority controlling any wharf in Mobile river; or on his exacting, demanding or receiving any fee or emolument other than his regular salary for any service for which a fee is not herein specifically given or prescribed, or exacting, demanding or receiving from any person or vessel any fee whatever for doing or performing any of the services for which fees are in this article prescribed, where the service was done or performed without the actual request of the person from whom the fee is demanded or received; or on his accepting any gift, or gratuity, or pay or reward other than his lawful salary and fees under this article, from any person owning or controlling or being interested in any ship or other vessel, or wharf or transportation line or company, or in any cargo or ballast arriving or departing from Mobile or Mobile river and harbor, such harbor-master, or acting harbor-master, so offending, shall be fined by the mayor of Mobile not exceeding fifty dollars for each offense, to be collected and paid into the treasury of the city of Mobile, as are other fines imposed by the mayor, and, in addition to such punishment, such officer who shall be guilty of doing such acts which are hereby declared to be unlawful, or who shall be guilty of a refusal to perform any duty, or of any neglect of duty imposed upon him by this article, or for any other improper conduct in the discharge of duty, may be reported therefor to the general council of the city of Mobile who may by a vote of three-fifths of the whole number of said council, remove such officer from his office, and their action in removing such officer shall be final. In the event of such removal the mayor shall immediately report the fact to the officers charged with the appointment by this article, and said officers shall proceed as early as practicable, to fill by election the vacancy occasioned by such removal.

Ib. §16. As amended Feb. 18, 1895, p. 752, §3.

2991. Disposition of fees; accounting; salary of master.—All the revenues arising to the harbor-master and his wardens under the provisions of this article, and as commissioners of pilotage, shall constitute one fund, and be applied, first, to the payment of the expenses of printing and distributing all papers necessary to make known the port charges and the laws and rules governing the river and harbor of Mobile and vessels and crews coming into it; second, to the payment of office expenses; and the residue shall be divided as follows: One-third to the city treasury, and the remaining two-thirds of the residue to the port-wardens, excluding the harbor-master. The harbor-master shall receive a salary from the city of Mobile of twelve hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of other municipal officers. For his services in and upon that portion of Mobile river lying north of the corporate limits of Mobile and extending northwardly past the mouth of Chikisa Bogue to the place at which part of the waters of the Mobile river flow into the Spanish river the harbor-master shall receive a salary of three hundred dollars per annum from the county of Mobile, payable monthly on the first of each month, for which the board of revenue and road commissioners of Mobile county shall make due provision. It shall be the duty of the harbor-master to file with the city clerk on or before the fifth of every calendar month a statement in detail of receipts and disbursements of all moneys which shall have come into his hands in the discharge of the duties of his office during the preceding month, and shall submit the same with vouchers to the said clerk, who shall audit said harbor-master's accounts, and see that the amount received for dues, after paying expenses are provided to be paid into the city treasury and to wardens as provided. Said clerk shall make monthly reports to the mayor of collections and disbursements of said fees, and said statement of receipts and disbursements, together with the city clerk's report, shall be laid before the general council at their first meeting after the completion of said report, and spread at length on the minutes of said council.*

*As amended by joint committee.

ARTICLE 2.

PILOTS AND PILOTAGE.

2992 ( ) (1384, 1385, 1404) (1131, 901) (1151, 921). Commissioners of pilotage; examination of pilots.—The harbor-master and wardens, in their official capacity, constitute a board of commissioners of pilotage. At no time shall there exist more than thirty pilots holding valid branches or licenses to serve as Mobile bay or bar pilots. At any time when there shall be less than thirty of said pilots and the commissioners of pilotage, or a majority of them, shall be of opinion that the necessity of commerce demands an increase of the actual number serving as such pilots, they shall have the power to branch or license a sufficient number of bay or bar pilots to meet such necessity; Provided, that the number so branched or licensed shall not increase the total number of such pilots to exceeding thirty; And provided, that no person shall be so branched or licensed who has not made due application and been regularly examined and certified to be competent to fill such appointment as hereinafter required. No person shall apply for a license or branch as a bay or bar pilot who has not served at least one year as an apprentice, or boat-keeper, on board a pilot-boat, in commission as such on the Mobile bay and bar, and who has not also assisted as pilot, on at least one entire trip a week for twelve weeks within a continuous period of six months in company with some licensed Mobile bay or bar pilot, or on a sea-going vessel or tug; and the Mobile bay or bar pilots shall always keep upon the pilot-boats not less than three apprentices or boat-keepers; and no Mobile bay or bar pilot apprentice or boat-keeper shall be discharged except for cause, and any such apprentice or boat-keeper so discharged shall have the right to appeal from such discharge to the pilot commissioners, and should the commissioners, upon investigation, find that such discharge was without sufficient cause, they shall have the power to annul such discharge and reinstate such apprentice or boat-keeper. Every application for a license or branch must be in writing, accompanied by a certificate of the registered master of a pilot-boat, that the applicant has served his apprenticeship as hereinabove required, and by an affidavit by the applicant, that he has made the trips herein provided. Before an applicant is branched or licensed the commissioners of pilotage must prepare in writing suitable questions to test his knowledge and competency to become such pilot, and must require him to answer the same in writing, without any aid from any other person, and without having been informed as to what questions would be propounded to him; when the applicant has reduced his answers to writing, he shall sign the same and deliver them to one of the commissioners, and the commissioners must cause such answers to be copied legibly, but without the name of the applicant. The commissioners shall then appoint three fair, impartial and competent nautical men as a committee to examine the answers of the applicants. The applicant or applicants may name one of these, the existing pilots name another, and the commissioners or a majority of them shall name the third. Said committee shall examine the copies of the answers of the applicants, and shall indorse upon the answers of such of the applicants as they find sufficient the following certificate: "We hereby certify that the foregoing answers are satisfactory, and that in our opinion the applicant making the same is well acquainted with the pilot-grounds, and knows how to handle both steam and sailing vessels, and is competent to perform the duties of a bay or bar pilot." When such certificate is duly signed and delivered to the commissioners, the applicant shall be deemed qualified to receive a license.

2993 ( ) (1386) (1132) (902). Certificate of appointment; oath of pilot.—The commissioners of pilotage shall issue to each pilot licensed and branched by them, an original and a duplicate certificate of his appointment, competency and authority to act as such pilot and as to the extent thereof, and shall reissue duplicate certificates from time to time, as the occasion may require; such original and duplicate certificates to be signed by a majority of the commissioners, or by their chairman by their direction, and each bay or bar pilot holding a license or branch, must keep upon his person, when offering his services to any vessel, his duplicate certificate, and must, upon demand of the proper officer of the vessel, exhibit the same, and allow such officer to inspect it. Before issuing an original license or branch the commissioners delivering the same to the appointee, shall require him to take and subscribe in writing an oath as follows, to be administered by such commissioners: "I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully and according to the best of my skill and judgment perform the duties of a pilot for the bay and harbor of Mobile; that I will at all times, wind and weather and health permitting, use my best exertions to repair on board all vessels which I shall see and conceive to be bound for, coming into or going out of the harbor or bay of Mobile, unless I am well assured that some other licensed pilot is then on board the same; that I will at all times make the best dispatch in my power to convey safely every vessel committed to my charge coming into or going out of the bay or harbor of Mobile; and will at all times well and truly observe, follow and fulfill, to the best of my skill and judgment, all such directions as I may receive from the commissioners of pilotage relative to things appertaining to the duty of a pilot, and I will not be a member at the same time of more than one combination or partnership of pilots; so help me God." Ib. §2.

2995 ( ) (1408, 1409) (1155, 1157) (925, 927). Bond and affidavit filed; who may sue on pilot's bond.—The commissioners must preserve on file all bonds and affidavits taken from pilots, and may, whenever they consider it necessary, require a new bond to be executed. The pilot's bond stands as security for any injury caused by the negligence or want of skill of the pilot, and may be put in suit in the name of any person aggrieved.

2996 ( ) (1389, 1390) (1135, 1136) (905, 906). When branch revoked.—The commissioners may deprive any pilot of his branch for a willful violation of his duties, or the orders or regulations of the commissioners, or for negligently losing or injuring any vessel in his charge; or when laboring under mental derangement, or so addicted to habits of intoxication as to be unfit to be intrusted with the charge of a vessel. Any pilot who fails to act as such for three months, or absents himself for ten days at any one time from the bay or harbor of Mobile without leave of the commissioners, may be deprived of his branch. And if, while a vessel in the bay or harbor of Mobile, is in charge of any civil officer in virtue of process from any court of record in this state, and any pilot, with knowledge thereof, conducts or pilots such vessel out of the bay or harbor, he forfeits his branch, and is forever disqualified from acting as pilot, and forfeits such sum of money as the jury may assess.

2997 ( ) (1402) (1150) (929). Pilot to report improper discharge of ballast.—Every pilot, having knowledge of the discharge of ballast, sweepings, screenings, cinders, refuse and rubbish of any kind in the bay of Mobile, or in any river emptying into the same, contrary to the directions of the harbor-master and wardens, must, as soon as practicable, give them information thereof, and failing so to do, must be deprived of his branch, and forever disqualified for the office of pilot.

2998 ( ) (1395) (1141) (911). No fee for piloting without license.—Any person piloting or conducting a vessel in or out of the bay of Mobile, or over the outer bar thereof, without a branch as pilot, or after having forfeited or having been deprived of his branch, is entitled to no fee or reward for the service.

3000 ( ) (1407) (1154) (924). Commissioners keep record of proceedings.—The commissioners must preserve in a well-bound book a record of their acts and of the rules and regulations adopted by them for the direction and government of pilots. They must designate one of their number as chairman, and make record thereof. They must also preserve upon record a list of all persons appointed pilots by them, and of those whom they may declare to have forfeited their licenses. All persons interested must have access to, and be permitted to take copies of the records, and copies from such records, certified by the chairman, are presumptive evidence of the facts stated therein.

3001 ( ) (1410) (1159) (929). Fees of commissioners.—The fees of the commissioners are as follows: For every branch granted, ten dollars; for taking and filing bond and affidavit, one dollar; giving copy from records, for each hundred words, twenty cents; for certifying the same, fifty cents.

3002 ( ) (1406) (1153) (923). How forfeitures sued for.—The commissioners may in their own names as commissioners, or in that of their chairman as such, sue for and recover to their own use any forfeiture accruing under this chapter not otherwise specifically appropriated.

3003 ( ) (1401) (1147). Rates of pilotage; vessels exempt. As amended Feb. 8, 1887, p. 168, §§1, 3. The master, owner or consignee of any ship or vessel must pay the pilot who conducts a vessel into or out of the bay or harbor of Mobile at the following rates, for actual draft of water at the time of pilotage: For every vessel crossing the outer bar of Mobile bay drawing not more than nine feet of water, two dollars and fifty cents per foot; on every vessel drawing more than nine and less than eleven feet of water, three dollars a foot; on every vessel drawing not less than eleven and not exceeding twelve feet of water, three dollars and twenty-five cents a foot; on every vessel drawing more than twelve and not exceeding fourteen feet of water, three dollars and fifty cents a foot; on every vessel drawing more than fourteen feet and not exceeding twenty feet of water, five dollars a foot; on all vessels drawing more than twenty feet of water, six dollars per foot; and if any vessel proceeds to and from the city of Mobile via Spanish river, one dollar per foot additional. But vessels trading between any domestic port on the Gulf of Mexico and the port of Mobile, drawing seven feet or less of water, shall not be required to employ a pilot, but if they do, their regular pilotage shall be paid. No fishing-smack shall pay pilotage.

3006 ( ) (1400) (1146) (916). Outer-bar pilots deliver letters to vessels coming in.—It is the duty of every outer-bar pilot to deliver to the master of any and every vessel approaching the bay or harbor of Mobile, as soon as he can board such vessel, all letters which may be sent him for that purpose, on the person who requires the delivery of such letters paying or securing to the pilot twenty dollars for such service, unless the pilot so employed to deliver letters is en- As amended Feb. 8, 1887, p. 168, §1.

gaged as pilot for the vessel, in which event he is entitled to five dollars for such service.

3007 ( ) (1396) (1142) (912). Vessel declining pilot liable for half fees.—The master of a vessel bearing towards the bay or harbor of Mobile, except in the case of coasters and other vessels trading between Mobile, New Orleans and Pensacola, who declines the services of a pilot, is liable on his arrival in the bay or harbor of Mobile to pay the first pilot who offered his services outside the bar, and exhibited his branch, if demanded by the master, one-half the rates of pilotage for a vessel of such draft.

3008 ( ) (1399) (1145) (915). If vessel has crossed bar, pilot may be refused; if taken, at half rate.—Whenever a vessel entering into the bay or harbor of Mobile is crossing over, or is within the outer bar, before a pilot offers, he may, at his option, take or refuse a pilot. If he requires a pilot, he must indicate it by a signal, and the nearest pilot-boat must furnish a pilot at half the rate of pilotage of a vessel of that draft. A pilot refusing to act in such case must be deprived of his branch, and also forfeits the sum of one hundred dollars.

3009 ( ) (1392) (1138) (908). Pilot bringing vessel in may take her out; exceptions.—The pilot who brings a vessel into port has the exclusive right of taking her out, unless he has in the meantime been deprived of his license, or the master proves to the satisfaction of the commissioners that such pilot has misbehaved himself while in charge of the vessel; and in either case another pilot may be employed. A pilot having the right to take a vessel out of port may attend in person or procure another pilot out of his pilot-boat to attend for him; but if he fail to attend or so substitute another, the master, after due notice of his intended departure, may employ another pilot, who must, if not previously engaged, pilot the vessel out at the regular rate. But a vessel may refuse a pilot, and, after paying him half rate, employ a tug or towboat to tow her out.

3010 ( ) (1397) (1143) (913). Notice of sailing given pilot. The master of a vessel in readiness to leave must, if practicable, give personal notice to the pilot who conducted his vessel in; where that cannot be given, it is sufficient for vessels lying in the lower bay to keep a jack at the foremast-head twenty-four hours before leaving. Vessels going down from Mobile shall bring the north end of Dauphin Island to bear west before employing another pilot than the one who conducted them in, except as otherwise in this chapter provided.

3011 ( ) (1393) (1139) (909). Liability for wrongfully piloting.—Any person who pilots a vessel out without being entitled to do so is liable to the pilot having the right for the amount due or paid for such service.

3012 ( ) (1398) (1144) (914). Pay of pilot detained or carried out to sea.—If the master of any vessel retain a pilot on board, the wind and weather permitting her going to sea, the pilot is entitled to three dollars for every day of such detention. If a master carries off a pilot from the bay or harbor of Mobile, he must pay him two dollars for every day of such absence, and supply him with such provisions as is usual for the maintenance of masters, the master, as well as the owner, being liable therefor, unless the vessel has laid to for the space of four hours after crossing the bar, and no pilot-boat appears to receive the pilot on board.

3013 ( ) (1405) (1152) (922). Fee to boat for taking pilot off.—When any pilot-boat belonging to a different pilot than the one who has conducted the vessel to sea, takes such pilot off from such vessel, such pilot-boat is entitled to one-third of the pilotage.

ARTICLE 3.

SHIPS AND SEAMEN.

3014 ( ) (1336) (1092) (864). List of crew and passengers on entry of ship to be given and sworn to.—Every master of a vessel arriving from any port or place out of this state (except New Orleans), at the port of Mobile, who is, by any law of the United States, required to enter such arrival at the custom-house, must, within one day after such arrival, deliver at the office of the city clerk of Mobile, on oath, a correct list of all persons who arrived on such vessel, stating the names of the officers and crew, the name of each passenger, and color and sex of each person.

3015 ( ) (1339) (1093) (865). By whom oath on list administered.—The oath required by the preceding section may be administered by any officer authorized by law to administer oaths, for which he is entitled to a fee of twenty-five cents.

3016 ( ) (1340) (1094) (866). Where list filed.—The clerk must file in his office all such lists, for the inspection of any citizen of the United States on payment of a fee of ten cents.

3017 ( ) (1341) (1095) (867). Penalty for failure to give list. The master of any such vessel arriving in the port of Mobile, failing to make out and deliver the list of his officers, crew, and passengers, as required by this article, forfeits the sum of two hundred dollars, one half to the use of the person suing for the same, the other to the use of the city of Mobile.

3018 ( ) (1342) (1096) (868). Apprehending sailor deserting ship.—If any person, who has made an engagement to perform a voyage in any vessel at any port or place in this state, deserts or absents himself from such vessel without leave of the master or officer commanding in the absence of the master, any justice of the peace, upon complaint being made thereof under oath, must issue his warrant to apprehend such person and bring him before himself or some other justice; and if it appears that he has made an engagement to perform a voyage, that such voyage has not terminated, and that he has deserted or absented himself without leave, the justice must commit him to the county jail, there to remain until such vessel is ready to proceed on her voyage, or until the master requires his discharge; the master paying the jail fees for each week in advance.

3019 ( ) (1343) (1097) (869). Penalty for harboring or concealing deserters.—If any person knowingly conceals or harbors any person belonging to any vessel, he forfeits ten dollars a day for each day he so harbors or conceals him, to the use of any person suing for the same.

3020 ( ) (1344) (1099) (871). Penalty for employing hands of another vessel.—Any master of a vessel who, within this state, ships, hires, or receives any person belonging to any other vessel, without a discharge in writing, signed by the master of such vessel, forfeits fifty dollars, one-half to the use of the person suing for the same, and the other to the county in which such suit is brought.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.

ARTICLE 1.—COMMERCIAL NOTARIES. 3021-3033.
2.—NOTARIES EX OFFICIO JUSTICES OF THE PEACE. 3034-3039.

ARTICLE 1.

COMMERCIAL NOTARIES.

3021 (1102) (1325) (1080) (854). Appointment; term of office. A competent number of notaries public for each county in the state are appointed by the governor, who hold office for three years from the date of their commission.*

"Until their successors are qualified" means reasonable time only.—City Council v. Hughes, 65 Ala. 201; Lane v. Kolb, 92 Ala. 636. Jurisdiction limited to county where commissioned.—Edinburgh Co. v. Peoples, 102 Ala. 241. Have common-law powers as well as those conferred by statute.—Kirksey v. Bates, 7 Port. 529; Carroll v. State, 58 Ala. 396; Chandler v. Hanna, 73 Ala. 390; Cary v. State, 76 Ala. 78. When seal necessary.—Donegan v. Wood, 49 Ala. 242; Ala. Nat. Bank v. Chattanooga, etc., Co., 106 Ala. 663. Notarial acts verified by seal, self-proving everywhere.—Goree v. Wadsworth, 91 Ala. 416; Hart v. Ross, 57 Ala. 518; Dunn v. Adams, 1 Ala. 527; Bradley v. Northern Bank, 60 Ala. 252; Ala. Nat. Bank v. Chattanooga, etc., Co., 106 Ala. 663; St. John v. Redmond, 9 Port. 428; The Bayonne Knife Co. v. Umbenhauer, 107 Ala. 496.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 74.

3022. Women eligible.—Women may be appointed notaries public who shall have the power and authority of commercial notaries only.

3023 (1103) (1326, 1327) (1081) (855). Removal vacates office. They vacate their office by removal from the county; and may be removed by the governor, in his own discretion.

3024 (1104) (1328) (1082) (856). Bond.—They must give bond with sureties, to be approved by the judge of probate of the county for which they are appointed, in the sum of one thousand dollars, payable to the State of Alabama, and conditioned to faithfully discharge the duties of such office, so long as they may continue therein, or discharge any of the duties thereof; which bond must be executed, approved, filed and recorded in the office of judge of probate, before they enter on the duties of such office.

3025 (1105) (1329) (1083) (857). Authority.—Notaries public have authority—

1. To administer oaths in all matters incident to the exercise of their office.

2. To take the acknowledgment or proof of instruments of writing relating to commerce or navigation, and to certify the same, and all other of their official acts, under their seal of office.

3. To demand acceptance and payment of bills of exchange, promissory notes, and all other writings which are governed by the commercial law as to days of grace, demand and notice of non-payment; to protest the same for non-acceptance or non-payment, and to give notice thereof as required by law.

4. To exercise such other powers as, according to commercial usage or the laws of this state, may belong to notaries public.

3026 (1106) (1330) (1084) (858). Seal.—For the authentication of his official acts, such notary must provide a seal of office, which must present, by its impression, his name, office, state, and county for which he was appointed.

What constitutes a seal.—Bradley v. Northern Bank, 60 Ala. 252. As to when seal necessary.—See citations to section 3021 (1102).

3027 (1107) (1332) (1085) (859). To keep a register.—He must keep a fair register of all his official acts, and give a certified copy therefrom, when required, and on payment of his legal fees.

Register is a public record.—Phillips v. Poindexter, 18 Ala. 579.

3028 (1108) (1333) (1086) (860). Disposition of register on death, etc.—In case of the death, resignation, removal, or expiration of his term of office, the registers of any notary must, within thirty days thereafter, be delivered to the judge of probate of the county; and any person having the same in possession, and refusing to deliver them on demand to such judge, is liable to an action for the recovery thereof in the name of such judge.

3029 (1109) (1334, 1335) (1087, 1088) (861, 862). Certified copies of such registers.—Such registers may, by such judge, be delivered to any other notary of his county, who must give certified copies from the same to any person making application therefor, on payment of the legal fees. While the registers are in possession of the judge of probate, he must give certified copies from the same on application, and the payment of the fees therefor, in the same manner as notaries public.

3030 (1110) (1336) (1089). Certificate of demand; notice and protest; evidence.—The certificate of a notary public, under his hand and seal of office, or of any other authorized person, under his hand and seal, of the presentment for acceptance, or demand of payment, or protest for non-acceptance or non-payment, of any instrument governed by the commercial law, or of service of notice of such presentment, demand, or protest, and the mode of giving the same, and the reputed place of residence of the party to whom the same was given, and the post-office nearest thereto, is evidence of the facts contained in such certificate.

Whitman v. Bank, 8 Port. 258; Dunn v. Adams, 1 Ala. 527; Hill v. Morris, 2 Ala. 640; Bank v. Marston, 7 Ala. 108; s. c., 10 Ala. 284; Rives v. Parmley, 18 Ala. 256; Bradley v. Northern Bank, 60 Ala. 252; Boit v. Corr, 54 Ala. 112; Martin v. Brown, 75 Ala. 442.

3031 (1111) (1337) (1091). Justices act as notaries.—Where there is no notary public, or he is absent or incapable of acting, any justice of the peace may discharge the duties required of such notary by the laws of this state; for which he shall receive the fees allowed by law for such services; but when he acts as a notary public, he must set forth in his certificate, protest, or notice, that there is no notary public, or that the notary public is absent or incapable of acting, which certificate shall be evidence of such fact.

3032 (1112) (1331, 1329, subd. 1) (1083) (857). Further authority of notaries.—Notaries have the authority of justices of the peace to take and certify the acknowledgment and proof of conveyances, to administer oaths, and take and certify affidavits; and are entitled therefor to the fee or fees allowed a justice of the peace, unless their seal of office is affixed, when they are entitled, in addition, to a fee of twenty-five cents for affixing such seal, the seal to be affixed only at the request of the party for whom the service is rendered.

St. John v. Redmond, 9 Port. 428; Toulmin v. Austin, 5 Stew. & Port. 410; Johnson v. McGehee, 1 Ala. 186; Harrison v. Simons, 55 Ala. 510.

3033 (1113) (5065) (1090) (863). Notary's fees.—Notaries public are entitled to the following fees: For presenting any bill of exchange for acceptance, or any bill of exchange, promissory note, or other writing for payment, fifty cents; for protesting the same for non-acceptance, or non-payment, certifying, affixing seal of office, and registering the same, one dollar; for notice of protest to each party, fifty cents; for every other protest, certificate, registration and seal, two dollars; for any oath, certificate and seal, taken under subdivision 1 of section 3025 (1105), fifty cents; for giving copies from register, twenty cents for each hundred words; for each certificate and seal to such copy, twenty-five cents; for giving any other certificate, and affixing seal of office, fifty cents.

NOTARIES EX OFFICIO JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

3034 (1114). Appointment and term of office.—The governor may appoint one notary public for each election precinct in counties, and one for each ward in cities of over five thousand inhabitants, who, in addition to the powers of notary, as defined by law, shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction, and the same powers, as justices of the peace, within the precinct or ward for which he is appointed; and he shall hold office for the term of three years from the date of his commission and until his successor is qualified.

Are judicial officers.—Harper v. State, 109 Ala. 66. Jurisdiction limited to county where commissioned.—Edinburgh Co. v. Peoples, 102 Ala. 241; American Mortg. Co. v. King, 105 Ala. 358. Proper, but not necessary, to use words "ex officio justice of the peace" after official signature as notary public. Coleman v. State, 63 Ala. 93. May be de facto officer after expiration of commission.—Cary v. State, 76 Ala. 78. But "until his successor is qualified" means reasonable time only.—City Council v. Hughes, 65 Ala. 201; Lane v. Kolb, 92 Ala. 636.

3035 (1115). Governor may remove.—The governor may, in his discretion, remove, at any time, the notary so appointed.

3036 (1116). Vacation of office.—Such notary vacates his office by removal from the precinct or ward for which he is appointed.

3038 (1118). Jurisdiction; powers.—Such notary, within the precinct or ward of his appointment, has all the jurisdiction, and must exercise all the powers of a justice of the peace, and is subject to all the liabilities to which a justice of the peace is subject; and all the remedies which may be pursued against a justice of the peace, and his sureties, or either of them, may be pursued against him, and his sureties, or either of them.

3039 (1119). Dockets and files to be delivered to successor.—On the vacation of the office, or the expiration of the term of office of a notary public having the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, the docket and all papers pertaining to his office, as justice, must be delivered to his successor, if he have a successor appointed, within thirty days, or if he have no successor, to a justice of the peace of the precinct; such successor or justice must complete all unfinished business pending before such notary, and must exercise all the powers and jurisdiction in reference to such unfinished business, and in the issue of process upon judgments rendered, and in the certifying of such dockets and papers, which he can or may exercise in reference to business originally commenced before him, and in reference to his own judgments, dockets and papers.

CHAPTER 82.

3040 (663) (3970, 553). Party in interest may designate newspaper.—The party in interest, or at whose instance the publication of notice is to be given by advertisement in a newspaper, may designate the newspaper in which such advertisement shall be made. If the officer charged with the duty of making the advertisement disregards such designation, and makes advertisement in some other paper, he must pay the costs thereof, and shall not be entitled to reimbursement.

3041 (664) (3972). Length of publication when not otherwise provided.—If the length of the publication be not otherwise prescribed, it must be for three successive weeks.

3042. Length of publication of certain notices to executors, administrators and guardians.—In all cases where notice is required by law to be given to executors, administrators and guardians, in the probate court, if affidavit shall be made that such executor, administrator or guardian has been absent from the state for more than three months last passed, such notice shall be given by publication in a newspaper published in the county where such proceedings are had, for two consecutive weeks, or, if there be no such paper, by posting at the court-house door for fifteen days.

3043. Publication for a specified number of weeks or days defined.—When the notice is required to be given for a specified number of weeks, it must be given by consecutive weekly insertions for the number of weeks so specified; and when the notice is of a proceeding to be had or of an act to be done on a specified day, if the publication be for one week, the insertion must be not less than six days before such day; if for two weeks, the first insertion must be at least twelve days before such day; if for three weeks, the first insertion must be at least eighteen days before such day; if for four weeks, the first insertion must be at least twenty-four days before such day; if for five weeks, the first insertion must be at least thirty days before such day; if for six weeks, the first insertion must be at least thirty-six days before such day, and so on at the same rate of increase, the time to be computed as provided in section 11 of this Code. When the time is specified in days, two weeks' notice is equal to fifteen days' notice; three weeks' to twenty days'; four weeks' to thirty days'; and six weeks' to forty days'.

3044 (665) (3974). Paper sent to officer or person making publication and to the person to whom the notice is given.—The publisher or manager of the newspaper must send to the officer or person making the advertisement a copy of each issue of the paper containing it; and a copy of such paper must be sent by mail to the person to whom the notice is directed, if his post-office address can be ascertained, by the officer or person making the advertisement; such copy to be furnished by the publisher or manager of the newspaper, in addition to the copy of each issue herein required to be furnished.

3045 (666) (3975). Costs of publication.—Not more than one cent per word for each insertion of a legal notice or advertisement must be charged or allowed, and the insertions must not be oftener than once a week, unless, in cases of sales under a decree of the court of chancery, the court shall otherwise order. Each amount or number expressed in figures and each initial letter shall constitute one word. The year, month and day shall each constitute one word; in all, three words. In estimating the number of words in a notice, an appropriate caption may be included; but no memorandum of the printer must be included.

3046 (667) (551) (646). Agreements between officers and publishers.—All agreements between any officer charged with the duty of advertising legal notices in a newspaper, and the printer, publisher, or manager of such paper, whereby any advantage, gain, or profit is to accrue to such officer, are void; and before the charge for such advertisement can be demanded or received, the officer and the printer, publisher, or manager must each make and file an affidavit that no such agreement exists; and the printer, publisher, or manager must, in addition, make affidavit that the sum charged is the actual lowest regular price for such advertisement

3047 (668) (547, 548) (642, 643). Publication, when paper suspended, or discontinued.—If publication is commenced, or is directed in a particular newspaper, and before it is made or completed there is a suspension or discontinuance of the publishing of such paper, then the publication may be made or completed in some other newspaper published in the county; and if there be no other paper published in the county, the publication may be made or completed by posting notices, for the length of time prescribed, at the court-house door and three other public places in the county; or the publication, if so desired by any party in interest, may be made or completed in some newspaper published in an adjoining county.

3048 (669). Notice of sale under power in deed of trust, mortgage, or assignment.—If a deed of trust, mortgage, assignment, or other conveyance to secure the payment of debts, contains a power of sale, and provides that notice of the sale be given in a designated newspaper, or in a newspaper published in the county where the property is situate, or where the sale is to be made, and before the sale is made, the publication of the designated newspaper is suspended, or discontinued, the notice may be given by advertisement in some other paper published in the county; or if there be no paper published in the county, then, in either case, notice may be given by publication, for the time prescribed, in some newspaper published in an adjoining county, or by posting notices at the court-house door, and three other public places in the county. If the publication of notice has been commenced, and there is a suspension or discontinuance of the publishing of the newspaper in which it is commenced, it may be completed as is herein provided.

3049 (670) (566) (655). Weekly papers taken, and pay for them. The clerks of the several circuit courts, the registers in chancery and judges of the several courts of probate, must subscribe for, and take, and file in their respective offices, one copy of each weekly newspaper published in their respective counties, and as soon as practicable, after the end of each year, shall cause the numbers of such papers for the preceding year to be well bound, and shall keep the same safely in their respective offices, as the property of their respective counties; and the court of county commissioners must allow to such officers the sums paid by them for such subscription and binding.

3050 (671) (567) (656). Papers of adjoining county.—If in any county there be no newspaper published, such officers may take and bind the papers of any adjoining county, in which the public printing and advertising of such county may be done.

3051 (672). Newspapers as evidence of notice.—The newspapers containing the advertisement shall be received as evidence of the fact of publication.

ARTICLE 1.

TERMS OF EXECUTIVE AND JUDICIAL OFFICERS DEFINED; INSTALLATION.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1091, §1.

3052. Terms of governor and other executive officers.—The governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general and superintendent of education shall hold their respective offices for the term of two years from the time of their installation in office and until their successors shall be elected and qualified, such installation to take place on the first day of December next after their election, except when that day falls on Sunday, when it shall take place on the following Monday.

Ib. §2.

3053. Term of commissioner of agriculture.—The commissioner of agriculture shall hold office for the term of two years from the first day of September next after his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

3054. Terms of judicial officers.—The chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court, circuit judges, chancellors, judges of probate and clerks of the circuit court shall hold their respective offices for the term of six years from the third day of November next after their election, and until their successors are elected and qualified. Ib. §3.

Purpose and effect of hold-over clause.—City Council v. Hughes, 65 Ala. 201; Lane v. Kolb, 92 Ala. 636, 645.

ARTICLE 2.

PERSONS INELIGIBLE TO OFFICE; RESIDENCE AND COMMISSION; FILLING VACANCIES.

3056 (241) (149) (144) (105). Persons ineligible to office.—The persons who are ineligible to, and disqualified for holding office under the authority of this state, are—

1. Those who are not male persons, of the age of twenty-one years.
2. Those who have not been inhabitants of the state, county, district or circuit, the period required by the constitution and laws of the state.
3. Those who shall have been convicted of treason, embezzlement of public funds, malfeasance in office, larceny, bribery, or any other crime punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary, and those who are idiots or insane.
4. Those who have in this state, or in any of the United States, given, accepted, or knowingly carried a challenge to fight with deadly weapons.
5. Those against whom there is a judgment unpaid, for any moneys received by them in any official capacity, due to the United States, this state, or any county thereof.
6. Soldiers, seamen, or mariners in the regular army or navy of the United States.
7. No person holding an office of profit under the United States, except postmasters whose annual salary does not exceed two hundred dollars, shall, during his continuance in such office, hold any office of profit under this state; nor shall any person hold two offices of profit at one and the same time under this state, except justices of the peace, constables and notaries public.

3057 (244) (152) (147) (108). Residence of officers.—All officers must reside in this state, and keep their offices in such places as are or may be designated by law.

3058 (245) (153) (148) (109). Commissioned officers.—The judges of the several courts, the chancellors, the attorney-general, the solicitors, the secretary of state, the auditor, the state treasurer, the superintendent of education, the commissioner of agriculture, the railroad commissioners, the clerk of the supreme court, the clerks of city courts, the clerks of the circuit courts, the sheriffs, the tax-assessors, the tax-collectors, the county treasurers, the county commissioners, the justices of the peace, the constables and notaries public, before entering upon and exercising the duties of their respective offices, must obtain a commission.

3059 (246). Commission.—The commission must issue in the name, and by the authority of the State of Alabama, must be sealed with the great seal, and signed by the governor, and countersigned by the secretary of state, unless it be the commission of the secretary, which must be signed by the governor.

3060 (247) (296). When commission issues to officers.—No commissioned officer of this state, required by law to give bond, shall receive his commission until he has made his bond, and had the same properly approved and filed. In all other cases, commissions may issue, on the production of the certificate of election, to the person therein named.

3061 (248) (154). Vacancies in state and county offices; how filled; term of office.—Vacancies in all state and county offices are filled by appointment of the governor, except as otherwise provided; the appointees must be commissioned, and they shall hold their offices for the unexpired term, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

ARTICLE 3.

OATHS OF OFFICE.

3062 (249) (155) (149) (110). Dueling oath.—In addition to the oath prescribed by the fifteenth article of the constitution, every public officer must swear that he has not, directly or indirectly, given, accepted, or knowingly carried a challenge, in writing or otherwise, to any person, being a citizen of this state, to fight with deadly weapons, either in or out of this state; or aided or abetted in the same since he has been a citizen thereof; and that he will not, directly or indirectly, give, accept, or knowingly carry a challenge to any person being a citizen of this state, to fight with deadly weapons, either in or out of the state; or in any manner aid or abet the same during his continuance in office.

Ex parte Dorsey, 7 Port. 293.

3063 (250) (156) (150) (111). Who may administer official oaths. In all cases in which it is not otherwise provided by law, the oaths of office may be administered by any officer authorized to administer an oath; must be written out and subscribed by the person taking the same, and be accompanied with the certificate of the officer administering such oaths, specifying the day and year on which the same were taken.

3064 (251) (157) (151) (112). What oaths of office filed with secretary of state.—Such oaths must, when taken by the governor, any judge of the supreme court, judge of the circuit court, chancellor, auditor, state treasurer, attorney-general, solicitor, or any other officer whose general duties are not limited to any one county, unless it is otherwise provided, be filed, with the certificate required by the preceding section, in the office of the secretary of state; and when taken by the secretary of state, must be filed, with such certificate, in the office of the auditor.

3065 (252) (158) (152) (113). Oath of judge of probate; where filed.—Judges of probate must file their official oaths in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of their respective counties.

3066 (253) (159) (153) (114). Filing of oaths of other officers. Judges of other inferior courts, clerks of the circuit and inferior courts, sheriffs, tax-collectors, county commissioners, justices of the peace, constables, and all other officers whose general duties are confined to a single county, must, unless it is otherwise provided, file such oaths and certificate in the office of the judge of probate of their respective counties.

3067 (255) (161) (155) (116). Oaths of deputies; how taken and filed.—Whenever any officer is authorized or required to appoint a deputy, such deputy, before he proceeds to act, must take the oath prescribed by the fifteenth article of the constitution, which must be accompanied with the same certificate, filed in the same office with the same indorsement thereon, as the oaths of his principal; but the provisions of this section do not apply to any deputy who may be employed in particular cases only.

3068 (256) (162). Oath of municipal officers.—The mayor and aldermen of the various cities or towns in this state shall take the oath of office prescribed in article fifteen of the constitution of the state, and none other; and, upon taking the same, are absolved from any other charter oath previously taken by them.

3069 (254) (160) (154) (115). Oaths to be indorsed with the date of filing.—The officer in whose office such oaths are required to be filed, must indorse thereon the day and year on which the same were filed, which indorsement must be signed by him.

ARTICLE 4.

OFFICIAL BONDS.

3070 (257) (163) (157) (118). Official bonds, to whom payable, condition, sureties.—The bond of each public officer, required by law to give bond, must, unless it is otherwise provided, be made payable to the State of Alabama, with such sureties as the approving officer is satisfied have the qualifications required by law, and with condition, in all cases in which a different condition is not prescribed, faithfully to discharge the duties of such office during the time he continues therein, or discharges any of the duties thereof.

Ex parte Buckley, 53 Ala. 42; Morrow v. Wood, 56 Ala. 1; McKee v. Griffin, 66 Ala. 211; Dudley v. Chilton County, Ib. 593; Brewer v. King, 63 Ala. 511.

3071 (258) (169) (158) (119). Indorsed with date of approval. The approval of all official bonds should be in writing indorsed on the bond, should show the day and year on which the same were approved, and be signed by the approving officer.

3072 (259) (170) (159) (120). Improperly approving bond; penalty.—The bond of any public officer, which is not in the penalty, payable, and conditioned, and has not sureties having the qualifications required by law, should not be approved; and the officer approving a bond not conforming to the law in any or all of these respects, is guilty of a neglect of duty, and subjects himself and his sureties to an action by any person injured, and a recovery to the extent of such injury.

3073 (260) (176) (165) (126). Bonds not filed unless properly approved.—No officer, with whom any official bond is required to be filed, must allow the same to be filed in his office, unless the approval of the proper officer appears thereon, indorsed according to the provisions of the second preceding section.

3074 (261) (178) (168) (129). Date of filing bond to be indorsed.—Every officer, in whose office the official bond of any public officer is filed, must indorse on such bond the day and year when the same was filed, and sign his name to such indorsement.

Ex parte Buckley, 53 Ala. 42; Ex parte Plowman, Ib. 440; State v. Flinn, 77 Ala. 100.

3076 (263) (165). Officers not sufficient sureties.—No officer of the United States required to give an official bond other than postmasters; no municipal officer required to give an official bond; no officer, state or county, required to give an official bond, other than justices of the peace, notaries public and constables, must be deemed a sufficient surety on any bond taken under this article.

3077 (264). Attorneys or solicitors not sufficient sureties.—A practicing attorney at law, or solicitor in chancery must not be deemed a sufficient surety on the official bond of the judge of probate, or of the clerk of any court of record, or of the register of the court of chancery, or of any other officer of a court of record, or of the sheriff or deputy-sheriff, or of the coroner, or of a justice of the peace, or of a notary public exercising the powers of a justice of the peace, or of any constable, general or special.

3078 (265) (167). Bond a lien.—The bond of the judge of the probate court, of the county clerk, of the sheriff, of the clerk of the city or circuit court, of the tax-assessor, of the tax-collector, and of the county treasurer, is a lien upon the property of the principal from the date of its execution.

County v. Timberlake, 54 Ala. 403; Knighton v. Curry, 62 Ala. 404; Watts v. Eufaula Nat. Bk., 76 Ala. 474; Lott v. Mobile Co., 79 Ala. 69; Schuessler v. Dudley, 80 Ala. 547; Sumter Co. v. Mitchell, 85 Ala. 313; Baker v. Schuessler, 85 Ala. 541; Callen v. Schuessler, 86 Ala. 527; Cummings v. May, 110 Ala. 479; Randolph v. Billing, Ala. (22 So. 468).

3079 (266) (168). By whom approved.—The bond of the sheriff, of the clerk of the city or circuit court, of the tax-assessor, of the tax-collector, and of the county treasurer must be approved by the judge of probate of the county. The bond of the judge of probate, and of the judge of the county court must be approved by the judge of the circuit court, or by the chancellor of the division in which such judge of probate, or of the county court resides.

Ex parte Candee, 48 Ala. 386; Ex parte Harris, 52 Ala. 87; Ex parte Thompson, Ib. 98.

3080 (267) (171) (160) (121). Time of filing bonds with secretary of state and auditor.—The official bonds of public officers, required by law to be filed in the office of auditor or secretary of state, must be filed therein within forty days after the declaration of election, or the appointment of such officer.

3081 (268) (172) (161) (122). Time of filing in circuit clerk's office.—Such bonds, when required to be filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, must be filed therein within twenty days after the declaration of election, or the appointment to office.

3082 (269) (173) (162) (123). Time of filing in office of judge of probate.—Such bonds, when required to be filed in the office of any judge of probate, must be filed therein within fifteen days after the declaration of election, or the appointment to the office.

State v. Tucker, 54 Ala. 205.

3084. Official bonds to be recorded.—Each official bond required by law to be filed with any public officer must be, by such officer, recorded word for word in a well-bound book and properly indexed.

3085 (271) (175) (164) (125). Failure to file bond vacates office. If any officer required by law to give bond fails to file the same within the time fixed by law, he vacates his office; and in such case, it is the duty of the officer in whose office such bond is required to be filed, at once to certify such failure to the appointing power, and the vacancy must be filled as in other cases.

Sprowl v. Lawrence, 33 Ala. 674; State v. Ely, 43 Ala. 568; State v. Falconer, 44 Ala. 696; Ex parte Candee, 48 Ala. 386; Ex parte Harris, 52 Ala. 87; Beebe v. Robinson, Ib. 66; State v. Tucker, 54 Ala. 205.

3086 (272) (177) (167) (128). Notice of failure to file bond must be given to the solicitor.—If any public officer required by law to give bond fails to file the same within the time prescribed, in the proper office, notice of such failure must be given by the officer in whose office such bond is required to be filed, by or during the first two days of the session of the circuit court held in the county in which the officer so failing resides, next after such failure, to the solicitor of the circuit to which such county belongs, or to the solicitor of the county, if there be a county solicitor.

3087 (273) (179) (169) (130). Legal effect of official bond.—Every official bond is obligatory on the principal and sureties thereon—

1. For any breach of the condition during the time the officer continues in office, or discharges any of the duties thereof.

2. For the faithful discharge of any duties which may be required of such officer by any law passed subsequently to the execution of such bond, although no such condition is expressed therein.

3. For the use and benefit of every person who is injured, as well by any wrongful act committed under color of his office, as by his failure to perform, or the improper or neglectful performance of those duties imposed by law.

McElhaney v. Gilleland, 30 Ala. 183; Kelly v. Moore, 51 Ala. 364; Irion v. Lewis, 56 Ala. 190; Morrow v. Wood, Ib. 1; Brewer v. King, 63 Ala. 511; McKee v. Griffin, 66 Ala. 211; Dudley v. Chilton County, Ib. 593; Mason v. Crabtree, 71 Ala. 479; Clark v. Lamb, 76 Ala. 406; Bryan v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 569; Albright v. Mills, 86 Ala. 324; Savage v. Matthews, 98 Ala. 535; Burgin v. Raplee, 100 Ala. 433; Couch v. Davidson, 109 Ala. 313; Scott v. Ryan, Ala. (22 So. 284).

3088 (274) (180) (170) (131). Not discharged by single recovery.—Such bonds are not discharged by a single recovery, but proceedings may, from time to time, be instituted thereon until the whole penalty is exhausted.

3089 (275) (181) (171) (132). Bond not properly executed or approved; effect of.—Whenever any officer, required by law to give an official bond, acts under a bond which is not in the penalty, payable and conditioned, or without sureties of the requisite qualification and sufficiency, as prescribed by law, such bond is valid and binding on the obligors therein, and stands in the place of the official bond, subject on its condition being broken to all the remedies which the person aggrieved might have maintained on the official bond of such officer, executed, approved and filed according to law.

Sprowl v. Lawrence, 33 Ala. 674; Lewis v. Lee County, 66 Ala. 480.

3090 (276). Conditional execution or delivery by sureties.—A surety on an official bond, or on a bond intended as an official bond, cannot avoid liability thereon, on the ground that he signed or delivered it on condition that it should not be delivered to the proper officer, or should not become perfect, unless it was executed by some other person who does not execute it. The provisions of this section apply to bonds of state, county, municipal and corporate officers; to bonds of executors, administrators, guardians, receivers, assignees and other trustees, and to all bonds and undertakings executed in the commencement or progress of any suit or judicial proceeding, civil or criminal.*

3091 (277) (182) (172) (133). Applies to offices hereafter established.—All the provisions of this and the preceding article apply to the oaths of office and official bonds of all public officers of this state, whose office may be established hereafter, unless the contrary is expressly provided.

ARTICLE 5.

BONDS BY GUARANTEE COMPANIES.

3092. Official bonds may be executed by guarantee companies. Feb. 12, 1897, p. 830, §1. Whenever any person or corporation is or may be required or permitted to execute bond, or other undertaking, of whatsoever nature, with surety or sureties for the faithful discharge or performance of the duties of any state, county, municipal, precinct, township, district or corporate office or position, or of any position of public or private trust or employment, for the faithful discharge or performance of any duty, or for the doing or not doing of anything in such bond or undertaking specified; or when any person or corporation is required or permitted to execute any bond or other undertaking, of whatever nature, with surety or sureties, in any judicial proceeding, or as guardian, executor, administrator, receiver, assignee or trustee, the court officer or person having authority, or charged with the duty of approving such bond or undertaking, may if such bond or undertaking is otherwise sufficient, approve the same when executed by a corporation having the power or authority under its charter to become surety on such bond or undertaking, as surety, and having complied with the provisions of this article; and the execution by any such corporation, as surety, of any such bond or undertaking shall be, in all respects, upon the approval and acceptance of such bond, a full and complete compliance with the requirements of any law, ordinance, rule or regulation requiring such bond or undertaking, or requiring that such bond or undertaking shall be executed by one surety, or by one or more sureties, or that such surety or sureties shall be residents of the state, or any county therein, or shall be householders or freeholders, or either or both, or shall possess any other qualification.

3093. Prerequisites to granting authority to domestic corporation; application showing financial condition; deposit; certificate of authority; license-tax.—Any such corporation, if incorporated under the laws of this state, in order to be qualified to so become such surety, must have an authorized capital stock of one hundred thousand dollars, all of which must be subscribed for and paid in, and either held in money or safely invested in the securities created by the laws of the United States, or by or under the laws of this state, or in other safe, marketable and interest-bearing stocks or bonds or other Ib. §2.

*As amended by joint committee.

securities, the value of which shall be at or above par; and such corporation shall also, before it is authorized to become such surety, deposit with the treasurer of this state twenty-five thousand dollars of securities created by or under the laws of the United States, or by or under the laws of this state, or in other safe, marketable and interest-bearing stocks, bonds, or other securities, the value of which shall be at or above par, in trust for the benefit of the resident holders of the obligations of such corporation, at their market value; and the liabilities of such corporation shall not exceed its available assets; but such liabilities shall not be construed, within the meaning of this section, to include its capital stock, nor its contingent liabilities upon bonds or undertakings executed by or under the provisions of this article, but shall include its outstanding debts and a premium reserve equal to fifty per centum of the annual premiums on all outstanding risks then in force; and such corporation shall also file with the auditor of this state a written application to do business under this article signed by its president or other managing officer, under its corporate seal, and attested by its secretary, or other officer acting as secretary to be authorized to do business under this article, and also a statement, signed and sworn to by its president, or other managing officer, and by its secretary, or other officer acting as secretary, stating the amount of its paid-up capital stock, and how it is invested, stating each item of such investment, the amount of premiums on existing bonds upon which it is surety, the amount of liability for unearned portions thereof, estimated at fifty per centum of the annual premiums on all outstanding risks for one year or less, and pro rata for items of more than one year; stating also the amount of its outstanding debts and liabilities of all kinds; and thereupon the auditor, if satisfied that such corporation is solvent, and has the cash capital herein provided for, and that it has in all respects complied with, and is qualified under this article shall issue to such corporation his certificate that it is authorized to become and be accepted as sole surety on all bonds or undertakings required or permitted by the laws of this state, or by the charters, ordinances, rules and regulations of any county, municipal corporation, board, body, organization, or public officer; such company shall also semi-annually, on the first days of January and July of each year, furnish to and file with the auditor of the state a similar statement to the one hereinbefore in this section provided for. Such company shall also, at such times as he may demand the same, furnish to the auditor such other information touching its condition and credit, as he may require, signed and sworn to as in this section provided; and it shall also pay to the auditor an annual license-tax of one hundred dollars.

Ib. §3. 3094. Prerequisites to granting authority to foreign corporation; application showing financial condition; deposit; charter; agent; and place of business; certificate of authority; semi-annual reports; annual license-tax.—If such corporation be incorporated under the laws of any other state, in order to be qualified to so become such surety, it must have an authorized capital stock of at least two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, which must be fully paid up, and unimpaired, and safely invested in the securities created by the laws of the United States, or by or under the laws of the state where it is incorporated, or in other safe, marketable and interest-bearing stocks, bonds or other securities, the value of which shall be at or above par, one hundred thousand dollars of which shall be deposited with or held by the insurance commissioner, or other corresponding financial officer of the state in which such corporation is incorporated and has its principal place of business, in trust for the benefit of the holders of the obligations of such corporation, and, in addition thereto, such corporation shall also deposit with the treasurer of this state fifty thousand dollars of like securities, in trust for the benefit of the resident holders of the obligations of such corporation, at their market value; and the liabilities of such corporation must not exceed its available assets, but such liabilities must not be construed, within the meaning of this section, to include its capital stock, nor its contingent liabilities upon bonds or undertakings executed by it under the provisions of this article, but shall include its outstanding debts and a premium reserve equal to fifty per centum of the annual premiums of all outstanding risks in force; and such corporation shall also, before transacting any business in this state, file with the auditor of this state a certified copy of its charter or act of incorporation, and the written application and statements required hereinbefore in the preceding section of this article of domestic corporations. Such corporation shall also, in addition to the foregoing requirements, file in the office of the secretary of state of this state an instrument in writing under the seal of said company, and signed officially by its president or one of its vice-presidents, and by its secretary or one of its assistant secretaries, designating a known place of business in this state, and an authorized agent thereat, who shall be a resident of such place, upon whom service of any process or notice required or authorized by law may be made for or on behalf of such corporation. Whereupon, and upon the payment of the license hereinafter required, the auditor, if satisfied that such corporation is solvent, and has the cash capital herein provided for, and surplus assets, in excess of its capital stock, its outstanding debts and premium reserve specified, and that it has, in all respects, complied with, and is qualified under this article, shall issue to such corporation, and to each of its agents in this state, his certificate that it is authorized to become and be accepted as sole surety on all bonds or undertakings required or permitted by law, or the charters, ordinances, rules and regulations of any county, municipal corporation, board, body, organization or public officer. Such company shall also semi-annually, on the first days of January and July of each year, file with the auditor a statement similar to that hereinbefore provided for, and shall also furnish him with a certificate from the officer with whom the deposit herein mentioned is required to be made, describing such securities so deposited, and the manner in which they are held by him, and stating that he is satisfied that such securities are fully worth one hundred thousand dollars, and that said corporation is solvent; and such corporation shall also furnish the auditor at such times as he may demand the same, such other information touching its condition and credit as he may require, signed and sworn to, as in this section provided; and it shall also pay to the auditor an annual license-tax of one hundred dollars.

Ib. §4. 3095. Auditor's certificate good for one year.—The certificates hereinbefore provided for by the auditor to such corporations, foreign or domestic, shall only authorize such corporations to engage in such business during the year in which, or for which it is issued; and such corporations must obtain such certificates annually at the beginning of each year.

Ib. §14. 3096. Corporation not to become sole surety on bond of state treasurer; may become co-surety; how estimated.—No such corporation shall, however, be accepted as sole surety on the bond of the state treasurer; but such corporation may become and be accepted as a co-surety with other persons, or with other corporations of like powers and qualifications, upon said bond; and in the event any such corporation does become a co-surety on said bond, its property or credit shall not be estimated to exceed one hundred thousand dollars.

Ib. §17. 3097. Testator may, in his will, preclude corporation from becoming surety on bond of executor.—Whenever any testator, by the terms of his will, so provides, no such corporation shall be accepted upon the bond of any executor or administrator of such testator.

Ib. §5. 3098. Auditor must revoke certificate when corporation deemed unsafe; effect; notice; additional bonds; duty of approving officers.—The auditor shall at any time, on becoming satisfied that any such corporation is insolvent, or cannot be safely accepted as surety upon the instruments hereinbefore provided for, or upon such corporation failing, on demand, to furnish the auditor full and satisfactory information touching its business, securities or investments, or upon such corporation violating any of the provisions of this article, revoke the authority of such corporation to transact any new business in this state; and thereupon the right of such corporation to transact any new business shall cease, and it shall not thereafter be allowed to transact such business until it has again received from the auditor another certificate of the character hereinbefore prescribed. Upon revoking such authority, the auditor shall give notice thereof, in some newspaper of general circulation published at the seat of government, and by circular letter to each officer in this state authorized to approve official bonds, stating the grounds of such revocation. If such authority is revoked upon the ground that such corporation is insolvent, or cannot be safely accepted as surety upon such bonds or undertakings, it shall be the duty of any such officer, upon receiving such circular letter, or upon his having brought to his attention such publication, to require the principal in any such bond upon which such corporation has become surety, to give an additional bond as provided by law.

3099. When no agent in state process may be served on the auditor.—If the agent designated by any corporation as provided in the third section of this article, shall die, resign, remove from the state, become insane, or otherwise incapable of acting, it shall be the duty of such corporation to appoint another agent in his place as in said section prescribed; and until such appointment shall have been made, or during the absence of the agent of said corporation from the state, or at any time when said corporation has no agent in this state, service of process against such corporation may be made upon the auditor with like effect as upon an agent so appointed by such corporation. The officer serving such process upon the auditor must immediately transmit a copy thereof by mail to the corporation, and state such fact in his return. Ib. §6.

3100. Jurisdiction of suits on bonds.—Any bond or undertaking executed by such corporation may be sued on in the county of residence of the principal, or in which he resided at the time of the execution of the same; but suits by the state may be brought in Montgomery county. Ib. §7.

3101. Corporation estopped to deny power to execute bond. No corporation having signed any such bond or undertaking, shall be permitted to deny its corporate power to execute such instrument, or incur such liability in any proceedings to enforce liability against it thereunder. Ib. §8.

3102. Judgment on bond certified to auditor; sale of securities. If any such foreign or domestic corporation shall fail or refuse to pay any final judgment or decree rendered against it upon any such bond or undertaking from which no appeal or supersedeas has been taken for thirty days after the rendition of such judgment or decree, it shall be the duty of the clerk or register of the court in which such judgment or decree was rendered to certify a copy thereof to the auditor, together with the fact that it remains unpaid, and the auditor must require the state treasurer to sell as many of the bonds or other securities deposited by such corporation with the treasurer as may be necessary to pay such judgment or decree and the interest and costs thereon, and to pay to the clerk or register of such court, from the proceeds of such sale, the amount of such judgment or decree, with interest and costs; and it shall be the duty of the treasurer to sell such bonds or other securities at private or public sale, with or without notice, or so many as may be necessary, for the best price he can obtain in the market, to assign the same to the purchaser, and to apply the proceeds, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to the payment of such judgment or decree, with interest and costs, the surplus, if any, remaining on deposit in lieu of the bonds or other securities so sold. Of such sale the auditor must forthwith notify such corporation and require it to supply the deficiency within thirty days; and if such corporation shall fail to do so, the auditor must Ib. §9.

cancel its authority to act under this article, and give notice thereof to the persons and in the manner prescribed by the fourth preceding section.

Ib. §§10, 12. 3103. Corporation entitled to rights and remedies of other sureties.—Such corporation as surety on any bond, undertaking or obligation is entitled to all the rights and remedies of other sureties on such instruments; and any corporation becoming security on any bond or undertaking, as authorized by this article, shall have the same right to be relieved from further liability thereon, or to require the principal to give new or additional bonds or undertakings, as is conferred by law upon the other sureties on like bonds or undertakings.

Ib. §11. 3104. May wind up business and withdraw securities on deposit.—When any foreign or domestic corporation transacting business in this state under the provisions of this article ceases to transact such business, it may withdraw the securities deposited with the treasurer upon satisfying him that it has discharged or been relieved from any and all risks and liabilities it has incurred in this state, and upon the treasurer becoming satisfied that such corporation has discharged or been relieved from all such risks and liabilities, he shall deliver to such corporation the securities so deposited by it with him.

Ib. §13. 3105. Penalty for doing business without authority; bond not invalid.—Any corporation or officer or agent of such corporation who shall transact the business herein authorized without first obtaining the certificate from the auditor herein provided for, authorizing such corporation to transact such business, or who shall transact such business after the authority to do so has been revoked by the auditor as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction must be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars. Nothing, however, in this section shall render invalid any bond or undertaking executed by such corporation.

Ib. §15. 3106. When value of deposit impaired by sale or depreciation the same must be made good; faith and credit of state pledged to return securities, etc.—If at any time the bonds or other securities deposited by foreign or domestic corporations with the state treasurer under the provisions of this article should be diminished in amount, by sale as hereinbefore provided, or should depreciate in value, the auditor shall require such corporation to deposit other bonds or other securities of like kind as hereinbefore provided, with the state treasurer, so that the amount and value of such bonds or other securities in the hands of the state treasurer shall, at all times, be fifty thousand dollars. For all bonds and securities deposited by all such corporations under the provisions of this article, the faith and credit of the state are hereby pledged, that the said bonds and securities shall be returned to the parties entitled to receive them, or disposed of as provided in this article.

Ib. §16. 3107. When domestic corporation must deposit additional securities.—If any corporation organized under the laws of this state, and authorized to become surety as herein provided, should extend its business of becoming surety on official or other bonds or undertakings hereinbefore mentioned beyond the limits of this state, then such corporation shall, before being entitled to further carry on such business in this state, deposit with the treasurer of this state fifty thousand dollars, including the twenty-five thousand dollars hereinbefore provided to be so deposited by it, of like securities, as those required to be deposited by foreign corporations by the third section of this article.

Ib. §18.

3108. Governor may order examination into the financial condition of corporation; duty of corporation; penalty for withholding information.—The governor shall, at any time when he considers the public interest so demands, direct the examiner of public accounts to examine into the financial condition of any corporation, foreign or domestic, doing business under the provisions of this article, and make report thereon to the auditor; and upon the governor so directing, and upon the demand of said examiner, such corporation shall submit to the examination of such examiner all such books, papers and securities as he may require; and such examiner shall also have the power to examine the officers of such corporation under oath touching its business and financial condition, and the authority of any such corporation to transact business under this article, that refuses to allow such examination, shall be revoked by the auditor, and such corporation shall not thereafter be allowed to transact further business in this state until it has fully complied with the provisions of this section.

Ib. §19.

3109. Article applies only to official bonds and the like.—Nothing herein contained shall apply to any bond or undertaking which is not by law required to be approved by any state, county, municipal, precinct, township, district or other like office, or by any judge, clerk or register of any court of this state, or to corporations engaged merely in the business of becoming sureties on any such bond or undertaking.

ARTICLE 6.

REQUIRING CERTAIN PUBLIC OFFICERS TO GIVE ADDITIONAL AND NEW SURETIES IN CERTAIN CASES.

3110 (278) (183) (173) (134). Auditor and treasurer.—It is the duty of the governor to require additional bonds of the auditor and treasurer, or any other officer whose bond is required to be approved by the governor, whenever, in his opinion, the interest of the state demands.

3111 (279) (184) (174) (135). Additional bonds from officers whose bonds are approved by circuit judge or chancellor; when required.—Any judge of probate, or any other officer whose official bond is required to be approved by a judge of the circuit court or chancellor, must, upon the address of a majority of the grand jury of the county in which the duties of such office are exercised, made in term time to the presiding judge of the circuit court, or in vacation upon the address of any three members of the court of county commissioners to the judge of the circuit, be required by such presiding judge, or in vacation, by the judge of the circuit, to give an additional bond.

Randolph v. Billing, Ala. (22 So. 468).

3112 (280) (185) (175) (136). Bonds approved by judge of probate.—Any sheriff, coroner, clerk of the circuit court, justice of the peace, constable, tax-assessor, tax-collector, or any other officer whose official bond is required to be approved by any judge of probate, must, in like manner, upon the address of the grand jury of the county, made in term time, or of three members of the court of county commissioners made in vacation, be required by such judge of probate to give an additional bond.

3113 (281) (186) (176) (137). Requisition in writing, and copy served.—The requisition to give additional bond must in all cases be in writing, and signed by the officer making the same; must state the day and place when and where the officer cited must appear and give such bond; and a copy of such requisition must be personally served on such officer before the day specified therein.

3114 (282) (187) (177) (138). Additional bond; when to be given.—Such officer must give such additional bond within ten days after the day specified in such requisition; and failing so to do, he vacates his office, and the officer making the requisition must at once certify the same to the appointing power, by whom the vacancy must be filled.

3115 (283) (188) (178) (139). Penalty, etc., of additional bond. Such additional bond must be in the same penalty, and payable, conditioned, approved and filed in the same office, as the first official bond.

Ex parte Plowman, 53 Ala. 440; County v. Timberlake, 54 Ala. 403.

3116 (284) (189) (180) (141). Effect of such bonds.—Every such additional bond is of like force and obligation on the principal and sureties thereon, from the time of its approval, and subject to the same remedies, as the first official bond.

Bryan v. Kelly, 85 Ala. 569; Randolph v. Billing, Ala. (22 So. 468).

3117 (285) (190) (181) (142). First bond not discharged.—In no case provided for under any of the preceding sections of this article, are any of the official bonds previously executed discharged; but each remains of the same force and obligation as if the additional bonds had not been given; and any person aggrieved can have his remedy upon either or all of such bonds, in the same, or in separate proceedings.

3118 (286) (191) (182) (143). Rights of sureties among themselves.—The sureties in either bond, who may have been compelled to make any payment thereon for the principal obligor, have the same remedies against the sureties in the remaining bonds as cosureties have against each other, and may recover, against such sureties, such an amount as shall be in the same proportion to the sum paid by the plaintiff as the aggregate penalty of the two bonds bears to the penalty of the bond of the defendant, apportioning the same among the solvent sureties.

3119 (287) (192). Five freeholders may petition to have bond declared insufficient.—Upon the application of five or more resident freeholders of the county, addressed to the chancellor of the division or judge of the circuit, and verified by the oath of one or more of the applicants, alleging that the bond of the judge of probate, or the judge of the county court, or the clerk of the circuit court, or of the clerk of the city court, or of the sheriff, or of the tax-assessor, or of the tax-collector, or of the county treasurer, is for any cause insufficient, and setting forth the grounds upon which the allegation is based, such officer may be required to make a new bond, if, upon the hearing of such application by the chancellor or circuit judge, it shall appear that the bond is, for any cause, insufficient.

Ex parte Buckley, 53 Ala. 42.

3120 (288) (193). Day appointed for hearing and deciding on sufficiency of bond.—Upon the making of the application, the chancellor or circuit judge must appoint a day, not more than twenty days thereafter, for the hearing of the application, of which time and the place of hearing the same the officer shall have at least ten days' notice. If upon the hearing of the application it shall appear to the satisfaction of the chancellor, or judge, either from oral or written testimony, to be produced before him, that the bond, for any cause, is insufficient, he shall at once make an order requiring such officer to make and execute a new bond within fifteen days from the date of such order.

3121 (289) (194). Application, order and minute of proceedings; where filed.—The application and order, and minute of the proceedings shall be filed in the office of the circuit clerk of the county in which the officer discharges the duties of his office, except when the application is based upon the insufficiency of the bond of the circuit clerk, in which case they shall be filed in the office of the judge of probate.

3122 (290) (195). Upon failure to make new bond, office declared vacant.—Upon the failure of any officer to make and execute a new bond, when required to do so, within the prescribed time, the office which he holds is hereby declared vacant; and in such event it shall be the duty of the circuit clerk in whose office the papers and proceedings are filed, to certify such vacancy forthwith to the officer having authority to fill the same, except when such vacancy is in the office of the circuit clerk, in which case it shall be the duty of the judge of probate to certify the vacancy; and such officer shall at once fill such vacancy by appointment.

3123 (291) (196). Bond and affidavit required.—The chancellor or circuit judge, before fixing the day for the hearing of such application, in addition to the oath verifying the application, must require one or more of the applicants to make oath that the application is not made for the purpose of vexing or harassing the defendant; he must further require the applicants to execute a bond with sufficient surety, in such amount as may be fixed by the chancellor or circuit judge, payable to the officer whose bond is alleged to be insufficient, with condition that the applicants will prosecute the application to effect, and will pay the officer all such damages as he may sustain from the wrongful or vexatious making of such application, together with the costs of the same.

ARTICLE 7.

THE DISCHARGE OF SURETIES ON OFFICIAL BONDS IN CERTAIN CASES.

3124 (292) (197) (183) (144). Application of sureties to be discharged.—Any person, who is surety upon the official bond of any public officer, required to be approved by the judge of the circuit court, or judge of probate, or chancellor, can discharge himself of such suretyship, whenever he is in danger of being made liable on such bond, and can have no adequate remedy against his principal, in consequence of his inability to discharge such liability, upon making an application in writing, setting forth such facts.

Mitchell v. Nelson, 49 Ala. 88.

3126 (294) (199) (185) (146). Notice to principal to give new bond.—The officer to whom such application is addressed must require the principal named in such application to appear before him on and at a certain day and place, and give a new bond; which requisition must be in writing, signed by the officer making the same, and must be personally served on such principal before the day named therein.

Bruner v. Bryan, 50 Ala. 522.

3127 (295) (200) (186) (147). Failure to give it.—If such requisition is personally served, and the officer named therein fails to give an additional bond within ten days after the day specified in such requisition, he vacates his office; and the officer making such requisition must at once certify the same to the appointing power, who must fill the vacancy.

3128 (296) (201) (187) (148). How approved and filed.—On the execution of the additional bond provided for in this article, the same must be approved and filed, with the application and requisition, with the first official bond.

3129 (297) (202) (189) (150). When sureties discharged.—On the execution, approval and filing of such additional bond, such applicants are exonerated as sureties on the bond on which such application was made, from all liability for any breach of the condition therein contained, accruing subsequently to the filing of such additional bond.

3130 (298) (203) (190) (151). When new bond goes into effect. Every such additional bond, approved and filed as in this article is provided for, is binding on the obligors from the time of its approval, and subjects them to the same liabilities, proceedings and remedies as are provided in relation to the first official bond of such officer.

3131 (299) (204) (191) (152). Effect of exoneration of surety. The exoneration provided for in the second preceding section does not affect the previous liability of any of the obligors; but in case of the discharge of any one or more obligors, under such section, the same shall operate as a discharge of all other obligors.

3132 (300) (205) (192) (153). Sureties' rights among themselves.—Whenever the sureties on either bond have made any payments thereon, on account of the principal obligor therein, they are entitled to the same remedies and recoveries against the sureties in the remaining bonds, as are provided by section 3118 (286).

ARTICLE 8.

PROCEEDINGS TO COMPEL THE DELIVERY OF BOOKS, PAPERS, PROPERTY AND MONEY BY PUBLIC OFFICERS TO SUCCESSORS.

3133 (301) (206) (193) (154). Property and papers delivered to successor.—In all cases, in which it is not otherwise expressly provided, when any office is vacated, except by the death of the incumbent, all books, papers, property and money, belonging or appertaining to such office, must, on demand, be delivered over to his qualified successor.

Ex parte Scott, 47 Ala. 609; Thompson v. Holt, 52 Ala. 471; Chambers v. Stringer, 62 Ala. 596; Beebe v. Robinson, 64 Ala. 171; Ryan v. Couch, 66 Ala. 246; Lane v. Kolb, 92 Ala. 636.

3134 (302) (207) (194) (155). Proceedings to compel delivery. If any person refuses or neglects, after demand made, to deliver over any books, papers, or property, as required in the preceding section, his successor may make complaint thereof to the judge of the circuit court, or judge of probate of the county in which the person refusing resides; and if such officer is satisfied by the oath of the complainant, and such other evidence as may be offered, that any such books, papers, or property are withheld, he must grant an order requiring the person so refusing to show cause before him, on a day and at a place named in such order, why he should not be compelled to deliver the same.

3135 (303) (208) (195) (156). Officer discharged on affidavit. At the time so appointed, or at any other time to which the matter may be adjourned, a copy of such order having been personally served on the person so refusing, such officer must proceed to inquire into the circumstances. If the person charged with withholding such books, papers, or property makes affidavit before such officer that he has delivered over to his successor all such books, papers and property in his custody, or appertaining to such office, all further proceedings against him must cease.

3136 (304) (209) (196) (157). On refusal, imprisoned.—If the person complained against does not make such affidavit, and it appears that any such books, papers, or property are withheld, the officer before whom the proceedings are had must, by warrant, commit the person so withholding to the jail of the county, there to remain until he delivers such books, papers and property, or is otherwise discharged by law.

3137 (305) (210) (197) (158). Search-warrant.—In the case stated in the preceding section, if required by the complainant, such officer must also issue his warrant, directed to any lawful officer, commanding him in the daytime to search such places as may be designated in such warrant, for such books, papers and property as belonged and appertained to the office vacated, and to seize and bring them before the officer issuing such warrant.

3138 (306) (211) (198) (159). Delivered to incumbent if obtained. Upon books, papers, or property being brought before such officer by virtue of such warrant, he must inquire and examine whether the same appertained to the office vacated, in which case he must cause such books, papers and property to be delivered to the complainant.

3139 (307) (212) (199) (160). If in possession of any other person, proceedings to recover.—If any person holding any office in this state dies, or his office in any way becomes vacant, and any books, papers, or property belonging or appertaining to such office come into the possession of any person, the qualified successor to such office may, in the manner before prescribed in this article, demand such books, papers, or property from the person having the same in his possession, and on the same being withheld, an order may be obtained; and the person charged may, in like manner, make oath of the delivery of all such books, papers and property that ever came into his possession; and in case of his failure to make such oath and to deliver up the books, papers, or property so demanded, such person must be committed to jail, and a search-warrant may be issued, and the books, papers, or property seized by virtue thereof delivered to the complainant, as hereinbefore prescribed.

ARTICLE 9.

VACATING OFFICE, DEATH, RESIGNATION, INSANITY, REMOVAL.

3140 (308) (213) (200) (161). How offices are vacated.—Any office in this state is vacated—

1. By the death of the incumbent.
2. By his resignation, except in such cases as are excepted by law.

Williams v. Fitts, 49 Ala. 402.

3. By ceasing to be a resident of the state, or of the division, district, circuit, or county, for which he was elected or appointed.

4. By the decision of a competent tribunal declaring his election or appointment void, or his office vacant.

5. By an act of the general assembly abridging his term of office, when the same is not fixed by the constitution.

6. In such other cases as are or may be declared by law.

3141 (242) (150). Vacation of judicial office by acceptance of another office.—The judge of a court of record, or a chancellor, vacates his judicial office by the acceptance of another office, state, county, or municipal.

3142 (243) (151) (146) (107). Sentence of officer to the penitentiary vacates office.—When any person, holding any office or place under the authority of this state, is sentenced by any court of the United States, of this state, or any other state, to imprisonment in the penitentiary, or hard labor for the county, his office or place is vacated from the time of the sentence; and if the judgment is reversed, he must be restored; but if pardoned, he must not.

Ex parte Diggs, 50 Ala. 78.

3143 (309) (214) (201). Vacation of offices of clerk of the circuit court, etc.—The offices of clerk of the circuit court, tax-collector, tax-assessor, county treasurer, and justices of the peace are respectively vacated from the expiration of the incumbent's term, when there is a failure to elect at any general election, where such officers are elected by the people.

3144. Insanity vacates office.—When the incumbent of any office is, upon a proceeding in lunacy, adjudged to be of unsound mind, such office is vacated, and the judge of probate must certify the vacancy to the appointing power; but if such proceeding is thereafter revoked or annulled, he must, upon his own request, be restored.

3145 (310) (215) (202) (162). Notice of death of member of congress, or of general assembly, etc.; by and to whom given.—On the death of any senator or representative from this state to the congress of the United States, or of any member of the general assembly, the judge of probate of the county in which such officer, at the time of his death, resided, must give notice thereof to the governor; in case of the death of the governor, such judge of probate must give notice to the president of the senate; and in case of the death of any other officer, to the officer who fills the vacancy.

3146 (311) (216) (203) (163). Notice of death of judge of probate given by circuit clerk.—On the death of any judge of probate, the clerk of the circuit court of the county for which he was elected must give notice thereof to the governor.

3147 (312) (217) (204) (164). The resignation of the governor. The governor, if he resigns during the session of the general assembly, must transmit his resignation to the president of the senate; otherwise, to the secretary of state, who must notify the president of the senate.

3148 (313) (218) (205) (165). Resignation of members of congress, etc.—The resignation of senators and representatives in congress, and members of the general assembly must be transmitted to the governor; and in all other cases, except justices and constables, to the officer or tribunal which fills the vacancy.

3149 (314) (219) (206). Resignation of justices and constables. The resignation of justices and constables must be transmitted to the judge of probate of the county in which the office may have been held; and the judge of probate must thereupon notify the governor.

3150 (315) (220) (207) (166). Notice of removal from county, etc.—Notice of removal of any officer, other than justices of the peace or constables, from the state, or from the district, circuit, or county, for which he was elected or appointed, must be given by and to the same officers as notice of his death is required by this article to be given.

3151 (316) (221) (208) (168). Notice of judgment vacating office to be given by clerk.—Whenever there is a judgment of a competent tribunal declaring any election or appointment void, or any office vacated, such judgment must, if the vacancy is filled by appointment, the day after the time for taking an appeal has expired, be certified by the clerk of such court, or by the judge, if there be no clerk, to the appointing power.

3152 (317) (222) (209) (168). Notice of vacancies to be filled by the general assembly.—The governor must give notice to the general assembly, at each session thereof, of all offices to be filled by that body, which have become vacant, or which will be vacated by the expiration of the term of office before the next regular session.

ARTICLE 10.

SALARIES OF OFFICERS; WHEN PAYABLE.

3153 (318) (223) (210) (169). Salaries; when due.—The salaries of all officers are payable on the last day of each month; but any unpaid salary may be paid upon the expiration of the term of the officer.

3154. Succeeding officer entitled to salary for day change takes place.—The succeeding officer is entitled to the salary for the day upon which he is inducted into office, to the exclusion of the retiring officer.

CHAPTER 84.

OYSTERS. 3155–3160.

Dec. 10, 1892. p. 27, §1.

3155. Right to plant.—The owners of land fronting on any bay, river, bayou, or creek within this state, are granted the right to plant oysters, and gather the same, in the waters in front of their land, to the distance of six hundred yards from the shore; but where the distance from shore to shore is less than twelve hundred yards, the owners on either shore may plant and gather to a line equidistant between the two shores, but no person shall plant in any natural channel so as to interfere with navigation. The respective owners shall plant within lines extended into the water from the points where their boundaries intersect the shore, as nearly as practicable with a mean width corresponding with their respective frontages on the shore, but should the lines thus extended cross each other, or seriously interfere with obtaining such a mean width, then a line equidistant from the shore-lines of the respective owners shall be the boundary line between such planting-grounds. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as an abandonment by the state of its right or title to the overflowed lands within such limits; but upon the asserting of the rights of the state, the owners of oysters planted in such limits shall have the right to remove them. No riparian rights shall vest in any person under this section, nor be recognized by the state in or to the land covered by the waters between two parallel lines drawn as follows: one across the south end of Cedar Point, and one across the north end of Dauphin Island, both extending east and west from points mentioned. Feb. 14, 1893, p. 518, §1.

3156. Public reefs.—The title to and property in all oysters in the tide-waters of the state outside of the six-hundred-yard limit prescribed in the preceding section shall remain in the state until divested as hereinafter provided. Oyster-beds outside of such limits shall be known and designated as public reefs. Dec. 10, 1892, p. 27, §2.

3157. License to take oysters from public reefs.—A license is hereby given to resident citizens of the State of Alabama to take oysters from the public reefs in the state, subject to the restrictions and regulations herein provided; but no person not a bona fide resident of this state is, or shall be, authorized to take or transport such oysters from, over or through any of the waters of the State of Alabama. Ib. §3.

State v. Harrub, 95 Ala. 176.

3158. Property in oysters taken from public reefs.—When any resident citizen of this state shall lawfully take oysters from the public reefs, he shall have an unqualified interest in the oysters so taken, and shall have the right to sell the same without restriction or reservation. Ib. §4.

3159. Manner and time of taking.—It shall be unlawful for any person to take oysters from the public reefs except with the hands or the double rake, known as oyster-tongs, worked by hand. Ib. §§5, 6.

3160. Measure.—When oysters in the shell are bought or sold by measure, it shall be by box measure, and the measure must be uniform in shape and of the following dimensions: eighteen inches long, twelve inches wide and six inches deep, all inside measure; and four of such measures filled and rounded, without heaping, shall constitute a barrel. Ib. §9.

CHAPTER 85.

PARTITION.

ARTICLE 1.—PARTITION OF PROPERTY GENERALLY. 3161-3187.
2.—PARTITION OF CROPS. 3188-3206.

ARTICLE 1.

PARTITION OF PROPERTY GENERALLY.

3161 (3237) (3497) (3105) (2677). Partition of property held by joint owners or tenants in common.—Any property, real, personal, or mixed, held by joint owners or tenants in common, may be divided among them, on the written application of one or more of them to the probate court of the county in which the property is situate; and such application may be made by the executor or administrator of a deceased person in interest, or by the guardian of a minor or person of unsound mind.

The systems of partition in severalty and by sale for division, are separate and distinct.—Griel v. Randolph, 108 Ala. 601; Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605 (overruling Johnson v. Ray, 67 Ala. 603; McCorkle v. Rhea, 75 Ala. 213; Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; s. c., 84 Ala. 70; Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426; Sherer v. Garrison, 111 Ala. 228. Partition is a matter of right; neither the fact that inconvenience or injury will result, nor that a division is difficult, will prevent it.—McEvoy v. Leonard, 89 Ala. 455; Donnor v. Quartermas, 90 Ala. 164; Keaton v. Terry, 93 Ala. 85; Gore v. Dickinson, 98 Ala. 363. The probate court of the county where the property is situated alone has jurisdiction.—Turnipseed v. Fitzpatrick, 75 Ala. 297; Matthews v. Matthews, 104 Ala. 303. Jurisdiction attaches on the filing of a proper application; and intervening errors do not affect it.—Bryant v. Stearns, 16 Ala. 302; Whitman v. Reese, 59 Ala. 532; Stimpson v. Malone, 60 Ala. 338. Probate court cannot make an unequal division and award money to equalize the shares.—Terrell v. Cunningham, 70 Ala. 100. Probate court cannot determine complicated questions of law or fact respecting the title, but may interpret a deed of undisputed validity.—Guilford v. Madden, 45 Ala. 290. Partition will only be awarded of the whole tract or estate; effect of life-estate in the property. Ward v. Corbett, 72 Ala. 438 (overruling Stimpson v. Malone, 60 Ala. 338); Hall v. Caperton, 87 Ala. 285; Austin v. Bean, 101 Ala. 133. Property owned jointly by husband and wife may be partitioned, but not the homestead, if the wife objects.—Mitchell v. Mitchell, 101 Ala. 183; Donegan v. Donegan, 103 Ala. 488. All co-tenants must be made parties.—Whitman v. Reese, 59 Ala. 532; Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; Gayle v. Johnston, 80 Ala. 395; Ferris v. Montgomery L. & I. Co., 94 Ala. 557; Gore v. Dickinson, 98 Ala. 363. There is no provision for adjusting equities between the parties under the statutory system of partition.—Austin v. Bean, 101 Ala. 133. An infant may file his petition in his own name, by next friend, or in the name of his guardian. Strange v. Gunn, 56 Ala. 611. Statute does not deprive equity of its original jurisdiction to partition property.—Wilkinson v. Stuart, 74 Ala. 198; McEvoy v. Leonard, 89 Ala. 455. See citations to section 3187 (3262).

3162 (3238) (3499, 3500). Application when land lies in different counties; certificate and record.—When partition is sought of a tract of land lying partly in different counties, the application may be made to the probate court of either county, and the partition shall be made at the court-house of the county of the judge of such court; and when made, the judge of such court shall, on demand and payment of lawful fees therefor, furnish to each party in interest a certificate, under his official seal, of the lots or parcels allotted to him, and of the book and page where the proceedings are recorded; and the record of such certificate in the proper office of the county in which such lots or parcels, or any part thereof, lie, shall operate as notice of its contents.

3163 (3239) (3498) (3106) (2678). Contents of application.—The application for division or partition must set forth the names of all the persons interested in the property, their residence, if known, whether they are over or under twenty-one years of age, a full and accurate description of the property sought to be divided or partitioned, the interest of each person in the same, and the number of shares into which it is to be divided.

Applies only to applications for partition in kind or severalty; not to sales for division.—Griel v. Randolph, 108 Ala. 601; Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605 (overruling Johnson v. Ray, 67 Ala. 603; McCorkle v. Ray, 75 Ala. 213; Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; s. c., 84 Ala. 70; Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426); Sherer v. Garrison, 111 Ala. 228. Statutory allegations are jurisdictional; without them proceedings are void.—Whitman v. Reese, 59 Ala. 532; Johnson v. Ray, 67 Ala. 603; McCorkle v. Rhea, 75 Ala. 213; Whitlow v. Echols, 78 Ala. 206; Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; s. c., 84 Ala. 70; Morgan v. Farned, 83 Ala. 367; Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426. Application must state the names and residences of all parties, including petitioner and their respective interests. Johnson v. Ray, 67 Ala. 303; Whitman v. Reese, 59 Ala. 532; McCorkle v. Rhea, 75 Ala. 213; Whitlow v. Echols, 78 Ala. 206; McQueen v. Turner, 91 Ala. 273; Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426. Property described as "a certain law library consisting of text-books and reports," is too indefinite.—Strange v. Glenn, 56 Ala. 611. A substantial conformance is sufficient to sustain proceedings on collateral attack.—Whitlow v. Echols, 78 Ala. 206. How far defects may be waived by appearance and failure to object.—Morgan v. Farned, 83 Ala. 367.

3164 (3240) (3501) (3107). Hearing and notice; guardian ad litem; how non-residents made parties.—Upon the filing of the application, a day, not less than thirty days thereafter, must be appointed for hearing the same; and of the time and place of such hearing, all parties in interest must have at least ten days' notice; and when infants or persons of unsound mind are parties, guardians ad litem must be appointed to represent them; and if any of the parties in interest are non-residents, they must be made parties in the same manner, and to the same extent, as is done when property in the hands of an executor or administrator is to be divided or distributed.

A lunatic, if properly brought in, is bound by the decree; but the court will treat him as its ward so far as seeing that his interests are properly protected. Bryant v. Stearns, 16 Ala. 302; Austin v. Bean, 101 Ala. 133.

3165. Unknown parties; notice; shares paid into court.—When it is necessary to make any persons defendants to a bill in chancery or a petition in the probate court filed for the partition of property or for a sale thereof because it cannot be equitably divided, and the names of all or any of such persons are unknown to the complainant or petitioner and cannot be ascertained on diligent inquiry, if the complainant or petitioner shall state in a sworn bill or petition, or in an affidavit thereto annexed, that the names of such persons are unknown, and that he has made diligent inquiry to ascertain the same, proceedings may be had against them without naming them; and the register or judge of probate, as the case may be, must make publication as in case of non-resident defendants, describing such unknown parties as near as may be by the character in which they are sued, and with reference to their title or interest in the property sought to be partitioned or to be sold for division of the proceeds. The shares or interest of such unknown parties in the proceeds of any such sale shall be paid into court under such directions as may be ordered by the court, and shall there be retained and paid out to the proper parties when ascertained.

3166 (3241) (3502) (3108). Appointment of commissioners; how proof taken when minors interested in lands.—If, upon the hearing, the court is satisfied from the proof that the property described in the application is held and owned jointly, or in common, it must decree the same to be divided or partitioned among the joint owners or tenants in common, according to their respective interests therein; and to effect such division or partition, it must appoint suitable commissioners, not more than five, any three of whom may act; but if the application be for the partition of lands, and any of the parties interested are minors, the court, before granting the application, must be satisfied by evidence taken as in chancery cases, that it is to the interest of such minors that the partition be made.

3167 (3242) (3503) (3109) (2681). Oath and duties of commissioners.—The commissioners must be sworn faithfully to execute the trust reposed in them, and to make the division or partition fairly and impartially, if the same can be made; and the division or partition shall be conducted in all respects, as nearly as may be, consistently with the provisions of this article, as is done when property in the hands of an executor or administrator is to be distributed or divided; and in case of application for partition of lands, the commissioners must, after examining the lands, and a survey thereof, if necessary, proceed without delay to make division thereof into the necessary number of shares, having regard to the quality of the soil, and other advantages, so as to make the different shares as nearly equal in value as practicable; and they must make a plat and map thereof, showing the subdivisions and boundaries of the lots, and numbering them progressively; and they are authorized to employ a surveyor, and chain-bearers, and other attendants, if necessary.

3168 (3243) (3504) (3110) (2682). Notice of time of making partition of lands.—In case of partition of lands, the commissioners must give notice, by publication in some newspaper published in the county, if there be one, or if not, in the one nearest thereto, to be made not less than three successive weeks, that they will, on a day designated, attend at the court-house of the county to make partition.

3169 (3244) (3505) (3111) (2683). Partition made by lot, and result returned.—On the day designated, the commissioners must, in the presence of the judge of probate, determine by lot to whom each of the several parcels belongs, and make a statement in writing of the result, setting forth to whom the several parcels or lots were allotted, together with all the facts relating to the partition and allotment, which must be signed by them, and attested by the judge of probate.

Partition in kind must be by lot in the probate court, but need not be so determined in chancery.—Donnor v. Quartermas, 90 Ala. 164; Austin v. Bean, 101 Ala. 133.

3170 (3245) (3506) (3112) (2684). Papers filed and registered as conveyances.—The application, commission, statement of the commissioners, and plat and map must be filed in the office of the judge of probate, and, together with all orders made by him, must be recorded in a book kept by him for the record of conveyances of land, and when recorded, the record thereof shall be presumptive evidence of the truth of any fact therein stated.

See citations to next section.

3171 (3246) (3507) (3113) (2685). Partition vests title; but may be set aside in chancery for fraud.—The partition so made vests a title in fee simple in the persons to whom the several shares are allotted, as fully and completely as if each had conveyed to the others; but if any fraud or undue influence be employed by any of the parties to obtain an unfair partition or allotment, such partition may be annulled by the chancery court, on bill filed within five years after the allotment.

The probate court does not settle equities existing between the parties, but only declares the same ownership in severalty as before existed in unity. Austin v. Bean, 101 Ala. 133. Mortgage on joint property to secure debt of one co-tenant, will, after partition, be first enforced against share of debtor. Austin v. Bean, 101 Ala. 133.

3172 (3247) (3508) (3114) (2686). Lien against one attaches only to his share.—When there is a lien on an undivided interest of any of the parties, such lien, if a partition is made, is thenceforth a charge only on the share assigned to such party; but such share must first be charged with its just proportion of the costs of the partition, in preference to such lien.

Except as here provided partition in severalty in the probate court affects no lien or equity whether existing in favor of a co-owner or a third person. Austin v. Bean, 101 Ala. 133. A mortgage executed by one joint owner is a charge only on his share, after his proportion of costs are paid.—Gore v. Dickinson, 98 Ala. 363. If lands are sold for division, the purchaser takes subject to a prior mortgage on an individual portion; there is no statute making the mortgage debt a lien on the mortgagor's portion of the purchase-money.—Espalla v. Touart, 96 Ala. 137.

3173 (3248) (3509) (3115) (2687). New commissioners appointed if necessary.—If any of the commissioners die, resign, or neglect or refuse to act, at any time before the final allotment, others may be substituted in their stead by the probate court, and they shall have the same power in completing such partition and allotment as if they had been originally appointed.

3174 (3249) (3510) (3116) (2688). Fees of commissioners.—The commissioners are entitled to two dollars per day for each day whilst engaged in such partition and allotment, and all expenses they may have incurred in causing survey, map and plat to be made, or otherwise, in the discharge of their duties.

3175 (3250) (3511) (3117) (2689). Costs and expenses; execu- tion may issue therefor.—The probate court must ascertain the costs and expenses attending the division, and make a record thereof, stating distinctly each item of such costs and expenses; and if the same are not paid within thirty days after the allotment, an execution may be issued against each of the persons to whom the land was allotted, for his aliquot proportion thereof, which must be directed to the sheriff, to be levied as other executions, and may be levied on the land so allotted to him.

3176 (3251) (3512) (3118) (2690). No partition when adverse claim is set up or made known.—No division or partition can be made under this article, when an adverse claim or title is asserted by any one, or brought to the knowledge of the commissioners, or of the judge of probate.

Intended to prevent the substitution of partition proceedings for ejectment.—Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. A bona fide assertion of an adverse claim as a true, existing status, is intended. The court must determine whether the claim is well founded, not its validity.—Fennell v. Tucker, 49 Ala. 453; Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32. Confined to partition in kind or specie.—Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605 (overruling Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; s. c., 84 Ala. 70); Sherer v. Garrison, 111 Ala. 228. Contemplates an actual adverse possession by a defendant under a claim of exclusive ownership against the petitioner which has not been tried and determined in petitioner's favor.—Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. Adverse possession as between tenants in common.—Abercrombie v. Baldwin, 15 Ala. 363; Newbold v. Smart, 67 Ala. 326; Brady v. Huff, 75 Ala. 80; Duncan v. Williams, 89 Ala. 341; Stevenson v. Anderson, 87 Ala. 228; Burrus v. Meadows, 90 Ala. 140; Sibley v. Alba, 95 Ala. 191.

3177 (3252) (3513) (3119) (2691). The remedy herein provided not exclusive.—The power hereby conferred does not prevent a resort to any other lawful mode of obtaining partition of lands.

Wilkinson v. Stuart, 74 Ala. 198; McMath v. DeBardelaben, 75 Ala. 68; Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. See citations to section 3187 (3262).

3178 (3253) (3514) (3120). Sale for distribution.—Any property, real, personal, or mixed, held by joint owners or tenants in common, on the written application of any one or more of them, may be decreed to be sold by the probate court of the county in which such property is situate, or, in case of land lying partly in different counties, of either of such counties, when the same cannot be equitably divided or partitioned among them, notwithstanding they, or any of them, are infants or persons of unsound mind; and the application may be made by the executor or administrator of a deceased person in interest, or by the guardian of a minor or person of unsound mind.

Sale for division is not an unconditional right, but will only be decreed where equitable partition cannot be made.—McEvoy v. Leonard, 89 Ala. 455; Keaton v. Terry, 93 Ala. 85. The systems of partition in kind or specie, and sale for division, are separate and distinct.—Griel v. Randolph, 108 Ala. 601; Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605 (overruling Johnson v. Ray, 67 Ala. 603; McCorkle v. Rhea, 75 Ala. 213; Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; s. c., 84 Ala. 70; Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426); Sherer v. Garrison, 111 Ala. 228. Entire tract must be sold and each part owner must be interested in the whole.—Wilkinson v. Stuart, 74 Ala. 198; Hall v. Caperton, 87 Ala. 285; West v. West, 90 Ala. 458; Inman v. Prout, 90 Ala. 362. Equality of interest is not essential. Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. Lands may be sold where one party only has a life-estate in an undivided interest.—McQueen v. Turner, 91 Ala. 273. Probate court has concurrent jurisdiction with chancery; court first assuming jurisdiction retains it.—Marshall v. Marshall, 86 Ala. 383. See citations to section 3187 (3262). Circumstances under which chancery may interfere, jurisdiction of probate court having attached.—Wilkinson v. Stuart, 74 Ala. 198; Marshall v. Marshall, 86 Ala. 383; Morrison v. Morrison, 105 Ala. 637. Probate court has no jurisdiction to sell for division trust property.—Wimberly v. Wimberly, 38 Ala. 40. Nor to determine complicated questions of law or fact respecting title.—Guilford v. Madden, 45 Ala. 290. There can be no sale of the homestead, jointly owned by husband and wife, against the objections of the wife.—Mitchell v. Mitchell, 101 Ala. 183. Jurisdiction attaches on the filing of a proper petition giving a description of the property; making tenants in common parties, showing their respective interests and which are infants or non compos, and stating that property cannot be equitably divided.—Fennell v. Tucker, 49 Ala. 453; McCorkle v. Rhea, 75 Ala. 213; Whitlow v. Echols, 78 Ala. 206; Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; Cantelou v. Whitley, 85 Ala. 247; McEvoy v. Leonard, 89 Ala. 455; Inman v. Prout, 90 Ala. 362; McQueen v. Turner, 91 Ala. 273; Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426; Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. On collateral attack, reasonable intendments will be indulged to support the decree.—Whitlow v. Echols, 78 Ala. 206. Proceedings under a petition lacking in essential jurisdictional averments are void; but if regular on its face it will be sustained on collateral attack.—McCorkle v. Rhea, 75 Ala. 213; Whitlow v. Echols, 78 Ala. 206; Morgan v. Farned, 83 Ala. 367; Cantelou v. Whitley, 85 Ala. 247; Inman v. Prout, 90 Ala. 362. The petition is amendable, and pleadings are governed by the general rules. Fennell v. Tucker, 49 Ala. 453. Residence of parties in interest is not a jurisdictional averment under this section.—Griel v. Randolph, 108 Ala. 601; Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605 (overruling Johnson v. Ray, 67 Ala. 603; McCorkle v. Rhea, 75 Ala. 213; Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426). A person in possession but without interest is not properly made a defendant.—Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. A judgment creditor of one of the tenants in common, with a lien, is not a necessary party.—Inman v. Prout, 90 Ala. 362. Lien of a mortgage on an undivided interest does not become a charge on the share of money belonging to the mortgagor after sale. Inman v. Prout, 90 Ala. 362; Espalla v. Touart, 96 Ala. 137. If a party dies owing debts, an administrator ad litem may be appointed. The safer practice is to make a legal representative a party, unless alleged and proved that there are no debts.—Ballard v. Johns, 80 Ala. 32; McQueen v. Turner, 91 Ala. 273; If the sale is on credit the vendor's lien remains in the joint owners and may be enforced in their own names.—McIntosh v. Reid, 45 Ala. 456. Petition by a guardian to sell lands for distribution among his wards is properly filed in the court whence his letters issued.—Matthews v. Matthews, 104 Ala. 303 (overruling Turnipseed v. Fitzpatrick, 75 Ala. 297). Adverse possession.—See citations to section 3176 (3251).

3179 (3254) (3515) (3121). On filing application, day set for hearing.—Upon the filing of such application, setting forth that the property cannot be equitably divided or partitioned without a sale thereof, a day must be appointed, not less than thirty days thereafter, for hearing the same.

Contents of application.—See citations to preceding section and to section 3181 (3256).

3180 (3255) (3516) (3122). Hearing; notice; guardian ad litem; how non-residents made parties.—All parties in interest must have at least ten days' notice of the time and place set for the hearing of such application; and when infants or persons of unsound mind are parties, guardians ad litem must be appointed to represent them; and if any of the parties in interest are non-residents, they may be made parties in the same manner, and to the same extent as is done when property in the hands of an executor or administrator is to be divided or distributed.

It is irregular and erroneous to enter the decree until after the lapse of thirty days.—Jones v. Jones, 56 Ala. 612. The rights of infants are not prejudiced by the failure of the guardian to object to a premature hearing, or by his failure to sever from adults in assignments of errors.—Jones v. Jones, 56 Ala. 612.

3181 (3256) (3517) (3123). Evidence taken as in chancery cases; what must be proved.—Evidence in support of such application must be taken as in chancery cases, and before granting the decree of sale the probate court must be satisfied from the evidence that an equitable division or partition cannot be made; and when the application is by the guardian of an infant or person of unsound mind, the court must also be satisfied from the evidence that it would be to the interest of such infant, or person of unsound mind, to sell the property for the purpose of division or partition.

The court must be satisfied from the evidence that an equitable division cannot be made; burden of proof is on the petitioner.—Coker v. Pitts, 37 Ala. 692; McEvoy v. Leonard, 89 Ala. 455; Keaton v. Terry, 93 Ala. 85; Mitchell v. Mitchell, 101 Ala. 183; Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. If applicant is an infant, proof must show that a sale will be to his interest; if infant is defendant this is not necessary.—Coker v. Pitts, 37 Ala. 692; Fennell v. Tucker, 49 Ala. 453.

3182 (3257) (3518) (3124). Decree, appointment of commissioner, sale, collection of purchase-money, and conveyance.—If, upon the hearing, the court is satisfied from the proof, that such property cannot be equitably divided or partitioned among the parties in interest, it must decree the same to be sold, and make and issue all such orders as may be necessary to effect the sale thereof, and appoint a suitable commissioner to make the sale; and the sale shall be conducted, the purchase-money collected, conveyance of the title made, and all proceedings subsequent to the sale conducted in every respect as is done when property in the hands of an executor or administrator is to be distributed.

The sale is judicial and must be confirmed; before confirmation it may be vacated for irregularities.—Hutton v. Williams, 35 Ala. 503; Kellam v. Richards, 56 Ala. 238. After confirmation it is complete, and cannot be set aside except for fraud in which the purchaser participated.—Hutton v. Williams, 35 Ala. 503; Kellam v. Richards, 56 Ala. 238. The right to resell at the risk of a non-complying purchaser is an implied condition of the sale.—Hutton v. Williams, 35 Ala. 503; Griel v. Randolph, 108 Ala. 601. In such case either the commissioner or the parties in interest may sue defaulting purchaser for the loss occasioned by the resale.—Hutton v. Williams, 35 Ala. 503; Griel v. Randolph, 108 Ala. 601. Equity will not enjoin a sale on the ground that the property can be equitably divided, or because a sale would be ruinous; remedy by appeal.—Morrison v. Morrison, 105 Ala. 637.

3183 (3258) (3519) (3125). Payment and distribution of the purchase-money.—Such commissioner may discharge himself from all liability for money received by him for the property sold, by paying over the same to the judge of probate, after deducting therefrom the costs and expenses attending the sale, including commissions to him at the same rate that executors or administrators receive for collecting, but in no case more than one hundred dollars; and such net proceeds must be distributed by the judge of probate among the persons entitled thereto, according to their respective interests.*

Not retroactive.—McKee v. Griffin, 66 Ala. 211.

3184 (3259). New commissioner appointed if necessary.—If the commissioner dies, resigns, or neglects, or refuses to act, at any time before the sale, another may be substituted in his stead by the court, who shall have the same power in completing the sale as if originally appointed.

*The words "and disbursing" stricken out by joint committee.

The court is the real principal making the sale.—Jennings v. Jennings, 9 Ala. 285.

3185 (3260) (3520) (3126). Provisions applicable to representative of party in interest.—Should any of the parties interested in property, real, personal, or mixed, held by joint owners or tenants in common, die, the provisions of this article shall fully apply to his executor or administrator.

Applicable both to partition in kind and to proceedings to sell for division. Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605.

3187 (3262). Jurisdiction of chancery court to divide or sell for division.—The chancery court shall have jurisdiction to divide or partition, or to sell for division or partition, any property, real, personal, or mixed, held by joint owners or tenants in common, whether the defendant denies the title of the complainant or sets up adverse possession or not. As amended Nov. 27, 1896, p. 17.

Applicable to both systems of partition.—Hillens v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. Equity has always had jurisdiction to partition in kind or specie; that it does under its own rules unaffected by statute; the jurisdiction to sell for division is statutory.—Deloney v. Walker, 9 P. 497; Harkins v. Pope, 10 Ala. 493; Wilkinson v. Stuart, 74 Ala. 198; Lyon v. Powell, 78 Ala. 351; Johnson v. Kelley, 80 Ala. 135; Marshall v. Marshall, 86 Ala. 383; McEvoy v. Turner, 91 Ala. 273). Partition in kind in equity is a matter of right and not dependent on the inadequacy of legal remedies. The right to sell for division depends on whether property can be equitably divided.—McMath v. DeBardelaben, 75 Ala. 68; McEvoy v. Leonard, 89 Ala. 455; Donnor v. Quartermas, 90 Ala. 164; Keaton v. Terry, 93 Ala. 85; Gore v. Dickinson, 98 Ala. 363. Equity may decree partition whether the title is legal or equitable; if legal, it will not interfere if another court has assumed jurisdiction; if equitable, its jurisdiction is exclusive.—Deloney v. Walker, 9 P. 497; Horton v. Sledge, 29 Ala. 478; Arnett v. Bailey, 60 Ala. 435; Wilkinson v. Stuart, 74 Ala. 198; McMath v. DeBardelaben, 75 Ala. 68; Berry v. Webb, 77 Ala. 507; Marshall v. Brinsfield, 108 Ala. 605. If the title is legal the practice is to refer disputed facts to a jury. Ormond v. Martin, 37 Ala. 598; McMath v. DeBardelaben, 75 Ala. 68; Berry v. Webb, 77 Ala. 507. The proceeding is an adversary suit, and all questions arising in its progress should be determined.—Bragg v. Beers, 71 Ala. 151; McMath v. DeBardelaben, 75 Ala. 68; Lyon v. Powell, 78 Ala. 351; Marshall v. Marshall, 86 Ala. 383; Gore v. Dickinson, 98 Ala. 363. A bill for partition and to remove a cloud from the title; or foreclose a mortgage; or for the removal of a trustee and an account of rents; is not multifarious.—Tindall v. Drake, 51 Ala. 574; Berry v. Webb, 77 Ala. 507; Lyon v. Powell, 78 Ala. 351; Marshall v. Marshall, 86 Ala. 383; Stevenson v. Anderson, 87 Ala. 228; West v. West, 90 Ala. 458; Gore v. Dickinson, 98 Ala. 363; Kilgore v. Kilgore, 103 Ala. 614. But to set aside a will, cancel a deed as a cloud, and partition is multifarious.—McEvoy v. Leonard, 89 Ala. 455. And so, for partition of one tract and the sale of an infant's interest in another.—West v. ARTICLE 2.

PARTITION OF CROPS.

3188 (3263) (3521). Partition of crops among joint owners or tenants in common.—Matured crops of corn, cotton, or other produce, raised and made by persons in such manner as to make them joint owners or tenants in common therein, whether gathered or ungathered, may be divided among them, on the written application of any one or more of them to the probate court of the county in which such crops, or any portion thereof, are situate; and such application may be made by the administrator or executor of a deceased person, or by the guardian of a minor or person of unsound mind, interested in such crops.

Statute only applies to the crops mentioned, gathered, or ready for gathering, and made or raised in the required manner.—Mooney v. Hough, 84 Ala. 80. Evidence on proceeding for partition.—Gassenheimer v. Huguley, 64 Ala. 83.

3189 (3264) (3522). Contents of application.—Such application must set forth the names, ages and places of residence of all the persons interested in the crops, the location, value and description of the crops, the number of shares into which it is sought to divide them, the interest of each person therein, and who is in the actual possession thereof; and it must be sworn to by the applicant, his agent, or attorney.

Necessary averments.—Mooney v. Hough, 84 Ala. 80.

3190 (3265) (3523). Day appointed for hearing; appointment of guardian ad litem.—Upon the filing of such application, a day must be appointed for the hearing of the same, within fifteen days thereafter, if the parties are residents of this state, but if they are non-residents, within thirty days thereafter; and if any of the parties in interest are minors or persons of unsound mind, guardians ad litem must be appointed to represent them, unless they have general guardians who will represent them on the hearing.

3191 (3266) (3523). Notice of hearing; how given.—Notice of such application, and of the day appointed for its hearing, must be issued by the judge of probate to the parties in interest who are residents of this state, which must be served on them at least five days before the day appointed for the hearing; and if any of the parties in interest are non-residents, such notice must be given by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, or if no newspaper is published therein, then in one that is published in an adjoining county, a copy of which shall be mailed by the judge of probate, directed to such non-residents at their post-offices, if the same are known, or can be ascertained by reasonable effort.

3192 (3267) (3524). When sheriff ordered to take possession of crops.—If, at the time of filing such application, or afterwards, any party interested in the crops, his agent, or attorney, makes affidavit before the judge of probate, that he has cause to believe that the crops, or any portion thereof, will be removed, sold, consumed, or destroyed, before they can be divided, and gives bond, with sufficient surety, in double the value of the property to be divided, payable to the defendant or defendants, with condition to pay all costs and damages that may accrue from the wrongful filing of the application, the court shall order the sheriff to take possession of such crops, and to safely keep the same until final disposition thereof shall be made by the court, unless the other parties in interest, or some of them, give bond, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the sheriff, in double the value of the shares of those complaining, with condition for the delivery of such crops to the sheriff within five days after judgment, or, in case of default, to pay those entitled the value of their interests in the crops, together with all costs and damages for the detention of the same; and if the crops are not delivered according to the condition of the bond, any of the parties in interest may sue on the bond, jointly or severally, in the name of the sheriff for their use, and recover the value of their interests in the crops, and the costs and damages resulting from the detention.

3193 (3268) (3525). Decree of partition or sale; liens in favor of parties declared and enforced.—If, on the hearing, the court is satisfied from the evidence, that the parties are joint owners or tenants in common in the crops, a decree must be entered, declaring the interest or share each has therein, and ordering the crops divided in specie, or sold for division, as may appear from the evidence more practicable and better for the interests of the parties; and if any liens exist on the crops, or on any interest or share therein, in favor of any of the parties, such liens, and the extent and amount thereof, must be declared; and if a division in specie is ordered, such liens shall be charges only on the shares of the parties against whom they exist; but if a sale be ordered, the proceeds of the shares or interest upon which they exist, after payment of their part of the costs, shall be applied to the satisfaction of such liens.

3194 (3269) (3534). Liens in favor of strangers; how adjusted. When any lien exists on the crops, or on any share or interest therein, in favor of any person other than the joint owners or tenants in common, such person must be made a party to the application, and his lien declared and protected; and if division in specie is made, such lien shall thenceforth rest only on the share or interest of the party against whom it exists; but if a sale is made, such lien shall be satisfied out of the proceeds of the share or interest upon which it exists; but such share or interest must first be made to contribute its share of the costs.

3195 (3270) (3526). Sale by sheriff; proceeds distributed by judge of probate.—If the crops are ordered sold, the judge of probate must forthwith issue a writ, directed to the sheriff, commanding him to sell such crops for division, at a place to be designated in the decree and writ; and thereupon the sheriff must proceed to advertise and sell such crops at the place designated, in the same manner as he is required to advertise and sell personal property under execution issuing from the circuit court; and after making the sale, he shall forthwith make due return, and pay over the proceeds thereof to the judge of probate, who shall distribute the same among the parties according to their respective interests. If a forthcoming bond has not been executed under section 3192 (3267) and the sheriff is not in possession of the crops, he shall seize the same for the purpose of making a sale thereof, if in the hands of any of the parties to the proceedings.

3196 (3271) (3527). Commissioners appointed to make partition; oath and return.—If a division of the crops is decreed, the judge of probate must forthwith issue a writ, directed to the sheriff, and commanding him to summon three disinterested and intelligent householders of the county, not related to either of the parties, to make such division, who shall divide the crops among the parties according to the decree, a copy of which must accompany the writ, and shall, within ten days after their appointment, make due return of the division made by them in writing and under oath, which oath must be taken before the judge of probate, and must set forth that they made the division fairly and impartially, to the best of their knowledge and ability; and for the purpose of such division the sheriff, if not in possession, and no forthcoming bond has been given, must seize the crops to be divided, if in the possession of any of the parties to the proceedings.

3197 (3272) (3527). If partition cannot be made, crops must be sold.—If the commissioners find it impracticable to make division of the crops in specie, or that it is necessary to sell a portion thereof to make or equalize the division, they shall at once report that fact to the probate court, which shall thereupon order the crops to be sold for division, and shall issue a writ to the sheriff commanding him to make such sale; and such sale, and the distribution of the proceeds thereof, shall be made as provided in section 3195 (3270).

3198 (3273). New commissioners appointed if necessary.—If any of the commissioners for any cause fail to act, others may, at any time before division made, be appointed in their stead, and they shall have the same power as if they had been originally appointed.

3199 (3274). If condition of forthcoming bond is broken, sheriff makes return of that fact.—If a forthcoming bond is given under section 3192 (3267), and the crops are not delivered to the sheriff, as required by its condition, the sheriff must indorse on the bond the failure to deliver such crops to him, and must return the same to the judge of probate.

3200 (3275) (3528). Contest of commissioners' report; proceedings if report set aside.—Any of the parties may file objections to the report of the commissioners making the division, within ten days after the same is returned, and, when filed, a day must be appointed to hear the same, of which notice, not exceeding ten days, shall be given to all the other parties in interest; and on the evidence adduced on such hearing, the report shall be confirmed or set aside, as equity and justice may demand; and if the report is set aside, new commissioners shall be appointed to make division, who shall proceed as herein provided of those originally appointed.

3201 (3276) (3529). When shares delivered to parties after partition.—If all the parties consent in writing, the sheriff, immediately after the division is made, shall deliver to each party his share of the crops; but if such consent is not given, the crops must be held by him until after the report of the commissioners has been confirmed, when he shall deliver the same to the parties entitled thereto, unless a supersedeas bond on appeal is given.

3202 (3277) (3531). Trial by jury; when may be had; how jury organized.—Either party shall be entitled to a trial by jury, on demand made therefor at any time before the hearing, and the jury shall decide the facts under the charge of the judge. When a jury is demanded, the court shall order the sheriff to summon twelve men, or, by agreement of the parties, any less number, competent to serve as jurors; and the mode of swearing, impaneling, challenging, and supplying the places of jurors shall be the same, so far as practicable, as in the circuit court, on the trial of civil causes.

3203 (3278) (3532). Costs and fees; how taxed.—The probate court may tax the costs against the unsuccessful party litigating, or against the crops, which may be sold in amount sufficient to satisfy the same, if not paid; but each share shall be charged with only its proportion of the costs. If the crops involved are worth less than one hundred dollars, the judge, sheriff, jurors, commissioners, and witnesses shall only be allowed half the fees for similar services in other cases; if over one hundred dollars, the same fees as they are allowed for such services in other cases.

3204 (3279) (3530). Right of appeal; how decree superseded on appeal.—Any of the parties may, within ten days thereafter, appeal to the circuit or supreme court from the decree of partition or sale, or from the decree confirming or setting aside the commissioners' report, under the regulations governing appeals in other cases from decrees of the probate court to the circuit or supreme court; and such decree may be superseded pending the appeal by the appellant, on giving bond in double the amount of the value of the interests of the other parties in the crops, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the judge of probate, and with condition to have the crops forthcoming to abide the decree to be finally rendered in the cause, and in the event of his failure to do so, to pay all costs and damages arising therefrom.

3205 (3280) (3533). Papers filed, but not recorded unless requested; effect as evidence.—All papers connected with the proceedings shall be filed, but shall not be recorded unless one or more of the parties request it, in which case such party or parties shall pay the costs thereof; and the papers, or the record thereof, shall be evidence of title between the parties and their privies, to their respective shares of the crops.

3206 (3281) (3535). Provisions apply to assignees; remedy not exclusive.—The provisions of this article shall apply to the assignee of any joint owner or tenant in common; but the remedy hereby given shall not prevent a resort to any other remedy allowed by law.

PARTNERSHIPS, LIMITED. 3207–3231.

3207 (1705) (2063) (1799) (1493). For what purpose formed. Limited partnerships for the transaction of any mercantile, mechanical, manufacturing or other lawful business, within this state, may be formed by two or more persons, upon the terms, and with the rights and powers, and subject to the conditions and liabilities in this chapter; but its provisions must not be construed to authorize any such partnership for the purpose of banking or insurance business.

McGehee v. Powell, 8 Ala. 827.

3208 (1706) (2064) (1800) (1494). Liability of general and special partners, respectively.—Such partnerships may consist of one or more persons, who are general partners, and are, jointly and severally, responsible as general partners now are by law; and of one or more persons, who contribute in actual cash payments a specific sum as capital to the common stock, who are called special partners, and who are not liable for the debts of the partnership beyond the funds so contributed to the capital.

3209 (1707) (2065) (1801) (1495). General partners alone manage the partnership business.—The general partners alone are authorized to transact business, sign for the partnership, and to bind the same.

3210 (1708) (2066) (1802) (1496). Proceedings to form limited partnership.—The persons desirous of forming such partnership must make and severally sign a certificate, containing—

1. The name or firm under which such partnership is to be conducted.

2. The general nature of the business to be transacted.

3. The names of all the general and special partners interested therein, distinguishing which are general and which are special partners, and their respective places of residence.

4. The amount of capital which each special partner has contributed to the common stock.

5. The period at which such partnership is to commence and terminate.

3211 (1709) (2067) (1803) (1497). The certificate must be acknowledged.—The certificate must be acknowledged by the several partners signing the same, before a judge of the supreme or circuit court, or judge of probate, who must indorse such acknowledgment and sign the same.

3212 (1710) (2068) (1804) (1498). Where recorded.—The certificate and acknowledgment must be filed in the office of the judge of probate of the county in which the principal place of business of such partnership is situated, and must be by such judge recorded in a book kept for that purpose, free to inspection. If the partnership has places of business in different counties, a transcript of the certificate and acknowledgment, certified by the judge of probate in whose office it is filed, must be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of every such county.

3213 (1711) (2069) (1805) (1499). Affidavit of payment of capital of special partner.—At the time of filing the original certificate and acknowledgment, an affidavit of one or more of the general partners must also be filed in the same office, stating that the sums specified in the certificate to have been contributed by each of the special partners to the common stock, have been actually and in good faith paid in cash.

3214 (1712) (2070) (1806) (1500). Partnership not complete until affidavit filed.—No such partnership shall be deemed to have been formed until such certificate has been made, acknowledged, filed and recorded, nor until the affidavit required by the preceding section has been made and filed.

3215 (1713) (2071) (1807) (1501). All liable as general partners for false certificate or affidavit.—If any false statement is made in such certificate or affidavit, all the persons interested in such partnership are liable for all the engagements as general partners.

3216 (1714) (2072) (1808) (1502). Publication of limited partnership.—The terms of the partnership must be published immediately after the recording, for six successive weeks, in two papers designated by the judge of probate in whose office the certificate is recorded; and if such publication is not made, the partnership shall be deemed general.

3217 (1715) (2073) (1809) (1503). Printer's affidavit, when filed, proves publication.—Affidavits of such publication by the printers of the newspapers in which the same is published may be filed with the judge of probate, and are evidence of the fact.

3218 (1716) (2074) (1810) (1504). Renewals made as the first partnership was formed.—Every renewal or continuance of such partnership beyond the time originally fixed for its duration must be certified, acknowledged, recorded, and an affidavit of a general partner made and filed, and notice given by publication, as required for its original formation; and every such partnership which is otherwise renewed or continued must be deemed a general partnership.

3219 (1717) (2075) (1811) (1505). When limited partnership becomes a general partnership.—Every alteration which is made in the name of the partners, in the nature of the business, or in the capital or shares thereof, or in any other matter specified in the original certificate, must be deemed a dissolution of the partnership; and every such partnership, which is in any manner carried on after such alteration has been made, must be deemed a general partnership, unless renewed as a special partnership according to the provisions of the preceding section.

3220 (1718) (2076) (1812) (1506). Use of special partner's name makes him a general partner.—The business of the partnership must be conducted under a firm, in which the names of the general partners alone are inserted, with the addition of the word "limited"; and if the name of any special partner is used in the firm, with his privity, he shall be deemed a general partner.

3221 (1719) (2077) (1813) (1507). The general partner prosecutes and defends suits.—Suits in relation to the business of the partnership may be brought and conducted by and against the general partner, in the same manner as if there were no special partners.

3222 (1720) (2078) (1814) (1508). Special partner can only withdraw interest and profits.—No part of the sum which any special partner has contributed to the capital stock must be withdrawn, or paid to him in the shape of dividends, profits, or otherwise, at any time during the continuance of the partnership; but any partner may annually receive lawful interest on the sum so contributed by him, if the payment of such interest does not reduce the original amount of such capital; and if, after the payment of such interest, any profits remain to be divided, he may also receive his proportion of such profits.

3223 (1721) (2079) (1815) (1509). If the capital is thus reduced, he must restore it.—If it appears that by the payment of interest, or profits, to any special partner, the original capital has been reduced, the partner receiving the same is bound to restore the amount necessary to make good his share of the capital without interest.

3224 (1722) (2080) (1816) (1510). Special partner may examine into, but cannot interfere in management of business.—A special partner may, from time to time, examine into the state and progress of the partnership concerns; may advise as to their management, and act as attorney at law, but must not transact any other business, nor be employed for that purpose as agent or otherwise; and if he interferes contrary to the provisions of this section, he is deemed a general partner.

3225 (1723) (2081) (1817) (1511). General partners liable to account as other partners.—The general partners are liable to account to each other, and to the special partners, for their management of the partnership, both in law and equity, as other partners.

3227 (1725) (2083) (1819) (1513). On insolvency, no preference to be given by assignment.—Every sale, assignment, or transfer of any of the property or effects of such partnership, made by the same when insolvent, or in contemplation of insolvency, or after, or in contemplation of the insolvency of any partner, with the intent of giving a preference to any creditor of such partnership or insolvent partner over other creditors of such partnership; and every judgment suffered, lien, credit, or security given by such partnership under like circumstances, and with the like intent, is void.

3228 (1726) (2084) (1820) (1514). Assignments by partners also void.—Every such sale, assignment, or transfer of any of the property or effects of a general or special partner, when insolvent, or in contemplation of insolvency, or after, or in contemplation of the insolvency of the partnership, with the intent of giving to any creditor of his own, or of the partnership, a preference over creditors of the partnership, and any judgment suffered, lien created, or security given by any such partner under the like circumstances, and with the like intent, is void as against the creditors of the partnership.

3229 (1727) (2085) (1821) (1515). Special partners become general by the commission of such acts.—Every special partner who violates any provision of the two preceding sections, or who concurs in, or assents to any such violation by the partnership, or by any individual person, is liable as a general partner.

3230 (1728) (2086) (1822) (1516). Special partners cannot claim as creditors on insolvency.—In case of the bankruptcy or insolvency of the partnership, no special partner is, under any circumstances, to be allowed to claim as a creditor, until the claims of all the other creditors of the partnership are satisfied.

3231 (1729) (2087) (1823) (1517). Dissolution only made after three weeks' notice.—No dissolution of such partnership, by the acts of the parties, must take place before the time specified in the certificate of its formation, or in the certificate of its renewal, until a notice of such dissolution has been filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate in which the original certificate was recorded, and published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in each of the counties where the partnership has places of business; and if there is any county in which the partnership has a place of business, in which no newspaper is published, then in a paper published the nearest thereto.

3232 (1465) (1729) (1446) (1211). Court of county commissioners purchase and sell lands and other property for poorhouses.—The court of county commissioners may purchase and hold lands and other property, proper for the erection and continuance of a poorhouse, and may, at their discretion, dispose of lands now or hereafter owned for such purpose, and make titles therefor, and may make all appropriations and orders proper for the erection and continuance of poorhouses, and for the regulation and government of the poor and poorhouses.

3233 (1466) (1730) (1447) (1212). Relatives liable to support poor; how enforced.—The father, grandfather, brother, mother, grandmother, child, or grandchild of any poor persons, unable to maintain themselves, being of sufficient ability, must support such persons; and failing so to do, any county in the state, having made provisions for such persons, may sue their father, grandfather, brother, mother, grandmother, child, or grandchild, of full age, or either of them, before any court having jurisdiction, and recover, at the rate of eight dollars a month, for the time such county has made provision for such persons; the court or jury, trying the same, being satisfied from the evidence that the defendant was of sufficient ability to provide for their support.

3234 (1467) (1731) (1448) (1213). Certificate of judge of probate evidence of maintenance.—On the trial, the certificate of the judge of probate of the county, that the person was poor and unable to maintain himself, and that he was maintained for such a time at the expense of the county, is presumptive evidence of such facts.

3235 (1468) (1732) (1449) (1214). Costs not to be taxed against county on failure.—Should the county fail to recover, no costs are to be taxed against the plaintiff, except for witnesses attending on behalf of such plaintiff.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1007.

3236. County may appropriate money in aid of indigent Confederate soldier or sailor.—The commissioners' courts and county boards of revenue are authorized, in their discretion, to appropriate out of the county funds, a sum not exceeding forty dollars per annum, payable quarterly, in aid of any indigent Confederate soldier or sailor who is, by reason of blindness or the loss of a leg or an arm, totally disabled from physical labor.

3237 (1469) (1733) (3201) (2762). Pauper lunatics supported by the overseer of the poor.—If an idiot or insane person has no estate, and no person is willing to become his guardian, the judge of probate must place him in charge of the overseer of the poor, who must provide for his safe-keeping and sustenance, and may call on his relations to aid in his support, under the provisions of this chapter.

3238 (1470) (1746) (1465) (1219). Captain of vessel bringing paupers to the state, to give bond; penalty for breach; penalty for refusal.—Any person, commanding any vessel which brings into this state any infant, lunatic, maimed, deaf, dumb, aged, or infirm person, who is likely to become chargeable to any county, may be brought before any judge of probate, and if such judge is satisfied that such person will probably be a charge to any county, he must require such master to enter into bond, payable to the state, with sureties resident in the state, to be approved by such judge, in the sum of five hundred dollars for each of such persons so brought, conditioned to pay all such expenses as any county in the state may incur in the support of such person; which bond must be filed and kept by such judge, and, on its condition being broken, may be sued on, and a recovery had in different actions to the amount of the penalty thereof, in the name of the state, for the use of any county; and on failure to give such bond, the judge must commit such master to jail until he gives the same, or is otherwise discharged by law.

3239 (1471) (1749) (1468). Sick prisoners in jail.—Whenever any insolvent person, confined in jail in any county of this state, on any criminal charge, becomes sick and requires medical attention or medicine, the sheriff, or jailer of the county, must give notice to the probate judge of the county of the condition of such person, and the probate judge must, on receiving such notice, or on receiving information in any other manner of the sick and destitute condition of such person, employ a physician, and furnish medicines as may by him be prescribed for such sick person; and the reasonable expenses of such medical attendance and medicines shall constitute a valid claim against the county.

3240 (1472) (1747) (1466). Burial of the poor.—Upon the decease of any person having no estate, leaving no relative in the county with ability or estate adequate to defray his necessary burial expenses, such expenses are a charge upon the county in which such demise shall take place.

3241 (1473) (1748) (1467). Payment of expenses.—When a death occurs, as contemplated in the preceding section, the court of county commissioners, upon the presentation of the account properly verified, shall make an order requiring the payment of the necessary burial expenses to the party by whom the same were incurred.

CHAPTER 88.

PAWNBROKERS. 3242-3247.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1115, §1.

3242. Must keep book and give receipt showing transaction. Every person engaged in the business of pawnbroking, must, upon receiving as security for the loan of money or other thing of value, any personal property or chose in action, enter in a book a full description thereof, and give to the borrower a receipt setting forth the same description of the pledge and stating the amount of the debt and the date when the same is due.

Ib. §1.

3243. Omitting to make such entry and give such receipt forfeits debt and security.—Any pawnbroker who shall fail to make the entry or to give the receipt required by the provisions of the preceding section forfeits the debt and all right to the security, and the property pledged may be recovered by the borrower.

3244. Book open to the inspection of the public.—The book mentioned in the second preceding section must be kept open to the examination of the public during business hours.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1115, §2.

3245. Sales by pawnbrokers must be by auction after notice. All sales of pledges made by pawnbrokers must be at public auction after five days' notice thereof, given by advertisement in a newspaper published in the city or town where the pledge was made, of the time and place of sale, in which advertisement the thing to be sold must be described as in the receipt given to the borrower.

Ib. §2.

3246. Pledge not to be sold until after sixty days.—No pledge must be sold until after the expiration of sixty days from the date when the pledge was delivered to the pawnbroker. Any sale made contrary to the provisions of this section is void, and the pledge may be recovered by the borrower.

3247. Borrower may pay debt, interest and costs before sale. The borrower may at any time prior to the sale, pay or tender to the pawnbroker the debt and interest thereon, together with the cost of advertising the sale, if the sale has been advertised, and such payment or tender has the effect to reinvest the borrower with the title and right of possession to the property pledged.

CHAPTER 89.

PHARMACISTS. 3248-3259.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 106, §8.

3248. Board of pharmacy.—A board of pharmacy is established. Such board shall consist of three members who shall have been resident citizens of this state for five years and shall have had at least five years' practical experience in pharmacy. One member of the board shall be appointed by the governor each year and shall hold office for three years and until his successor is appointed and qualified. The governor shall have power to fill any vacancy and the appointee in such case shall hold office for the unexpired term and until his successor is appointed and qualified.

3249. Power to make regulations.—The board of pharmacy shall have power to make by-laws and all necessary regulations, and create auxiliary boards when necessary, for the fulfillment of its duties under this chapter; but no such by-law or regulation shall entail any expense upon the state. Ib.

3250. Register of pharmacists.—The board shall keep a register of the names and places of residence of all persons to whom it may issue certificates as herein provided and the dates thereof. Ib. §4.

3251. Examinations.—The board shall, at such times and places and in such manner as it may determine, examine every person who shall desire to conduct the business of selling at retail, compounding or dispensing drugs, medicines, or chemicals, for medical use, or compounding or dispensing as pharmacists prescriptions prepared by physicians, and who shall pay to the board a fee of three dollars for such examination. Ib. §5.

3252. Certificates.—The board shall issue to every person who shall pass the examination as to his fitness to practice pharmacy satisfactorily, a certificate of competency, and shall enter his name upon the registry herein provided. Ib. §§5, 6.

3253. Persons not pharmacists may keep drug-store, when. Any person not a pharmacist may keep a drug-store if he shall constantly keep employed therein a registered pharmacist or druggist. But the proprietor of such drug-store, who is not himself a registered pharmacist, shall not himself sell or dispense drugs and medicines except proprietary and patent medicines in original packages. Ib. §5.

3254. Poisons must be labeled.—It shall be unlawful for any person to retail arsenic or any of its preparations, corrosive sublimate, white or red precipitate, biniodide of mercury, cyanide of potassium, hydrocyanic acid, strychnia, or any poisonous vegetable alkaloids or their salts, or the essential oil of almonds, opium or its preparations, except paregoric and other preparations of opium containing less than two grains to the ounce, aconite, belladonna, colchicum, conium, nux vomica, henbane, savine, ergot, cotton-root, cantharides, creosote, veratrum, digitalis, and their pharmaceutical preparations, croton oil, chloroform, chloral hydrate, sulphate of zinc, mineral acids, carbolic and oxalic acids, without labeling the box, vessel, or paper in which the said poison is contained with the name of the article, the word "Poison," and the name and place of business of the seller. Nor shall it be lawful for any person to sell or deliver any of the poisons herein enumerated unless, upon due inquiry, he shall find that the purchaser is aware of its poisonous character and represents that it is to be used for a legitimate purpose. But the provisions of this section shall not apply to the dis- Ib. §8.

pensing of poisons in not unusual quantities or doses upon the prescriptions of licensed practitioners of medicine, nor to manufacturers making and selling poisons at wholesale.

Feb. 14, 1895, p. 569.

3255. Physicians may sell and compound drugs.—Every physician who is licensed to practice medicine under the law of this state is also authorized to fill the prescriptions of other physicians, compound and sell medicines and poisons, and carry on the business of a pharmacist.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 106, §12.

3256. Pharmacists must post certificate.—Every registered pharmacist must conspicuously post his certificate of registration in his place of business.

Feb. 25, 1889, p. 59, §§1, 2.

3257. Unlawful to engage in business of pharmacy unless registered.—It shall be unlawful for any person not a registered pharmacist, except as herein otherwise provided, to carry on any pharmacy, drug-store, apothecary-shop, or store for the purpose of retailing, compounding or dispensing drugs, medicines, or poisons for medicinal uses. And it shall be unlawful for the proprietor of any pharmacy, drug-store, apothecary-shop, or store, to allow any person not a registered pharmacist to compound or dispense the prescriptions of physicians, or to retail drugs, poisons, or medicines for medicinal uses, except as an aid to, and under the supervision of, a registered pharmacist.

Ib.

3258. Territorial operation of statute.—The rules and regulations provided in this chapter for the government of pharmacists and the practice of pharmacy, shall operate only in cities and towns having a population of nine hundred, or more, and within two miles in every direction from the corporate limits of such cities and towns.*

3259 (1318) (1524, 1526) (1231, 1234) (977, 980). Contracts for the sale of drugs, when void.—Every contract for the sale of drugs or medicines is void unless the seller of such drugs or medicines has authority to deal in drugs and medicines, obtained according to the provisions of this chapter; but proof of such authority must not be required unless two days' notice to make the same is given before the trial of any suit brought to recover the value of such drugs or medicines.

*On the 18th of February, 1897, an act was approved (Pamph. Acts, p. 1450), amending certain sections of the original acts here revised and codified. It is not practicable, without codification, to here incorporate the provisions of the amendatory act. Its effect is to reduce the minimum, so that the statute will apply to towns and cities of five hundred or more inhabitants, and within two miles thereof; and to fix the fee for registration and certificate as a pharmacist, at three dollars without examination, and five dollars with examination.

PHYSICIANS. 3260-3267.

3260 (1301) (1530). Board of medical examiners.—The board of censors of the Medical Association of the State of Alabama, organized in pursuance of the constitution thereof adopted at Tuscaloosa, in March, 1873, and the board of censors of the several county medical societies in affiliation with the association, and organized in pursuance of its constitution, are constituted boards of medical examiners having the authority and subject to the duties hereinafter prescribed.

3261 (1302) (1528). Certificate of qualification must be obtained. Without a certificate of qualification from an authorized board of medical examiners, no person must engage in or pursue the practice of medicine in any of its branches or departments as a profession or means of livelihood.

Harrison v. Jones, 80 Ala. 412; Brooks v. State, 88 Ala. 122; Stough v. State, 88 Ala. 234; Nelson v. State, 97 Ala. 79; Nicholson v. State, 100 Ala. 132; Harrison v. State, 102 Ala. 170; Bell v. State, 104 Ala. 79; McCurry v. Gibson, 108 Ala. 451.

3262 (1303) (1531). Standard of qualification.—The standard of qualification, the method or system, and the subjects of examination of practitioners of medicine, shall be prescribed by the Medical Association of the State of Alabama, and must be observed by the boards of medical examiners.

3263 (1304) (1532). Certificate of qualification.—It shall be the duty of the board of medical examiners, on application, to examine an applicant for a certificate of qualification as a practitioner of medicine, according to the rules and regulations made by the Medical Association of the state, and if found qualified and of good moral character, to issue to him a certificate of qualification. For such certificate no fee or charge must be made by the board of examiners; but any actual expenses necessarily incurred by the board in making or supervising such examination, not including the personal expenses of any member of the board attending such examination, must be paid by the applicant.

3266 (1318) (1524, 1526) (1231, 1234) (977, 980). Contracts for medical services, when void.—Every contract or agreement, express or implied, the consideration of which is the service of a physician or surgeon, is void, unless the physician or surgeon has authority to practice obtained according to the provisions of this chapter. But proof of such authority must not be required, unless two days' notice to make the same is given before the trial of any suit brought to recover the value of such services.

3267 (1308) (1535). Midwives.—The provisions of this chapter do not apply to women engaged in the practice of midwifery.

ARTICLE 1.

THE SUMMONS.

3268 (2651) (2924) (2558) (2160). Civil actions commenced by summons.—All civil actions in courts of record, except in such cases as are otherwise provided by this Code, must be commenced by the service of summons.

A general appearance or written acceptance of service of complaint renders summons unnecessary.—Birmingham Flooring Mills v. Wilder, 85 Ala. 593; Ward v. Manly, Ala. (21 So. 307). In common-law ejectment, notice from plaintiff brings defendant into court.—Cruise v. Riddle, 21 Ala. 791. Suing out of summons and complaint is commencement of suit.—E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Bayliss, 74 Ala. 150. Summons sued out when placed with sheriff to be served.—West v. Engel, 101 Ala. 509. Quo warranto, mandamus, etc., not civil actions.—Capital City Water Co. v. State, 105 Ala. 406.

3269 (2652) (2925) (2559) (2161). Summons and complaint. The summons must be issued by the clerk of the court, and be accompanied by the complaint of the plaintiff, signed by him or his attorney, setting forth the cause of action.

Complaint must be signed by plaintiff or his attorney.—Browder v. Gaston, 30 Ala. 677. In detinue, when failure of clerk to sign summons will not reverse judgment by default.—Baker v. Swift, 87 Ala. 530. Statute refers to actions to recover money or property, not to extraordinary remedies, such as mandamus, quo warranto, etc.—Capital City Water Co. v. State, 105 Ala. 406.

3270 (2653) (2926) (2560) (2162). Form.—The summons must be in the following form:

"The State of Alabama, —— county. } To any sheriff of the State of Alabama:

You are hereby commanded to summon A. B. to appear at the next term of the circuit court, to be held for said county at the place of holding the same, then and there to answer the complaint of C. D. Witness my hand, this —— day of ———.

E. F., Clerk."

Summons, not signed by clerk, will not support judgment by default. Costley v. Driver, 45 Ala. 230; Wilson v. Owens, Ib. 451; Winnemore v. Mathews, Ib. 449; Sheppard v. Powers, 50 Ala. 377. Otherwise in detinue if order of seizure indorsed on summons be officially signed.—Baker v. Swift, 87 Ala. 530. Acknowledgment of service and waiver of notice and copy waives all defects in summons.—Earbee v. Ware, 9 Port. 291; Ayres v. Hill, 82 Ala. 401; Ward v. Manly, Ala. (21 So. 307). Need not state place where nor day on which court will be held.—Yonge v. Broxson, 23 Ala. 684. Date and form not conlusive.—Huss v. Central R. & B. Co., 66 Ala. 472. Omission of words "at next term" not fatal.—Davis v. McCary, 100 Ala. 545.

3271 (2654) (2927) (2561) (2163). Branch summons when defendants in different counties.—When any joint or joint and several cause of action exists, and the defendants reside or may be found in different counties, a summons may issue from the court having jurisdiction of any one of such defendants, and be executed in any county, which must be returned and filed in the court from which the process issued, and constitute but one suit, in the same manner as if but one summons had issued against all the defendants; and it is the duty of the clerk, on issuing such branch summons, to indorse thereon that it is a branch of the original suit, and that all the summons constitute one suit, and are for one and the same cause of action.

Omission of name of one defendant from branch summons to two others does not make summons void.—Lewis v. Grace, 44 Ala. 307. Each summons should be a counterpart of the other; a variance is only pleadable in abatement, and may be cured by amendment.—Mayo v. Stoneum, 2 Ala. 390; Boardman v. Parrish, 56 Ala. 54.

3272 (2655) (2932) (2564) (2165). Execution and return of summons.—The summons must be executed by the sheriff or other officer in any county, by leaving a copy of the summons and complaint with the defendant, which fact he must return with the process.

Recitals of judgment may be sufficient to show jurisdiction of person without service.—Owings v. Binford, 80 Ala. 421; M. & C. R. Co. v. Whorley, 74 Ala. 264. General appearance a waiver of defect in service.—Kennedy v. Young, 25 Ala. 563; Goldsmith v. Stetson, 39 Ala. 183; Peebles v. Weir, 60 Ala. 413; McCaskey v. Pollock, 82 Ala. 174; Birmingham Flooring Mills v. Wilder, 85 Ala. 593; Rosenberg v. Claflin, 95 Ala. 249; Carter v. O'Bryan Bros., 105 Ala. 305. Special appearance to move setting aside of service not a waiver.

Lampley v. Beavers, 25 Ala. 534. Written acceptance of service waives official service.—Norwood v. Riddle, 1 Ala. 195; Ward v. Manley, Ala. (21 So. 307). When return shows no service.—Melvin v. Clark, 45 Ala. 285. Officers, making returns, may use initial letters to indicate official character. Eslava v. Ames Plow Co., 47 Ala. 384. What sufficient return of service. Snelgrove v. Branch Bank, 5 Ala. 295; Lenoir v. Broadhead, 50 Ala. 58; Veasey v. Brigman, 93 Ala. 548. Service on Sunday a mere irregularity.—Comer v. Jackson, 50 Ala. 384.

3273 (2656) (2933) (2551) (2153). Service on one representative sufficient.—When there are two or more executors or administrators of an estate, service of summons on one is sufficient.

Where service had on one representative, discontinuance as to others discontinues action.—Huff v. Davison, 44 Ala. 273.

3274 (2657) (2934) (2568) (2169). How corporation served. When the suit is against a corporation the summons may be executed by the delivery of a copy of the summons and complaint to the president or other head thereof, secretary, cashier, station-agent, or any other agent thereof.

When municipality defendant, service on mayor proper.—Lyon v. Lorant, 3 Ala. 151. Return of sheriff not proof of official character of president, secretary, agent, etc.; independent proof necessary to support judgment by default.—Lyon v. Lorant, 3 Ala. 151; W. & C. R. Co. v. Cole, 6 Ala. 655; Oxford Iron Co. v. Spradley, 42 Ala. 24; So. Express Co. v. Carroll, 42 Ala. 437; Talladega Ins. Co. v. McCullough, 42 Ala. 667; M. & E. R. Co. v. Hartwell, 43 Ala. 508; Talladega Ins. Co. v. Woodward, 44 Ala. 287; M. & C. R. Co. v. Whorley, 74 Ala. 264; Manhattan F. Ins. Co. v. Fowler, 76 Ala. 372; Oxanna Building Asso. v. Agee, 99 Ala. 571, 591; Independent Pub. Co. v. Am. Press Asso., 102 Ala. 475. Erroneous default judgment by justice of the peace against corporation without proof of official character of person served revisable by common-law certiorari.—Independent Pub. Co. v. Am. Press Asso., 102 Ala. 475. Director only not head or managing agent of corporation.—Ala. & Tenn. R. Co. v. Burns, 43 Ala. 169. Officer, etc., on whom service might be made, competent to accept service.—Talladega Ins. Co. v. Woodward, 44 Ala. 287. The statute embraces foreign corporations.—West. Un. Tel. Co. v. Pleasants, 46 Ala. 641; Sullivan v. Sullivan Timber Co., 103 Ala. 371. When ordinary suits against foreign corporations authorized.—Central R. Co. v. Carr, 76 Ala. 388; Kahl v. M. & C. R. Co., 95 Ala. 337; R. & D. R. Co. v. Trousdale, 99 Ala. 389.

Feb. 26, 1887, p. 68.

3275. Service on person or corporation operating railroad of a domestic corporation.—Whenever any railroad corporation created by the authority of this state, shall permit its railroad to be used or operated by any other person or corporation, whether by contract or otherwise, process issuing against the person or corporation so using or operating such railroad, may be served upon any station-agent or person in charge of any depot along the line of such railroad.

Has no reference to railroads operated by receivers.—Ex parte Charles, 106 Ala. 203. (See section 804.)

3276. Publication against domestic corporation, other than railroad corporation, having no officer or agent in the state. Whenever it is shown by affidavit that the president or other head of a domestic corporation, the secretary, cashier and managing agent thereof are absent from the state, and that in the belief of affiant there is no person in the employ of such corporation or doing business for it in this state, such corporation may be served with any legal process issuing from any court of record in this state, by publication in some newspaper published in the county where suit is brought, or, if there is no newspaper published in the county where suit is brought, in the newspaper published nearest the place of trial; and a copy of such newspaper containing such notice must be sent by mail to the president, secretary, cashier or other agent of such corporation, at his place of residence, if known; and if such publication is perfected twenty days before the next term of the court, the case shall stand for trial at that term; otherwise at the succeeding term, or any other term after the perfection twenty days prior thereto. This section does not apply to railroad corporations.

3277. Service on designated agent of foreign corporation; proof of agency.—When a foreign corporation has filed an instrument in writing designating one or more agents in this state as provided by this Code, process issuing against such foreign corporation may be served upon any agent so designated; and the certificate of the secretary of state, or of the auditor, as the case may be, showing such designation, is evidence of the fact of such agency. If the agent designated by such foreign corporation shall die, resign, remove from the state, or his authority shall cease from any cause, and no other agent shall be designated by such foreign corporation, the service of process issuing against it may be made upon the secretary of state, or, if the process be against an insurance company, upon the auditor; and the officer serving such process upon the secretary of state, or the auditor, as the case may be, must immediately transmit a copy thereof by mail to such corporation, at its home office, and state such fact in his return.*

3278. Service of process in real action when defendant secretes himself; publication by sheriff on affidavit.—When the defendant in any real action secretes himself so that process cannot be served upon him, the sheriff must, upon proof thereof being made by affidavit filed with him, advertise the summons and complaint once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county in which the real estate in controversy lies; or, if there be no newspaper published in such county, in a newspaper published in an adjoining county; and a copy of such newspaper containing such notice must be sent by mail to the defendant at his last known place of residence; and such publication, when perfected, has the same force and effect as personal service. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 85.

3279 (2658) (2936) (2572) (2173). When executed in adjoining county, or within the state.—When the summons or other process issues to the sheriff of the county in which the defendant resides, he may execute it in an adjoining county if the defendant is there found; or may pursue the defendant and execute it in any part of the state.

3280 (2659) (2937) (2573) (2174). Summons to county executed on judge of probate.—When a county is a defendant, the summons must be executed by leaving a copy of the summons and complaint with the judge of probate.

3281 (2660) (2938) (2570) (2171). When executed by coroner or special coroner.—When the office of sheriff is vacant, and until his successor is qualified, or when the sheriff is imprisoned, or in cases in which the sheriff is a party, or is interested, or otherwise is incompetent to act, if such interest or cause appear on the face of the proceedings, the summons must be directed to, and executed by the coroner; and if such interest or cause does not appear on the face of the proceedings, the coroner must execute the summons, though directed to the sheriff, if the judge of probate, on proper showing by affidavit, direct the execution thereof by the coroner; and when in such cases the coroner has not qualified, or the office is vacant, or when the coroner is absent from the county, having no deputy therein, or when the coroner is imprisoned, or when he is a party to, or interested in the suit, the summons must be directed to, and executed by a special coroner, to be appointed by the judge of probate.

3282 (2661) (2939) (2565) (2166). Summons executed three days before return.—The summons must be executed at least three days before the return-day thereof, and be returned to the office whence it issued on or before the return-day; but when the summons has been executed twenty days or more before the return-day, it must be returned five days after the execution thereof.

Mode of computation stated.—Garner v. Johnson, 22 Ala. 494; Thrower v. Brandon, 89 Ala. 406.

3283 (2662) (2940) (2566) (2167). When returned, if issued less than three days before term.—When the summons is issued less than three days before the term of the court next thereafter, it must be made returnable to the next succeeding term.

Omission of term from summons not fatal—law fixes return-term.—Davis v. McCary, 100 Ala. 545.

3284 (2663) (2941) (2567) (2168). Return-day.—The return-day of the summons is the first day of the court to which it is returnable.

Davis v. McCary, 100 Ala. 545.

GENERAL RULES OF PLEADING.

3285 (2664) (2978) (2629) (2227). Pleadings to be short; no objection for want of form.—All pleadings must be as brief as is consistent with perspicuity, and the presentation of the facts, or matter to be put in issue, in an intelligible form; no objection can be allowed for defect of form, if facts are so presented that a material issue in law or fact can be taken by the adverse party thereon.

Brief but clear presentation of facts on which material issue can be taken all that is necessary.—Clark v. Goddard, 39 Ala. 164; Randolph v. Sharpe, 42 Ala. 265; Hall v. Brazelton, 46 Ala. 359; S. & N. Ala. R. Co. v. Thompson, 62 Ala. 494; M. & M. R. Co. v. Crenshaw, 65 Ala. 566; C. & W. R. Co. v. Bridges, 86 Ala. 448; Jones v. Darden, 90 Ala. 372; Stanton v. L. & N. R. Co., 91 Ala. 382; Ensley Ry. Co. v. Chewning, 93 Ala. 24; Oxford Lake Line Co. v. Stedham, 101 Ala. 376; Kolsky v. Enslen, 103 Ala. 97. Improper to join several distinct causes of action in one count of complaint.—H. A. & H. R. Co. v. Dusenbury, 94 Ala. 413; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Burton, 97 Ala. 240; L. & N. R. Co. v. Mothershed, 97 Ala. 261; L. & N. R. Co. v. Cofer, 110 Ala. 491.

3286 (2665) (2979) (2630) (2228). Pleadings struck out for prolixity on motion.—If any pleading is unnecessarily prolix, irrelevant, or frivolous, it may be stricken out at the costs of the party so pleading, on motion of the adverse party; and any pleading which conforms substantially to the schedule of forms in this Code is sufficient.

When motion to strike proper.—Cotton v. Ward, 45 Ala. 359; Ware v. St. Louis Co., 47 Ala. 667; L. & N. R. Co. v. Hall, 91 Ala. 112; Kennon v. W. U. Tel. Co., 92 Ala. 399; Cole v. Tuck, 108 Ala. 227; Treadwell v. Tillis, 108 Ala. 262; Davis v. L. & N. R. Co., 108 Ala. 660. Motion to strike not equivalent of demurrer—when not proper.—Lindsay v. Morris, 100 Ala. 546; Davis v. L. & N. R. Co., 108 Ala. 660; McAnally v. Lumber Co., 109 Ala. 397; Powell v. Crawford, 110 Ala. 294. Refusal to strike not reversible error, unless injury affirmatively appears.—Goldsmith v. Picard, 27 Ala. 142; C. & W. R. Co. v. Bridges, 86 Ala. 448; Davis v. L. & N. R. Co., 108 Ala. 660. Forms prescribed by Code have force of law—others of like brevity and perspicuity sufficient. Letondal v. Huguenin, 26 Ala. 552; Pickens v. Oliver, 29 Ala. 528; Crimm v. Crawford, 29 Ala. 623; Pike v. Elliott, 36 Ala. 69; Lang v. Waters, 47 Ala. 624; Munter v. Rogers, 50 Ala. 283; S. & N. Ala. R. Co. v. Thompson, 62 Ala. 494; Herring v. Skaggs, 73 Ala. 446; Com. F. Ins. Co. v. Capital City Ins. Co., 81 Ala. 320.

3287 (2666) (2980) (2631) (2229). Complaint for defamation. No colloquium or innuendo is necessary in actions for defamation; it is sufficient to state in the complaint that the defendant falsely and maliciously charged the plaintiff with perjury, larceny, or other crime, or as the case may be, in substance as follows, setting it out.

3288 (2667) (2981) (2632) (2230). Consideration of sealed instrument may be inquired into.—The defendant may by plea impeach or inquire into the consideration of a sealed instrument in the same manner as if it had not been sealed.

Does not interfere with rule as to variation of effect of writing by parol. Kinnebrew v. Kinnebrew, 35 Ala. 628. Special plea necessary.—Johnson v. Coffey, 59 Ala. 331. What sufficient plea of no consideration.—Giles v. Williams, 3 Ala. 316; Kolsky v. Enslen, 103 Ala. 97 (distinguishing Phœnix Ins. Co. v. Moog, 78 Ala. 284; Carmelich v. Mims, 88 Ala. 335; Darby v. Berney Nat. Bank, 97 Ala. 643; McAfee v. Glen Mary C. & C. Co., 97 Ala. 709).

3289 (2668) (2982, 3033) (2633, 2771) (2231, 2367). Assignment of breaches on penal bond.—In actions upon penal bonds or other writings, for the non-performance of any covenant or agreement contained therein, the plaintiff may assign such breaches as he may deem proper, and verdict and judgment may be rendered for the plaintiff for such of the breaches as he may prove; and if judgment be rendered for the plaintiff by default or nil dicit, a writ of inquiry of damages must be awarded. Judgment shall in no case exceed principal and interest due on the instrument.

Separate assignment of breaches.—Gaines v. Shelton, 47 Ala. 413; Sloss I. & S. Co. v. Macon Co., 111 Ala. 554.

3290 (2670) (2984) (2635) (2233). Profert dispensed with; notice to produce.—No profert of a sealed instrument is required in pleading, but, at any time previous to the trial, the defendant may have inspection of the bond or other instrument sued on, upon notice to the attorney of the party; or when an account is the foundation of the suit, a list of the items composing it.

Bills of particulars; purpose served when list of items supplied.—Boykins v. Persons, 95 Ala. 626. May be amended to conform to amendment of complaint as to party plaintiff, s. c. Object to prevent surprise; liberal rules govern in their construction.—Robinson v. Allison, 36 Ala. 525; Fountain v. Ware, 56 Ala. 558; M. & B. R. Co. v. Worthington, 95 Ala. 598. Not demandable in action on notes.—Doss v. Peterson, 82 Ala. 253. Demand of list of items not a waiver of defense of misnomer.—Oates v. Clendenard, 87 Ala. 734. Objection to sufficiency of list must be made before trial.—Pryor v. Johnson, 32 Ala. 27. Bill of particulars not part of record, unless embraced in bill of exceptions. Hayes v. Woods, 72 Ala. 92. Objection that account introduced is variant from list furnished, not available, when first made on appeal.—White v. Craft, 91 Ala. 139.

ARTICLE 3.

THE COMPLAINT AND OTHER PLEADINGS.

3291 (2671) (2985) (2636) (2234). Complaint accompanies summons.—The complaint, which must in all cases accompany the summons, is in lieu of a declaration, and must be signed by the plaintiff or his attorney.

Signed by plaintiff or his attorney.—Browder v. Gaston, 30 Ala. 677. When amendment need not be signed.—Payne v. Crawford, 97 Ala. 604.

3292 (2672) (2986) (2637) (2235). Actions on contracts united in one suit.—All actions on contracts, express or implied, for the payment of money, whether under seal or not, may be united in the same action.

Purpose and effect of statute stated.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Cofer, 110 Ala. 491. Joinder of actions ex contractu.—Walker v. Ins. Co., 31 Ala. 529; Mahan v. Smitherman, 71 Ala. 563; Lagerfelt v. McKie, 100 Ala. 430; Steiner Bros. v. Clisby, 103 Ala. 181; Treadwell v. Tillis, 108 Ala. 262; Woodlawn v. Purvis, 108 Ala. 511; York Mfg. Co. v. Storage Co., 111 Ala. 332; T. & C. R. Co. v. Danforth, 112 Ala. 80. Counts ex delicto may not be joined with others ex contractu.—Whilden v. Bank, 64 Ala. 1; Wilson v. Stewart, 69 Ala. 302; Chambers v. Seay, 73 Ala. 372; s. c., 87 Ala. 558; Mobile L. Ins. Co. v. Randall, 74 Ala. 176; Capital City Water Co. v. City Council, 92 Ala. 366; Smith v. R. Co., 98 Ala. 154; Gurley v. McAnally, 109 Ala. 359; Baldwin v. R. Co., 111 Ala. 515. Misjoinder cause of demurrer to entire complaint.—Shotwell v. Gilkey, 31 Ala. 724; Whilden v. Bank, 64 Ala. 1; Baldwin v. R. Co., 111 Ala. 515.

3293 (2673). Joinder of trover, trespass and case.—Counts in trover, trespass and trespass on the case may be joined, when they relate to the same subject-matter.*

Formerly trover and trespass could not be joined.—Mecklin v. Deming, 111 Ala. 159. Trover and case could always be joined.—Dixon v. Barclay, 22 Ala. 370; Wilkinson v. Moseley, 30 Ala. 562; Elmore v. Simon, 67 Ala. 526; Henry v. Allen, 93 Ala. 197. Joinder of trespass and case by virtue of statute. Joseph v. Henderson, 95 Ala. 213; Buckalew v. R. Co., 112 Ala. 146.

3294 (2674) (2987) (2638) (2236). Form and substance of plea. The plea must consist of a succinct statement of the facts relied on in bar or abatement of the suit, and no objection can be taken thereto, if the facts are so stated that a material issue can be taken thereon.

Pleas in bar and in abatement stand upon same footing in respect to form. Hall v. Brazelton, 46 Ala. 359; Lang v. Waters, 47 Ala. 624; Mohr v. Chaffe, 75 Ala. 387. Each plea must be complete in itself.—Jones v. State, 100 Ala. 451. Pleas in short good, if not objected to.—Jackson v. Jackson, 7 Ala. 791; Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489; Cotton v. Ward, 45 Ala. 359. Pleas in short, how interpreted.—Steele v. Walker, Ala. (21 So. 942). Oral plea in abatement not receivable.—Crawford v. State, 112 Ala. 1. When formal pleadings will be treated as waived.—R. & D. R. Co. v. Farmer, 97 Ala. 141; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Burton, 97 Ala. 240; Andrews v. R. Co., 99 Ala. 438; Knight v.

*"Trover" inserted by joint committee.

Bradley, 101 Ala. 517; N. C. & St. L. Ry. Co. v. Hammond, 104 Ala. 191; Comer v. Way, 107 Ala. 300. Effect of immaterial issue; repleader.—Irion v. Lewis, 56 Ala. 190; Mudge v. Treat, 57 Ala. 1; Ex parte Pearce, 80 Ala. 195; Winter v. Pool, 100 Ala. 503; Taylor v. Smith, 104 Ala. 537. Plea should contain statement of facts; not legal conclusions.—Tenn. C. I. & R. Co. v. Herndon, 100 Ala. 451; Kolsky v. Enslen, 103 Ala. 97; Johnson v. R. Co., 104 Ala. 241; Milligan v. Pollard, 112 Ala. 465. See also citations to section 3285.

3295 (2675) (2988) (2639) (2237). Pleas general or special. The defendant may plead more pleas than one; and, if he does not rely solely on a denial of the plaintiff's cause of action, must plead specially the matter of defense. In all actions for defamation, or for injuries to the person, or to real or personal property, the general issue is "not guilty," and puts in issue all the material allegations of the complaint; in all other actions the general issue is an averment that the allegations of the complaint are untrue, and, except as may be otherwise provided, puts in issue only the truth of such allegations.

May plead more pleas than one; effect of inconsistent pleas.—Hopkinson v. Shelton, 37 Ala. 306; L. & N. R. Co. v. Hall, 87 Ala. 708; McDonald v. Ry., 110 Ala. 161; Stephenson v. Wright, 111 Ala. 579. Pleas in bar and in abatement may not be pleaded together.—Strouse v. Leipf, 101 Ala. 433. When special plea necessary.—Petty v. Dill, 53 Ala. 641; Daniel v. Hardwick, 88 Ala. 557; Lunsford v. Walker, 93 Ala. 36; Odum v. R. Co., 94 Ala. 488; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Crocker, 95 Ala. 412; Marlowe v. Rogers, 102 Ala. 510; Am. Oak. Ex. Co. v. Ryan, 112 Ala. 337. Denial of character in which plaintiff sues or defendant is sued must be specially pleaded.—Clarke v. Clarke, 51 Ala. 498; L. & N. R. Co. v. Trammell, 93 Ala. 350; Espalla v. Richard, 94 Ala. 159. Scope of general issue.—Phillips v. Kelly, 29 Ala. 628; Stein v. Ashby, 30 Ala. 363; Kannady v. Lambert, 37 Ala. 57; Petty v. Dill, 53 Ala. 641; Howland v. Wallace, 81 Ala. 238; A. G. L. Ins. Co. v. Ins. Co., 81 Ala. 329; Lunsford v. Walker, 93 Ala. 36; L. & N. R. Co. v. Trammell, 93 Ala. 350; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Crocker, 95 Ala. 412; Fields v. Brice, 108 Ala. 632; Scarborough v. Blackman, 108 Ala. 656; Am. Oak. Ex. Co. v. Ryan, 112 Ala. 337. Averment that allegations of complaint are untrue as general issue.—A. G. S. R. Co. v. Frazier, 93 Ala. 45; L. & N. R. Co. v. Trammell, 93 Ala. 350 (overruling M. & M. Ry. Co. v. Gilmer, 85 Ala. 422, and Ec. Ac. Ins. Co. v. Osborn, 90 Ala. 201); Mayor, etc., of Decatur v. White, 109 Ala. 389; Berlin M. Wks. v. Furniture Co., 112 Ala. 488. Not guilty is not general issue in assumpsit.—Espalla v. Richard, 94 Ala. 159; Cunyus v. Guenther, 96 Ala. 564; Montgomery F. Co. v. Hardaway, 104 Ala. 100. General issue in detinue.—Lucas v. Pittman, 94 Ala. 616; Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Co. v. Worthington, 110 Ala. 332; Berlin M. Wks. v. Furniture Co., 112 Ala. 488. General issue in ejectment; special pleas unnecessary.—Bynum v. Gold, 106 Ala. 427 (explaining Slaughter v. Doe, 67 Ala. 494); Lomb v. Pioneer S. & L. Co., 106 Ala. 591; Richardson v. Stephens, Ala. (21 So. 949); Smith v. Cox, Ala. (22 So. 78).

3296 (2676) (2989) (2640) (2238). What pleas must be sworn to.—All pleas in abatement, unless it be of matter of record, pleas which deny the execution by the defendant, his agent, attorney, or partner, of any instrument in writing, the foundation of the suit, or the assignment of the same, or which set forth any instrument in writing, whether under seal or not, which is alleged to be lost or destroyed, and pleas since the last continuance must be verified by affidavit.

When agreement as to pleas does not cover sworn pleas.—Ala. & F. R. Co. v. Watson, 42 Ala. 75. Pleas in abatement.—Hall v. Wallace, 25 Ala. 438; Hall v. Brazelton, 46 Ala. 359; Tommey v. Gamble, 66 Ala. 469; Gaston v. State, 88 Ala. 459. Non est factum.—Martin v. Dortch, 1 Stew. 479; Fowlkes v. Baldwin, 2 Ala. 705; Lazarus v. Shearer, Ib. 718; McWhorter v. Lewis, 4 Ala. 198; Bryan v. Wilson, 27 Ala. 208; McDougald v. Rutherford, 30 Ala. 253; Ala. Mining Co. v. Brainard, 35 Ala. 476; M. & E. R. Co. v. Trebles, 44 Ala. 255; L. & N. R. Co. v. Trammell, 93 Ala. 350 (overruling Ec. Ac. Ins. Co. v. Osborn, 90 Ala. 201, and M. & M. R. Co. v. Gilmer, 85 Ala. 422); Levy v. Bloch, 88 Ala. 290; Lesser v. Scholze, 93 Ala. 338; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Cobb, 100 Ala.

228; Smith v. Hiles-Carver Co., 107 Ala. 272; Cain L. Co. v. Dry Kiln Co., 108 Ala. 346; Ledbetter v. Vinton, 108 Ala. 644; Milligan v. Pollard, 112 Ala. 465. Denying ownership of plaintiff.—Agee v. Medlock, 25 Ala. 281; Manning v. Maroney, 87 Ala. 563; Paige v. Broadfoot, 100 Ala. 610. Writing, the foundation of the suit.—First Nat. Bank v. Nelson, 106 Ala. 535. Since last continuance. McDougald v. Rutherford, 30 Ala. 253; Penn v. Edwards, 50 Ala. 63. Pleas of nul tiel corporation.—Smith v. Hiles-Carver Co., 107 Ala. 272. Statute also applicable to chancery suits.—Bonner v. Young, 68 Ala. 35; Smith v. Hiles-Carver Co., 107 Ala. 272.

3297 (2677) (2990) (2641) (2239). How character of plea determined.—Whether a plea is in bar or abatement, is ascertained by the subject-matter and prayer of the plea.

Day v. Huckabee, 60 Ala. 425; Mohr v. Chaffe, 75 Ala. 388.

Payment into court.—Alexander v. Caldwell, 61 Ala. 543; Ashworth v. State, 63 Ala. 120; Park v. Wiley, 67 Ala. 310; Frank v. Pickens, 69 Ala. 369; Foster v. Napier, 74 Ala. 393; Caldwell v. Smith, 77 Ala. 157; Com. F. Ins. Co. v. Allen, 80 Ala. 571; Maxwell v. Moore, 95 Ala. 166; Schuessler v. Simon, 100 Ala. 422; Christian v. Ins. Co., 101 Ala. 634; Beatty v. Brown, 101 Ala. 695. When payment with plea waived.—Rudulph v. Wagner, 36 Ala. 698. Payment into court not necessary in actions before justices of the peace.—Jonsen v. Nabring, 50 Ala. 392. Effect of acceptance of money paid in.—Hanson v. Todd, 95 Ala. 328; Gardner v. Black, 98 Ala. 638. Question of costs.—Schuessler v. Simon, 100 Ala. 422. Effect of tender on interest.—McCalley v. Otey, 99 Ala. 584.

3299 (2686) (3000) (2651) (2248). Plea since last continuance. A plea since the last continuance is not a waiver of any plea to the merits previously pleaded.

McDougald v. Rutherford, 30 Ala. 253; Dolberry v. Trice, 49 Ala. 207; Wright v. Evans, 53 Ala. 103; Dryer v. Lewis, 57 Ala. 551; Draper v. Walker, 98 Ala. 310; State v. Webb, 110 Ala. 214.

3300 (2687) (2999) (2650) (2247). Indorsement on pleas.—All pleas must, when filed, be indorsed by the clerk with the true date, and, for want of such indorsement, may be rejected by the court on motion, unless sufficient cause be shown.

3301 (2688) (3001, 3002, 3003) (2652, 2653, 2654) (2249, 2250, 2251). Replication.—The plaintiff may file more than one replication. The general replication is, "the plaintiff joins issue on said plea." A special replication is a brief statement, in plain language, of the facts relied on as an answer to the plea.

Replication must traverse or confess and avoid plea or present estoppel—departure not allowed.—Winter v. Bank, 54 Ala. 172; Christian v. Ins. Co., 101 Ala. 634; L. & N. R. Co. v. Mothershed, 110 Ala. 143; Watson v. Kirby, 112 Ala. 436; H. A. & B. R. Co. v. Smith, 112 Ala. 642. Special replication.—Lee v. Iron Co., 102 Ala. 628; Bridges v. R. Co., 109 Ala. 287; Davis v. Miller, 109 Ala. 589.

3302 (2689) (3004) (2655) (2252). Subsequent pleadings.—The rules of this chapter relative to pleas and replications apply to all subsequent pleadings.

3303 (2690) (3005) (2656) (2253). Demurrer.—No demurrer in pleading can be allowed but to matter of substance, which the party demurring specifies; and no objection can be taken or allowed which is not distinctly stated in the demurrer.

Only consider grounds stated.—Cotten v. Rutledge, 33 Ala. 110; Sledge v. Swift, 53 Ala. 110; Thompson v. Lassiter, 86 Ala. 536; Lakeside Land Co. v. Dromgoole, 89 Ala. 505; Behr v. Gerson, 95 Ala. 438; Mary Lee C. & R. Co. v. Chambliss, 97 Ala. 171; Baker v. Boon, 100 Ala. 622; Turner Coal Co. v. Glover, 101 Ala. 289; Culver v. Ry. Co., 108 Ala. 330; Ala. Nat. Bank v. Halsey, 109 Ala. 196. What is mere general demurrer.—Morris v. Beall, 85 Ala. 598; Evitt v. Banking Co., 96 Ala. 381; Cook v. Brick Co., 98 Ala. 409; West. Un. Tel. Co. v. Cunningham, 99 Ala. 314; Baker v. Boon, 100 Ala. 622; Payne v. Crawford, 102 Ala. 387; Tranum v. Drum, 112 Ala. 277; Browder v. Irby, 112 Ala. 379; Milligan v. Pollard, 112 Ala. 465. When ground not distinctly stated.—Burns v. Mayor, 34 Ala. 485; Helvenstein v. Higgason, 35 Ala. 259; Robbins v. Mendenhall, 35 Ala. 722; Pomeroy v. State, 40 Ala. 63; Ala. & F. R. Co. v. Watson, 42 Ala. 74; Donegan v. Wood, 49 Ala. 242; Courts v. Happle, 49 Ala. 254; Eads v. Murphy, 52 Ala. 520; Daniels v. Hamilton, 52 Ala. 105; Sledge v. Swift, 53 Ala. 110; Masterson v. Gibson, 56 Ala. 56; Troy v. Coleman, 58 Ala. 570; Brewer v. Watson, 65 Ala. 88; Grimmet v. Henderson, 66 Ala. 521; Williams v. Bowdin, 68 Ala. 126. When sufficiently stated.—Brock v. R. Co., 65 Ala. 79. Matter of substance.—Hall v. Brazelton, 46 Ala. 360. Demurrer to plea not visited on complaint.—Henley v. Bush, 33 Ala. 636; Elliott v. Holbrook, 33 Ala. 659; West. Assurance Co. v. McGlathery, Ala. (22 So. 104). Misjoinder must be specially assigned.—Owsley v. R. Co., 37 Ala. 560.

3304 (2691) (3006) (2657) (2254). Amendments; when allowed. Either before or after judgment on demurrer, the court must permit an amendment of the pleadings; and such amendment must cause no delay in the trial of the cause, unless injustice will thereby be done.

Russell v. Erwin, 38 Ala. 44; Jones v. Ritter, 56 Ala. 270; Day v. Huckabee, 60 Ala. 425; S. A. M. R. Co. v. Buford, 106 Ala. 303.

3305 (2692) (3007) (2658) (2255). Plea over after judgment on demurrer does not waive errors.—The party against whom a judgment on demurrer is rendered may plead over as a matter of right, without waiving his privilege of assigning such judgment as error in an appellate court, unless he has subsequently had the benefit sought by the demurrer upon the trial of other equivalent issues.

Williams v. Ivey, 37 Ala. 242; Phœnix Ins. Co. v. Moog, 78 Ala. 284; Seaboard Mfg. Co. v. Woodson, 94 Ala. 143; Chestnut v. Tyson, 105 Ala. 149.

3306 (2693) (3008) (2659) (2256). Terms for frivolous demurrer. If, in the opinion of the court, a demurrer is interposed without cause, terms may be imposed, not exceeding the costs of the action, or a continuance of the cause.

ARTICLE 4.

TRIAL TERM; GENERAL RULES OF PRACTICE.

3307 (2731) (3011) (2660) (2257). Trial term.—When the summons is executed twenty days previous to the return-term thereof, the cause must be placed on the trial-docket, and stands for trial at that term.

Statute applied.—Cumming v. Richard, 32 Ala. 459; Ware v. Willis, 45 Ala. 120; Thrower v. Brandon, 89 Ala. 406. How time computed.—Garner v. Johnson, 22 Ala. 494; Thrower v. Brandon, 89 Ala. 406. When summons not served for twenty days default judgment at return-term premature.—Ivey v. Perry, 97 Ala. 583.

3308 (2732) (3012, 3013, 3014) (2662, 2664, 2663) (2258, 2260, 2259). Time for pleading.—When the term of the court is but one week, the defendant must plead or demur to the complaint within the first day; and when the term of the court is more than one week, by noon of the second day; other pleadings may be filed in such time as the court may direct.*

Court may, in its irrevisable discretion, allow filing of plea at any time before trial.—Bobe v. Frowner, 18 Ala. 89; Newman v. Pryor, 18 Ala. 186; Lang v. Waters, 47 Ala. 624; Donald v. Nelson, 95 Ala. 111. Defendant has right to plead at any time before default entered.—Woosley v. R. Co., 28 Ala. 536; Rhodes v. McFarland, 43 Ala. 95; Wagnon v. Turner, 73 Ala. 197. But under acts governing certain special courts, rule is different.—Reed Lumber Co. v. Lewis, 94 Ala. 626; U. S. Rolling Stock Co. v. Weir, 96 Ala. 396; Hudson v. Wood, 102 Ala. 631.

3309 (2733) (3015) (2665) (2261). Causes set.—The trial causes must be set for particular days when the term of the court is more than one week, to which day the witnesses must be subpœnaed; and no cause in which the defendant has pleaded or demurred can be called for trial before the day for which it is set, except by consent.

3310 (2734) (3022) (2672) (2268). Copy of lost pleading.—If the original pleading be lost or withheld by any person, the court may order a copy to be filed in the place of the original.

When notice of motion to substitute presumed.—Thomasson v. Grace, 42 Ala. 431.

3311 (2735) (3019) (2669) (2265). Argument of counsel.—But two attorneys can argue on a side, except by leave of the court.

3312 (2736) (3027) (2677) (2273). Notice to attorney; effect of. Written notice to the attorney of record is as effectual as notice to the party to be affected by it, and may be executed by the sheriff, whose return of service is evidence of the fact.

Notice to attorney is notice to party.—Jackson v. Hughes, 6 Ala. 257; Jefford v. Ringgold, 6 Ala. 544; Simington v. Kent, 8 Ala. 691; Jennings v. Pearce, 101 Ala. 538; Cain Lumber Co. v. Dry Kiln Co., 108 Ala. 346.

3313 (2737) (3020) (2670) (2266). Nonsuits; when taken and effect of.—Nonsuits must be taken before the jury retire, and two nonsuits, not set aside at the term at which they are suffered, or reversed on error, are equivalent to a verdict against the party suffering them.

3314 (2738) (3021) (2671) (2267). Only two new trials granted. No more than two new trials can be granted the same party in any cause.

3315 (2739) (3120) (2768) (2365). Proceedings when amount sued for or recovered less than limit of jurisdiction.—If suit be brought on any moneyed demand for a less amount than that of which the court has jurisdiction, the suit must be dismissed; or if suit be brought for such amount, and a less sum be recovered, unless the amount is reduced below that of which the court has jurisdiction by a set-off successfully made by the defendant, the judgment must be set aside and the suit dismissed, unless he, or some one for him, make affidavit, which must be filed in the cause, that the amount sued for is actually due, and that a recovery for the true amount was prevented by failure of proof, the interposition of the statute of limitations, or some other sufficient cause, to be judged of by the court; and in that event he must have judgment for the reduced sum.

Statute imperative.—McClure v. Lay, 30 Ala. 208. As applicable to a county as to individuals.—Camp v. Marion County, 91 Ala. 240. And to all actions ex contractu.—Mills v. Long, 58 Ala. 458; Atkinson v. James, 96 Ala. 214; First National Bank v. Pinson, 105 Ala. 588. But not to actions ex delicto. King v. Parmer, 34 Ala. 416; Haws v. Morgan, 59 Ala. 508; Morris v. Robinson, 80 Ala. 291. Set-off successfully made.—Wood v. Fowler, 37 Ala. 55. Statutory affidavit conclusive.—Ramsey v. Strobach, 52 Ala. 513. Must state full amount sued for was due.—First National Bank v. Pinson, 105 Ala. 588. When amount claimed and recovered exceeds fifty dollars motion to dismiss properly overruled.—M. & C. R. Co. v. Hembree, 84 Ala. 182. Presumption indulged to support overruling of motion to dismiss.—Wynn v. Simmons, 33 Ala. 272; Camp v. Marion Co., 91 Ala. 240.

3316 (2740) (3032) (2770) (2366). Calculation of interest, etc., on judgment by default.—In all actions founded on any instrument of writing, ascertaining the plaintiff's demand, if judgment by default, nil dicit, or on demurrer, be rendered for the plaintiff, such judgment may be entered up by the clerk, under the direction of the court, without the intervention of a jury; and the clerk must compute the interest, and, in case of a bill of exchange, the damages, if any be due thereon.

Statute not applicable unless suit founded on writing.—Kennon v. McRae, 3 Stew. & Port. 249; Hanrick v. Bank, 8 Port. 539; Kenum v. Henderson, 6 Ala. 132; Witherington v. Brantley, 18 Ala. 197; Porter v. Burleson, 38 Ala. 343; Warwick v. Brooks, 67 Ala. 252; Wagnon v. Turner, 73 Ala. 197; Ascertaining plaintiff's demand.—Amason v. Nash, 24 Ala. 279. Without the statute are the following actions: (1) On open account.—Beville v. Reese, 25 Ala. 451; Patterson v. Blakeney, 33 Ala. 338; Porter v. Burleson, 38 Ala. 343; Rhea v. Salt & Plaster Co., 59 Ala. 182. (2) Against sheriff for failing to return execution.—Warwick v. Brooks, 67 Ala. 252. (3) For damages for cutting timber. Wagnon v. Turner, 73 Ala. 197. (4) For unpaid calls for railroad-stock.—Connoly v. Ala. & Tenn. Rivers R. Co., 29 Ala. 373. (5) On administrator's bond. Amason v. Nash, 24 Ala. 279. (6) To recover foreign judgment and interest. Clarke v. Pratt, 20 Ala. 470. (7) On fire-insurance policies.—Manhattan F. Ins. Co. v. Fowler, 76 Ala. 372; Home Protection of N. Ala. v. Caldwell, 85 Ala. 607. Within statute are: (1) Bills of exchange.—McKenzie v. Clanton, 33 Ala. 528. (2) Promissory notes.—Chapman v. Arrington, 3 Stew. 480; Kennedy v. Young, 25 Ala. 563; Lenoir v. Broadhead, 50 Ala. 58. (3) And attorney's fees when amount may be ascertained from note.—Wood v. Machine Co., 83 Ala. 424; Ledbetter v. Vinton, 108 Ala. 644. (4) Certificate of deposit.—Talladega Ins. Co. v. Woodward, 44 Ala. 287. (5) Witness certificate.—Burns v. Howard, 68 Ala. 352. Statute applicable in proper case, although default consists in failure to answer interrogatories.—Allen v. Lumber Co., 90 Ala. 490. When not applicable in suit on non-commercial paper.—Langdon v. Williams, 22 Ala. 681. Court may correct mistake of clerk as to amount, nunc pro tunc, but ignoring credit erased before judgment not an error.—Burt v. Hughes, 11 Ala. 571. If judgment excessive correction will be made on appeal.—Lenoir v. Broadhead, 50 Ala. 58.

3317 (2741) (3025) (2675) (2271). Dismissal in vacation.—The plaintiff may dismiss his suit in vacation, by causing the clerk to make on the docket an entry of dismissal. When the summons has been executed, notice must be given to the defendant of the intended dismissal.

Cited arguendo.—Foster v. Napier, 73 Ala. 595; Coaldale Brick & Tile Co. v. Construction Co., 110 Ala. 605.

3318 (2742) (3024) (2674) (2270). Consolidation of suits.—Whenever two or more actions are pending at the same time, between the same parties, in the same court, and which might have been joined, the court may order them to be consolidated.

Cases wherein consolidation held proper.—Berry v. Ferguson, 58 Ala. 314; Wilkinson v. Black, 80 Ala. 329; Birmingham Flooring Mills v. Wilder, 85 Ala. 593.

ARTICLE 5.

TRIAL WITHOUT JURY AND DEMURRER TO EVIDENCE.

3319 (2743) (3029). Trial without jury.—An issue of fact in a civil case may be tried and determined by the court without the intervention of a jury, whenever the parties, or their attorneys of record, file an agreement in writing with the clerk, waiving a jury; and in such case, the finding of the court upon the facts shall have the same effect as the verdict of a jury.

Under special acts, authorizing non-jury trials, and review of finding, conclusion of court accorded weight of jury's verdict.—Skinner v. State, 87 Ala. 105; Woodrow v. Hawving, 105 Ala. 240; Bridgeport Lumber Co. v. Ladd, 107 Ala. 244; Ramey v. Grocery Co., 108 Ala. 476; McAnally v. Lumber Co., 109 Ala. 397; Simpson v. Golden, Ala. (21 So. 990). Objection that statutory agreement not in writing personal to party.—Heyman v. McBurney, 66 Ala. 511. Agreement waiving jury not operative on second trial, particularly after introduction of a new party.—Martin v. King, 72 Ala. 354. See citations to two succeeding sections.

3320 (2744) (3030). Finding may be general or special.—The finding of the court may be general or special, unless the parties, or either of them, in writing, request a special finding of the facts; if a special finding is requested, the court must state in writing the facts as it finds them, and such statement, with the judgment of the court, must be entered on the minutes.

Special finding: (1) Must be entered on minutes.—McCarthy v. Zeigler, 67 Ala. 43; Quillman v. Gurley, 85 Ala. 594. (2) Court may make ex mero motu and must make when requested in writing.—Sayre v. Weil, 94 Ala. 466. (3) Agreed statement of facts as special finding.—Le Bron v. Morris, 110 Ala. 115. (4) What is not.—McCarthy v. Zeigler, 67 Ala. 43; Gill v. Daily, 105 Ala. 323; Brock v. L. & N. R. Co., Ala. (21 So. 994). (5) Essentials of, not aided by intendment or reference to extrinsic facts.—Betancourt v. Eberlin, 71 Ala. 461; Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Brock v. L. & N. R. Co., Ala. (21 So. 994).

3321 (2745) (3031). Reservation of exceptions; revision on appeal.—On the trial, either party may reserve, by bill of exceptions, any ruling, opinion, or decision of the court, to which an exception could have been reserved if a trial by jury had not been waived, and is entitled to an appeal from the judgment of the court, as if the judgment had been rendered on the verdict of a jury; and if the finding is special, on appeal, the supreme court must examine and determine whether the facts are sufficient to support the judgment.

Prior to the statute, decision by court upon the facts, a jury being waived, was final and conclusive.—Betancourt v. Eberlin, 71 Ala. 461; citing Etheridge v. Malempre, 18 Ala. 565; Barnes v. Mayor, 19 Ala. 707; Bott v. McCoy, 20 Ala. 578; DeVendell v. Hamilton, 27 Ala. 156; Stein v. Jackson, 31 Ala. 24. If special finding not asked or made, conclusion of court as to the facts equivalent to jury's verdict and irrevisable.—Bell v. State, 75 Ala. 25; Calloway v. State, 75 Ala. 37; Knowles v. State, 80 Ala. 9; Quillman v. Gurley, 85 Ala. 594; Gill v. Daily, 105 Ala. 323. Duty of supreme court, on appeal, where special finding made.—McCarthy v. Zeigler, 67 Ala. 43; Betancourt v. Eberlin, 71 Ala. 461; Hardy v. Ingram, 84 Ala. 544; Ins. Co. of North America v.

Forcheimer, 86 Ala. 541; Woodstock Iron Co. v. Fullenwider, 87 Ala. 584; Sayre v. Weil, 94 Ala. 466; Bibb v. Hall, 101 Ala. 79; Le Bron v. Morris, 110 Ala. 115.

3322 (2746) (3103) (2750) (2349). Demurrer to evidence; when allowed.—In all actions upon contracts, when the testimony on both sides is written, either party may demur thereto; when the testimony on either side is parol, the opposite party, having offered no parol testimony, may also demur thereto; and the other party must be required by the court to join in the demurrer.

In all civil cases party may demur to evidence as matter of right.—Alexander v. Fitzpatrick, 4 Port. 405; Williams v. McConico, 27 Ala. 572; Martin v. State, 62 Ala. 240. Statute not operative to confine right to actions upon contracts.—Gluck v. Cox, 90 Ala. 331. In criminal cases, such demurrer authorized only by consent.—Bryan v. State, 26 Ala. 65; Brister v. State, 26 Ala. 107; Martin v. State, 62 Ala. 240.

Statute declaratory of established common-law rule.—Martin v. State, 62 Ala. 240; Curtis v. Daughdrill, 71 Ala. 590. Court must find against demurrant if jury could legally have done so.—Shaw v. White, 28 Ala. 637; Armstrong v. Armstrong, 29 Ala. 538; Donaldson v. Waters, 30 Ala. 175; Bates v. Bates, 33 Ala. 102; Patterson v. Blakeney, 33 Ala. 338. Scope and effect of demurrer to evidence.—Gale v. R. Co., 8 Ala. 587; Boyd v. Gilchrist, 15 Ala. 849; Bryan v. State, 26 Ala. 65; Buffington v. Cook, 39 Ala. 647; Curtis v. Daughdrill, 71 Ala. 590; Central R. Co. v. Roquemore, 96 Ala. 236.

3324 (2748) (3105) (2752) (2351). Testimony written out; part of record.—Upon a demurrer to evidence being tendered, the court must reduce the testimony to writing, or cause it to be done, which, being signed by the judge, constitutes part of the record.

Ruling on demurrer to evidence to be shown by record, not by bill of exceptions.—Sivoly v. Scott, 56 Ala. 555.

3325 (2749) (3106) (2753) (2352). Damages assessed by jury. If the court determine the issue for the plaintiff, a jury must be immediately impaneled to ascertain the damages, if unliquidated; or the jury, if one has been impaneled, may be required to assess the damages conditionally previous to their being discharged.

Practice as to assessment of damages.—Young v. Foster, 7 Port. 420; Gluck v. Cox, 90 Ala. 331.

ARTICLE 6.

THE CHARGE TO THE JURY.

3326 (2754) (3028) (2678) (2274). Charge of court.—The court may state to the jury the law of the case, and may also state the evidence when the same is disputed, but shall not charge upon the effect of the testimony, unless required to do so by one of the parties.

Principles governing giving or refusal of general charge on effect of evidence.—Freeman v. Scurlock, 27 Ala. 407; Lawler v. Norris, 28 Ala. 675; Allman v. Gann, 29 Ala. 240; Williams v. Hartshorn, 30 Ala. 211; White v. Hass, 32 Ala. 430; Drake v. Flewellen, 33 Ala. 106; Morris v. Hall, 41 Ala. 510;

Rogers, 110 Ala. 438. Court may state conceded incidents of case without hypothesis. Carter v. Chambers, 79 Ala. 223; Marx v. Strauss, 93 Ala. 453; Stephenson v. Wright, 111 Ala. 579; Drennen v. Smith, Ala. (22 So. 442). And may state the theories of the parties as established by the tendencies of the evidence. Hawes v. State, 88 Ala. 37. May read from law-book.—R. & D. R. Co. v. Hissong, 97 Ala. 187. Recalling jury for additional instructions.—Cooper v. State, 79 Ala. 54; Marcus v. State, 89 Ala. 23; Shepperd v. State, 94 Ala. 102. Proper practice as to additional instructions after jury's retirement.—Johnson v. State, 100 Ala. 55; Kuhl v. Long, 102 Ala. 563; Feibleman v. Ins. Co., 108 Ala. 180; Harper v. State, 109 Ala. 66. Court may "state the evidence"; power to direct attention to admitted facts not abridged.—Tidwell v. State, 70 Ala. 33; R. & D. R. Co. v. Trousdale, 99 Ala. 389; Dennis v. State, 112 Ala. 64. Instructions should be given only in open court in presence of parties.—Johnson v. State, 100 Ala. 55.

3327 (2755) (3110) (2757). When charge must be in writing. In all civil and criminal cases, the judge must charge the jury in writing, if the charge is required to be so given by either party, and notice of such requisition is given after the testimony is closed, and before the argument to the jury is commenced.

3328 (2756) (3109) (2756) (2355). Charges moved for by the parties.—Charges moved for by either party must be in writing, and must be given or refused in the terms in which they are written; and it is the duty of the judge to write "given" or "refused" as the case may be, on the document, and sign his name thereto; which thereby becomes a part of the record, and charges which are given must be taken by the jury with them on retirement, and those refused must be retained by the clerk.

Statute not applicable to oral requests.—Warren v. State, 46 Ala. 549; Baker v. State, 49 Ala. 350; Richardson v. State, 54 Ala. 158. Statute contemplates request of separate instructions.—Teague v. Lindsey, 106 Ala. 266. Must be given or refused in terms in which written.—Ivey v. 3329 (2757) (3023) (2673) (2269). Jury take out written evidence.—All instruments of evidence, and depositions read to the jury may be taken out by them on their retirement.

Jury may take out copies of accounts used by witnesses.—Mooney v. Hough, 84 Ala. 80; Foster v. Smith, 104 Ala. 248.

ARTICLE 7.

AMENDMENTS TO PLEADINGS BEFORE AND AFTER JUDGMENT.

3330 (2832) (3155) (2808) (2402). Proceedings not vitiated by want of form.—No summons, complaint, plea, return, process, judgment, or other proceeding, can be arrested, quashed, or reversed for any defect or want of form, in any of the courts of this state; but the courts must proceed and give judgment according to the right of the cause and matter in law, without regard to any defect or want of form in the summons, complaint, or other pleading.

Drummond v. Wright, 1 Ala. 205; Sheppard v. Melloy, 12 Ala. 561; Ala. Conference v. Price, 42 Ala. 39.

3331 (2833) (3156) (2809) (2403). Amendments allowed.—The courts, respectively, must, whilst the cause is in progress, amend all and every such imperfection and defect of form, on motion of the party, without costs and without delay, unless injustice will thereby be done to the opposite party; and must permit the amendment of the complaint by striking out or adding new parties plaintiff, or by striking out or adding new parties defendant, upon such terms and conditions as the justice of the case may require.

General scope of statute.—Crimm v. Crawford, 29 Ala. 623; Johnson v. Martin, 54 Ala. 271; Sanders v. Knox, 57 Ala. 80; Beavers v. Hardie, 59 Ala. 570; Steed v. McIntyre, 68 Ala. 407; Mahan v. ARTICLE 8.

NOTICE OF MOTIONS TO SATISFY JUDGMENTS OR TO AMEND NUNC PRO TUNC.

3335 (2865) (3172) (2828). Motion to enter satisfaction of judgment or decree; notice.—When a motion is made to enter satisfaction of a judgment or decree, because of matters extrinsic to the record, notice to the plaintiff therein, or, if he be dead, to his personal representative, is essential; if the plaintiff, or his personal representative, reside within the state, the notice must be in writing, and must be served ten days before the time of hearing the motion; if he or they reside without the state, or their residence be unknown, affidavit of the fact being made and filed, notice must be given by the clerk, register, judge of probate, or justice of the peace, by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county, for three consecutive weeks, or if there be no such paper published in the county, by advertisement in a newspaper published nearest to the county.

Parties have right to demand jury trial and to cross-examine witnesses. Bruce v. Barnes, 20 Ala. 219. When judgment satisfied by purchase of property under execution, although defendant without title.—Thomas v. Glazener, 90 Ala. 537.

3336 (2866) (3172) (2828). Motion to set aside judgment or decree, or to set aside entry of satisfaction; notice.—When a motion is made to set aside a final judgment or decree, or the entry of satisfaction thereof for any cause, notice to the party adversely interested, or, if he be dead, to his personal representative, is essential; and if such party, or his personal representative, reside within the state, the notice must be in writing, and must be served ten days before the hearing of the motion; if he or they reside without the state, or their residence be unknown, affidavit of the fact being made and filed, notice must be given by the clerk, register, judge of probate, or justice of the peace, by advertisement for three consecutive weeks in a public newspaper published in the county, or if there be no such paper published in the county, by advertisement in a newspaper published nearest to the county.

Unless judgment void on its face, notice necessary.—Glass v. Glass, 76 Ala. 368. What sufficient notice.—Jennings v. Pearce, 101 Ala. 538. Order, judgment or decree void on its face may be expunged or vacated at subsequent term.—Buchanan v. Thomason, 70 Ala. 401; Baker v. Barclift, 76 Ala. 414; Schwarz v. Oppenheimer, 90 Ala. 462; Carlisle v. Killebrew, 91 Ala. 351; Morgan v. Lehman, 92 Ala. 440; Kohn v. Haas, 95 Ala. 478; Wiggins v. Steiner, 103 Ala. 655; Martin v. Atkinson, 108 Ala. 314.

3337 (2867). Amendments of judgments, decrees, or orders nunc pro tunc.—Notice is essential of a motion or application to amend nunc pro tunc the judgment, decree, or order of a court of record, if the amendment be not of mere clerical errors; if the party adversely interested, or, if he be dead, his personal representative, reside in the state, the notice must be in writing, and must be served ten days before the hearing of the motion or application; if he or they reside without the state, or their residence be unknown, affidavit of the fact being made and filed, notice must be given by the clerk, register, or judge of probate, by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county for three consecutive weeks; or if there be no such paper published in the county, by advertisement in a newspaper published nearest to the county.

Notice essential.—McEachin v. Warren, 92 Ala. 554. Power of court to amend nunc pro tunc; purpose and scope of such amendments.—Worley v. M. & C. R. Co., 72 Ala. 20; Emerson v. Heard, 81 Ala. 443; Browder v. Faulkner, 82 Ala. 257; Brown v. Barnes, 93 Ala. 58; Tippins v. Peters, 103 Ala. 196. Clerical errors in record amendable at subsequent term and after appeal.—Moore v. Horne, 5 Ala. 234; Cunningham v. Fontaine, 25 Ala. 644; Ware v. Brewer, 34 Ala. 114; Harris v. Martin, 39 Ala. 556; Gray v. Raiborn, 53 Ala. 40; Parker v. Wimberly, 78 Ala. 64; Seymour v. Harrow Co., 81 Ala. 250; Myers v. Conway, 90 Ala. 109.

3338 (3306) (2868). Cost of motion or application.—If a motion or application made under either of the three preceding sections is not contested, the costs must be adjudged against the applicant; if contested, the costs must be adjudged against the unsuccessful party.

3339 (2869). Bill of exceptions; appeal.—An exception may be taken on the hearing of any motion or application made under either of such three sections to any ruling, charge, opinion, or decision of the court, and a bill of exceptions signed and certified as part of the record, as in civil cases in courts of law; and from the judgment, decree, or order of the court, an appeal may be taken to the supreme court within thirty days after the rendition of the judgment, decree, or order, under the rules and regulations governing appeals from the final judgments or decrees of the circuit or chancery court, or court of probate.

Without bill of exceptions, evidence presumed to support judgment on motion.—Dobson v. Dickson, 8 Ala. 252; Burdeshaw v. Comer, 108 Ala. 617.

3340 (2870). Issues of fact triable by jury.—If the motion or application is to enter satisfaction of a judgment or decree, or to set aside the entry of satisfaction of a judgment or decree, on request of either party, the issues of fact must be tried by a jury.

Declaratory of law as announced in Bruce v. Barnes, 20 Ala. 219.

ARTICLE 9.

NEW TRIAL ON RELEASE FOUND WITHIN TWO YEARS; REHEARING IN FOUR MONTHS.

3341 (2871) (3160) (2813) (2407). Right of new trial on release found.—When a party had a release or discharge in writing of a claim upon which judgment has been rendered against him, which was lost or mislaid at the trial, and which such party was unable to prove by secondary evidence, but has since found, the circuit court may cause the action to be retried at any time after the discovery of the release or discharge, within two years after judgment.

Not applicable when lost writing merely disproves consideration of claim sued on.—Davis v. McCampbell, 37 Ala. 609. Nor when party at the trial proved contents of lost receipt by parol.—Reeves v. Skipper, 94 Ala. 407. Statute extends time otherwise allowed for motion for new trial.—Ex parte Highland Ave. & B. R. Co., 105 Ala. 221.

When not entitled to rehearing.—White v. Ryan, 31 Ala. 400; Shields v. Burns, 31 Ala. 535; Elliott v. Cook, 33 Ala. 490; Stewart v. Williams, 33 Ala. 492; Davis v. Morgan, 51 Ala. 573; Martin v. Hudson, 52 Ala. 279; Waddill v. Weaver, 53 Ala. 58; Ex parte Walker, 54 Ala. 577; Bingham v. Montgomery, 59 Ala. 334; Ex parte Wallace, 60 Ala. 267; Brock v. S. & N. R. Co., 65 Ala. 79; Blood v. Beadle, 65 Ala. 103; Renfro v. Merryman, 71 Ala. 195; Ex parte O'Neal, 72 Ala. 560; Freeman v. Gragg, 73 Ala. 199; Talladega Mercantile Co. v. McDonald, 97 Ala. 508; Barron v. Robinson, 98 Ala. 351; Turner Coal Co. v. Glover, 101 Ala. 289; National Fertilizer Co. v. Hinson, 103 Ala. 532. A suit within statute requiring security for costs.—Garrett v. Terry, 33 Ala. 514. When security for costs waived.—Heflin v. Rock Mills, 58 Ala. 613. Nature of case, proof and judgment.—Pratt v. Keils, 28 Ala. 390. Statute not applicable to cases of common-law certiorari. Ex parte Madison T. Co., 62 Ala. 93. Petition after four months too late. White v. Ryan, 31 Ala. 400; State v. Gardner, 45 Ala. 46; Ex parte Johnson, 60 Ala. 429. Statute extends time otherwise allowed for new trial or rehearing.—Ex parte Highland Ave. & B. R. Co., 105 Ala. 221. From order refusing rehearing, appeal lies.—White v. Ryan, 31 Ala. 400; Dothard v. Teague, 40 Ala. 583; Ex parte North, 49 Ala. 385; O'Neal v. Kelly, 72 Ala. 559; Seymour v. Farquhar, 95 Ala. 527. When rehearing improperly granted, mandamus, not appeal, proper remedy.—Callahan v. Lott, 42 Ala. 167; Carroll v. Vaughan, 48 Ala. 352; Fuller v. Boggs, 49 Ala. 127; Ex parte North, 49 Ala. 385; Bruce v. Williamson, 50 Ala. 313; Ex parte Walker, 54 Ala. 577; Heflin v. Rock Mills, 58 Ala. 613; Ex parte Wallace, 60 Ala. 267; O'Neal v. Kelly, 72 Ala. 559; Chastain v. Armstrong, 85 Ala. 215. When rulings upon pleadings and evidence not considered on mandamus.—Ex parte Farquhar, 99 Ala. 375. Practice after order granting rehearing is vacated on mandamus. Seymour v. Farquhar, 95 Ala. 527.

3343 (2873) (3162) (2815) (2409). Contents of petition; notice; how petition controverted.—In the cases specified in the two preceding sections, the proceeding is by petition to a judge of the circuit court, stating the matter complained of, with a prayer for the appropriate relief. The facts stated in the petition must be sworn to, unless they appear from a transcript of the record, submitted with the petition; and the petitioner shall give the adverse party, or his attorney, ten days' notice of the judge before whom, and the time when, and place where the application will be made, and also cause a copy of the petition to be served on such adverse party ten days before such application is made; and the adverse party may controvert the petition by affidavit in writing.

Petition must be presented to judge; filing with clerk not sufficient.—Ex parte Johnson, 60 Ala. 429. Jurisdiction to hear and determine petition conferred upon the court, not the judge.—Ex parte Farquhar, 99 Ala. 375. Petition amendable.—Dothard v. Teague, 40 Ala. 583; Ex parte North, 49 Ala. 385; Seymour v. Farquhar, 95 Ala. 527; Ex parte Farquhar, 99 Ala. 375. Affidavits of third persons no aid to petition.—Callahan v. Lott, 42 Ala. 167. What petition must show.—White v. Ryan, 31 Ala. 400; Dothard v. Teague, 40 Ala. 583; Callahan v. Lott, 42 Ala. 167; Bingham v. Montgomery, 59 Ala. 334; Ex parte Wallace, 60 Ala. 267; Chastain v. Armstrong, 85 Ala. 215; Barron v. Robinson, 98 Ala. 351; Turner Coal Co. v. Glover, 101 Ala. 289; National Fertilizer Co. v. Hinson, 103 Ala. 532. Petition should not be dismissed on general motion. State v. Gardner, 45 Ala. 46; Martin v. Hudson, 52 Ala. 279.

3344 (2874)(3163)(2816)(2410). Supersedeas ordered by judge. The judge to whom the petition is made must, if satisfied that the petitioner is entitled to the relief sought, make the necessary order for a supersedeas to issue, or in restraint of the issue or collection of the execution; and the judge shall have power to impose such terms as he may think proper for granting an order for the supersedeas.

When supersedeas may be reinstated.—Ex parte Farquhar, 99 Ala. 375.

3345 (2875) (3164) (2817) (2411). Bond before supersedeas issues.—The supersedeas must not issue, nor the execution be suspended, unless the petitioner, or some one for him, give bond in double the amount of the judgment or execution, or in double the amount superseded or restrained, payable to the plaintiff in the judgment, or his personal representative, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk, and conditioned to pay such judgment or execution, with interest, and all damages and costs awarded on the trial of the proceeding against him.

After vacation, on mandamus, of order granting rehearing, case stands for trial at first term under this section.—Seymour v. Farquhar, 95 Ala. 527. Jurisdiction to hear and determine petition conferred on the court, not the judge.—Ex parte Farquhar, 99 Ala. 375.

3347 (2877) (3166) (2819) (2413). Refunding bond required, on such dismissal, before execution issues.—In the case provided for in the preceding section, no execution can issue, unless such party, his agent, or attorney, execute a refunding bond, in double the amount of the judgment or execution, payable to the adverse party, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the clerk, and conditioned that if the final determination of the cause is against him, he will refund the amount collected, and interest.

3348 (2878) (3167) (2820) (2414). Damages when petition not meritorious.—If, on the final hearing of the cause, it is decided against the petitioner, and it appears that the petition was not founded on a just or meritorious cause, the court may award damages, not exceeding ten per cent. on the amount superseded or restrained.

3349 (2879) (3171) (2824). Applicable to plaintiffs.—The provisions of this article shall be construed as applicable to plaintiffs, and those for whose benefit suits are brought, who must comply with its provisions, so far as applicable to them, before they are entitled to relief.

3350 (2880) (3168) (2821) (2415). Bonds have the force and effect of judgments.—The bonds given under this article have the force and effect of judgments, and executions may issue against all or any of the obligors, either for the amount superseded or restrained, damages and costs, or the amount collected of the petitioner, after the execution of the refunding bond, and interest on such amount.

3351 (2881) (3169) (2822) (2416). Right to pass on validity of execution not affected.—The provisions of this article must not be construed to prevent the circuit court from deciding, on an application made in term time, on the validity of any writ of execution.

CHAPTER 92.

PROBATE COURTS. 3354-3384.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1091.

3354 (778) (684) (781) (661). Judge of probate; election and term of office.—A judge is elected by the qualified voters of each county, who is styled the judge of probate, and who holds office for the term of six years from the third day of November next after his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

3355 (780) (686) (783) (663). Vacancies; how filled.—Vacancies in the office of judge of probate are filled by the governor, and the person appointed holds office until the election and qualification of his successor.

3356 (779) (685) (782) (662). Eligibility.—The judge must be a citizen of the state, and must have resided in the county for which he is elected, or appointed, one year preceding the election or appointment.

3357 (781) (687) (784) (664). Bond.—Before entering on the duties of his office, the judge must give bond with surety to be approved, and for a sum, not less than five thousand dollars, to be fixed by a judge of the supreme court, or by the judge of the circuit, or the chancellor of the division, in which such judge resides.

Thompson v. Holt, 52 Ala. 491; Grider v. Tally, 77 Ala. 422.

3358 (782) (688) (785) (664). Bond recorded and filed.—Such bond, after being recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county for which he was elected or appointed, must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, with the certificate of the clerk of the circuit court, that the bond has been recorded in his office.

3359 (783) (689) (786) (665). Who may sue on the bond.—All bonds given by judges of probate may be sued on by any one sustaining any injury, by reason of any neglect or omission of such officer to take good and sufficient surety from any executor, administrator, or guardian, or from any officer whose bond it is his duty to approve, or in any case in which it is his duty to require additional bond, and he fails so to do, or by the failure of such judge to perform any other official duty.

3360 (784) (690) (787) (666). Conservator of the peace.—Judges of probate are conservators of the peace in their respective counties.

3361 (785) (691) (788) (667). Office and office hours.—He must keep his office at the court-house, and open for the transaction of business on every day, except Sundays and legal holidays, from nine in the morning until four in the afternoon, with an interval of one hour at noon.

3362 (786) (692) (789) (669). To keep a seal of office.—He must have a seal of office, using a private seal until the same is provided.

3363 (787) (693) (790) (670). Jurisdiction of courts of probate. Courts of probate have, in the cases defined by law, original jurisdiction of—

1. The probate of wills.

2. The granting of letters testamentary and of administration, and the repeal or revocation of the same.

Subdivisions 1 and 2.—Jurisdiction general.—Ikelheimer v. Chapman, 32 Ala. 676; Bradley v. Broughton, 34 Ala. 694; Gray v. Cruise, 36 Ala. 559; Coltart v. Allen, 40 Ala. 155; Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290; Bean v. Chapman, 62 Ala. 58; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442; Steele v. Tutwiler, 68 Ala. 107; Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594; Morgan v. Casey, 73 Ala. 222; Barclift v. Treece, 77 Ala. 528.

3. All controversies in relation to the right of executorship, or of administration.

4. The settlement of accounts of executors and administrators.

5. The sale and disposition of the real and personal property belonging to, and the distribution of intestates' estates.

Jurisdiction limited; sales of personalty.—Wyatt v. Rambo, 29 Ala. 510; Ikelheimer v. Chapman, 32 Ala. 676; Hall v. Chapman, 35 Ala. 553. Sales of lands.—Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. 219; Couch v. Campbell, Ib. 262; Duvall v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708; Perkins v. Winter, 7 Ala. 855; Bishop v. Hampton, 15 Ala. 761; Pettit v. Pettit, 32 Ala. 288; Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594.

6. The appointment and removal of guardians for minors and persons of unsound mind.

7. All controversies as to the right of guardianship, and the settlement of guardians' accounts.

8. The binding out of apprentices, and all controversies between master and apprentice.

9. The allotment of dower in lands in the cases by law provided.

10. The partition of lands within their counties.

11. The change of the name of any person residing in their county, upon filing his declaration in writing, signed by him, stating the name by which he is known, and the name to which he wishes it to be changed.

12. In such other cases as jurisdiction is or may be given to such courts by law, and in all cases to be exercised in the manner prescribed by law.

Court has no jurisdiction of trusts.—Ex parte Dickson, 64 Ala. 188; Pinney v. Werborn, 72 Ala. 58; Foxworth v. White, Ib. 224; Hinson v. Williamson, 74 Ala. 180. Probate of wills and grant of letters during late war.—Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368; Allen v. Kellam, 69 Ala. 442; Bean v. Chapman, 73 Ala. 140. Presumptions indulged on collateral attack.—Boynton v. Nelson, 46 Ala. 501; Wright v. Ware, 50 Ala. 549; Pettus v. McClannahan, 52 Ala. 55; Doe v. Hardy, Ib. 291; Gamble v. Jordan, 54 Ala. 432; Kent v. Mansel, 101 Ala. 334; Cobb v. Garner, 105 Ala. 467; Kling v. Connell, 105 Ala. 590. Is a court of law and has not chancery powers.—Moore v. Winston, 66 Ala. 296. Decree conclusive and not open to collateral attack; of equal dignity with judgments of courts of law.—Knabe v. Rice, 106 Ala. 516.

3364 (788) (694) (791) (671). May punish contempts of court. Such courts may issue rules and attachments for contempts offered to the court, or its process, by any executor, administrator, guardian, or other person, and may punish the same by fine as high as twenty dollars, and imprisonment, not exceeding twenty-four hours; one or both.

3365 (789) (695) (792) (672). Duties, etc.—It is the duty of the judge of probate—

1. To issue all citations, letters testamentary, of administration and guardianship, subpœnas, executions, and all other process which is necessary for the exercise of his powers, the jurisdiction of the court, and the enforcement of its judgments, orders and decrees.

2. To keep minutes of all his official acts and proceedings; and, within three months thereafter, to record the same in well-bound books.

3. To keep all the books, papers and records belonging to his office with care and security; the papers arranged, filed and labeled, so as to be of easy reference; and the books and records lettered, and kept with general, direct and reverse indexes; but, without authority of the court of county commissioners, must not make new indexes.

4. To keep constantly in his office a well-arranged docket, showing the date of the issue, and return of all process, the day set for the hearing, the kind of notice ordered, the returns of the sheriff, and such other entries as may be necessary to show the true condition of all proceedings pending in the court, and all fees accruing in the case, and to whom due.

5. To keep a correct account of the fees accruing to the sheriff, for service of notices, citations and other process in relation to estates of deceased persons and minors; he may receive and receipt for such fees, and must, on demand, pay the same to the sheriff, and before the final settlement of any estate is allowed, the fees of the sheriff, or such part thereof as he is entitled to receive, must be paid.

6. To enter on the fee-book, execution-docket, and on the execution, the name of the attorney of the plaintiff in the judgment.

7. On application of any person, and the payment or tender of the lawful fees, to give transcripts of any paper or record required to be kept in his office, properly certified.

8. To perform such other duties as are, or may be required of him by law.

9. To keep the acts, reports and digests furnished by the state to the county in his office, or in the bar library, if there be one in the county convenient to his office, except when delivered to the sheriff for the use of the circuit court.

10. To have suitably bound at the expense of the county, and for the payment of which binding the court of county commissioners must issue a warrant on the county treasury, the reports of the census enumerators of the county; and must keep such reports in the office, open to examination without charge.

11. To provide a suitable and convenient place in the office for keeping the United States census reports, and to preserve such reports, giving free access to them.

12. To keep large and well-bound books for the registration of deeds of conveyance, and other and separate books of like character for the registration of mortgages and other instruments to secure the payment of debts.

13. To keep a large and well-bound book for the registration of liens of judgments and decrees, with direct and reversed indexes thereto. Feb. 26, 1889, p. 60, §1.

14. To keep a well-bound book for the registration of notices of the adverse possession of lands, with a proper index thereto. Feb. 11, 1893, p. 478, §2.

15. To make weekly visits to the county jail as prescribed by section 1415 (900) of this Code, and on each weekly visit to inspect the record-books of the sheriff descriptive of prisoners in jail and see that the entries are properly made, and verify each entry therein made, and report to the grand jury any failure of the sheriff to keep such record as is required of him by law. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 88, §3.

3366 (790) (697) (740). Recopy of books.—The judge of probate, deeming it necessary to recopy or rebind any books in his office, in order to secure their contents from damage or loss, must submit the same to the examination of the court of county commissioners, which, if it deems such rebinding or recopy necessary, must upon its minutes order the same to be made; and the judge of probate must make the same in good and substantial books or binding, and such court must allow him a reasonable compensation therefor.

As amended Feb. 27, 1889, p. 73.

3367 (791) (698) (741). Free for examination.—The records of the office must be free for the examination of all persons, when not in use by the judge, whether such persons are interested in such records or not.

Randolph v. State, 82 Ala. 527.

Feb. 14, 1891, p. 705.

3368. Duty as to dead bodies; analysis of stomach when poison suspected.—Whenever the judge of probate has reason to believe that the death of any person dying or buried in the county was caused by poison, he may order and obtain a chemical analysis of the stomach, and its contents, of the body of such deceased person, and to that end may employ the state chemist to make such analysis, and such analysis shall be reported to the judge of probate; and the costs and expenses incurred therein, not exceeding fifteen dollars, must be paid by the county, on the order of the court of county commissioners.

3369 (792) (699) (793). Decrees paid to judge.—Decrees for the payment of money, rendered against any executor, administrator, or guardian, on a partial or final settlement, may be paid to the judge of probate, and it is his duty to pay over the same to the person entitled thereto on demand; and for failure to do so, he incurs a penalty in favor of the person entitled to the money, of ten per cent. damages, which, together with the money received, and interest thereon, may be recovered by suit on his bond.

Shackleford v. Cunningham, 41 Ala. 203; Ellis v. Smith, 42 Ala. 349.

3370 (793) (700) (794). Pay of judge.—The judge of probate is entitled to one-half of one per cent. for receiving money under the preceding section, to be paid by the party from whom the same is received, out of his own funds, and is not bound to receive this money until such per cent. is paid.

3371 (794) (701) (795) (673). Regular and adjourned terms; when court always open.—A court of probate must be held at the court-house of each county on the second Monday in each month, and the judge may hold special or adjourned terms at any time whenever necessary for any special purpose; but such court must at all times be considered as open, except on Sundays, with authority to do all things needful in relation to granting letters testamentary, of administration, or guardianship, and all matters appertaining thereto; binding out apprentices, and making all other necessary orders which are grantable as a matter of course.

Moore v. McGuire, 26 Ala. 461; Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274; Arrington v. Roach, 42 Ala. 155; Roach v. Gunter, Ib. 239; Horn v. Bryan, 44 Ala. 88;

3372 (795) (702) (796) (674). Authority.—The judge of probate has authority—

1. To administer oaths and take and certify the same in all cases in which administering such oath, and taking such affidavit, is not confined expressly to some other officer.

2. To grant writs of habeas corpus in those cases in which the power is conferred by law.

3. To grant writs of certiorari on any civil judgment rendered by a justice, returnable to the next circuit court of the county, and to issue process of garnishment upon decrees for money in the court.

To grant writs of certiorari.—Casey v. Briant, 1 S. & P. 51; Wright v. Gray, 20 Ala. 363; Van Eppes v. Smith, 21 Ala. 317; Washington v. Parker, 60 Ala. 447; Grantham v. Payne, 77 Ala. 584; Wright v. Hurt, 92 Ala. 591; Guscott v. Roden, 112 Ala. 632; Lawler v. Lyness, Ib. 386. Cannot make writ returnable to city court.—Wilson v. Scott, 42 Ala. 348. Nor grant common-law writ.—Guscott v. Roden, 112 Ala. 632.

4. To cause jurors to be impaneled and sworn in any matter of fact pending before him, in which the right to a jury trial is given by law.

5. To appoint guardians ad litem for minors and persons of unsound mind, when necessary; but he must not appoint as such guardian any clerk, employe, or other person connected with his office, or related to him by consanguinity or affinity.

6. To employ, at his own expense, a clerk, for whose official acts he is responsible, and such clerk has the following powers: (1) To issue letters testamentary, of administration and of guardianship where there is no contest. (2) To administer oaths relating to the business of the court, and take and certify acknowledgments and proofs of instruments authorized to be recorded. (3) To solemnize matrimony, approve bonds and appoint guardians ad litem. (4) To admit wills to probate and record, and to pass and allow accounts of executors, administrators and guardians, where there is no contest. (5) To do all other acts and things, and perform all other duties, ministerial and judicial, where there is no contest, and the judge of probate could do and perform, except to hear and grant writs of habeas corpus and writs of certiorari; and such clerk must, before he enters upon his duties, take the oath directed to be taken by the officers of this state, and give bond with surety payable to the judge of probate in such sum, not exceeding ten thousand dollars, as he may prescribe, upon which bond such clerk shall be liable to such judge in consequence of any act of misfeasance or malfeasance of such clerk in the duties of his office. All of the official acts of such clerk must be performed in the name of the judge of probate, except when there is a vacancy in that office. As amended Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1190.

Clerk a public officer within meaning of statute forbidding officers to deal in county claims.—Scruggs v. State, 111 Ala. 60. Must certify acknowledgments and perform other official acts in name of the judge of probate (except when he fills that office). See citations to section 993.

7. To complete the minute entries and decrees of the court when the same are incomplete on account of the failure to make the necessary entries at the time when they should have been made, but the necessary application and proof must first be made; and such entries, orders, or decrees are as valid and binding as if they had been made at the proper time.

Box v. Delk, 47 Ala. 729; Acklen v. Acklen, 45 Ala. 609; Dabney v. Mitchell, 54 Ala. 198; Lilly v. Larkin, 66 Ala. 122.

8. To exercise such other powers as are, or may be conferred on him by law.

3373. Bond of clerk approved by judge of probate and filed and recorded in office of circuit clerk.—The bond of the clerk appointed by the judge of probate must be approved by the judge of probate, and must be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county.

Dec. 13, 1892, p. 143.

3374. Clerk continues to perform duties of office pending vacancy, etc.—Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of the judge of probate, the clerk in that office, appointed and qualified as authorized by law, shall, during such vacancy and until the qualification of a lawful successor, perform all the duties of that office which he is authorized by law to perform when there is no vacancy, but must not receive money on decrees or executions, or become the custodian of trust funds pertaining to the court. He may make all necessary orders for the continuance of causes and proceedings pending in the court. All such duties are to be performed, during such vacancy, by such clerk in his own name as clerk of the probate court, and he is entitled to the lawful fees therefor. For his official acts hereunder, such clerk and the sureties on his bond to the judge of probate, shall be liable to persons injured, according to the legal effect of official bonds as declared by statute. If such clerk shall fail or refuse on demand to deliver all the books, papers, property and money belonging or appertaining to such office, to the lawfully qualified successor of the judge of probate, he may be proceeded against under the provisions of this Code to compel the delivery of books, papers, property and money by public officers to successors.

3375 (796) (703) (797) (675). Letters of administration, process, etc.; how signed, and form.—All letters testamentary, of administration, and of guardianship, and all process from the court of probate, are to be signed by the judge, or his clerk, bear date on the day of the issue, and conform, as near as may be, to those used in the courts of law in this state; and must be directed, executed and returned in like manner, and under the same penalties.

3376 (797) (708) (802). Writs of garnishment.—Courts of probate may issue process of garnishment upon decrees for money, in favor of plaintiffs in such decrees, returnable to their regular terms, upon compliance with the laws respecting garnishments in the circuit courts on judgments; and may render judgments or decrees on the answers of such garnishees, enforce the collection thereof by execution, as may be necessary, and try all collateral issues that may grow out of the answers of such garnishees, both as to a contest of the answer, or a claim of an alleged transferee.

Smith v. Jackson, 56 Ala. 25.

3377 (798) (709) (803). Provisions applicable to preceding section.—The provisions of this Code in reference to garnishments in the circuit court are applicable to garnishments in the courts of probate.

3378 (799) (710) (805) (680). Return of process.—All executions and other process issuing from the court of probate, or issued by the judge thereof, may be made returnable, if no other day is provided by law, to any regular term of the court of probate, not less than three, nor more than six months after such issue, or to any special term within the same period.

Carlisle v. May, 75 Ala. 502.

3379 (800) (711) (806) (681). Failure to execute or return process.—For a failure to make the money on, or for failing to return any execution issued from, or returnable to the court of probate, or for not paying over money collected on such execution, the sheriff, coroner, or other officer, and his sureties, are liable to the same penalties and judgments, as in like cases in the circuit court; the proceedings to be instituted and conducted in the probate court in the same manner as in the circuit court, either party having the right, on request, to a trial of all questions of fact by a jury; and an appeal from the judgment rendered may be taken to the circuit or supreme court, as in like cases from the circuit to the supreme court.

3380 (801) (712) (807) (682). Rules of evidence.—The provisions of this Code in reference to evidence in courts of law, and the mode of obtaining the same by deposition, and of compelling the attendance of witnesses, in the absence of express provision to the contrary, are applicable to proceedings in the court of probate.

3381 (802). Supplying place of judge of probate when incompetent.—If, in any matter or proceeding arising in the court, or in reference to which the judge thereof is required to exercise jurisdiction or authority, or to perform duty, the judge is incompetent for any legal cause, he must certify the fact of incompetency to the register in chancery of the county, or if the register is incompetent, to the judge of the circuit, or to the chancellor of the division; and such register, judge, or chancellor must, upon such certificate, appoint a disinterested person practicing in the county, learned in the law, to act as special judge of probate; and such special judge, in relation to such matter or proceeding, shall have the jurisdiction and authority, and discharge the duties of judge of probate. And the orders and decrees made or rendered by him shall be entered on the records of the court, and shall have the force and effect, and shall be subject to revision on appeal, or by other revisory remedy, of orders and decrees of the court of probate, or of the judge thereof.

Ellis v. Smith, 42 Ala. 349; Hayes v. Collier, 47 Ala. 726; Plowman v. Henderson, 59 Ala. 559; Trawick v. Trawick, 67 Ala. 271; Koger v. Franklin, 79 Ala.

505; Medlin v. Taylor, 101 Ala. 239; Epperson v. Rice, 102 Ala. 668. See section 2637 and citations thereto.

3382 (803). Supplying place of such special judge.—If the special judge so appointed fails or refuses to act, or having commenced to act, and before finally concluding or determining such matter or proceeding, becomes incompetent, or fails or refuses to continue acting therein, the incompetency of the judge of probate continuing, the register, or the judge, or chancellor, on the fact being certified to him, must appoint another special judge of like qualification.

3383 (804) (716) (809). Change of venue.—In all issues in the probate court, where a jury may be called to try contested facts, changes of venue may be had as in cases of contested wills; and all the provisions as to change of venue in cases of contested wills shall apply to changes of venue under this section.

3384 (805) (717) (811) (684). Stationery of office paid for by county.—The judge of probate must be allowed reasonable expenses for suitable books, stationery, and a seal of office, to be paid by the county.

CHAPTER 93.

PUBLIC PRINTING. 3385-3416.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 121, §1.

3385. Public printing and binding to be done under contract. The acts and journals of the general assembly, the revenue laws of each session of the general assembly in separate pamphlets, the reports of the decisions of the supreme court, the annual or biennial reports of the auditor, treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of education, commissioner of agriculture, railroad commissioners, inspectors of convicts, adjutant-general, state geologist, state board of health, the board of trustees of the University of Alabama, of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf and of the Alabama Academy for the Blind, of the Alabama Bryce Insane Hospital, all handbooks and pamphlets which the commissioner of agriculture is authorized by law to publish, all blanks, bulletins, circulars, notices, messages, and forms used in the office of and ordered by the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney-general, adjutant-general, superintendent of education, clerk of the supreme court, examiner of public accounts, commissioner of agriculture, railroad commissioners, and inspectors of convicts, and all bills, papers, documents, and reports ordered by and for the use of the general assembly, or either house thereof, while in session, shall be printed, or printed and bound, as the case may be, and the records of the supreme court shall be bound as ordered by the clerk of the court, under contract as provided in this chapter; and no printing or binding for the state shall be done under contracts made in pursuance of the provisions of this chapter other than such as is covered and provided for by this chapter.

3386. Classification of public printing and binding.—The printing and binding authorized in the preceding section, for the purposes of the contracts provided for in this chapter, shall be divided into four classes, as follows: Dec. 14, 1894, p. 234, §1.

Class 1. The reports of the decisions of the supreme court.

Class 2. The acts and journals of the general assembly, and the revenue laws of each session of the general assemby in separate pamphlets.

Class 3. The annual or biennial reports of the auditor, treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of education, commissioner of agriculture, railroad commissioners, inspectors of convicts, adjutant-general, state geologist, state board of health, the board of trustees of the University of Alabama, of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf and of the Alabama Academy for the Blind, of the Alabama Bryce Insane Hospital, all handbooks, pamphlets, or bulletins which the commissioner of agriculture is authorized by law to publish, all messages of the governor to the general assembly, all bills, documents and reports ordered by and for the use of the general assembly, or either house thereof, while in session.

Class 4. All blanks, circulars, notices and forms used in the office of and ordered by the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney-general, adjutant-general, superintendent of education, clerk of the supreme court, examiner of public accounts, commissioner of agriculture, railroad commissioners and inspectors of convicts, and all blanks and forms ordered by and for the use of the secretary of the senate or the clerk of the house of representatives, and binding the records and manuscript opinions of the supreme court.

3387. Secretary of state to advertise for proposals biennially. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state, biennially, from and after the first day of December, 1898, to advertise for ten days in one daily newspaper in each of the cities of Montgomery, Mobile, Selma and Birmingham for proposals to do the printing and binding for the state for the term of two years from the first day of January next thereafter. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 121, §3.

3388. Proposals must be in writing; bonds.—All proposals for the printing and binding of the state must be in writing signed by the person, firm, or corporation making the proposal, and must be accompanied by the bond of such person, firm, or corporation, with two or more sufficient sureties, who shall be resident citizens of this state, in the penalty of twenty-five hundred dollars if the proposal is to do the printing and binding specified in class 1, twenty-five hundred dollars if to do that specified in class 2, five thousand dollars if to do that specified in class 3, and twenty-five hundred dollars if to do that specified in class 4, payable in every instance to the State of Alabama, and conditioned for the faithful performance of Dec. 14, 1894, p. 234.

the contract made on the acceptance of the proposal. The proposals with the bonds must be sealed, indorsed "Proposals for class —— (specifying the class the proposal is for) of public printing," and delivered to the secretary of state by mail or otherwise on or before the twentieth day of the month in which the advertisement is made.

Ib. §5.

3389. Maximum rate for printing and binding.—The following shall be the maximum rates allowed for printing and binding: For every page of the acts and joint resolutions, two dollars; for binding every copy of the acts, twenty cents a copy; for every page of the journals and revenue laws, one dollar; for binding the journals, twenty cents a copy; for every copy of any volume of the supreme court reports, printed and bound as required by this chapter, in editions not exceeding seven hundred and fifteen copies, one dollar and sixty cents; for blanks printed on paper, thirty cents a quire of twenty-four full sheets; for blanks printed on parchment, thirty cents for each twenty-four sheets; for printing done for the officers, commissioners and boards, and for the general assembly, or either house thereof, forty cents a thousand ems for composition of plain matter; for rule and figure work, seventy-five cents a thousand ems; for presswork, including paper, per token, common octavo forms, seventy-five cents; folding reports, pamphlets, bills and other documents, eight cents a hundred copies on each signature, distinct tables to be considered signatures; stitching reports, pamphlets, bills and other documents, ten cents a hundred copies; binding the records of the supreme court and manuscript opinions of the supreme court, one dollar and fifty cents a volume. No proposals for doing printing and binding at greater rates than those fixed in this section shall be considered; but all bids must be at the rates herein fixed or at a certain named less rate, and no bid shall be considered which is at a certain per cent. below them; and in counting blanks, as many as can be printed on a sheet shall be considered as one sheet only, and no more.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 121, §6.

3390. Proposals opened and accepted or rejected.—The secretary of state must, after the twentieth and before the thirtieth day of the month in which bids are received, open the same in the presence of the governor, auditor, treasurer and commissioner of agriculture, or any two of them if the others are unable to attend; and the secretary of state and other officers named, any three concurring, shall select the lowest responsible bidder, either for the classes separately or for the classes combined, as may be to the interest of the state; but no bid unaccompanied by a bond as required in this chapter shall be considered. If in the judgment of a majority of the officers present, the public interest can be subserved best thereby, all the proposals, or all for either class, may be rejected, whereupon the secretary of state shall advertise again, in all respects as in the first instance, for proposals to do the public printing and binding, or that class of it the bids for which were rejected; and upon the coming in of the new bids, they shall be considered, passed on, and accepted or rejected, and in the last event, advertisement made again, as provided in this section with respect to the proposals first made.

3391. Contract made in pursuance of accepted proposal. Ib. §7. When any proposal has been accepted the secretary of state must indorse the fact and the date of its acceptance thereon and give notice thereof to the person, firm, or corporation whose proposal has been accepted; and thereupon the secretary of state, in the name of the state, and such person, firm, or corporation, shall enter into contract in writing for the printing and binding covered by the accepted proposal for the time and in the manner prescribed by law on the terms expressed in the proposal. If such person, firm or corporation fails for ten days to enter into the contract, the officers named in the preceding section may select the next lowest bidder for the printing and binding as to which the failure has occurred, and the person, firm, or corporation failing and the sureties on his bond shall be jointly and severally liable to the state for all damages that may result from such failure, including the increased cost of the printing and binding, or either, for the term under any contract afterwards made and the expenses incident to the making of any subsequent contract.

3392. Contract must be approved by the governor, auditor and treasurer.—All contracts for public printing and binding, and all bonds to secure the faithful performance of the same, shall be approved by the governor, auditor and treasurer, and a new or additional bond may be required whenever they deem it necessary; but the giving of such new or additional bond shall in nowise affect the liability of the sureties on the original or any existing bond; and all such bonds must be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state. Ib.

3393. Contract declared forfeited for cause; new contract. Any contract made under the provisions of this chapter may be declared forfeited by a majority of the officers therein named for the failure or neglect of the contractor to execute the same faithfully, promptly and skillfully, and upon such forfeiture the printing and binding embraced in said contract shall be relet after advertisement in all respects as in the original contract; and any contractor who fails or neglects to execute his contract faithfully, promptly and skillfully, and the sureties on his bond, shall be jointly and severally liable to the state for all damages which result from such failure, and in case the contract is declared forfeited as herein provided, such damages shall include the increased cost of the printing and binding, or either, under any subsequent contract for the term covered by the original contract, and all expenses incident to reletting.

3394. Venue of actions on contract.—Actions against contractors for public printing and binding, and the sureties on their bonds, either or both, may be prosecuted in the courts of Montgomery county without regard to the residence of the defendants. Ib. §9.

3395. Where class 4 must be done.—The printing and binding embraced in class 4 must be done at the seat of government. Dec. 14, 1894, p. 234, §10.

3396. Supreme court reports.—The reports of the decisions of Ib. §11.

the supreme court shall be printed and bound under the direction and control of the supreme court in volumes of not less than six hundred and seventy-two nor more than seven hundred and twenty pages, exclusive of the title-page, table of cases, and other prefatory matter and the index. Every volume shall be printed on new type, set in the same way and by the same class as the type used in printing the sixty-ninth volume of Alabama reports, and shall be bound in sumac-tanned, full law-sheep, and the mechanical and typographical execution, binding and labeling, and all material used in every volume, shall be in all respects at least equal to the sixty-ninth volume of said reports, and every volume shall have on the back two labels which shall be lettered and numbered in the same manner as volume 110 of the Alabama reports; nor shall any volume be accepted or paid for until approved by the judges of the supreme court; and the judges of the supreme court must cause each separate copy of every volume of the reports to be inspected before approval, and must reject every copy which may be found on inspection to be printed, bound, or labeled in any respect otherwise than as herein provided; and all the copies printed shall be bound and delivered to the secretary of state after they have been approved by the judges of the supreme court, and the publishers shall file with the secretary of state an affidavit that they have delivered all the copies of every volume printed by them, before they shall be entitled to receive any payment therefor. The said reports shall be distributed by the secretary of state from his office.*

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 121, §12.

3397. Paper and parchment for blanks.—The parchment for blanks, when it may be necessary to use that material, shall be furnished by the state; and all blanks provided for by this chapter shall be printed on good paper, except where parchment is used, of such size and with such type as the officer ordering the same may direct.

Ib. §13.

3398. Department reports; when to be made; how printed. All reports of departments, officers, commissioners, boards and bureaus, authorized to be printed by this chapter, shall be made to the governor on or before the tenth day of October, annually or biennially as may be required by law, for the annual or biennial period ending on September thirtieth theretofore; and the governor shall have them, or such parts thereof as he may deem necessary, printed in such numbers as the public interest may, in his judgment, require. One-half of the edition in each instance shall be reserved for the use of the general assembly, and the remainder for distribution as prescribed by law. The governor shall have twenty-five copies of each of the reports provided for in this chapter bound in calf for distribution among the several executive officers of the state and the state library.

Ib. §14.

3399. Secretary of state to contract for publication of general and public laws in a newspaper.—The secretary of state, in each October next before the meeting of the general assembly, by circulars addressed to each daily newspaper in this state which publishes also a weekly edition, shall invite bids for publishing in both editions of such paper all the laws of a general and public nature having effect in every county and upon all the people of the state, which may be enacted by the next general assembly, and may accept the proposal of the lowest and best responsible bidder for making such publication and enter into contract with such bidder against the meeting of the general assembly. In determining which bid to accept the secretary of state may take into consideration the circulation of the newspaper published by the bidder; but no bid in excess of seventy-five cents a square shall be considered.

Ib. 3400. Laws to be published and distributed.—The secretary of state must furnish to the contractor copies of all laws provided for in the preceding section within five days after their approval by the governor, or after their passage over his veto, as the case may be, marked "official" and indorsed with his name and style of office. As soon as practicable after receiving such copies, the contractor shall publish them in both the daily and weekly editions of the newspaper, charging therefor as for one insertion only, at the contract rate, and the contractor shall furnish by mail or otherwise, each paper, either daily or weekly, containing any of such laws, to each executive officer of the state and to the marshal and librarian of the supreme court and to each judge of the supreme, circuit, city and probate courts, and to each chancellor, solicitor, county superintendent of education, register in chancery, sheriff, clerk of court, tax-assessor, tax-collector and county treasurer in the state, and to each member of the general assembly, free of charge.

Ib. 3401. Contract to be approved by the governor, auditor and treasurer; bond.—The contract for the publication of the general and public laws in a newspaper must be approved by the governor, auditor and treasurer, and the contractor shall give bond in the sum of five thousand dollars payable to the State of Alabama, and conditioned for the faithful performance of his contract, which bond must be approved by the governor, auditor and treasurer, and filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

3402 (214) (118) (110) (74). Preparation of acts and joint resolutions for printing.—The secretary of state must, during and after each session of the general assembly, prepare for publication fair copies of the acts and joint resolutions of the general assembly; and the numbers of the bills passed by the two houses of the general assembly, as the same are placed thereon by the secretary and clerk thereof, shall be retained thereon whenever the same are printed, and when published in the volumes of session acts.

Feb. 2, 1891, p. 272. 3403. Acts to be indexed.—After all the acts and joint resolutions are printed, the secretary of state shall have prepared and printed therewith a full index to the same in two divisions, viz.: The first to be an index to all laws and joint resolutions of a public or general character; the second to be an index to all laws which are private or local.

Feb. 19, 1889, p. 3.

3405 (216) (124) (112) (76). Journals; how prepared.—The journals must be prepared with a title-page and index, and must be substantially half-bound and lettered.

Feb. 2, 1891, p. 272.

3406. When acts and journals delivered to printer; how acts prepared.—The secretary of state shall furnish to the printer copies of all acts and joint resolutions of the general assembly within five days after they are deposited in his office with marginal notes as prescribed, and with his certificate that he has compared such copies with the original acts and joint resolutions, and that they are correct copies.

3407 (218) (126) (114). Penalty for not delivering copies of the acts to printer.—For each day's delay of the secretary of state in furnishing the public printer the copies of the acts and joint resolutions of the general assembly at the times respectively prescribed for their delivery, he shall forfeit the sum of twenty dollars to be deducted by the auditor from his salary first accruing after the times limited; and the auditor must not pay to the secretary of state any salary accruing next after the period when such acts should by law be delivered to the public printer, without first having received and filed in his office, as a voucher, the certificate of the governor that such copies of the acts and joint resolutions have been delivered by the secretary of state to the public printer as and in the time prescribed by law, or without having first deducted the forfeiture herein required.

3408 (219) (127) (115) (78). Style of printing and quality of paper.—The acts, resolutions and journals must be printed on paper weighing at least forty pounds to the ream, double medium, of royal octavo pages, with type of the denomination of small pica, and the marginal notes with minion; each page must contain not less than forty-five nor more than fifty lines; the heads or titles of the index in capitals, the other part in small pica; the whole to correspond in print, paper and execution with the Code of Alabama.

3409 (220) (128) (116) (79). Revenue laws to be printed separately.—The revenue laws passed at each session are not only to be printed in the acts and joint resolutions, but must be separately prepared for publication, and five hundred copies printed on the same paper, of the same size, and with the same type as the acts.

3410 (224) (132) (120) (83). Laws and journals, when to be completed by printer.—The printer must, within forty days after being furnished with copies of the acts and joint resolutions, print on paper, type, etc., as herein provided, and deliver within forty days after receiving the last act, to the secretary of state three thousand and five hundred copies of such acts and joint resolutions, marginal notes and index, stitched, half-bound and lettered; and, within thirty-five days thereafter, must deliver to such officer eight hundred copies of the journals of each house with index, stitched, half-bound and lettered.

3411 (225) (133) (121). Ten copies of bills, etc., to be printed and delivered to secretary of state.—When any bill, joint resolution, or memorial of a general nature is ordered to be printed by either house of the general assembly, the public printer must print ten additional copies of each and deliver them to the secretary of state.

3412 (227) (135) (130) (91). Pay for printing; how made.—For all printing done by the order of either house of the general assembly, or for the executive or state officers, the public printer must procure a certified copy of such order from the secretary of the senate, clerk of the house, or from the officer ordering the work, upon the presentation of which to the auditor and the production of a copy of the work ordered, he must issue his warrant for the payment of the same according to the prices specified in the contract.

3413 (228) (136) (131) (92). Payment for printing laws and journals.—Upon the delivery of the requisite number of the laws and journals, within the time prescribed, and executed in all respects as herein provided, the secretary of state must give his receipt for the same, upon which the auditor must issue his warrant for payment.

3414 (229) (137) (132) (93). Payment for printing revenue laws. Upon the delivery of the requisite number of the revenue laws, printed as herein provided, to the auditor, he must issue his warrant for payment.

3415. Payments for printing done for the commissioner of agriculture and the railroad commissioners.—Payment for all printing done for or on account of the department of agriculture shall be made out of the funds of that department in the same manner as other expenses of that department are paid. Payment for printing for the railroad commission shall be made out of the funds arising from the license-tax on railroads for the support of that commission, on the certificate of the president of the commission to the secretary of state that the work has been done on his order, or the order of the governor, if it be the annual report, and the certificate of the secretary of state to the auditor setting forth the amount due for the work under the contract; and payment for all other printing authorized by this chapter shall be made out of the general annual appropriation for that purpose. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 121, §15.

3416 (231) (139) (134). Matters ordered to be printed by both houses.—When any matter is ordered to be printed by both houses, charge must be made for the same in all respects as though ordered by one house only, except in cases where ten days intervene between the times of the respective orders.

CHAPTER 94.

QUO WARRANTO—ACTIONS IN NATURE OF. 3417-3439.

3417 (3167) (3419) (3079) (2651). Actions to vacate charters of corporations; by whom instituted, and grounds for.—An action may be brought in the name of the state, against the offending corporation, on the information of any person for the purpose of vacating the charter, or annulling the existence of any corporation, other than municipal, whenever such corporation—

1. Offends against any of the acts creating, altering, or renewing such corporation.

2. Violates the provisions of any law, by which such corporation forfeits its charter, by abuse of its powers.

3. Has forfeited its privileges or franchises by failure to exercise its powers.

4. Has done or omitted any act which amounts to a surrender of its corporate rights, privileges and franchises.

5. Exercises a franchise or privilege not conferred on it by law.

State v. Town Council, 30 Ala. 66; State v. Webb, 97 Ala. 111; State v. Capital City Water Co., 102 Ala. 231; s. c., 105 Ala. 406; State v. Mobile & Girard R. Co., 108 Ala. 29.

3418 (3168) (3420) (3080) (2652). Judge of circuit court may direct solicitor to commence action; any person may sue on securing costs.—The judge of the circuit court whenever he believes that any of these acts or omissions can be proved, and it is necessary for the public good, must direct the solicitor of the circuit or county to bring such action; or such action may be brought without the direction of such judge on the information of any person giving security for the costs of the action, to be approved by the clerk of the court in which the action is brought.

State v. Capital City Water Co., 102 Ala. 231; s. c., 105 Ala. 406; State v. Mobile & Girard R. Co., 108 Ala. 29.

3419 (3169) (3421) (3081) (2653). In what county action to be brought.—Such actions must be brought in the circuit court of the county in which the corporation has its principal office, or, if it has no principal office, of any county in which it does business, or, if it has no principal office and is doing no business in the state, such action may be brought in any county.

State v. Mobile & Girard R. Co., 108 Ala. 29.

3420 (3170) (3422) (3082) (2654). Action in name of state for usurpation of office or franchise.—An action may be brought in the name of the state against the party offending, in the following cases:

1. When any person usurps, intrudes into, or unlawfully holds or exercises any public office, civil or military, or any franchise within this state, or any office in a corporation created by the authority of this state.

2. When any public officer, civil or military, has done or suffered an act, by which, under the law, he forfeits his office.

3. When any association, or number of persons, acts within this state as a corporation, without being duly incorporated.

State v. Porter, 1 Ala. 688; State v. Burnett, 2 Ala. 140; State v. Town Council, 30 Ala. 66; State v. Gardner, 43 Ala. 234; Lee v. State, 49 Ala. 43; State v. Price, 50 Ala. 568; Ex parte Harris, 52 Ala. 87; Echols v. State, 56 Ala. 131; Davidson v. Woodruff, 68 Ala. 356; Leigh v. O'Bannon, 69 Ala. 261; Parks v. State, 100 Ala. 634; Montgomery v. State, 107 Ala. 372.

As amended Feb. 21, 1893, p. 789. §1.

3421 (3171) (3423, 3424) (3083, 3084) (2655, 2656). Judge of circuit court may direct action to be brought; any person may sue on securing costs.—The judge of the circuit court may direct such action to be brought when he believes that any of the acts specified in the preceding section can be proved, and it is necessary for the public good, or it may be brought without the direction of such judge on the information of any person giving security for the costs of the action, to be approved by the clerk of the court in which the action is brought.

3422. In what county action to be brought.—Such action must be brought in the circuit court of the county in which the acts are done or suffered, or, if to try the right to a corporate office, in the circuit court of the county in which the corporation has its principal office, or, if it has no principal office, in any county in which it does business.

3423. When alleged corporation may be joined as party defendant without prejudice.—When the action is against persons acting as a corporation without being duly incorporated, the alleged corporation may be joined as a party defendant, and such joinder does not admit its corporate existence, or otherwise prejudice the case of the plaintiff; and judgment and execution may go against it by its alleged corporate name, as in other cases.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 789, §1.

3424. Court always open for trial of cause which stands for trial after five days' service of summons; postponement.—The court is at all times open for the trial of such cause or the granting of orders therein. The summons shall be returnable ten days from the date of issuance, and if five days' service is not had before such return-day, the summons is returnable to the first day after the expiration of five days after such service; and if such return-day be a day of any regular or special term of the court, the cause stands for trial on the next day after the return-day, unless good cause be shown for further delay; but if such return-day does not fall within a regular or special term, the judge must fix a day for the hearing, of which the clerk must notify the parties or their attorneys; and on such day the case may be tried, or for good cause shown, or by consent of parties and the approval of the court, may be continued to another day.

Ib.

3425. Cause to be tried by the court unless jury demanded. Such cause must be tried by the court without a jury, unless a jury be demanded in writing, either by the relator at the time of filing the information, or by the defendant at the time of filing his answer; but by the consent of both parties a trial by jury may be had where previously waived, or may be waived where previously demanded by either party. If need be, the court or judge may order the sheriff to summon the requisite number of persons to serve as jurors.

3426 (3172) (3425) (3085) (2657). Informant joined as plaintiff with the state.—Whenever an action is brought, under the provisions of this chapter, on the information of any person, his name must be joined as plaintiff with the state.

Montgomery v. State, 107 Ala. 372.

3427 (3173) (3426, 3427) (3086, 3087) (2658, 2659). In whose name continued on death of informant; when it abates.—On the death of such person pending the suit, it may be continued in the name of the surviving informant, or of any person who, on application, having first given security for the costs, is substituted in his place; but on the death of all the informants, if no person is substituted in their place, the action abates.

3428 (3174) (3428) (3088) (2660). Averments of complaint. The complaint in such action must concisely and clearly set forth the act or omission complained of.

3429 (3175) (3429, 3430) (3089, 3090) (2661, 2662). In action for usurpation, true officer may be averred; judgment.—When the action is brought against a person for usurping an office, the name of the person rightly entitled to the office, with a statement of his right thereto, may be added, and, when added, judgment may be rendered upon the right of the defendant, and also upon the right of the party so alleged to be entitled; or only upon the right of the defendant, as justice may require.

3430 (3176) (3431) (3091) (2663). Rights of such officer, on judgment in his favor.—If judgment is rendered upon the right of the person so alleged to be entitled, and the same is in favor of such person, he is entitled, after taking the oath of office, and executing such official bond as may be required, to take upon himself the execution of the office; and it is his duty, immediately thereafter, to demand of the defendant all the books, papers and property in his custody, or within his power, belonging to the office; and on refusal or neglect to deliver over the same, he may be proceeded against as is prescribed by the provisions of this Code to compel the delivery of books, papers, property and money by public officers to successors.

3431 (3177) (3432) (3092) (2664). When validity of election not triable.—The validity of no election which may be contested under this Code can be tried under the provisions of this chapter.

Davidson v. State, 63 Ala. 432; Leigh v. O'Bannon, 69 Ala. 261; Parks v. State, 100 Ala. 634.

As amended Feb. 21, 1893, p. 789, §2.

3432 (3178) (3433) (3093) (2665). Judgment of exclusion from office or franchise; costs.—When a defendant, whether a natural person or a corporation, against whom such action has been brought, is adjudged guilty of usurping or intruding into, or unlawfully holding or exercising any office or franchise, judgment must be rendered that such defendant be excluded from the office or franchise, and that the plaintiff recover costs against such defendant; and execution shall be issued on such judgment at the expiration of five days from the date thereof, unless the defendant shall, within such time, take an appeal to the supreme court.

3433 (3179) (3434) (3094) (2666). On judgment of forfeiture, corporation dissolved; costs.—If it is adjudged that a corporation, against which an action has been brought under this chapter, has, by neglect, abuse, or surrender, forfeited its corporate rights, privileges and franchises, judgment must be rendered that the corporation be excluded from such corporate rights, privileges and franchises, and be dissolved; and judgment for costs must be rendered against the persons claiming to be such corporation, and the directors or managers thereof, as established by the evidence; and execution shall be issued on such judgment at the expiration of five days from the date thereof, unless the defendant or the persons claiming to be such corporation shall, within such time, take an appeal to the supreme court.

3435 (3181) (3436) (3096) (2668). Costs on abatement.—On an abatement of the action, judgment must be rendered against the sureties of the informant for the costs.

3436 (3182) (3437) (3097) (2669). Execution against informant's sureties.—In all cases under this chapter, in which judgment is rendered against the informant for costs, execution may issue therefor against his sureties.

3437 (3183) (3438) (3098) (2670). Appeal; costs thereof.—The state, informant, or defendant, may appeal to the supreme court within ten days after judgment, on application to the clerk and giving security for the costs of the appeal; the names of the sureties to be certified, with the record, to the supreme court; and if the appeal is not sustained, judgment for costs may be rendered against such sureties; but in appeals by the state no security shall be required.

3438. When appeal does not supersede execution of judgment unless bond be given.—If the defendant is adjudged guilty of usurping or intruding into, or unlawfully holding or exercising any public office, civil or military, or any office in a corporation created by the authority of this state, such appeal does not supersede the execution of the judgment, unless the party appealing shall execute bond, in a sum to be prescribed and with sureties to be approved by the presiding judge, payable to the State of Alabama, with condition that if he fail in the appeal he will pay such judgment as the supreme court may render in the premises, and all such costs and damages as any person may sustain by reason of a wrongful appeal and suspension of the execution of the judgment. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 789, §3.

Ib.

3439. Appeal; when heard.—Such appeal must be heard by the supreme court on the first Thursday after the expiration of ten days from the date of the appeal, if the court be then in session; if not in session at the expiration of such ten days, the appeal shall be heard at the first opportunity thereafter during any term, or may be heard at a special term to be called by the court for such hearing, of which twenty days' notice must be given to the parties; but in no case shall such appeal be heard unless the citation of appeal has been served five days before the hearing.

RAILROADS.

ARTICLE 1.—REGULATIONS AFFECTING PUBLIC SAFETY. 3440–3450.
2.—REGULATIONS AFFECTING THE CONVENIENCE OF PASSENGERS. 3451–3458.
3.—COMMERCIAL REGULATIONS. 3459–3474.
4.—REGULATIONS AFFECTING LIVE STOCK. 3475–3480.

ARTICLE 1.

REGULATIONS AFFECTING PUBLIC SAFETY.

3440 (1144) (1699) (1399). Duty of engineer as to ringing bell and blowing whistle.—The engineer, or other person having control of the running of a locomotive on any railroad, must blow the whistle or ring the bell at least one-fourth of a mile before reaching any public-road crossing, or any regular station or stopping-place on such railroad, and continue to blow the whistle or ring the bell, at short intervals, until it has passed such crossing, or reached such station or stopping-place. He must also blow the whistle or ring the bell immediately before, and at the time of leaving such station or stopping-place; and also immediately before entering any curve crossed by a public road, where he cannot see at least one-fourth of a mile ahead, and must approach and pass such crossing at such speed as to prevent accident in the event of an obstruction at the crossing. He must also blow the whistle or ring the bell, at short intervals, on entering into, or while moving within, or passing through any village, town, or city. He must also, on perceiving any obstruction on the track, use all the means within his power, known to skillful engineers, such as applying brakes and reversing engine, in order to stop the train.

Statute applies to public-road crossing only; duty of engineer at crossing used merely for convenience, and by acquiescence.—A. G. S. R. Co. v. Linn, 103 Ala. 134; L. & N. R. Co. v. Webb, 97 Ala. 308; Stringer v. Ala. Min. R. Co., 99 Ala. 397; S. & W. R Co. v. Meadors, 95 Ala. 137; Pratt Coal & Iron Co. v. Davis, 79 Ala. 308; Tanner v. L. & N. R. Co., 60 Ala. 621. Statute intended to prevent accidents at the crossing; cannot be set up when injuries occur at other points not named in the statute.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Markee, 103 Ala. 160; L. & N. R. Co. v. Hall, 87 Ala. 708; N. C. & St. L. R. Co. v. Hembree, 85 Ala. 481; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Hawk, 72 Ala. 112. "Regular station or stopping-place" defined.—Cook v. Central R. Co., 67 Ala. 533. Duty to reduce speed before "entering any curve," etc.—Ensley Railway Co. v. Chewning, 93 Ala. 24; N. C. & St. L. R. Co. v. Hembree, 85 Ala. 481; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Deaver, 79 Ala. 216. Duty to give signals is coextensive with the limits of a "village, town, or city."—H. A. & B. R. Co. v. Sampson, 112 Ala. 425; S. & W. R. Co. v. Meadors, 95 Ala. 137; Carrington v. L. & N. R. Co., 88 Ala. 472. Not necessary to blow the whistle "and" ring the bell.—H. A. & B. R. Co. v. South, 112 Ala. 642. Duty to apply brakes, reverse engine, etc. "on perceiving any obstruction on the track"; excused, when, without fault, obstruction not seen until no effort would avert the accident.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Gentry, 103 Ala. 635; L. & N. R. Co. v. Davis, Ib. 661; S. & W. R. Co. v. Jarvis, 95 Ala. 149; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Watson, 91 Ala. 483; s. c., 90 Ala. 41; N. C. & St. L. R. Co. v. Hembree, 85 Ala. 481; M. & G. R. Co. v. Caldwell, 83 Ala. 196; A. G. S. R. Co. v. McAlpine, 80 Ala. 73; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Deaver, 79 Ala. 216; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Bayliss, 77 Ala. 429. Like duties arise on discovery of live stock in dangerous proximity to the track.—E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Watson, 90 Ala. 41; Western Ry. Co. v. Sistrunk, 85 Ala. 353; Western Ry. Co. v. Lazarus, 88 Ala. 453; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Powers, 73 Ala. 244. Must keep a diligent lookout for live stock.—K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Watson, 91 Ala. 483; s. c., 90 Ala. 41; L. & N. R. Co. v. Posey, 96 Ala. 262; Western Ry. Co. v. Lazarus, 88 Ala. 453; Western Ry. Co. v. Sistrunk, 85 Ala. 353; M. & G. R. Co. v. Caldwell, 83 Ala. 196; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Bayliss, 77 Ala. 435; s. c., 75 Ala. 466; S. & N. R. Co. v. Jones, 56 Ala. 507; S. & N. R. Co. v. Williams, 65 Ala. 74; L. & N. R. Co. v. Davis, 103 Ala. 661. When must keep a lookout for persons.—Bentley v. Ga. Pac. Ry. Co., 86 Ala. 484; Frazier v. S. & N. R. Co., 81 Ala. 185; S. & N. R. Co. v. Donovan, 84 Ala. 241; Tanner v. L. & N. R. Co., 60 Ala. 621; H. A. & B. R. Co. v. Sampson, 112 Ala. 425; S. & M. R. Co. v. Shearer, 58 Ala. 672. Persons merely crossing railroad, at crossing or elsewhere, not trespassers.—Montgomery v. A. G. S. R. Co., 97 Ala. 305; Glass v. M. & C. R. Co., 94 Ala. 581; L. & N. R. Co. v. Webb, 90 Ala. 185; Leak v. Ga. Pac. Ry. Co., Ib. 161. Failure to observe statutory requirements, per se, is simple negligence.—A. G. S. R. Co. v. Linn, 103 Ala. 134; Montgomery v. A. G. S. R. Co., 97 Ala. 305; S. & W. R. Co. v. Meadors, 95 Ala. 137; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Kornegay, 92 Ala. 228; G. P. Ry. v. Lee, Ib. 262; L. & N. R. Co. v. Webb, 90 Ala. 185; H. A. & B. R. Co. v. Sampson, 91 Ala. 560; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Powers, 73 Ala. 244; Central R. Co. v. Letcher, 69 Ala. 106.

Liability is primarily on the company failing to comply.—Richmond & Danville R. Co. v. Freeman, 97 Ala. 289. Contributory negligence of company carrying passengers is no defense to the other.—Ga. Pac. R. Co. v. Hughes, 87 Ala. 610. Train operated by dummy-engine without city limits, within the statute.—Ensley Ry. Co. v. Chewning, 93 Ala. 24; Birmingham Min. R. Co. v. Jacobs, 92 Ala. 187; L. & N. R. Co. v. Anchors, Ala. (22 So. 279). Also electric railways.—L. & N. R. Co. v. Anchors, Ala. (22 So. 279); Electric Co. v. Baylor, 101 Ala. 488.

3442 (1146) (1722). Sign-boards.—Every railroad company must erect, at all points where its road crosses any public road, at a sufficient elevation to admit of the free passage of vehicles of every kind, a sign, with large and distinct letters placed thereon, to give notice of the proximity of the railroad and warn persons of the necessity of looking out for the cars.

3443 (1147) (1722) (1401). Railroad liable for injuries; burden of proof.—A railroad company is liable for all damages done to persons, or to stock or other property, resulting from a failure to comply with the requirements of the three preceding sections, or any negligence on the part of such company or its agents; and when any person or stock is killed or injured, or other property destroyed or damaged by the locomotive or cars of any railroad at any one of the places specified in the three preceding sections, the burden of proof, in any suit brought therefor, is on the railroad company to show a compliance with the requirements of such sections, and that there was no negligence on the part of the company or its agents.

Injury must result from a failure to comply with the requirements named in the statute.—Hilliker v. Birmingham Ry. & Elec. Co., 100 Ala. 424; Ga. Pac. Ry. Co. v. Hughes, 87 Ala. 610; N. C. & St. L. R. Co. v. Hembree, 85 Ala. 481; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. King, 81 Ala. 177; Clements v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 77 Ala. 533; A. G. S. R. Co. v. McAlpine, 75 Ala. 113; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Bayliss, Ib. 466. In all cases arising under the statute, the burden of proof is on the defendant to show that "there was no negligence."—L. & N. R. Co. v. Davis, 103 Ala. 661; Birmingham Min. R. Co. v. Harris, 98 Ala. 326; L. & N. R. Co. v. Posey, 96 Ala. 262; L. & N. R. Co. v. Barker, 96 Ala. 435; S. & W. R. Co. v. Jarvis, 95 Ala. 149; M. & E. R. Co. v. Perryman, 91 Ala. 413; L. & N. R. Co. v. Kelsey, 89 Ala. 287; N. C. & St. L. R. Co. v. Hembree, 85 Ala. 481; M. & G. R. Co. v. Caldwell, 83 Ala. 196; G. P. R. Co. v. Blanton, 84 Ala. 154; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Deaver, 79 Ala. 216; Clements v. E. T. V. & G. R. Co., 77 Ala. 533; A. G. S. R. Co. v. McAlpine, 75 Ala. 113; s. c., 80 Ala. 73; E. T. V. & G. R. Co. v. Bayliss, 74 Ala. 150; N. O. & S. R. Co. v. Jones, 68 Ala. 48; S. & N. R. Co. v. Williams, 65 Ala. 74; S. & N. R. Co. v. Thompson, 62 Ala. 494; M. & O. R. Co. v. Williams, 53 Ala. 595; M. & O. R. Co. v. Malone, 46 Ala. 391; M. & C. R. Co. v. Peacock, 25 Ala. 229; M. & C. R. Co. v. Bibb, 37 Ala. 699. The act of Feb. 28, 1887, amending section 1700 of the Code of 1876 and noted page 300 of the Code of 1886, being here codified into the original section (1147 of the Code of 1886, 3443 of this Code) by inserting the words "person or" before the word "stock," the rule in Ga. Pac. R. Co. v. Hughes, 87 Ala. 610, applies in all cases arising under "the three preceding sections." See also citations to section 3440.

3444 (1148) (1703) (1405). Superintendent instructs as to law. The chief superintendent of every railroad shall instruct the engineers and conductors thereof as to the provisions of sections 3440 (1144) and 3441 (1145), and order them to comply therewith.

3445 (1151) (1718). Signals by steamboat when approaching drawbridge.—All steamboats approaching, with the intention of passing through, any railroad drawbridge, when about three miles, and again when about two miles, and again when about one mile, and again when about half a mile therefrom, must give, as signals, three loud and distinct sounds of the whistle; and any steamboat attempting to go through such draw without giving such signals shall forfeit five hundred dollars, one half to the informer, and the other half to the county or counties in which the bridge is situated.

3446 (1152) (1719). Draw to be opened on signal; penalty. Any railroad company owning, or agent having supervision over, or management or control of, any such drawbridge, shall, upon signal being given as provided in the preceding section, proceed at once to open, or cause to be opened, the draw of such bridge for the passage of such steamboat; and on failing to open such draw immediately upon signal being given, without lawful excuse therefor, such company and agent shall forfeit to the use of the owner of such steamboat the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction; but suit for such forfeiture must be brought within ninety days after the date of the failure to open such draw.

3447 (1153) (1720). Bridge-signals by railroad.—Immediately upon the draw being opened sufficiently wide for the passage of such steamboat, the person in charge of the bridge shall ring loudly and continuously a large bell until the boat has passed through the draw; and in foggy weather, and also between sunset and sunrise, the person in charge shall, as soon as the draw is opened sufficiently wide for the passage of the boat, hoist above the draw a blue light, of not less than eight inches in diameter, to an elevation sufficient to prevent the framework of the bridge obstructing the sight of the light up and down the river, and shall keep one white light on each end of the draw; such lights to remain stationary until the boat has passed through the draw, and to be exhibited only when the draw is open for the passage of a boat; and in foggy weather, and also between sunset and sunrise, when the draw is not open, there shall be exhibited on the draw, as a signal thereof, a red light so situated as to be visible up and down the river.

3449. Examination, how conducted; evidence.—The examination required in the preceding section must be made by the superintendent of the railroad, or other competent officer selected by him for that purpose, and shall be reduced to writing on blank forms provided for that purpose. If the applicant shall be found qualified in all respects for the position, before his employment the examination-papers shall be referred to the general manager or other chief executive officer of the railroad for his approval or disapproval, and by him shall be filed in his office for future reference; and copies thereof shall be filed in the office of the superintendent in this state, or if there be no such superintendent, then in the principal office of such railroad in this state. Such examination-papers, when certified by the officer having custody of them, shall be evidence of their contents and of the fact of such examination without further proof. Ib. §2.

3450. License to competent employes.—If the applicant upon examination shall be found competent and his examination-papers are approved by the general manager or other chief executive officer, the superintendent, or other person selected by him to conduct such examination, shall issue without charge a license to the applicant to engage in the occupation about which he has been examined. Ib. §3.

ARTICLE 2.

REGULATIONS AFFECTING THE CONVENIENCE OF PASSENGERS.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 74, §1.

3451 (1154). Depot conveniences.—Every railroad company, for the comfort and accommodation of its passengers, must have, when required by the railroad commissioners, at each of the passenger-stations along the line of railroad operated by such company, sufficient sitting or waiting rooms, to be determined by the commissioners, for passengers waiting for trains, having regard to sex and race, which shall be suitably heated in cold weather, and supplied with sufficient fresh drinking-water, when passengers waiting for trains are present, and with sufficient and comfortable chairs or seats; and connected therewith a sufficient number of comfortable privies, or water-closets, to be at all times kept clean; and, in a conspicuous place at such station, a bulletin-board showing the schedule time of the arrival and departure of all passenger-trains; and, if there is a telegraph-station thereat, when any passenger-train is delayed, a bulletin posted in a conspicuous place at such station, showing how much the train is behind its schedule time, and continue to post such bulletins each hour until the train arrives.*

Ib. §§2, 3, 4.

3452. Service of order of railroad commission; time allowed for compliance.—Whenever the railroad commission shall make an order requiring the performance of any of the duties enumerated in the preceding section, notice thereof may be served on the person or corporation operating the railroad, by delivering a copy of such order, signed by the president of the railroad commission, to the president or other head thereof, secretary, cashier, station-agent, or any other agent thereof; which service may be executed by any member of the railroad commission, or the clerk thereof, or by any sheriff of the state; and a copy of such notice, with the service indorsed thereon, must be returned to the railroad commission and entered of record as a part of its proceedings. If such order be for the erection of sitting or waiting rooms, or privies or closets, the person or corporation operating the railroad is allowed ninety days after such service, or such further time as may be allowed by the railroad commission, in which to comply with such order; if for the erection of bulletin-boards, a period of thirty days after such service shall be allowed.

Ib. §§5, 8.

*An act approved Feb. 15, 1897 (Pamph. Acts, p. 956), entitled "An act to require railroad companies to establish depots in towns of more than one thousand inhabitants," is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Alabama, That every person, company or corporation owning or operating any railroad through the corporate limits of any incorporated town or city of more than one thousand inhabitants, is required to establish and maintain one or more depots within such corporate limits sufficient for the accommodation of passengers and the storage of freights; Provided, that this act shall not prevent the establishment or maintenance of union depots by two or more of such railroad companies or corporations.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That any person, company or corporation who shall fail or refuse to comply with this act within three months after the approval thereof must, on conviction, be fined not less than one, nor more than five hundred dollars."

failure to comply with order; chancery proceeding; jury trial; appeal.—The railroad commission must notify the solicitor of the proper circuit and the attorney-general of the failure of any railroad company or person operating a railroad to comply with any order made by such commission for the erection of sitting or waiting rooms, within sixty days after the expiration of the period within which such sitting or waiting rooms are to be erected; and thereupon, it shall be the duty of the solicitor, under the direction of the attorney-general, to file a bill in the name of the State of Alabama, or take other appropriate steps in the chancery court, or before the chancellor, to compel the erection of such sitting or waiting rooms. For the purpose of entertaining, hearing and deciding such causes, the court of chancery shall be always open, and the chancellor may make all needful orders and issue all writs and process either in term time or vacation. If the person or corporation refusing or failing to obey such order claims that the same is unreasonable or unjust, such person or corporation may, on demand, have the facts tried by a jury, under directions from the chancellor as to the law of the case; and it shall be the duty of the chancellor, on demand for such trial by jury, either in term time or vacation, to cause a jury to be summoned by the sheriff of the county in which such trial is to be had. From any decree made under this section an appeal lies to the supreme court within thirty days from the rendition thereof, and such appeal shall be heard as a preferred case.

3454. Separate coaches for whites and blacks.—All railroads carrying passengers in this state, other than street-railroads, shall provide equal but separate accommodations for the white and colored races, by providing two or more passenger-cars for each passenger-train, or by dividing the passenger-cars by partitions, so as to secure separate accommodations. Feb. 6, 1891, p. 412, §1.

3456 (1155) (1717) (1416). Lights and water on trains.—Every railroad company shall keep good lights on night trains, and on all trains sufficient fresh drinking-water.

3457 (1156). Police powers of conductors of passenger-trains. Conductors of passenger-trains, while on duty on their trains, are invested with all the powers, and charged with all the duties and responsibilities of police officers; and when a passenger is disorderly, or uses profane, vulgar or obscene language, or plays any game of cards, or other game of chance, for money or other thing of value, upon any passenger-train, the conductor of such train may stop the train at the place where such offense is committed, or at the next stopping-place of such train, and eject such passenger from the train, using only such force as may be necessary to accomplish the removal; and he may command the employes of the company and the passengers on the train to assist him in making such removal; and he may cause the passenger so offending to be detained and delivered to the proper authorities for trial, if the act committed is a penal offense.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 98.

3458 (1157). Trains to stop at advertised stations; at stations nearest county-seat; penalty.—Railroad-trains for the carriage of passengers must stop at all stations advertised by the railroad company as stations, at least half a minute, for receiving passengers thereon; they must also stop at the telegraph-station nearest or most accessible, as determined by the railroad commission, to the county-seat of each county through which the railroad may pass, for the purpose of receiving and discharging passengers, when signaled to stop, or whenever there is any passenger on board who desires to stop at such station; and every railroad company and employe of such company, violating, or causing, or permitting any violation of the provisions of this section, forfeits to the state, for the use of the public schools, not less than twenty-five, nor more than one hundred dollars, which may be recovered before any justice of the peace of the county in which such violation occurs; and the conductor of the train shall be held prima facie to have caused any such violation occurring on the train in his charge; and the company, whose agent shall cause or permit such violation, shall also incur, and be liable for such forfeiture.*

*An act approved Feb. 12, 1897 (Pamph. Acts, p. 844), entitled "An act to require passenger-trains on railways in this state to stop at the station nearest the court-house town of every county in this state, and to prescribe who shall establish such stations, and to fix penalties for the violation of such requirement," is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Alabama, That from and after the passage of this act all trains on railroads in this state, carrying passengers are required to be stopped by the person in charge thereof at the railroad-station now existing or hereafter established nearest or most accessible, to be determined by the railroad commission, to the county-seat of each county through which the railroad or any part thereof may pass for the purpose of receiving and discharging passengers, when signaled to stop, or whenever there is any passenger on board who desires to stop at such station: Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to vestibuled or limited trains, being trains which only stop for coal and water or at terminal or register stations, and all trains shall stop at Letohatchie in Lowndes county and Eppes Station, Alabama.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That any railway agent who shall fail or refuse to sell a ticket to pass to or from such station to any person at the request of such person and on tender of the usual cost of a ticket in such case whereby such person may take passage on said train, shall be liable to said person in the sum of not less than twenty-five nor more than five hundred dollars as damages for such failure or refusal, and any conductor of any passenger-train who fails or refuses to stop the train he conducts at such station shall be liable to a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than five hundred dollars on conviction of such failure or refusal after indictment by the grand jury of the county in which such offense occurs.

"SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That within ten days after the approval of this

COMMERCIAL REGULATIONS.

3459 (1158). Railroads public highways.—The main track of every railroad in this state is a public highway, over which all persons have equal rights of transportation for passengers and freight, on the payment of just compensation therefor to the owner of the railroad.

3460 (1159). Extortion by railroad; liability therefor.—Any person or corporation, engaged in the business of transporting passengers or freights over any railroad in this state, who shall exact and receive for such transportation more than just compensation therefor, or demands more than the rates specified in any bill of lading issued for such freights, or who, for his own advantage, or for the advantage of any connecting line, or of any person or locality, shall make any unjust discrimination in such transportation, against any individual, corporation, or locality, such overcharge or discrimination to be determined by the jury, is guilty of extortion, and is liable to the party injured for double the damages sustained, and a reasonable attorney's fee for the recovery thereof, unless it appears that the service as to which the extortion was committed, was performed at rates or upon terms previously approved by the railroad commissioners, and then only to actual damages, without such attorney's fee, to be recovered in a court of competent jurisdiction of any county in which the person or corporation operating such railroad does business, by an action commenced within ninety days after such cause of action accrues. If the plaintiff fails in any such suit, and it appears on the trial that the rates or terms complained of are not higher than those previously approved by the railroad commissioners, he must pay the costs of the suit, and also a reasonable attorney's fee to the defendant for defending the suit, the amount of which fee must be determined by the court or jury trying the cause.

M. & O. R. Co. v. Dismukes, 94 Ala. 131.

3461 (1160). What evidence that rates are not extortionate.—In such suit, the fact that the rates or terms, in respect to which the extortion is alleged, had been previously approved by the railroad commissioners, is prima facie evidence that the same were not extortionate; nor shall any rate or charge for the transportation of freight over any railroad be held or considered extortionate or excessive, if, in the absence of any unjust discrimination, it appears from the evidence that the net earnings of such railroad for transporting freights, on the basis of such rate or charge, together with the net earnings thereof from its passengers and other traffic, does not amount to act the railway commissioners of this state shall select all the railway-stations to be affected by this act and shall within that time notify each railway company or the manager or superintendent thereof who resides in this state, or notify the agent of the railway-station so selected of such selection.

"SEC. 4. Be it further enacted, That nothing in this act shall be construed so as to prevent any person from recovering damages against the railroad companies for failure on the part of their employes to comply with the provisions of this act."

more than a fair and just return on the value of such railroad, its appurtenances and equipments.

3462 (1161). Rates on freight to be posted at depot; discrimination unlawful.—Every person or corporation, owning or operating a railroad in this state, must publish, by posting at all the freight-depots along the line of such railroad, the tariffs of rates for the transportation of freight thereon, showing the rates for each class, and including general and special rates; and from such tariffs no reduction shall be made in favor of any person which is not also made in favor of all other persons or corporations by change in such published rates. Special rates, if so published, may be given to any person or corporation to aid in the development of any industrial enterprise in this state.

L. & N. R. Co. v. Fulgham, 91 Ala. 555.

3463 (1162). Freight or passengers may be transported free. Nothing in this Code shall be so construed as to prevent any person or corporation owning or operating a railroad from transporting freight or passengers free of charge.

3464 (1163). Agreements for pooling unlawful.—It shall be unlawful for two or more railroad companies, or persons operating railroads in this state, to enter into any agreement, directly or indirectly, for the division among themselves of the freight-carrying business at any station, town, or city in this state, or into any pool arrangement of like nature or character, the purpose or effect of which shall be to prevent free and fair competition among such companies or persons for such business, or to establish extortionate rates in favor of such companies or persons in doing such business, or to operate in undue restraint of the trade or business at such station, town, or city; and any such agreement, made by any convention or association of freight-agents, or commissioner of freight rates, or rate-making committee, outside of the state, but to be therein performed, in whole or in part, shall, as to such part thereof as is to be performed within the state, be also unlawful. But no agreement, rate, or pool arrangement made for the purpose of cheapening freight rates, or of extending additional facilities to the public generally, or to any station, town, or city in this state, which is not extortionate, or in undue restraint of the trade at any station, town, or city in this state, shall be construed as coming within the meaning of this section; and any agreement, rate, or pool arrangement, having the certified approval of the railroad commissioners, shall be deemed, prima facie, lawful and just in any proceeding before any court or officer of this state.

3465 (1164). Trains to stop at railroad crossings for passengers or freight.—Every conductor, or other person in charge of a train, passing by, or within two hundred feet of any station of an intersecting railroad, located within two hundred yards of the intersection, must stop such train at or opposite such station, and take on and let off passengers and their baggage, and receive and deliver the freight of such station; such passengers and the persons forwarding or receiving such freight, to pay the usual fare and charges on such railroad. If the intersecting railroads have, or run their trains to a common terminus, neither shall charge a less rate per mile for freight or passengers between the place of intersection and such terminus, than is charged per mile over the whole length of its line.

3466 (1165) (1695) (1435). Intersection of railroads; transportation on such roads, and on connecting lines.—Railroads may be constructed so as to cross or connect with each other, by the main or branch tracks; and any person or corporation operating a railroad, when required, must transport or draw over such railroad, main line or branches, the passengers, freight, or cars of any intersecting railroad, or any railroad connecting therewith, directly or indirectly, on reasonable terms, and for a reasonable compensation; but such person or corporation is not required to receive or transport the cars of any other railroad, unless such cars are adapted to the gauge of its track, are sufficiently strong, and are otherwise in proper condition for safe transportation.

3467 (1166). Disagreements between connecting railroads; how settled.—If persons or corporations, owning or operating railroads connecting with each other, directly or indirectly, cannot agree upon the time when the passengers, freight, or cars of either shall be received by, or drawn over the railroad of the other, or as to the compensation to be paid, or as to the proportion in which the compensation for transportation of passengers or freight shall be divided or shared between them, or as to the depot accommodations or facilities for transferring passengers or freight from one road to the other, at the point of connection, either party may file in the chancery court of any district in which the other does business a petition, addressed to the chancellor, and verified by affidavit, setting forth the matter or matters touching which they cannot agree; and upon the filing thereof, the chancellor may, in term time or vacation, if satisfied that the interests of the petitioner demand it, make an order referring the petition to the railroad commissioners for an adjustment of the matter or matters of disagreement set forth therein; a copy of which petition, and of the order made by the chancellor thereon, the petitioner shall serve upon the opposite party, or upon any officer or agent of such party on whom service of legal process may lawfully be made. Upon the making of such an order, the register shall forthwith transmit to the president of the railroad commission, or deliver to the petitioner for that purpose, a certified copy of such petition and order.

3468 (1167). Proceedings before commissioners on such petition. Upon receiving the certified copy of such petition and order, the railroad commissioners must appoint a time and place for hearing the matter in controversy, of which they must give to both parties at least ten days' notice. At the time and place appointed, or at any other time and place to which the matter may be continued, if both parties have had the required notice, the commissioners must proceed to hear the parties interested, and such evidence as they may adduce, and determine the matter referred to them, having reference to the convenience and interest of the parties or corporations owning or operating such railroads, and the public to be accommodated thereby; and their decision or award, with a statement of the facts as disclosed before them, they shall reduce to writing and certify to the register of the court in which the petition was filed.

3469 (1168). Proceedings in chancery court on award of commissioners.—Upon receiving the decision or award of the commissioners, the register must file the same, and either party has thirty days thereafter within which to file exceptions thereto. Upon the hearing of the exceptions, in term time or vacation, the chancellor may, for good cause shown, annul the decision or award of the commissioners, and remand the petition to them for further investigation, when the same proceedings shall be had as in the first instance. If no exceptions are filed within the time allowed for filing the same, or if, upon the hearing of the exceptions filed, the chancellor confirms the award or decision of the commissioners, the same must be entered as the decree of the court, and enforced as such, if necessary, by any appropriate writ; and the same shall remain of force and be binding upon the parties for the period of twelve months after the confirmation thereof.

3470 (1169). Revival, amendment and change of award.—Either of the parties to such proceedings may, at any time after the expiration of twelve months from the time the award takes effect, file in such court a petition to revive, modify, or amend the same; and thereupon the same proceedings shall be had as upon the original petition; or the parties may, at any time, by agreement in writing, change or modify such award, and thereafter such award, as changed or modified, shall be of the same force and effect as if originally so made.

3471 (1170). Penalty for violation of award.—Any party to such award, who shall knowingly disregard or violate the same, or any of its provisions, shall forfeit two hundred dollars for each day such disregard or violation continues, one half to any person suing for the same, and the other to the state, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction of any county in which such party does business.

3472 (1171). Costs; against whom taxed.—The fees to the register for services rendered by him in such proceedings shall be fixed by the chancellor; and the costs may be taxed against either or both parties, in the discretion of the chancellor.

3473 (1172). When provisions of preceding sections do not apply. The provisions of the six preceding sections do not apply to railroads intersecting each other, and having a common terminus, as to freight and passengers between the place of intersection and such terminus.

3474 (1173). Meaning of railroad company.—Unless clearly otherwise apparent from the context, the term "railroad company," as used in this chapter, includes any person or corporation owning or operating a railroad.

ARTICLE 4.

REGULATIONS AFFECTING LIVE STOCK.

3475. Owner must be notified of injury to stock.—Whenever any stock is killed or injured by any railroad train or locomotive, it shall be the duty of the section-master on whose section such killing or injury occurs, within twenty-four hours thereafter, to notify the owner of said stock or his agent, if known, of such killing or injury. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 808, §1.

3476. Two persons selected to assess the damages.—Upon the demand of the owner or his agent, it shall be the duty of the section-master to select one disinterested person from the neighborhood, who, together with another of like character, to be selected by the owner or his agent, shall assess the value of the stock killed, or the amount of the injury, if injured only. They shall deliver to the section-master and to the owner, or his agent, a written statement of the value of the stock or amount of injury so ascertained, which statement shall be prima facie evidence of such value or amount in all trials in which they may be in issue. If the two persons so selected are unable to agree, they shall select a third, and the award of any two of them shall have the force and effect provided for in this section. Ib. §§2, 3.

3477. When owner unknown justice of the peace acts for him. If the owner of the stock is unknown, it shall be the duty of the section-master to inform the nearest justice of the peace, and the section-master and the justice of the peace shall each select one person who shall proceed in all respects as provided in the preceding section. Ib. §4.

3478. When section-master fails or refuses to act.—If upon the demand of the owner of the stock or of the justice of the peace, as the case may be, the section-master fails or refuses to act as provided in this article, the owner or the justice of the peace may select two persons to act as appraisers who shall proceed in all respects as provided in this article. Ib. §6.

3479. Fees of appraisers.—Each person appointed under the provisions of this article shall be entitled to receive fifty cents for his services which shall be paid as costs are in civil cases. Ib. §5.

3480. Cattle-guards.—Every person or corporation operating a railroad must put cattle-guards upon such railroad and keep the same in good repair whenever the owner of the land through which the road passes shall make demand upon them or their agents and show that such guards are necessary to prevent the depredation of stock upon his land. Dec. 11, 1886, p. 163.

CHAPTER 96.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS. 3481-3504.

3481 (1120). Appointment and term of office.—A commission known as the railroad commissioners of Alabama, consisting of a president and two associates, who shall be competent persons, and who shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate, is established. Under the appointment first made under the provisions of this chapter, one of such commissioners, to be designated by the governor when he nominates them to the senate, shall hold office for two years, and the others for four years; but thereafter the term of office of each commissioner shall be for four years; and each commissioner appointed hereunder shall also continue in office until his successor is duly appointed and qualifies.

3484 (1123). Disqualification for office.—No person owning any stock in any railroad corporation, or in the employment of any railroad corporation, or of any person owning or operating a railroad in this state, shall be nominated by the governor, or confirmed by the senate as a member of such commission.

3485 (1124). Impeachment; before what court, and grounds of. Such commissioners may be impeached and removed from office by the supreme court for the same causes, and in the same manner as other state officers; and any commissioner, who shall accept any gift, gratuity, emolument, or employment from any person or corporation owning or operating a railroad in this state, during his continuance in office, except a permit for himself to pass over the railroad of such person or corporation, shall forfeit his office, and may be impeached and removed from office therefor, as for any other cause of impeachment.

3486 (1125). Salaries; clerk and his salary; expenses.—The president of such commission shall receive a salary of thirty-five hundred dollars per annum, and the associate commissioners shall each receive a salary of three thousand dollars per annum; and they may employ a clerk at a salary not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars per annum; such salaries to be paid as the salaries of state officers are paid. All money paid out under the provisions of this chapter, including such sum as may be necessary to procure office furniture and stationery, and to pay other office expenses, shall be paid on warrants drawn by the auditor on the treasurer; but such office expenses shall not exceed five hundred dollars per annum.

3487 (1126). Office; meetings, and record of proceedings.—Such commissioners shall have an office at the capitol, and shall there meet on the first Monday in every month, September excepted, and shall remain in session until all business before them is disposed of; and they shall hold other sessions at such times and places as may be necessary for the proper discharge of their duties, or as the convenience of parties, in the judgment of the commissioners, may require; and they shall keep a record of all their proceedings, which shall be open at all times to the inspection of the public.

3488 (1127). Commissioners and clerk not to contract with railroads.—No railroad commissioner, or clerk of the commission, shall, during his continuance in office, personally, or through any partner or agent, render any professional services, or make or perform any business contracts for or with any corporation or person owning or operating a railroad in this state, except contracts made in the capacity of such corporation or person as common carrier.

3489 (1128). License-tax against railroads; how amount ascertained; penalty for operating without license.—Every person or corporation operating a railroad in this state must annually, at the time of returning its property for taxation, make return of the gross earnings of such railroad during the preceding year; and if such railroad is partly in another state, the gross earnings shall be apportioned to each mile of main track on the entire line, and the sum thus apportioned to each mile, multiplied by the number of miles in this state, shall be considered the gross earnings of such railroad in this state; and should any such person or corporation fail to make such return of the gross earnings of such railroad, the auditor shall ascertain and assess the same from information. The auditor must then ascertain what percentage of the aggregate of gross earnings thus returned or assessed will be sufficient to pay the expenses of the railroad commission authorized by law, and assess a license-tax against every such railroad for the amount of such percentage of its gross earnings; and the person or corporation operating any such railroad shall pay the tax so assessed against it to the treasurer on or before the first day of June of each year. Upon the production of the treasurer's receipt for such tax, and satisfactory evidence that the person or corporation paying the same is prepared to transport freight and passengers with reasonable safety over such railroad, the auditor shall issue to such person or corporation a license to operate such railroad for one year; and any person or corporation, operating a railroad in this state without such license, shall forfeit one hundred dollars for each day while so engaged, one half to any person suing for the same and the other half to the state.

Charlotte, etc., R. Co. v. Gibbes, 142 U. S. 386.

3490 (1129). Supervision of railroads; recommendations as to management; right of free passage.—Such railroad commissioners shall have general supervision over all the railroads in this state; shall, from time to time, as they may deem necessary, examine the same, and keep themselves informed as to their condition and the manner in which they are operated with reference to the security and accommodation of the public, and their compliance with their charters and the laws of this state; and shall, in writing, recommend to the persons or corporations operating such railroads, or any of them, from time to time, the adoption of such measures and regulations as the commissioners may deem conducive to the public safety and interest; and the commissioners, in the performance of their duties, shall have the right to pass free of charge on all the railroads in the state, and to take with them any person in their official employment.

3491 (1130). Revision of railroad tariffs.—It is the duty of the railroad commissioners to consider and carefully revise all tariffs of charges for transportation made by any person or corporation owning or operating a railroad in this state; and if, in their judgment, any such charge is more than just compensation for the service for which it is proposed to be made, or amounts to unjust discrimination against any person, locality, or corporation, they shall notify the party making the same of the changes necessary to reduce the rate to just compensation, or to avoid unjust discrimination; and when such changes are made, or when none are deemed proper and expedient, they shall append to the tariff of charges a certificate of their approval; and they shall exercise a watchful and careful supervision over all tariffs and their operation, and revise the same, from time to time, as justice to the public and the railroads may require, and increase or reduce any of the rates, as experience and business operations may show to be just; but in revising any tariff, the commissioners shall take into consideration the nature of the service to be performed, the entire business of the railroad, and its earnings from passengers and other traffic, and so revise the same as to allow a fair and just return on the value of the railroad, its appurtenances and equipments.

3492 (1131). Complaints against approved tariffs, and proceedings thereon.—The commissioners must hear and consider all complaints made to them in writing by any person against any railroad tariff of rates approved by them, on the ground that the same affords more than just compensation, or amounts to unjust discrimination, and specifying the item or items against which complaint is made; and if it appear to them that the matter should be investigated, they shall forthwith fix the time and place for hearing the complaint, and furnish the person or corporation operating the railroad against which the complaint is made, with a copy of such complaint, and notice of the time and place fixed by them for hearing the same; and, at such time and place, they shall hear the parties, in person or by counsel, and such evidence, oral or written, as may be offered, allowing the examination of witnesses under oath, and giving such time and latitude to each side, and so regulating the opening and concluding of argument, as to them may seem best adapted to attaining the truth; and conforming, as nearly as may be convenient, to the mode of proceedings required of arbitrators. When the hearing is concluded, the commissioners shall give to the person or corporation operating such railroad written notice of any changes deemed proper by them to be made.

3493 (1132). When must make recommendations of joint local rates.—When any line of railroad consists of two or more railroads under one general management, or when there are connecting lines of railroad, such commissioners shall recommend joint local rates of freight, so as to avoid, as far as possible, the injustice of combined local rates in the transportation of freight over such line or lines; but in making any such recommendation, they shall have due regard for the value of the services to be performed, and the rules and principles governing such transportation, and shall not, in any instance, make any recommendation which does not allow the persons or corporations operating such lines a fair and reasonable compensation for the services to be performed.

3494 (1133). Authority to notify railroads of desired changes or repairs.—Whenever, in the judgment of the railroad commissioners, repairs are necessary upon any railroad in this state, or any addition to the rolling-stock, or any addition to, or change of stations, or station-houses, of any such railroad, or any change in its rates of fares for transporting freight or passengers, or any change in the mode of operating its road, or conducting its business, is reasonable and expedient, in order to promote the security, convenience, or accommodation of the public, they shall, in writing, notify the person or corporation operating such railroad of the repairs, improvements, or changes which they adjudge to be proper; and a report of such notice, and the proceedings thereon, shall be included in the annual report of the commissioners to the governor.

3495 (1134). Fencing railroads.—When such commissioners deem it necessary that any railroad in this state, or any portion thereof, should be fenced, they shall notify the person or corporation operating such railroad of their conclusion; and upon failure, after reasonable notice, to fence such railroad, or the portion thereof designated, the person or corporation operating such railroad shall be liable in damages for the value of any stock injured or killed upon the portion of the line so designated to be fenced, whether with or without negligence; but if the fence is erected in conformity to the notice, no liability shall attach for stock injured or killed upon the portion of the line so fenced, unless such injury or killing was committed willfully.

3496 (1135). Effect of determination of commissioners.—When any matter relating to the regulation or supervision of any railroad in this state, or of any person or corporation operating any such railroad, and coming within the jurisdiction of the railroad commissioners, has been determined by them in the course of any proceeding before them, proof of such determination, to be made by a copy thereof certified by the president or their clerk, shall be received in any suit, or other legal proceeding in any court, or before any officer, as prima facie evidence that the determination made by them of such matter was right and proper.

3498 (1137). Annual reports to commissioners.—Every person or corporation operating a railroad in this state must, on or before the first day of September of each year, make to the commissioners in duplicate, in the manner prescribed, and upon blanks to be furnished by them, annual returns of the business of such railroad up to the close of its business on the thirtieth day of June next preceding; and any such person or corporation, failing to make such returns, shall forfeit to the state fifty dollars for each day of such failure.

3499 (1138). When accident to be reported to commissioners; proceedings thereon.—Every person or corporation operating a railroad shall give notice to the commissioners of any accident happening on any portion of its line within this state, which is attended with serious injury to the person of any one, within twenty-four hours thereafter; and upon receiving such notice, or upon public rumor of such accident, one or more of the commissioners may repair to the scene of the accident, and inquire into the facts and circumstances thereof; and the result of such inquiry, with such details as may be deemed necessary, shall be entered upon the record of the proceedings of the commissioners, and embraced in their annual report.

3500 (1139). When books of railroad may be examined by commissioners.—Upon the application in writing of a director, or of persons owning one fiftieth part of the entire paid-in capital stock of any corporation operating a railroad, or of the bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of such corporation, equal in amount to one fiftieth part of its paid-in capital stock, the commissioners shall make an examination into the books and financial condition of such corporation, and may, in their discretion, cause the result of their examination to be published in one or more newspapers in this state.

3501 (1140). Witnesses before commissioners, and their compensation.—Such commissioners may summon and examine, under oath, such witnesses as they may think proper in relation to the affairs of any railroad in this state, or of any person or corporation operating such railroad; and any witness summoned before such commissioners may be sworn by any one of them. Witnesses summoned to appear before the commissioners shall be entitled to the same per diem and mileage as in the circuit court; and, when summoned on behalf of the commissioners, they shall be paid by warrant of the auditor on the treasurer, drawn on the certificate of the president, stating the amount to which they are entitled; when summoned on behalf of any party, they shall be paid by such party.

3502 (1141). Duty to attend sessions of state boards of assessment.—Such commissioners, on notice by the governor, shall attend the meetings of the state board of assessment, and, if required, give such board all information they can that will assist them in the assessment of taxes against persons or corporations operating railroads.

3503 (1142). Reports of commissioners to the governor.—On or before the tenth day of October, of each year, the railroad commissioners, through their president, shall make to the governor, for transmission to the general assembly, a report of their acts and doings for the year ending on the thirtieth day of June next preceding, setting forth such facts as will disclose the actual workings of the railroad system in this state, and making such suggestions as to the general railroad policy of the state as may to them seem appropriate; and they shall also therein submit such recommendations for further legislation upon the subject of railroads as they may deem necessary or advisable for the interests of the state. As amended Feb. 21, 1893, p. 854.

3504 (1143). Provisions of chapter not to affect duties, etc., of railroads; effect of adoption of recommendations.—The provisions of this chapter shall not be construed so as to affect, in any manner or degree, the legal duties, rights and obligations of any person or corporation owning or operating any railroad in this state, or the legal liability of such person or corporation for the consequences of its neglect or mismanagement, whether adjudged by such commissioners to be reasonable, expedient and proper, or not; but when such person or corporation has adopted the recommendation or advice of the commissioners, in a matter in which they had authority to recommend or advise, proof of such fact shall be received in any suit or other legal proceeding in any court, or before any officer, as prima facie evidence that the thing done, or omitted to be done, upon such recommendation or advice, was right and proper.

REDEMPTION OF REAL ESTATE. 3505-3519.

Feb. 27, 1889, p. 764.

3505 (1879) (2877) (2509) (2116). Redemption by debtor. Where real estate, or any interest therein, is sold under execution, or by virtue of any decree in chancery, or under any deed of trust, or power of sale in a mortgage, the same may be redeemed by the debtor, his vendee, junior mortgagee or assignee of the equity of redemption from the purchaser, or his vendee, within two years thereafter, in manner following.

Right neither property nor right of property; a personal privilege to be exercised by the persons, and in the mode prescribed by statute.—Lehman v. Moore, 93 Ala. 186; Walden v. Speigner, 87 Ala. 379; Powers v. Andrews, 84 Ala. 289; Aiken v. Bridgeford, Ib. 295; Commercial Asso. v. Parker, Ib. 298; Otis v. McMillan, 70 Ala. 46; Posey v. Pressley, 60 Ala. 243; Childress v. Monette, 54 Ala. 317; Owen v. Kilpatrick, 96 Ala. 421; Cramer v. Watson, 73 Ala. 127; Parmer v. Parmer, 74 Ala. 285; Camp v. Simon, 34 Ala. 126; Spoor v. Phillips, 27 Ala. 193. Right cannot be assigned.—McCall v. Mash, 89 Ala. 487; Powers v. Andrews, 84 Ala. 289; Commercial Asso. v. Parker, 84 Ala. 298; Seals v. Pheiffer, 77 Ala. 278. And is not subject to levy and sale under execution or attachment.—Bailey v. Timberlake, 74 Ala. 221; Junkins v. Lovelace, 72 Ala. 303; Childress v. Monette, 54 Ala. 317; Central Mining Co. v. Stoven, 45 Ala. 594. Cannot be waived by mortgagor by contemporaneous agreement.—Parmer v. Parmer, 74 Ala. 285. Right governed by the law in force at the execution of the mortgage.—Lehman v. Moore, 93 Ala. 186. Extends only to those having an interest in the property at the time of the sale. Commercial Asso. v. Parker, 84 Ala. 298. When property of tenants in common sold, either may redeem.—Lehman v. Moore, 93 Ala. 186. "Deed of trust" defined; does not include a general assignment.—Comer v. Constantine, 86 Ala. 492. Limitation of two years applies to all persons, including minors. Mewburn v. Bass, 82 Ala. 622. Statutory right distinguished from the equitable right to disaffirm and redeem from a mortgagee purchasing at his own sale.—American Mort. Co. v. Turner, 95 Ala. 272; Amer. Mort. Co. v. Sewell, 92 Ala. 163; McCall v. Mash, 89 Ala. 487; Craddock v. Amer. Fre. Co., 88 Ala. 281; Pryor v. Hollinger, Ib. 405; Alexander v. Hill, Ib. 487; Knox v. Armistead, 87 Ala. 511; Thomas v. Jones, 84 Ala. 302; Ezzell v. Watson, 83 Ala. 120; Garland v. Watson, 74 Ala. 323; Harris v. Miller, 71 Ala. 26, 32; Cramer v. Watson, 73 Ala. 127.

Ib.

3506 (1880) (2878) (2510) (2117). Possession delivered on demand; notice to tenant dispenses with attornment.—The possession of the land must be delivered to the purchaser, within ten days after the sale thereof, by the debtor, if in his possession, or of any one holding under him by privity of title, if in his possession, on demand of the purchaser or his vendee. If the land is in the possession of a tenant, notice to him by the purchaser, or his vendee, of the purchase, after the lapse of ten days from the time of the sale, and that it has not been redeemed, vests the right to the possession in him, in the same manner as if such tenant had attorned to him.

Delivery of possession a condition precedent; averment and proof of, in bill to redeem.—Nelms v. Kennon, 88 Ala. 329; Pryor v. Hollinger, Ib. 405; Aycock v. Adler, 87 Ala. 190; Hanna v. Steele, 84 Ala. 305; Stocks v. Young, 67 Ala. 341; Bondurant v. Sibley, 29 Ala. 570; Paulling v. Meade, 23 Ala. 505; Sanford v. Ochtalomi, Ib. 669. Effect of notice to tenant.—Comer v. Sheehan, 74 Ala. 452; Amer. Mort. Co. v. Turner, 95 Ala. 272; Nelms v. Kennon, 88 Ala. 329; Richardson v. Dunn, 79 Ala. 167; Drakford v. Turk, 75 Ala. 339. Purchaser entitled to rents and profits as owner, without liability to account (except by way of off-set against permanent improvements) until put in default by tender of redemption-money.—Amer. Mort. Co. v. Turner, 95 Ala. 272; Parmer v. Parmer, 74 Ala. 285; Cramer v. Watson, 73 Ala. 127; Carlin v. Jones, 55 Ala. 624; Spoor v. Phillips, 27 Ala. 193; Weathers v. Spears, Ib. 455. A tenant by the year of the purchaser is entitled to emblements on redemption. Gardner v. Lanford, 86 Ala. 508.

3507 (1881) (2879) (2511) (2118). Purchase-money and ten per cent. also, to be tendered.—The debtor, or his vendee, must also pay or tender to the purchaser or his vendee the purchase-money, with ten per cent. per annum thereon, and all other lawful charges; and such payment or tender has the effect to reinvest him with the title; and if a conveyance has been made to the purchaser, he must, at the costs of the debtor, or his vendee, convey to him such title as he acquired by the purchase. Ib.

Tender a condition precedent in every case.—Vick v. Beverly, 112 Ala. 458; Beatty v. Brown, 101 Ala. 695; Lehman v. Moore, 93 Ala. 186; Beebe v. Buxton, 99 Ala. 117; Pryor v. Hollinger, 88 Ala. 405; Lehman v. Collins, 69 Ala. 127; Cramer v. Watson, 73 Ala. 127; Stocks v. Young, 67 Ala. 341; Carlin v. Jones, 55 Ala. 624; Spoor v. Phillips, 27 Ala. 193; Paulling v. Meade, 23 Ala. 505. Bill to redeem must show tender made before bill filed, or sufficient excuse for not making.—Vick v. Beverly, 112 Ala. 458; Butler v. Hannah, 103 Ala. 481; Beatty v. Brown, 101 Ala. 695; Beebe v. Buxton, 99 Ala. 186; Lehman v. Collins, 69 Ala. 127; Carlin v. Jones, 55 Ala. 624; Spoor v. Phillips, 27 Ala. 193; Paulling v. Meade, 23 Ala. 505. If, for good cause, such as absence from the state, etc., such previous tender is not made, a tender must be made in the bill accompanied by the payment of the money into court.—Beatty v. Brown, 101 Ala. 695; Beebe v. Buxton, 99 Ala. 117; Caldwell v. Smith, 77 Ala. 157; Lehman v. Collins, 69 Ala. 127; Stocks v. Young, 67 Ala. 341; Alexander v. Caldwell, 61 Ala. 543; Trimble v. Williamson, 49 Ala. 525; Spoor v. Phillips, 27 Ala. 193. To whom tender should be made.—Lehman v. Collins, 69 Ala. 127; Camp v. Simon, 34 Ala. 126; Couthway v. Berghaus, 25 Ala. 393; Barringer v. Burke, 21 Ala. 765. When tender insufficient.—Cramer v. Watson, 73 Ala. 127; Harris v. Miller, 71 Ala. 26; Camp v. Simon, 34 Ala. 126; Couthway v. Berghaus, 25 Ala. 393; Lampley v. Weed, 27 Ala. 621. Response to tender once made, is final.—Walker v. Ball, 39 Ala. 298. Purchaser entitled to ten per cent. only to date of tender.—Steele v. Hanna, 91 Ala. 190. Lawful charges defined; tender must include.—Butler v. Hannah, 103 Ala. 481; Beatty v. Brown, 101 Ala. 695; Richardson v. Dunn, 79 Ala. 167; Parmer v. Parmer, 74 Ala. 285; Cramer v. Watson, 73 Ala. 127; Harris v. Miller, 71 Ala. 26; Holden v. Rison, 77 Ala. 515; Lehman v. Collins, 69 Ala. 127; Posey v. Pressley, 60 Ala. 243; Grigg v. Banks, 59 Ala. 311; Couthway v. Berghaus, 25 Ala. 393.

3508 (1882) (2880) (2512) (2119). Writ of unlawful detainer lies on refusal to deliver possession.—If the possession of the land has been delivered to the purchaser by the debtor, or his vendee, and upon payment or tender as aforesaid, it is not restored to him, he may recover possession by a suit for unlawful detainer before a justice of the peace. Ib.

Walden v. Speigner, 87 Ala. 390; Mack v. Owen, 83 Ala. 177; Posey v. Pressley, 60 Ala. 243; Jonsen v. Nabring, 50 Ala. 392.

3509. Redemption-money to be paid into court on trial of unlawful detainer suit.—Upon the trial of an unlawful detainer suit brought under the preceding section, it is the duty of the justice of the peace or jury trying the same, if the verdict be for the plaintiff, to ascertain and determine by the verdict the amount tendered for the redemption of the property sued for, and if the same has not been paid it is the duty of the justice or judge trying the case to make an order in the judgment-entry, ordering the issuance of a writ of restitution, only upon the payment, within ninety days, to the party to whom such tender was made, or to the justice or clerk of the court trying the case, for the use of such party, the amount so ascertained and de- Dec. 12, 1888, p. 15.

termined; but in the ascertainment of the amount tendered, the amount, if any, found to be due from the party to whom the tender was made to the plaintiff for rent during the detention, shall be deducted therefrom and such ascertainment shall be for the residue only.

3510 (1883) (2881) (2513) (2120). Judgment creditors allowed to redeem.—All judgment creditors of the debtor, who, without fraud or collusion, had obtained such judgment before the sale of the land, or within two years thereafter, except by confession of the debtor, may in like manner redeem the land from such purchaser, or any one claiming under him, by paying or tendering the amount bid for such land at the sale thereof, and ten per cent. per annum thereon, together with all lawful charges; and by further offering to credit the debtor upon a subsisting judgment with a sum at least equal to ten per cent. of the amount originally bid for the land; and upon such payment or tender being made, and credit actually given to the debtor, the title to such land vests in the creditor, and the purchaser must convey to him such title as he has, at the costs of the creditor.

Who are judgment creditors.—Garner v. Foster, 49 Ala. 167; Branch Bank v. Furness, 12 Ala. 367. Creditor in judgment by foreign justice not within statute.—Freeman v. Jordan, 17 Ala. 500. Creditor in execution under which land was sold, within statute.—Freeman v. Jordan, 17 Ala. 500; Posey v. Pressley, 60 Ala. 243. The "debtor" must have had such an interest in the lands sought to be redeemed as, but for the sale, would have been subject to execution on the judgment of the redemptioner.—Powers v. Robinson, 90 Ala. 225; Florence Land Co. v. Warren, 91 Ala. 533. No redemption allowed on judgment against a partnership in firm name alone.—Powers v. Robinson, 90 Ala. 225. What is a subsisting judgment.—Mooney v. Parker, 18 Ala. 708. Judgment against a debtor, since deceased, barred by the statute of non-claim, is not. Walden v. Speigner, 87 Ala. 390. Rights acquired by redemption.—Lehman v. Shook, 69 Ala. 486. Right not affected by bankruptcy of debtor.—Trimble v. Williamson, 49 Ala. 525, 527. Statutory and common-law rights of mortgagor distinguished.—Cramer v. Watson, 73 Ala. 127. Chancery cannot extend right to general creditors, though debt ascertained by the decree.—Seals v. Pheiffer, 77 Ala. 278. Right as between several mortgagees.—Wiley v. Ewing, 47 Ala. 418. Sufficient if creditor offers to give credit.—Moore v. Gore, 35 Ala. 701; Walker v. Ball, 39 Ala. 298. Use of confessed judgment in resisting redemption, also prohibited.—Mobile Ins. Co. v. Steele, 61 Ala. 253. Applies to judgment by confession either before or after sale.—Mack v. Owen, 83 Ala. 177.

3511 (1884) (2882) (2514) (2121). When purchaser, etc., may refuse to allow redemption.—But if the purchaser, or person claiming under him, agrees to credit, and actually does credit the debtor, upon a subsisting judgment, with the sum offered to be credited by the creditor, he may retain the land, unless the creditor make a further offer to credit the debtor, upon a subsisting judgment, with an additional sum, not less than ten per cent. on the original purchase-money, to which the purchaser, as hereinbefore provided for, is required to respond by offering to give the debtor a similar credit; and upon his failure to do so, and upon the credit being actually given by the creditor to the debtor, and the payment or tender of the purchase-money, with ten per cent. per annum thereon, as aforesaid, to the purchaser, the title vests in such creditor.

3512 (1885) (2883) (2515) (2122). Redemption by one creditor from another.—One creditor may in like manner, within two years from the sale of the land, redeem it from another creditor; and in that case, the creditor offering to redeem must pay or tender to the creditor in possession the amount he had to pay to obtain the land, with ten per cent. per annum thereon, and must offer to credit the debtor as provided in the preceding section.

Owen v. Kilpatrick, 96 Ala. 421.

3513 (1886) (2884) (2516) (2123). Creditor entitled to writ of unlawful detainer.—A creditor has also the right to recover the possession of the land before a justice of the peace, as for an unlawful detainer.

3514 (1887) (2885) (2517) (2124). Certain parties deemed creditors.—When the plaintiff in execution, mortgagee, or beneficiary in a deed of trust is the purchaser, he is considered a creditor within this chapter, to the extent to which his judgment, mortgage, or deed of trust remains unsatisfied.

3515 (1888) (2886) (2518) (2125). If parent has conveyed to child, he may redeem.—When land has been conveyed by a parent to a child, and sold as the property of the parent, the child has the right to redeem within the time, and upon the terms as provided in this chapter.

3516. The debtor, his vendee, etc., may redeem from a redeeming judgment creditor.—No redemption by a judgment creditor from the purchaser or his vendee, or by one judgment creditor from another, shall operate to defeat the right of redemption in this chapter secured to the debtor, his vendee, junior mortgagee or assignee of the equity of redemption, or of a child to whom the debtor had conveyed the land; but any one of such persons who would be entitled to redeem as against the purchaser or his vendee, may, within two years from the date of sale under execution, decree in chancery, deed of trust or power of sale in a mortgage, redeem from the last redeeming judgment creditor, or his vendee, by paying or tendering the amount such creditor had to pay to obtain the land, with ten per cent. per annum thereon, and all other lawful charges, including in such charges the amount of the credit entered by such creditor upon his judgment against the debtor for the purpose of redeeming, with interest thereon; but if such creditor or his vendee shall respond by offering to credit and actually crediting the debtor upon a subsisting judgment in a sum less than the whole amount due upon such judgment, or by offering to enter and actually entering satisfaction thereof, he may retain the land unless the party offering to redeem shall also pay, within the time allowed him to redeem, the amount of the credit so entered, or the amount due upon such judgment at the time such satisfaction was entered, as the case may be, with interest thereon, if any. If, upon such application to redeem, the creditor shall limit his credit to a sum less than the whole amount due upon the judgment, he cannot, by the entry of further credits or of satisfaction, add to the amount to be paid on redemption.

The right to redeem from one who has acquired the property by redemption, extends only to those specially named.—Owen v. Kilpatrick, 96 Ala. 421.

3517 (1889) (2887) (2519) (2126). Value of permanent improvements to be paid; value ascertained by referees.—Any person offering to redeem must pay to the person in possession the value of all permanent improvements made by him after he acquired title. If the parties cannot agree upon the value of improvements, each must appoint a referee to ascertain the value thereof, who, if they cannot agree, must appoint an umpire, and they must make their award within three days, which is final between the parties.

Pritchard v. Sweeney, 109 Ala. 651; Beatty v. Brown, 101 Ala. 695; Steele v. Hanna, 91 Ala. 190; Parmer v. Parmer, 74 Ala. 285; Cramer v. Watson, 73 Ala. 127; Posey v. Pressley, 60 Ala. 243; Weathers v. Spears, 27 Ala. 455.

3518 (1890) (2888) (2520) (2127). On refusal to appoint a referee, penalty.—If the person offering to redeem declines to nominate a referee, he must pay the value put upon the improvements by the person in possession. If the latter, after an appointment by the former, refuses to make such appointment, he forfeits his claim to compensation for such improvements.

Cramer v. Watson, 73 Ala. 127; Steele v. Hanna, 91 Ala. 190; Pritchard v. Sweeney, 109 Ala. 651.

3519 (1891) (2889) (2521) (2128). Redemption by and from representatives of estates.—The right of redemption secured hereby may be asserted, within the time limited, by the executor or administrator of the debtor, by his heirs or devisees, or by the executor or administrator of any judgment creditor of the debtor, and against the executor or administrator of the purchaser of the land, or of his vendee.

CHAPTER 98.

RETAILERS. 3520-3524.

3520 (1319) (1544). Mode of obtaining license to retail.—A license to retail spirituous or vinous liquors must not be granted until the applicant produces to the judge of probate a recommendation in writing, signed by twenty respectable householders and freeholders residing within the corporate limits of the town, or city, or precinct, in which he proposes to engage in the business of retailing, stating that they are acquainted with him, that he is of good moral character, and is in all respects a proper person to be licensed. But if there be not within the precinct twenty resident householders and freeholders, the recommendation must be signed by a majority of the householders and freeholders residing therein.

Russell v. State, 77 Ala. 89; Grider v. Tally, 77 Ala. 422; Dunbar v. Frazer, 78 Ala. 538; Ramagnano v. Crook, 85 Ala. 226; s. c., 88 Ala. 450; Glenn v. Lyon, 89 Ala. 608; State v. Fleming, 112 Ala. 179.

3521 (1320) (1545). Affidavit required before grant of license. Before the grant of license the applicant must, before an officer authorized to administer and certify affidavits, take and subscribe the following affidavit: "I, —— ——, do solemnly swear that I will not knowingly sell or give away any spirituous or vinous liquors to any minor, or person of unsound mind, without the permission of his or her guardian or parent, or to any person of known intemperate habits; that I will not keep open store on Sunday, for the purpose of carrying on business for which license is sought, or violate the statute prohibiting the disposition of agricultural products between the hours of sunset and sunrise; nor will I suffer the same to be done knowingly by any partner, clerk, agent, or any other person, in or about my premises, if in my power to prevent the same; and that I will not allow any gaming of any kind on or about my premises." And such affidavit must be filed in the office of the judge of probate.

Long v. State, 27 Ala. 32; Russell v. State, 77 Ala. 89.

3522 (1321) (1546) (1240) (1060). License to be produced to recover judgment for liquors retailed in quantities less than a quart.—No person must obtain a judgment in any court of this state, upon any account, any item of which is for vinous or spirituous liquors in less quantity than one quart, without producing to the court a license showing his authority to retail at the date of such item.

Rasberry v. Pulliam, 78 Ala. 191.

3523 (1322) (1547) (1241) (1061). Justice to apprehend and bind over offenders.—All magistrates, whenever they have good reason to believe, or whenever informed on oath, that any person has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, must forthwith issue a warrant against such person, and bind him over to answer therefor, to the next term of the circuit court.

3524 (1323) (1548). Sale or exchange void.—All sales, or contracts or agreements to sell or exchange spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, are void, if the seller or party making the exchange has not a license authorizing him to engage in business as a retailer or wholesale dealer; and all sales or exchanges of such liquors, with or without such license, to or with a minor, or a person of unsound mind, without the consent of the parent or guardian of such minor or person of unsound mind, or to or with a person of known intemperate habits, not made upon the requisition in writing of a physician for medicinal purposes, are void.

Moog v. Hannon, 93 Ala. 503.

CHAPTER 99.

SALVAGE. 3525-3538.

3525 (3282) (2863) (2467) (2075). Property adrift.—All property adrift may be taken up by any person and secured.

3526 (3283) (2864) (2468) (2076). Appraisement of such property.—Such person must, within two days after the same is taken up, exhibit the property to a justice, and if, in his opinion, it is worth over thirty dollars, he must issue an order of appraisement to three disinterested freeholders or householders, who, after being duly sworn to estimate the value of such property fairly, must appraise and certify the same to the justice of the peace, with a description of the property; if not exceeding the value of thirty dollars, the justice must make the appraisement and description of the property.

Statute strictly construed and everything necessary to confer jurisdiction must affirmatively appear.—Crowder v. Fletcher, 80 Ala. 219.

3527 (3284) (2865) (2469) (2077). Copy of appraisement to taker; original retained.—The justice must give to the taker a copy of the appraisement and description of the property, retaining the original.

3528 (3285) (2866) (2470) (2078). Notice when value over thirty dollars.—If the appraised value is over thirty dollars, the taker must, within ten days thereafter, give notice thereof, once a week for three successive weeks, in the newspaper published nearest to the place where the property was taken up.

3529 (3286) (2867) (2471) (2079). Contents of notice.—Such advertisement must state the name of the taker, the time and place, a description of the property, with its marks, and the name of the owner, if known, its appraised value, and where the same is secured or deposited.

3530 (3287) (2868) (2472) (2080). Notice when not worth more than thirty dollars.—If the property is not worth exceeding thirty dollars, the same must be advertised at the next steamboat-landing, if the property was taken up on a navigable stream, otherwise, at the nearest public place, within five days after the taking up.

3531 (3288) (2869) (2473) (2081). On proof of title, property restored.—The owner may, on notifying the taker, or the person in possession, and proving the property by his own oath, or the oath of another, satisfactorily to a justice of the peace, obtain from such justice an order to restore such property on the payment of the legal costs and charges thereon.

3532 (3289) (2870) (2474) (2082). Compensation of taker.—The taker is entitled to ten per cent. on the appraised value of each bale of cotton, and on other property as follows: Twenty-five per cent. on all under thirty dollars; between thirty and one hundred dollars, twenty per cent.; between one hundred and five hundred dollars, fifteen per cent.; between five hundred and one thousand dollars, ten per cent.; and on all over one thousand dollars, five per cent.

3533 (3290) (2871) (2475) (2083). Also to be paid his charges. The taker is also entitled to the justice's fees paid by him, the expenses of the advertisement, if published in a newspaper, and reasonable compensation for the keeping, if necessary to preserve the property from loss or injury, to be ascertained as in the case of estrays.

3534 (3291) (2872) (2476) (2084). Fees of appraisers.—The appraisers, other than the justice, are entitled to two dollars each, to be paid by the taker.

3535 (3292) (2873) (2477) (2085). Time allowed to make claim; if no claim made, property vests in taker.—The owner may prove his property, if appraised at not more than thirty dollars, within three months; between thirty and one hundred dollars, in six months; at more than one hundred dollars, within one year after the appraisement; and on failure to do so, the right to the same is vested in the taker, under the provisions of this chapter.

3536 (3293) (2874) (2478) (2086). Remedy of owner when taker refuses to deliver property.—If the taker, or the person in possession of the property, fails to deliver the same to the owner on the order of the justice, and the payment of, or offering to pay all legal costs, charges and expenses for keeping, such owner may recover the same; and the person failing also forfeits, to any person suing for the same, double the appraised value of the property.

3538 (3295) (2876) (2480) (2088). On death of salvor, his representative acts.—If the taker dies before the expiration of the time allowed to the owner to prove his property, all the provisions of this chapter, in relation to the giving up of the property, apply to his personal representatives.

PUBLIC-SCHOOL FUND.

3539 (943). Appropriations for public schools.—For the maintenance of a system of public schools throughout the state, the following sums of money are hereby appropriated for each scholastic year, to wit:

1. The annual interest at six per cent. on all sums of money which have heretofore been, or which may hereafter be received by the state, as the proceeds of sales of lands granted or intrusted by the United States to the state, or to the several townships thereof, for school purposes.

2. The annual interest at four per cent. on that part of the surplus revenue of the United States, deposited with the state under the act of congress approved June 23, 1836.

3. All the annual rents, incomes and profits, or interests, arising from the proceeds of sales of all such lands as may hereafter be given by the United States, or by this state, or by individuals, for the support of the public schools of the state.

4. All such sums as may accrue to the state as escheats; the same to be applied to the support of the public schools during the scholastic year next succeeding their receipt in the state treasury.

5. The further sum of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, from any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

6. The net amount of poll-tax that may be collected in the state; the poll-tax collected in each county to be retained therein for the support of the public schools thereof, and distributed and disbursed as provided in this chapter.

7. All rents, incomes and profits received into the state treasury during the scholastic year from all lands heretofore donated by the congress of the United States for the support of the public schools, and remaining unsold, which shall be applied to the support of the public schools during the scholastic year next succeeding their receipt into the treasury.

8. Licenses which are by law required to be paid into the school fund of any county; to be promptly paid by the judge of probate, or other person collecting the same, to the county superintendent of education, and to be expended for the benefit of the public schools of such county.

3540 (944). When appropriations accrue, and placed to credit of educational fund.—All such appropriations, except the poll-tax, shall accrue to the educational fund on the first day of October, in each year; and on that day the state auditor shall place to the credit of that fund, on the books in his office, all such amounts as accrue thereto from the sources in this article mentioned, except the poll-tax, for the scholastic year beginning on that day.

ARTICLE 2.

GENERAL DESIGNATION OF OFFICERS.

3541 (945). Officers for administration of public schools.—For the administration and government of public schools in this state, there are the following officers: Feb. 10, 1891, p. 554.

1. The superintendent of education.
2. A county superintendent of education in each county.
3. Three township trustees in each township.

ARTICLE 3.

SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION.

3542 (946). Term of office; salary.—The superintendent of education holds office for the term of two years from the time of his installation in office, and until his successor is elected and qualified, and shall receive a salary of two thousand two hundred and fifty dollars per annum, payable in monthly installments, on the last day of each month.

3543 (947). Oath of office and bond.—Before entering upon the duties of his office, he shall take the oath of office prescribed by the constitution, and shall also give bond, with sureties to be approved by the governor, in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, conditioned faithfully to discharge the duties of his office so long as he shall remain therein, or perform any of the duties thereof; and such bond shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

3544 (948). Office and books, papers and records.—He shall have an office at the capitol of the state, where the bonds, papers and records of his office shall be kept, and where he shall give attendance when not absent on official business; and it shall be the privilege of all persons interested to have access, at all proper hours, to the books, papers and records of the office.

3545 (949). Clerks and their salaries.—He is authorized to employ two suitable clerks for service in his office; and such clerks shall be allowed together two thousand two hundred and fifty dollars annually, to be paid as the salaries of other department clerks are paid.

3546 (950). Duties of superintendent of education.—The duties of the superintendent of education shall be as follows:

1. He shall devote his time to the care and improvement of the common schools, and the promotion of public education, and shall exercise a general supervision over all the educational interests of the state; and to this end, he shall have power to require from the county superintendents of education, township trustees of public schools, and all other school officers, all such reports and information relating to the educational fund, or the condition of the schools and the management thereof, as he may deem important, or as may be prescribed by law; and he may remove from office any such officer for failure to make such report, give such information, or discharge any other official duty.

2. He shall annually, as far as practicable, visit every county in the state for the purpose of inspecting the schools and their management, the accounts of county superintendents of education and other school officers, and for diffusing as widely as possible, by personal address and personal communication, information as to the importance of public schools and the best method for their management; and he shall encourage and assist at organizing and conducting teachers' and superintendents' institutes.

3. He shall make provision for instructing all pupils in all schools and colleges supported, in whole or in part, by public money, or under state control, in hygiene and physiology, with special reference to the effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system.

4. He shall make provision for instructing all pupils in all schools and colleges supported, in whole or in part, by public money, or under state control, in the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of Alabama.

Feb. 10, 1891, p. 554, §1.

5. He shall annually apportion the public-school fund to the various townships and school districts according to the entire number of children of school age and shall see to the proper disbursement of the same; and to this end, he shall keep an accurate account with all officers who may be custodians or disbursers of the school fund, or any part thereof.

6. He shall prepare all forms, and have printed and distributed all such blanks as may be necessary, or as may be required by law, in the administration of the public-school system.

7. He shall furnish the county superintendents and other school officers all necessary books for keeping their accounts and records, to be and remain public property; and he shall prescribe a uniform system of keeping such accounts and records.

8. He shall take receipts for all such books so furnished by him to school officers, and such officers shall take good care thereof, and turn them over to their successors in office.

9. He shall keep a debtor and creditor account with each township, or other school district, in the state, of all funds accruing thereto for educational purposes.

10. He shall keep an accurate account of the capital of all sixteenth-section or other trust funds, to which each township or school district may be entitled, showing whence and when such funds were derived.

11. He shall preserve in his office all bonds of school officers and others required to be filed therein.

12. He shall cause suits to be instituted and prosecuted against all defaulters to the educational fund, and for this purpose may employ attorneys; but he shall not have power to contract to pay such attorneys out of the educational fund more than ten per centum of the amount recovered by them in such suits; and out of such fund he may pay such lawful costs as may be taxed against him as superintendent of education, in case he is cast in any of such suits.

13. He shall require and supervise the collection of all poll-taxes.

14. He shall, by correspondence, exchange of official reports, and other proper means, elicit information relative to the system of public education in other states and countries, and disseminate all useful knowledge regarding the same among the county superintendents and other school officers in the state.

15. He shall collect in his office such school-books, apparatus, maps, charts and specimens of improved school furniture as can be obtained without expense to the state.

16. He shall prepare and have printed, in pamphlet form by the public printer, all laws, rules and regulations pertaining to the public-school system of the state, including therein the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of Alabama, and cause the same to be distributed among the county superintendents of education, and other officers connected with the school system, for the information of those interested in the educational interests of the state.

17. He shall hold, or cause to be held, within each congressional district, one or more teachers' institutes, to be conducted by a teacher experienced in and familiar with the most improved methods of instruction, for a term of one week or more during the summer months of each year; and for such purpose may, from time to time, certify to the auditor the amount, not exceeding five hundred dollars in any one year, necessary to defray the expenses of employing teachers to conduct such institutes and instruct the teachers who attend them, and upon such certificate it shall be the duty of the auditor to draw his warrant upon the treasurer for such sum or sums in favor of the superintendent of education as may remain unapportioned in the treasury at the time; but the sum so expended in any one year shall not exceed the amount apportioned and paid for such purpose by the trustees of the Peabody Educational Fund in any one year. And such sums must be disbursed so as to secure the greatest good to the largest number of teachers in the common schools, and it shall be the duty of the superintendent of education to take vouchers therefor to be kept on file in his office, and to make an itemized statement in his biennial report as to how and to whom said money has been disbursed.

18. He shall perform such other duties as are, or may be prescribed by law.

As amended Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1174.

3547 (951). Report to governor; contents.—He shall also, biennially, on or before the tenth day of October, report to the governor in writing—

1. A brief history of his labors.

2. An abstract of the reports received by him from the county superintendents of education, exhibiting the condition of the public schools.

3. Estimates and accounts of expenditures of school money.

4. An itemized statement, showing how the contingent fund of his department, and all other special funds or appropriations under his control have been disposed of.

5. Such recommendations as he may desire to make for the improvement of the school system, and the care and increase of the educational fund.

6. All such other matters relating to his office and to the public schools, as he shall deem expedient to communicate.

3548 (952). Report to be printed and distributed.—The governor shall, when such report is laid before him, direct the superintendent of education to have printed in the same manner, and upon the same conditions as other printing is done, during the recess of the general assembly, a sufficient number of copies of the report to supply the county superintendents and township trustees of public schools, and other school officers, and for the usual exchange with other states, and with the leading cities of the United States; and it shall be the duty of the superintendent of education to distribute the same as indicated in this section.

ARTICLE 4.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS.

3550 (954). One elected for each county.—Unless by special act it is otherwise provided, a county superintendent for each county is elected at each general election as provided in this Code. Feb. 13, 1889, p. 396.

3551 (955). Term of office; removal.—The term of office of county superintendents who are elected shall commence on the first day of October next after their election, and the term of those appointed shall commence on the first day of October of each odd year; and in either case, shall be for two years and until their successors shall qualify; but the superintendent of education may, at any time, for good cause shown, remove from office any county superintendent of education, whether elected or appointed.

3552 (956). Oath of office and bond.—Every county superintendent of education, before entering upon the duties of his office, must take the oath of office prescribed by the constitution, and give bond in an amount to be fixed by the superintendent of education, but in no case to be less than double the probable amount of money that may be in his hands at any one time, with good and sufficient sureties, and payable and conditioned as official bonds of other public officers.

3553 (957). Approval and record of bond.—Such bond must be approved by, and, with the oath of office, must be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county; and a certified copy of the bond must also be filed in the office of the superintendent of education for his approval.

Failure to file copy with superintendent of education no defense to county superintendent or his sureties, in an action for his default.—Reed v. Summers, 79 Ala. 522.

3554 (958). New or additional bond; effect of notice to give. The superintendent of education shall require of any county superintendent of education a new or additional bond, in the same, or a different amount, as that of the original bond, whenever he shall find it necessary for the protection of the educational fund of the county; and no county superintendent of education, after receiving notice to give such new or additional bond, shall continue in the discharge of the duties of his office until such new or additional bond is given.

3555 (959). Compensation.—Each county superintendent of education shall receive for his services four per centum on the amount of all the educational fund legally disbursed by him; but such per centum must not be taken or used by him until after the disbursements have been made, and the credits allowed by the superintendent of education. As amended Feb. 21, 1893, p. 833.

3556 (960). His duties.—The duties of each county superintendent of education shall be as follows:

1. He shall have an office at the county-site of his county, where he must, on the first Saturday of each month from the beginning of the scholastic year until the close of the public schools for that year, be present to transact business with the officers and teachers of public schools.

2. He must receive and take charge of any money, funds, property, or proceeds of any character, raised in his county by county taxation, or which may accrue to him or to the county from any gift, grant, bequest, devise, endowment, or otherwise, to be used in aid of, or in connection with money apportioned to his county from the educational fund, and shall faithfully keep the same, separate and apart from any other funds or property whatsoever; and he shall apportion, distribute and pay out all money raised in accordance with this subdivision; but all money, raised by local taxation in any school district or incorporated city or town, shall be expended for the benefit of the district, city, or town in which the money is raised, and by such persons, and in such manner as are authorized by the laws of force for the control and government of public schools in such district, city, or town.

3. He shall examine into the condition of all school funds of his county, including the sixteenth-section fund, and sixteenth-section lands unsold in his county; and he is authorized and required in the name of the state for the use of the township, to bring all necessary suits for the recovery of the possession of such lands, or against trespassers thereon.

Gaston v. State, 88 Ala. 459.

4. He shall, as soon as he receives the annual apportionment of the educational fund to his county, forthwith notify the township trustees of each township of the amount apportioned to each township or separate school district.

5. He shall enter in a book or books, kept for that purpose, the exact amount and date of all moneys received and paid out by him on account of the educational fund of his county, showing by whom or to whom paid, and for what purpose, and also the amount of the educational fund apportioned to, and distributed in each township for each race; and such books shall be open to the inspection of all persons interested.

6. He shall, on or before the thirtieth day of September of each year, forward to the superintendent of education, on blanks to be furnished him by the latter, an annual report of the public schools of his county for the preceding year, which shall set forth (1) the amount of school money received by him from all sources to the end of the year, specifying how much was received from each source; (2) how much has been disbursed by him during such year, for what purpose, and the names of teachers to whom money has been paid, the time they taught, and the total amount paid to each teacher; (3) the amount of funds then in hand for each township or school district in his county; and (4) the manner in which, and the extent to which he has discharged the duties required by law to be performed by him.

7. He shall remove from office any township trustee when the interest of public education demands such removal, and he shall fill all vacancies occasioned by removal from office or otherwise.

8. He must quarterly, on the first Saturdays in January, April, July and October of each year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, pay the teachers of the public schools, upon the certificate of the trustees of the township in which the school was taught; and in counties in which separate districts have been established by special laws, he shall pay over to the officers authorized to receive the same their proportionate shares of the school revenues at the times above designated.

3557 (963). Forfeiture for failure to make annual reports.—If any county superintendent shall willfully fail to make out and forward to the superintendent of education any annual report required by this article, within ten days after the time it should be made, he shall be liable to a forfeiture of his commissions, to be declared by the superintendent of education, and to removal from office by the superintendent of education.

3558 (962). Books and accounts liable to examination.—The books, accounts and vouchers of the county superintendent of education may be examined at any time by the superintendent of education in person or by duly authorized agent.

3559 (965). Vacancies, how filled; term, etc., of appointees. The superintendent of education shall fill all vacancies in the office of county superintendent of education, by appointment; and such appointee shall hold during the unexpired term, and until his successor qualifies, and shall give bond and qualify as is required of an appointee for a full term.

ARTICLE 5.

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES.

3560 (966). Township trustees appointed; term of office.—Three township trustees for each township or other school district in each county, who shall be freeholders and householders resident in such township or school district, shall be appointed by the county superintendent of education; and the term of office of all township trustees shall commence on the first day of October of each odd year and continue two years and until their successors shall qualify. Feb. 10, 1891, p. 554, §2.

3562 (968). Meetings with parents and guardians; business transacted.—The trustees in each township shall annually, on the last Monday in October, or within seven days thereafter, call a meeting of the parents and guardians of the children of their township within the educational age, and at such meeting they shall, in consultation with such parents and guardians, and with a view to subserve their wishes, interests and convenience, transact the following business:

1. They shall determine the number of schools which shall be established in their township for the current scholastic year, and shall designate the same by number.

2. They shall fix the location of each school, the time of its opening, and the length of the session, which shall not be, except as hereinafter provided, less than twelve weeks.

Feb. 10, 1891, p. 554, §4.

3. They shall, when they establish the schools in their township, apportion to each school so established, such an amount of the public-school revenue apportioned to the township for the current scholastic year as they may deem just and equitable and for the equal benefit of the children thereof of school age.

Gay v. Bankston, 100 Ala. 280.

4. They shall determine the number and what children shall be transferred from their districts to the schools of other districts, and to what districts transferred, during the scholastic year, and shall set apart such an amount of the money apportioned to their district to pay for such transferred children as they may deem just and equitable; and if it should be deemed impracticable to establish in any district a public school for the children of either race, on account of the want of a sufficient number of such race living within a reasonable distance, they shall determine whether any of such children can be transferred conveniently to a public school in another district, and those that cannot be so transferred, and that have actually attended some school in this state for the time during which the public schools were kept open for the current scholastic year, shall be entitled to the benefits of the amounts apportioned to their district; and they shall determine the amount to which each of such children shall be entitled, and the same shall be paid by the county superintendent of education to the parent or guardian of such child, for which a receipt shall be taken as in case of payments to teachers.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1176.

5. In those townships in which less than the requisite number of children of school age reside, it shall be the duty of the township trustees to arrange for the teaching of such children in such manner as they may deem proper and just, subject to the approval of the county superintendent of education, and to pay for the tuition of such children in the manner prescribed by law out of the school funds apportioned to such township.

6. Such other business as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of the law.

3563 (969). Report after meeting.—They shall, within ten days after such meeting, report to the county superintendent of education the number and location of the schools, the names of the teachers employed, and the amount of money apportioned to each school.

3564 (970). Notice and duration of meeting; effect of failure to attend.—Such meeting shall be called by posting, ten days previously thereto, written notices of the time and place of meeting, and of the business to be transacted thereat, in not less than three public places in the district; and the township trustees shall have power to continue the meeting from day to day until all the business has been transacted, and they may adjourn the same to a future day, not exceeding one week; and if the parents and guardians fail to attend such meeting, the township trustees shall, in their absence, proceed to perform the duties required of them.

3565 (971). Appeal to county superintendent.—An appeal may be taken from the decision and action of the township trustees had and done at such meeting, to the county superintendent of education, who shall notifiy the township trustees of the appeal, and shall appoint a day on which to hear and determine the same, and whose decision shall be final.

3566 (972). When but one school in township, how located; change of location.—When but one school is established in a township, it shall be so located as to accommodate the largest number of pupils, and to encourage the building of a permanent schoolhouse as near the center of the township as possible, whenever it can be done without material injury or inconvenience to the children within the educational age; but such location may be changed by the township trustees from year to year, in order to provide for those who were not in reach of the school in previous years; and in the location of public schools, township trustees must have reference to the population and neighborhood, paying due regard to any schoolhouse already built, or site procured, as well as to all other circumstances proper to be considered, so as to promote the interest of free public education.

3567 (973). To what regard must be had in locating schools and employing teachers.—In locating public schools, and employing teachers, township trustees shall have due regard to such communities as will supplement the district fund, and to such teachers as will procure and teach the greatest number of pupils within the educational age; the object of this section being to encourage the building up and maintaining of large schools, which shall continue the longest term practicable; but in no case shall such communities and citizens, as are unable or unwilling to supplement the district fund, be deprived of the benefit of the public schools.

3568 (974). Employing teachers and opening schools.—The township trustees shall in no case contract with teachers, or open schools until they have definitely determined the number and location of the schools in their district, and the amount of money each school shall receive from the amount apportioned to the district; nor shall they contract for a school of less than three scholastic months, nor less than ten pupils of school age, if there are more than that number of each race within such age, nor more than fifty pupils to each teacher.

3569 (975). Execution of contracts with teachers; contract for transferred pupils.—All contracts with teachers shall be in writing, and shall specify the amount to be paid per month from the district fund, and shall be executed in duplicate, one of which shall be filed with the county superintendent of education for his approval within ten days after it has been signed; and no such contract shall be valid without his approval; and the township trustees shall also, in like manner, contract with teachers for transferred pupils.

Gay v. Bankston, 100 Ala. 280.

3570 (976). Visits to schools. The township trustees shall visit the schools in their district at least once during each scholastic year.

3571 (977). Removal of teachers; payment for time.—The township trustees may, for any cause sufficient in their judgment, terminate the contract of, and remove, any teacher; but such teacher shall be allowed pay for the time he taught according to the terms of his contract.

3572 (978). Register of daily attendance.—The township trustees shall require the teachers of public schools to keep a register of the daily attendance of the pupils in the schools taught by them, and to submit such register to them for their inspection.

3573 (979). Enumeration of children.—The township trustees must, during the month of July of each odd year, make an enumeration of all the children, white and black, male and female, within the educational age, in their township or district and report the same in duplicate to the county superintendent of education by the first day of August following; and the county superintendent of education shall make to the superintendent of education a written report of the several enumerations made to him by the township trustees by the fifteenth day of August of such year.

3574. New enumeration in certain cases.—If the township trustees in any county or township should fail in any year to make the enumeration provided for in the preceding section, or if the superintendent of education of the state should have reason to believe that the enumeration made and returned to his office is fraudulent or greatly erroneous in any county or township, and shall determine that it is for the best interest of the public-school system that another enumeration be made in any county or township, he shall have power to procure the making of a new enumeration of the children of school age in any county or township, and shall pay the expense of making the same out of the fund first available and apportioned to the county or township in which such new enumeration is made, as the case may be.

3575 (982). Exemption from road and jury duty and poll-tax. Township trustees are exempt from road duty, jury duty and poll-tax, so long as they shall continue in office and perform the duties thereof; and the certificate of the county superintendent of education shall be evidence of the fact.

ARTICLE 6.

TEACHERS.

3576 (983). Certificate of qualification.—There shall be three grades of teachers' certificates, to be known as certificates of the first, second, and third grades, each of which must show the branches in which the holder has been examined, and his relative attainments therein; and every teacher in the public schools must obtain a certificate in one of such grades; but in no case shall an applicant for the position of teacher receive a certificate who fails to answer correctly seventy per cent. of the questions propounded by the board of examiners.

3577 (984). Examination of teachers.—Every applicant for a teacher's certificate must be examined on the following subjects: For the third grade, in orthography, reading, penmanship, the elements of English grammar, practical arithmetic through fractions, primary geography and the elementary principles of physiology and hygiene; and no certificate must be granted unless the applicant shall pass a satisfactory examination by the board and shall answer seventy per cent. of the questions propounded to him in each of these branches; for the second grade, on all the foregoing subjects, and also in practical arithmetic, history of the United States, English grammar, intermediate geography and elementary algebra; for the first grade, on all the foregoing subjects, and also in higher algebra, natural philosophy, geometry and the theory and practice of teaching; but no certificate shall be granted to any person who has not passed a satisfactory examination in the study of the nature of alcoholic drinks and narcotics, and of their effects upon the human system, in connection with the several divisions of the subject of physiology and hygiene. Every such applicant shall also pass a satisfactory examination upon the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of Alabama, before receiving a first-grade certificate. Feb. 26, 1887, p. 129. Feb. 4, 1891, p. 350, §2.

3578. Instruction as to the nature of alcoholic drinks and narcotics.—Every teacher shall give instruction as to the nature of alcoholic drinks and narcotics and their effects upon the human system, and such subject shall be taught as regularly as any other in the public schools, and in every grade thereof. Feb. 4, 1891, p. 350.

3579 (985). How long certificates are valid.—A third-grade certificate shall be valid for one year; a second-grade certificate, for two years; and a first-grade certificate, for three years, in the county in which the same is issued.

3580 (986). Register kept by teacher and submitted.—Every teacher of a public school must keep a register of the actual daily attendance of the pupils in his school, and must submit such register to the township trustees for their inspection.

3581 (987). Quarterly report; not entitled to compensation until forwarded.—Every teacher of a public school must, within five days after the end of each scholastic quarter, forward to the county superintendent of education a complete report, setting forth the enrollment, attendance, number of transferred pupils, and from what township transferred, the branches taught, and the number of pupils in each, distinguishing between male and female, and stating whether a white or colored school; also the monthly pay from school revenue from the township in which the school is located, and from transferred pupils, stating the township and range from which they are transferred; also the number of days taught, the amount due for services from school revenues of the township, the number of visits by township trustees, and the name and post-office of the teacher; and such report must be sworn to by the teacher before some one of the township trustees, and approved by them; and no teacher can draw any pay for services rendered by him until he has forwarded his report in accordance with the requirements of this section.

3582 (988). To be paid quarterly.—The teachers of public schools shall be paid quarterly, on the first Saturdays in January, April, July and October, or as soon thereafter as practicable.

Schoolmaster stands in loco parentis and may, in a proper case, inflict corporal punishment; but is criminally liable for an abuse of his authority.—Boyd v. State, 88 Ala. 169; McCormack v. State, 102 Ala. 156.

ARTICLE 7.

BOARDS OF EDUCATION; TEACHERS' INSTITUTES.

3583 (989). Board of education; how constituted; vacancies. There shall be established in each county of the state a board of education composed of the county superintendent of education, who shall be the president thereof, and of two teachers, either in private or public schools of the county, who shall be appointed by such superintendent at the beginning of each scholastic year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and who shall hold office during the current scholastic year, and one of whom shall be appointed secretary; and a majority of the board shall be necessary for the transaction of any business. The county superintendent of education shall have power to fill all vacancies that may occur in such board.

3584 (990). Meetings of board.—Such board shall meet quarterly at such times and places as they may designate; but may meet oftener when deemed advisable by them.

3585 (991). Examination of applicants; effect of diploma.—Applicants for license to teach in the public schools of the county must be examined by such board, and the questions and answers in such examination must be in writing, and must be preserved by the board for one year, open to inspection; and when an applicant is found duly qualified, and is of good moral character, he must, on the payment of a fee of one dollar, which shall be divided between the two members of the board appointed by, and acting with the county superintendent of education, receive a license to teach in the public schools of the county, which must be signed by the president and secretary of the board; but a diploma from any chartered institution of learning in this state will entitle the applicant to such a license without examination, on proof of good moral character, and payment of the license fee.

3586. Normal-school diplomas.—Graduates of any of the normal schools of this state, holding state certificates, signed by the superintendent of education, shall be exempt from examination and payment of the fee of one dollar, and shall be entitled to teach in any of the public schools of the state.

3587 (992). Register of license kept; cancellation noted thereon.—A register of all licenses issued by the board shall be kept by them; and whenever any license shall be canceled, that fact shall be noted on such register, together with the cause of such cancellation.

3588 (993). Cause for cancellation of license.—Whenever it shall appear to the board that any teacher to whom a license has been issued has been guilty of intemperance, or of unworthy or disgraceful conduct, his license shall be canceled, and his name stricken from the registered list of teachers by the board.

3589 (994). Examination, license and register necessary.—No teacher shall be employed in any of the public schools of any county in this state, or receive any of the school funds, unless he has been so examined, has received such license, and the same has been so registered in the county.

3590 (995). Teachers' institutes to be organized.—It shall be the duty of the board of education in each county to organize and maintain therein teachers' institutes, one for teachers who are white persons, and one for teachers who are colored persons, to be held at such times and places as the board may prescribe; but there shall not be less than ten licensed teachers in the county of the race for whom such institutes shall be organized.

3591 (996). Officers and members of institutes; no fee imposed without consent.—The county superintendent of education shall be the president of such institutes, and the members of the board of education shall be the vice-presidents thereof, one of whom shall preside over its meetings in the absence of the president; the other officers thereof may be elected. Every teacher of the county holding a license shall be a member of the institutes organized for his race. But no fee or assessment shall be imposed on a member without his consent.

3592 (997). Meetings of institutes.—There shall not be less than three meetings in each year of such institutes, one of which shall be held in the month of September, and at this meeting an address to the teachers shall be made by some person selected by the educational board; and teachers holding licenses shall attend at least one of such meetings.

3593 (998). Business of the institutes.—The meetings of the institutes shall be devoted mainly to discussions and instructions in regard to the methods of teaching and disciplining schools, and to the text-books used, and other matters connected with the schools and school laws.

ARTICLE 8.

DISTRICTS; SCHOOLS; SCHOLASTIC PERIODS.

3594 (999). School districts; establishment and supervision; capacity to hold property.—Every township, and fraction of a township, which is divided by a state or county line, or any river, creek, or mountain, or other barrier rendering intercourse between the different portions of the township difficult, and every incorporated city or town having three thousand inhabitants, or more, shall constitute a separate school district; and each of them shall be under a township superintendent as to all matters connected with public schools. Each township, or other school district, in its corporate capacity, may hold real and personal property; and the business of such corporations, in relation to public schools and school lands, shall be managed by the township or district trustees.

3595 (1000). Pupils entitled to instruction in public schools. Every minor over the age of seven years shall be entitled to admission into, and instruction in any public school of his or her own race or color in this state.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1038.

3596. Child may not attend more than one school.—No child who has attended a public school the number of days to which it is entitled as a pupil in that school, shall attend another during the same scholastic year, unless by consent of a majority of the trustees of the township in which such other is situated.

Feb. 14, 1893, p. 584.

3597. When non-residents entitled to school privileges.—Any parent or guardian residing in the state who shall pay a local or special school tax on real estate valued at five hundred dollars or more, in any city, township, or separate school district, shall be entitled to the privileges and benefits of the public schools in such city, township, or separate school district, for their children, the same as parents and guardians resident therein.

3598 (1001). Scholastic periods.—The scholastic year shall begin on the first day of October of each year, and end on the thirtieth day of September of the following year; twenty days shall constitute a school month, and a school day shall be not less than six hours.

Gay v. Bankston, 100 Ala. 280.

3599 (1002). Public examinations, and certificates to pupils. Public examinations must be held in the public schools at least once in every year; and when the board of education shall be satisfied that any pupil has become thoroughly educated in all the branches of free instruction in any one of such schools, they shall give to him or her a certificate to that effect.

3600 (1003). Separate schools for the two races.—In no case shall it be lawful to unite in one school children of the white and colored races.

ARTICLE 9.

APPORTIONMENT OF SCHOOL FUND; DISBURSEMENT.

3601 (1004). Auditor certifies amount of educational fund; superintendent apportions.—On the first day of October of each year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the auditor shall certify to the superintendent of education the amount of money which has accrued and been placed by him to the credit of the educational fund for the scholastic year commencing on that day, stating specifically the amount derived from each source, and any unexpended balance there may be from the appropriation of the previous year to be carried forward; and the amount so certified shall be apportioned by the superintendent of education, and be drawn and disbursed as provided by law.

Gay v. Bankston, 100 Ala. 280.

3602 (1005). Contingent expenses and amount for normal schools set apart; residue apportioned.—As soon as such certificate is received by the superintendent of education, he shall set apart out of the general fund a sufficient amount to pay such expenses of the department of education as are by law payable out of such fund, and the amount necessary to cover the expenses of normal schools; and he shall then apportion all the balance of such fund, as nearly as practicable, among the several townships and school districts in the state, as hereinafter provided.

Gay v. Bankston, 100 Ala. 280.

3603 (1006). Amounts apportioned certified to auditor; no warrants drawn in excess; balance unapportioned certified to treasurer.—As soon as such amounts have been set apart, and such apportionment has been made, the superintendent of education shall certify to the auditor the amount set apart for each particular purpose or appropriation, and the total amount of the apportionment to the several school districts in each county, and the auditor shall see that no warrants are drawn against the educational fund, for any purpose, for any amount in excess of the amounts so certified as set apart and apportioned; and he shall certify to the treasurer the amount of the school revenue, exclusive of poll-tax, unapportioned by the superintendent of education; and the treasurer shall set apart the amount out of any money received from the taxes of the current year, and he shall keep the same separate and apart from all other revenues, and shall not pay out any of such money except upon warrants for school purposes.

3604 (1007). Interest on sixteenth-section or other trust fund first set apart; effect of apportionment.—In making the apportionment of school money to the several districts, the superintendent of education shall first set apart to each township, or other school district, the amount due from the state thereto as interest on its sixteenth-section fund, or other trust fund held by the state; and all townships or school districts, having an income from such source, or from the lease or sale of sixteenth-section lands, shall not receive anything out of the balance of the educational fund to be apportioned, until all other townships or school districts, having no trust fund, shall have received from the general fund such amount as will give them an equal per capita apportionment with the townships or districts having such income.

3605 (1008). Apportionment; basis of, and how made.—The superintendent of education shall apportion the educational fund to the respective townships or school districts, subject to the provisions of the preceding section, according to the latest official returns of the enumeration of school population of the townships or other districts, which have been made to his office, and according to the entire number of children of school age in each township or school district; but when the township trustees of any township or district have failed to make and return the census enumeration of their township or district as required by law, and when the superintendent of education has not caused a new enumeration to be made, the superintendent of education shall make the apportionment to such township or district, according to the best information he can obtain as to the school population of such township or district; but in no event shall he, in case of such failure, estimate the school population of any such district or township at more than the number shown by the last official report to his office.

3606 (1009). Apportionment recorded, and certified to county superintendents; when contracts for schools invalid.—As soon as such apportionment is completed, the superintendent of education shall have the same recorded in his office, in books kept for that purpose, showing the amount which has been apportioned to each school district, and the source or sources from which the same was derived, the amount to each district, and the number of children in the district upon which the apportionment was based; and he shall then furnish to each county superintendent of education a certified copy from such books, showing the dividends of the educational fund to each township or district under the latter's supervision; and the amount so divided and certified shall be the total amount which each of such school districts shall be entitled to receive from the state, except the poll-tax, during the current scholastic year; and no contract to pay for any school or schools, for any district, more than the amount thus apportioned to it, together with such poll-tax as it may receive, and such funds as may be in hand from any previous year, shall be valid against the state or township.

Gay v. Bankston, 100 Ala. 280.

3607 (1010). Poll-tax received by each county.—Each county shall receive as school money all the poll-tax collected therein; and the same shall be its full distributive share of the aggregate poll-tax collected in the state.

3608 (1011). Each township and race entitled to its poll-tax. Each township or other school district is entitled to receive, for the support of the public schools therein, all the poll-tax raised in and for such township or district; and the county superintendent of education of each county and the township trustees of each township shall see that the amount of poll-tax paid by white persons shall be applied exclusively to the maintenance of schools for white pupils, and that paid by colored persons exclusively for the maintenance of schools for colored pupils.

Gay v. Bankston, 100 Ala. 280.

3609 (1012). Amount due each county apportioned and certified to auditor.—The superintendent of education shall by the tenth day of October in each year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, apportion to every county the amount of school money such county will be entitled to receive for the scholastic year from all sources except such special tax, if any, levied for school purposes in any county; and he shall certify the same to the auditor.

3610. County superintendents shall make pay-rolls.—On the fifteenth days of March, June, September and December of each year, the county superintendents of education shall make in duplicate, for each race separately, a pay-roll, showing the names of all teachers engaged in teaching public schools in their counties, with their post-office address, and the estimated amount that will be due to each teacher at the end of the current quarter from the funds of each township and range in its regular numerical order; and shall append thereto an affidavit that the same is correct. One of such duplicate pay-rolls shall be retained by the county superintendent, and the other he shall forthwith forward to the superintendent of education, who shall examine the same, and if found correct, it shall be approved by him and filed with the auditor. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 106.

3611. Auditor shall draw warrant in favor of county superintendent.—The auditor shall, immediately upon the receipt of such pay-roll, draw a warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the county superintendent of each county for a sum which will be equivalent to the amount estimated to be due on said pay-roll, and four per centum thereon, and shall file said warrant, together with the pay-roll upon which it is based, with the treasurer, whereupon it shall be the duty of the treasurer to forward by express or exchange, at the expense of the state, the amount of such warrant, and the pay-roll and duplicate receipts for said sum, including the express charge or exchange premium, if any. The county superintendent of education must immediately upon receipt of said sum, sign the duplicate receipts and return one to the treasurer, who shall attach it to the appropriate warrant, and the other shall be returned to the auditor. Feb. 28, 1887, p. 117, §2.

3612. Teachers paid and receipts taken.—Immediately upon the receipt by the county superintendent of the amount of the quarterly or monthly pay-roll, he shall pay the teachers, taking their receipts Feb. 28, 1889, p. 106.

therefor on both copies of said pay-roll, and must by the fifteenth day of January, April, July and October, return one copy of such receipted pay-roll to the superintendent of education.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 117, §4.

3613. Auditor must prepare blanks.—The auditor must prepare the necessary blank pay-rolls, receipts and warrants to be used in carrying out the provisions of this article.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 106.

3614. Where teachers are paid monthly.—In those counties and separate school districts where teachers are required by law to be paid monthly, it shall be the duty of the county superintendent, or the superintendent of the separate school district, as the case may be, to make out and forward to the superintendent of education on the twentieth day of every month, a pay-roll as provided in this article, and the superintendent of education, the auditor and the treasurer shall each, severally, perform all the acts and duties required of them in this article as in other cases.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 117, §10.

3615. Balance in hands of county superintendent charged to him.—Upon the return of the receipted pay-roll to the superintendent of education, if it should appear that there is a balance in the hands of the county superintendent, the amount of such balance shall be charged to him and shall be deducted from the amount of the next quarterly or monthly pay-roll.

Ib. §11.

3616. County superintendent failing must be removed.—Any county superintendent, or superintendent of any separate school district, who fails to make and return any pay-roll required by this article, or who fails to sign and return the receipts herein provided for, or who fails to pay the teachers within fifteen days after the receipt by him of the money, or who fails to return the receipted pay-roll, must be removed from office by the superintendent of education.

3617 (1016). Apportionment and expenditure of local school money.—All local school funds, raised for the support of public schools, by taxation or otherwise, shall be apportioned and expended in the district or districts in and for which the same were raised, under such rules and regulations as the township trustees, or other local authority provided by law, may prescribe; but this section shall not be construed to repeal any provision for the apportionment and disbursement of the moneys mentioned in this chapter, or provided for in special or local laws; and all funds contributed by private parties, or otherwise, to such district shall be applied as indicated in the grant from such contributors; and no school moneys, distributed to the various counties from the state school revenue shall, either directly or indirectly, be paid for the erection of schoolhouses, for the use of schoolroom furniture, or any other contingent expenses of schools.

3618 (1017). Apportionment of income from trust fund when township divided.—Whenever a township, which has an income from a trust fund, is divided by a state or county line, or otherwise, into separate districts, or includes a city which is a separate school district, such income must be divided between, and apportioned to each school district in such township according to the school population of each.

3619 (1018). Funds unused for two years apportioned by county superintendent.—The county superintendent of education shall, in the same manner as the superintendent of education is required to apportion the general school fund, apportion among the school districts under his supervision all funds received by him for any particular school district or race, which have remained unused by such district or race for two years; and he shall make report of such apportionment to the superintendent of education as soon thereafter as practicable.

3620 (1019). Fund once apportioned, not used for other purposes until reapportioned.—Funds which have accrued and have been apportioned to any district or race, shall not be used for the benefit of any other district or race, until the same shall have reverted to the general fund, and been reapportioned under the provisions of the last preceding section.

3621 (1020). What part of income new districts are entitled to. Whenever any separate school district is created, which shall embrace parts of two or more townships, such district shall receive its proportionate share of the income from any trust fund belonging to either or both of such townships, according to its school population.

3622 (1021). Contingent fund for department of education. The state treasurer shall annually set apart, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one thousand dollars, as a contingent fund for the department of education; and whenever it shall become necessary to draw on such fund, the superintendent of education shall certify the amount necessary, and for what purpose, to the auditor, who shall draw his warrant on the treasurer for such amount. The superintendent of education shall keep an accurate account of all sums which he shall certify to be paid out of such contingent fund, and shall furnish an itemized statement thereof to the governor each year, with his annual report.

3623 (1022). Unexpended part of such fund credited to next year.—At the close of each scholastic year, any part of the appropriation for the educational contingent fund, which may not be then expended, shall be carried forward by the auditor and superintendent of education, and placed to the credit of, and become a part of the one thousand dollars appropriated for the educational contingent fund of the next succeeding year.

ARTICLE 10.

TOWNSHIP CORPORATIONS.

3624 (1024) (963) (576) (502). Incorporation of townships. The inhabitants of each township in the state are incorporated by the name of "Township ———, in range ———," according to the number of the surveys of the United States.

ARTICLE 11.

SCHOOL LANDS; LEASE AND SALE.

3625 (1023) (962) (575) (501). What are school lands, and in whom vested.—School lands, within the meaning of this Code, are sections numbered sixteen, in every township, granted by the United States for the use of schools in the township, and such other lands as may have been granted to any township for the use of schools; and all school lands are vested in the state, in trust to execute the objects of the grant.

Long v. Brown, 4 Ala. 622; Miller v. State, 38 Ala. 600; Yerby v. Sexton, 48 Ala. 311; Gaston v. State, 88 Ala. 459.

3626 (1025) (967) (588) (519). Timber lots reserved.—The township trustees, after the surveys and plats provided for in this article, may select such lots as they think proper, to reserve from cultivation for the benefit of the timber thereon, and must mark the same "reserved" on the plat thereof.

3627 (1026) (968) (589) (520). Other lands leased; terms of lease.—The township trustees may lease for not exceeding five years, the lots so laid out and not reserved, and may stipulate for such improvements as they may deem expedient, and may require, if they think proper, security for rents and improvements; the rent is to be paid annually, but in case of improvements, they may stipulate for the rent to commence after the commencement of the lease.

3628 (1027) (969) (590) (521). Rent payable to the township. All notes, bonds and contracts for the lease of school lands are to be made payable to the township by its corporate name.

3629 (1028) (970) (591) (522). Lands rented at public auction; notice.—All school lands must be leased, at some place in the township, at public auction; and at least six weeks' previous notice must be given by advertisement at three public places in the township, designating the time and place; and such other notice may be given as the township trustees may deem expedient.

3630 (1029) (971) (592) (523). Duties of lessee.—The lessee is bound to treat the land, houses and improvements in a careful and husbandmanlike manner; to commit no waste; and he must comply with such further restrictions as the township trustees may deem expedient to insert in the lease; and if such lessee, or any person claiming under him, commits waste, or fails to pay the rent, or to comply with any other stipulation in the lease, the township trustees have the right to declare the lease forfeited.

3631 (1030) (972) (593) (524). Timber lots; how used.—The lots reserved for timber are for the common benefit of the lessees of the other lots; but no timber must be cut down, injured, or destroyed, as long as there is sufficient on the other lots, which the township trustees are to determine; and the lessees must, in no case, cut down, injure, or destroy such timber without permission from the township trustees, which may be given on such terms as they may think proper, having due regard to the interests of the township.

3632 (1031) (973) (594) (525). Penalty for injuries to timber. Any person who, without authority, cuts down, injures, or destroys any tree on school lands, shall forfeit and pay for every such tree ten dollars, to be recovered before any court having jurisdiction, in the corporate name of the township.

3633 (1032) (974) (595) (526). Fines paid into treasury for school fund.—All fines and forfeitures under the preceding section shall be paid into the state treasury, and added to the principal of the school fund of the township.

3634 (981). Report of income from school lands.—When any part of the sixteenth-section or other school lands in any township has been rented or leased, it shall be the duty of the township trustees to report at once to the county superintendent in writing a description of the lands, to whom rented or leased, the time when due and how the payment is secured. It shall be the duty of the county superintendent, as soon as this report is received by him, to file the same in his office, and to report to the superintendent of education all the facts contained in the report of the township trustees. It shall be the duty of the township trustees when money is paid to them on such rentings or leases to report at once the amount, and on what account paid, to the county superintendent, whose duty it shall be to report the same to the superintendent of education, being careful to give the number of the township and range and for what year the rental or lease money was paid. As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 69.

3635 (1033) (975) (596) (527). Election as to sale of school lands.—The township trustees of any township may, on giving twenty days' notice by advertisement at three of the most public places therein, hold an election to ascertain the sense of the township respecting the sale of school lands belonging thereto, and may appoint the place where such election is to be held; and three inspectors to manage the same.

Tankersly v. State Bank, 6 Ala. 277.

3636 (1034) (976) (597) (528). Oath of inspectors of election. The inspectors, before holding such election, must take an oath to conduct the same fairly, which may be administered by one to the other; and they may appoint clerks.

3637 (1035) (977) (598) (529). Absence of inspectors.—If any inspectors are absent, those present may supply their places, and if none attend, any three freeholders or householders of the township may act.

3638 (1036) (978). Polls.—The polls are to be opened at eleven in the morning and closed at five in the afternoon.

3639 (1037) (979) (600) (531). Manner of voting.—Voters may prepare their own ballots, notwithstanding any general law to the contrary, and must write thereon "Sale" or "No sale," and deposit them in the ballot-box; and the inspectors, after ascertaining the result, must certify the same to the township trustees, who must declare the result.

3640 (1038) (980) (601) (532). If majority for sale, survey made, and minimum price fixed.—If, on such election, a majority of the legally qualified voters of the township, voting thereat, are in favor of a sale, the township trustees must have the lands surveyed and divided into lots so as to command the highest price, have a plat of such survey made, and, being sworn to fairly value such lots, fix a minimum price upon each.

3641 (1039) (981) (602) (533). Plat to be kept open to inspection.—Such plat, with the minimum price marked upon each lot, is to be kept by the township trustees open to the inspection of all persons desiring to examine the same.

3642 (1040) (982) (603) (534). Notice of sale.—As soon as the lands are surveyed, the township trustees must give thirty days' notice of the time and place of sale by advertisement at three public places in the township and in such other mode as they may think proper.

3643 (1041) (983) (604) (535). Sale at public auction; terms of sale.—On the day appointed for the sale, between the hours of eleven in the morning and two in the afternoon, each lot must be offered separately, and sold at public auction to the highest bidder at or above the minimum price. If such minimum price is fifty dollars, or under, the sale must be for cash; if the minimum price is over fifty dollars, but not more than one hundred and fifty dollars, the sale must be on a credit of one year, unless the amount bid for the lands should exceed one hundred and fifty dollars, in which event the sale must be on a credit of one and two years, in equal annual installments; if the minimum price, or the amount bid for the lands, is one hundred and fifty dollars, or over, but less than three hundred dollars, the sale must be on a credit of one and two years, in equal annual installments; if the minimum price, or the amount bid for the lands, is over three hundred dollars, but less than five hundred dollars, the sale must be on a credit of one, two, and three years, in equal annual installments; and if the minimum price, or the amount bid for the lands, is five hundred dollars, or more, the sale must be on a credit of one, two, three, and four years, in equal annual installments; when the sale is on a credit, the purchaser must give his notes, with two or more sureties, approved by the township trustees, payable to the State of Alabama, for the use of the township, designating it by its number and range, and specifying, by the legal subdivisions, the particular portion or portions of the section for which the notes are given. All notes for purchase of school lands, sold under the provisions of this article, must bear interest at the rate of eight per cent. per annum from date.

3644 (1042) (984) (605) (536). Provisions directory.—The provisions of this article, in relation to the sale of school lands, must be construed as directory only.

3645 (1043) (985) (606). Report of sale, disposition of purchase- money and notes.—The township trustees, within twenty days after such sale, must make return thereof to the superintendent of education, specifying the date of the sale, the names of the purchasers, the quantity and a particular description of the land sold to each, the price paid, or to be paid, by each purchaser, and the amount of the purchase-money retained to defray the expenses of the survey and sale; and they must, at the same time, pay over to the superintendent of education all the money which may have been received by them as purchase-money for such lands, after deducting such amount as they may be allowed by law to retain to defray the expenses of the survey and sale; and also, at the same time, turn over to the superintendent of education all notes which may have been taken by them for such lands; and the superintendent of education must give them a receipt for such money and notes, and file the return and notes in his office, and make proper record of the notes.

3646 (1044) (986) (607) (537). Resale of lands.—If any purchaser fails to make the payment, or give his notes with approved sureties, as required, the land bid off by him must be immediately resold, if practicable, but if it is not practicable to make the resale at once, it must be advertised and resold at a future day, as if no sale had been made; and the first purchaser shall be responsible for the difference between his bid and the amount for which the land is subsequently sold, if such amount is less than the bid of such first purchaser.

Commissioners v. Allen, 5 Port. 169.

3647 (1045) (987) (608) (538). Certificate of purchase.—The township trustees on receiving from the purchaser the cash payment, and his notes for the deferred payments, must give to him a certificate of purchase, describing the land purchased, and showing the number of acres, and the amount of the purchase-money.

Tankersly v. State Bank, 6 Ala. 277; Watson v. Prestwood, 79 Ala. 416; s. c., 111 Ala. 604.

3648 (1046) (988) (609) (539). Effect of certificate of purchase. Such certificate conveys to the purchaser, his heirs, or assigns, a conditional estate in fee, to become absolute on the payment of the purchase-money and interest, and to revert to the state for the uses originally granted in the following cases:

1. When all the notes have become due, and the makers have left the state, or died insolvent.

2. When a recovery on such notes is defeated by any defense avoiding the contract of sale.

3. When a recovery is had against all the makers, and execution has been returned "no property" by the proper officers of the county in which the township lies; or when judgment is had, and execution returned against any one or more of such makers "no property," and the others have left the state, or died insolvent.

See citations to preceding section.

3649 (1047) (989) (610) (540). Revesting of title; clerk to certify facts; penalty for failure; costs.—No proceeding is necessary to revest the title in the state on the happening of the events specified in the preceding section, but such lands may be recovered in the name of the state, for the use of the township, against any person in possession of the same, upon proof of the facts; and it is the duty of the clerk of the court in which the suit was pending, or the judgment recovered, to certify the facts to the superintendent of education, on the happening of the events specified in the second and third subdivisions of the preceding section, and failing to do so within a reasonable time, he forfeits the sum of one hundred dollars; one half to the persons suing for the same, and the other to the state for the use of the township. When no money is recovered in suits on notes for purchase-money of school lands, no costs must be taxed against the township for such suits.

3650 (1048) (990) (612) (542). Compensation to township trustees; penalty for certain defaults.—For holding the election and making the sale as provided in this article, the township trustees shall be entitled to two dollars each, which, together with the amount which may be allowed by law to the county surveyor for making the surveys and plats herein provided for, shall be retained by them out of the purchase-money for the lands; and purchasers shall, in all cases, pay enough cash to defray such expenses; and if the township trustees fail to return the sale, or purchase-money notes, or to pay over the money received on account of purchase-money, to the superintendent of education, as required by law, he shall forfeit one hundred dollars, one half to the person suing for the same, and the other to the state for the use of the township; and on the trial, the certificate of the superintendent as to such failure is presumptive evidence thereof.

3651 (1049) (991) (613) (543). Fines go to school fund.—The amount received by the state upon recoveries, had under the last two preceding sections, is to be added to the principal of the school fund of the township.

3652 (1050) (992) (614) (544). Patent.—A patent issues, on the payment of the purchase-money, to the purchaser, his heirs, or assigns; and when the patent is to the heirs, it vests a title in all persons entitled to claim in that capacity under the provisions of this Code.

Payne v. Mathis, 92 Ala. 585; Tarver v. Smith, 38 Ala. 135.

3653 (1051) (993, 996) (615, 616). Issue of patent by secretary of state; correction of mistake.—The secretary of state must issue patents, upon satisfactory evidence furnished him of full payment of purchase-money, to any person, agent, or officer, legally authorized to receive such payment; and upon proof of a mistake in the issue of any patent, he must correct the same, or issue a new patent on the return of the original to his office.

3654. (1052) (995) (617) (545). Issue of patents in other cases. Except under the provisions of the preceding section, no patent must issue without the certificate of the superintendent of education, that the whole amount of the purchase-money specified in the certificate, with all interest thereon, has been paid.

3655 (1053) (998). Collection of past-due notes.—All notes for school lands deposited with the superintendent of education, if not paid within six months after maturity, must be placed with the attorney-general for collection; but this section shall not be so construed as to prevent the superintendent of education from ordering suit on notes at any time after maturity, when so ordered by the township trustees, or the sureties on the notes.

3656 (1054) (999). Appointment of agents for collection of notes.—The attorney-general may appoint agents for the collection of such notes, being responsible for any neglect on the part of such agents.

3657 (1055) (1000). Township credited with collections on notes. All collections on notes given for the sale of school lands must be paid into the treasury of the state, to the credit of the proper township.

3658. Proceeds of school lands covered into treasury; faith and credit of state pledged for payment of interest.—All funds now in the state treasury derived from the sale of sixteenth-section or other school lands, or which may hereafter accrue from sales of such lands, together with the redemption-money of other lands in which former accumulations have been invested under an act approved March 1, 1881, entitled "An act to authorize the compromise and settlement of claims for school lands in this state," are covered into the state treasury and made available for general purposes; and the faith and credit of the state is pledged for the payment of the interest on such fund to the public schools of the state, at the rate of six per cent. per annum. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 104.

3659 (980). Bonds when lands about to be sold or leased.—When any township trustees are about to sell or lease any school lands, they must give bond with sufficient sureties, payable to the state, in a sum to be fixed by the county superintendent of education, equal to the value of the school lands or the amount of the school funds of their township, and with condition to discharge their duties faithfully so long as they may continue in office or discharge the duties thereof, which bond must be approved by the county superintendent of education and by him filed in his office.

3660 (1057). By whom duties as to lands performed when township divided.—When a township is divided into two or more school districts the county superintendent of education, in appointing township trustees in such township, shall designate which of them shall discharge the duties and exercise the powers conferred upon township trustees touching the leasing, selling and control of school lands in each school district.

ARTICLE 12.

LEASE AND SALE OF SCHOOL INDEMNITY LANDS.

Dec. 10, 1890, p. 88, §1.

3661. Sale of school indemnity lands authorized.—The superintendent of education is authorized and empowered to sell and dispose of all the lands which have been heretofore or may hereafter be certified to the state for the use and benefit of the several townships in which there was a deficiency in the amount of land originally certified to the state for their benefit, subject to the approval of the governor.

Ib. §2.

3662. Proceeds of sale; how disposed of.—The proceeds arising from such sales, after the payment of all proper costs and expenses thereof, shall be, by the superintendent of education paid into the state treasury to the credit of the townships to which the same may belong, in the proportion of their interest therein.

Ib.

3663. Notes taken by superintendent of education held until paid; when placed with the attorney-general.—All notes taken by the superintendent of education for the purchase of such lands must be held by him until the same are due, and if not then paid, may be placed with the attorney-general for collection.

Ib.

3664. Manner and terms of sale.—Such sales may be made from time to time, at public or private sale, as in the judgment of the superintendent of education shall best promote the interest of the school fund of the state, and shall be for cash, or part cash and part on time, as the superintendent of education and the governor may deem best; but in no case shall there be less than one-fourth of the purchase-money paid in cash, and the remainder shall be payable in yearly installments to extend over a period of not more than three years, and shall be secured by notes with sureties to be approved by the superintendent of education and shall bear interest from the date of the sale.

Ib. §4.

3665. Lease of school indemnity lands.—The superintendent of education may, with the approval of the governor, lease out any of such lands for a term not exceeding five years, or may enter into contracts permitting persons to mine iron ore, coal or other minerals therefrom, upon a royalty, for a term not exceeding twenty years; and the net proceeds of all moneys received from the lease of such lands, or as a royalty for the minerals mined therefrom, shall at the end of each fiscal year be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the townships to which such lands belong, in the proportion of their interest therein.

Ib. §8.

3666. Provisions applicable.—The provisions of the preceding article relating to trespasses upon school lands, resale, certificate of purchase, revesting title, patent, and the collection and application of proceeds of sales, apply to sales under this article so far as applicable.

ARTICLE 13.

UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA.

3667 (1058) (1295). Incorporation of university.—The governor and the superintendent of education, by virtue of their respective offices, and the trustees appointed from the different congressional districts of the state under the provisions of section 9, of article thirteen of the constitution, and such other members as may be from time to time added to the board of trustees, and their successors in office, are constituted a body corporate under the name of the Board of Trustees of the University of Alabama, to carry into effect the purpose and intent of the congress of the United States in the grant of lands by the act of March 2, 1819, to this state, to be by it held and administered for the benefit of a seminary of learning.

3668 (1059) (1296). General powers, duties and liabilities of such corporation.—Such corporation shall have all the rights, powers and franchises necessary to, or promotive of the end of its creation, and shall be charged with all the corresponding duties, liabilities and responsibilities.

3669 (1060) (1297). Power of holding and disposing of property. Such corporation may hold, and may lease, sell, or in any other manner not inconsistent with the objects or terms of the grant or grants under which it holds, dispose of any property, real or personal, or any estate or interest therein, remaining of the original or any subsequent grant by congress, or by this state, or by any person, or accruing to the corporation from any other source, including also the proceeds of the "University fund," as to it may seem best for the purposes of its institution.

3670 (1061) (1298). University fund defined; credit of state pledged for payment of interest.—The fund designated in the preceding section as the "University fund" consists of three hundred thousand dollars, the proceeds of the original grant of congress, deposited with this state; and for the payment of the interest thereon, at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, the faith and credit of the state are forever pledged; but such rate of interest shall continue only so long as it may be the policy of the state to continue the military department as a branch of the university.

3671 (1062) (1299). When gift or grant not affected; what not a forfeiture.—No grant or gift, by will or otherwise, shall fail on account of any misnomer or informality, when the intention of the grantor or donor can be ascertained; nor shall any default, malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance, or non-user, on the part of the trustees, or other officers, or agents of such corporation, work a forfeiture of any of its rights, powers, privileges, or franchises.

3672 (1063) (1300). Rights, etc., of university continued in corporation.—In addition to the rights, properties, privileges and franchises herein granted, all rights, properties, privileges and franchises heretofore, by any act of the general assembly, granted to, or vested in the University of Alabama, shall vest and continue in such corporation.

3673 (1064) (1301). Powers of board of trustees; no exclusion from benefit of "University fund," etc.—The board of trustees have the power to organize the university by appointing a corps of instructors, who shall be styled the faculty of the university, and such other officers as the interest of the university may require; to remove any such instructors or officers, and to fix their salaries or compensation, and increase or reduce the same at their discretion; to institute, regulate, alter, or modify the government of the university, as they may deem advisable; to prescribe courses of instruction, rates of tuition, price of board, and regulate the necessary expenses of students; and to confer such academic and honorary degrees as are usually conferred by literary institutions. They may delegate to the faculty of the university, or other officer or officers, such powers and functions in the government of the students, and in the administration of the affairs of the university as they may deem proper; but in no cases shall any person be authorized to receive, hold, or disburse any funds of the university without having first given bond, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties; and no person shall be excluded from the full benefit of the university fund, or placed at any disadvantage in the pursuit of his studies, who possesses the requisite literary and other qualifications, and is willing to submit to the discipline prescribed for students.

As amended Dec. 10, 1892, p. 22.

3674 (1065) (1302). Classification of trustees; term and oath of office.—The trustees are divided into three classes, as follows: The trustees from the first and fourth, and the one heretofore determined by lot from the sixth, congressional districts constitute the first class; those from the second, fifth, ninth and seventh congressional districts constitute the second class; and those from the third, eighth, and the one heretofore determined by lot from the sixth, congressional districts constitute the third class; and they shall hold office, and their seats be vacated as prescribed by the constitution. Before entering upon the discharge of their duties, they shall each take an oath to faithfully perform their official duties, which oath may be administered by any officer authorized to administer oaths in this state.

3675 (1066) (1303). Vacancy in office of trustee, how filled; term of appointee.—Any vacancy in the office of trustee, occurring during the recess of the legislature, shall be filled by appointment of the governor, such appointee to hold until, at the session of the legislature thereafter, such vacancy shall be filled by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate; and any vacancy occurring during the session of the legislature shall be filled by appointment of the governor by and with the consent of the senate; and any trustee appointed to fill a vacancy by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall hold during the unexpired term.

3676 (1067) (1304). Quorum of board of trustees; president pro tempore.—Five members of the board of trustees, exclusive of the ex officio members, shall constitute a quorum, and every member present shall be required to vote, and a majority of those present shall govern. At their first meeting, the board shall elect one of their number president pro tempore, who shall preside in the absence of the governor, and shall hold the position until the next annual or special meeting, when another president pro tempore shall be elected.

3677 (1068) (1303, 1304). Time and place of meetings of trustees.—The board of trustees shall meet at least once in each year, and on the last Wednesday in June, unless some other day is selected by them; and the board may, at any session, appoint a special meeting, and upon the written application of any four members, or of any three members with his concurrence, the president pro tempore shall appoint a special meeting, and issue notices thereof to the several members; but such meeting shall not be appointed for a day less than twenty days subsequent to the date of the notice. All meetings of the board must be held at the university.

3678 (1069) (1305). Proceedings of board recorded; employment of secretary; payment of expenses, etc.—The proceedings of the board of trustees must be recorded in a substantially bound book, which must be kept in the archives of the university; and the board may at any meeting employ a secretary. The certificate of the president, or in his absence, of the president pro tempore, countersigned by the secretary, if there be one, shall entitle the several trustees to their constitutional pay out of the treasury of the university; and the compensation of the secretary and the necessary incidental expenses of the board at each session shall be paid on the order of the board, and the certificate of the president, or president pro tempore, as the case may be, out of such treasury.

3679 (1070) (1306). Report by board to the general assembly. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees to make to the general assembly, at each session thereof, a full report of their transactions, and of the condition of the university, embracing an itemized account of all receipts and disbursements on account of the university, by those charged with the administration of its finances.

3681 (1072) (1309) (430) (384). Interest on "University fund"; how payable.—The state treasurer must semi-annually, on the last days of December and June, pay the interest on the university fund at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, to the treasurer, or any authorized agent of the university; and on the application of such treasurer or agent, the auditor shall draw his warrant on the treasurer for the amount due from the state for interest on such fund.

3682 (1073) (1308). Right reserved to the legislature to revise and amend.—The right is reserved to the general assembly to revise or amend the provisions of this article, and in virtue of the character of the trust conferred by the act of congress, to intervene and, by special enactment, to direct and control the board of trustees in the discharge of their duties and functions.

Dec. 6, 1886, p. 121. 3683. Law department to receive second-hand text-books from state library.—The justices of the supreme court are authorized from time to time to set apart and turn over to the law department of the university, copies of such second-hand or superseded law-books, known as text-books, as they may deem expedient, the marshal and librarian taking proper receipts therefor.

Ib. 3684. Law department must be supplied with Codes.—The secretary of state shall supply to such law department three copies of the Code of Alabama as the same may, from time to time, be published.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 71. 3685. Police of grounds; appointment, powers and duties.—The president of the university has authority to appoint or employ one or more suitable persons to act as police officers to keep off intruders and prevent trespasses upon and damage to the property of the university. Such persons shall be charged with all the duties and invested with all the powers of police officers, and may eject trespassers from the university buildings and grounds and may, without warrant, arrest persons guilty of disorderly conduct, or of trespass on the property of the institution, and carry them before the nearest justice of the peace or other officer charged with the trial of such offenders, before whom, upon proper affidavit charging the offense, such person so arrested may be tried and convicted as in case of persons brought before him on a warrant; and such officer or officers shall have authority to summon a posse comitatus.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL COLLEGE OF ALABAMA.

3686 (1074). Incorporation of college.—The governor and the superintendent of education, by virtue of their respective offices, and the trustees appointed from the different congressional districts of the state, under the provisions of section 9 of article thirteen of the constitution, and their successors in office, are constituted a body corporate under the name of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama, to carry into effect the purpose and intent of the congress of the United States in the grant of lands by the act of July 2, 1862.

3687 (1075). General powers, duties and liabilities of college. Such corporation shall have all the rights, privileges and franchises necessary to a promotion of the end of its creation, and shall be charged with all corresponding duties, liabilities and responsibilities.

3688 (1076). Credit of state pledged to payment of interest. For the payment of the interest, at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, on the fund of two hundred and fifty-three thousand and five hundred dollars, arising from the sale of the scrip for the land donated in trust to this state by the act of congress of July 2, 1862, the faith and credit of the state are forever pledged.

3690 (1078). Classification of trustees.—The trustees of the college are divided into three classes, as follows: The trustees from the fourth, fifth, seventh and ninth districts shall constitute the first class; those from the eighth, sixth and second districts shall constitute the second class; and those from the third and first districts shall constitute the third class; and they shall hold office, and their seats be vacated as prescribed by the constitution.

3693 (1081). Quorum of board of trustees.—Six members of the board of trustees shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day until a quorum is present.

3694 (1082). Payment of expenses to trustees.—The certificate of the president of the board, or in his absence, of the president pro tempore, countersigned by the secretary, shall entitle the several trustees to the payment of their actual expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties as such trustees.

3695 (1083). When gift or grant not affected; what will not operate a forfeiture.—No grant or gift, by will or otherwise, shall fail on account of any misnomer or informality, when the intent of the grantor or donor can be arrived at; nor shall any default, malfeasance, or misfeasance, or non-user, on the part of the trustees, or other officers or agents of such corporation, work a forfeiture of any of its rights, privileges, powers, or franchises.

3696 (1084). Report of trustees to general assembly.—It shall be the duty of the board of trustees to make, or cause to be made, to the general assembly, at each session thereof, a full report of their transactions, and of the condition of the college, embracing an itemized account of all receipts and disbursements on account of the college by those charged with the administration of its finances.

As amended Feb. 26, 1889, p. 65.

3697 (1085). Interest paid by treasurer; when bond required of officers or agents.—The state treasurer must pay the interest on the fund of two hundred and fifty-three thousand and five hundred dollars arising from the sale of land-scrip, quarterly, as the same may accrue, to the treasurer or other authorized agent or officer of the college; and on the application of such treasurer, agent, or officer, the auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer for such interest; but in no case shall any person be authorized to receive, hold, or disburse any fund of the college, without having first given bond conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties.

ALABAMA INSTITUTE FOR THE DEAF.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 70.

3698 (1086) (1311) (1025). Educational institution for the deaf, dumb and blind established.—There is established in this state and located at Talladega, an institution for the education of the deaf and dumb, called the Alabama Institute for the Deaf.

Ib.

3699 (1087) (1312) (1026). Incorporation of such institution. The governor, the superintendent of education and nine other persons, appointed as hereinafter provided, are made a body corporate, with the rights of succession forever, by the name of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf; and such corporation may acquire and hold property, real and personal, by gift, devise, or in any other manner, for the purposes of its creation; may sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with; may have and use a common seal, and break or alter the same at pleasure; and may have all the powers necessary and proper to accomplish the purposes of this article.

Ib.

3700 (1088) (1313) (1027). Nine trustees appointed by the governor; board of trustees.—Such nine persons are appointed by the governor. They are divided into two classes, each class holding office for the term of six years, but expiring at different times. Vacancies are filled by the governor for the unexpired term. Each trustee holds until a successor is duly appointed. These nine persons and the governor and the superintendent of education constitute a board of trustees, who have the entire management and control of such institution.

3701 (1089) (1314) (1028). Quorum and meetings of board; secretary and treasurer.—A majority of such board may act, and may meet and adjourn from time to time, as, in their judgment, the interests of the institution may require. They must appoint a secretary and keep a complete record of all their proceedings in a well-bound book; and they shall also appoint a treasurer, who shall give bond in such amount as the board may determine, and with such sureties as they may deem sufficient, for the faithful discharge of his duties as such treasurer; and he and his sureties shall be responsible for all funds which may come into his hands by virtue of his office.

3702 (1090) (1315) (1029). Duties of treasurer.—The treasurer must pay over such funds as may come to his hands as such, on the written order of the board of trustees, or a majority of them, which must be countersigned by the secretary and recorded in the minutes or records of the proceedings of the board, kept by such secretary; and the treasurer shall make a full report once a year, and oftener, if required by the governor.

3703 (1091) (1316) (1030). President of board; teachers; compensation of officers.—The board must appoint from their number a president, and they must also appoint a principal teacher for such institution, who may nominate to the board such other assistants in the institution as he may think necessary for its successful management, such board having the power of confirmation or rejection. The board must fix the amount of compensation for each of the officers and teachers, and the time of payment.

3704 (1094) (1319) (1032). Object of institution; application and admission.—The main object of such institution shall be to afford the means of education to the indigent deaf and dumb of the state. Application for admission must be made to the board of trustees, in writing, and must state the name, age, place of birth and present residence of applicant, how long he has been a resident of this state, that he is deaf and dumb and that he and his family are unable to pay his board and tuition. The application must be sworn to by the applicant, or by some one cognizant of the facts, and filed with the board; and thereupon the board shall, if they deem the proof sufficient, cause an order to be made on the record of their proceedings, admitting such applicant, a certified copy of which shall be delivered to the applicant, his parent or guardian; and thereupon such applicant shall be admitted as a pupil of such institution for the period of time specified in the certificate.

3705 (1095) (1320). Clothing for indigent pupils.—In all cases where the parents of pupils sent to the institution are too poor to furnish them with good and sufficient clothing, or when the pupils are without parents and are unable to furnish themselves with clothing, the judge of probate of the county from which they are sent shall certify the same to the principal of the institution, who shall procure the necessary clothing and charge the same to the county, and at the end of each scholastic year of such institution present a verified, itemized account for such clothing to the court of county commissioners of the county from which such pupil is sent; and it shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners, at the first term after the presentation of such account, to audit and allow the same and direct the issuance of a warrant on the county treasurer for the payment of such allowance, which warrant shall be a preferred claim against the general fund of the county; but in the auditing and allowing of such account, thirty dollars per capita for each scholastic year shall be the maximum of such allowance.

3706 (1096) (1321) (1033). Application for those not indigent. If other persons, who are not indigent, desire to avail themselves of the advantages of such institution, they or their friends may make application to the board in writing, stating age, name, residence, and that they are able to pay the expenses of such applicant while in the institution; and if on examination the board shall deem the applicant a suitable person to enter such institution, they shall make an order on their records admitting him into the institution, a certified copy of which shall be delivered to the applicant, or his parent, guardian or next friend; but such applicant shall pay or secure the payment of all his expenses for the time for which he is allowed to enter such institution.

Feb. 4, 1889, p. 29.

3707 (1097) (1322) (1034). Mechanical and industrial department.—There is established a mechanical and industrial department in such institution for the instruction of pupils; the nature of the department is to be determined by the board, and is to be under the management of the principal of the institution.

3708 (1098) (1323). Selection and powers of executive committee.—The board may select from their number an executive committee of three, subject to change and removal by the majority of the board at any time; and such committee is authorized to meet and transact any business that may be transacted by a majority of the board; and whatever acts such committee may do shall be considered as done by the whole board.

3709 (1099). Teacher of articulation employed, and necessary appliances provided.—The board of trustees shall employ a competent teacher of articulation in the institution, whose duty it shall be to teach orally such pupils as may be beneficially taught by this method, and who may be placed under his or her instruction, and the trustees shall provide all suitable apparatus and appliances necessary to successfully carry out the provisions of this section.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 70, §2.

3710. Appropriation for each pupil.—For the maintenance and support of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf the sum of two hundred and seventeen and one-half dollars per pupil is hereby annually appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, such appropriation to be based on the number of pupils in actual attendance on the first day of each quarter of each year and drawn by the treasurer of the board of trustees and disbursed as directed by them.

3711. Property to be insured and kept in repair; appropriation therefor.—The board of trustees must provide good and sufficient insurance, payable to the State of Alabama, upon the property of the state and under their control, and keep and maintain such property in good repair; and for these purposes there is annually appropriated the sum of one thousand dollars to be drawn as appropriations for the support of the institution are drawn. Such appropriation shall be expended only for the purposes herein specified. Dec. 10, 1888, p. 16.

ARTICLE 16.

ALABAMA ACADEMY FOR THE BLIND.

3712. Separate institution for the blind established.—There is established in this state and located at Talladega, a separate institution for the blind, called the Alabama Academy for the Blind. Feb. 19, 1887, p. 56, §§1, 2.

3713. Control and management.—Such institution is under the control and management of the board of trustees of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf, who may prescribe rules and regulations for the conduct of the same. The principal of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf is the chief executive officer. Ib. §§3, 11.

3714. Who entitled to admission.—All blind persons between the ages of eight and twenty-five years, who are bona fide residents of this state, of good moral character, of sound mind and free from offensive or contagious disease, are entitled to admission into such institution, free of charge for board, schoolroom expenses and medical attention. Ib. §4.

3715. Application and admission; extension of time of pupilage. Application for the admission of any person as a pupil must be made in writing, under oath, by the parent or guardian of such person, or by some one cognizant of the facts of the case, stating name, age, place of residence, and that such person is blind, or that the sight is so defective as to prevent such person from being successfully taught in the common schools of the state; and thereupon it is the duty of such secretary, if he deems the proof sufficient and the person on whose behalf the application is made a suitable person to be admitted as a pupil, to issue a certificate entitling such person to admission into the institution for a period of not less than five years, which time of pupilage may be extended for an additional period of three years by the board of trustees, if in their judgment it ought to be done. Ib. §5 trustees in the same manner as the annual appropriation for the Alabama Institute for the Deaf is drawn. Accurate accounts and vouchers shall be kept of all expenditures and report thereof made to the governor once a year, and oftener if required by the governor.

3716. Appropriation for each pupil.—For the management and support of the Academy for the Blind, the sum of two hundred and thirty dollars per pupil is hereby annually appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, such appropriation to be based on the number of pupils in actual attendance on the first day of each quarter, and drawn by order of the board of Ib. §§7, 9.

Ib. §12. 3717. Officers and teachers.—All officers and teachers of such institution must be appointed and their salaries fixed and paid in like manner as the officers and teachers of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf are appointed and their salaries fixed and paid.

3718 (1100). Oculist to visit institution to be employed.—The board shall appoint an oculist, whose duty it shall be to visit the institution as often as the trustees may deem necessary, and to examine and operate upon the eyes of such of the pupils of the institution as, in his judgment, may be thereby benefited.

3719. Clothing for indigent pupils.—The section in the preceding article, providing for the purchase of clothing for indigent pupils, is applicable to the indigent blind.

ARTICLE 17.

ALABAMA SCHOOL FOR NEGRO DEAF MUTES AND BLIND.

Feb. 7, 1891, p. 458, §§1, 2. 3720. Separate institution for negro deaf mutes and blind established.—There is established in this state and located at Talladega, an institution for the education of the deaf, mute and blind children of the negro race, the corporate name of which is the Alabama School for Negro Deaf Mutes and Blind.

Ib. §2. 3721. Control and management.—Such institution is under the control and management of the board of trustees of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf, who may prescribe rules and regulations for the conduct of the same.

Ib. §3. 3722. Chief executive officer.—The principal of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf is the chief executive officer of the school in this article established, and shall nominate to the board of trustees such assistants in the literary, musical and domestic departments as in his judgment may be necessary for the proper conduct and working of the school; such nominations to be confirmed or rejected by the board of trustees.

Ib. §4. 3723. Who entitled to admission.—All negro deaf, mute and blind children, bona fide residents of this state, between the ages of ten and twenty years, if they are deemed by the board of trustees suitable persons to be admitted as pupils, are entitled to board, tuition, schoolroom expenses and medical attendance free of charge for the term of six years.

Ib. §5. 3724. Application and admission.—Application for admission into such school must be made in writing to the principal, stating name, age and place of residence of such applicant; and if the applicant is deemed a suitable person to be admitted as a pupil, a certificate of admission shall be granted, which shall entitle the applicant to all the benefits of the school for the term of six years.

3726. Laws relating to the Alabama Institute for the Deaf applicable.—All laws now in force or hereafter enacted relating to the admission of pupils and the management and control of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf are applicable to the institution in this article established, except so far as such laws may be inconsistent with the provisions of this article. Ib. §7.

CHAPTER 101.

SEAL OF THE STATE.

3727 (18) (18). Great seal of state.—The seal shall be circular, and the diameter thereof two and a quarter inches; near the edge of the circle shall be the word "Alabama," and opposite this word, at the same distance from the edge, shall be the words "Great Seal." In the center of the seal there shall be a representation of an eagle and a shield, and upon such part of the seal as the governor may direct, there shall be the words "Here we rest." The seal shall be called the "Great Seal of the State of Alabama."

CHAPTER 102.

SET-OFF AND RECOUPMENT. 3728-3734.

3728 (2678) (2991) (2642) (2240). Set-offs; when allowed. Mutual debts, liquidated or unliquidated demands not sounding in damages merely, subsisting between the parties at the commencement of the suit, may be set off one against the other by the defendant or his personal representative, whether the legal title be in the defendant or not; and such set-off, if found for the defendant, extinguishes, either in whole or in part, as the case may be, the plaintiff's demand; but the wages or hire of any head of a family in this state, not having property liable to levy and sale under execution, cannot be defeated or abated by any set-off of a money demand acquired by the person contracting to pay such wages by assignment or transfer, unless the parties otherwise agree in writing.

Baber, 93 Ala. 422. Or for turning stock on his crop without his consent. Johnson v. Aldridge, 93 Ala. 77.

3729 (2679) (2992) (2643) (2241). Judgment for defendant for excess so set off and costs.—If the debt or demand so offered to be set off exceed the amount of the plaintiff's demand, the amount of such excess being found by the jury, judgment must be rendered against the plaintiff for costs, and in favor of the defendant for such excess.

Locke v. Locke, 57 Ala. 473; Jackson v. Tate, 81 Ala. 253.

3730 (2680) (2993) (2644) (2242). Judgments set off on motion. Judgments may be set off against each other by a court of record on motion.

Ex parte Lehman, 59 Ala. 631; Ex parte Hunt, 62 Ala. 1.

3731 (2681) (2994) (2645) (2243). Surety may set off debt due principal.—A co-maker or surety sued alone may, with the consent of his co-maker or principal, avail himself, by way of set-off, of a debt or liquidated demand due from the plaintiff at the commencement of the suit to such co-maker or principal.

Beard v. Union & American Pub. Co., 71 Ala. 60; McCreary v. Jones, 96 Ala. 592; Scholze v. Steiner, 100 Ala. 148; s. c., 105 Ala. 607.

3732 (2682) (2996) (2647). When set-off not barred by statute of limitations.—When the defendant pleads a set-off to the plaintiff's demand, to which the plaintiff replies the statute of limitations, the defendant is nevertheless entitled to his set-off, where it was a legal subsisting claim at the time the right of action accrued to the plaintiff on the claim in suit.

Riley v. Stallworth, 56 Ala. 481; Rosser v. Bunn, 66 Ala. 89; Washington v. Timberlake, 74 Ala. 259; Jeffries v. Castleman, 75 Ala. 262; Patrick v. Petty, 83 Ala. 420; Conner v. Smith, 88 Ala. 300.

3733 (2684) (2995) (2646) (2244). Negotiable paper not subject to set-off or recoupment.—Paper governed by the commercial law, negotiated before maturity, is not subject to set-off or recoupment.

Kennedy v. Manship, 1 Ala. 43; Stocking v. Toulmin, 3 S. & P. 35; McKenzie v. Hunt, 32 Ala. 494; Bostick v. Scruggs, 50 Ala. 10; Bank of Mobile v. Poelnitz, 61 Ala. 147; Lewis v. Faber, 65 Ala. 460; Manning v. Maroney, 87 Ala. 563; Johnson v. Hanover Nat. Bk., 88 Ala. 271; First Nat. Bk. v. Slaughter, 98 Ala. 602; s. c., 109 Ala. 157; Brown v. First Nat. Bk., 103 Ala. 123.

3734 (2683). Plea of recoupment; judgment for defendant for excess and costs.—On a plea of recoupment, if the claim or demand of the defendant equals the claim or demand of the plaintiff, judgment must be rendered for the defendant; if the claim or demand of the defendant exceeds the claim or demand of the plaintiff, and the plaintiff be the party liable to its satisfaction, judgment must be rendered against him in favor of the defendant for such excess and all costs.

Recoupment and set-off defined and distinguished.—Washington v. Timberlake, 74 Ala. 259; Conner v. Smith, 88 Ala. 300; Lawton v. Ricketts, 104 Ala. 430; Grisham v. Bodman, 111 Ala. 194. Statute does not enlarge class of demands which may be the subject of recoupment; only authorizes judgment for excess.—Martin v. Brown, 75 Ala. 442; Ewing v. Shaw, 83 Ala. 333. Gist of plea; effect when sustained.—Grisham v. Bodman, 111 Ala. 194; Moore v. Westinghouse E. & M. Co., 112 Ala. 452. What damages recoverable under plea.—Behrman v. Newton, 103 Ala. 525; Ewing v. Shaw, 83 Ala. 333; Martin v. Brown, 75 Ala. 442; Reynolds v. Bell, 84 Ala. 496; Horton v. Miller, 84 Ala. 537; Sheppard v. Dowling, 103 Ala. 563; Wilson v. Smith, 111 Ala. 170; Watson v. Kirby, 112 Ala. 436. When damages too remote.—Moulthrop v. Hyett, 105 Ala. 493; Reed L. Co. v. Lewis, 94 Ala. 626. The breach of an independent contract not the subject of recoupment.—Mauldin v. Armistead, 14 Ala. 702; Hatchett v. Gibson, 13 Ala. 587.

3735 (806) (726) (814) (686). Bond; penalty, approval.—The sheriff, before entering on the duties of his office, must give bond with surety in an amount to be fixed by the judge of probate of his county, not less than five thousand dollars, payable and conditioned as provided in section 3070 (257), which bond must be approved by the judge of probate, and recorded and filed in his office.

3736 (807) (727) (815) (687). Bond, when there is no judge of probate.—If there is no judge of probate, the amount of such bond must be fixed, and the bond approved by the clerk of the circuit court, and recorded and kept in his office, until the office of judge of probate is filled, when it must be delivered to him and recorded and kept in his office.

3737 (808) (728) (816) (688). Office at court-house.—The sheriff must keep his office at the court-house.

3738 (809) (729) (817) (689). Deputies.—He must have one deputy, and may have as many as he thinks proper. The coroner must not be appointed as deputy.

Powers of general deputy coextensive with those of sheriff, and cannot be limited by sheriff.—Rogers v. Carroll, 111 Ala. 610. Parol evidence admissible to prove appointment of deputy, though it be in writing.—Pentecost v. State, 107 Ala. 81. Deputy is an officer of the state within the meaning of the statute against resisting process.—Andrews v. State, 78 Ala. 483.

3739 (810) (730) (818) (690). Duties of sheriff.—It is the duty of the sheriff—

1. To execute and return the process and orders of the courts of record of this state, and of officers of competent authority, with due diligence, when delivered to him for that purpose, according to law.

2. To attend upon the chancery and circuit courts held in his county, when in session, and the courts of probate, and the county court, and the court of county commissioners, when required by the judge of probate, and to obey the lawful orders and directions of such courts.

3. The sheriff of each county must, three days before each term of the circuit court in his county, render to the county treasurer a statement, in writing and on oath, of the moneys received by him for the county, specifying the amount received in each case, from whom, and after deducting from such amount five per cent. for his compensation, pay the balance to the county treasurer.

4. To perform such other duties as are, or may be imposed by law.

3740. Must keep record descriptive of prisoners in jail.—The sheriff must keep, in his office and subject to the inspection of the public during office hours, a well-bound book, to be procured at the expense of the county, in which he must enter a description of each prisoner received into the county jail, showing the name, age, sex, color and any other distinguishing marks, together with the charge for which such prisoner is held, the order and date of commitment and the order and date of release. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 88, §1.

3741 (811) (731). May perform duties of constables; fees and liability.—The sheriff is authorized to execute all mesne and final process which is required of constables, and shall receive the same fees and compensation therefor; and he and the sureties on his official bond shall be liable for any abuse of process that he may execute under this section.

Mickle v. Montgomery, 111 Ala. 415; Hood v. Blair, 95 Ala. 629.

3742 (812) (732) (819) (691). His execution-docket; contents of.—Each sheriff must, also, enter in well-bound books, whenever any execution or order of sale is received by him, the names of the parties, the character of the process, the time of its receipt, the date of the judgment or decree on which the same issued, if it appears from such process, the amount of the same, principal and costs, the court from which it issued, and the names of the attorneys as indorsed thereon.

3743 (813) (733) (820) (692). Receipts; what to show.—He must also enter on the same page, against the entries required by the preceding section, the amount he receives on such execution or order of sale, stating the principal, interest and costs, separately; and also stating separately each item of costs he receives, which is not charged in the bill of costs, the time he receives the same, and his return.

3744 (814) (734) (821) (693). Sale-book; what to show.—He must keep a sale-book, in which he must enter all the property sold by him under any process from any court, a brief description of such process, when the property was sold, the purchaser, and at what price.

3745 (815) (735) (822) (694). These books open to inspection. These books must, at all times, be open to the inspection of the public, free of charge, and must, within sixty days after he goes out of office, be deposited and kept in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county.

3746 (816) (736) (824) (696). Coroner; when to act in place of sheriff.—When the office of sheriff is vacant, or the sheriff is incompetent to act, the coroner of the county must perform all the duties of sheriff of such county, under the penalties and liabilities imposed by law on sheriffs.

3747 (817) (737). Stationery to be paid for by county.—The court of county commissioners must furnish books and stationery to sheriffs for official use, in the same manner that books and stationery are furnished to the clerk of the circuit court.

Stationery includes blanks for official use.—Commissioners v. Goldthwaite, 35 Ala. 704.

3748 (818) (738). Ex-sheriff pays money to successor.—The sheriff having in his hands, at the expiration of his official term, any money held by him, subject to the further order, decree or judgment of any court, shall, on the demand of his successor in office, pay the same to him; and on such payment shall be discharged from further liability therefor.

CHAPTER 104.

SOVEREIGNTY AND JURISDICTION OF THE STATE. 3749–3752.

3749 (15) (15) (19) (18). Sovereignty and jurisdiction, extent of.—The sovereignty and jurisdiction of the state extend to all places within the boundaries thereof; but the extent of such jurisdiction over places that have been or may be ceded to the United States is qualified by the terms of such cession.

3750 (16) (16) (20) (19). Authority and jurisdiction, how maintained.—It is the duty of the governor, and all the subordinate officers of the state, to maintain and defend its authority and jurisdiction.

Feb. 16, 1895, p. 719, §1. 3751. Flag of the state.—The flag of the State of Alabama shall be a crimson cross of St. Andrew on a field of white. The bars forming the cross shall be not less than six inches broad, and must extend diagonally across the flag, from side to side.

Ib. §2. 3752. When displayed.—The flag of the state shall be hoisted on the dome of the capitol when the two houses of the general assembly are in session and shall be used by the state on all occasions when it may be necessary or customary to display a flag, except when, in the opinion of the governor, the national flag should be displayed.

SUITS BY THE STATE. 3753-3762.

3753 (70). Compromise of claims in favor of the state.—The governor, attorney-general and auditor have authority to adjust, compromise and settle, on such terms as to them may seem just and reasonable, any claim of the state against any person, or any public officer, or his sureties, or because of the negligence or default in the safe-keeping, collection, or disbursement of the public moneys, or funds, or property by any officer having charge or custody of either.*

3754 (71). Statement of compromise to be filed.—Such settlement or compromise being made, the governor must file a statement thereof in the office of the treasurer, showing the nature and character of the claim, the terms of the settlement or compromise, and the reasons for the making thereof.

3755 (72). Suits for the recovery of public moneys.—The governor has authority to cause suits to be instituted for the recovery of any public moneys or funds lost by the neglect or default of any public officer, or which have been wrongfully expended or disbursed by such officer, or which have been wrongfully used by such officer, or wrongfully received from him.

3756 (73). Suits for money wrongfully used.—In the event any public officer, or any agent of the state, or any depositary or custodian of the public funds or moneys, has wrongfully used such funds or moneys, suits for the recovery thereof may be instituted at law or in equity, before any court having jurisdiction of the subject-matter; and it shall not be ground of objection to such suit that either, or any, or all of the parties defendant do not reside within the county, or within the district in which such suit is instituted.

3757 (74). Suit in equity.—Such suit may be instituted in a court of equity without the statement or assignment of any special cause for equitable interference; and such officer, or agent, such depositary or custodian, and the sureties on his official bond, or any one or more of them, may be joined as parties defendant; and any person who has wrongfully received such moneys or funds from such officer, agent, depositary, or custodian, may also be joined as a party defendant. No objection to such suit because of multifariousness must be entertained; nor shall the state be put to an election between the prosecution of such suit, and any suit at law instituted for the same purpose, or for the recovery of the same claim or demand.

3758 (75). Auxiliary writs.—In aid of such suit, the court of chancery shall, on application, supported by the affidavit of the governor, or of the attorney-general, or solicitor, or of an attorney employed in the prosecution of such suit, showing just and legal cause, direct the issue of writs of attachment, of garnishment, of seizure, ne exeat, or of any other proper writ or process, which may be deemed necessary for the security of the state, or to render effectual the decree in such suit, if it should be rendered in favor of the state. Bond and security shall not be required of the state upon, or for the issue of any such writ or process.

3759 (76). Levy of writs.—Such writs may be levied on any and all property, real or personal, rights or credits, in which the party against whom the same may issue, has any estate, or any interest, legal or equitable, subject to the payment of the debt or demand preferred in such suit; and upon any and all property, real or personal, rights or credits, which may have been conveyed, assigned or transferred in fraud of creditors. The levy of such writs creates a lien from the day it is made. All property levied on may be replevied in the mode provided by law for the replevy of property on which an equitable attachment is levied; and if the property, or any part thereof, is not forthcoming to answer the decree of the court, the replevin bond shall have the force and effect of a judgment for such sum as the court may decree on motion, after notice to the obligors, or any one or more of them, or their personal representatives, if any one or more of them should be dead.

3760 (77). Proceedings; decree.—The court shall have full power to make any and all such orders in reference to any other suit, at law or in equity, which may be pending on the same claim or demand, against any one or more of the defendants, as justice may require; and the court may render a final decree against all of the defendants jointly, or against them severally, as the ends of justice may seem to require. For the making of all necessary orders or decrees in said suit, the court shall be deemed open at all times.

3761 (78). Trial by jury.—If in the progress of such suit, any matter of fact arises, or any issue is presented, which is properly triable by jury, at any time within ten days after such matter of fact or issue is shown by the pleadings, a trial by jury may be claimed, by filing a written demand therefor. Such demand being filed, the court must order a jury to be summoned and impaneled at such time as it may appoint, for the trial and determination of such matter of fact or issue, which trial shall in all respects be conducted as trials by jury are conducted in civil cases in courts of law. The verdict of the jury shall have the force and effect of a verdict in a court of law; and for good cause, the court may set the verdict aside and order a new trial. If within the period of ten days aforesaid, a trial by jury is not claimed, the right thereto is waived, but the court may, in its discretion, order and direct such trial notwithstanding such waiver.

3762 (79). Suits in foreign jurisdiction.—The governor may, whenever the interests of the state may require, order and direct suits to be brought in the name of the state in any foreign jurisdiction, for the recovery of any moneys due or owing to the state, or upon any claim or demand on which the state is entitled to sue; and for the prosecution of such suits may employ counsel, and may, for such sum as is necessary to pay the costs or expenses thereof, order the auditor to draw a warrant on the treasury.

ARTICLE 1.

GENERAL RULES.

3763 (3095) (3351) (3025) (2596). Summary judgments against certain officers; notice of motion.—Judgment may be rendered summarily against the persons, and for the defaults hereinafter stated, upon notice in writing by the party aggrieved, that a motion will be made for judgment, succinctly stating in such notice the cause for which such motion will be made, and the term of the court, and the county.

These remedies grantable only in strict conformity to the statute.—Logwood v. Planters' Bank, Minor, 23; Caldwell v. Guinn, 54 Ala. 64; Enloe v. Reike, 56 Ala. 500; Chandler v. Francis, etc., Co., 94 Ala. 233; Leinkauff v. Tuscaloosa, etc., Co., 105 Ala. 328. Judgment-entry must show every fact necessary to give jurisdiction.—Yancey v. Hankins, Minor, 171; Curry v. Bank of Mobile, 8 Port. 360; Clements v. Branch Bank, 1 Ala. 50; Bondurant v. Woods, Ib. 543; Brown v. Wheeler, 3 Ala. 287; Arthur v. State, 22 Ala. 61; Connolly v. Ala. R. Co., 29 Ala. 373; Graham v. Reynolds, 45 Ala. 578; Caldwell v. Guinn, 54 Ala. 64; Enloe v. Reike, 56 Ala. 500; Warwick v. Brooks, 70 Ala. 412; Chandler v. Francis, etc., Co., 94 Ala. 233. Judgment by default must show that every material averment was proved.—Smith v. Branch Bank, 5 Ala. 26; Andrews v. Branch Bank, 10 Ala. 375; Barclay v. Barclay, 42 Ala. 345; Graham v. Reynolds, 45 Ala. 578; Warwick v. Brooks, 70 Ala. 412; Chandler v. Reid, Ala. (21 So. 475). What presumptions indulged in favor of judgment.—Shouse v. Lawrence, 51 Ala. 559; Bondurant v. Woods, 1 Ala. 543. When jury necessary.—Garey v. Edwards, 15 Ala. 105; Andrews v. Keep, 38 Ala. 315; O'Connor, etc., Co., v. Dickson, 112 Ala. 304. Notice may be amended.—Walker v. Turnipseed, 8 Ala. 679; Jemison v. Planters' Bank, 23 Ala. 168; Palmer v. Fitts, 51 Ala. 489. Notice not a part of record unless made so by order of court.—Armstrong v. Robertson, 2 Ala. 164; Allums v. Hawley, 8 Ala. 584; Garey v. Edwards, 15 Ala. 105; Connolly v. Ala. R. Co., 29 Ala. 373; Barclay v. Barclay, 42 Ala. 345; Warwick v. Brooks, 70 Ala. 412. Motion must be made at term indicated in notice, or other proceedings had to keep it alive; otherwise it will be discontinued.—Broughton

v. Bank, 6 Port. 48; Armstrong v. Robertson, 2 Ala. 164; Garey v. Edwards, 15 Ala. 105; Gary v. Bank, 11 Ala. 771; Ex parte N. E. R. Co., 37 Ala. 679. But if parties brought in, motion may be heard at succeeding term.—Chandler v. Reid, Ala. (21 So. 475). Reasonable notice must be given where statute specifies no time.—Brown v. Wheeler, 3 Ala. 287; Kirkmans v. Harkins, 1 Port. 22; Arthur v. State, 22 Ala. 61. Sufficiency of allegations of notice and motion.—Hill v. Bank, 5 Port. 537; Walker v. Chapman, 22 Ala. 116; Daniels v. Hamilton, 52 Ala. 105; Lyon v. Bank, 1 Stew. 442; Caskey v. Nitcher, 8 Ala. 622; Branch Bank v. Broughton, 10 Ala. 147; Caskey v. Haviland, 13 Ala. 314; Broughton v. Bank, 6 Port. 48; Price v. Cloud, 6 Ala. 248. Remedy given execution plaintiff, whether he was plaintiff in the action or not.—Chandler v. Reid, Ala. (21 So. 475).

3764 (3096) (3352) (3026) (2597). By and against whom motion may be made; judgment against parties served with notice.—The motion may be made by the party aggrieved, or his legal representative, against the person in default and the sureties upon his official bond; and judgment must be rendered against such of the parties, whether principal or surety, as may have received notice of the intended motion.

Proceedings are joint; not several.—Orr v. Duvall, 1 Ala. 262; James v. Auld, 9 Ala. 462; Collier v. Powell, 23 Ala. 579; Ware v. Greene, 37 Ala. 494. But the statute provides differently in some cases covered by this chapter. Marion Co. v. Brown, 43 Ala. 112; Ex parte Wilson, 54 Ala. 296; Reed v. Summers, 79 Ala. 522; James v. Moseley, 47 Ala. 299. Right of action does not survive against personal representative.—Jones v. Brooks, 30 Ala. 588; Reed v. Summers, 79 Ala. 522.

3765 (3097) (3353) (3027) (2598). Entry on motion-docket as notice.—A motion entered on the motion-docket, in term time, is sufficient notice to all officers of the court and their sureties.

James v. Moseley, 47 Ala. 299.

3766 (3098) (3354) (3028) (2599). Trial of motion.—Unless in cases otherwise directed by this chapter, the court must hear and determine the motion, and render judgment upon the evidence, without a jury, unless an issue is tendered, and a jury trial demanded, when a jury must be immediately impaneled to try the facts, unless good cause be shown for a continuance.

Andrews v. Keep, 38 Ala. 315.

3767 (3099) (3355) (3029) (2600). Court in which motion must be made.—The summary remedies here given must be enforced in the manner following, except in cases otherwise specially provided in this chapter: When the motion is against a sheriff, coroner, clerk, or other officer of court, or their sureties, the motion must be made in the circuit court of the county in which such officer was acting officially at the time of the default, or in the court to which the process was returnable, when the default consists in the failure to execute or return process, or to pay over money collected thereon; and in all other cases not specially provided for, the motion must be made in the circuit court of the county in which the person moved against resides; or if he has no permanent residence, then in any county where he may be found.

Andrews v. Keep, 38 Ala. 315.

ARTICLE 2.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST SHERIFFS, CORONERS, AND OTHER EXECUTIVE OFFICERS.

3768 (3100) (3356) (3031) (2601). Against sheriff, coroner, or other officer receiving or executing writ; notice.—Judgment must be rendered for the plaintiff, on three days' notice, in the following cases, against the sheriff, coroner, or other officer receiving or executing the writ:

Judgment may be rendered against sureties though sheriff be dead. Camp v. Watt, 14 Ala. 616.

3769 (3101) (3357) (3032) (2602). For failure to return execution, or pay over money collected.—For failing to return an execution, twenty per centum on the judgment. For failing to pay over money collected upon an execution, on demand of the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, for the amount so collected, and five per centum per month damages from the time such demand was made.

For failing to return execution.—Hill v. Bank, 5 Port. 537; Ayres v. Dobson, 5 Stew. & Port. 441; Bondurant v. Woods, 1 Ala. 543; Harris v. Bradford, 4 Ala. 214; Godbold v. Planters' Bank, Ib. 516; Crawford v. Chandler, 5 Ala. 61; Armstrong v. Robertson, 2 Ala. 164; Caskey v. Nitcher, 8 Ala. 622; Johnson v. McLaughlin, 9 Ala. 551; Shute v. McRae, Ib. 931; Caskey v. Haviland, 13 Ala. 314; Marcum v. Burgess, 67 Ala. 556. Defendant cannot attack regularity of judgment by way of defense.—Anderson v. Cunningham, Minor, 48; Bondurant v. Woods, 1 Ala. 543. Nor regularity of execution.—McRae v. Colclough, 2 Ala. 74; Samples v. Walker, 9 Ala. 726; Shute v. McRae, Ib. 931. But may show that judgment was void, or that there was no judgment.—Godbold v. Planters' Bank, 4 Ala. 516; Shute v. McRae, 9 Ala. 931. Or that he was defendant in execution.—Johnson v. McLaughlin, 9 Ala. 551. No defense that defendant in execution was insolvent.—Harris v. Bradford, 4 Ala. 214; Noble v. Whetstone, 45 Ala. 361. For failing to pay over money collected. Barton v. Bank, 1 Stew. & Port. 471; Barton v. Lockhart, 2 Stew. & Port. 109; Broughton v. Bank, 6 Port. 48; Jameson v. Harper, 1 Port. 431; Reid v. Bank, 3 Ala. 712; Brazeal v. Smith, 5 Ala. 206; Riley v. Marshall, Ib. 682; Farmers' Bank v. Reid, 3 Ala. 299; Price v. Cloud, 6 Ala. 248; Dumas v. Patterson, 9 Ala. 484; Hodges v. Laird, 10 Ala. 678; Evans v. Bank, 13 Ala. 787; Fitzpatrick v. Bank, 14 Ala. 533; McArthur, v. Dane, 61 Ala. 539; Leinkauff v. Tuscaloosa, etc., Co., 105 Ala. 328. Proof.—Brazeal v. Smith, 5 Ala. 206; Price v. Cloud, 6 Ala. 248; Dumas v. Patterson, 9 Ala. 484; Evans v. Bank, 13 Ala. 787; Anderson v. Cunningham, Minor, 48; O'Connor, etc., Co. v. Dickson, 112 Ala. 304; Chandler v. Reid, Ala. (21 So. 475).

3770 (3102) (3358) (3033) (2603). For failure to make money on execution.—For failing to make the money on an execution, which, by due diligence, could have been made, for the amount of the execution, interest, and ten per centum damages thereon.

Of the statute generally.—Leavitt v. Smith, 7 Ala. 175; Mason v. Watts, Ib. 703; Crenshaw v. Harrison, 8 Ala. 342; Leach v. Williams, Ib. 759; Pharr v. Hale, 9 Ala. 312; Easley v. Atkinson, 32 Ala. 633. Sheriff may amend his return pending motion. Hodges v. Laird, 10 Ala. 678; Governor v. Bancroft, 16 Ala. 605; Niolin v. Hamner, 22 Ala. 578; Wilson v. Strobach, 59 Ala. 488. Effect of return as evidence. Leavitt v. Smith, 14 Ala. 279. Remedy not limited to return-term of the execution.—Kirkmans v. Harkins, 1 Port. 22. Sheriff may show in defense that defendant had no interest in property liable to levy and sale.—Mason v. Watts, 7 Ala. 703; Leavitt v. Smith, Ib. 175; Wilson v. Strobach, 59 Ala. 488; Mathis v. Carpenter, 95 Ala. 156. Measure of damages.—Bondurant v. Lane, 9 Port. 484; Harris v. Murfree, 54 Ala. 161. Proof.—Leavitt v. Smith, 7 Ala. 175; Whitsett v. Slater, 23 Ala. 626; Johnson v. Cunningham, 1 Ala. 249; Kennedy v. Smith, 99 Ala. 83. When motion will lie for failure to collect costs.—Gary v. Boykin, 7 Ala. 154; Pharr v. Hale, 9 Ala. 312.

3771 (3103) (3359) (3034) (2604). For false and fraudulent return.—For fraudulently making a false return, for the amount of the execution, interest, and ten per centum damages thereon.

Tarleton v. Gibson, 2 Ala. 639; Bondurant v. Bank, 5 Ala. 171.

3772 (3104) (3360) (3035) (2605). For failure to give notice of collection of money.—For failing to notify the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, of the collection of money by execution, for five per centum per month on the amount collected, from the time when the notice should have been given, not to exceed twenty-five dollars per month.

3773 (3105) (3361) (3036) (2606). For failure to indorse on execution true date of delivery.—For failing to indorse on an execution the true date of its delivery to him, for ten per centum on the amount of the execution; and the officer is also responsible for any injury or loss which may arise from such omission.

Chandler v. Henry, 90 Ala. 271; O'Connor, etc., Co. v. Dickson, 112 Ala. 304.

3774 (3106) (3362) (3037) (2607). For failure to execute mesne process.—For failure to execute a summons, attachment, or other mesne process, which by due diligence could have been executed, for a sum not less than fifty, nor more than five hundred dollars, to be ascertained by a jury; and this remedy shall not preclude the party injured from a resort to other legal modes of redress.

Includes a witness subpœna.—Birmingham Dry Goods Co. v. Bledsoe, Ala. (21 So. 403). Mistake of law no excuse for failing to execute summons.—Rogers v. Carroll, 111 Ala. 610.

3775 (3107) (3363) (3038) (2608). In favor of defendant in execution; notice; when rendered.—Judgment must, in like manner, be rendered in favor of the defendant in execution against the sheriff or coroner, on three days' notice, in the following cases:

3776 (3108) (3364) (3039) (2609). For failure to pay over excess received on sales.—For failure to pay over on demand any excess of money which may remain upon a sale under execution, after the satisfaction thereof, and of the costs, for the amount of such excess, and five per centum per month after demand.

Baylor v. Scott, 2 Port. 315.

3777 (3109) (3365) (3040) (2610). For failure to return execution satisfied.—For failing to return an execution wholly or partially satisfied, for twenty-five per centum on the amount paid.

3778 (3110) (3366) (3041) (2611). For failure to refund money when collection has been enjoined.—For failing to pay over on demand money paid or collected on an execution, the whole or any part of which is enjoined in chancery, for the amount so enjoined, and five per centum per month on the amount from the time of the demand.

3779 (3111) (3367, 3368) (3042, 3043) (2612, 2613). In favor of clerk of supreme court; notice and grounds.—Judgment must, in like manner, be rendered in favor of the clerk of the supreme court against the sheriff or coroner, on three days' notice, for failure to return an execution from that court, for making a false return thereon, for failing to make the money thereon, when by due diligence it could have been made, or for failing on demand to pay over money collected on execution, for the penalties herein prescribed for the same defaults on executions issued from the circuit court.

3780 (3112) (3369) (3044) (2614). Copy of execution and certificate of clerk as evidence.—On the trial of the motion by such clerk, a copy of the execution made and certified by him, with the return thereon, if any was made, or a statement that no return was made, if such be the fact, together with his certificate that the execution was received by the sheriff, or sent to him by mail, is evidence of the facts so certified, without producing a transcript of the record from the proceedings of the supreme court; and also presumptive evidence that the writ was received by the sheriff, unless he states under oath, in writing, that he never received the writ, or that he returned it according to law.

3781 (3113) (3371). Penalty for accepting substitute for juror; proceedings.—Any officer who accepts or receives a substitute for any person drawn as a juror, or whom he is directed to summon as a juror, or who intentionally serves any other person than the one drawn as a juror, or whom he is directed to summon as a juror, must be fined fifty dollars, to be recovered on motion by the solicitor in the name of the state, in the circuit court of the county in which the offense is committed, on five days' notice; one half of which shall be for the use of the county, and the other half for the use of the solicitor.

ARTICLE 3.

PROCEEDINGS IN FAVOR OF SHERIFFS OR CORONERS.

3782 (3114) (3374) (3045) (2615). Against whom, for what, and on what notice.—Judgment must, in like manner, be summarily rendered in favor of the sheriff or coroner, on three days' notice of the pendency of the suit—

1. Against the obligors on bonds given to indemnify such officer for levying an execution or attachment, or for making sale of property so levied on or attached, after judgment against him for making such levy or sale, for the amount rendered against such officer, with interest from date of judgment against him.

2. Against the deputy of the sheriff or coroner and his sureties, or either of them, for the amount of any judgment rendered against the sheriff or coroner for the default of such deputy, with interest from date of judgment against him.

Atwood v. Craig, 3 Stew. & Port. 21; Magee v. Toulmin, 5 Ala. 141; Stephens v. Womack, 3 Ala. 738.

3783 (3115) (3375) (813). Against judge of probate for failing to pay over fees to sheriff.—Judgment must, in like manner, be summarily rendered in favor of the sheriff, on three days' notice, against the judge of probate, for the amount of any fees received by him for such sheriff for the service of citations, notices, or other process in relation to estates of deceased persons or minors, which, on demand, have not been paid over, with five per cent. per month from the time of such demand.

ARTICLE 4.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST CLERKS AND REGISTERS.

3784 (3116) (3376) (3046) (2616). Grounds of judgment and notice.—Judgment must, in like manner, be summarily rendered against the clerk of the circuit court and his sureties, or either of them, and against the register in chancery and his sureties, or either of them, on three days' notice, in the following cases:

Armstrong v. Holley, 29 Ala. 305.

3785 (3117) (3377) (3047) (2617). For failure to enter return on execution.—In favor of the plaintiff in execution, for failure to enter on the execution-docket the return made upon an execution by the proper officer, within three days after the return is made, for twenty per centum on the amount of the execution, and interest thereon.

3786 (3118) (3378) (3048) (2618). For failure to pay over money. For failing on demand, to pay over money received by him on any judgment, or paid into court on a plea of tender, or other plea, or by rule of court, for the sum so received by him, with five per centum per month on the amount from the time of the demand.

3787 (3119) (3379) (3049). For failure to give notice of collection of money.—For failing to notify the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, under the provisions of section 1910 (2912) which are made to apply to such clerk, of the collection of money upon judgments, for five per centum per month on the amount collected, from the time when the notice should have been given, not to exceed twenty-five dollars per month.

3788 (3120) (3380) (3050) (2619). For failure to issue executions.—For failing to issue execution as required by sections 1882 (2884) and 1885 (2887), within the time prescribed by law after the adjournment of the court, or at any time subsequent, on the request of the party interested, his agent, or attorney, or for failing to issue execution within five days on any bond returned forfeited, and upon which execution may rightfully issue, and upon any judgment remanded from the supreme court, for twenty per centum on the amount of the judgment.

3789 (3121) (3381) (3051) (2620). For failure to pay over money deposited in court.—In favor of the party entitled thereto, for failing, on demand, to pay over money received by him under section 2633 (2610), for the amount so paid, and five per centum damages thereon per month from the time of the demand.

3790 (3122) (3382) (3052) (2621). For failure to pay over county funds.—In favor of the county treasurer, for the use of the county, for failing to pay over to that officer, on demand, any fine, forfeiture, or other money belonging to the county treasury, for the amount thereof, and five per centum per month on that amount from the time of the demand.

3791 (3123) (3383) (3053) (2622). For failure to render statement of fines, etc.—For failing to render to that officer, within ten days after the adjournment of court, a statement of all fines assessed, forfeitures obtained and moneys received for the county, during the previous term, as required by subdivision 16 of section 934 (768), for fifty dollars.

3792 (3124) (3384) (3054) (2623). In favor of auditor for specified defaults; court and notice.—In favor of the state auditor, in the circuit court held at the seat of government, or of the county in which the clerk or any surety proceeded against resides, on ten days' notice, in the following cases:

3793 (3125) (3386) (3056) (2625). For failure to issue execution for forfeiture.—For failing to issue execution for any forfeiture belonging to the state treasury within the time prescribed by section 1882 (2884), for two hundred dollars.

3794 (3126) (3387) (3057) (2626). For failure to pay into state treasury fines, etc.—For failure to pay into the state treasury any fine, penalty, or forfeiture belonging thereto, received by such clerk, within one month after it was received by him, for the amount so received, and ten per centum damages thereon.

3795 (3127) (3388) (770). For failure to send copy of indictment to governor; court and notice.—In favor of the solicitor for the use of the state, on three days' notice, in the circuit court of the county of such clerk, for neglect of the duty imposed by section 938 (772), for not less than one hundred, nor more than five hundred dollars, at the discretion of the court.

3796 (3128) (3389). For failure to send up transcript in criminal case; court and notice.—The solicitor, or prosecuting attorney, in each county, upon being notified that the clerk of the circuit court has neglected to send to the clerk of the supreme court a full transcript of the record of any criminal case appealed to the supreme court, within the time required by law, shall enter a motion against such defaulting clerk and his sureties, in the court from which the appeal was taken, setting out the title of the case, the offense of which the accused was convicted, the day on which the sentence was pronounced, the day on which the court adjourned, and the default of the clerk; and such motion shall be heard at the next term of the court, and of it the clerk shall have at least ten days' notice.

3797 (3129) (3390). Certificate of clerk of supreme court as evidence.—The certificate of the clerk of the supreme court that the transcript of the record in such criminal case was not received by him in twenty-five days after the final adjournment of the court in which the case was tried, shall be prima facie evidence of the default of the clerk.

3798 (3130) (3391). Fine against clerk and sureties for such neglect.—On conviction for such neglect, a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, at the discretion of the court, shall be entered against such defaulting clerk and his sureties for the use of the county.

3799 (3131) (3392) (739). Against registers for failure to keep reverse indexes; court, notice and judgment.—The solicitors in the several chancery districts must inquire whether the duty required of registers in chancery by section 663 (743) has been performed, and must, in every case of failure, move in the circuit court of the proper county against such register; and shall, upon three days' notice of such motion, recover judgment in favor of the state against him for one hundred dollars, unless good cause to the contrary be shown; and such recovery may be had from term to term as long as such register shall remain in default.

ARTICLE 5.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST JUDGES OF PROBATE, TAX-COLLECTORS, TAX-ASSESSORS, COUNTY TREASURERS, AND OTHER PERSONS RECEIVING MONEY FOR COUNTIES.

3800 (3132) (3393). Court, notice and grounds.—Summary judgment must be rendered in favor of the state against the defaulters hereinafter named, and their sureties, or either, in any court of the county of their residence having jurisdiction, on ten days' notice, in the following cases:

1. Against any tax-assessor for failing to comply with the requirements of section 3950 (487), or section 3957, for not more than five hundred dollars; and such tax-assessor may be also imprisoned in the county jail for not exceeding three months.

2. Against any tax-assessor for making up a false or fraudulent assessment, in each case, for not more than five hundred dollars; and such tax-assessor may also be imprisoned in the county jail for not exceeding three months.

3. Against any tax-assessor for any willful neglect or failure to perform the duty required of him in section 3931, for not more than two hundred dollars.

4. Against any county treasurer for failing to pay over the excess of purchase-money, as provided in the revenue law, to the former owner of any property sold for taxes, for not less than two hundred dollars.

5. Against any judge of probate for failing to make out and forward abstracts, or reports, or returns, according to the requirements of the revenue law, for not more than five hundred dollars.

6. Against any judge of probate for issuing license to retail or wholesale liquor-dealers contrary to the provisions of law, in each case, for not less than one hundred dollars.

7. Against any tax-collector for failing to comply with section 4003 (533), for not more than two hundred dollars.

8. Against any tax-collector for knowingly collecting more taxes from a taxpayer than authorized by law, or justified by the assessment, in each case, for not more than five hundred dollars.

9. Against any tax-collector for failing to make the statement provided by section 4019 (547), within the time required, for each week he so fails, for not more than five hundred dollars.

10. Against any tax-collector for not paying over surplus of sale of any property sold by him for the payment of taxes, as required by law, for not more than one hundred dollars.

11. Against any tax-collector for any violation of section 4027 (550), for not more than two hundred dollars.

Against defaulting tax-collectors.—Collier v. Powell, 23 Ala. 579; Ware v. Green, 37 Ala. 494; Marion County v. Brown, 43 Ala. 112; Ex parte Wilson, 54 Ala. 296; Timberlake v. Brewer, 59 Ala. 108.

3801 (3133) (3394). When collector, assessor, or judge of probate, forfeits half pay; court and notice.—Any tax-collector, tax-assessor, or judge of probate, who knowingly and willfully neglects to discharge any of his duties as required in the revenue law, shall forfeit one-half of his compensation under that law, for the use of the county, which may be recovered, on motion in the circuit court of the county, on ten days' notice; and it shall be the duty of the solicitor to make the motion; but any other person may make it.

3802 (3134) (3395) (930) (795). Against county treasurer and sureties for failure to pay allowed claims; court and notice.—If any county treasurer fail, on demand, and without good excuse, to pay an allowed claim against the county, when there are funds in the treasury to pay the same, judgment may be obtained against him and his sureties, or any or either of them, on five days' notice, on motion in the circuit court of the county, in the name of the party to whom the claim is payable, his legal representatives, or assigns, for the amount of the claim, with interest from the time of the demand, and ten per centum damages and costs.

Cohen v. Coleman, 71 Ala. 496; Boothe v. King, Ib. 497; Caldwell v. Dunklin, 65 Ala. 461; Enloe v. Reike, 56 Ala. 500; Caldwell v. Guinn, 54 Ala. 64.

3803 (3135) (3396) (920) (785). Judgments for failure to pay over moneys of the county; court and notice.—If any tax-collector, judge of probate, sheriff, clerk, or other officer or person, fail to pay to the county treasurer, within the time prescribed by law, or, in case no time is fixed by law, on the demand of such treasurer, any money he has collected or received for the county, judgment may be recovered against such person, or such officer and his sureties, or any or either of them, on ten days' notice, on motion in the circuit court, in the name of the county of such treasurer, for the amount so collected or received, with interest from the time fixed for the payment, or from the demand when no time is fixed, and ten per centum damages and costs.

Dudley v. Chilton County, 66 Ala. 593; Stamphill v. Franklin Co., 86 Ala. 392.

ARTICLE 6.

PROCEEDINGS FOR AND AGAINST COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS OF EDUCATION.

3804 (3136) (3397). Against county superintendent for balance in his hands.—Summary judgments must be rendered on motion, after ten days' notice, in the circuit court, or other court having jurisdiction of the amount, of the county in which the defendants, or either of them, reside, against any county superintendent of education who has resigned, removed from his county, or been legally removed from office, or whose term of office has expired, and his sureties, or any or either of them, in favor of his successor, if there be one, or if there be no successor, in favor of the superintendent of education, for the amount of school moneys belonging to his county which have not been legally disbursed by him, or paid over to his successor in office, with interest from the time of the default, and twenty per centum damages and costs; and the money, when recovered by the superintendent of education, must be turned over to the county superintendent of education.

Reed v. Summers, 79 Ala. 522.

3805 (3137) (3398). Authority to employ counsel.—The county superintendent of education may employ attorneys to prosecute actions under the provisions of this article against such defaulters and their sureties; but in no case shall any attorney receive more than ten per centum of the amount which may be collected on any judgment obtained by him, or of the amount which may be otherwise recovered by him.

3806 (3138) (3399). Notice.—The notice of such motion may be served by any sheriff of this state, and must succinctly state the cause for which, and the court and term at which, the motion will be made.

3807 (3139) (3400). Transcript of superintendent of education evidence.—On the trial of such motion, a transcript from the books and records in the office of the superintendent of education, or of the auditor, duly certified under his hand, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts shown by them.

3808 (3140) (3401). Time and manner of trial.—If the notice has been given as herein required, such motion shall stand for trial at the first term, and the court must hear and determine the same, and render judgment upon the evidence without a jury, unless a trial by jury be demanded, when a jury must be immediately impaneled to try the issues of the fact, unless good cause be shown for a continuance.

3809 (3141). In favor of teachers for moneys due them; court and notice; appeal from justices' courts.—Summary judgment may also be rendered against the county superintendent of education and his sureties, or any or either of them, in favor of any teacher of the public schools, his legal representative, or assignee, by motion, on ten days' notice, in any court of the county of such superintendent, of competent jurisdiction, for failing to pay over, on demand, to such teacher any moneys in the hands of such superintendent due or owing to such teacher, as required by law, for the amount of such moneys, with interest from the time of the demand, and ten per centum damages on the aggregate amount, and costs; but from all cases tried before a justice of the peace, or notary public, either party shall have the right to appeal, as provided by law in other cases tried before such officer.

ARTICLE 7.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

3810 (3142) (3402–3404) (3062–3064) (2635–2637). For money or property recovered and not turned over.—Judgment may, in like manner, be summarily rendered against any attorney at law in this state who fails to pay over money collected by him, or deliver personal property recovered by him, in that capacity whether by suit or otherwise, on demand made by the person entitled thereto, his agent or attorney, for the amount collected or the value of the property recovered, interest thereon, and damages at the rate of five per centum a month, after such demand, on the aggregate amount, in the circuit court of the county in which such attorney resides, or if he has no known place of residence in this state, in the circuit court of any county, on three days' personal notice; but such attorney may, if a doubt exists as to the right of the person making the demand, or if there be a dispute as to the compensation due the attorney for the collection or recovery of the money or property, pay the money into court, or turn the property over to the sheriff, at the trial-term of such motion, and have such questions there decided, without being liable for interest or damages.

Gunn v. Clendenin, 68 Ala. 294.

3811 (3143) (3403) (3063) (2636). Plaintiff's title to be shown; both parties may be examined; costs.—The court may require the party claiming the money or property to establish his right thereto, and, in determining the question of compensation, may examine both parties. The court may award costs, including the sheriff's reasonable expenses for preserving the property, at discretion.

ARTICLE 8.

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

3812 (3321) (3663) (3266) (2820). Rendered on motion and five days' notice.—Judgments, not exceeding one hundred dollars, may be rendered on motion by justices of the peace in favor of the party aggrieved, or the other persons in this article specified, against the persons herein named, five days' notice thereof in writing being given, specifying the cause for which such motion will be made, and the time and place.

McMahan v. Kyle, 9 Port. 507; Evans v. Stevens, 8 Ala. 517; Henderson v. Plumb, 18 Ala. 74; Abrams v. Johnson, 65 Ala. 465; James v. Auld, 9 Ala. 462; Couch v. Atkinson, 32 Ala. 633.

3813 (3322) (3664) (3267) (2821). Against justices for acting after vacating office.—Against any justice of the peace for acting in an official capacity as such, after his office has been vacated by removal from the precinct for which he was elected, or from any other cause, for forty dollars, one-half thereof to the use of the county, and the residue to any one who will sue for the same.

3814 (3323) (3665) (3268) (2822). Against justices for failure to pay over money.—Against any justice of the peace, for failure to pay over any money received or collected by him by virtue or under color of his office, after demand made, for the amount so received or collected, with five per cent. a month thereon from the time of the demand.

Harper v. Howard, 3 Ala. 284.

3815 (3324) (3667) (3270) (2824). Against constables for acting after vacating office.—Against any constable, for acting as such after removal from the precinct for which he was elected, or after his term of office has expired, or has been vacated from any cause, for forty dollars, one-half to the use of the county, and the residue to any one who will sue for the same.

3816 (3325) (3668) (3271) (2825). Against constables or sheriffs for failure to make money.—Against any constable or sheriff, for failing to make the money on an execution issued by a justice, which, by due diligence, might have been made, for the amount of the execution and interest, and five per cent. damages on the amount thereof.

Chandler v. Francis, etc., Co., 94 Ala. 233; Hood v. Blair, 95 Ala. 629. See citations to section 3770.

3817 (3326) (3669) (3272) (2826). Against constables or sheriffs for failure to pay over money.—Against any constable or sheriff, for failing to pay over money collected or received by virtue of any execution, attachment, or other process, issued by a justice, on demand by the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, for the amount so received, and five per cent. per month thereon from the time of the demand.

Morgan v. Billings, 3 Ala. 172.

3818 (3327) (3670) (3273) (2827). Against constables or sheriffs for failure to execute summons.—Against any constable or sheriff, for failing to execute any summons issued by a justice, which, by due diligence, could have been executed, for a sum not more than ten, nor less than five dollars.

3819 (3328) (3671) (3274) (2828). Against constables or sheriffs for failure to levy an attachment.—Against any constable or sheriff for failure to execute process of attachment, returnable before a justice, which, by due diligence, could have been executed, whereby the plaintiff has lost his debt or demand, for the amount of such debt or demand, and interest.

Thompson v. Acree, 69 Ala. 178.

3820 (3329) (3672) (3275) (2829). Against constable or sheriff for failure to make return, or for making false return.—Against any constable or sheriff for neglecting to make return of any summons, execution, or other process, returnable before a justice, or for making a false return thereof, for a sum not more than twenty, nor less than five dollars.

Condry v. Henley, 4 S. & P. 9; Starnes v. Pierce, 2 Port. 227; Gayle v. Weir, 3 Port. 193; McMahan v. Kyle, 9 Port. 507; Robertson v. Coker, 11 Ala. 466; Henderson v. Plumb, 18 Ala. 74; Peck v. Colby, 31 Ala. 252.

3821 (3330) (3673) (3276) (2830). In favor of constables or sheriffs in indemnity bond.—Judgment may, in like manner, be rendered in favor of any constable or sheriff against the obligors in any bond, or promisors in any undertaking to indemnify him in levying an attachment or execution returnable before a justice of the peace, for the amount which was rendered against such constable or sheriff for making such levy, on three days' notice of the motion therefor.

3822 (3331) (3674) (3277) (2831). Venue of motion; judgment against sureties.—The motions authorized by this article may be made before any justice of the peace of the county in which the parties moved against, or any of them, reside, and judgments may be obtained therein against the justice of the peace, constable, or sheriff, and such of the sureties on his official bond as may be notified that such motion will be made, or against either of them.

3823 (3332) (3666) (3269) (2823). Limitation of certain motions. The motions authorized by sections 3814 (3323) and 3817 (3326) must be made within six months after demand made for the money received or collected.

3824 (3333) (3675) (3278) (2832). When motion made in circuit court.—When the amount claimed, by reason of interest or damages, exceeds the sum of one hundred dollars, the motion must be made in the circuit court of the county in which the parties moved against, or some of them, reside, unless a remittitur is entered for the excess.

ARTICLE 1.

THE SUPREME COURT AND ITS JUSTICES.

Feb. 12, 1891, p. 396.

3825 (673) (568) (658) (566). Powers of court vested in five justices.—The powers of the supreme court are vested in, and its duties performed by a chief justice and four associate justices, who are elected by the qualified electors of the state and hold office for six years from the third day of November next after their election, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1091, §3.

3826 (675) (571) (660) (568). Jurisdiction of court.—The supreme court has authority—

1. To exercise appellate jurisdiction coextensive with the state, under such restrictions and regulations as are prescribed by law; but in deciding appeals from the chancery court no weight shall be given the decision of the chancellor upon the facts, but the supreme court shall weigh the evidence, and give judgment as they deem just.

2. To exercise original jurisdiction in the issue and determination of writs of quo warranto and mandamus, in relation to matters in which no other court has jurisdiction.

3. To issue writs of injunction, habeas corpus, and such other remedial and original writs as are necessary to give to it a general superintendence and control of inferior jurisdictions.

4. To establish rules of practice in such court, and all other courts of record in the state, not contrary to the provisions of this Code.

5. To direct the transcripts brought up to the court to be made up of a uniform size, and of such form that they can be conveniently bound.

6. To punish for contempts by the infliction of a fine as high as one hundred dollars, and imprisonment not exceeding ten days, one or both.

7. To exercise such other powers, not contrary to the constitution, as are or may be given to such court by law.

Jurisdiction, appellate, not original.—State v. Flinn, Minor, 8; Johnston v. Atwood, 2 Stew. 225; Bell v. Payne, Ib. 414; Ex parte Tarleton, 2 Ala. 35. No presumption in favor of correctness of chancellor's decision on facts.—Glover v. Hill, 85 Ala. 41. Finding of fact by register conclusive unless exception taken.—Bellinger v. Lehman, 103 Ala. 385; Nat. Bk v. McDonnell, 92 Ala. 387. And, on exception, is presumed to be correct.—Jones v. White, 112 Ala. 449. Power to issue writs, etc.—Davis v. Railroad Co., 4 Stew. & Port, 421;

Gates v. McDaniel, Ib. 69; State v. Paul, 5 Stew. & Port, 40; John v. State, 1 Ala. 95; State v. Williams, 1 Ala. 342; State v. Porter, Ib. 688; Ex parte Mansony, Ib. 98; Ex parte Tarleton, 2 Ala. 35; Ex parte Chaney, 8 Ala. 424; Ex parte Renfro, Ib. 490; Nugent v. State, 18 Ala. 521; Ex parte Smith, 23 Ala. 94; Ex parte Pickett, 24 Ala. 91; Ex parte City Council, Ib. 98; Ex parte Henry, Ib. 638; Ex parte Elston, 25 Ala. 72; Ex parte Greene, 29 Ala. 52; Ex parte Russell, Ib. 717; Ex parte Echols, 39 Ala. 698; Ex parte Floyd, 40 Ala. 116; Ex parte Henderson, 43 Ala. 392; Ex parte Bibb, 44 Ala. 140; Ex parte Candee, 48 Ala. 386; Ex parte Roundtree, 51 Ala. 42; Ex parte Harris, 52 Ala. 87; Ex parte Boothe, 64 Ala. 312; Ex parte Shaudies, 66 Ala. 134; Ex parte Pierson, 76 Ala. 521; Ramagnano v. Crook, 88 Ala. 450; Ex parte Jones, 94 Ala. 33; Ex parte Tower Mfg. Co., 103 Ala. 415; Garrison v. Webb, 107 Ala. 499; Ex parte Charleston, 107 Ala. 688.

3827 (676) (572) (661) (569). Issue of writs of injunction and supersedeas.—The justices of the supreme court have each of them authority to issue writs of certiorari, injunction and supersedeas, subject to the limitations prescribed by this Code, as judges of the circuit courts are authorized to grant the same.

3829. State divided into eight supreme-court divisions.—The state is divided into eight supreme-court divisions, each division to be numbered and composed of counties as follows:

First division.—Baldwin, Clarke, Mobile, Monroe and Washington.

Second division.—Bibb, Choctaw, Dallas, Greene, Hale, Marengo, Perry, Sumter and Wilcox.

Third division.—Autauga, Butler, Conecuh, Escambia, Lowndes and Montgomery.

Fourth division.—Barbour, Bullock, Coffee, Covington, Crenshaw, Dale, Geneva, Henry and Pike.

Fifth division.—Chambers, Chilton, Coosa, Elmore, Lee, Macon, Russell and Tallapoosa.

Sixth division.—Blount, Cullman, Fayette, Jefferson, Lamar, Marion, Pickens, Tuscaloosa, Walker and Winston.

Seventh division.—Calhoun, Cherokee, Clay, Cleburne, DeKalb, Etowah, Randolph, Shelby, St. Clair and Talladega.

Eighth division.—Colbert, Franklin, Jackson, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Limestone, Madison, Marshall and Morgan.

3830. Call of the divisions.—The cases from the counties composing the several divisions shall be heard and considered, and the call of the divisions shall commence and continue at each term of the court, as follows:

First division.—On the second Monday in November and the first Monday in April, and may continue one week.

Fifth division.—On the third Monday in November and the second Monday in April, and may continue one week.

Sixth division.—On the fourth Monday in November and the third Monday in April, and may continue two weeks.

Third division.—On the third Monday after the fourth Monday in November and the second Monday after the fourth Monday in April, and may continue one week.

Seventh division.—On the second Monday in January and the fifth Monday after the fourth Monday in April, and may continue one week.

Fourth division.—On the third Monday in January and the sixth Monday after the fourth Monday in April, and may continue one week.

Eighth division.—On the first Monday after the fourth Monday in January and the third Monday after the fourth Monday in April, and may continue one week.

Second division.—On the second Monday after the fourth Monday in January and the seventh Monday after the fourth Monday in April, and may continue one week.

When the call of a division is not completed during the week allotted to its business, the same may be resumed and completed at such time as may be fixed by the court by an order entered on the minutes.

3831. Criminal cases submitted at any time by consent; when submitted without consent of the state.—During the sitting of the court, habeas corpus and other criminal cases may be submitted at any time, without oral argument, by consent of the defendant, or his counsel of record, and the attorney-general; or, when the division to which any such case belongs will not be called within the next sixty days, the same may be submitted at any time, without oral argument, upon ten days' notice to the attorney-general, unless good cause be shown against such submission.

3832. Applications for remedial writs heard on any motion-day. Applications for mandamus, prohibition, certiorari, or other remedial writs, emanating from any part of the state, may be heard on any motion-day; or, by consent of the parties, may be submitted without oral argument at any time during the sitting of the court.

3833. Cases involving the state revenue, the right to public office, injunctions or receiverships submitted at any time by consent or advanced on motion.—Causes involving the public revenue, or the right to public or corporate office, or the dissolution or discharge of injunctions, or the appointment or removal of receivers may be submitted at any time during the sitting of the court, by consent of the parties, without oral argument; or, upon motion of either party, of which three days' notice must be given the other party, any such cause may be advanced and set down for hearing at such time as may be fixed by the court.

3834 (678) (573) (662) (570). Special terms.—The court may, whenever it deems proper, order and hold a special term. And if, upon the expiration of the regular term there shall remain under submission any causes of the character specified in either of the three preceding sections, a special term must be held within the next sixty days for the determination of such causes.

3835 (679) (574). Provision when justices absent.—One justice, or the marshal of such court, may adjourn the court from day to day, or from week to week until a majority of the justices are present; but if a majority are not present within the first thirty days of the term, the court shall stand adjourned to the day fixed for beginning the second call of the divisions; and if a majority of the justices are not present within thirty days after such day, the court shall stand adjourned to the next stated term, to which all causes are continued, subject to the action of the court at a special intervening term if one should be held.

3836. Concurrence in opinion of three justices necessary to a decision; exception.—The concurrence in opinion of three of the justices shall suffice and be necessary to the determination of any cause or question pending for the decision of the court, except that when two of them are disqualified to sit in any cause the same may be determined by a concurrence in opinion of two qualified justices. Feb. 12, 1891, p. 396, §4.

3837. When three or more justices disqualified, special justices appointed.—When three or more of the justices are disqualified to sit in any cause, the remaining justice or justices, or, if all are disqualified, the clerk of the court, shall certify the facts to the governor, who shall thereupon appoint a sufficient number of special justices from the bar of the supreme court to constitute a special court of five members, including the justices who are competent to sit, if any, for the trial of such cause. Ib.

Donnell v. Hamilton, 77 Ala. 610.

3838. When one justice disqualified and remaining four equally divided in opinion.—When one justice only is disqualified to sit in any cause, and the remaining four justices are equally divided in opinion therein, they shall certify the fact of such division to the governor, who shall then appoint a special justice from the bar of the supreme court to sit with them and hear and determine such cause. Ib.

Goodman v. Walker, 29 Ala. 444; s. c., 38 Ala. 142.

3839. When one justice disqualified, another absent indefinitely and remaining three divided in opinion.—When one of the justices is disqualified and another justice is absent from sickness or from any cause, and the remaining three justices are divided in opinion in any cause so that there can be no action by the court therein, the remaining qualified justices may, in their discretion, certify the facts to the governor, who shall then appoint two special justices from the bar of the supreme court to sit with them and hear and determine such cause.

3840 (683a) (579) (666). Opinion not conclusive upon second appeal; qualification.—The supreme court, in deciding each case, when there is a conflict between its existing opinion and any former ruling in the case, must be governed by what, in its opinion at that time, is law, without any regard to such former ruling on the law by it; but the right of third persons, acquired on the faith of the former ruling, shall not be defeated or interfered with by or on account of any subsequent ruling.

Stoudenmire v. DeBardelaben, 85 Ala. 85; Nat. Bk. v. McDonnell, 92 Ala. 387.

3841 (684) (580). Salary.—The annual salary of each justice of the supreme court is thirty-six hundred dollars.

ARTICLE 2.

THE SECRETARY OF THE SUPREME COURT.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1176.

3842. Secretary appointed by the justices.—The chief justice and the associate justices of the supreme court may appoint a secretary, who shall hold office for the current term of the justices. He may be removed by the chief justice of his own motion, and must be removed upon the request of three associate justices. Vacancies may in like manner be filled for the unexpired term.

Ib.

3843. Duties.—The secretary shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by the justices.

Ib.

3844. Salary.—The annual salary of the secretary is fifteen hundred dollars, payable as the salaries of other officers are paid.

ARTICLE 3.

THE MARSHAL AND LIBRARIAN OF THE SUPREME COURT.

3845 (685) (581) (670) (575). Marshal; appointment; term of office; duties.—A marshal of the supreme court must be appointed by the justices thereof, and may at any time be removed by them, and shall discharge such duties and obey such directions, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, and pertaining to his office, as may be required by the justices.

3846 (686). Assistant marshal and librarian.—The marshal and librarian is authorized to employ an assistant, who may at any time be removed by him.

3847 (687). Compensation of assistant.—The compensation of such assistant is six hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly, on the certificate of the marshal and librarian to the auditor.*

3848 (688) (582) (671). Marshal is librarian.—The library of the state, and the supreme-court library are under the charge of the marshal, who shall be librarian of the supreme-court library, and of the state library, and shall, in discharging the duties of his office, obey such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the justices.

3849 (689) (583) (672). Justices make rules as to library.—The justices of the supreme court must make such rules as they may deem necessary for the preservation and protection of the libraries.

3850 (690) (584) (673) (576). Entry of appointment; oath. The appointment of the marshal must be entered on the minutes of the court, and before receiving any compensation, he must make oath before one of the justices, that he will faithfully discharge his duties as marshal and librarian, and that he will, to the best of his ability, preserve the libraries from loss and injury.

3851 (691) (585) (674). Bond.—Such marshal shall enter into bond, with good surety, payable to the State of Alabama, in the sum of one thousand dollars, to be approved by one of the justices of the supreme court, and conditioned that he will discharge all the duties which are, or may be required of him by law.

3852 (692) (586) (675) (577). Salary.—The annual salary of the marshal and librarian is fifteen hundred dollars.

3853 (693) (587, 603) (691) (592). Library fund.—The sum of five hundred dollars, annually, is appropriated for the use and benefit of the library of the supreme court, to be drawn by the warrant of the auditor, on the application of the chief justice, on the treasury, and expended under the direction of the justices. The money arising from the sales made by the secretary of state of the reports of the supreme court remaining in his office on the first day of March, 1881, must be paid to the librarian, and, under the direction of the justices, applied to the use and benefit of the library. The surplus proceeds of the sales of such reports as have been, or may be published under contract made by the governor, remaining after paying the expenses of binding and printing, must also be paid to the librarian, and be expended by him under the direction of the justices.

3854 (694). Library tax.—For the maintenance of the supreme-court library there shall be taxed in each civil case decided by the supreme court on appeal, the sum of five dollars, which must be taxed and collected as other costs in the cause and when collected must be paid by the clerk to the marshal and librarian, by whom it must be disbursed on the order of the justices.*

Swann & Billups v. Kidd, 79 Ala. 431.

3855. Books for attorney-general purchased from library fund. Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1195.
The marshal and librarian may use, in the purchase of law-books for the office of the attorney-general, so much of the library fund as the justices may from time to time direct

ARTICLE 4.

THE CLERK OF THE SUPREME COURT.

3856 (695) (588) (676) (578). Appointment and removal.—A clerk of the supreme court is appointed by the justices, and holds his office during the term of the justices making the appointment, removable at any time for cause, to be determined by the court, and entered at length on its record.

3857 (696) (589) (677) (579). Bond.—Before entering on the duties of his office, he must give bond with good surety in the sum of five thousand dollars, to be approved by the chief justice, and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

*"Five" substituted for "six" by joint committee.

3858 (697) (590) (678) (580). Additional bond.—He must give additional bond, on the requisition of the chief justice, to be made whenever the public interest requires, and failing so to do within the time fixed by the chief justice, his office is vacated.

3859 (698) (591) (679) (581). Office and office hours.—He must keep his office in the capitol, open for the transaction of business on every day except Sunday and legal holidays, from nine in the morning until four in the afternoon.

3860 (699) (592) (680) (582). Duties.—He has authority to administer oaths, and take affidavits; and it is his duty—

1. To issue and sign all writs and process of every description, issued under the authority of the court.

2. To keep in regular order the papers, dockets and records of such court.

3. To keep an appearance, trial, motion and execution docket, under such rules as are prescribed by the court.

4. To enter from day to day the judgments and proceedings of the court.

As amended Dec. 14, 1894, p. 161.

5. To send, immediately after the expiration of the time of hearing causes, allotted by the supreme court to each of the several divisions into which the business is distributed, in the causes decided during said time, to the clerks or registers of the courts from which said causes were appealed, a certificate of the affirmance or reversal of, or other action of the supreme court upon such causes; and, upon the request of either party, said certificate shall state the date, number and character of the judgment or decree appealed from, and the name of the party taking and the date of the appeal, as shown by the transcript; but if the court or a justice thereof should recall the certificate, or the court grant a rehearing in any cause after the certificate has been sent down, the clerk must certify that fact to the clerk or register of the court below, and the latter certificate shall operate as a supersedeas of any execution which may have issued on the former certificate, without impairing the obligation of the sureties on the appeal bond; and such certificate shall be evidence in any cause in any court in this state of the facts set forth as herein provided.

6. Within twenty days after the reversal of any judgment or decree, or on the affirmance of any interlocutory order or decree, to send to the court below a certified copy of the opinion of the supreme court; and such opinion and certificate shall be legal evidence in any cause in any court.

7. At the end of each term, to have the transcripts of the records of all cases, with a copy of the orders made, and of the final judgment or decree in each case, and the manuscript opinions of the court, decided at such term, bound in strong binding, and lettered so as to show the term at which the decisions were made.

8. Immediately on the expiration of thirty days after the decision of each case, to deliver to the reporter the record of the case and opinion of the court, taking his receipt therefor. But whenever an application for a rehearing in any case is pending, he shall deliver such record and opinion, and take such receipt immediately on the determination of such application; and when such records shall be returned by the reporter, he shall have them bound.

3861 (700) (593) (681) (583). Record; what constitutes.—Such transcript and copy of orders and of final judgment and the manuscript opinion of the court constitute the record in each case.

3862 (701) (594) (682) (584). Pay for binding.—When any of the records are bound according to the provisions of this article, the account for the same must be paid out of the state treasury as accounts for the other printing and binding of the state are paid.

3863 (702) (595) (685). Books, blanks and stationery furnished. The record-books, blanks and stationery, necessary to the office, shall be furnished to the clerk in like mannner as they are furnished to the other public officers in the capitol.

ARTICLE 5.

THE REPORTER AND REPORTS.

3864 (703) (596) (686, 687) (585). Appointment of reporter. The justices of the supreme court must, from time to time, appoint a reporter of the decisions of the court, who shall receive the records of cases and opinions of the court from the clerk, and, immediately after he has reported any case, shall return to the clerk the record and opinion in such case for binding, taking his receipt therefor.

3865 (704). Of assistant reporters.—Whenever the reporter shall have in his hands unreported a sufficient number of records to make one volume of reports, the court shall appoint an assistant reporter or reporters, whose compensation shall be paid by warrant on the treasury, drawn by the auditor on the certificate of the chief justice.

3866 (706). Compensation of reporter.—The reporter is entitled to nine hundred dollars for each volume of reports reported and published by him, payable on the certificate of the chief justice to the auditor; and the chief justice may, from time to time, in his discretion, authorize payments to be made to the reporter on account, not exceeding two-thirds of the proportionate value of the work the reporter may have done on such volume.

3867 (707). Time within which reports to be published.—The opinions of the supreme court must be published within six months after the determination of the cause in which an opinion is delivered, unless longer delay is necessary to accumulate a sufficient number of opinions to make a volume of reports.

3868 (708) (600). What reports shall contain.—The justices of the supreme court shall not be required to write opinions in cases where the decisions merely reaffirm previous decisions, or relate to questions of fact only, or when the cases decided would, in their opinion, serve no useful purpose as precedents, and they may direct what decisions delivered by them shall be published; but the title of each case decided by the court and not reported shall be published in the reports with brief notes of the points decided and with reference to the authorities; and it is the duty of the reporter to abridge and condense all briefs or arguments of counsel, which may be published in the reports, reducing them to a mere abstract of the points made and the authorities cited. The name of the judge or chancellor who presided below must be published.

3869 (710) (602) (690). Proprietorship and copyright of reports. The state retains the proprietorship of the reports and the exclusive right to publish the same; and the governor must copyright each volume for the benefit of the state.

3870. Delivery to secretary of state; copies set apart.—The reports when published and accepted must be delivered to the secretary of state, who shall at once set apart two hundred volumes to be distributed as required by law, two copies for the purpose of copyright, and ten copies for the use of the state.

3871 (711) (604) (693). Distribution of reports.—Of the two hundred copies so set apart, there must be distributed to the governor, each judge of any court of record (except county commissioners), the attorney-general, the reporter, each chancellor, solicitor and United States district attorney in this state, one copy each, which must be delivered to their successors in office respectively, or returned to the secretary of state; also, one copy to the University of Alabama for the use of the law department; four copies to the supreme-court library, and one copy each to the department of justice of the United States and the United States circuit court of appeals for the fifth circuit.

3872 (712) (605) (694) (595). Copies sent to other states.—The secretary of state must turn over to the state librarian, who must transmit to the executive of each state and territory of the United States, a copy of each volume of the reports, as published, with a request that if such state or territory publishes its judicial decisions, it will in turn transmit a copy, which, if received, must be placed in the library of the supreme court.

Dec. 1, 1888, p. 5. Feb. 2, 1893, p. 235.

3873. Remaining copies sold at two dollars and fifty cents per copy.—Except the ten copies set apart for the use of the state, all the copies remaining after the distributions provided for in the two preceding sections must be sold by the secretary of state, at two dollars and fifty cents per copy; but not more than five copies of the latest volume, and not more than one copy of any preceding volume, shall be sold to any one person, mercantile firm or corporation.*

Jan. 3, 1891, p. 19.

3874. Smith's condensed reports sold at one dollar and fifty cents per copy.—The secretary of state must retain for the use of the state, ten copies of each volume of Smith's condensed reports, and may sell the remainder at one dollar and fifty cents per copy; but not more than one copy of any one volume shall be sold to any one person, mercantile firm or corporation.

*On the 13th of February, 1897, an act was approved, entitled "An act to amend an act to authorize the secretary of state to sell the volumes of the report of the decisions of the supreme court of Alabama, now in his possession, approved February 2, 1893," the body of which is as follows: "That the secre-

CHAPTER 108.

3875 (3144) (3405) (3065) (2638). Surety on replevy bond may demand indemnity.—When the principal in any replevy bond is wasting the replevied property, or is removing, or is about to remove himself or property out of the state, the surety or sureties on the replevy bond may demand of the principal adequate indemnity against loss by collateral security.

3876 (3145) (3406) (3066) (2639). Affidavit may be made of refusal to give indemnity.—If such security is not given within five days after demand made, the surety may make affidavit thereof before the clerk of the court in which such bond is filed, setting forth the demand of the principal for collateral security, for some one or more of the causes mentioned in the preceding section, and that the principal has failed to give such security.

3877 (3146) (3407) (3067) (2640). Writ of seizure may then issue.—Thereupon the clerk must issue a writ directed to the sheriff, commanding him to seize the replevied property, and hold the same until the decision of the cause in which it was replevied, or until the principal executes bond with sufficient surety, in the same penalty as the replevy bond, payable to the surety, with condition to have the property forthcoming to abide the decision in the principal cause, or to pay and satisfy the judgment rendered therein.

3878 (3147) (3408) (3068) (2641). Bond, if given, filed with original bond.—If the bond is given, it must be filed with the original replevy bond; and execution may issue thereon, upon a breach of the original replevy bond, in favor either of the plaintiff or of the surety.

3879 (3148) (3409) (3069) (2642). Proceedings on writ of seizure, when property is perishable.—If the bond is not given, and the property is seized, and is of a wasting or perishable nature, or the expense of keeping it would materially affect its value, it must be sold by the sheriff in the same manner as property levied on under execution, and return thereof made as upon a writ of fieri facias.

3880 (3149) (3410) (3070) (2643). Judgments for sureties against their principals, and between each other; motion and notice.—Sureties, whether bound on the contract or instrument with the principal debtor as joint, or joint and several obligors or promisors, or as accommodation drawers, acceptors, or indorsers of a bill of exchange, or in any other manner, are entitled to a summary

tary of state be and he is hereby authorized and required to sell the volumes of the reports of the decisions of the supreme court of Alabama, now in his possession, at the price of two dollars and fifty cents per volume; Provided, that he shall not sell more than one copy of each volume to any person, corporation or mercantile firm; Provided further, that he shall retain six copies of each volume for the use of the State." (Acts 1896-7, p. 921.)

judgment against their principal, and between each other, by motion in the circuit court, on three days' notice thereof, in the cases, and in the manner following.

Nation v. Roberts, 20 Ala. 544; Irwin v. Scruggs, 32 Ala. 516; Moody v. Findley, 43 Ala. 167.

3881 (3150) (3411) (3071) (2644). For surety against principal debtor.—Against the principal debtor—

1. When a judgment has been obtained against the surety, which he has satisfied, either wholly or in part, for the amount paid and interest.

2. When a surety or sureties are sued without their principal, upon notice given to the principal of the pending suit, if judgment is obtained against the surety, judgment for the same amount must be rendered against the principal in favor of the surety.

Dubberly v. Black, 38 Ala. 193; Riley v. Stallworth, 56 Ala. 481.

3882 (3151) (3412) (3072) (2645). Judgments between sureties. Between sureties—

1. A surety who has paid the debt of his principal may recover of each of his co-sureties their aliquot proportion of the debt; and if any of the co-sureties are insolvent, the proportion of such insolvent must be excluded from the estimate, and judgment be rendered against the remaining solvent sureties for their proportion of the debt, as if such insolvent was not a co-surety.

2. When suit is pending against one or more sureties, either in connection with, or without their principal, if the principal is insolvent or dead, the surety so sued may, on notice of the pending suit, recover judgment against such of the co-sureties as are not sued in that action for their aliquot proportion of the debt, excluding from the estimate the proportion of such of the sureties as are insolvent, as if such insolvent had not been a surety.

Roberts v. Adams, 6 P. 361; White v. Banks, 21 Ala. 705; Broughton v. Robinson, 11 Ala. 922; Waller v. Campbell, 25 Ala. 544; Rutherford v. Smith, 27 Ala. 417; Irwin v. Scruggs, 32 Ala. 516; Simmons v. Varnum, 36 Ala. 92; Jemison v. Governor, 47 Ala. 390; Broughton v. Wimberly, 65 Ala. 549.

3883 (3152) (3413) (3073) (2646). When surety not to confess judgment.—No surety, when sued, can confess judgment, or suffer judgment to pass by default, if the principal debtor, on being notified of the pending suit, is willing to defend the suit at his own cost, and gives good and sufficient collateral security to the surety, to be approved by the court.

Riley v. Stallworth, 56 Ala. 481.

3884 (3153) (3414) (3074) (2647). Surety may require creditor to sue principal or other sureties; discharged on failure.—A surety upon any contract for the payment of money, or for the payment or delivery of personal property, may require the creditor, or any one having the beneficial interest in the contract, by notice in writing, to bring suit thereon against the principal debtor, or against any co-surety to such contract; and if suit is not brought thereon, pursuant to such notice, to the first court to which suit can be brought after the receipt of such notice, and prosecuted with diligence according to the ordinary course of law, the surety giving such notice is discharged from all liability as surety, or his aliquot proportion of the debt, as the case may be; and one surety may give the notice in behalf of his co-sureties.

Shehan v. Hampton, 8 Ala. 942; Pickens v. Yarborough, 26 Ala. 417; Savage v. Carleton, 33 Ala. 443; Darbey v. Berney Nat. Bk., 97 Ala. 643; Howle v. Edwards, 97 Ala. 649.

3885 (3154) (3415) (3075) (2648). To what not applicable.—The remedy secured by the preceding section does not apply to bonds or other contracts with collateral conditions, or to the bonds of executors, administrators, guardians, or public officers.

3886 (3155) (3416) (3076) (2649). In whose favor and against whom provisions enure.—All the provisions of this chapter enure to the benefit of the personal representatives of the creditor or surety, and in favor of sureties and co-sureties against the personal representatives of the principal, or of a surety.

Barclay v. Barclay, 42 Ala. 345.

3887 (3156) (3417) (3077) (2650). Court in which motion should be made.—In cases not otherwise provided for in this chapter, the motions must be made in the circuit court of the county in which the parties, or any of them, against whom the motion is made, reside, or if they are non-residents, or have no fixed residence in the state, then in the circuit court of any county in the state.

Dubberly v. Black, 38 Ala. 193.

3888 (3157) (3418) (3078) (2651). On payment by surety, judgment must be assigned to him.—Whenever a judgment is obtained by a creditor on a demand to which there are one or more sureties, the sureties may pay such demand, and the plaintiff in the judgment, his agent, or attorney of record, when the payment is made, must assign such judgment to the surety or sureties paying the money, who may collect the same, with interest and costs, in the name of the plaintiff, for their use, and may assert, in law or equity, any lien or right against the principal debtor, which the plaintiff could have asserted if the debt had not been paid; but in every such case, the assignee of the judgment is bound to accept and receive payment of it in the same kind of currency which he may have paid for it.

Winslow v. Bracken, 57 Ala. 368; Giddens v. Williamson, 65 Ala. 439; Vanderveer v. Ware, Ib. 606; Watts v. Eufaula Nat. Bank, 76 Ala. 474.

CHAPTER 109.

SURVEYORS AND SURVEYS.

ARTICLE 1.—APPOINTMENT AND QUALIFICATION OF COUNTY SURVEYORS; DUTIES AND COMPENSATION. 3889–3898.
2.—TOWN SURVEYS, PLATS, ETC. 3899–3905.

ARTICLE 1.

APPOINTMENT AND QUALIFICATION OF COUNTY SURVEYORS; DUTIES AND COMPENSATION.

3889 (933) (862) (947) (812). Number; appointment; term of office.—The court of county commissioners is authorized to appoint two surveyors for the county, who hold office for the term of three years, and until their successors may be qualified, unless sooner removed. Before making an appointment, the court must be satisfied by evidence that the person appointed is qualified to discharge the duties of a surveyor. It is no objection that a person appointed county surveyor is a qualified surveyor of an adjacent county; but he must qualify in each county.

Feb. 1, 1895, p. 342.

3890 (934) (863) (948) (813). Removal from office.—The court has power to remove either or both such surveyors, if satisfied the public good requires removal, and in the event of removal, to make a new appointment.

3891 (935) (864) (949) (814). Oath of office; official bond.—Before entering on his duties, the surveyor must take before the judge of probate the constitutional oath, which must be filed in the office of the judge; and the surveyor must give bond with sufficient sureties, in the penalty of five hundred dollars, payable to the State of Alabama, with condition to discharge faithfully the duties of the office so long as he continues therein, or discharges any of the duties thereof. The bond must be taken and approved by the judge of probate, and filed and recorded in his office.

3892 (936) (865) (950) (815). Duties.—It is the duty of the surveyor faithfully to execute and return all orders of survey directed to him from any court of record in the state, and make all surveys of lands or lots in the county, at the request of any person interested therein, on payment or tender of his probable fees for the same.

3893 (937) (866) (951) (816). Chain-bearers, etc.—He must swear his chain-bearers to perform their duties without favor or affection; must make a plat of all lands or lots he surveys, for the person requiring the same; and write on such plat the names of his chain-bearers, and also his fees for the same.

3894 (938) (867) (952) (817). When fees taxed as costs.—When a survey is directed by any court of record, the fees of the surveyor are to be taxed in the bill of costs.

Nolin v. Parmer, 21 Ala. 66; Dailey v. Fountain, 35 Ala. 26; Shook v. Pate, 50 Ala. 91; Bridges v. McClendon, 56 Ala. 327; Clements v. Pearce, 63 Ala. 284; Humes v. Bernstein, 72 Ala. 546.

3896 (940) (869) (954) (819). Liability.—A county surveyor is liable, on his official bond, for any damages done by a wrongful survey or plat.

3897 (941) (870) (955) (820). Compensation.—The court of county commissioners must fix his rates of compensation, as well as that of his chain-bearers and markers.

3898 (942) (871) (956) (820). Fences and buildings on or near line not lost by survey.—When a survey of land is made by a county surveyor for the purpose of straightening or locating section or other lines, the owners of fences or buildings erected on or near the original or supposed lines shall not lose their right to the same, when the survey places the fences or buildings upon the lands of others.

Garrett v. Sewell, 95 Ala. 456; s. c., 108 Ala. 521.

ARTICLE 2.

TOWN SURVEYS, PLATS, ETC.

3899. Town lots; survey and plat.—Any person desiring to subdivide his lands into lots shall cause the same to be surveyed by a competent surveyor, if not already surveyed, and shall cause a plat or map thereof to be made, showing the subdivisions into which it is proposed to divide the same, giving the length and bearings of the boundaries of each lot and its number; and if it be the purpose of the owner to divide the lands into town lots, such plat or map shall show the streets, alleys and public grounds, and give the bearings, length, width and name of each street, as well as the number of each lot and block. Such plat or map must show the relation of the lands so platted or mapped to the government survey. Feb. 26, 1889, p. §1.

Joseph v. Decatur Land & Imp. Co., 102 Ala. 346.

3900. Plat to be certified, signed by owner, acknowledged and recorded; evidence.—The plat or map having been completed shall be certified by the surveyor, which certificate must also be signed by the owner, his duly authorized agent or attorney, and acknowledged by such owner, agent, or attorney, in the same manner in which deeds are required to be acknowledged. The plat or map, together with the certificate of the surveyor and of acknowledgment, shall be recorded in the office of the judge of probate in the county in which the lands are situated, in a suitable book to be kept for that purpose; and such acknowledgment and record shall have like Ib. §2.

effect, and certified copies thereof and of such plat or map, may be used in evidence to the same extent and with like effect as in the case of deeds.

Ib. §3. 3901. Operates as a conveyance, etc.—The acknowledgment and recording of such plat or map shall be held in law and in equity to be a conveyance in fee simple of such portion of the premises platted as are marked or noted on such plat or map as donated or granted to the public, and the premises intended for any street, alleyway, common, or other public use, as shown in such plat or map, shall be held in trust for the uses and purposes intended or set forth in such plat or map.

Ib. §4. 3902. How plat vacated and annulled in whole.—Any such plat or map may be vacated by the owner of the lands at any time before the sale of any lot therein, by a written instrument declaring the same to be vacated, executed, acknowledged and recorded in like manner as conveyances of land, which declaration, being duly recorded, shall operate to destroy the force and effect of the recording of the plat or map so vacated, and to divest all public rights in the streets, alleys and public grounds and all dedications laid out or described in such plat or map. When lots have been sold, the plat or map may be vacated, in the manner herein provided, by all the owners of lots in such plat or map joining in the execution of such writing.

Ib. §5. 3903. How plat vacated and annulled in part.—Any part of such plat or map may be vacated in the manner provided in the preceding section, subject to the conditions therein prescribed; but such vacation shall not abridge or destroy any of the rights or privileges of other proprietors in such plat or map of land; and nothing contained in this section shall authorize the closing or obstructing of any public highway laid out according to law.

Ib. §6. 3904. Lost map or plat may be substituted.—In cases where lands have been divided into lots prior to the twenty-sixth day of February, 1889, and the map or plat thereof lost or mislaid, and a part or all of the lots indicated therein have been sold, the owner thereof may cause a new survey to be made and a plat or map to be made therefrom, or reproduce the one lost, from survey already made, as required by the first section of this article, certified, acknowledged and recorded as therein required, and which shall have the same effect in all respects as plats or maps recorded under the first section of this article, and which may be vacated in the same manner and under the same conditions as plats or maps may be vacated under the two preceding sections.

Ib. §7. 3905. When plat or map vacated, judge of probate must write "vacated" across record.—When a map or plat or part thereof is vacated, the judge of probate must, upon recording such vacation, write in plain letters across the record of the plat or map, or the part so vacated, the word "vacated," and shall also refer on the same to the volume and page in which the instrument of vacation is recorded.

ARTICLE 1.

DEFINITION OF TERMS.

3906 (450). Meaning of words and phrases.—Whenever the terms mentioned in this section are employed in this chapter, they are employed in the following sense:

1. The term "real property" shall be held to mean and include not only land, city, town and village lots, but also all things thereunto pertaining, and all structures and other things so annexed or attached thereto as to pass to a vendee by the conveyance of the land or lot.

2. The term "personal property" shall be held to mean and include all things, other than real property, which have any pecuniary value, and moneys, credits, and investments in any bonds, stocks, joint-stock companies, or otherwise.

3. The term "money," or "moneys," shall be held to mean and include gold, silver and other coin, bills of exchange, bank-bills, or other bills or notes authorized to be circulated as money, whether in possession, or on deposit subject to the draft of the depositor, or the person having the beneficial interest therein, on demand.

4. The term "credit" includes every claim and demand for money, labor, merchandise, or other valuable things, and money and property of any kind secured by deed of trust, mortgage, or otherwise.

5. The word "person," or "party," or other word or words, importing the singular number, shall be held to include firms, companies, associations and corporations; and all words in the plural number shall apply to single individuals, in all cases in which the spirit and intent of this chapter require it; and all words importing the masculine gender also shall apply to females; and all words importing the present tense shall also apply to the future.

ARTICLE 2.

EXEMPTIONS FROM TAXATION.

3907 (451). Property and persons exempt.—The following property and persons shall be exempt from taxation:

1. All property belonging to the United States.

Swann v. State, 77 Ala. 545; Bonner v. Phillips, Ib. 427.

2. All bonds of the United States and of this state; all property, real and personal, of the state, and of the counties and municipal corporations in the state; all cemeteries, and all lots in incorporated cities or towns, or within one mile of any city or town, to the extent of one acre, and all lots one mile or more distant from such cities or towns, to the extent of five acres, with the buildings thereon, when the same are used exclusively for religious worship, for schools, or for purposes purely charitable; all school furniture and other personal property used exclusively for public-school purposes; and all property, real or personal, to an extent not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars in value, that may be used exclusively for agricultural or horticultural associations of a public character.

3. All the property of literary and scientific institutions and literary societies, when employed or used in the regular business of such institutions.

4. The libraries of ministers of the gospel, and all libraries other than those of a professional character, and all religious books kept for sale by ministers of the gospel and colporteurs.

5. All deaf mutes and insane and blind persons, and their property to the value of one thousand dollars.

6. From poll-tax, all persons permanently disabled, whose taxable property does not exceed five hundred dollars.

7. All family portraits.

8. The following property, to be selected by the head of each family, viz.: Household and kitchen furniture, not to exceed in value one hundred and fifty dollars; one yoke of oxen, one cart or wagon, two cows and calves, twenty head of stock hogs, ten head of sheep, all poultry, all cotton and other agricultural products which were raised or grown during the preceding year, and which shall remain in the hands of the producer thereof, and all manufactured articles, including pig iron, which shall remain in the hands of the manufacturers thereof, on the first day of October of any year immediately succeeding that in which they were raised or produced; provisions and supplies on hand for the current year, for the use of the family and the making of the crop; all wearing-apparel; all looms and spinning-wheels, kept for use of the family; farming-tools to the value of twenty-five dollars; tools and implements of mechanics to the value of twenty-five dollars; one sewing-machine in each family, when the taxable property does not exceed two hundred and fifty dollars; Provided, that no property or subject of taxation shall be exempted from taxation, nor shall any credit, abatement, or deduction be allowed therefrom, unless such property or subject of taxation is entered by the taxpayer upon his assessment-list, and returned by him, under oath, to the tax-assessor. Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §38.

Every asserted claim of exemption from taxation will be narrowly scanned by the courts.—Swann v. State, 77 Ala. 545.

3908. Exemption of cotton-factories from county and municipal taxation.—For the purpose of encouraging the building and operating of factories for the spinning of thread, yarns, and the weaving of cloth and other fabrics of cotton and wool in the state, the court of county commissioners, or board of revenue of any county, or the constituted authorities of any city or town, in which it is proposed to locate such factories, are authorized and empowered to remit the taxes assessed on such buildings, factories, machinery used therein, or land upon which such factories or buildings are located, for all county or city purposes, for a period not exceeding five years from the date of the incorporation or organization of such manufacturing company. Feb. 21, 1893, p. 855, §1.

A legislative bounty, subject to repeal.—Calhoun Co. v. Woodstock I. Co., 82 Ala. 151.

3909. Application for such exemption; how made and granted. In order to obtain the benefits of such exemption, the person, firm or corporation owning or controlling such factory must make application in writing to the court of county commissioners or board of revenue of the county, or the constituted authorities of the city or town in which it is proposed to locate such factory, giving the location of the proposed factory, the date of the incorporation or organization and praying for an order to be made by them, granting such person, firm or corporation the exemption provided in the preceding section, which application, if granted, shall be entered on the records of their courts, and an order made allowing such exemption and designating the time when such exemption shall expire; but all such property must be returned for state taxation.* Ib. §§2, 3.

*An act approved February 13, 1897, "To promote and secure the erection of cotton mills and factories in the State of Alabama," is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Alabama, That any person, co-partnership, association of individuals, or corporations incorporated

ARTICLE 3.

SUBJECTS, RATES, MATURITY AND LIEN OF TAXES.

3910 (452). Poll-tax.—There shall be collected from every male inhabitant in this state, over the age of twenty-one years, and under the age of forty-five years, not exempt by law, the sum of one dollar and fifty cents, as poll-tax, which shall be applied exclusively in aid of the public-school fund in the counties in which it is levied and collected.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1308.

3911 (453). Subjects and rate of taxation.—For the use of this state, and to raise revenue therefor, there is levied an annual tax of fifty-five cents on each hundred dollars in value, upon the following property:

1. Each and every piece, parcel, tract, or lot of land in this state, including therein all things pertaining to such land, and all structures and other things so annexed or attached thereto as to pass to a vendee by conveyance of such land; and every separate or special interest in any land, such as mineral, timber, or other interest, when such interest is owned by a person other than the owner of the surface or soil.

Freeman v. State, Ala. (22 So. 560).

2. All wharves and wharf-boats, landings and warehouses where charges are made, cotton-pickeries, cottonseed-oil mills, compresses, grain-elevators, toll-bridges, ferries, and turnpikes, and all passes, channels, or canals, where tolls are charged, and street-railroads, printing-presses and materials.*

Feb. 26, 1887, p. 30.

3. All steamboats, vessels and water-craft of every name and kind excepting such as are engaged in foreign commerce, to be assessed and collected at the port in this state where such steamboats, vessels and water-craft are enrolled, or in the county wherein the owner or owners, or those owning the largest aggregate amount of stock in value thereof, may reside, and if such steamboat, vessel or water-craft is owned by a corporation, then in that county where the principal office of said corporation is situated, or if not enrolled at any port under the laws of the United States, then at any place or landing where under the laws of the State of Alabama, that shall, within five years from the approval of this act, invest, expend, lay out and pay at least fifty thousand dollars in money in the erection, building and construction of cotton mills or factories in this state, and the buildings, plants, works, machinery, appliances, and appurtenances, proper or necessary for the practical operation of such cotton mills or factories, shall be entitled to claim and have exempt from assessment and collection for state, county and municipal taxation such cotton mills or factories, and the said proper or necessary buildings, plants, works, machinery, appliances and appurtenances for the period of ten years only from the approval of this act, and the same and every part of the same are hereby declared to be exempt from state, county and municipal taxes; Provided, nevertheless, that nothing in this act shall be construed to exempt from taxation the land on which said cotton mills or factories are erected; provided this act shall also apply to additions costing $50,000 or more made to cotton-mills now existing in Alabama.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That all laws and parts of laws, general or special, in conflict with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby expressly repealed." (Pamph. Acts 1896-7, p. 917.)

*As amended by joint committee on revenue.

the same may be found; and the tax of such steamboats, vessels and water-craft shall be due and collectible at the port where the same are enrolled, unless paid elsewhere, as provided herein, and the receipt therefor exhibited upon demand to the officer whose duty it is to collect the same at such port.

Nat. Dredging Co. v. State, 99 Ala. 462.

4. All stocks of goods, wares and merchandise, the assessment to be on the average amount on hand during the preceding year, but the amount so assessed shall in no case be less than the capital actually employed in the business nor less than sixty-six and two-thirds per cent. of the originally invoiced price of said goods, wares and merchandise to be taken and furnished to the tax-assessor as hereinafter provided, and this shall include all goods, wares and merchandise kept on plantations or elsewhere or by railroad companies or manufacturing companies, or other associations, corporations or persons, for sale or to be dealt out to laborers or employes for profit, or on account of their wages; and shall include all goods, wares and merchandise offered for sale by any person commencing business subsequently to the first day of October of the current year, but in such case the tax shall be apportioned according to the date at which the business shall be commenced, so that if commenced after the first day of January, the tax shall be three-fourths of the tax for the whole year; if commenced after the first day of April, the tax shall be one-half of the tax for the whole year, provided that the assessment herein provided for shall not include the products raised on the farms in the hands of the original producer. Every person, association or corporation carrying on such business, shall, between the first and tenth days of October in each year, make or cause to be made, a full and complete invoice of the various articles of said goods, wares and merchandise, with the value thereof, and in listing the taxes thereon, he shall present the same to the tax-assessor. If the person, association or corporation carrying on such business shall fail to make such invoice and present the same as herein required or shall fail to make return of the amount of stock as herein provided, or if the assessor is not satisfied with the return made, the assessor, in order to make a proper assessment, may examine the insurance effected by such person, association or corporation upon the stock so to be assessed, if the same can be ascertained, and may also by inquiry of persons believed to have knowledge of the subject by having assisted in taking invoice or otherwise, inform himself of the probable average amount of such stock; and from such information he may assess the same upon the best judgment he can form, and where assessments have been so made against a person, association or corporation, which has not complied with this subdivision, said assessments shall not be subject to revision at the instance of the taxpayer and shall in no case be reduced. Feb. 18. 1895, p. 1162.

5. All household furniture, libraries, jewelry, plates and silverware, ornaments and articles of taste, pianos and other musical instruments, paintings, clocks, gold, silver and other watches, and gold and other safety-chains; all wagons and other vehicles; all bicycles; all mechanical tools and farming-implements; all dirks and bowie-knives, swords, canes, pistols and guns; all cattle, horses, mules, studs, jacks and jennets; all hogs, sheep and goats.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1092, §24.

6. All money hoarded, whether in the custody of the owner, or on deposit in bank or elsewhere in this state, or in another state, subject to check, draft or order; or in any safety-deposit box, safe or vault or elsewhere.*

Solvent credits taxable at owner's residence.—Boyd v. Selma, 96 Ala. 144.

Ib.

7. All moneyed capital, that is, all money lent, solvent credits, or credits of value; and all money employed in the business of advancing, or pending on any kind of chattels, choses in action, or personal property, or used in buying or discounting notes, bonds or bills of exchange.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §36.

8. Every share of any incorporated bank or banking association incorporated under the laws of this, or any other state, or of the United States, to be assessed and collected in the county, city, town or village where any such bank is located, and to be assessed at its actual market value to the person in whose name such share stands on the books of such bank and not to the bank or corporation. It is the duty of the president and cashier of every such bank or banking association to make out and return under oath to the assessor of the county in which the bank is located, a list showing the total number of shares of the capital stock of such bank, the full name and residence of every shareholder as far as known, the actual market value of such shares and the par value thereof, the date of the last sale of stock in such bank, with the names of the seller and purchaser thereof, and the price paid for same, the annual dividend declared upon the stock of such bank for the last three years, the value of the shares as shown by the books of the corporation and by the last report of the officers to the shareholders, the amount of the surplus and the amount of the undivided profits not included in the surplus; and such president and cashier shall, at the same time return to the assessor of the county a sworn statement of all real estate owned by the bank, situate in this state, and the value thereof as assessed for taxation the same year, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the assessor, after passing upon such assessment, to deduct from the amount or sum at which the whole of the shares are assessed, the amount or sum at which the real estate, situate in this state and belonging to such bank, is assessed for taxation; and the residue of values remaining after such deduction shall be the assessed value of the whole of such shares, and such residue, divided by the whole number of shares, shall constitute the value of each share for taxation, and the bank shall pay for the shareholder, the tax assessed against such shares. It is the intent and meaning of this subdivision that the real estate of every such bank shall be assessed for taxation against the bank as other real estate in this state is assessed to the owner thereof, and that the bank shall pay the taxes thereon; and the shares shall be assessed for taxation against the shareholders, at their actual market value after deducting therefrom the assessed value of the real estate of the bank, and that the bank shall pay for the shareholders, respectively, the tax so assessed against their shares. In arriving at the market value of the shares there must be considered everything which gives them value, such as the franchise, the authorized capital and assets of the bank, the real and personal property, the reserve fund, the surplus, the undivided profits, and all other interests of the shareholder that would pass to a purchaser on a transfer of his stock; and except as herein expressly provided, no separate tax shall be levied upon these elements of value, or any of them. It shall be no ground of objection to such assessment of shares that it is entered upon the assessment-book in the corporate name of the bank.

*As amended by revenue committee.

Sumter Co. v. Nat. Bank, 62 Ala. 464; Pollard v. State, 65 Ala. 628; McGuire v. Bd. Rev., 71 Ala. 402; State Bank v. Bd. Rev., 91 Ala. 217; Jefferson Co. Savings Bank v. Hewitt, 112 Ala. 546.

Ib. §37.

9. Every share of any corporation organized under the laws of this state, or any other state, or of the United States (other than railroad, telegraph, express and sleeping-car companies, building and loan associations, and banks or banking associations) to be assessed and collected in the county wherein such corporation has its chief or home office in this state, and to be assessed at its actual market value, to the person in whose name such shares stand on the books of the corporation, and not to the corporation. It shall be the duty of the president or chief officer of every such corporation to make out and return under oath, to the assessor of the county in which the chief or home office of the corporation is located, a list showing the total number of shares of the capital stock of such corporation, and the par value thereof, and the full name and residence of each shareholder as far as known, the actual market value of such shares and the par value thereof, the date of the last sale of stock in such corporation, with the names of the seller and the purchaser and the price paid for the same, the annual dividend declared on the stock of such corporation for the last three years, the value of the shares as shown by the books of the corporation and by the last report of the officers to the shareholders, the amount of the surplus, and the amount of undivided profits not included in the surplus, and such president or chief officer shall, at the same time, return to the assessor a sworn statement of all the taxable property, real and personal, owned by such corporation, situated in the state, and the value thereof as assessed for taxation the same year; and thereupon it shall be the duty of the assessor, after passing upon such assessments, to deduct from the aggregate amount or sum at which the whole of the shares are assessed the aggregate amount or sum at which the real and personal property of the corporation is assessed for taxation; and the residue of values remaining after such deduction shall be the assessed value of the whole of such shares, and such residue, divided by the whole number of shares, shall constitute the value of each share for taxation, and the corporation shall pay, for the shareholder, the tax assessed against his shares, and the amount so paid for any shareholder shall be a lien on any interest which shareholders may have in any property owned by the corporation. It is the intent and meaning of this subdivision that all the property, real and personal, of the corporation, except such property as is exempt from taxation by the laws of the state or of the United States, shall be assessed for taxation against the corporation as other property in this state is assessed to the owner thereof, and that the corporation shall pay the tax thereon whether such assessment exceeds the aggregate assessed value of the shares or not; that the shares shall be assessed for taxation against the shareholders, at their actual market value after deducting therefrom the assessed value of the real and personal property of the corporation, and that the corporation shall pay for the shareholders, respectively, the tax so assessed against their shares. If the aggregate value of the shares does not exceed the aggregate value of the real and personal property of the corporation as assessed for taxation, then no tax shall be demanded or collected on the shares. It shall be no ground of objection to such assessment of shares that the same is entered on the assessment-book in the name of the corporation.

10. All real and personal property of water companies, including the pumping-stations, reservoirs, stand-pipes, towers, pipe-lines, gates, valves, tunnels, canals and dams used in the business of supplying water to consumers for pay; all real and personal property of electric light and power and gaslight companies, including all machinery, engines, dynamos, wires, poles, pipe-lines, and appliances of every nature and description used in connection therewith; all the real and personal property of every furnace, rolling-mill, mine, quarry, or manufacturing establishment, including all machinery, engines, and appliances of every nature used in the business; all dams across rivers and creeks.

11. All investments in bonds, except bonds of the United States and of this state, and such other bonds as are not by law taxable; but all capital invested in bonds or currency which are exempt from taxation shall be liable to be taxed under this section, should such capital, at any time during the year, be reconverted into money, bonds, or property which is taxable, unless it is made to appear that the money, bonds, or property into which such reconversion may be made has been assessed for taxes for such year.

Jan. 30, 1891, p. 208.

12. The road-bed, track and other property, real and personal, of railroads, and all tramroads, pole-roads, canals, ditches and channels used for transporting lumber, timber, logs or other valuable commodities of commerce, which are not taxed as improvements on the land, or plant, or main property of the owner of such tramroads, pole-roads, canals, ditches or channels.

Purifoy v. Lamar, 112 Ala. 123.

13. All dividends declared or earned, and not divided, by corporations doing business in this state.

14. All other property, real and personal, not otherwise specified herein, including cotton, pig iron, manufactured goods and other things of value.*

For purpose of taxation, chattels may acquire situs different from owner's residence.—Trammell v. Connor, 91 Ala. 398; Boyd v. Selma, 96 Ala. 144; Nat. Dredging Co. v. State, 99 Ala. 462.

3912 (454). Other subjects of taxation and rates thereon.—There shall also be assessed by the assessor in each county for taxation the following subjects at the following rates:

1. On the gross amount of sales at auction, made in or during the tax year preceding the assessment of goods, wares and merchandise owned by non-residents, each auctioneer shall be assessed and shall pay a tax of one-fourth of one per cent.; and a like tax on all sales made by him of property owned by citizens of this state, which has been imported into the state and sold at auction before the same has been assessed for taxes as other property; but on sales of goods, wares and merchandise and fruits, by cargo, the rate of taxation shall be one-eighth of one per cent.

2. On the gross amount of commissions, or sums charged and received, during each tax year, by any factor, broker, commission merchant, auctioneer or dealer in any other kind of property, in buying or selling, or for any other act in the course of their business, for a commission or compensation, by bale, sack, package, article or otherwise, and on the gross receipts, during such tax year, of all cotton-pickeries, warehouses or other places of storage of cotton, merchandise or other produce, cotton-compresses, grain-elevators, river landings, wharves, wharf-boats, stock-yards, whether attached to livery-stables or otherwise, and all foreign or domestic companies, doing the business of loaning money or other business of like character, at the same rate that property is taxed; but this shall not apply to banks and building and loan associations—otherwise taxed.*

3. On the gross incomes of all gas-works, electric-light companies, telephone companies, street-railways, toll-bridges and ferries, and also, all canals, ditches, channels, passes, tramroads, and pole-roads, used for transporting timber or other valuable commodities of commerce, at the rate that property is taxed.*

Capital City Water Co. v. Board Rev. (MS.)

3913. Telegraph companies to pay privilege tax to state treasurer.—Each telegraph company doing business between points wholly within this state, and without reference to its interstate commerce or governmental business, shall pay, in advance, on the first day of January of each year, to the state treasurer, a privilege tax based on the mileage of telegraph-line operated by it in this state, as follows: Each company whose lines within the state do not exceed one hundred and fifty miles shall pay at the rate of one dollar per mile; Feb. 28, 1889, p. 89.

*As amended by revenue committee.

each company whose lines within the state exceed one hundred and fifty miles, shall pay five hundred dollars, together with one dollar for each mile of such lines; and no telegraph company which has paid the privilege tax herein required shall be liable to pay any additional privilege tax or other tax in this state, except licenses required by cities and towns, and except upon its real estate, fixtures and other local property which shall be subject to taxation as other property in the state. The payment of such privilege tax to the treasurer shall be accompanied by a sworn report to the auditor, showing the number of miles of telegraph-line operated by such company within this state; and in default of the payment of such tax or the making of such report for sixty days after the first day of January, a penalty of double the amount of such tax shall be imposed upon and collected of such defaulting company.*

Feb. 18, 1893, p. 698.

3914. Express companies to pay privilege tax to state treasurer. Each express company doing business between points wholly within this state, and without reference to its interstate business, shall pay in advance, on the first day of January of each year, to the state treasurer, a privilege tax based on the mileage of railroad operated by it in this state, as follows: Each company whose lines within the state do not exceed five hundred miles shall pay at the rate of one dollar per mile; each company whose lines within the state exceed five hundred miles but do not exceed one thousand miles shall pay one thousand dollars; each company whose lines within the state exceed one thousand miles but do not exceed two thousand miles shall pay two thousand dollars; each company whose lines within the state exceed two thousand miles but do not exceed three thousand miles shall pay three thousand dollars; each company whose lines within the state exceed three thousand miles but do not exceed four thousand miles shall pay four thousand dollars, and each company whose lines within the state exceed four thousand miles shall pay five thousand dollars; and no express company which has paid the privilege tax hereby required shall be liable to pay any additional privilege tax or other tax in this state, except upon its real estate, fixtures and other local property, which shall be subject to taxation as other property in the state. The payment of such privilege tax to the treasurer shall be accompanied by a sworn report to the auditor showing the number of miles of railroad operated or run by the cars of such company within this state; and in default of the payment of such tax, or the making of such report for sixty days after the first day of January, a penalty of double the amount of such tax shall be imposed upon and collected of such defaulting company.

Douglass v. Anniston, 104 Ala. 291.

Feb. 16, 1893, p. 616.

3915. Sleeping-car companies to pay privilege tax to state treasurer.—Each sleeping-car company doing business between points wholly within the state, and without reference to its interstate business, shall pay, in advance on the first day of January of each year, to the state treasurer a privilege tax of five hundred dollars, together with one dollar for each mile of railroad run by the cars of such company within this state, and no sleeping-car company which has paid the privilege tax hereby required shall be liable to pay any other privilege tax in the state, but its real estate, fixtures and other local property shall be subject to taxation as other property in this state. The payment of such privilege tax to the treasurer shall be accompanied by a sworn report to the auditor, showing the number of miles of railroad run by the cars of such company within this state; and in default of the payment of such tax or the making of such report for sixty days after the first day of January, a penalty of double the amount of such tax shall be imposed upon and collected of such defaulting company; but such privilege tax shall in no case exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, and when it amounts to that sum no report of mileage shall be required.

*As amended by revenue committee.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §40.

3916. Building and loan associations to pay privilege and property tax.—Each building and loan association organized under the laws of this state or of any other state or country, doing business in this state, shall pay, in advance, on the first day of January of each year, to the state treasurer, a privilege tax of two hundred dollars; and no building and loan association which has paid such privilege tax shall be liable to pay any other privilege or other tax, except that every such association organized under the laws of this state shall be assessed for taxation and shall pay taxes upon the whole amount paid upon its stock or shares in force, less the amount of notes held by it secured by mortgages on real estate; and every such association, foreign or domestic, shall also be assessed for taxation and shall pay taxes upon its office furniture and real estate in this state.

Feb. 14, 1895, p. 496.

3917. Insurance companies to pay tax on gross receipts.—Each insurance company, whether organized under the laws of this state or any other state or country, doing business in this state, either as a fire, fire and marine, or inland insurance company, or as a life-insurance company doing business upon any plan, whether mutual, co-operative, assessment or otherwise, or as an accident or guarantee company, and every other style or class of insurance company, must, on filing its annual statement with the auditor, pay to the state treasurer, upon the gross premiums received by it from business done in the state during the year ending on the thirty-first day of December next preceding, a tax of one per cent. for the privilege of doing business in this state; and no credit or deduction of any kind shall be allowed or made on account of the cost of reinsurance taken by such company in any company not authorized to do business in this state. But the provisions of this section do not apply to any secret or benevolent society, such as Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Knights of Honor, Ancient Order of United Workmen, or like orders. Any insurance company failing or refusing to make returns as required by law, or failing or refusing to pay the tax herein levied, shall forever be debarred from doing business in this state, and shall be liable to a penalty in double the amount of such tax.

3918 (456). When foreign insurance company considered as doing business in state; taxes against.—When any person shall do or perform any of the acts, the doing or performing of which by him for any insurance company not organized under, or incorporated by, the laws of this state, renders him the agent of such company under the provisions of this Code, such company shall be held to be doing business in this state, and shall be subject to taxation for state, county and municipal purposes, in this state; and such person so doing or performing any of such acts shall be personally liable for such taxes.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §98.

3919 (457). When taxes become due and when delinquent. All taxes, unless otherwise directed, shall become due and payable on the first day of October in each year, and shall become delinquent if not paid before the first day of January succeeding, except in cases when parties are about to remove from the county.*

Swann v. State, 77 Ala. 545.

Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1275.

3920 (458). Property brought into state after first of October; when taxable.—All property brought into the state after the first day of October, and before the assessor has completed his assessment, except property that may be brought into the state by a bona fide citizen of the state, purchased with money held on the first day of October, which money has been assessed for taxation that year, shall be subject to taxation the same as if it had been held or owned in the state on the first day of October.

3921 (459). Lien of state and county for taxes.—From and after the first day of October of each year, the state shall have a prior lien upon each and every piece or parcel of property, real or personal, for the payment of the taxes which may be assessed against the owner, or upon such property, during that year, for the use of the state; and the county shall have a like lien thereon for the payment of the taxes which may be assessed against such owner, or upon such property, during that year, for the use of the county.

ARTICLE 4.

TAX-ASSESSOR; ELECTION, QUALIFICATION AND COMPENSATION; DEPUTIES.

3922 (460). Tax-assessor; election and term of office.—There shall be elected, at the time, in the manner, and for the term provided by law, a tax-assessor for each county in the state, who shall perform such duties as are, or may be prescribed by law.

3923 (461). Official bond.—Before entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, the tax-assessor must execute in duplicate a bond in the sum of two thousand dollars, payable to the State of Alabama, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the judge of probate of his county, and conditioned faithfully to discharge the duties of his office which are, or may be required by law during the time he continues therein, or discharges any of the duties thereof. One of such duplicates must be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate, and the other must be filed in the office of the auditor.

3924 (462). Oath of office.—He shall also, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, file in office of the judge of probate of his county an oath in writing that he will faithfully and diligently discharge all the duties which are, or may be imposed upon him by law; and such oath must also be recorded.

3926. No commissions on erroneous assessments.—He shall not receive commissions on errors made in assessments, on abatements or deductions from assessments allowed to the taxpayer, nor shall he, after the abstract-book has been turned over to the tax-collector, receive commissions on any assessment to which an objection by the taxpayer, regularly entered, may then be pending until such objection has been disposed of and the proper assessment ascertained and determined.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §8.

3927. Fees of assessor.—For making the demand on the taxpayer for his list of assessments, and for each assessment of property to "owner unknown," to be charged to the taxpayer or property assessed, and collected with the taxes, the assessor shall be entitled to fifty cents, to be entered upon the assessment; but the assessor shall be entitled to only one demand fee against each taxpayer although such taxpayer may be assessed a poll-tax and also a property tax. He shall be entitled to a fee of twenty-five cents for each notice issued from the court of county commissioners or other court of like jurisdiction, and served or mailed by him, the same to be charged to the taxpayer if the case made against such taxpayer be sustained, and to be added to such taxpayer's assessment; but in cases where the state fails before the court of county commissioners he shall receive no fees. For serving each subpœna for state witnesses, issued by order of the court of county commissioners or other court of like jurisdiction, the tax-assessor shall be entitled to receive twenty-five cents, to be taxed against the defendant and collected with the taxes, if the state prevails; and he is entitled to a fee of fifty cents from each delinquent who, at any time after the first day of January, makes his return at the office of the assessor, whether he has made any demand on such delinquent or not; Provided, that the tax-assessor of Mobile and Montgomery counties shall be allowed to charge a fee after the completion of his sittings.

3928 (467). Appointment of deputies; liability for acts of deputies.—The tax-assessor is authorized to appoint deputies, and the acts of such deputies shall be recognized as his acts, and he shall be responsible for any loss sustained by any taxpayer, or by the state or county, by reason of any unlawful act or assessment done or made by any of such deputies. Such deputies shall receive no compensation for their services out of the state or county revenue.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §15.

3929. Tax-assessor to have assessment-blanks printed; taxpayer entitled to copies.—It is the duty of the assessor to have printed, at the expense of the county, a sufficient number of assessment-blanks in the form prepared and furnished by the auditor; and upon request of any taxpayer the assessor shall furnish him with a copy or copies for use in rendering his assessment-list.

ARTICLE 5.

ASSESSMENTS; WHEN AND HOW MADE; DUTIES OF TAXPAYER, ASSESSOR AND APPRAISERS; FILING LISTS AND BOOKS OF ASSESSMENT AND NOTICE THEREOF; WHEN ASSESSOR SUSPENDED.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §16.

3930. Commencement and completion of assessment; supplemental assessment.—The assessment of taxes by the tax-assessor must commence on the first day of October in every year, and shall be finished by him by the first day of February following; but the assessor may be allowed until the first Monday in May in each year to make a supplemental assessment upon property which he may have failed to assess prior to the first day of February; and such supplemental assessment he must enter in the original book of assessment as any other assessment; and the judge of probate shall embrace such assessment in his abstracts for the auditor and collector.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §4.

3931. Appointments by assessor and notice thereof; effect of failure to give notice or attend.—The assessor shall give at least twenty days' notice, by advertisement in a newspaper, if there be one published in the county, and by bill posted at five or more public places in each election precinct, of the time when and the place where he will attend to assess the taxes. He shall visit each precinct twice at least thirty days apart, and remain there one day each time, from eight o'clock A. M. until four o'clock P. M. Upon failure of the tax-assessor to give the notice required by this section, or to attend any appointment made by him in any precinct, he shall, after legal notice, fill new appointments, or forfeit all claims to fees from such persons in such precincts as were disappointed by his non-attendance, but he shall not be entitled to fees for their failure to attend the second appointment from persons who attended the first. But the assessor, at his second appointment, in cities or towns of one thousand inhabitants or over, shall remain at the place of appointments for one week, for the purpose of assessing taxes, and the assessor of Jefferson county shall keep his office open at the court-house during the year, and the assessor of Barbour, Lowndes, Marengo, Chambers, Pickens and Elmore counties shall keep an office open at some place in the county towns of said counties, from the first of October of each year to the first of the following January; and the assessors of Marion, Greene, Macon, Marshall, Madison, Morgan, Etowah and Cullman shall keep an office open at the court-house, from December first to January first, in each year; and the tax-assessors of Perry and Hale counties shall each keep his office open at the court-house of said county from December fifteenth to January first, in each year; and the assessors of the several counties shall keep their offices open during the month of January of each year.

Ib. §5.

3932 (470). Taxpayer to attend appointment and return list of his property.—It is the duty of every person liable to taxation in each election precinct to attend in person before the assessor, by the first day of the second appointment in the precinct of the taxpayer's residence, and then and there render to the assessor, under oath, a full and complete list of all the property of which he was the owner, or in which he had any interest whatever, or of which he was trustee or agent, on the first day of October of that year.

3933 (479). Oath to be administered to taxpayer.—The tax-assessor or his deputy must orally administer the following oath to every taxpayer before receiving his return: "You do solemnly swear that you will true answers make to the lawful questions which I may put to you touching the return you are about to make, and that you will make a full and complete return of all the property owned by you, or in which you had any interest whatever, or of which you were trustee or agent, on the first day of October of the present tax year. So help you God."

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §1. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §22.

3934 (480). Assessor to interrogate taxpayer as to items and details of property.—After administering the foregoing oath the assessor shall particularly inquire of the said taxpayer as to the items and details of property and subjects of taxation, of which he may be supposed to be in possession, and for which he is liable to be taxed, and property exempt from taxation, in order that he may elicit from such taxpayer a complete statement of the whole amount and specific items of the property and subjects of taxation with which he should be charged for purposes of assessment and taxation; and the same having been entered upon the proper assessment-blank, the assessor shall require the taxpayer or his agent to make and subscribe to an oath, to be actually administered to him by the assessor or his deputy, that such a list is a true and correct list of all real and personal property, effects and choses in action, owned by such taxpayer, or in which he had any interest whatever, on the first day of October of that year, and a true answer to all questions lawfully propounded to him touching the same.

3935 (471). Demand of taxpayers failing to meet assessor at appointments.—After he shall have completed his appointments in each year, the assessor shall, in person or by deputy, make a demand upon such taxpayers as failed to meet him and return their lists at his appointments, wherever he may find them, for a list of their taxable property, and whenever unable to find them, he may leave a written demand at their residences or places of business; or where such taxpayer is a non-resident of the county wherein such tax is to be paid, such demand may be made by letter addressed and mailed to such taxpayers' last known residence; and it shall be their duty to return such lists to him by the first day of February following, at his office or wherever he may be found.

3936 (473). Full statement of subjects of taxation required of taxpayers.—Every person of full age and of sound mind, and every firm and body corporate or politic shall, when legally called on by the assessor, forthwith make to him a full, true and distinct statement of all the real and personal property, with a correct description thereof, of which he is the owner or holder, individually, or as guardian, parent, husband, trustee, administrator, executor, receiver, accounting officer, partner, agent, or factor, and including all moneys and credits so held or owned, or on deposit anywhere in the state, on the first day of October preceding, except as herein otherwise prescribed.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §23.

3937 (474). When sworn list may be sent in by another person. When a taxpayer resides out of the county, or, by reason of any infirmity or disability, is unable to attend the appointments of the assessor, or is a female, such taxpayer may send in his or her list, duly sworn to, by another person, or such list may be rendered by an agent having knowledge of his or her taxable property. Any person who knowingly subscribes to a list of property which is false is guilty of perjury.

3938 (481). When assessment of property made on information.—If any taxpayer refuse or fail to make such return as herein required, or the assessor be not satisfied with the correctness thereof, the assessor shall, from the best information he can obtain from any source within his reach, make such assessment of the property and subjects of taxation, to be charged against such taxpayer, as he may deem just and lawful. Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §1.

3939. Assessor to fix value of each item of property.—The assessor shall, from such list and from all other information known to him, ascertain the amount and actual cash value of each item of property so returned by or listed to any taxpayer; and the assessor shall, in separate columns, enter on such list such amount and value, and the deduction for exemptions to which such taxpayer is entitled; and the assessor shall also add to such list any item of property owned by such taxpayer, or in which he has any interest whatsoever, and which he has failed or omitted to place on such list; and the assessor shall, upon demand, furnish the taxpayer with a certified copy of his assessment-list so amended. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §22.

3940 (475). How values estimated; minerals and timber, when assessed separately.—Real and personal property shall be estimated at its value in money, according to the best judgment the assessor can form upon information, inspection, or otherwise, taking into consideration, if real estate, its location, whether in town, city, or country, and whether it is vacant and lying idle, or is occupied and in use, and if occupied and in use, the rent derived therefrom, its proximity to local advantages, its quality of soil, growth of timber, mines, minerals, quarries, or coal-beds, and the amount and character of the improvements thereon; and mineral and timber interests, when they have been severed in ownership from the soil, by sale or otherwise, shall be separately assessed; and if the person returning such list demand it, the assessors shall enter the values of such property in his presence.*

State v. Bienville Water Co., 89 Ala. 325; Capital City Water Co. v. Bd. Rev., 92 Ala. 380; Ala. Min. L. Co. v. Comr's, 95 Ala. 105.

3941 (476). How real estate may be described.—The description of real estate may be as follows:

1. If it is an entire section, it may be described by the number of the section, township and range.

2. If it is a subdivision of a section, authorized by the United States for the sale of public lands, it may be described by a designation of such subdivision, with the number of the section, township and range.

3. If it is less or other than such subdivision, it may be described by metes and bounds, or in some way by which it may be known

4. If it is in a city, town, or village, surveyed and laid off, and a plat thereof is recorded in the office of the judge of probate of the county, and it is a whole lot or block, it shall be described by the designation of the number thereof; and if it is a part of a whole lot or block, it may be described by metes and bounds, or in some other way by which it may be known; and it shall not be necessary to insert the quantity of such land in the assessment.

5. If it is a tract of which the subdivision is not known to the assessor, it may be described by metes and bounds, or in some other way by which it may be known or identified.

6. It shall be sufficient to describe lands to be assessed or sold for taxes, by initials, abbreviations and figures.

Description.—Driggers v. Cassady, 71 Ala. 529; Jones v. Pelham, 84 Ala. 208; Scott v. Brown, 106 Ala. 604; Zundel v. Baldwin, Ala. (21 So. 420); Smith v. Cox, Ala. (22 So. 78.).

3942 (477). By whom property should be listed.—The property of every minor shall be listed by his guardian, if he has one; if he has no guardian, by his father, if living; if the father is dead, by his mother, if living; if the mother is also dead, or is married, by the person having it in charge; of the wife, by the husband, if living and sane, and the parties reside together; if the husband is dead or insane, or is not living with the wife, by the wife; of any person for whose benefit property is held in trust, by the trustee; of every deceased person, by the executor or administrator; of those whose property is in the hands of receivers, by such receivers; of every firm, or body corporate or politic, by the partner, president, principal officer, or agent thereof; property in the hands or custody of any public officer or appointee of a court, by such officer or appointee; of those absent or unknown, by their agents, or the person having it in charge; of insane or idiotic persons of full age, by their guardians, if they have any; if they have no guardian, by the person having it in charge; of the lessors of real property, by such lessors; and all persons herein required to list property for others shall list it separately from their own, and in the name of the owner thereof.

Jackson v. King, 82 Ala. 432; Scott v. Brown, 106 Ala. 604; Freeman v. State, Ala. (22 So. 560).

3943 (508). Assessment of property and receipts of telephone companies; penalty.—The president, secretary, or manager of every telephone company, owning or operating lines, must annually, on or before the first day of February, make under oath to the assessor of the county in which such instruments are located, or such lines are operated, a return of the number of miles of telephone-wire in the county belonging to such company and the value thereof, the number of poles, batteries, instruments and articles of like kind in the county connected with its business and the value thereof, and the amount of the gross receipts of such company from its business done in the county during the preceding tax year; and in case such return is not made by any company within the required time, the assessor must ascertain, from the best information he can obtain, the amount and value of such property, and the amount of such receipts; and on the property and receipts so returned or ascertained, the assessor shall assess the taxes against such company; and when there has been a failure on the part of any company to make a return of such property and receipts within the required time, the assessor shall add to the assessment against such company a penalty of fifty per cent. on the amount thereof. Such assessment, as well as the assessment of the other taxable property of such company in the county, must be entered by the assessor in the book of assessments.

3944 (482). When assessment of receipts made on information; penalty.—When any person, or any company, corporation, or association, existing under the laws of this state, or under the laws of any other state or country, doing business in this state, is required to make to the assessor returns of the gross or net receipts, premiums or commissions of such business, and such returns are not made within the time required by law, but shall remain in default for the space of ten days thereafter, the assessor, after notice to the party required to make such returns, or if he is absent from the county, without notice, shall, upon the best information which he can obtain, ascertain the probable amount of such receipts, premiums or commissions, and shall assess to the person, company, corporation, or association, so in default, the amount so ascertained, with fifty per cent. thereon as a penalty; and the amount so assessed, including the penalty, shall be the amount on which the tax levied by law shall be collected. Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §9.

3945 (483). Assessment made on information after February first; five per cent. penalty.—Having failed to procure, upon verbal or written demand, from any delinquent, his list of taxable property before the first Monday in February, the assessor shall ascertain from inquiry or otherwise, the property and other subjects of taxation upon which such person is liable to be taxed, to the best of his information, and assess the same at its actual cash value, to the best of his judgment, and add five per centum of such value to the same as a penalty for non-assessment, which penalty shall not be remitted, except upon proof that the delinquent taxpayer was absent from the state, and had no resident agent therein during the time for rendering assessments, or when such taxpayer labors under disability of minority, or is a lunatic, or upon proof made that he was unable to meet the assessor at his appointment by reason of sickness. Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §6.

3946 (484). Assessments to "owner unknown"; how made; lands in one body not to be split up to multiply fees.—Whenever the assessor, while performing the duties of his office, knows or learns of any property, real or personal, subject to taxation in his county, the owners of which he does not know and which is not embraced in any return made him, prior to the first of February, by any taxpayer, he shall assess the value to "owner unknown" according to the best information which he can obtain, and shall add to the actual cash value thereof five per centum as a penalty for non-assessment, which Ib. §7.

said penalty shall not be remitted by the court of county commissioners, except upon proper showing by the taxpayer that he was absent from the state and had no agent in the state at the time of the assessment, or that such taxpayer labored under disabilities of minority, was insane or was disabled by sickness from attending the tax-assessor's appointments; and when the tax-assessor finds a lot, tract or parcel of land that has escaped taxation, it shall be his duty to assess such land to "owner unknown," and in any notice or advertisement or motion for a decree of sale, it shall be described as so assessed; and the assessor shall be entitled to the same fees for making such assessment as for demands made by him on taxpayers. In such case lands lying in one body, other than lands platted and divided into lots, shall be assessed as a whole, unless the assessor has reason to believe that they belong to different owners, in which case all the lands lying in one body and supposed to belong to the same owner must be included in one assessment; and no fee shall be allowed the assessor for any assessment made in disregard of this provision, but the assessment is not for that reason, invalid. But no lands shall be assessed to "owner unknown" until the assessor shall have made a demand upon the person, if resident in the county, or by registered mail of a non-resident whose address is known, to whom said lands or property were last assessed, in the event said lands or property have been assessed, and said assessor shall make diligent inquiry to ascertain the name of the owner of said lands or other property.

Oliver v. Robinson, 58 Ala. 46; Lowe v. Martin, 79 Ala. 366; Crook v. Anniston City L. Co., 93 Ala. 4; Nat. Bank v. Baker Hill I. Co., 108 Ala. 635.

3947 (485). Assessment of escaped taxes.—Whenever the assessor, while assessing the property and other subjects of taxation in his county, shall discover that any person or property has escaped taxation in any previous assessment or assessments within five years next preceding, he shall assess the taxes against such person, or on such property, for the years during which such person or property has so escaped taxation.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §8.

3948 (486). Form and contents of assessment-list; assessor to make plat-book, etc.—The taxable property, and other subjects of taxation, and the property exempt from taxation, shall be entered, or caused to be entered by the assessor, upon a blank assessment-list in the form prescribed by the auditor, with a full description of all property shown therein; and the assessor shall ascertain the value of each item or subject of taxation, and shall enter the same in appropriate columns upon such assessment-lists; and the assessor shall also enter, in appropriate columns, upon such lists, the amount of state, county and special taxes, on the aggregate of all real and personal property separately. And the assessor shall also make out a complete plat-book of all real estate in his county, unless such plat-book has already been provided, on a book to be prescribed by the state auditor, on which book the name of each owner shall be entered on the separate plat assessed to or by him where the same is practicable; for which book each county court of commissioners or board of like jurisdiction shall pay if the price of the same be found by them to be reasonable, and shall also pay the assessor for making out such plat-book a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars in counties of twenty-five thousand inhabitants and upwards, and fifty dollars in counties of less than twenty-five thousand inhabitants.

Ib. §9.

3949. Assessor to deliver assessment-lists to court of county commissioners, etc.—Such assessment-lists shall be, by the assessor, delivered to the court of county commissioners, or other court of like jurisdiction, for examination in connection with the book of assessments, together with such supplemental assessments as he may make on or before the first Monday in June of each year, for examination by such court.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §7. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §17.

3950 (487). Condensed statement of assessment and polls entered in books by assessor.—The assessor must make and enter in a book, suitably ruled and substantially bound, a condensed statement of all assessments made during each tax year, showing, in separate columns, the names of persons assessed in each precinct, in alphabetical order, the number of acres of land and other real estate, with the description and value thereof, and the number, amount and value of all other taxable property, and subjects of taxation assessed to each person, and property exempt from taxation; and the number, amount and value of each separate item entered therein, together with the amount of the state tax charged to each taxpayer, shall be extended and footed up, the footings carried forward, from page to page, and the total amounts thereof footed up; and the assessor shall also keep and enter in a suitable book a list, alphabetically arranged, of all persons liable to poll-tax in each township or school district.

Riddle v. Messer, 84 Ala. 236.

Ib.

3951 (488). Books and lists to be delivered to judge of probate. On or before the first Monday in May of each year, the assessor shall deliver to the judge of probate of his county such assessment-book and poll-tax book, and also all assessment-lists, including supplemental assessment-lists; and such books and lists shall be open to the inspection and examination of all persons.

Ib.

3952. Judge of probate to examine book and if correct give duplicate receipts therefor; copy to be sent auditor.—Upon the delivery of such assessment-books to the judge of probate he shall carefully examine the same, and, if made correctly and in accordance with the law, he shall receive the same, giving duplicate receipts therefor to the assessor, one of which duplicates shall be by the assessor promptly forwarded to the auditor; but if the judge of probate find such books of assessment improperly made and not in accordance with the law, he shall forthwith report the facts to the governor.

Ib. §18.

3953 (489). When assessor suspended for neglect of duty; appointment of commissioner in his stead.—If the tax-assessor shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of the second and third preceding sections, or is guilty of neglect of duty in carrying out other provisions of this chapter, he shall be suspended by the governor from the further performance of the duties of his office, and shall remain suspended, unless the general assembly by joint resolution restore him to office. During such suspension the governor shall appoint a tax-commissioner, who shall be at the time of such appointment a resident and qualified elector of the county in which such appointment is made, whose duty it shall be to assess the taxes of the county in which such tax-assessor has been suspended, and perform all the duties and be entitled to all the fees and compensation of the office according to law, after qualifying therefor as required by law for tax-assessors, and shall be amenable to all the rules, regulations, requirements and responsibilities declared by law for tax-assessors; and the assessor shall deliver the books and papers of his office to such commissioner.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §10.

3954 (490). Township and range to be noted on list and poll-tax book.—The assessor, each year while making his assessments, shall note in the poll-tax book and on the assessment-lists, the township and range, or school district, in which each person liable for poll-tax resides; and he shall also note in the poll-tax book the number of each race, in each township or school district, liable to poll-tax. Tax-assessors shall have until the first Monday in July to deliver their poll-tax books to the judge of probate.

3955 (492). Duty when taxpayer about to leave county.—When the assessor has reason to believe that any person who has been assessed is about to leave the county, he shall at once notify the tax-collector, and on his failure to do so, he shall be liable for the full amount of the taxes due, or to become due upon such assessment.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §7.

3956 (493). Duty to compute and enter county taxes and complete assessment-book.—After the county taxes shall have been levied by the court of county commissioners, the assessor must compute the amount thereof owing by each taxpayer, and enter the same in the book of assessments opposite the name of such taxpayer, and otherwise complete such book according to law and the orders of the court of county commissioners.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 108, §1.

3957. Land-book to be prepared by assessor.—It is the duty of the tax-assessor of each county in this state to procure at the expense of the county, a book properly ruled and bound, in which he shall enter a complete list of all the lands in the county, by the smallest subdivisions, beginning with the lowest section, township and range, proceeding in numerical order to the highest, and indicating the same by initial letters, abbreviations and figures in a marginal column on the left of each page.

Ib. §2.

3958. Form of book and entries to be made.—Such book shall contain not less than four blank columns on each page, in one of which, and opposite to each subdivision, the tax-assessor shall enter annually, stating at the top the year of entry, the word "public," if the same is public land, the word "school," if the same is school land, the word "state," if the same has been bid in by the state for taxes; and opposite to such lands as are taxable, he shall enter the name of the reputed owner, but when the name of the owner is not known he shall write the words "owner unknown."

3959. Lands to be listed each year.—The assessor shall list such lands each year, as provided in the preceding section, by comparing the list of the preceding year with the assessment-sheet, with the list of lands bid in by the state for taxes, as furnished by the auditor, and with the supplement to the county tract-book, as furnished the judge of probate by the secretary of state. Ib. §3.

3960. Land-book to be delivered to judge of probate by first Monday in May.—The assessor shall deliver such book, with the listing complete for the year, to the judge of probate of his county, on or before the first Monday in May of each year, and the same shall be open to the inspection and examination of all persons until the first day of October following, or until such time thereafter as it shall be required by the tax-assessor. Ib. §4.

3961. Failure to make land-book renders assessor liable to suspension.—If any assessor fails to comply with the provisions of the four preceding sections, he shall be liable to suspension as provided in this chapter. Ib. §5.

3962. Judge of probate to receipt for land-book and certify fact to auditor.—It is the duty of the judge of probate to issue to the tax-assessor, when such book is delivered, if properly filled out for the year, according to the provisions of this article, a receipt for the same, and immediately certify the fact to the auditor. Ib. §8.

3963. Compensation of assessor for making land-book.—For the services rendered by the assessor in respect to such land-book, he is entitled to compensation, to be allowed by the court of county commissioners and paid by the county as follows: In counties whose population does not exceed ten thousand inhabitants, not more than fifty dollars; in counties whose population exceeds ten thousand inhabitants, and does not exceed twenty thousand, not more than seventy-five dollars; in counties whose population exceeds twenty thousand inhabitants and does not exceed thirty thousand, not more than one hundred dollars; in counties whose population exceeds thirty thousand inhabitants, and does not exceed forty thousand, not more than one hundred and twenty-five dollars; in counties whose population exceeds forty thousand inhabitants, and does not exceed sixty thousand, not more than one hundred and fifty dollars; in counties whose population exceeds sixty thousand, not more than two hundred dollars. Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §11.

ARTICLE 6.

ASSESSMENTS AGAINST RAILROAD AND TELEGRAPH COMPANIES; STATE BOARD OF ASSESSMENT, ITS POWERS AND DUTIES.

3964 (494). Return to be made by railroad companies to auditor.—On or before the first day of February of each year, the president, secretary, or auditor of any railroad company whose track or road-bed, or any part thereof, is in this state, or if such railroad is in the hands of a receiver, such receiver shall, under oath, make to the state auditor a return in writing of the total length of such railroad, including the right of way, road-bed, side-tracks and main track in this state, and specifying the total length in this state, and in each county, city and incorporated town in this state; and also of the number of the locomotive-engines, and passenger, freight, platform, construction and other cars of such company, and of the average amount of merchandise and supplies kept or carried on trains for sale, or other disposition for a profit by such company to employes or other persons in this state, for the year next preceding the return; and such return the auditor shall lay before the state board of assessment at its next meeting thereafter.*

State Auditor v. Jackson Co., 65 Ala. 142; Perry Co. v. Railroad Co., Ib. 391.

3965 (495). Duty of auditor on failure to make such return.—If such return is not made on or before the first day of February of each year, the auditor shall proceed to ascertain the items and values in the preceding section mentioned from the best information he can obtain, and report the same to the state board of assessment at its next meeting thereafter.

3966 (496). State board of assessment.—The governor, secretary of state, auditor and treasurer of the state shall constitute a board for the assessment of the items of property of railroad and other companies required to be returned to the auditor, to be known as the State Board of Assessment. The governor shall be president of such board, and a majority thereof shall constitute a quorum. In the absence of the governor the auditor shall be president pro tempore of the board.

Feb. 9, 1891, p. 493.

3967 (497). Meetings of such board.—Such board shall meet at the office of the auditor annually, on the first Wednesday in February, and if there should not be a majority of the board present at that time, the auditor shall immediately notify the governor of the fact, who shall appoint another day for the meeting of the board, as early as practicable thereafter, and of such appointment the auditor shall notify the other members and the attorney-general; and should any further failure to meet occur, the governor shall have the power, and he is required to repeat the appointment until a quorum is obtained; and of such subsequent appointment like notice must be given by the auditor.

3968 (498). Assessment by board; penalty for failure to make return.—The board, when assembled, if ready to act, shall proceed to examine the returns made by railroad companies, and the reports of the auditor, when no such returns have been made, and determine the valuation of the different items of property required to be returned to the auditor, and to assess such property for taxation; and in case no return has been made by, or on behalf of any of such railroad companies, the board may add to the assessment which it may make against such company, a penalty of not exceeding fifty per cent. thereon.

3969 (499). Adjournment of board; powers relative to obtaining data for assessments.—If, at any meeting, the board should not have in its possession satisfactory data upon which to base an estimate of the value of the property with the assessment of which it is charged, or, from any other cause, is not able to make or complete any assessment, it may adjourn for any interval of time which may, in its opinion, be requisite to accomplish its object; and it shall have power to call upon any officer or agent of any railroad company, or upon any receiver in charge of the railroad of any company, for any records, books, or documents of any description pertaining to the business of such company, or for answers to any interrogatories which it may deem necessary to an intelligent discharge of its duties; and it shall also have power to require the attendance of any officer of any railroad company, or any other person, where the testimony of such officer or person may to it seem material.

3970 (500). Attendance and duty of attorney-general at meeting of board.—The attorney-general shall be present at every meeting of the board, to represent the interests of the state; and it shall be his duty to assist the board with his advice, or otherwise, and to make such suggestions and representations to it as he may deem advisable for the protection of the interests of the state; and his absence shall be sufficient cause for adjourning the session of the board.

3971 (501). Record of proceedings; attorney-general decides when board equally divided.—The board shall keep a record of its proceedings, which shall show what members were present at its meetings; and, when the members are equally divided upon any question, the attorney-general shall decide such question; and in every case in which he dissents from the conclusion of the majority of the board, he shall spread upon the records his reasons for such dissent.

3973 (503). Notice to assessors, and copy to superintendent of companies; duty of assessors.—When the board shall have completed the assessment of the property of any railroad company, the auditor shall notify the tax-assessor of each county, through which such railroad runs, of the number of miles of track in his county, and the value thereof, and the proportionate value of the other property of such company assessed by the state board of assessment, and taxable in his county, which he must enter in the book of assessments, in addition to the assessment of other real estate, fixtures, machinery, tools and other property of such company, to be assessed as other property of like kind owned by private citizens of his county; and the auditor shall also send to the superintendent of each railroad company, so assessed by such board, a copy of his notification to the tax-assessor touching the assessment against such company.

3974 (504). Returns to be made by telegraph companies.—The president, secretary, auditor, or managing agent in this state of every telegraph company whose line, or any part thereof, is within the state, must annually, on or before the first day of February of each year, make, under oath, to the auditor, a return of the number of miles of telegraph-wire in the state belonging to such company, and the number of poles, batteries, instruments and articles of all kinds, in the state, connected with its business, specifying the several counties in which such property is situated, and the items of property situated in each of such counties, and if any of such companies, its officers, or agents fail to make such return within the time specified, the auditor must ascertain such items of property and values from the best information he can obtain.*

3975 (505). Report of auditor to state board; assessment, and proceedings thereon; penalty.—The auditor must lay before the state board of assessment, at its next meeting thereafter, such returns, and when not made by any company, he must report to the board the items of property and values of the company failing to make returns, as ascertained by him; and thereupon the board must proceed to examine such returns and reports, determine the valuation of such property and assess the same for taxation, as in the case of assessment of the property of railroad companies; and it may add to the assessment against any telegraph company failing to make returns within the required time, a penalty of not exceeding fifty per cent. thereon. Upon the completion of the assessment against any telegraph company by the board, the auditor shall give to the tax-assessors of the several counties in which such property is situated, and to the superintendent or managing agent of such company in this state, the same notification touching such assessment as is required of him in case of assessments against railroad companies; and thereupon such assessors must act in reference to such assessment, and to the assessment of any other property of such company taxable in their counties, as they are directed to act in case of assessments against railroad companies by the state board of assessment.

3976 (509). Assessment of other property of railroad, etc., companies.—All property, real or personal, belonging to railroad, telegraph, telephone, sleeping-car and express companies, which is not required by the provisions of this article to be returned to the auditor, must be returned to the tax-assessor of the county in which it is taxable, and by him assessed, as other property in the county is returned and assessed.

*As amended by revenue committee.

ARTICLE 7.

POWERS AND DUTIES OF COURT OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, AND DUTIES OF JUDGE OF PROBATE TOUCHING ASSESSMENTS; LEVY OF COUNTY TAXES.

3977 (510). Terms of commissioners' court.—For the performance of their duties under this chapter, the court of county commissioners, or other court having like jurisdiction, in each county, shall hold regular terms on the first Monday in June and the second Monday in July of each year, and such adjourned and special terms as may be necessary; and such terms, regular, adjourned and special, may continue until the business of the court has been completed. Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §18.

3978 (511). Duties of the court at the June term.—The judge of probate, at the term of such court commencing on the first Monday in June, shall deliver to the court the book of assessments, the poll-tax book and all lists of assessments, as received by him from the assessor; and the courts shall then proceed to examine the same, and if they are prepared according to law, the court shall accept them; but the court must refuse to accept any assessment-list not returned in the manner prescribed by this chapter, unless it shall satisfactorily appear that the prolonged absence, or the non-residence of the taxpayer was the cause thereof; and all assessment-lists accepted by the court must be alphabetically arranged under its direction, and be carefully preserved for reference for five years, when they may be destroyed. The court must also order notice to be given for fifteen days, by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county, or if there be none, by posting the same at the court-house door and two other public places in the county, that the book of assessments has been prepared and is ready for inspection, and that the court will sit on the second Monday in July thereafter to examine the assessor's returns, and to correct any errors therein; and it shall be the duty of the judge of probate to see that such notice is given. Ib. §14.

Notice addressed to "the estate" of a decedent and left at his former residence is no notice.—Carlisle v. Watts, 78 Ala. 486; McGee v. Fleming, 82 Ala. 276.

3979. Correction of errors in assessments; proceedings; appeal.—Said court shall sit on the second Monday in July, for the purpose of hearing objections to the assessments as provided in the preceding section, and shall, if the notice therein provided has been given, determine the same, on the evidence which may be offered. Ib. §15.

Whenever objection is made, the court must cause the case to be stated on a docket in the name of the State of Alabama, as plaintiff, and the taxpayer as defendant, with a note of the objection set opposite the statement of the case. The assessor shall attend all trials of objections to assessments, and shall subpœna witnesses and introduce all documentary evidence which may be necessary to a full understanding of the question. If the taxpayer appears in person or by attorney, or has had five days' notice, the court shall raise or reduce the valuation of any property or subject of taxation and fix it at the sum which the evidence shows to be the fair market or real value thereof, and shall add such items of taxation and fix the value thereof, as may have escaped assessment. If necessary, the court may postpone the hearing to a future day, and may cause notice to the defendant to be served on him by the assessor, if he is a resident of the county, or on his agent, or attorney, if the taxpayer does not reside in the county, or if he does not reside in the county and has no agent or attorney therein, then notice shall be given by registered mail, by the assessor. In hearing such objections, the court shall receive only evidence touching the fair market or real value of the property, and shall take into consideration its character, whether improved or not, its surroundings, and, if it is productive, the amount of its average annual yield, and must render its decision at once, unless the taxpayer consents to a longer time, and the decision must be entered on the docket and signed by the presiding officer of the court. From the judgment of the court either party may appeal in five days to the next term of the circuit court, where the cause shall be tried de novo, but a bond in double the amount of the tax and probable cost shall be required of the taxpayer, conditioned to prosecute such appeal to effect, and pay such judgment as the court may render. If, on trial of the appeal, it should appear that the appeal was taken for delay, judgment must be rendered against the appellant and his sureties for the amount of the tax and costs and ten per cent. thereof. If no appeal is taken, the tax-assessor shall correct the assessment-lists according to the judgment of the court. The lien of the state on all the property of the taxpayer shall not be discharged by any appeal, but the same shall continue till the tax and costs and damages, if any, are paid in full. The court of county commissioners shall have power to correct any error or omission discovered after the July term. All appeals taken under this section shall be preferred cases, and must stand for trial at the term next after the appeal; and if the taxpayer is the appellant and the appeal is continued for the term, the court must order the taxpayer to pay the amount of taxes at which the owner assessed the property the current year, and such order of the court, entered of record, shall be sufficient authority to the tax-collector to collect that amount of the taxes claimed. But no change shall be made in the values of any preceding year when the taxes have been collected on such property.

Appearance a waiver of notice.—Com'rs v. Woodstock I. Co., 82 Ala. 151;

Tillis v. Com'rs, 91 Ala. 396. Judgment separate as to each taxpayer; joint certiorari not awarded.—Carter v. Com'rs, 80 Ala. 394. Proceedings on appeal; evidence.—Sullivan v. State, 110 Ala. 95; Ala. Min. L. Co. v. Com'rs, 95 Ala. 105; State v. Bienville Water Co., 89 Ala. 325.

Ib. §16. 3980 (513). Duty of assessor to attend court.—The tax-assessor shall attend the terms of such court held in June or July, or any adjourned or special term thereof, while the court is engaged in examining, hearing and correcting assessments.

Ib. §17. 3981 (514). Assessments of escaped taxes reported to court; how entered, collected and paid over.—Every assessment of escaped taxes against any person or property, made by the assessor, shall be by him reported in writing to the court of county commissioners, who, upon ten days' written notice to the person against whom the assessment is made, if known, is in the county, or has an agent therein who is known to the assessor, or to the court, to be served on him or his agent by the assessor, or his deputy, shall, at any regular, adjourned, or special term, proceed to allow, modify, or reject the assessment, as the justice of the case, upon the evidence adduced, may require. If the person against whom the assessment is made is a non-resident of the county, or has no known agent therein, ten days' notice shall be given by registered mail addressed to him at his residence, if the same be known. If the assessment is allowed as made, or is modified and allowed, it shall be entered in the book of assessments, collected and paid over as other assessments for the year in which it was made; but the rate of taxation thereon, both for state and county purposes, shall be governed by the rate for the year or years the subject of the assessment escaped taxation.

Ib. §18. 3982 (515). Intent and purpose of foregoing provisions; same liberally construed.—The intent and purpose of the foregoing sections of this article is to have all property and subjects of taxation fairly assessed, at the value which would be realized therefrom by cash sale, but not a forced sale thereof, in such manner as such property and subjects are usually sold; and for this purpose, the power and authority conferred in this article upon the court of county commissioners shall be liberally construed. But said court is expressly prohibited from reducing the valuation of any property below the fair cash market value of the property, or what the property would sell for cash.

Ib. §19. 3983 (516). When collector notified of changes in assessment. It shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners, if any errors are corrected, or any abatements or deductions in assessments are made at any time after the collector's book has been, by the judge of probate, turned over to the tax-collector, forthwith to notify such collector of the same.

Ib. §20. 3984 (517). Court may require assessor and collector to produce books and papers.—The court of county commissioners shall have power to compel, at any time, the production before it of all such books and papers as by law are required to be made or kept by the tax-assessor and tax-collector, relating to the revenue of the state or county.

Ib. §21. 3985 (518). Levy of county tax.—It shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners, at the term commencing on the first Monday in June, to levy the amount of taxes required for the expenses of the county for the current year, not to exceed one-half of one per cent. on the value of the taxable property, and the amount of other subjects of taxation in the county, as assessed for revenue to the state, as shown by the book of assessments after it has been corrected.

Ib. §22. 3986 (520). Certificate on book of assessments after it is corrected and completed; warrant of collector.—When the court of county commissioners, or other court of like jurisdiction, has completed its examination of assessments, and after the county taxes have been levied, and the assessor has corrected the book of assessments in accordance with the decisions of such court, and after the assessor has extended opposite the name of each taxpayer the amounts of the state and county taxes, and other tax, if any, with which such taxpayer is chargeable, and has footed at the bottom of each page, the aggregate amount of each of such taxes, carried his footings from page to page, and shown, in conclusion, the aggregate of each of such taxes, the presiding officer of such court shall certify on the book of assessments that the same has been examined, corrected and allowed by such court; and that the amount of state tax is $——, the amount of county tax is $——, the amount of special tax is $——, and the total amount of the poll-tax is $——, specifying the total amount of each of such taxes; and such certificate shall be the warrant to the tax-collector of the county to proceed to collect such taxes in the manner directed by law; if the poll-tax, or any part thereof, has been assessed in a separate book from the property tax, the presiding officer shall certify on such poll-tax book the amount of the poll-tax therein assessed, and such certificate shall be the warrant to the tax-collector to collect such poll-taxes.

The proper assessment-book, duly certified, is the collector's warrant.—Jackson Co. v. Gullatt, 84 Ala. 243.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §23. 3987 (522). On completion of the book of assessments, judge of probate to make abstracts for auditor and collector.—When the book of assessments has been completed as herein provided, the judge of probate must, without delay, make out in duplicate, upon forms to be furnished by the auditor, a complete abstract of all real and personal property, as contained in the assessment-book of his county, showing the total amount and value of each class of taxable property, and property exempt from taxation, and the amount of tax on each item extended in a column, and a statement of the polls in his county and the amount of tax thereon, one of which he must forward to the auditor, not later than the first of September of each year, and the other he must deliver to the tax-collector by said date. The auditor shall report to the governor, any judge of probate, who, for ten days after the time required, has failed to forward to the auditor the abstract of assessment of his county, and the governor shall forthwith require of such judge of probate an official report of the cause of such failure.

3988 (523). Judge of probate must also furnish abstract of poll-tax to superintendent of education and collector.—When the book of assessments has been completed as herein provided, the judge of probate must also make out in duplicate, on blank forms to be furnished by the superintendent of education, a correct statement of the number of polls assessed in his county, as contained in the poll-tax book, and of the aggregate amount of such taxes; one of which he shall forward to the superintendent of education not later than the first day of September of each year, and the other he shall deliver to the tax-collector. The superintendent of education must report to the governor any judge of probate failing to comply with the provisions of this section, and the governor shall forthwith require of such judge of probate an official report of the cause of such failure.*

3989. Judge of probate to furnish abstract-book to collector before October first; compensation forfeited by delay.—After the book of assessments has been completed as herein provided, the judge of probate must enter in a book, in concise form, the amount of taxes assessed against each taxpayer, showing separately the amount of taxes on real estate and personal property and other subjects of taxation, and the fees of the assessor, with a blank for the fees of the collector; and such book he must turn over to the tax-collector on or before the first day of October on which the taxes shall become due and payable; and for the services rendered by him in the preparation of such book, he shall receive compensation to be allowed by the court of county commissioners as follows, viz.: In counties where the aggregate assessed values of real and personal property amount to two million dollars or less, seventy-five dollars; when the assessed values amount to more than two, and not exceeding four million dollars, one hundred dollars; when the assessed values amount to more than four, and not exceeding six million dollars, one hundred and twenty-five dollars; when the assessed values are more than six million and not exceeding eight million dollars, one hundred and fifty dollars; and when the assessed values are more than eight million dollars, such compensation as may be fixed by the court of county commissioners, not less than two hundred dollars and not exceeding three hundred dollars; but any judge of probate who fails to complete such abstract by the time required shall forfeit all right to any compensation. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §86.

3990. Judge of probate to keep abstract of mortgages, etc., and file with assessor on October first.—The judge of probate shall keep a record, separate and apart from all other records, of every mortgage or article of agreement given to secure the payment of money, Ib. §28.

*As amended by revenue committee.

filed in his office for recording, which record shall set forth the following information, to wit: The date of the mortgage or agreement, the names of the parties thereto, the just sum of money secured, precise residence of the mortgagee or person to whom the debt is payable whenever such residence can be ascertained, a brief description of the real estate or other property upon which such mortgage is security, and the date or several dates when the said sum or sums thereby secured shall become due and payable; and it shall be the further duty of the judge of probate on the first Monday of October to file such record in the office of the tax-assessor with a certificate appended thereto, that the foregoing is a true abstract of all mortgages, liens and agreements in writing evidencing a debt recorded in his office since the first day of October next preceding; and such record, or a certified copy of any part thereof, shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the statements there entered in any court in this state. Any judge of probate failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Ib. §29. 3991. Auditor to furnish blank-book for abstract of mortgages; fees.—The auditor, at the expense of the state, shall prepare and forward to the respective judges of probate blanks or blank-books upon which to make out such abstract and for such services so rendered by the probate judges in this state, they shall receive five cents for every instrument abstracted, to be paid by the party filing such instrument for record.

3992. (524). List of insurance agents furnished assessor.—The judge of probate must, on or before the tenth day of January of each year, furnish the tax-assessor with a list of all agents for insurance companies in his county, with the names of the companies represented by them, so far as the same are disclosed by any records or books in his office.

ARTICLE 8.

TAX-COLLECTOR; ELECTION, QUALIFICATION AND COMPENSATION; DEPUTIES.

3993 (525). Tax-collector; election and term of office.—There shall be elected, at the time, in the manner, and for the term provided by law, a tax-collector for each county in the state, who shall perform such duties as are, or may be prescribed by law.

3994 (526). Official bond.—Before entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, the tax-collector must execute a bond in duplicate, in double the probable amount of the taxes that may at any one time be in his hands, to be determined for each county by the auditor, payable to the State of Alabama, with at least two sufficient sureties, to be approved by the judge of probate of his county, and conditioned faithfully to discharge the duties of his office, which are, or may be required by law during the time he continues therein, or discharges any of the duties thereof. One of such duplicates shall be filed and recorded in the office of the judge of probate, and the other shall be filed in the office of the auditor.

State v. Lott, 69 Ala. 147; State v. Houston, 78 Ala. 576.

3995 (527). Lien of bond.—Such bond shall operate, from the date of its execution, a lien in favor of the state and county, on the property of the tax-collector, and from the date of his default, on the property of the sureties thereon, for the amount of any judgment that may be rendered against such tax-collector for the breach of any official duty; and any new or additional bond, given in pursuance of law by the tax-collector, shall operate a like lien.

County v. Timberlake, 54 Ala. 403; Knighton v. Curry, 62 Ala. 404; Lott v. Mobile Co., 79 Ala. 69; Schuessler v. Dudley, 80 Ala. 547; s. c., 85 Ala. 541; s. c., 86 Ala. 527; Cummings v. May, 110 Ala. 479.

3996 (528). Oath of office.—He shall also, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, file in the office of the judge of probate of his county, an oath in writing, that he will faithfully and diligently discharge all the duties which are, or may be imposed upon him by law; and such oath must also be recorded.

3997. Commissions of tax-collector on general and special taxes. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §40. The tax-collector shall be entitled to receive commissions on taxes collected by him as follows, to wit: In counties where collections do not exceed twelve thousand dollars, the rate of commission shall be eight per cent. on the first thousand dollars, four per cent. on the second thousand dollars, and two per cent. on the remainder. In counties where the collection exceeds twelve thousand dollars, the commission shall be as above declared up to twelve thousand dollars, and one and one-half per cent. on the remainder up to sixty thousand dollars, and on all above sixty thousand dollars, one per cent. He shall also be entitled to receive two per cent. on all collections made by him of special taxes, whether such special taxes be levied for the state or county, to be paid out of such special taxes. The collector may retain his commissions upon collections when he makes payments into the state treasury.

3998. Commissions on poll-taxes and escaped taxes assessed and collected.—Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §24. He shall be entitled to receive five per cent. of the amount of poll-taxes collected by him, and the same per cent. upon all escaped taxes, other than poll-taxes, assessed and collected by him.*

3999. Mileage to and from seat of government.—Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §40. He shall receive five cents per mile in going to and returning from the seat of government, for the purpose of making returns and paying the taxes, once in each year, the distance to be the same as that established by law for members of the legislature.

4000. Cost of transmitting money to state treasurer allowed him.—Ib. He shall also be allowed the actual cost of transmitting his collections to the state treasurer, the same to be paid out of the treasury, or credited to the collector upon his making his annual settlement with the auditor.

*As amended by revenue committee.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §25.

4001. Fees of collector.—For making actual demand on delinquent taxpayers, the collector shall be entitled to receive a fee of fifty cents from each taxpayer on whom such demand is made, which shall be charged against such taxpayer and collected for the use of the collector in the same manner and by the same means as taxes are collected, but he shall charge only one fee against each taxpayer, although such taxpayer may be assessed a poll-tax and also a tax on property. For making a levy on and sale of personal property for the collection of taxes, the collector shall be allowed a fee of one dollar to be collected out of the property, and in addition thereto he shall be authorized to collect out of such property the actual expenses of keeping and moving the same to the place of sale, provided that the collector may sell any personal property levied on at any place in the precinct that he may determine, or may move the same to the court-house of the county for sale. For the levy on and sale of a tract, parcel or lot of land assessed to one owner, or to "owner unknown," the collector shall receive a fee of fifty cents in addition to the demand fee on such delinquent taxpayer, the said fees to be made part of the decree of sale and collected with the taxes due on the land sold or levied on for sale.

4002 (532). Authority to appoint, and liability for acts of deputies.—The tax-collector is authorized to appoint deputies, and the acts of such deputies shall be recognized as his acts, and he shall be responsible for any loss sustained by any taxpayer, or by the state or county, by reason of acts done by such deputies in the line of their powers and duties. Such deputies shall receive no compensation for their services out of the state or county revenues.

Rodgers v. Gaines, 73 Ala. 218.

ARTICLE 9.

COLLECTING, REPORTING AND PAYING OVER TAXES; INTEREST; ESCAPED TAXES; ERRORS; INSOLVENCIES; LITIGATED TAXES; SETTLEMENTS; WHEN COLLECTOR SUSPENDED.

4003 (533). Appointments by collector, and notice thereof.—The tax-collector shall attend, at the voting-place in each election precinct in the county, twice in each year, at least thirty days apart, from eight o'clock in the morning until four o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of collecting the taxes of such precinct; and of the time and purpose of such appointments, he shall give at least thirty days' notice by publication in some newspaper, if one is published in the county, and by bills posted at five or more public places in each election precinct. At such appointments the collector shall receive from each taxpayer of the precinct, meeting him thereat and tendering the same, the taxes and fees assessed and charged against him.

4004 (534). Effect of collector's failure to attend appointments; new appointments.—If the collector fails to fill either of such appointments in any precinct, he shall make, and, after like notice, fill a new appointment; and failing to do so, he shall forfeit the fee allowed him for making demand on any taxpayer in such precinct who may become delinquent, for the taxes due by him, and who attended and was disappointed by the non-attendance of the collector at such original appointment.

Feb. 7, 1893, p. 308.

4007 (537). Payment of taxes.—It shall be the duty of the taxpayers in each precinct to meet the tax-collector at one of his appointments therein, and then pay to him their taxes; but if from any cause such payment is not made at either of such appointments, it may be made at any time before the taxes become delinquent, without incurring any penalty for failing to then make such payment; but if the taxes are paid after they have become delinquent, the taxpayer shall also pay all costs, fees and charges, if any, that may at the time of payment have lawfully accrued.

Taxes constitute a legal liability on the taxpayer, which may be enforced by action at law.—Perry Co. v. Railroad Co., 58 Ala. 546; State v. Fleming, 112 Ala. 179. Repeal of law under which taxes levied and assessed does not affect liability of taxpayer.—State v. Sloss, 83 Ala. 93.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1198, §38. Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §27.

4008. Interest on taxes after becoming delinquent.—All taxes after becoming delinquent bear interest at the rate of eight per cent. per annum; and such interest must be added to and collected as part of the taxes, and reported in such manner as the auditor may prescribe.

4009 (538). Receipt of collector to taxpayer.—Upon the payment of taxes, and of fees and costs, if any, assessed and charged against him, by any taxpayer, the collector shall give him a receipt therefor, taken from the stub-book mentioned in the next section, showing the name of the taxpayer, the date of payment and stating separately the amounts of state tax on real estate, state tax on personal property, special state tax, if any, specifying the purpose for which it is levied; county tax on real estate, county tax on personal property, special county tax, if any, specifying the purpose for which it is levied; and, if any interest has accrued, stating separately the amounts thereof on state tax, special state tax, county tax, special county tax and poll-tax; and stating separately the amounts of assessor's and collector's fees and other costs, if any; and stating the aggregate amount of all taxes, interest, fees and costs collected; and such receipt shall be prima facie evidence that such taxpayer has paid all his state and county taxes, for that year, on the real and personal property, and other subjects of taxation, contained in his assessment-list, and all fees and costs mentioned in such receipt.

4010 (539). Stub-book of receipts kept by collector; delivery and production compelled by commissioners.—The collector shall keep a stub-book, or books, of receipts for each tax year, from which all receipts given to taxpayers must be taken; and upon payment by any taxpayer, the collector shall enter on the stub from which the receipt is taken the name of such taxpayer, the date of payment and the several amounts of taxes, interest and costs, and the aggregate amount thereof, as specified in the receipt prescribed by the preceding section; and such stub and the receipt taken therefrom shall bear the same number and correspond in all respects. Such stub-book or books, at the end of the tax year, shall be delivered by the collector to the judge of probate, and the production thereof by the collector may be compelled by the court of county commissioners, at any time before the delivery thereof to the judge of probate.

Britton v. State, 77 Ala. 202; Jackson Co. v. Gullatt, 84 Ala. 243.

4011 (540). Sale of personal property; no redemption allowed; payment before sale.—After the first day of January of each year, the tax-collector must proceed, without delay, to levy upon any personal property of delinquent taxpayers for the payment of their taxes, and, after having first given ten days' notice of the time and place of sale, with a description of the property to be sold, by posting the same at three or more public places in the precinct of the residence of such delinquent, either at the time of assessment or of the levy, or, if he is a non-resident of the county, in the precinct in which the levy was made, he must sell the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the taxes, fees and expenses of sale, including expenses of keeping the property and moving the same to place of sale, in front of the court-house of the county, or at the voting-place, or, in case the amount of the taxes does not exceed five dollars, at any other place in the precinct in which such notice was posted, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash; and the property so sold shall not be subject to redemption. For making such sale the collector shall be allowed a fee of one dollar, to be collected out of the property. But such taxpayer may, at any time before the sale, pay the taxes, fees and expenses, including the collector's fee for the sale, the same as if it had been made, and thereby discharge the levy.

Rodgers v. Gaines, 73 Ala. 218; Solomon v. Willis, 89 Ala. 596.

4012 (541). Application of proceeds of sale; other levies and sales authorized.—The proceeds arising from such sale shall be applied to the payment of the expenses of the sale, and of the taxes and fees due from such taxpayer, and any balance remaining shall be paid to the owner of the property, if present at the sale; if not present, or if present and he refuses to receive the same, the collector shall deposit such balance with the county treasurer, or, if there be no county treasurer, with the judge of probate, taking a receipt therefor, and the same shall be kept as a special fund; and whenever such owner shall apply to the collector for such balance, the collector shall deliver to him the receipt therefor, and upon presentation thereof by such owner, the officer with whom such deposit was made shall pay to him the amount expressed in the receipt. But if such excess is not called for in three years after such sale, by the person entitled to receive the same, upon the order of the commissioners' court or board of revenue, stating the case or cases in which such excess was paid, together with a description of the lands sold, when sold, and the amount of such excess, the county treasurer shall pass such excess of money to the credit of the general fund of the county, and make record of the same on his books, and such money shall thereafter be treated as a part of the general fund of the county. Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §28.

4013 (542). No property exempt from sale.—No property, whether exempt by law from taxation or not, shall be exempt from levy and sale for the payment of taxes and the fees and charges lawfully incurred in assessing and collecting the same.

Solomon v. Willis, 89 Ala. 596.

4014 (543). Collection by garnishment; collector to ascertain persons indebted to taxpayer.—If the collector ascertains, or has just cause to believe that any person is indebted to, or has in his possession, or under his control, any money, property, or choses in action belonging to any delinquent taxpayer in his county, he shall forthwith serve upon such person a notice in writing to appear before some court of the county having jurisdiction of the amount involved, naming the court, to answer as garnishee, and under oath, whether he was indebted to such taxpayer at the time of the service of the notice, or at the time of making his answer, or whether he will be indebted to him by any contract then existing, and if so, the amount of such indebtedness; and whether he has in his possession, or under his control, any and what money, property, or choses in action belonging to such taxpayer; and in such notice he shall state the amount of the taxes and fees due from such taxpayer. He shall also forthwith give such taxpayer, if in the county, written notice of the service of such garnishment; and the garnishment and notice he shall, without delay, return executed to the court before which the garnishee is cited to appear. And it shall be the duty of the collector, as far as by diligent inquiry he can, to ascertain what persons are indebted to, or have in their possession any money, property, or choses in action belonging to any delinquent taxpayer.

4015 (544). Proceedings on garnishment.—Such proceedings shall be conducted in the name of the state; and if the notice served on the garnishee is returnable before a justice of the peace, the garnishee must answer within three days after service; if before the circuit court, or court having like jurisdiction, he must answer within the first three days of the term next thereafter, if service was made upon him ten days before the commencement of the term; but if not, at the second term next thereafter; and thereupon, or in the event of a failure to answer, such proceedings and judgment may be had as in cases of garnishments on judgments.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §40.

4016 (545). Costs in such proceedings.—If the garnishment is returnable before a justice of the peace, the collector shall be entitled to one dollar, and the justice to two dollars, for their services in each case; if before the circuit court, or court having like jurisdiction, the clerk and sheriff shall be entitled to the same fees as in cases of garnishments on judgments, and the collector to two dollars.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §29.

4017. Shares in private corporations subject to levy and sale for taxes of owner; procedure.—The shares or interests in the stock of private corporations are subject to levy and sale for the payment of all taxes assessed against the owner thereof. To accomplish such levy and sale the tax-collector shall make out and certify to the judge of probate a bill against such owner for the amount of the taxes due from him and any fees due the assessor or collector, and upon the approval thereof by the judge of probate, in writing indorsed thereon, such bill shall operate as a fieri facias, and thereupon such shares and interests may be, by the tax-collector or his deputy, levied upon and sold for the payment of such taxes and fees and all costs, without having or obtaining the possession of such stock, by indorsement on the bill approved by the judge of probate, stating the number of shares or other interests on which the levy is made, and giving notice thereof to the custodian of the books of transfer of such corporation, if he be known, and reside within the state, or if he be unknown, or if he reside without the state, by posting at the court-house door of the county, and by publication for three successive weeks, in a newspaper published at or near the principal place of business of such corporation; all transfers of the stock made in good faith, for a valuable consideration, before notice of the levy is given, are valid and operative, and must prevail over the levy. The levy and the sale thereunder may be made in the county of the residence of the taxpayer or in the county in which the corporation has its principal place of business; and on making the sale, the tax-collector must make to the purchaser a transfer in writing; and the purchaser has the right to require the proper officer to register such transfer on the books of the corporation, and, with or without such registry, is entitled to all the rights and interest of the taxpayer as whose property such stock was sold.

Formerly such shares were not subject to levy and sale for taxes.—Kennedy v. Mary Lee Coal & R. Co., 93 Ala. 494.

Ib. §30.

4018 (546). When real estate may be sold for taxes.—When no personal property can be found out of which the taxes of any delinquent taxpayer can be collected, or an amount insufficient to fully satisfy such taxes, the real estate of such taxpayer, or the real estate upon which such taxes are a lien, may be sold for the payment thereof, or of the balance due thereon, in the manner hereinafter in this chapter prescribed. But the failure of the tax-collector to so exhaust such personal property shall not invalidate the sale of any real estate, but it shall render the tax-collector and the sureties on his official bond liable for the cost, which he shall be put to in redeeming such real estate, over and above the amount of the taxes, for the collection of which the sale is made, and interest thereon provided for in case of such redemption.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §20.

4019 (547). List of errors and insolvents and litigated taxes reported to the commissioners.—The tax-collector must, in each year, report on oath to the court of county commissioners, at the May term thereof, a list of the persons from whom the taxes assessed against them cannot be collected, with the amount of the taxes, state and county, assessed against each, which shall be termed "list of insolvents," and a list of such persons as have been overassessed, or otherwise wrongfully assessed, with the taxes, state and county, assessed against each, which shall be termed "list of errors in assessments," and any taxes which may be in litigation, in order that the same may be passed upon and determined by the court.

Treasurer v. Huggins, 8 Ala. 440; Perry Co. v. Railroad Co., 58 Ala. 546; State v. McBride, 76 Ala. 51.

Ib.

4020 (548). Duty of commissioners as to such lists; credits allowed collector.—At the same term, such court shall make a careful and rigid examination of such lists, and of the facts pertaining thereto, and shall ascertain and determine what taxes contained in the list of insolvents the collector could not, by the use of due diligence, have collected, and what taxes contained in the list of errors in assessment should not have been collected by him, by reason of such errors, and shall correct such lists accordingly, and shall credit the collector with the county taxes contained in such lists as corrected; and shall ascertain what taxes are in litigation and credit the collector with the county taxes so in litigation.*

Ib. §§11 20.

4021. Presiding officer to certify lists to auditor in ten days. Within ten days after the adjournment of the term of the court at which such allowances were made, the presiding officer of the court must certify to the auditor, separately, the itemized lists, as ascertained and allowed by the court, of insolvent taxes, errors in assessment and taxes in litigation, showing, in each instance, the name of the taxpayer and the amounts of state taxes and special state taxes charged against him; and, in the case of taxes in litigation, showing also when and in what court suit was brought; and if such lists are found to be correct, the auditor must, upon the final settlement of the collector, allow him credit for the amounts of state taxes and special state taxes shown by such lists.

*As amended by revenue committee.

Ib. §§11, 40. 4022. New accounts to be opened against collector for insolvencies and taxes in litigation.—Upon the allowance and credit to the tax-collector of insolvent taxes and taxes in litigation as provided in the two preceding sections, the court shall, in behalf of the county, state a new account against the collector for the amounts of insolvent county taxes and county taxes in litigation so allowed and credited; and upon the allowance by the auditor of the credits for insolvent state taxes and state taxes in litigation as provided in the preceding section, a new account must be stated by the auditor against the collector for the amounts of insolvent state taxes and state taxes in litigation so allowed and credited; and the collector shall remain charged with such sums until the liability is discharged as hereinafter provided.

Lott v. Mobile Co., 79 Ala. 69; Perry Co. v. Railroad Co., 58 Ala. 546.

Ib. 4023. Insolvent lists to be delivered to collector within twenty days from adjournment of court.—Within twenty days after the adjournment of the term of the court at which such allowances were made, the presiding officer of such court shall, from the list of insolvent taxes so allowed, make out and deliver to the collector a separate list for each precinct in the county, showing the name of each insolvent taxpayer and the amounts of state and county taxes, and costs, if any, due from him; and such collector shall receipt for such lists.

Ib. 4024. Duty of collector to collect and report such insolvent taxes.—It is the duty of the collector to proceed with all diligence to collect such insolvent taxes and to make monthly reports, payments and settlements thereof with the auditor and county treasurer as he is authorized and required to do in the collection of taxes which have not been declared insolvent; and he is entitled to the same commissions upon such insolvent taxes collected by him as are allowed by law upon the same character of taxes which have not been declared insolvent.

Ib 4025. Collector must make final report of uncollected balances of insolvent and litigated taxes; credits therefor.—At the May term of the court held during the year next succeeding, the collector must make final report of the uncollected balance of such insolvent taxes, showing the name of each insolvent taxpayer from whom he has been unable to collect and the amounts of state and county taxes due from him, and an itemized report of the taxes still in litigation; and thereupon, if the court is satisfied that the collector has made diligent effort to collect such taxes, the court shall make an order allowing the collector credit for such insolvent taxes as he has been unable to collect and for taxes remaining in litigation, and shall credit him with all county taxes included therein; and the presiding officer shall certify the same to the auditor who shall thereupon credit the collector with the state taxes included in the lists so allowed. The account for taxes remaining in litigation shall thereafter be kept in such manner as the auditor may prescribe.

4026. Collector must report on retiring from office; liability transferred to successor.—If the collector, while charged with the collection of insolvent taxes and taxes in litigation, shall retire from office before the expiration of the time allowed him to make such collections, he shall make, to the next term of the court thereafter, the report required by the preceding section; whereupon allowances must be made and certified and credits entered as provided in said section; but his successor in office must be charged with the several amounts so credited to the retiring collector, and is charged with the duty of collecting, reporting and paying the same, and making final report of uncollected balances in all respects as if no change in office had been made.

4027 (550). Collection of taxes from taxpayer about to remove from county.—It shall be the duty of the tax-collector, whenever, upon information or otherwise, he has good reason to believe that any person owing taxes, whether due or not, is about to leave or remove his property from the county, and thereby the collection of such taxes is endangered, to make out and certify to the judge of probate a bill against such person for the amount of such taxes and any fees due the assessor or collector; and upon the approval thereof by the judge of probate, in writing, indorsed thereon, such bill shall operate as a writ of fieri facias, which the collector is authorized to execute by levy and sale in the same manner as sheriffs are authorized to execute such writs when issued out of the circuit court.

4028 (551). Liability of collector when notified of person about to leave county.—On the failure of the collector to act when notified that any person assessed is about to leave the county, he shall be liable for the amount of the taxes assessed against such person.

4029. Collection of taxes from person who has removed from the county.—When the collector has information that any person owing taxes in his county, whether due or not, has removed to another county, he shall make out and certify to the judge of probate a bill against such person and procure the approval thereof by the judge of probate in all respects as provided in the second preceding section, and such bill shall operate as a writ of fieri facias; and the same may be executed by the collector if personal property of the taxpayer be found in his county, or may be by such collector forwarded to the collector of the county to which the taxpayer has removed, or to the collector of any county in which the taxpayer has any personal property; and the collector of such other county, on receipt of the writ, must proceed to execute the same as if issued in his county. He shall remit collections thereon to the collector sending him the writ, and is liable on his bond for any neglect of duty under this section. Feb. 18, 1891, p. 1198.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 8, §21.

4030. Escaped taxes assessed and collected by collector; his powers in such case.—It is the duty of the collector, when engaged in the collection of taxes, for any year, if he discovers that any person or property within his county has not been assessed by the assessor with the tax or taxes lawfully chargeable to such person or property for that year, or any preceding year, not more than five years before that time, forthwith to assess and collect the taxes due on the same, and in writing notify the assessor of the fact so discovered in order that proper assessment of unassessed taxes may be made; and the collector has the same authority to administer oaths and propound questions as the assessor has, and any party failing or refusing to answer such questions or to give in his property shall be liable to the same penalties as provided in cases where parties fail or refuse to give in their property to the assessor, or answer the questions required to be propounded by the assessor.

Perry Co. v. Railroad Co., 58 Ala. 546; Lehman v. Robinson, 59 Ala. 219; Calhoun Co. v. Woodstock I. Co., 82 Ala. 151.

Ib.

4031. Collector must report escaped taxes to judge of probate; entry; abstract.—Whenever the collector assesses and collects any escaped taxes, he shall forthwith report the same to the judge of probate, who shall enter such assessment in the back part of the book of assessments, and shall certify the amount collected and the items of property so assessed in the form of an abstract to the state auditor, and the collector is chargeable with the same to the amount of taxes due the state and county respectively.

4032 (553). Separate account of poll-tax paid by each race kept.—The tax-collector shall keep a separate account of the amount of the poll-tax paid by persons of each race in each township or separate school district.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 106.

4033. Poll-tax reported and paid into state treasury monthly; duplicate reports to county and state superintendents.—The collector must report and pay into the state treasury monthly, as other taxes are reported and paid in, all poll-taxes collected by him, after deducting the commissions allowed by law for assessing and collecting from the amount collected from each race in each township or separate school district; and he shall make a report thereof in duplicate showing the net amount due each race in each township or separate school district, one of which reports he shall furnish to the county superintendent of education of his county, and the other he shall forward to the superintendent of education.

Feb. 21, 1893, p. 1090.

4034. Annual consolidated report of poll-tax to be made to county and state superintendents.—The collector must, within ten days after making his final settlement with the auditor, make, to the county superintendent and to the superintendent of education each, a consolidated report of the net amount of poll-tax collected by him during the year and paid into the state treasury, showing by township or other separate school district the net amounts collected from each race separately.

4035 (555). Monthly reports and payments to be made by collector.—The tax-collector, within the first three business days of November, in each year, and within the first three business days of each month thereafter until he makes his final settlement for such year, shall make under oath to the county treasurer, or to the judge of probate, if there be no county treasurer in the county, an itemized report in writing, a copy of which shall be, by the collector, forwarded to the auditor, setting forth separately the taxes collected by him for the state and county during the preceding month and up to the date of such report, subsequent to his preceding report; and within five days after making such report he must pay to the state treasurer all state taxes then due from him to the state, by him before that time collected, and must then also pay to the county treasurer all county taxes then due from him to the county, by him before that time collected. The county treasurer shall give to the tax-collector a receipt in duplicate for such monthly report, one of which duplicates shall be promptly forwarded to the auditor by the tax-collector. Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §23.

State v. Houston, 78 Ala. 576.

4036 (556). Monthly report by county treasurer or judge of probate.—The officer receiving such report must, within three days thereafter, report in writing to the auditor the amount of state taxes collected by the collector as shown by his report; and if the collector fails to make his report within the time required by law, such officer must, within three days thereafter, report that fact to the auditor; and the auditor shall promptly report to the governor any failure on the part of a collector to comply with the provisions of the preceding section.* Ib. §45.

4037 (557). Collector must account to auditor in January and April; allowance for commissions, etc.—The tax-collector must also, on or before the tenth day of January and the tenth day of April in each year, account to the auditor, under oath, for the amount of taxes on or before the first days of January and April respectively, by him collected for the current year, and upon such accounting, shall be allowed, by the auditor, the amount then due him for commissions, fees, expenses and outlays, in the discharge of his duties, as provided by law.* Ib. §24.

4038 (558). Final settlement to be made with the auditor on or before the first of July.—On or before the first day of July in each year, the tax-collector must make final settlement, under oath, with the auditor, of all matters pertaining to the office of tax-collector, and pay over to the treasurer the balance which may be found due from him for amount of taxes with which he is chargeable under the laws of the state; and at that time he must also account to the auditor and pay over to the treasurer all money received by him from the sale of lands and other property which may have been sold for payment of taxes, and also account to the auditor for all the lands bought in by the state. He must also report under oath, to Ib. §25.

*As amended by revenue committee.

the auditor, and pay over to the treasurer, all escaped taxes assessed and collected by him.

Liability of collector for interest.—State v. Lott, 69 Ala. 147. Power of auditor to restate account.—State v. Brewer, 61 Ala. 318.

Ib. 4039. Final settlement to be made with county treasurer on or before the first of July.—The collector must also, on or before the first day of July in each year, make final settlement, under oath, with the county treasurer for all the county taxes, which have been assessed and levied for the use of the county, and then pay over to the county treasurer the balance of the county tax due from him as such tax-collector, and not paid over prior to that date, according to the tax-books in the office of the judge of probate.

Ib. §26. 4040 (560). Grounds of suspension by governor; appointment of commissioner during suspension.—If any tax-collector, without good and sufficient excuse, to be decided by the governor, fails to comply with any of the requirements of the last five sections, or is guilty of neglect of duty under any of the provisions of this chapter, he shall be suspended by the governor from the further performance of the duties of his office, and shall remain suspended, unless the general assembly, by joint resolution, restore him to office; and on such suspension the governor shall appoint a tax commissioner, who shall continue in office during such suspension, and who, after giving the bond and taking the oath of office required of tax-collectors, shall collect the taxes of the county, and perform all the other duties pertaining to the office of tax-collector, and shall be subject to the same rules, requirements, responsibilities, penalties and liabilities as are made for, or imposed upon tax-collectors. On such suspension and qualification of such commissioner, the tax-collector shall deliver to him the books and papers of his office, and shall forthwith make settlements with, and pay over to the proper officers the public moneys in his hands.

4041 (561). Settlement by personal representative on death of collector.—On the death of any tax-collector, his personal representative, general or special, must, out of the first moneys that come into his hands belonging to the estate of his decedent, and as soon as the same come into his hands, pay to the proper state and county officers the amount of public funds collected by such decedent, and not paid over by him at the time of his death, and must make settlement with such officers of any unsettled accounts of such decedent with the state and county touching the affairs of his office, as soon as practicable, and not later than the time when tax-collectors are required to make final settlements.

4043 (563). Special taxes; how kept and paid over.—Such special taxes, when collected, must be kept by the tax-collector separate from all other public moneys in his hands, and must be paid over by him to the county treasurer as a distinct fund.

4044 (564). How special taxes kept and disbursed by treasurer. The county treasurer receiving such special taxes shall keep the same separate and distinct from all other public funds, and shall keep a separate account thereof, and shall promptly disburse the same upon orders drawn thereon by the legally authorized authority.

4045 (565). How account of special taxes closed by treasurer. When the object for which such special taxes were levied and collected shall have been accomplished, or, for any other reason, the same are no longer required for the purpose for which they were levied, the parties charged with the administration or application thereof shall notify the treasurer, who shall thereupon close the account of such taxes, and transfer any balance remaining to the account of the general fund of the county.

ARTICLE 10.

SALE OF LANDS FOR PAYMENT OF TAXES; DOCKET, NOTICE, DECREE AND CONDUCT OF SALE; CERTIFICATE AND DEED TO PURCHASER.

4046 (566). Jurisdiction of probate court to order sale of land for taxes.—The probate court of each county is empowered to order the sales of lands therein for the payment of taxes assessed on such lands, or against the owners thereof, when the tax-collector shall report to the court that he was unable to collect the taxes assessed against such land or the owner thereof without a sale of such land. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §46.

Without a rigid adherence to statutory requirements, a sale of land for taxes is void.—Johnson v. Harper, 107 Ala. 706; Nat. Bank v. Baker Hill I. Co., 108 Ala. 635.

4047 (567). Docket of lands made by collector.—It shall be the duty of the tax-collector, at the expense of the county, to procure a substantially bound book, in which he shall enter, in the manner usual in docketing causes for trial in the circuit court, each parcel of real estate assessed to any person against whom taxes have been assessed which are not paid, when a portion or all of such taxes are on such real estate, describing the same in the same manner as it is described in the assessment-list, and stating the amount of the unpaid taxes, penalties, fees and charges due by such person, specifying the amount due the state, that due the county, and that due for fees and charges; and he shall, in like manner, enter in such book each parcel of real estate which has been assessed to an "owner unknown," and the amount of taxes, fees and charges due thereon, stating in each case the fact that it was so assessed. The descriptions of such real estate shall be entered in alphabetical order, by precincts of the residence of the owners, if known, and they reside in the county; but if they are unknown, or do not reside in the county, then by the precincts in which the real estate is situate. Ib. §47.

Riddle v. Messer, 84 Ala. 236.

4048 (568). Preparation of docket; time of delivery; effect of failure to deliver.—Such book shall be prepared in a neat and orderly manner, in a fair and legible handwriting, with sufficient space in each case to make the necessary entries, and, in other particulars, in a manner suitable for the purposes for which it is to be used; and if it is not thus prepared, the judge of probate shall cause it to be so prepared, at the expense of the collector, and the cost thereof shall be deducted from his compensation. Such book shall be delivered to the judge of probate on or before the first day of March; but if, from any cause, there has been a failure to deliver the same by that time, it may be delivered thereafter.

4049 (569). Notices issued to persons assessed; form of.—On receiving such book, and as speedily as practicable, the judge of probate shall issue a notice addressed to each person against whom any unpaid taxes are assessed, as shown by such book, substantially in the following form:

"The State of Alabama, ——— county. } To ——— ———: The tax-collector has filed in my office a list of delinquent taxpayers, and of real estate upon which taxes are due. You are reported as delinquent, and the following real estate is reported as assessed to you, to wit: (Here insert description.) This is to notify you to appear before the probate court of said county, at the next term thereof, commencing on Monday, the —— day of ———, then and there to show cause, if any you have, why a decree for the sale of said real estate should not be made for the payment of the taxes assessed against you, and fees and costs.

——— ———, Judge of Probate."

Notice in the manner prescribed is essential to the jurisdiction.—Carlisle v. Watts, 78 Ala. 486; Riddle v. Messer, 84 Ala. 236. Notice to one co-tenant not notice to others.—Howze v. Dew, 90 Ala. 178. Notice addressed to the "estate" of a decedent and left at his late residence, is no notice.—Carlisle v. Watts, 78 Ala. 486; McGee v. Fleming, 82 Ala. 276.

4050 (570). Service of notice; how made and returned.—Such notice must be served by the tax-collector, or his deputy, by handing a copy thereof to the party to whom it is addressed, or his agent, or by leaving a copy thereof at the residence or place of business of such party, or his agent; and, with his indorsement thereon, showing how and when served, or if not served, showing his reasons for not serving the same, it must be by the collector, or his deputy, returned into court on or before the first day of the next term thereof. If the party against whom such assessment was made has since died, and letters testamentary or of administration have been granted upon his estate, such notice must, in like manner, be served on his personal representative, if a resident of the county. If the property or other subjects embraced in any assessment were returned or listed by a guardian, or other person, for a minor, or person of unsound mind, or by a trustee for his cestui que trust, except husband for wife, or by a personal representative for the estate of any deceased person, or by a public officer, receiver, or appointee of any court, such notice must, in like manner, be served on the party making the return, or his successor, and also by publication or posting, as provided in the next succeeding section; and the book, to be prepared and delivered to the judge of probate by the collector, must show, in each case, by whom such returns were made.

4051 (571). Notice by publication or posting; when given.—If the person against whom such assessment was made is a non-resident of the county, and has no agent therein known to the tax-collector, or if he has died since making the return and there is no executor or administrator of his estate residing in the county, such notice may be given by publishing the same in a newspaper published in the county, or, if no newspaper is published therein, by posting the same at the court-house of the county for three weeks.

4052 (572). Notice when lands assessed to "owner unknown"; form of, and how given.—When any assessment is made to an "owner unknown," notice must be given by publication once a week for three successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county, or, if no newspaper is published therein, by posting the same at the court-house of the county, for three weeks, substantially in the following form:

"The State of Alabama, ——— county. } To whom it may concern: Take notice that the tax-collector has filed in my office a list of delinquent taxpayers, and of real estate upon which taxes are due; and therein is reported as assessed to "owner unknown" the following real estate, to wit: (Here insert descriptions.) This is to notify you to appear before the probate court of said county, at the next term thereof, commencing on Monday, the —— day of ———, then and there to show cause, if any you have, why a decree for the sale of said real estate should not be made for the payment of the taxes assessed upon the same, fees and costs.

—— ——, Judge of Probate."

In answer to such notice, any person, having an interest in, or claim to such real estate, may appear and defend against the proceedings seeking to condemn the same to sale for the payment of the taxes assessed thereon. When practicable, all real estate, so assessed for any one year, must be incorporated in one notice, a separate paragraph only, in addition to the caption and conclusion, being given to the description of the real estate embraced in each assessment.*

Notice to appear before "the probate judge," instead of "the probate court," void.—Smith v. Cox, Ala. (22 So. 78).

4053. Publication, rate, control, etc.—The publication of notices under the three preceding sections is governed by the provisions of this article relating to the publication of notices of sales of land, so far as the same may be applicable; and the tax-collector may select the newspaper in which any notice under this article shall be given.

4054 (574). Trial-term when service not made in time; issue of new notices; continuances.—If the service of notice is perfected before the commencement of the term to which it is returnable, but not in time for trial at such term, the cause shall stand for trial at the next succeeding term. If any notice is returned not served, other notices may be issued returnable to other terms of the court until service has been had; and if two notices to the same person are returned not served, notice by publication or posting may be given as in case of non-residence. For good and sufficient reason made known to the court, any cause may be continued from term to term.

4055 (575). Collector to attend court; his book as evidence. It shall be the duty of the tax-collector to attend at the several terms of the probate court, at which any of such causes are triable, and to have with him his tax-book; and such tax-book shall, in all cases, be accepted as prima facie evidence of the amount of taxes and fees due, and that the same have been properly assessed and charged, and are unpaid.

4056 (573). Decree of sale.—If service of such notice is perfected ten days before the commencement of the term to which the same is returnable, the cause shall stand for trial at such term; and if no defense is interposed, or, if interposed, and on the trial thereof the same is adjudged insufficient in law, or is not sustained by the evidence adduced, the probate court shall make and enter on such book or docket a decree of sale, substantially in the following form:

"It appearing to the court that taxes have been assessed against the person mentioned in this cause (or, if the assessment is to an "owner unknown," that taxes have been assessed on the real estate mentioned in this cause), to the amount of —— dollars for the year ——, and that the same are still due and unpaid; and it further appearing that notice of this proceeding has been given as required by law, and no valid defense has been interposed against the sale of said real estate for the payment of said taxes. It is, therefore, ordered, decreed and declared by the court, that the State of Alabama has a lien for the payment of said amount, and for the additional sum of —— dollars for fees, charges and costs in this behalf lawfully incurred, on the following described real estate, to wit: (Here insert description.) It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed by the court, that said real estate, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be sold for the payment of said delinquent taxes, and of said fees, charges and costs, and of the expenses of such sale."

Such decree, when entered, shall be signed by the judge of probate.

4057 (576). Sales under decrees; notice of sale.—Immediately at the end of any term of court, at which any decrees for the sales of real estate for the payment of taxes are rendered, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the tax-collector shall proceed to enforce such decrees by sales of the real estate ordered to be sold; and to this end, he shall give notice for thirty days before the day of sale, by publication in some newspaper published in the county, once a week for three successive weeks, and, at least three weeks before the day of sale, shall post a notice at the court-house in his county, and at some public place in the precinct in which the real estate is situate, that at the time specified therein he will proceed to sell such real estate, separately describing such portions as are embraced in each decree, and stating the amount for which each decree was rendered (without stating the items of which said decree is composed), and the person against whom the taxes embraced in such decree were assessed, or, if assessed to "owner unknown," stating that fact. The rate to be charged for publishing such notice in a newspaper shall not exceed one cent per word for each insertion; but no allowance shall be made for the publication of any matter other than is required by law; and if no newspaper is published in the county, or the publication of such notice cannot be had in the county at the above rate, the posting of the notice at the court-house and at a public place in the precinct in which the real estate is situate, as required by this section, shall be sufficient notice of such sale.*

Compliance essential to validity of sale.—Johnson v. Harper, 107 Ala. 706; Nat. Bank v. Baker Hill I. Co., 108 Ala. 635.

4058 (583). Abbreviations in advertisements and entries authorized.—In all advertisements and notices of the proceedings in the probate court for the sale of lands for taxes, and of such sales, and in all entries required to be made by the judge of probate, tax-collector, or other officer, initial letters, abbreviations and figures may be used to indicate townships, ranges, sections, parts of sections, blocks and lots, and dates and amounts; and in estimating the costs of publication, each amount, date, or number, and each initial letter or abbreviation shall be counted as a word.

4059 (577). Time and place of sale; judge of probate attends sales and makes record thereof.—Such sales shall be made in front of the door of the court-house of the county, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, between the hours of ten in the morning and four in the afternoon, and shall continue from day to day until all the real estate embraced in the decrees has been sold. The judge of probate must attend such sales, and make a record thereof in a book to be kept by him in his office for that purpose, in which he shall describe each parcel of real estate sold, and state to whom sold, the price paid by the purchaser, the date of sale, and if no sale was effected, stating that fact, and the reason therefor, and also, in separate columns, the amounts, as taken from the book or docket in which the decrees are entered, of each kind of tax, penalties, and of the fees and costs in each case; and he must also enter in such docket, in each case, the land sold under the decree in that case, the purchaser thereof, and the amount at which it was sold.

4060 (578). How real estate offered for sale; minimum price. It shall be the duty of the tax-collector, in making such sales, if practicable, to so offer such real estate for sale that only such portion thereof may be sold as is necessary to satisfy the decree under which it is sold, and the expenses of sale; but no sale shall be made for a sum less than the amount of such decree and expenses.

4061 (579). Second sale on failure of bidder to pay.—The party to whom any real estate at such sale is knocked off shall forthwith pay to the collector the amount of his bid, and, on his failure to do so, the collector must proceed at once to again offer it for sale.

4062 (580). When real estate bid in for state.—If no person shall bid for any real estate offered at such sale an amount sufficient to pay the sum specified in the decree of sale, and the costs and expenses subsequently accruing, the judge of probate shall bid in such real estate for the state, at a price not exceeding the sum specified in such decree and such subsequently accruing costs and expenses.

4063 (581). Certificate to purchaser; contents.—As soon after the sale as practicable, the tax-collector must make out and deliver to each purchaser, other than the state, a certificate of purchase, which shall contain a description of the real estate sold, and show that the same was assessed by the assessor, to whom assessed, the date of assessment, for what year or years the taxes were due, the amount of taxes due thereon, distinguishing the amounts due the state and county, and for school purposes, and the fees and costs, that it was advertised and how long, and that it was offered for sale, and at what time, and who became the purchaser, and at what price.

Johnson v. Harper, 107 Ala. 706.

4064 (582). Certificate of purchase to state; lands bid in not thereafter assessed.—For the real estate bid off for the state, in each case, the judge of probate shall make out a certificate of purchase to the state, of like import to the one provided for in the preceding section, and deliver the same to the tax-collector, who shall, on final settlement, deliver all certificates received by him from the judge of probate to the auditor, who shall cause the same to be recorded in a book kept in his office for that purpose, and properly indexed for convenient reference. Lands bid in for the state shall not be thereafter assessed, except as hereinafter provided, until the same have been redeemed from, or sold by the state.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §28.

4065 (584). Advertisements of sale; what part paid by state. The cost of advertising the caption and conclusion of notices for the sale of real estate for the payment of taxes, and so much thereof as pertains to those portions of such real estate as are bid off for the state, must be paid by the state; and the auditor shall, after every such sale, and after the collector has filed with the auditor the certificates of sales and purchases by the state, as provided in the preceding section, audit the account of the owner or proprietor of the newspaper in which such notices were published, and shall draw his warrant on the treasurer in favor of such owner or proprietor for the amount he may find to be lawfully due him, and payable by the state, and the treasurer shall pay the same; but the state shall pay no other costs attending any tax sale.

Burke v. Blan, 79 Ala. 97.

4066 (585). What portion of such advertisements payable by collector.—The cost of advertising the part of such notices, pertaining to lands purchased by others than the state, shall be covered by the bids of the purchasers, and collected by the collector as part of the purchase-money, but for the use of the owner or proprietor of the newspaper in which such notices were published, and by the collector paid over to him on demand; and for such portions of such costs, as well as for the cost of advertising lands inserted in the notice by the mistake of the collector, such collector and the sureties on his official bond shall be liable to the owner or proprietor of such newspaper.

4067 (586). Certificate of purchase assignable.—The certificate of purchase, delivered by the tax-collector to a purchaser at such sale, is assignable by indorsement; and an assignment thereof vests in the assignee, and his legal representatives, all the right and title of the original purchaser.

4068 (587). Officers forbidden to purchase at sale; penalty; sale void.—If the assessor, collector, judge of probate, or other presiding officer of the court of county commissioners shall, directly or indirectly, be concerned or interested in the purchase of any real estate sold for taxes, the sale shall be void, and he and the sureties on his official bond shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding five hundred dollars, to be fixed by the jury, which may be recovered in an action in the circuit court, or court of like jurisdiction, brought on the relation of any taxpayer of the county, in the name of the state, one half of the amount recovered to be paid to the relator, and the other half to the state.

4069 (588). Appeal from decree of sale, and proceedings thereon. From any decree rendered by the probate court for the sale of real estate for the payment of taxes, the defendant in the cause, or the state, in behalf of itself and the county, may appeal to the next term of the circuit court, or court having like jurisdiction, of the county, within thirty days after the rendition of the decree. If the defendant appeals, he must execute a bond in double the amount of the decree, payable to the State of Alabama, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the judge of probate, and conditioned that he will prosecute the appeal to effect, and pay such judgment as the appellate court may render thereon; but the state shall not be required to execute any bond. The solicitor of the circuit or county shall represent the state on such appeal, and of the pendency thereof the judge of probate must give him notice in writing; and on appeal by the state, notice thereof shall be given the defendant, as in other cases of appeal from that court to the circuit court. Such appeal must be tried de novo, upon an issue made up under the direction of the court. If the defendant appeals, and the issue is decided adversely to him, the court must render judgment against him and his sureties in favor of the state for the amount of the taxes, fees and costs, besides the costs of the appeal; and such judgment shall be a lien upon the lands described in the decree from which the appeal was taken, which lien, with a description of the lands, must be declared in the judgment.

4070 (589). Disposition of money collected on judgment.—Any money collected on such judgment, except for costs of court, must be paid to the tax-collector, who shall account for and pay the same over to the officers and persons entitled to receive the same.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §41.

4071 (590). Fees and costs.—For each notice to a delinquent landowner to show cause why a decree of sale should not be rendered, the judge of probate is entitled to a fee of fifty cents, and for each decree of sale, fifty cents; the tax-collector shall have twenty-five cents for serving each notice, but for his attendance at court he shall receive no pay; and in case of appeal, the sheriff and the clerk of the appellate court shall be entitled to the same fees as for like services in other cases.

Ib. §42.

4072 (591). Disposition of excess of purchase-money; when covered into general fund of county.—The excess arising from the sale of any real estate remaining after paying the amount of the decree of sale, and costs and expenses subsequently accruing, shall be paid over to the owner, or his agent, or to the person legally representing such owner, or into the county treasury as in case of excess arising from the sale of personal property for taxes; and if deposited in the county treasury, it may be paid therefrom to such owner, agent, or representative in the same manner as the excess arising from the sale of personal property sold for taxes is paid. But if such excess is not called for within three years after such sale, by the person entitled to receive the same, upon the order of the court of county commissioners or board of revenue, stating the case or cases in which such excess was paid, together with a description of the lands sold, when sold, and the amount of such excess, the county treasurer shall pass such excess of money to the credit of the general fund of the county, and make a record on his books of the same, and such money shall thereafter be treated as a part of the general fund of the county.

Ib.

4073. Excess may be paid to owner within five years.—At any time within five years after such excess has been passed to the credit of the general fund of the county as provided in the preceding section, or section 4012 (541), the court of county commissioners or board of revenue may, on proof made by any person that he is the rightful owner of such excess of money, order the payment thereof to such owner, his heir or legal representative; but if not so ordered paid within such time, the same shall become the property of the county.*

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §33.

4074 (592). Deed to purchaser.—After the expiration of two years from the date of the sale of any real estate for taxes, the judge of probate then in office must execute and deliver to each purchaser, other than the state, or person to whom the certificate of purchase has been assigned, upon the return of the certificate and payment of a fee of one dollar to the judge of probate, a deed to each lot or parcel of real estate sold to such purchaser, and remaining unredeemed, including therein, if desired by the purchaser, any number of parcels or lots purchased by him at such sale; and such deed shall convey to, and vest in the grantee all the right, title, interest and estate of the person whose duty it was to pay the taxes on such real estate, and the lien and claim of the state and county thereto; but it shall not convey the right, title, or interest of any reversioner or remainder-man therein.

4075 (593). Deed to be acknowledged; effect as evidence. Such deed shall be signed by the judge of probate in his official capacity, and by him acknowledged before some officer authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds, and it shall be, in all the courts of the state, prima facie evidence of the facts recited therein, in any controversy, proceeding, or suit involving or concerning the rights of the purchaser, his heirs, or assigns to the real estate thereby conveyed.

Acknowledgment.—Jackson v. Kirksey, 110 Ala. 547. Void tax deed as color of title.—Alexander v. Savage, 90 Ala. 383; Gist v. Beaumont, 104 Ala. 347; Nat. Bank v. Baker Hill I. Co., 108 Ala. 635.

4076 (594). Forms of certificates and deeds prepared and distributed.—The attorney-general must furnish the auditor with suitable forms of certificates of purchase and deeds to purchasers at sales of real estate for taxes, from which the auditor shall cause to be printed a sufficient number of blank certificates and deeds, and distribute the same among the several judges of probate, to be used by them and tax-collectors on sales of lands for taxes.

Jackson v. Kirksey, 110 Ala. 547.

4077 (596). Assessment of lands bid in by the state, and not redeemed or sold.—It shall be the duty of the auditor to transmit to the tax-assessor of each county, by the first day of August of each year, a descriptive list of all the lands in the county reported to him as bid in for the state during the year, and not redeemed; and it shall be the duty of the assessor to present such descriptive list to the court of county commissioners at the term of such court then next ensuing; and it shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners, assisted by the assessor, to compare such list carefully with the record of sales of lands for taxes in the county and of the redemption thereof, and to ascertain if any of such lands have been redeemed, or were not liable for the taxes for which they were sold; and if any of such lands are ascertained to have been redeemed, or to have been sold for taxes for which they were not liable, the court of county commissioners shall promptly certify the facts to the auditor, and shall correct the record of land sales in the probate office. The assessor shall put a fair valuation on the remainder of the lands contained in such descriptive list, and shall calculate the state and county taxes on the same, and shall enter such valuation and taxes upon such descriptive list and return the same to the auditor, who shall thereupon add the taxes to the amount for which the lands were sold. The assessor shall furnish to the judge of probate a copy of the list returned to the auditor, and it shall be the duty of the judge of probate to enter the taxes therein calculated on the record of sale thereof kept in his office.

ARTICLE 11.

RIGHTS AND REMEDIES OF PURCHASERS OF LAND AT TAX SALE; STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS.

4078 (597). When sale invalid, lien of state and county passes. When the sale of any land sold for the payment of taxes is, for any cause, ineffectual to pass the title to the purchaser, except in the cases in which such sales are in this chapter expressly declared to be invalid, such sale shall operate as an assignment to the purchaser of the rights and liens of the state and county in and to the land sold.

4079 (598). Liability, when land not liable is sold.—When lands are sold for taxes which are not liable therefor, the purchaser may recover from the officer by whose fault or neglect the assessment or sale was made, and the sureties on his official bond, the amount of purchase-money paid by him therefor, with interest thereon from the day of sale.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §31.

4080. Liability of assessor and collector for failure of title attributable to their negligence.—In case of the sale of any real estate, either for the collection of the taxes thereon, or for the collection of other taxes due by the owner thereof, said real estate shall be described in all the proceedings incident to the condemnation and sale thereof, and in the certificate and deed issued to the purchaser, at said sale, in the manner described in the assessment thereof, and in case of the failure of the tax-collector to so describe said property in any part of said proceedings, certificate or deed, by reason of which said deed may be held insufficient to convey the property intended to be referred to, the said tax-collector and the sureties on his official bond shall be liable to the purchaser at said tax sale. Should, however, the property be insufficiently described in the assessment thereof, the said tax-assessor and the sureties on his official bond, shall likewise be responsible to the purchaser, or in case the said liability has been enforced against said tax-collector, then the said assessor and the sureties on his official bond shall be liable to the tax-collector, or his sureties, for whatever sum he shall have been compelled to pay to said purchaser on account of said defect.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §31.

4081 (599). The state or any other purchaser may bring ejectment or unlawful detainer.—The state or any other purchaser of lands at a tax sale, or any one claiming under him, may, after the expiration of six months from the day of sale, maintain an action of ejectment, or of unlawful detainer, or a statutory real action in the nature of ejectment, for the recovery of the possession of the lands purchased at such sale, and shall be entitled to hold the possession thereof, on a recovery, but subject to the right of redemption hereinafter provided for. When the state is the purchaser, the auditor may, if in his judgment it is to the interest of the state, after the expiration of six months from the day of sale, institute legal proceedings in the name of the state to recover possession of the real estate so bid in at tax sale, and when so recovered such real estate shall stand subject to sale, or it may be rented out if the governor so directs.

Purchase by tenant enures to benefit of landlord.—Jackson v. King, 82 Ala. 432. And by a tenant in common, to benefit of all co-tenants.—Johns v. Johns, 93 Ala. 239. But purchaser entitled to reimbursement.—Ib. Collusive purchase.—Thorington v. City Council, 88 Ala. 548; s. c., 94 Ala. 266. When purchase for benefit of mortgagor void as against purchaser at mortgage sale.—Gilmer v. Smith, 103 Ala. 228. When tax deed void.—Jones v. Pelham, 84 Ala. 208; Alexander v. Savage, 90 Ala. 383; Gist v. Beaumont, 104 Ala. 347; Scott v. Brown, 106 Ala. 604; Jones v. Harper, 107 Ala. 706; Nat. Bank v. Baker Hill I. Co., 108 Ala. 635; Jackson v. Kirksey, 110 Ala. 547; Zundel v. Baldwin, Ala. (21 So. 420); Smith v. Cox, Ala. (22 So. 78). Proof of regularity devolves on party claiming under tax sale.—Johnson v. Harper, 107 Ala. 706. Tax deed as color of title.—Gist v. Beaumont, 104 Ala. 347; Nat. Bank v. Baker Hill I. Co., 108 Ala. 635.

4082. Liability of officers when suit by purchaser defeated by reason of failure of duty on their part.—If, in any suit brought for the possession of land sold for taxes, the title of the purchaser at the tax sale shall be defeated on account of any defect in the proceedings under which the sale is had, or on account of any defect in or insufficiency of, the process by which the owner of the land was brought before the probate court, as is provided, or in the service of said process, or by reason of the failure of the judge of probate, on account of any negligence or refusal on his part to produce, when called upon, sufficient evidence of the proper issuance and service of said notice or process, or by reason of any other defect or insufficiency in any of the proceedings for the condemnation and sale of said property, or of the certificate or deed to said purchaser, or any two or more of said causes, the officer or officers, on account of whose omission or error said defect or insufficiency, or defects or insufficiencies, shall have arisen together with the sureties on the official bond, shall be liable to the purchaser, whose title shall be thus defeated, and to his assignees, for the full sum of the purchase-money paid by him at said tax sale, for said property, the cost of the suit in which said title failed, which the purchaser shall have incurred in attempting to maintain his title under said tax sale, together with the interest upon each of these amounts at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum; Provided, that suits under this section shall be commenced within five years from the sale. Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §32.

4083 (600). When plaintiff recovers purchase-money, etc., though cast in suit for land.—If, in any suit brought by the purchaser or other person claiming under him to recover the possession of lands sold for taxes, a recovery is defeated on the ground that such sale was invalid for any other reason than that the taxes were not due, the court shall forthwith, on the motion of the plaintiff, impanel a jury to ascertain the amount of taxes for which the lands were liable at the time of the sale, and for the payment of which they were sold, with interest thereon from the date of sale, and the amount of such taxes on the lands, if any, as the plaintiff, or the person under whom he claims, has, since such sale, lawfully paid, with interest thereon from the date of such payment, the interest on both amounts to be computed at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum; and the court shall thereupon render judgment against the defendant in favor of the plaintiff for the amount ascertained by the jury, and the costs of the suit, which judgment shall constitute a lien on the lands sued for, and payment thereof may be enforced as in other cases.

Complaint amendable at trial so as to make the statutory claim.—Wartensleben v. Haithcock, 80 Ala. 565. Municipal taxes paid by purchaser recoverable.—Turner v. White, 97 Ala. 545. When the taxes were not due. Watson v. Kent, 78 Ala. 602.

4084 (601). When defendant entitled to judgment for same, though cast in suit for land.—If, in a suit brought against such purchaser, or other person claiming under him, to recover possession of lands sold for taxes, the defendant claims and defends under the tax title, and his defense fails on the ground that such sale was invalid for any other reason than that the taxes were not due, and the plaintiff recovers, the court shall forthwith, on the motion of the defendant, impanel a jury to ascertain the amount of taxes for which the lands were liable at the time of the sale, and for the payment of which they were sold, with interest thereon from the day of sale, and the amount of such taxes on the lands, if any, as the defendant, or the person under whom he claims, has, since such sale, lawfully paid, with interest thereon from the date of such payment, the interest on both amounts to be computed at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum; and the court shall thereupon render judgment against the plaintiff in favor of the defendant for the amount ascertained by the jury, and the costs of the suit, which judgment shall constitute a lien on the lands sued for, the payment of which may be enforced as in other cases; and no writ of possession shall issue until such judgment has been satisfied.

Turner v. White, 97 Ala. 545.

4085 (602). Tender by party claiming adversely to tax title, and effect thereof.—In any suit under the provisions of either of the last two preceding sections, the party claiming adversely to the tax title may, at any time, tender the amounts required in such sections to be ascertained by the jury, with interest as therein prescribed; and no costs accruing after such tender shall be recovered of him, if, upon a refusal of the tender, he shall pay such amounts into court.

4086 (603). Statement of claims under tax title made in pleadings.—In a suit brought to recover the possession of lands, if either party claims under a tax title, he must, in order to entitle himself to the benefits of the three preceding sections, state in his complaint or plea, that he claims or defends, as the case may be, under a tax sale, giving the date of such sale; and such statement shall be a sufficient averment of the facts necessary to entitle him to such benefits.

Complaint amendable at trial so as to make the statutory claim.—Wartensleben v. Haithcock, 80 Ala. 565.

4087 (604). Effect of redemption or tender in suit by party claiming under tax title.—If, in any suit brought to recover the possession of lands sold for taxes, by or against the purchaser, or other person claiming under him, it is shown that the party claiming adversely to the tax title, being entitled to redeem, made within the time allowed for redemption, the payment required by law for the redemption of such lands, or made tender thereof, and the amount of such tender has been paid into court for the opposite party, judgment must be rendered in his favor for the costs accruing after such payment or tender.

4088 (605). Books, etc., of judge of probate and collector as evidence.—Unless otherwise provided, on the trial of any issue involving the sale of real estate for taxes, or the redemption thereof, the books and records belonging to the office of the judge of probate or tax-collector, and required by law to be kept, or certified copies therefrom, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

4089 (606). Statute of limitations as to recovery of lands sold for taxes. No action for the recovery of real estate sold for the payment of taxes shall lie, unless the same is brought within three years from the date when the purchaser became entitled to demand a deed therefor; but if the owner of such real estate was, at the time of such sale, under the age of twenty-one years, or insane, he, his heirs, or legal representatives, shall be allowed three years after such disability is removed to bring suit for the recovery thereof; but this section shall not apply to any action brought by the state; Provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to cases in which the owner of the real estate sold had paid the taxes, for the payment of which such real estate was sold, prior to such sale; nor shall they apply to cases in which the real estate sold was not, at the time of the assessment, or of the sale, subject to taxation. Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §33.

Does not apply when owner redeems from the sale.—Scott v. Brown, 106 Ala. 604. Nor to bill to enforce trust resulting from purchase by agent.—Waller v. Jones, 107 Ala. 331. Landlord admitted to defend, position same as if originally sued.—Turner v. White, 97 Ala. 545. Decisions under former statute.—Jones v. Randle, 68 Ala. 258; Lassitter v. Lee, 68 Ala. 287; Pugh v. Youngblood, 69 Ala. 296; Doe v. Anderson, 79 Ala. 209; Bolling v. Smith, 79 Ala. 535.

ARTICLE 12.

REDEMPTION OF LANDS SOLD FOR TAXES; SALES BY THE STATE.

4090 (607). Persons entitled to, and time allowed for redemption.—Real estate sold for taxes and bid off by the state may be redeemed at any time before the title passes out of the state, or if purchased by any other purchaser may be redeemed at any time within two years from the date of the sale, by the owner, his heirs, Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §34. Feb. 28, 1889, p. 777.

or personal representative, or by any mortgagee or purchaser of such lands, or any part thereof, or by any person having an interest therein, or in any part thereof, legal or equitable, in severalty or as tenant in common, including a judgment creditor, or other creditor having a lien thereon, or on any part thereof; and an infant or lunatic entitled to redeem may redeem at any time within one year after the removal of his disability; and such redemption may be of any part of the lands so sold which includes the whole of the interest of the redemptioner.

Redemption by tenant in common enures to benefit of all co-tenants.—Scott v. Brown, 106 Ala. 604.

Ib. 4091 (608). Mode and terms of redemption.—To obtain such redemption, the party entitled thereto must deposit with the judge of probate of the county in which the land is situate the amount of money for which the lands were sold, with interest thereon at the rate of fifteen per cent. per annum; all taxes which have been or should have been assessed against the land since the day of sale, or if bid in for the state, such taxes as should have been assessed if the land had been in the possession of any citizen, with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, and all costs to officers that may have legally accrued, unless such taxes and costs have been already paid by him, which may be shown by the receipt of the tax-collector, and one dollar to the judge of probate as his fee upon such redemption; and if the redemption is by a mortgagee, or other creditor entitled to redeem, or by any other person having an interest, but not the legal title, he shall have a lien on the lands for the money expended by him in effecting the same; and if by a tenant in common, he shall have a like lien on the interest of his co-tenant.

Dec. 7, 1888, p. 10. 4092. When distinct lot or parcel sold with other lands may be separately redeemed.—When distinct lots or parcels of land have been included in one assessment and sold for taxes under one decree, any person, other than the person against whom the decree was rendered, whose interest in one or more of such lots or parcels is such as to entitle him to redeem, but who has no interest in the other lots or parcels sold under such decree, may redeem the lots or parcels in which he has such interest, without redeeming those in which he has no interest.

Ib. 4093. Application under oath to be filed with the judge of probate; contents.—A person desiring to redeem any separate lot or parcel of land as authorized by the preceding section must file with the judge of probate application in writing, under oath, setting forth the date of the decree, the name of the defaulting taxpayer against whom the same was rendered, the description and character of each lot or parcel of land included in the decree and the assessed value thereof if separately valued in the assessment, or, if not separately valued, stating that fact and stating the assessed value of the whole of the lands, a description of the lot or parcel which the applicant seeks to redeem and, if not separately valued in the assessment, stating the value thereof at the time of the assessment, the nature of his interest in such lot or parcel and that he has no interest in the other lots or parcels; and such applicant must deposit with the judge of probate a sum of money which bears the same proportion to the amount of taxes and interest which would be required to redeem all the lands included in the decree, that the value of such lot or parcel as separately assessed, or, if not separately assessed, as ascertained by the judge of probate, bears to the value of the whole of the lands included in the decree; and, in addition thereto, such applicant must deposit the amount of all costs to officers which may have accrued upon such assessment and sale.

4094. Application to redeem separate lot or parcel must be submitted to the auditor for approval.—The judge of probate must, before allowing the redemption of a separate lot or parcel of land under the two preceding sections, submit the application, together with a copy of the statement or calculation ascertaining the amount to be paid on such redemption, to the auditor for his approval, and the auditor may call upon the judge of probate or the assessor or the collector for any information he may desire touching the application. If the auditor is satisfied that the applicant is entitled to redeem such lot or parcel of land and that the proper amount of money has been deposited with the judge of probate, the auditor shall indorse his approval upon the application and return the same to the judge of probate who must allow the redemption; but without the approval of the auditor the judge of probate must not allow the redemption and must return to the applicant the money deposited by him for that purpose. When such application is made within the time allowed by law for redemption, the same may be perfected as herein provided, notwithstanding the expiration of such limitation; Provided, that where the land sought to be redeemed has been purchased by an individual and not by the state, it shall not be necessary to submit the matter to the auditor.*

4095 (610). Certificates of redemption, and of release.—Upon the payment of the amount required by law for the redemption of lands sold for taxes by a party entitled to redeem, the judge of probate must issue to such party a certificate of redemption describing the lands, setting forth the facts of the sale, substantially as contained in the certificate of purchase, the date of redemption, the amount paid, and by whom the lands are redeemed; and he must make the proper entries in the book of sales in his office, and immediately give notice of such redemption to the county treasurer; and the certificate must then be presented to such treasurer, who shall countersign the same, and unless so countersigned, no certificate shall be held as evidence of such redemption. If such lands were bid in by the state, the person redeeming shall present the certificate of redemption to the auditor, who shall give to such person a certificate, releasing all claims to the lands acquired by the state at the tax sale.

4096 (611). Redemption-money for; where deposited, and how paid over.—If the lands redeemed were bid in by any person other Dec. 3, 1892, p. 8.

*Proviso added by revenue committee.

than the state, the redemption-money must be deposited by the judge of probate in the county treasury, and there kept separate and apart from the general funds of the county; and the judge of probate shall notify the purchaser of such deposit by mailing notice to the post-office address of such purchaser, if the same be known, and if unknown, then he shall mail such notice to such purchaser at the county-site of the county in which the lands are located; and upon the demand of the purchaser, his personal representative, or assignee, and the surrender of the certificate of purchase, the judge of probate must give him an order on the treasurer for the same.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §41.

4097 (612). Redemption-money must be promptly paid over, else no commissions allowed; quarterly reports.—When lands which have been bid in by the state are redeemed, the judge of probate must, during the week in which such redemption is made, remit to the state treasurer, at the expense of the state, the proportion of the redemption-money belonging to the state, and pay into the county treasury the proportion of such money belonging to the county, and to the proper authorities the proportion belonging to the school fund, if any; and upon all such money so paid over during the week of collection, he is entitled to commissions at the rate of two and one-half per cent., which he may deduct therefrom, but he shall not be allowed any commissions on any money not so paid over; and on the last business day in March and every three months thereafter, the judge of probate shall certify to the auditor and to the county treasurer, upon blanks to be furnished by the auditor, a full and correct statement of all real estate bid in by the state and redeemed, showing separately the amount of state, county and school taxes and penalties and costs received by him on such redemption.

4098 (612). Assessor and collector to be notified of redemption and fees paid them; duty of assessor to list lands.—Within five days after the redemption of any real estate bid in by the state, the judge of probate shall notify the tax-assessor and tax-collector of his county thereof, and shall, on demand, pay to them the costs and fees to which they are respectively entitled; and the assessor shall enter such real estate, and the name of the party redeeming the same, on an appropriate list, to be kept by him, for assessment.

4099 (613). Purchaser not liable for rents on redemption; exception.—Neither the purchaser nor any one claiming under him, who may have lawfully obtained possession of any real estate purchased at tax sales, shall be liable, upon the redemption of such real estate, to account to the owner for any rents, issues, or profits during such possession, but as to such rents, issues and profits, he shall be held and considered the rightful owner of such real estate, unless such owner, at the time of the sale, was a minor, or person of unsound mind, and had no guardian, or his guardian was not lawfully served with notice of the proceedings had in the court of probate for the sale of such real estate, in which event such purchaser, or other person in possession, shall be liable for rents, issues and profits, as in other cases.

4100 (614). Description of lands bid in by state, etc., prepared by auditor; sale thereof.—It shall be the duty of the auditor to cause to be prepared a suitable book, in which shall be entered a description, as accurate as can be obtained, of all the lands which have been bid in by the state, with the amount of state and county taxes due thereon, the date when such lands were bid in, and the lowest market value of each parcel or lot; and when two years shall have elapsed from the day of sale, such portions of such lands as have not been redeemed shall be subject to sale by the state; and the auditor, with the approval of the governor, may sell the same at private sale to any purchaser who may pay therefor in cash to the treasurer such sum of money as the auditor and treasurer, with the approval of the governor, may ascertain to be sufficient to cover and satisfy all claims of the state and county, which sum shall not be less than the whole amount of taxes, interest, costs, and officers' fees as provided for and required to be paid in case of the redemption of such lands. Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §37.

4101. When former owner to be notified and allowed to redeem. When application is made to the auditor by any person to purchase lands in which such person had no interest, it shall be the duty of the auditor to mail a notice in writing to the owner, or some person having an interest in such lands, if his place of residence is known, or, if not known, then to the judge of probate of the county in which such lands are situate, informing him that such application has been made and fixing a reasonable time within which such owner or other person having an interest in the lands, may redeem the same; and if such lands are not redeemed within the time so fixed, the same shall be sold to the applicant or to any other person desiring to purchase the same, without other or further notice to such owner or person having an interest in the lands. If such lands are redeemed within the time so fixed, the judge of probate must, without delay, report the same to the auditor and pay over the redemption-money as required by law. Ib.

4102 (614). Auditor to execute deed to purchaser; rights thereunder.—When lands have been sold by the state as provided in the two preceding sections and the purchase-money has been paid, the auditor, in behalf of the state, shall execute to the purchaser a deed, duly acknowledged, without warranty or covenant of any kind on the part of the state, express or implied, conveying to him all the right, title and interest of the state in and to the lands purchased by him; and such purchaser shall thereafter have all the right, title and interest of the state in and to such lands, and shall be held and treated as the assignee of all the taxes due upon such lands, or for which they were sold, and the penalties, and of all the taxes that should have been, under the law, assessed upon the same, if they had been the property of a private citizen of the state; and he shall be clothed with all the rights, powers and remedies as to acquiring possession, or, if acquired, as to defending the same, as if he had Ib.

purchased such lands at the sale made by the tax-collector and had obtained a deed therefor as authorized by law.

If state acquired no title by its purchase, auditor's deed conveys none. Fleming v. McGee, 81 Ala. 409. Mandamus to compel auditor to make deed. Purifoy v. Lamar, 112 Ala. 123.

Ib. 4103 (614). Auditor to certify sale to judge of probate and furnish description to assessor, etc.—Upon the consummation of such sale the auditor must certify the same to the judge of probate, who shall make entry thereof in the book of land sales in his office; and the auditor shall furnish a description of such lands to the assessor of the county in which they are situate, who shall enter the same upon his list for assessment; but the time allowed infants and lunatics, in which to redeem lands sold for taxes, shall in nowise be affected by any such sale and conveyance.

4104 (616). How county taxes, fees, etc., distributed.—When lands bid in by the state have been sold by the state, under any of the provisions of this chapter, the auditor shall draw his warrant on the treasurer in favor of the judge of probate of the county in which the lands lie, for the county and school taxes, and the fees and costs due to the different officers of the county, specifying each separately; and if the same cannot be ascertained from the records and papers in his office, the judge of probate, on notice by the auditor of such redemption or sale, must certify the same to him; and the judge of probate, upon the collection of such warrant, shall pay the same over to the officers entitled thereto, or authorized by law to receive the same.

4105 (617). Effect of failure to redeem lands bid in by state. The right to redeem any real estate bid in for the state shall be forfeited, unless such real estate is redeemed within the time prescribed in this chapter; and if not redeemed within that time, all the right, title and interest of the owner of such real estate, and of the person whose duty it was to pay the taxes thereon, in and to such real estate, shall be transferred to, and absolutely vested in the state.

ARTICLE 13.

CANCELING ERRONEOUS SALES AND REFUNDING PURCHASE-MONEY.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 623, §1. 4106. When sale by the state canceled and purchase-money refunded.—When land which has been bid in for the state at tax sales has been sold by the state at private sale and the purchase-money has been paid into the state treasury, and it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the auditor and of the governor that such tax sale was invalid by reason of the fact that the taxes for which the land was sold were not due, the auditor, with the approval of the governor, may, upon the surrender and cancellation of the deed executed by the auditor to such purchaser, draw his warrant on the treasurer, in favor of such purchaser, his heir or representative, for the amount of money so paid to the state for such land, and the treasurer must pay the same. But no such sale shall be canceled and the purchase-money refunded unless application therefor be made within two years from the date of such sale.

Ib. §2.

4107. Amount of such purchase-money paid over to county to be refunded to state.—The auditor must ascertain the amount of such purchase-money which has been paid to the county in which the land is situated, as fees, costs, taxes, penalty and interest, or on other account, if any such payment has been made on account of such purchase, which amount he shall certify to the judge of probate of such county, or presiding officer of the court of like jurisdiction, where the judge of probate has no connection with such court, who shall present such claim at the next succeeding term of the commissioners' court, or court of like jurisdiction of such county, when such court shall order a warrant in favor of the state for such amount, which warrant shall be a preferred claim against the county, and payable by the county treasurer to the judge of probate or presiding officer of any court of like jurisdiction where the judge of probate has no connection with such court, who shall forthwith forward such amount, less cost of remitting, to the state treasurer, and report it to the state auditor.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §§2.

4108 (595). When tax sale to private purchaser canceled and money refunded.—When land has been sold for taxes and purchased by a purchaser other than the state, and the purchase-money has been been paid into the state and county treasuries, and it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the judge of probate and the auditor that such sale was invalid by reason of the fact that the taxes for which the land was sold were not due, the judge of probate, upon the surrender and cancellation of the deed, if a deed has been executed to such purchaser, and an appropriate entry upon the record of sales in his office canceling such sale, must give to such purchaser a certificate to the auditor showing the amount of state taxes received by the state from the proceeds of such sale, and a similar certificate to the court of county commissioners, or court of like jurisdiction, showing the amount of county taxes received by the county from the proceeds of such sale; and the auditor, if he shall find such certificate to be correct, must draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of such purchaser, his heir or representative, for the amount of money so received by the state, and the treasurer must pay the same; and the amount so paid to the county must be allowed by such court at the next or any succeeding term thereof. But no such sale shall be canceled and the purchase-money refunded unless application therefor be made within five years from the date of the tax sale.

ARTICLE 14.

GENERAL DUTIES OF AUDITOR IN SUPERVISING THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE REVENUE LAWS; MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

4109 (618). Duties of auditor as to enforcement of revenue laws.—The enforcement of the revenue laws of the state shall be under the general supervision and direction of the auditor, who shall, by general rules, and, if need be, by specific instructions, direct the tax-assessors and tax-collectors in the discharge of their duties; and in case of doubt, he shall, after taking the opinion of the attorney-general, advise the assessors and collectors as to the construction to be placed upon the law; and such rules, instructions and advice, when followed or conformed to, shall protect them as against the state. He shall see that the returns, reports, payments and settlements, required by law to be made by any and all officers charged with the performance of any duties under this chapter, are promptly made by such officers at the time or times they are required to be made; and in default of the performance by any of them of any of such duties, he shall promptly direct such prosecutions or other legal proceedings as may be by law authorized or directed.

4110 (619). Assessment-lists; form and printing of.—It shall be the duty of the auditor to prepare and cause to be printed a blank form of assessment-list, specifying therein the different species of property, with appropriate blanks for a description of each, and the other subjects of taxation, which are required by law to be returned by the taxpayer to the tax-assessor for taxation; and upon this form he may cause to be placed an abstract of the duties of the taxpayers in returning their lists, and of their duties and liabilities as declared by law, and such instructions to the assessors as will advise them of their duties in making assessments of property and other subjects for taxation; and he shall furnish each assessor one or more of such forms, so that the assessor may cause to be printed, or otherwise prepared, as many copies thereof as may be needed in his county. The auditor shall also furnish to the judges of probate of the several counties blank forms, whereon are to be returned to him the abstracts of the property and other subjects of taxation, polls and taxes, required by law to be returned to him by such officers.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §15.

4111. Auditor to prepare and furnish printed forms of questions for use by assessors.—It shall be the duty of the auditor to have prepared for the use and guidance of the tax-assessors, a printed form of questions with suitable blank spaces for answer in writing by the taxpayer, his agent, or the tax-assessor, as to the description, location, quantity, quality, and all other information required to be given as to any and all property, real, personal, mixed, or an interest therein, together with suitable columns in which to enter the value placed upon such property or interest therein, and also a column showing the amount of state, county and special taxes on the aggregate of real and personal property separately.

4112. Revenue law to be printed in pamphlet for distribution. Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §38. The auditor shall cause the revenue law, with a copious index thereto, to be printed in the form of a pamphlet, and after retaining the number of copies which may be necessary for the use of the officers of the state at the capitol, shall furnish a copy thereof to each of the judges of the circuit and city courts, and the chancellors and judges of the supreme court, judges of probate, solicitors, members of the general assembly, members of the courts of county commissioners or boards of revenue, and assessors and collectors, and to bar libraries and justices of the peace, and shall cause the remainder to be sold at such price as will indemnify the state against loss from printing and publication of the same, as herein required. So much of the matter included in such pamphlet as may be copied from this chapter must follow in the order and arrangement in which it appears herein, showing the number of this chapter, the number and title of each article and the head-line and number of each section as herein shown.

4113 (620). Duty of auditor as to institution of suits; agreed statement of facts.—It shall be the duty of the auditor to cause suit to be brought, in the name of the state, against any and all persons by law charged with the collection of state taxes, or with any duty in regard to the state revenue, and their sureties, for failure to collect such taxes or to perform such duty; and he may also, in such cases as, in his judgment, the interest of the state requires it, cause suit to be brought against defaulting taxpayers for the taxes claimed from them by the state; and, in cases in which a reasonable doubt may exist as to the construction or validity of the law under which taxes are claimed, he may authorize an agreed statement of the facts of the case to be made for the speedy adjudication of the matter in controversy.

Liability for taxes enforceable by action at law.—Perry Co. v. Railroad Co., 58 Ala. 546; State v. Fleming, 112 Ala. 179.

4114 (621). Failure to give collector credit for commissions; how corrected.—When the auditor finds that he has failed to give any tax-collector credit for commissions to which he is entitled, he is authorized to correct such error in his settlement with such collector; and if the account of such collector has been closed, and such commissions have been paid into the state treasury, the auditor shall draw his warrant on the treasurer for the amount thereof in favor of such collector.

4115 (622) (506). Warrant for overpayments.—The auditor must draw his warrant on the treasurer in favor of any judge of probate, tax-collector, county treasurer, clerk of the circuit court, or other officer paying money into the state treasury, for any amount overpaid into the treasury by such judge of probate, tax-collector, county treasurer, clerk of the circuit court, or other officer.

4116 (623). Taxes a preferred claim in case of general assignment or insolvency.—When a taxpayer makes a general assignment of his property for the payment of his debts, or when dead, and his estate is or becomes insolvent, any unpaid taxes assessed against him, or against his estate, shall be a preferred claim, and shall be paid by the assignee or personal representative out of the first money received by him belonging to the trust or estate.

4117 (624). Officer selling property under decree or process to first pay taxes.—When any sheriff or other officer shall sell any property under execution or other process, or under any decree, judgment, or order of any court, it shall be his duty to ascertain what taxes are a lien upon such property, and, upon a sale thereof, to first apply the proceeds of such sale to the payment of such taxes.

Holding v. Thomas, 62 Ala. 4; State v. Vincent, 78 Ala. 233.

4118 (625). Liability of agent for taxes on receipts.—When taxes are levied on the gross or net receipts of any person, company, corporation, or association doing business in this state by an agent, such agent shall be personally liable for such taxes, and the tax-collector may collect the same from such agent by garnishment, or by the seizure and sale of any personal property belonging to him, as if such taxes were assessed against him.

4119 (626). Copies of papers, records, etc., in auditor's office as evidence.—In any suit against any tax-assessor, tax-collector, judge of probate, or other officer charged with the performance of any duties under this chapter, and his sureties, or either, for failure to pay over any money collected by him for the state, or to perform any other duty required of him by law, a copy of any bond, record, book, paper, contract, return, or other document, or of the official statement of any account between him and the state, in the office of the auditor or treasurer, certified by the auditor, if the original is in his office, or by the treasurer, if in his office, under the great seal of the state, shall be received as evidence in any case in which the original would be competent, unless the defendant shall deny under oath that he made or executed such original.

4120 (627). Assessor and collector may contract for stationery, printing, etc.—The tax-collector and tax-assessor are authorized to purchase necessary books and stationery, and to contract for the necessary printing in their respective offices, with the approval of the court of county commissioners.

White v. Williams, 49 Ala. 130.

4121 (628). Penalty against officer failing to pay over money collected.—Upon a verdict being returned in favor of the state, in any suit brought by the state against any officer charged with the collection of any revenue for the state, and his sureties, or either, for the recovery of any such revenue collected by him, a judgment must be rendered for the amount of such verdict, and twenty per cent. thereon.

ARTICLE 15.

LICENSE TAXES; FROM WHOM AND FOR WHAT BUSINESSES REQUIRED; PRICES; COUNTY LEVY.

4122 (629). Persons required to take out licenses, and prices to be paid therefor.—Licenses are required of all persons engaging in, or carrying on any business, or doing any act in this section specified, for which shall be paid, for the use of the state, the following taxes, to wit:

1. For each public race-track, at or within five miles of any city or town containing less than five thousand inhabitants, one hundred dollars; at or within five miles of any city or town containing more than five thousand inhabitants, two hundred dollars.

2. For the retail of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, on any steamboat or other water-craft, or on any sleeping, dining, or buffet car, two hundred and fifty dollars, for which the state shall have a preferred lien on such steamboat or other water-craft, and cars named; and such lien may be enforced whenever any such liquors are retailed by any person on such steamboat or other water-craft, or cars, with the knowledge or consent of the captain, or conductor, without having first procured a license therefor, as provided by law; and the tax-collector of any county in which such steamboat or other water-craft may ply, or cars run, is required to enforce such lien in the same manner, and by the same proceedings, as are authorized for the collection of taxes on steamboats and on railroad-cars.

3. For retailers of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors except as hereinafter provided, in any city, town, village, or any other place of less than one thousand inhabitants, one hundred and fifty dollars; in any city, town, or village of more than one thousand inhabitants and less than three thousand inhabitants, two hundred dollars; in any city containing three thousand inhabitants or more, and less than ten thousand inhabitants, two hundred and seventy-five dollars; and in any city of more than ten thousand inhabitants, three hundred and twenty-five dollars. But dealers in lager-beer exclusively shall be charged one-fourth of the above rates. Any person who pays for and takes out a license as a retailer, shall not be required to pay for and take out a license as a wholesale dealer in such liquors; and when a retail license is taken out after the first day of January, and before the first day of July, the price of the license shall be the same as for a license for twelve months. Any person who sells or disposes of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, or intoxicating bitters, in any quantity less than a quart, shall be deemed a retail dealer; Provided, nothing in this paragraph shall be so construed as to alter, repeal or modify any license now authorized and required to be paid to any district, city or municipality for municipal purposes. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §48.

Allred v. State, 89 Ala. 112; State v. Fleming, 112 Ala. 179.

4. For wholesale dealers in spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors in any place, two hundred dollars. Any person dealing in said articles, who shall sell, barter, or exchange, or in any way dispose of, or permit to be taken, spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, in any quantity less than one quart, or who shall permit the same to be drunk by the glass, or single drink, in or about his place of business, shall be deemed a retail dealer; and any dealer so disposing of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, only in the quantity of one quart or more, shall be deemed a wholesale dealer; but any person having taken out a license as retail dealer is authorized to sell at wholesale without additional license.

5. For compounders and rectifiers of spirituous or vinous liquors, two hundred dollars. Any person who rectifies, purifies or refines distilled spirits or wines, by any process, or who mixes distilled spirits or wines with any chemicals, or compounds liquors for sale under any name, shall be deemed a compounder and rectifier.

Dec. 10, 1892, p. 71. 6. For distillers of spirituous liquors, twenty-five dollars; but this shall not apply to the distilling of fruits.

Grant v. State, 73 Ala. 13; Johnson v. State, 44 Ala. 414.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §45. 7. For brewers, one hundred dollars. Every agency of a brewery of another state doing business in this state, shall pay the same license.

8. For bowling-alleys, for the use of which money or other compensation is charged, twenty-five dollars for each alley; and for each bowling-alley kept in connection with a drinking-saloon, whether compensation is charged or not, twenty-five dollars.

9. For each billiard-table, for the use of which money or other compensation is charged, and which is not kept in connection with the business of a barroom or drinking-saloon, twenty-five dollars.

10. For each billiard-table kept in connection with the business of a barroom or drinking-saloon, whether its use be charged for or not, fifty dollars.

11. For each table upon which the game of pin-pool is played, one hundred dollars.

12. For each table upon which a game of pool is played with fifteen balls, more or less, and not pin-pool, for the use of which money or other thing of value is charged, or when kept in connection with a barroom or drinking-saloon, whether its use be charged for or not, fifty dollars.

13. For each bagatelle or Jenny-Lind table, or any other table or device of any kind from which any kind of profit is derived by the keeper, fifty dollars.

14. For each table or device, or set of domino-bones, kept in connection with a barroom or drinking-saloon for use in playing the game commonly known as dominoes, twenty-five dollars; and for each dice-box and dice kept in a barroom or drinking-saloon, twenty-five dollars.

15. For each theatre in towns or cities containing more than eight thousand inhabitants, one hundred dollars; but this price shall not be charged for licenses for open-air or summer theatres, such as at Mobile on the bay-shore, and known as Frascati, but for each such open-air or summer theatre, twenty-five dollars; in towns or cities containing less than eight thousand and more than two thousand inhabitants, fifty dollars; and in towns or cities containing less than two thousand inhabitants, twenty-five dollars; but the owner or manager of any theatre holding any such license must issue tickets of admission to all persons whom they admit to their exhibitions, and must thereon assign a particular seat to each such person, in such part of the theatre as the convenience of such owner or manager may require. This license shall only extend to dramatic and operatic exhibitions; and if any doubt arises as to the character of an entertainment proposed to be exhibited in any theatre, the judge of probate of the county in which the theatre is situated shall determine whether or not it is covered by the theatrical license.

16. For each public hall let for hire, twenty-five dollars.

17. For each concert, musical entertainment, public lecture, or other public exhibition or entertainment, where charges are made for admission, or for the use of any instrument or device, or the participation in any exercise or entertainment, not given for charitable, school, or religious purposes, and not otherwise provided for, five dollars; but the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to exhibitions or entertainments given in theatres, where the owner or manager thereof has taken out license as owner or manager.

Mosby v. State, 98 Ala. 50.

18. For each day's exhibition of a circus in towns or cities having more than five thousand inhabitants, or within two miles thereof, one hundred and fifty dollars; in all other places, one hundred dollars.

19. For each exhibition of a menagerie or museum, twenty dollars.

20. For each exhibition of a side-show accompanying a circus, menagerie, or museum, ten dollars.

21. For each exhibition of feats of legerdemain or sleight of hand, or other exhibition or entertainment of like kind, ten dollars.

22. For each fortune-teller, twenty-five dollars.

23. For each company of traders or fortune-tellers, usually known as gypsies, ten dollars for each county.

24. For each shooting-gallery, twenty-five dollars.

25. For each skating-rink, twenty-five dollars.

26. For dealers in playing-cards, five dollars.

27. For dealers in pistols, or pistol cartridges, or bowie-knives, or dirk-knives, whether principal stock in trade or not, three hundred dollars. Any cartridges, whether called rifle or pistol cartridges, or by any other name, that can be used in a pistol, shall be deemed pistol cartridges within the meaning of this subdivision. Any person or firm who orders for another, or delivers any cartridges within this state, shall be deemed a dealer under this provision.* Dec. 13, 1892, p. 183.

Porter v. State, 58 Ala. 66.

28. For dealers in cigarettes, whether principal stock in trade or Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §44.

*As amended by revenue committee.

not, in any place outside of incorporated towns and cities, five dollars; in incorporated towns and cities of two thousand inhabitants or less, ten dollars; in cities and towns of more than two thousand and not more than five thousand inhabitants, fifteen dollars, and in cities of more than five thousand inhabitants, twenty-five dollars.

Feb. 28, 1889, p. 93.

29. For each peddler of medicines or other articles of like character, one hundred dollars for each county in which they peddle; and for each peddler of spectacles or eye-glasses, five dollars for each county in which they peddle.

Randolph v. Yellowstone Kit, 83 Ala. 471.

30. For peddlers of medicines, with vocal or instrumental music, or both, two hundred and fifty dollars for each county in which they peddle.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 885.

31. For peddlers in a wagon drawn by one horse, or other animal, forty dollars; in a wagon drawn by two horses or more, or other animals, fifty-five dollars; on a horse, or other animal, twenty-five dollars; on foot, fifteen dollars; when accompanied by singers or performers on any musical instruments, one hundred dollars; but peddlers of tinware only, and peddlers of wooden and stone or clay hollow-ware only, and tanners who manufacture leather goods and peddle these only, shall not be required to procure license. A peddler's license shall entitle him to peddle only in the county where it is taken out. Any person may demand of peddlers, itinerant dealers and traveling agents their license, and unless they exhibit the same, or show that they have a right under the law to peddle the articles carried by them, or to carry on the business they are engaged in without a license, such person may and is hereby authorized to arrest such peddler, itinerant dealer or traveling agent, and carry him before the nearest county-court judge, justice of the peace, mayor, recorder, intendant of any town, or notary public exercising the power of a justice of the peace, and such officer as such peddler, itinerant dealer or traveling agent is carried before must, if he finds such person to be dealing without a license, forthwith issue a warrant for his arrest, returnable to any court of the county having criminal jurisdiction, which warrant may be executed by the sheriff, or by any constable of the county, any city or town marshal, policeman, or any officer having authority to make arrests. It shall, however, be lawful for any person having but one arm or leg, or whose sight has been impaired as a result of exposure, injury or disease during his service in the Confederate army, or any other disabled Confederate soldier who is permanently disabled from any cause, or any person who has lost his eyesight in any way so that he is incompetent to perform manual labor (if he shall secure the certificate of a physician and the certificate of the judge of probate of such facts), to peddle in any county of the state free of license; nor shall this act be so construed as to require a license of peddlers of fish, oysters, game, fresh meats, poultry, fruit and all farm products raised by the seller, nor any dealer in books or other literature.*

Vines v. State, 67 Ala, 73; Shiff v. State, 84 Ala. 454; Ballou v. State, 87 Ala. 144; Ex parte Murray, 93 Ala. 78.

32. For pawnbrokers, fifty dollars.

33. For each person or firm engaged in the business of buying or selling futures for speculation, or on a commission, three hundred dollars; but this shall not be held to legalize any contract which would otherwise be invalid.

34. For transient or itinerant auctioneers, or dealers in goods, wares and merchandise, other than licensed peddlers, and other than traveling agents of wholesale dealers in said articles, making sale thereof by sample, fifty dollars.

Shiff v. State, 84 Ala. 454.

35. The owner or master of any steamboat, or other water-craft, plying any of the rivers of this state, who engages in the business of buying, selling, or bartering any goods, wares, merchandise, produce, or commodity whatever, on or from such boat or water-craft, must pay a license of two hundred and fifty dollars; and the party so licensed shall thereby be entitled to carry on such business on the boat or water-craft therein named in any county in which the same is navigated; but cities and towns, in which such person engages in such business, may impose such license as is exacted of like business in such city or town.

36. The owner, conductor, or person in charge of every supply-car, or car from which any goods, wares, or merchandise are sold, whether to the servants of the railroad company, or to others, must pay a license of one hundred dollars; and the person so licensed shall thereby be entitled to carry on such business in the car therein named, in any county in which such car is run or drawn; but each of such counties may charge a license therefor of ten dollars.

37. Each company or person who sells, or delivers, or erects any lightning-rods in this state, shall pay to the state a license-tax of

*An act approved Feb. 11, 1897, (Pamph. Acts, p. 769) entitled "An act to allow soldiers and sailors of the Confederate States of America, who have been residents of this state for five years next before the passage of this act, to peddle in produce and merchandise in each and every county in this state, except in incorporated villages, towns and cities, without payment of the stipulated license, and providing the manner of obtaining such license," is as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Alabama, That all the citizens of this state, who have resided here for five years next before the passage of this act, who were soldiers of the Confederate States of America, or engaged in the naval service thereof, and do not own property exceeding in value one thousand dollars, be allowed to peddle any produce or merchandise, in any and all of the counties of this state, except in any incorporated village, town or city, without the payment of the license required of such peddlers.

"SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That any such soldiers or sailors desiring such licenses to peddle, must apply to the judge of probate of any county in this state, and make and submit his proof of having been such soldier or sailor, and if it is sufficient to satisfy said judge, he will issue the license without payment of money therefor and such license shall be authority to peddle such commodities in any of the counties of this State; Provided, that under this act there shall be no peddling of patent medicines.

fifty dollars. The payment of this tax to the state, evidenced by the receipt of any judge of probate, shall exempt such company or person from the payment of such tax in any other county; but in each county in which such company or person carries on such business, a license-tax of ten dollars shall be paid for county purposes.*

38. Each sewing-machine, stove, range, or clock company, selling or delivering sewing-machines, stoves, ranges or clocks, either in person or through agents, or consignees, and all persons who engage in the business of selling or delivering sewing-machines, stoves, ranges, or clocks, shall pay to the state twenty-five dollars for each county in which they may so sell; but when merchants, engaged in a general business, keep sewing-machines, stoves, ranges, or clocks, as a part of their stock in trade, they shall not be required to pay the tax herein provided.*

Merritt v. State, 59 Ala. 46; Quartlebaum v. State, 79 Ala. 1; Ballou v. State, 87 Ala. 144.

Feb. 5, 1891, p. 268.

39. For each peddler of clocks doing business in this state, a state license-tax of five hundred dollars, and a county license-tax of two hundred and fifty dollars for each county in which such business is carried on.

40. Each and every person, partnership, or corporation, who engages in the business of inquiring into and reporting upon the credit and standing of persons engaged in business in this state, shall pay a license-tax of three hundred dollars; and the payment of this tax to the state, evidenced by the receipt of any judge of probate, shall exempt such person, partnership, or corporation from the payment of such tax in any other county; and payment of such tax shall not, when it has been paid by such person, partnership, or corporation, be required of any of their agents or correspondents in the state.

Feb. 18, 1897, p. 1489, §95.

41. For each auctioneer, in any city or town of twenty-five thousand inhabitants or over, a license-tax of fifty dollars per annum; in cities or towns of eight thousand inhabitants, and less than twenty-five thousand, thirty dollars per annum; in cities or towns of five thousand inhabitants, and less than eight thousand, twenty dollars per annum; in cities or towns of more than one thousand and less than five thousand, ten dollars per annum. The term "auctioneer," within the meaning of the foregoing provisions, shall be deemed to apply to any person selling goods, wares, merchandise, live stock, or other things of value, at public outcry, except as otherwise herein provided, whether a charge is made for the same or not. In the following cases, sales at public outcry may be made for a compensation, without license: (1) The estate of a decedent by the personal representative or his agent, according to law, or by the provisions of the will. (2) Property conveyed by deed of trust or decree, or ordered to be sold according to the deed, decree or order. (3) Any person may sell the agricultural products arising from his own or other labor under his control, or his real or personal estate, not purchased or sold on speculation. (4) All sales under legal process.

*As amended by revenue committee.

42. For each person, firm or corporation, engaged in the business of making abstracts in cities or towns of twenty thousand inhabitants or over, twenty-five dollars per annum; in cities or towns of ten thousand inhabitants and less than twenty thousand, ten dollars per annum; in cities or towns of less than ten thousand inhabitants, five dollars per annum.

43. For each baseball or foot park, where admission fees are charged, fifty dollars per annum.

44. For each bottler or bottling association, other than bottlers of mineral water, a license-tax of twenty-five dollars per annum.

45. For each collecting agency in cities or towns of twenty-five thousand inhabitants or over, fifty dollars per annum; in cities or towns of less than twenty-five thousand inhabitants, twenty-five dollars per annum.

46. For each construction company doing business in this state, twenty-five dollars per annum.

47. For each dummy railroad or electric railroad or railway being operated in this state, the following license-taxes: In counties of forty thousand inhabitants or over, fifty dollars; in counties of thirty thousand inhabitants and less than forty thousand, forty dollars; in counties of less than thirty thousand inhabitants, ten dollars.

48. Each water-works company or corporation, electric light and power company or corporation, gas company or corporation, operated by a person or company or corporation for public uses, other than a municipality, shall pay to the state the following license-taxes: In cities or towns of over twenty thousand inhabitants, one hundred dollars; in cities or towns of ten thousand inhabitants, and less than twenty thousand, fifty dollars; in cities and towns of five thousand inhabitants, and less than ten thousand, twenty-five dollars; in cities or towns of less than five thousand inhabitants, fifteen dollars.

49. The operator of each set of flying-jennies, called also "hobby-horses," and "merry-go-rounds," shall pay to the state the following license-taxes: In cities and towns of twenty thousand inhabitants or over, or within one mile of such, for each week, five dollars; or for each month, ten dollars; or for each year, thirty dollars; in cities or towns of less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or within one mile of such, for each week, two dollars and fifty cents; for each month, five dollars; for each year, twenty dollars. In any locality in the state, other than is provided above, for each week, one dollar; or for each month, two dollars and fifty cents; or for each year, ten dollars.

50. For each device used by persons as a source of profit to themselves, such as throwing at wooden figures, or any other objects of like character; cane-racks, knife-racks, striking an object to test the strength, blowing to test the lungs or other device of like character, for each county in which it is operated, ten dollars—but this subdivision shall not be so construed as to legalize the operation of any device which is now prohibited by law.

51. Each railroad-ticket broker, otherwise known as scalper, or other railroad-ticket agent, except agents actually employed by some railroad, shall pay to the state the following license-tax: In cities or towns of ten thousand inhabitants or over, fifty dollars; in cities or towns of less than ten thousand inhabitants, twenty dollars.

52. Each person, firm or corporation engaged in buying, selling, or renting real estate on commission shall pay to the state the following license-taxes: In cities or towns of ten thousand inhabitants or over, fifteen dollars; in cities or towns with less than ten thousand inhabitants, five dollars.

53. Each company, corporation or association doing business in this state, whose sole or principal business is the loaning of money, whether organized in this state, or in another state, or country, and which is not elsewhere subjected to a privilege tax in this section, shall pay to the state annually, as other license-taxes are paid, one hundred dollars; Provided, the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to banks or banking institutions regularly organized as such.

54. Any person, firm or corporation operating yards or inclosures for the purpose of storing pig iron therein, and issuing warrants thereon, or receipts therefor, shall pay to the state annually for each such yard or inclosure, fifty dollars; but this provision shall not apply to such yards owned and used by manufacturers of pig iron in this state.

55. All corporations doing business in this state, whether organized in this state or another state or country, not otherwise specifically required to pay a license-tax, shall pay annually the following privilege taxes: Corporations whose paid-up capital stock is under ten thousand dollars, ten dollars. Corporations whose paid-up capital stock exceeds ten thousand dollars and does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, twenty-five dollars; when the paid-up capital stock exceeds fifty thousand dollars and is not over one hundred thousand dollars, forty dollars; where the paid-up capital stock exceeds one hundred thousand dollars and does not exceed two hundred thousand, seventy-five dollars; where the paid-up capital stock exceeds two hundred thousand dollars, and does not exceed three hundred thousand dollars, one hundred and twenty-five dollars; where the paid-up capital stock exceeds three hundred thousand dollars and does not exceed four hundred thousand dollars, one hundred and seventy dollars; where the paid-up capital stock exceeds four hundred thousand dollars and does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars, two hundred dollars; where the paid-up capital stock exceeds five hundred thousand dollars and does not exceed one million dollars, three hundred dollars; where the paid-up capital stock exceeds one million dollars, five hundred dollars; when application is made for the license herein provided, it shall be accompanied by the affidavit of the president or other chief officer of the corporation showing the amount of the capital stock of such corporation, but the payment of this tax in one county in the state as evidenced by the license or official certificate of the judge of probate shall be sufficient; Provided, that the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to banks and banking institutions regularly organized as such.

56. Each person, firm or corporation engaged in the sole or principal business of selling illuminating or lubricating oils at wholesale, shall pay to the state one-half of one per centum of their gross sales.

57. For each detective agency, company or corporation doing business in this state, fifty dollars.

In all cases in this section, where population controls the price of licenses, the last census report of the Federal government shall govern.*

4123 (630). Licenses for county purposes; amounts, how determined.—The court of county commissioners of each county, except in cases otherwise provided, may, at any regular or special term, add to the taxes specified in the last preceding section such amounts, not exceeding fifty per cent. of such taxes, for county purposes, as, in their judgment, may be necessary; and no license shall be issued without the payment of such percentage for county purposes. Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §16.

Phœnix Carpet Co. v. State, Ala. (22 So. 627).

ARTICLE 16.

ISSUE AND EXPIRATION OF LICENSES; BLANKS AND FORMS; RECORDS, PAYMENTS AND REPORTS; REFUNDING LICENSE-MONEY.

4124 (631). Unlawful to engage in certain businesses without license.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to engage in or carry on any business, or do any act for which a license is by law required, without having first paid for and taken out a license therefor in the manner in this chapter provided.

Action at law maintainable to recover amount of license.—State v. Fleming, 112 Ala. 179.

4125 (632). Payment for, and issue and contents of license. Before any person, firm, or corporation shall engage in, or carry on any business, or do any act, for which a license is by law required, he or they shall pay to the judge of probate of the county in which it is proposed to engage in, or carry on such business, or to do such act, the amount required for such license; and upon such payment, and a fee of fifty cents to such judge for issuing the same, such judge shall issue the license, countersigned by him, in the form, and on a blank to be furnished by the auditor, which shall set forth the name of the person, firm, or corporation applying therefor, the business or act which it is proposed to carry on or do thereunder, the location where it is proposed to carry on such business, or to do such act, the amount paid for such license, and the time for which it is issued; and if the license is for a peddler, whether he proposes to travel on foot, on horse, or in a wagon; and such license shall not be transferable, nor shall it entitle the holder thereof to carry on any other business, or to do any other act than that named therein, or at any other location than that therein specified.

*This paragraph as to census was added by the revenue committee.

License in no sense a contract.—Powell v. State, 69 Ala. 10. License to one firm confers no authority on another, though one person a member of both firms.—Wharton v. King, 69 Ala. 365. License to one partner no protection to firm.—Long v. State, 27 Ala. 32. When one license sufficient; connecting rooms.—Hockstadler v. State, 73 Ala. 24.

4126 (634). Expiration of licenses; time for which issued; exceptions.—All licenses shall expire on the thirty-first day of December, in each year, and shall be for one year, unless the business licensed shall commence after the first of July, in which case the price of the license shall be half the amount of the year's license.

4127 (635). License for selling liquors on steamboats; where issued.—Licenses for selling spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors on steamboats, or other water-craft, may be taken out in any county through which they run; and when taken out in any one of such counties, the person taking out such license may sell the liquors authorized thereby in any county in or through which such steamboat, or other water-craft is navigated.

4128 (636). Licenses to retailers posted; penalty for failure. All licenses for the retail of spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors must be kept posted up in plain sight near the bar; and a failure to comply with this section forfeits the license.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §30.

4129 (638). Forms of licenses prepared by auditor; blanks furnished judges of probate.—It shall be the duty of the auditor, with the approval of the governor, to prepare and have printed, suitable forms of licenses, and, as often as need be, to furnish to the several judges of probate blank licenses, signed by him, sufficient for the probable wants of their respective counties, taking their receipts for the same. Each such blank shall have a stub attached thereto on which shall be printed such matter as the auditor may prescribe, with appropriate blank spaces to be filled in by the judge of probate upon the issuance of any license. The auditor shall take and file in his office a proper receipt from the judge of probate for the license so furnished him.

4130. Stub to be filled up and signed before detaching license. Upon the issuance of any license the judge of probate must, before detaching the license from the stub, fill up the blank spaces in the stub to correspond in all respects with the license as issued, and sign his name thereto.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §14.

4131 (637). License-record to be kept; annual report and return of unused licenses and stubs; examination by auditor.—The judge of probate shall keep, in a book prepared for that purpose, an accurate account of all the licenses received by him from the auditor and of the disposition made of them, and of all money received from licenses by him issued, and make report thereof to the auditor within ten days after the first of January of each year, at which time he shall return to the auditor all unused licenses and stubs for any year preceding, or account to the auditor for all such unused licenses, and shall also return to the auditor the stubs of all licenses issued for any year preceding; and the judge of probate shall, on demand of the auditor, at any time, exhibit to him or to any agent appointed by the auditor for that purpose, such license-record and the originals of all licenses then remaining in his hands and all stubs of licenses issued.

Feb. 18, 1895, p. 1192, §41.

4132 (633). License-money to be promptly paid over, else no commissions allowed; quarterly reports; penalty.—During the week in which any license-money is received by the judge of probate he must remit to the state treasurer, at the expense of the state, all money received by him for licenses belonging to the state and pay to the county treasurer all money received by him for licenses belonging to the county; and upon all such money so remitted or paid during the week of collection, he is entitled to two and one-half per cent., which he may deduct therefrom, but he shall not be allowed any commissions on any money not so remitted or paid; and on the last business day in March, and every three months thereafter, the judge of probate shall forward to the auditor a certified list of all licenses issued by him, stating therein for what business issued, the amount collected for each license, from whom collected, and the date thereof. If any judge of probate fails to comply with the provisions of this section, within ten days after the date at which he is required to make a report of licenses issued and money received by him, the auditor shall forthwith report the facts to the governor, who shall cite such judge to show why he has not made returns of such certified list of licenses, as required by law; and if such judge fails to show sufficient cause for such failure, the governor shall direct the attorney-general to institute impeachment proceedings against him before the supreme court.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 3, §19.

4133. Auditor to furnish copies of license-reports to solicitors; duty of solicitors and grand juries.—On the first days of February and August in each year, the auditor shall furnish to the solicitor of each circuit certified copies of all reports of licenses for each of the two quarters immediately preceding, filed in the auditor's office from the counties composing the judicial circuit in which such solicitor is prosecuting officer; and such certified copies of license-reports shall be by the solicitor laid before the grand jury in each of said counties at the term of the circuit court next ensuing; and it shall be the duty of the grand jury to compare carefully such copies of license-reports with the license-book required by law to be kept in the office of the judge of probate, and if any errors or omissions are found, to make report of the same to the presiding judge in their regular report. In counties where the circuit court has no grand jury, this report shall be made to the county solicitor, and shall be laid before the grand jury of the city or criminal court by such county solicitor, which grand jury shall perform the duties hereinabove required of grand juries in the circuit court.

4134 (3894). Judge of probate to furnish solicitor with list of licenses issued.—The judge of probate must, on the first day of each circuit or city court of the county, furnish to the acting solicitor, to be by him laid before the grand jury, a statement in writing showing the licenses granted and the taxes received thereon within the last twelve months preceding such court, to whom and for what business such license was granted.

Feb. 28, 1887, p. 92, §1.

4135. When license-money refunded.—When any person has taken out and paid for a license to carry on any business in this state, and has afterwards been prohibited by law from carrying on such business before the time named in the license has expired, such person shall be entitled to have refunded to him such proportionate part of the whole sum paid for such license as the unexpired time thereof bears to the whole time for which the license was originally granted.

Ib. §2.

4136. Application therefor; how money refunded.—On the application of any such person, his executor, administrator, or assigns, the judge of probate for the county in which such license was taken out shall proceed to ascertain the amount due such applicant under the provisions of the preceding section, and shall grant such certificates as will enable the state auditor and court of county commissioners to draw his warrant or their order, respectively, and such warrant or order shall be paid out of any moneys in the state treasury or county treasury, respectively, not otherwise appropriated.

A license to engage in business is a mere permit, revocable at the pleasure of the legislature.—Powell v. State, 69 Ala. 10.

CHAPTER 111.

TREES. 4137–4140.

4137 (3296) (3551) (3202 a). Damages for destruction, injury, or removal of trees.—Any person who cuts down, deadens, girdles, or destroys, or takes away, if already cut down or fallen, any cypress, pecan, oak, pine, cedar, poplar, walnut, hickory, or wild-cherry tree, or sapling of that kind, on land not his own, willfully and knowingly, without the consent of the owner of the land, must pay to the owner ten dollars for every such tree or sapling; and for every other tree or sapling not hereinbefore described, so cut down, deadened, girdled, destroyed, or taken away by any person, he must pay to such owner the sum of five dollars.

Russell v. Irby, 13 Ala. 131; Givens v. Kendrick, 15 Ala. 648; Rosser v. Bunn, 66 Ala. 89; Stovall v. Fowler, 72 Ala. 77; Beatty v. Brown, 76 Ala. 267; Allison v. Little, 85 Ala. 512; s. c., 93 Ala. 150; Rogers v. Brooks, 99 Ala. 31; s. c., 105 Ala. 549; Ala. State Land Co. v. Reed, 99 Ala. 20; Turner Coal Co. v. Glover, 101 Ala. 289; Morris v. West, 101 Ala. 534; Postal Tel. Co. v. Lenoir, 107 Ala. 640; Postal Tel. Co. v. Brantley, 107 Ala. 683; Clifton Iron Co. v. Curry, 108 Ala. 581 (changed by next section); Farrow v. N. C. & St. L. R. Co., 109 Ala. 448; Higdon v. Kennemer, 112 Ala. 351; Gravlee v. Williams, 112 Ala. 539; Williams v. Hendricks, Ala. (22 So. 439).

4138. Owner of trees owner of land within meaning of preceding section.—When one person owns the land and another person owns the trees standing thereon, the owner of the trees is the owner of the land within the meaning of the preceding section.

4139 (3297) (3552) (3202 b). Damages for destruction or injury of fruit or ornamental trees, etc.—Any person who cuts down, digs up, girdles, destroys, or mutilates any fruit-tree, or ornamental tree, or shrub, bush, or plant, which is inclosed on premises not his own, willfully and knowingly, without the consent of the owner, must pay to such owner fifteen dollars for every such tree, shrub or plant.

4140 (3299) (3554) (3202 d). Court in which suit must be brought; limitation; to what no bar.—Any action for the specific penalties given by this chapter may be brought in any court of competent jurisdiction, and must be brought within one year from the time the injury was committed, and not after; and neither suit brought, nor penalty incurred, under any of the provisions of this chapter, is a bar to any action for further damages, or to any criminal proceeding for any offense included in the acts for which such penalties are herein imposed, or connected therewith.

Washington v. Timberlake, 74 Ala. 263.

CHAPTER 112.

TRIAL OF RIGHT OF PROPERTY. 4141–4151.

4141 (3004, 3012, 3014, 3365) (3341, 3290, 3676) (3016, 2965, 3279) (2587, 2537, 2833). Personal property levied on may be claimed by a stranger to the writ; when delivered to claimant.—When an execution or attachment issued from any court, or by any officer, is levied on personal property as to which any person not a party to the writ claims to own the title, legal or equitable, or a lien paramount to the right, title, or interest in the property of the defendant in the writ, such person may try the right to such property before a sale thereof upon making affidavit by himself, his agent or attorney, which may be taken by the officer levying the writ or any officer authorized to administer oaths, that he holds such title to, or such lien upon, the property claimed, and executing bond with two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the officer making the levy and payable to the plaintiff in double the value of the property levied on and claimed, the value thereof to be determined by the officer making the levy, but in no case to be more than double the amount of the writ levied, with condition to have the property forthcoming for the satisfaction of the judgment or claim of the plaintiff, if it be found liable therefor, and also for the payment of such costs and damages as may be recovered for interposing the claim for delay; whereupon the property levied upon must be delivered into the possession of the claimant.

4142 (3005, 3366) (3342, 3677) (3017, 3280) (2588, 2834). Papers returned; issue made up; burden of proof.—The officer making the levy must, except as otherwise provided in sections 4146 (3006) and 4148 (3010), return the writ, affidavit and bond to the next term of the court to which it is returnable, when an issue must be made up between the plaintiff in the writ and the claimant, in which the former must allege that the property claimed is the property of the defendant in the writ and is liable to its satisfaction; and on the trial of such issue the burden of proof is on the plaintiff.

Court is without jurisdiction to hear the claim suit before the return-term.—Johnson v. Dismukes, 104 Ala. 520; Johnson v. Johnson, 108 Ala. 124. The issue defined; how made up.—Warren v. Liddell, 110 Ala. 232; Ramey v. Peeples, 108 Ala. 476; Scott v. Renfro, 106 Ala. 611; Rodenberg v. Claflin, 104 Ala. 560; Shahan v. Herzberg, 73 Ala. 59; Starnes v. Allen, 58 Ala. 316; Boswell v. 4143 (3007, 3367) (3343, 3680) (3018, 3283) (2589, 2837). Value of property assessed; damages for delay.—If the jury, or the justice, find the property levied on liable to the satisfaction of the writ, they must, as far as practicable, assess the value, at the time of the interposition of the claim, of each article separately; and if it be a case in which execution has been levied, and it be shown on the trial that the claim was interposed for delay, they must also assess such damages as the plaintiff may be entitled to, not more than fifteen per centum on the amount of the execution.

If practicable, the verdict and judgment must assess the value of each article separately.—Avary v. Perry Mfg. Co., 96 Ala. 406; Warehouse Co. v. Johnson, 85 Ala. 178; Roswald v. Hobbie, Ib. 73; Roberts v. Burgess, Ib. 192; Wollner v. Lehman, Ib. 274; Johnson v. McLeod, 80 Ala. 433; Townsend v. Brooks, 76 Ala. 308; Tait v. Murphy, 80 Ala. 440; Haynes v. 4144 (3008, 3013, 3368) (3344, 3291) (3019, 2966) (2590, 2538). Forfeiture of claim bond; execution thereon.—If judgment is rendered against the claimant, and he fails to deliver the property to the officer making the levy and pay the costs of the trial of the right of property within thirty days, if the writ issued from the circuit court or other court of like jurisdiction, or within ten days if the writ issued from a justice of the peace, such officer must indorse the bond forfeited; and thereupon, if the property was levied on under execution, or, if levied on under attachment, after judgment in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant in attachment, the clerk, or justice, as the case may be, must issue execution against the obligors on the bond for the amount of the plaintiff's judgment, if that is less than the assessed value of the property, or for the amount of such assessed value, if that is not greater than the amount of the judgment, and also for the damages, if any were assessed, and the costs of the trial of the right of property. And in the event the claimant delivers the property, but fails to pay damages and costs within thirty days, execution must issue for such damages and costs only.*

*Last clause added by joint committee.

There must be a "trial of the right of property," before bond may be returned forfeited.—Foust v. Greene, 90 Ala. 539; Catching v. Bowden, 89 Ala. 604. Execution without a return of bond forfeited, may be quashed.—Catching v. Bowden, 89 Ala. 604. Mandamus will lie to compel sheriff to return bond forfeited.—Cooper v. Davis, 88 Ala. 569. Bond forfeited if property delivered only in part; obligors entitled to a credit on the execution only for the amount realized by sale of the portion delivered. Wilcox v. Piedmont, 97 Ala. 552; s. c., 98 Ala. 281; Munter v. Leinkauff, 78 Ala. 546. When execution enjoined in equity.—Jaffray v. Smith, 106 Ala. 112; Triest v. Hamner, 33 Ala. 307; Langworthy v. Goodall, 76 Ala. 325; and citations to section 4141.

4145 (3017) (3349) (3024) (2595). Claim by mortgagee or lien-holder; payment of secured debt by plaintiff.—When the claim interposed is based on a mortgage or lien, the claimant must state in his affidavit the nature of the right which he claims, and in case such claim is sustained on the trial, the amount of it, whether then due or not, with interest to the date of the trial, must be ascertained by the jury, or the justice, as the case may be; the plaintiff may then pay to the mortgagee, or his assignee, or to the lien-holder, the amount so ascertained, and in such case the property shall be sold as well for the payment of the debt secured by the mortgage or the lien as ascertained, as for the satisfaction of the plaintiff's judgment, the proceeds of the sale to be first applied, after payment of the costs, to reimburse the plaintiff the amount so paid by him to such mortgagee or lien-holder.

4146 (3006) (705) (799) (667). Proceedings when execution issued from probate or chancery court.—If the levy was made under execution issued from the probate or chancery court the sheriff must return the original execution to the court from which it issued with an indorsement thereon showing the interposition of the claim; and he must return a copy of the execution and of the returns thereon, the affidavit and the bond to the next term of the circuit court, or other court of like jurisdiction, of his county, where the trial of the right of property must be had according to the provisions of this chapter.

Ex parte Oehmig, 91 Ala. 558.

4147 (3009) (706) (800) (678). Return of execution in such case. If in the case provided for in the preceding section the bond is forfeited, the execution on the forfeited bond must be made returnable to the court from which the original process issued; of which, and of the time of its receipt by the sheriff, the clerk must give the judge of probate, or the register in chancery, as the case may be, written notice, which shall be presumptive evidence of the fact against the sheriff.

4148 (3010) (3345) (3020) (2591). Proceedings when execution or attachment is levied from another county.—When the levy is made in a different county from that in which the judgment was rendered or the original attachment issued, if a claim is interposed to the property, it is the duty of the officer levying the writ to return the original to the court from which it issued, with a statement thereon showing the interposition of the claim, and true copies of the affidavit and bond, certified by him; and he must return the original affidavit and bond, and a true copy of the writ under which the levy was made, certified by him, to the circuit court, or other court of like jurisdiction, of his own county, where the trial of the right of property must be had; and the copies thus required to be made, certified as herein provided, must be received in lieu of, and have, in all respects, the same effect as the originals.

Henderson v. Bank, 11 Ala. 855; Ex parte Dunlap, 71 Ala. 73.

4149 (3011) (3346) (3021) (2592). Proceedings on forfeiture of bond in such case.—If, in the case provided for in the preceding section, the property levied on is found liable to the satisfaction of the writ, and is not delivered up to the sheriff of the county in which the trial of the right of property was had within twenty days thereafter, he must indorse the bond forfeited, and thereupon the clerk must issue execution as in other cases of the trial of the right of property, except that he must make the same returnable to the court from which the original writ issued; of which, and of the time of its receipt by the sheriff, he must give the proper officer of such court written notice; which shall be presumptive evidence of the fact against the sheriff; and he must also issue a separate execution for the costs of his own court.

4150 (3015) (3347) (3022) (2593). Levy on other property not prevented.—The interposition of a claim for the trial of the right of property shall not prevent the plaintiff from levying on other property of the defendant in the process.

4151 (3016) (3348) (3023) (2594). Damages against the sheriff released by claim.—A claim interposed for the trial of the right of property is a release by the claimant in favor of the sheriff from all damages for seizing the property levied on.

CHAPTER 113.

TRUSTS AND TRUSTEES.

ARTICLE 1.—EXPRESS TRUSTS FOR PAYMENT OR SECURITY OF DEBTS. 4152–4173.
2.—INVESTMENT, REMOVAL AND LIABILITY OF TRUST ESTATES. 4174–4187.
3.—RESIGNATION, APPOINTMENT AND REMOVAL OF TRUSTEES. 4188–4204.

ARTICLE 1.

EXPRESS TRUSTS FOR PAYMENT OR SECURITY OF DEBTS.

4152 (3549). Trustee of certain express trusts required to give bond.—When an express trust is created for the payment or security of debts, and by the terms thereof the trustee is not required to give bond with surety, any creditor interested therein may apply to the register of the court of chancery of the district in which the trust property, or the most valuable portion thereof, may be, for an order requiring such trustee to give bond with surety for the faithful administration of the trust.

Royall v. McKenzie, 25 Ala. 363; Jones v. McPhillips, 77 Ala. 314; s. c., 82 Ala. 102; Stuckey v. McKibbon, 92 Ala. 622; Andrews v. Ford, 106 Ala. 173.

4153 (3550). Contents of application; notice.—The application must be in writing, verified by affidavit; must state the nature and character of the trust and of the interest of the applicant therein, and must state, in the opinion of the applicant, said interest is, or will be endangered, if bond with sureties is not required of such trustee; and, on the filing of such petition, the register must appoint a day for the hearing thereof, of which not less than five days' notice, by the service of summons to appear and answer, must be given the trustee, if he resides in the state; and if he resides without the state, notice must be given by publication for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the district, if there be such paper, and if there be not, in the paper published nearest to such district.

4154 (3551). Hearing; order.—On the day appointed, or on any other day to which such application may be continued, if it appears that the applicant has a real, bona fide interest in the administration of the trust, and that by the terms thereof the trustee is not required to give bond with surety, and that a majority in number and interest of all the creditors for whose benefit such trust may be created do not oppose such application, the register must make and enter an order requiring such trustee to give bond with at least two good and sufficient sureties, payable to such register, in such sum as the register may prescribe, subject to change on application to the chancellor in term time or vacation, with condition for the faithful discharge of all the duties of such trustee, which bond must be approved, filed and recorded in his office.

4155 (3552). Failure of trustee to give bond; appointment of successor.—If the trustee fails, for three days from and after the making of such order, to give such bond, the register must make and enter an order removing him as trustee, and may make and enter an order appointing a successor, of whom bond with sureties, payable and conditioned as provided in the preceding section, must be required.

Stuckey v. McKibbon, 92 Ala. 622.

4156 (3553). Trustee to make inventory of trust property and file two copies with the register.—It is the duty of the trustee of an express trust created for the payment of debts, within ten days after entering upon the execution of such trust, to make an inventory of the entire trust property so far as the same has come to his possession or knowledge, describing the real estate and grouping and classifying the personal property in as brief and comprehensive manner as may be consistent with its proper identification and appraisement, and stating the amount and character of all choses in action, with the names of debtors, belonging to the trust. In reducing such inventory to writing the trustee must leave appropriate spaces opposite each article or item, with proper caption, in which spaces the appraised value may be inserted by the appraisers. The trustee must, within the time above stipulated, file, in the office of the register in chancery of the district in which the most valuable portion of the trust property may be, two copies of such inventory, each of which shall be duly verified by his affidavit; and if there be property in more than one county, a separate inventory of the property in each county must be made and filed. Supplemental inventories may be made in like manner.

4157 (3554). Appointment and duty of appraisers.—On the filing of such inventory the register must indorse upon each of such copies the fact and date of such filing and must appoint three competent and disinterested persons, who must not be of kin or of counsel to any person interested in the trust estate, appraisers of and in each county in which any part of the trust property may be, and must attach to the commission one of the copies of such inventory filed by the trustee; and the appraisers must, in writing, appraise at its true value, the property described in such inventory and set down in figures opposite each article or item, the appraised value thereof, add each column and carry forward the result so as to show the aggregate or total valuation placed upon such property, and verify the same by affidavit and make return thereof to the register who must record the commission to the appraisers and such combined inventory and appraisement, together with the affidavits appended thereto. The other copy of the inventory filed by the trustee must be carefully preserved by the register, free to the examination of all persons, but must not be recorded. The appraisers are severally entitled to two dollars for each day's service in making such appraisement, to be taxed as costs and collected and paid over by the register.

4158. When trustee, or assignor, or creditors may file petition to have trust administered.—If the value of the trust estate as appraised by the appraisers exceeds one thousand dollars, the trustee, or assignor, or any creditor, or any number of them, may file a petition in the chancery court of the district in which the inventory and appraisement are required to be filed, for the administration of the trust. Such petition must briefly allege the making of the assignment, the value of the trust estate as shown by the appraisement and the names and residences of all creditors so far as known, and pray that the trust be administered by the chancery court.

4159. Petition to be submitted to chancellor and time fixed for filing claims.—Upon the filing of such petition the register must submit the same, together with the inventory and appraisement, upon the original papers, to the chancellor, whether in term time or vacation; and the chancellor must make an order designating a day, not less than two nor more than twelve months from the date thereof, by or on which day all claims against the trust estate must be presented, verified by affidavit.

4160. Register to give notice; form of notice.—Upon the making of such order the register must give notice thereof by mail, postage prepaid, to each creditor whose name and address he may, by diligent inquiry and investigation, ascertain from the trustee, or assignor, or the record of the deed of assignment in the office of the judge of probate, or any other available source of information, and must also give notice by publication once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county, or, if there be no such paper, by posting the notice at the court-house door for the same length of time. Such notice may be substantially in the following form:

"To the creditors of A. B., of ———:

The said A. B. having made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, and C. D. having filed his petition for the administration of such trust by the chancery court, and the chancellor having made an order designating the —— day of ——— as a day by or on which all claims of creditors must be presented; all parties in interest are hereby notified of the filing of such petition, and all persons having claims against the trust estate are required to file the same, or a statement thereof, verified by affidavit, in the office of the register in chancery at ———, by or on the day above specified or the same will be barred. This the —— day of ———.

E. F., Register."

4161. Claims must be presented within the time prescribed; verification; effect of failure to present.—All claims against the trust estate must be presented by or on the day specified in such order and notice, by filing the claim, or a statement thereof, in the office of the register, verified as claims against the estate of a decedent are required to be verified, before a notary public or other officer authorized to take and certify affidavits within or beyond the state; and all claims not so presented are precluded from sharing in the assignment or participating in any dividend that may be made from the trust estate, until all presented and allowed claims shall have been paid in full. But when a claim has been so presented prior to the giving of such notice, a second presentation is not necessary. Any defect or insufficiency in the affidavit may be remedied by amendment at any time. The register must give to the creditor, his agent or attorney, a receipt for his claim, and must indorse thereon the date of filing and sign his name thereto.

4162. Register must keep a docket of claims.—The register must keep a docket in which he must enter each claim, showing, under appropriate captions, the name and address of the claimant, the amount and character of his claim, when due, by whom verified and when filed, with appropriate spaces for the insertion of the amount of each claim allowed and the amount of the dividend thereon at each distribution of the trust estate.

4163. Claims presented and not objected to stand allowed.—All claims to which no objection is made in the manner hereinafter provided, within three months after the expiration of the time prescribed for the presentation of claims, stand allowed without further proof.

4164. Objections to claims.—At any time within three months after the expiration of the time allowed for the presentation of claims, or at any time prior thereto, the trustee, or assignor, or any creditor or party in interest may object to the allowance of any claim filed against the trust estate, by filing objections thereto in writing.

4165. Register to fix time for hearing objections and give notice.—Within thirty days after the expiration of the time allowed for filing objections to claims, the register must appoint a time, not less than twenty nor more than sixty days thereafter, for the hearing of such objections as have been filed; and of the nature of the objections and the time appointed for such hearing he must give notice to each person whose claim is contested, by citation to be served upon him, his agent or attorney, or, if he be a non-resident and have no resident agent or attorney, such citation must be sent by mail, postage prepaid, to such claimant, at his post-office address.

4166. Hearing objections; order.—On the day appointed for the hearing, or any day to which the same may be continued, the register must proceed to hear and note the testimony for and against the contested claim, the verified claim or statement thereof being prima facie evidence of its correctness, and must make an order allowing or disallowing the claim, in whole or in part, according to the evidence.

4167. Trustee must account within three months and every six months thereafter.—Within three months after the expiration of the time allowed for the filing of objections to claims, the trustee must render, under oath, to the register, an account charging himself with all the moneys of the trust estate which have come into his possession, or with which he is chargeable, and crediting himself with all sums to which he is entitled as credits, and must file therewith the vouchers on which he relies to sustain such credits; and a similar account must be filed every six months thereafter.

4168. Day appointed for settlement; notice.—Upon the filing of such account the register must appoint a day, not less than twenty nor more than sixty days thereafter, to hear and pass upon the account, and must give notice thereof by mail, postage prepaid, to each creditor, his agent or attorney, and to the assignor.

4169. Hearing and passing upon account; decree.—Upon the day so appointed or any day to which the hearing may be continued, the register must proceed to examine and audit the account; and upon such auditing, the assignor or any creditor or party in interest, his representative or transferee, may move the register to charge the trustee with other sums than those with which he has charged himself, or may object to the allowance of any item for which he claims credit; all such matters must be heard and the account stated and passed upon by the register and distribution made and decreed to creditors as in insolvent estates administered in the court of probate; and after deducting the costs and expenses of administration, including five per cent. commissions to the trustee on the amount of money with which he is charged, and the allowance of reasonable charges for the preparation of the deed of assignment, and after the discharge of all liens or claims having priority, the register must decree to each creditor whose claim has been allowed, his proportion of such money, reserving in the hands of the trustee a ratable proportion for such claims as may be then contested and undecided; and if no appeal is taken as hereinafter provided and prosecuted to effect, the register may issue execution upon such decrees, against the trustee, and the sureties on his bond if he has given bond. But upon application to the register by the assignee or any party in interest, such compensation of the assignee may be increased or diminished by the register for good cause shown.*

4170. Proceedings before the register; evidence; exceptions; appeal.—Upon a hearing before the register under any of the provisions of this article, any competent legal testimony, written or oral, may be received; but all such testimony must be noted and oral testimony reduced to writing by the register; and within ten days thereafter, either party may file exceptions to the action or conclusion of the register and may have the same reviewed by the chancellor in term time, or, at the instance of either party, such exceptions may be heard in vacation upon ten days' notice to the other party; such review to be without any presumption in favor of the correctness of the action or conclusion of the register; and from the decision of the chancellor thereon an appeal lies to the supreme court within thirty days.

4171. Compromise or sale of bad debts.—Upon the application of the trustee the register may authorize the compromise of any bad and doubtful debts or choses in action belonging to the trust estate, or the sale thereof to the highest bidder, on such terms and notice as the register may prescribe.

4172. Sale of real estate; notice to creditors.—The trustee may make sale of any real estate or interest therein belonging to the trust estate, at public outcry to the highest bidder, after giving notice thereof by publication once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county where the real estate is situated, or, if there be no such paper, by posting notice at the court-house door for the same length of time; and of such sale the trustee must also give notice by mail, postage prepaid, to each creditor, in time to reach him ten days before the day of sale. But nothing herein contained shall prevent the assignee from exercising powers of sale or other powers conferred by the deed of assignment, unless specially restrained from so doing by an order made in writing by the chancellor and filed in court.*

4173. When settlements compelled; removal of trustee and appointing successor.—If the trustee shall fail to make settlement, partial or final, as required in this article, he may be compelled to do so, by citation to be issued by the register, at the instance of any creditor or party interested in the trust, in all respects as executors and administrators may be compelled to make settlements in the court of probate; or, upon motion of a majority in value of the creditors, the register must remove such defaulting trustee and appoint another in his stead, who may be nominated by the creditors as provided by this Code for the nomination of an administrator of an insolvent estate by the creditors thereof.

*As amended by joint committee.

ARTICLE 2.

INVESTMENT, REMOVAL, AND LIABILITY OF TRUST ESTATE.

4174 (3555) (3742). Trustees may invest in state or United States securities.—A trustee, having moneys to invest or loan, may invest them in the purchase of the interest-bearing securities of this state, or of the United States; but for such investment his liability is governed by the general rules of law.

4175 (3556) (3743). Investment without the state.—If the cestuis que trust, or any of them, reside without the state, and the trustee has funds to loan or invest, the loan or investment whereof in the state of their residence is desirable, the trustee may there loan and invest them, under the authority of a decree of the court of chancery.

4176 (3557) (3743). Mode of obtaining authority.—The trustee may obtain authority for the making of such loan or investment, by petition to the court of chancery of the district in which the trust was created, or in which the trust is being administered. The petition must be verified by affidavit, and must state who are the parties having interests in the funds, the nature of the interest, their places of residence, which of them, if any, are minors or of unsound mind, the amount and character of the fund to be loaned or invested, the security upon which the loan is to be made, or the nature and character of the investment to be made, and the facts which render such loan or investment desirable.

4177 (3558) (3743). Hearing; notice of petition.—The petition may be heard, and decree may be rendered in term time or in vacation. On the filing of the petition, the time for the hearing must be fixed by the register, and thereof notice must be given to such of the cestuis que trust as are of full age and of sound mind, residing in this state, by the service of summons for at least ten days; and like notices to such as are minors or of unsound mind, by the service of summons on their guardian, if any they have; and if they have no guardian, upon such person as may have charge of them, or with whom they may reside. Notice by publication for such length of time, and in such mode as the chancellor may direct, shall be given to the cestuis que trust who reside without the state. The chancellor or register, after notice has been given, must appoint a suitable person as guardian ad litem to represent the cestuis que trust who are minors or of unsound mind.

4178 (3559) (3743). Decree on hearing.—If, on the hearing, the court is satisfied from the evidence adduced, which may be oral, or by deposition, that it would be to the interest of the cestuis que trust that the loan or investment should be made, it must render a decree authorizing it.

4179 (3560) (3744). Removal of trust estate.—The court of chancery of the district in which a trustee resides, or in which a trust estate is created, or is being administered, may authorize the removal of such estate to another state.

4180 (3561) (3745). Mode of obtaining authority for removal. A cestui que trust or a trustee may obtain authority for the removal of a trust, by petition verified by affidavit, which may be heard in term time or in vacation, and which must state the property to be removed, the place to which removal is desired, the names and residences of the parties having interests therein, which of them, if any, are minors, or of unsound mind, and the facts which show that the removal will be of benefit to the cestuis que trust.

4181 (3562) (3745). Hearing; notice.—On the filing of the petition, the register must appoint a day for the hearing thereof, of which notice for at least ten days must be given the parties residing within this state, by the service of summons. If any of such parties be minors or of unsound mind, summons must be served on their guardian, if any they have, or if they have no guardian, upon such person as may have charge of them, or with whom they may reside. If any of such parties reside without the state, notice must be given them by publication, in the mode, and for the length of time prescribed by the chancellor. After notice given, the register or chancellor must appoint a suitable person as guardian ad litem to represent and defend for the minors or parties of unsound mind.

4182 (3563) (3746). Decree on hearing.—If, on the hearing, the court is satisfied from the evidence adduced, which may be oral or by deposition, that a removal would be to the interest of the cestuis que trust, a decree must be rendered authorizing it. But before the execution of the decree, the party or parties, at whose instance the removal is to be made, must, in the state to which the property is to be removed, before a court having jurisdiction, give bond with sufficient surety, to be approved by such court, in penalty and with condition that will fully protect all parties in interest from loss or injury by reason of the removal, or because of the waste or negligence of the party or parties to whose care and custody such property is intrusted; which bond must be properly certified, and filed in the court of chancery, and must, before the removal, be approved by the chancellor.

4183 (3564) (3747). Liability of trust estate.—A trustee, or an executor, or an administrator, may render the estate in his hands to be administered liable for the payment for necessary services rendered to him, or for necessary repairs in and upon the estate, or for necessaries furnished to him, if he be or become insolvent without making payment, and has not charged the estate with, and obtained credit for such services, repairs, or necessaries.

Askew v. Myrick, 54 Ala. 30; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438; Dickinson v. Conniff, 65 Ala. 581; Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63; Blackshear v. Burke, 74 Ala. 239; Mosely v. Norman, 74 Ala. 422.

4184 (3565) (3747). Mode of enforcing such liability.—The liability of the estate may be enforced by the party rendering such services, or by whom such repairs were made, or necessaries furnished, or by his assignee, or by the personal representative of either, by petition filed in the court of chancery against such trustee, executor, or administrator, or, if his authority has terminated, against his successor in the trust or administration; which petition may be filed in the district of the residence of the defendant, or in the district in which such estate is situate, or is being administered. If pending suit an abatement occurs by the death or disability of the petitioner, or by the termination of the authority of the trustee, or of his successor, there may be a revivor as in other suits in equity.

Askew v. Myrick, 54 Ala. 30; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438; Dickinson v. Conniff, 65 Ala. 581; Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63; Blackshear v. Burke, 74 Ala. 239.

4185 (3566) (3747). Decree.—If, on the hearing, the evidence is sufficient, the court must render a decree charging the trust estate, or the assets subject to administration, with the payment of the sum ascertained to be due the petitioner, and with the costs of the petition; and if the decree be against an executor or an administrator, or his successor, it must be preferred in payment, as are the fees and charges of administration.

Daily v. Daily, 66 Ala. 266; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438.

4186 (3567) (3748) (4425). When suit for administration pending.—If there be a pending suit, in which the court of chancery has taken jurisdiction of the administration of the trusts, or of the estate, the petition must be filed in, and become a part of the proceedings in such suit.

Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63.

4187 (3568). Real estate to be charged.—If the personal assets be insufficient, and it be necessary to charge lands descended, or lands devised, with the payment of such claims, the heirs to whom the lands have descended, or the devisees to whom they are devised, must be made parties defendant to the petition.

ARTICLE 3.

RESIGNATION, APPOINTMENT AND REMOVAL OF TRUSTEES.

4188 (3569) (3727) (3447) (2991). Trustee of express trust may resign on application to the register.—When any express trust is created by will or deed, the trustee may resign on application to the register of the district where the trust property, or the most valuable portion of the same, is, or of the district in which the trustee resided when he was appointed trustee.

Royall v. McKenzie, 25 Ala. 363.

4189 (3570) (3728) (3448) (2992). Notice of the application by advertisement.—Notice of the application must be given in such paper as the register may direct, for three successive weeks.

4190 (3571) (3729) (3449) (2993). Trustee to account and settle upon resignation.—The trustee must render a full account, and pay over to the parties entitled to the same, or to the register, all moneys due by him.

4191 (3572) (3730) (3450) (2994). Accounts not conclusive; payments valid.—No account so taken is conclusive on any of the parties interested in the trust; but the trustee may be required to account up to the time of granting the application, in the same manner as if no proceedings had been had; except that he is entitled to the benefit of all payments made by him under the provisions of the preceding section.

4192 (3573) (3731) (3451) (2995). New trustee appointed; bond if necessary.—The register, on the granting of such application, may appoint a trustee, and, if necessary to protect the parties interested in the trust property, may require the necessary bond of such trustee.

4193 (3574) (3732) (3452) (2996). On death of trustee, register appoints another; bond in such cases.—Upon the death of the trustee of such express trust, the register of the district in which the trust property, or the most valuable portion of the same, is, may, on the application of any party in interest, appoint a trustee, and may also require of him a bond, as under the preceding section, except that in all cases where the husband dies, leaving the wife surviving, who is the owner of an equitable separate estate in real or personal property, the legal title to such equitable separate estate shall descend to and vest absolutely in the surviving wife, and no proceeding by appointment of another trustee under this chapter or by bill in chancery shall be necessary in any case to establish the legal title to such property in the wife. As amended Feb. 28, 1889, p. 87.

Allison v. Little, 85 Ala. 512.

4194 (3575) (3733) (3453) (2997). Notice of the application to appoint.—All the parties interested in such trust property must have ten days' personal notice of such application, or by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in such paper as the register may direct.

4195 (3576) (3734) (3454) (2998). Guardians for infants in such cases.—In any proceeding to appoint a trustee before the register, he has authority, where minors or persons of unsound mind are interested, to appoint guardians ad litem for their defense, and to protect their interest.

4197 (3577) (3735) (3455) (2999). Causes of removal of trustee, on petition to the chancery court.—Upon the petition or bill of any person interested in the execution of a trust, the court of chancery may remove any trustee who has violated or threatened to violate his trust; who is insolvent, or whose insolvency there is good reason to apprehend; who has removed from the state; or who, for any other cause, is an unsuitable person to execute the trust; or the court may require such bonds as will effectually protect the interest of the parties.

4198 (3578) (3736) (3456) (3000). New trustee appointed by the court in such case.—Such court has authority to appoint a new trustee in the place of a trustee removed, or may cause the trust to be executed by one of its own officers.

4199 (3579). Refusal of trustee to accept trust.—If the trustee of an express trust, created by will or deed, refuse to accept and execute the trust, on the application of any party therein interested, the register of the court of chancery of the district in which the trust estate, or the most valuable portion thereof, may be, may appoint a trustee to execute the trust. Notice of the application must be given in such paper as the register may direct, for three successive weeks.

4200 (3580) (3737) (3457). Trustee appointed to receive trust property in another state and remove it to this state.—Where there is trust property in another state, held under deed, will, marriage settlement, or otherwise, and the beneficiary owning the entire interest in such trust property has removed to or resides in this state, and desires that the property may also be removed to this state, such beneficiary may, if of age, or by next friend, if a minor or married woman, make application to the register of the chancery court of the district in which such beneficiary resides, to appoint a trustee to receive such trust property and remove the same to this state.*

4201 (3581) (3738) (3458). Day of hearing appointed and notice given by register.—The register in chancery must appoint a day for hearing such application, and notice thereof must be given by advertisement in some paper published in the district for three successive weeks, or if no paper is published in such district, by posting such notice at the court-house door, and at three other places in the district, three weeks before the day appointed for hearing the application; and a copy of such notice must be sent to the non-resident trustee of such trust estate, if there be one, and his place of residence be known.

4202 (3582) (3739) (3459). Trustee appointed by register. Upon the hearing of such application, if there be no good and sufficient reason to the contrary, such register must appoint a trustee living in the district wherein such beneficiary resides to receive and remove the trust property to such district.

4203 (3583) (3740) (3460). Bond of trustee.—Such trustee, before he enters on the discharge of the duties of such trust, must give bond, with good and sufficient surety, payable to the register of such chancery court, in double the amount of the supposed value of such trust estate, conditioned that he will faithfully execute the trust.

4204 (3584) (3741) (3461). Fees of register; by whom paid; how refunded.—A fee of five dollars, to be paid to the register for his services rendered under the provisions of the four preceding sections, must be paid by the party making the application; and such party may be reimbursed for this, and all other expenses growing out of such application, from such trust fund when received by the trustee appointed by such register.

CHAPTER 114.

VENUE.

ARTICLE 1.—VENUE OF ACTIONS. 4205–4209.
2.—CHANGE OF VENUE. 4210–4216.

ARTICLE 1.

VENUE OF ACTIONS.

4205 (2640) (2928) (2562) (2164). Venue of actions.—All actions on contracts, except as may be otherwise provided, must be brought in the county in which the defendant, or one of the defendants, resides, if such defendant has within the state a permanent residence; all other personal actions, if the defendant, or one of the defendants, has within the state a permanent residence, may be brought in the county of such residence, or in the county in which the act or omission complained of may have been done, or may have occurred. All actions for the recovery of land, or of the possession thereof, or for a trespass thereto, must be brought in the county where the land lies; a summons issuing contrary to this section must be abated on the plea of the defendant.

Does not apply to suit commenced by attachment.—Herndon v. Givens, 16 Ala. 261. Although served by summoning a garnishee.—McPhillips v. Hubbard, 97 Ala. 512; An unmarried man, who rents and occupies a room as a sleeping-apartment, taking his meals elsewhere, is not a householder.—Katzenberg v. Lehman, 80 Ala. 512. A non-resident found here and personally served with process in a transitory action is bound by the service.—Smith v. Gibson, 83 Ala. 284. Detinue may be brought in any county where the property sued for may be found in the possession of the defendant.—Rand v. Gibson, 109 Ala. 266; Montgomery Iron Wks. v. Eufaula Oil & F. Co., 110 Ala. 395.

4206 (2641) (2929) (2563). Residents of new counties not organized.—Persons residing in new counties may sue and be sued in the counties from which their residences are taken, until such new counties have elected their officers and are organized.

4207 (2642). Corporation sued in any county where it does business by agent.—A foreign or domestic corporation may be sued in any county in which it does business by agent.

Home Protection Ins. Co. v. Richards, 74 Ala. 466; Sullivan v. Sullivan Timber Co., 103 Ala. 371; Montgomery Iron Wks. v. Eufaula Oil & F. Co., 110 Ala. 395.

4208 (2643) (2930). Suits by, or for the use of the state.—At the election of the attorney-general, all suits or summary proceedings by or for the use of the state, founded on the breach of the official bond of a state officer, or of a former state officer, of a tax-collector or former tax-collector, of a judge of probate or former judge of probate, of a tax-assessor or former tax-assessor, or clerk of the circuit court or former clerk of the circuit court, may be brought in a court of the county of Montgomery having jurisdiction of the subject-matter, or in a court of the county in which any one of the obligors in such bond may reside.

As amended Feb. 18, 1895, p. 849, §66.

4209 (2644). Venue of actions in which the convict system is interested.—All actions in which the convict system, or the state for the convict system, is interested, must be brought in Montgomery county in any court having jurisdiction of the subject-matter.

ARTICLE 2.

CHANGE OF VENUE.

4210 (2645) (3114) (2761) (2359). Venue changed once on motion of a party.—Either party to a civil suit may, at any time before final trial, move the court to change the venue, making affidavit that for causes set forth, he cannot have a fair and impartial trial in the county where the suit is pending. The court may direct a change to the nearest county free from proper objection by either party, to be determined by affidavits; and, whenever it will best secure the ends of justice, may require the applicant to give bond and security for costs. The same party can have the venue changed but once.

Ex parte Remson, 23 Ala. 25; s. c., 31 Ala. 270; Gager v. Gordon, 29 Ala. 341; Ex parte Holton, 69 Ala. 164; Ex parte Rice, 102 Ala. 671.

4211 (2646) (3115) (2762) (2360). Depositions of witnesses in the county taken.—When there has been a change of venue, the party opposed to such change may take the depositions of witnesses residing in the county from which the venue has been changed, under the same rules and regulations as are now provided by law for taking depositions in other cases.

4212 (2647) (3116) (2763) (2361). Witnesses subpœnaed to attend at place of trial.—The clerk of the court where the cause is pending must, unless otherwise directed, issue subpœnas to all witnesses to attend the court to which the venue is changed.

4213 (2648) (3118) (2766) (2363). Original paper and transcript of orders transmitted.—When a change of venue is directed, the clerk of the court must make a transcript of all the minutes, orders and other proceedings in the cause, and certify under the seal of his court that the same is a true copy. This transcript, together with all the original papers, he must envelope and securely seal, and write his name across the seals, and certify on the back of the envelope that the inclosed papers, numbered from 1 to ——, include all the original papers in the cause, naming it; and these signatures and certificates must be received as true until the contrary is shown. This package the clerk may deliver himself, or send by messenger or express to the clerk of the trial-court, and, if not mutilated or defaced, must be presumed to be as it came from the hands of the clerk of the court from which the venue is changed.

4214 (2649) (3119) (2767) (2364). Pay of messenger for carrying the papers.—The clerk or messenger so carrying the papers is entitled to five cents per mile and tolls and ferriages going and returning, which must be paid in advance by the party applying for the change of venue; if paid by the opposing party, to be taxed in the bill of costs against his adversary.

Ex parte Holton, 69 Ala. 164.

4216. Change of venue when convict system interested.—If on the trial of any cause in any county in this state it is suggested to the court by the president of the board of inspectors of convicts that the convict system is interested, such cause must be transferred to the proper court of Montgomery county in accordance with the provisions of this chapter in other cases of change of venue. Feb. 18, 1895, p. 849, §66

CHAPTER 115.

WATER-CRAFT.

4217 (3298) (3553) (3202 c). Damages for injuries to canoe, boat, or water-craft; limitation, etc.—Any person, who, without the consent of the owner, destroys, or who, without such consent, looses, sinks, or takes away, and fails to return, any canoe, boat, or water-craft, must pay to the owner double the value thereof; or if taken away, loosed, or sunk, and returned, but not in as good condition as when taken away, loosed, or sunk, such person must pay to the owner twenty-five dollars, and the expense of putting it in such condition. Section 4140 (3299) of this Code is applicable to any case arising under this section.

CHAPTER 116.

WAREHOUSEMEN AND COMMON CARRIERS. 4218-4229.

As amended Dec 8, 1890, p. 51.

4218 (1174) (2139) (1883). Warehousemen or common carriers give receipt or bill of lading; contents.—Warehousemen or common carriers, receiving things or property of any kind for safe-keeping, or for carriage, for hire or reward, must, on the delivery to them of such things or property, give the person from whom received a receipt or bill of lading, stating the order or condition in which such things or property may be, and if cotton in bales is received, stating expressly the condition of the bagging, ropes, or ties, and of the cotton, whether dry, damp, wet, or very wet; and such warehouseman or common carrier is bound to deliver in like order and condition as when received; and if such receipt or bill of lading be not given, such things or property must be deemed and taken to have been in good order or condition at the time of delivery to such warehouseman or carrier, and he is bound to deliver in like good order and condition; and the warehouseman or carrier, neglecting or failing to give such receipt or bill of lading, is liable for all loss or damages the owner of such things or property may sustain in consequence of such neglect or failure; but nothing in this section contained must be construed as affecting the common-law liability of a warehouseman or of a common carrier for an injury to or for the loss of such things or property.

M. & E. R. Co. v. Kolb, 73 Ala. 396; Lehman v. Pritchett, 84 Ala. 512.

4219 (1175). Receipt or bill of lading; when not to be given. A warehouseman, common carrier, or a wharfinger, or other person engaged in the business of storage, carriage, or of keeping for shipment, or of forwarding things or property, must not give a receipt or bill of lading for the things or property for storage, for carriage, or for keeping for shipment, or for forwarding, unless such things or property have been actually delivered to him, or placed under his control; and a second receipt or bill of lading must not be issued or given, the original being outstanding, without writing across the face thereof the word "duplicate."

Lehman v. Pritchett, 84 Ala. 512.

4220 (1176). Delivery to cotton-compress.—A delivery of cotton at or to a compress for the purpose of being compressed, at the instance, or in the usual course of business of a warehouseman, common carrier, wharfinger, or other person engaged in the business of storage, or of carriage, or of keeping for shipment, or of forwarding, may be taken and deemed as an actual delivery to such warehouseman, carrier, wharfinger, or other person, and therefor a receipt or bill of lading may be issued or given.

4221 (1177). Sale, etc., by warehouseman, carrier, or wharfinger.—A warehouseman, common carrier, wharfinger, or other person engaged in the business of storage, carriage, or of keeping for shipment, or of forwarding things or property, must not, otherwise than is authorized by law, or by the contract of delivery to them, make sale of things or property intrusted to them; nor, without the assent in writing of the person to whom they may have given a receipt or bill of lading, or of the legal holder of such receipt or bill of lading, encumber or transfer the same; nor must they, otherwise than as may be authorized by the contract of delivery to them, part with the control or possession of such things or property, without the assent in writing of the person to whom they may have given a receipt or bill of lading, or of the legal holder of such receipt or bill of lading.

Ala. State Bank v. Barnes, 82 Ala. 607; Lehman v. Pritchett, 84 Ala. 512.

4222 (1178). Warehouse receipt negotiable.—The receipt of a warehouseman, on which the words "not negotiable" are not plainly written or stamped, may be transferred by the indorsement thereof, and any person to whom the same is transferred, must be deemed and taken to be the owner of the things or property therein specified, so far as to give validity to any pledge, lien, or transfer made or created by such person; but this section must not be so construed as to affect or impair the lien of a landlord on such things or property for rent or advances, or to affect or impair any lien thereon created by contract, of which notice is given by registration in the mode prescribed by law; and unless the words "not negotiable" be plainly written or stamped on the receipt, the warehouseman must not deliver the things or property therein specified except on the delivery and cancellation of the receipt; or in case of partial delivery, without an indorsement thereon of such partial delivery; in the event of the loss or destruction of such receipt, the warehouseman, not having notice of the transfer thereof by indorsement, may make delivery of the things or property to the rightful owner thereof; if the things or property, or any part thereof, be claimed or taken from the custody or possession of the warehouseman under legal process, the surrender thereof may be made without the delivery or cancellation of such receipt, or without indorsement thereon.

Commercial Bank v. Hurt, 99 Ala. 130; Commercial Bank v. Lee, 99 Ala. 493.

4223 (1179). False or second receipts, or delivery without cancellation, or indorsement of partial delivery.—If any common carrier, not having received things or property for carriage, shall give or issue a bill of lading, or receipt, as if such things or property had been received, or any warehouseman, or wharfinger, or person engaged in the business of storage, or keeping for shipment, or forwarding, shall issue a receipt for things or property, not having received them; or if any of such parties shall give or issue a second bill of lading, or receipt, the original being outstanding, not expressing in such second bill of lading, or receipt, that it is a duplicate, or shall surrender such things or property without receiving and canceling the bill of lading or receipt issued therefor, or make partial delivery without indorsing such partial delivery on such bill of lading or receipt, except as provided in the preceding section, such carrier, warehouseman, wharfinger, or person is liable to any person injured thereby for all damages, immediate or consequential, therefrom resulting.

Jasper Trust Co. v. K. C. M. & B. R. Co., 99 Ala. 416; Southern Ex. Co. v. Bank of Tupelo, 108 Ala. 517.

4224 (1180). How common carrier absolved from liability as insurer on arrival of freight.—A common carrier, if the place of destination of freight is a city or town having two thousand inhabitants, or more, and a daily mail, is not relieved from liability as a common carrier by reason of a deposit or storage of freight in a depot or warehouse, unless, within twenty-four hours after the arrival of such freight, notice thereof is given the consignee, personally or through the mail; and if notice is given through the mail, the postage must, by the consignee, be refunded to the carrier.

C. & W. R. Co. v. Ludden, 89 Ala. 612; A. & A. R. Co. v. Ledbetter, 92 Ala. 326; Collins v. A. G. S. R. Co., 104 Ala. 390; Southern Ex. Co. v. Holland, 109 Ala. 362.

4225 (1181) (2140, 2141) (1884, 1885). Sale of perishable freight to pay charges.—When any fruit, vegetables, fresh meat, oysters, eggs, or fish, or other property of so perishable a nature as to be in danger of great depreciation, has been transported by a common carrier to the place of destination, and remains unclaimed for one day after its arrival, or if the consignee resides, or is present at the place of destination, for one day after personal notice in writing to him, or his agent, of the arrival of the freight, and the amount of charges due thereon, the same may be sold by the carrier or his agent at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, at some public place at the point of destination, on one day's notice, indicating the nature of the package, the consignee and the time and place of sale, by publication in some newspaper published at the place of destination, or, if none is published thereat, then by posting the notice at the office or place of business of the carrier.

4226 (1182) (2141) (1885). Sale of other freight to pay charges. When any other freight than that mentioned in the preceding section remains unclaimed for sixty days after its arrival at the place of destination, the same may be sold by the carrier or his agent at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, at some public place at the point of destination, after notice, indicating the nature of the package, the consignee, and the time and place of sale, has been given for three weeks by publication, once a week, in some newspaper published at the place of destination, or, if no such paper is there published, by posting the notice at three public places therein; but before any sale can be made under this section, the carrier must, before giving notice of the sale, demand payment of the charges due thereon from the owner or consignee, if either of them resides at the place of destination; but if neither of them resides at such place, failure to make such demand shall not prevent the sale; but notice of such sale must be given the consignor by mail.

Western R. Co. v. Rembert, 50 Ala. 25; Nathan v. Shivers, 71 Ala. 117; Crass v. M. & C. R. Co., 96 Ala. 447.

4227 (1183) (2142) (1886). Insurance; sale; proceeds.—The common carrier may insure the freight, at the expense of the owner, from the date of its arrival to the sale above authorized; and the proceeds of any sale made under the last two sections shall be applied to the payment of the freight, insurance, and all charges incident to storage and sale, and the residue, if any, shall be paid over to the owner or consignee.

4228 (1184) (2143) (1887). Three preceding sections applicable to warehousemen.—The provisions of the three preceding sections apply to warehousemen to whom freight is delivered by a common carrier.

4229 (1185). Concealing cotton or changing marks.—Any person, who conceals cotton delivered to himself or another for sale or storage, or changes or mutilates the marks or brands thereof for the purpose of hindering the owner or person having a lien thereon from recovering it, and any warehouseman who permits such conduct, shall be liable to the owner or lienor for all damages, immediate or remote, by him sustained; and any warehouseman with whom such cotton has been stored, who has information which would lead to the discovery thereof, and refuses, on application, to impart the same to the owner or lienor, is liable to him for the value of the cotton.

CHAPTER 117.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES. 4230–4240.

4230 (1217) (1460) (1198) (948). Must conform to standard established by congress.—There is but one standard of measure of length and surface, one of weight, and one of capacity, throughout this state, which must be in conformity with the standard of measure of length, surface, weight and capacity established by congress.

4231 (1218) (1461) (1199) (949). Contracts construed in reference to.—All contracts, made within this state for any work to be done, or for any thing to be sold and delivered, must be construed to have been made according to the standard of weight and measure thus ascertained, unless the parties stipulate to the contrary.

4232 (1219) (1462) (1200) (950). Standards furnished counties by secretary of state.—Any county which has not been furnished with weights and measures, consisting of one weight of fifty pounds, one of twenty-five pounds, one of fourteen pounds, one of seven pounds, two of four pounds, two of two pounds, and two of one pound, avoirdupois; one measure of one yard, and one of one foot, cloth measure; one measure of half a bushel, one of one peck, and one of one-half peck, dry measure; one measure of one gallon, one of a half gallon, one of one quart, one of one pint, one of one-half pint, and one of one gill, wine measure, in conformity with such standard, must be supplied therewith, by the secretary of state, as early as practicable.

4233 (1220) (1463). When furnished in case of destruction.—If the weights and measures of any county are destroyed, without the fault of any official who by law had charge of the same, the secretary of state shall, upon the requisition of the probate judge, furnish weights and measures to such county.

4234 (1221) (1464). New counties.—New counties must be furnished with weights and measures.

4235 (1222) (1465) (1201) (951). Expense of obtaining, etc.; how defrayed.—For the expense of obtaining such weights and measures, and furnishing the same to counties, the auditor must, on the account being certified by the secretary of state, draw his warrant on the state treasury.

4236 (1223) (1466) (1202) (952). Notice of receipt of weights and measures.—The judge of probate of each county, when furnished with such weights and measures, must, within three weeks thereafter, give notice thereof by advertisement at the court-house door, and at five other public places in the county.

4237 (1224) (1467) (1203) (953). Seal of weights and measures. Such judges must try all weights and measures presented to them, by such standards, and if found to agree with the same, must seal them with a seal to be provided at the expense of the county.

4238 (1225) (1468) (1205) (955). Penalty for selling by false weights and measures.—Three months after the notice prescribed in this chapter has been given, every person selling any commodity by weight or measure, which does not correspond with such standard, forfeits the sum of ten dollars to any person suing for the same.

4239 (1226) (1469) (1206). Standard balances, by whom kept. The set of balances intended for the adjustment of weights and measures furnished to this state by act of congress, must be kept by the secretary of state.

As amended Feb. 18 1891. p. 1353.

4240 (1227). Weights of certain commodities.—If not otherwise agreed upon, the legal weights per bushel of the following commodities shall be as follows: Cottonseed, thirty-two pounds; wheat, sixty pounds; shelled corn, fifty-six pounds; corn in the ear, seventy pounds; corn in the shuck, seventy-five pounds; pease, sixty pounds; rye, fifty-six pounds; oats, thirty-two pounds; barley, forty-seven pounds; Irish potatoes, sixty pounds; sweet potatoes, fifty-five pounds; beans, sixty pounds; dried peaches, unpeeled, thirty-three pounds; dried peaches, peeled, thirty-eight pounds; dried apples, twenty-four pounds; turnips, fifty-five pounds; meal, forty-six pounds; unbolted meal, forty-eight pounds.

Courts cannot take judicial notice of the rule for measuring corn in the shuck.—S. & N. A. R. Co. v. Wood, 74 Ala. 449.

WILLS.

ARTICLE 1.—GENERAL PROVISIONS. 4241–4262.
2.—EXECUTION AND PROBATE OF WILLS. 4263–4286.
3.—CONTESTING THE VALIDITY OF WILLS. 4287–4300.

ARTICLE 1.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

4241 (1945) (2274) (1910) (1589). Who may devise lands. Every person of the age of twenty-one years, of sound mind, may, by his last will, devise his lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any interest therein, descendible to his heirs

What constitutes testamentary capacity; of "sound mind."—Coleman v. Robertson, 17 Ala. 84; Taylor v. Kelly, 31 Ala. 59; Stubbs v. Houston, 33 Ala 555; Leeper v. Taylor, 47 Ala. 221; O'Donnell v. Rodiger, 76 Ala. 222; Kramer v. Weinert, 81 Ala. 414; Eastis v. Montgomery, 95 Ala. 486; Knox v. Knox, 95 Ala. 495; Bulger v. Ross, 98 Ala. 267; Burney v. Torrey, 100 Ala. 157; s. c. Ala. (21 So. 348); Henry v. Hall, 106 Ala. 84; Murphree v. Senn, 107 Ala. 424.

4242 (1946) (2275) (1911) (1590). To whom devises may be made.—A devise of lands, tenements, or hereditaments may be made to any person or corporation capable by law of holding real estate.

Bequest to "the Baptist Societies for Foreign and Domestic Missions and the American and Foreign Bible Society," held valid.—Carter v. Balfour, 19 Ala. 814. And to "Pilgrims' Rest Association."—Williams v. Pearson, 38 Ala. 299. And for the erection of monuments to certain named persons. Gilmer v. Gilmer, 42 Ala. 9. A bequest of money "to be used in solemn masses for the repose of" testator's soul, is void.—Festorazzi v. St. Joseph's Catholic Church, 104 Ala. 327.

4243 (1947) (2276) (1912) (1591). Descent of realty, when devisee incapable of taking.—Any estate or interest in real property, devised to a person or corporation incapable of taking, descends as in case of intestacy, or, if the testator has no heirs competent to take, to the residuary devisee, if any is named in the will capable of holding such estate or interest; otherwise, it escheats to the state.

Carter v. Balfour, 19 Ala. 814; Williams v. Pearson, 38 Ala. 299; Johnson v. Holifield, 82 Ala. 123.

4244 (1948) (2277) (1913) (1592). What passes by general devise.—Every devise, made by a testator, in express terms, of all his real estate, or in any other terms denoting his intention to devise all his real property, must be construed to pass all the real estate he was entitled to devise at the time of his death.

Johnson v. Holifield, 82 Ala. 123; Kelly v. Richardson, 100 Ala. 584; Graham v. DeYampert, 106 Ala. 279.

4245 (1949) (2278) (1914) (1593). What estate in lands passes. Every devise of land must be construed to convey all the estate of the devisor therein, unless it clearly appears from the will that he intended to convey a less estate.

4246 (1950) (2279) (1915) (1594). Character of estate pur autre vie.—An estate during the life of a third person, whether limited to his heirs or otherwise, is a freehold only during the life of the grantee or devisee; but after his death it is a chattel real.

4247 (1951) (2280) (1916) (1595). Who may bequeath personal property.—All persons over the age of eighteen years, of sound mind, and no others, may also, by their last will, dispose of all their personal property.

Daniel v. Hill, 52 Ala. 430; Banks v. Sherrod, 52 Ala. 267; Allen v. Watts, 98 Ala. 384.

4248 (1952) (2281) (1917) (1596). Property not disposed of distributed as in case of intestacy.—All property not disposed of by will must be administered and distributed, as in case of intestacy, by the executor or the administrator with the will annexed.

McLeod v. McDonnell, 6 Ala. 236; Bell v. Mason, 10 Ala. 334; Eddings v. Long, Ib. 203; Denson v. Autrey, 21 Ala. 205; Wheat v. Wheat, 24 Ala. 429; Bryan v. Weems, 25 Ala. 195; Green v. Speer, 37 Ala. 532; Banks v. Sherrod, 52 Ala. 267; Johnson v. Holifield, 82 Ala. 123; Skeggs v. Horton, 82 Ala. 352; Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426, 432.

4249 (1953) (2282) (1918) (1597). When will revoked by marriage and issue.—If, after making any will disposing of his whole estate, the testator marry and have issue of such marriage, born either in his lifetime, or after his death, and the wife or such issue is living at his death, such will must be deemed revoked, unless provision has been made for such issue by some gift or settlement, or unless such issue has been provided for in the will, or in such way mentioned therein as to show an intention not to make such provision; and no other evidence can be received for the purpose of rebutting the presumption of such revocation.

Gay v. Gay, 84 Ala. 38.

4250 (1954) (2283) (1919) (1598). Woman's marriage revokes her will.—If, after the making of a will by an unmarried woman, she marries, the marriage operates as a revocation of the will.

4251 (1955) (2284) (1920) (1599). When child born after will takes as in case of intestacy.—Whenever a testator has a child, born after the making of his will, either in his lifetime or after his death, and no provision is made in the will in any way for such a contingency, such birth operates as a revocation of the will, so far as to allow such child to take the same share of the estate of the testator as if he had died intestate.

Wolffe v. Loeb, 98 Ala. 426.

4252 (1956) (2285) (1921) (1600). Manner of setting apart such child's portion.—The portion which such child is entitled to recover and receive, under the provisions of the preceding section, shall be taken and recovered from the estate of the testator, and from the parts of devisees and legatees, as follows:

1. If there be any real or personal estate of the testator, which has not been devised or bequeathed by his will, and there are other children, or the descendants of other children, capable of taking the same by descent, and a widow, or any of them, the share of such child, which it would take by descent or by distribution, with such widow and other heirs, or any of them, must be applied towards the payment of the portion of such child; and if there are no other children, or the descendants of other children, the whole of such part of the real or personal estate, or so much thereof as may be necessary, must be applied to the payment and discharge of such portion.

2. If the same is insufficient to pay and discharge such portion, then any part of such estate which would have gone to the residuary legatees of the testator, other than the widow, or any of his children, or so much of such part of the estate as may be necessary, must be taken and applied to the payment of such portion.

3. If such portion be not thus paid and satisfied, the same, or the balance thereof, must be taken from the devisees and legatees of the testator, in proportion to the value of what they would respectively be entitled to receive under the will.

4253 (1957) (2286) (1922) (1601). If child die before receiving its portion, it passes by will.—If any such child die before receiving its portion, without descendants, such portion, or so much thereof as has not been received, passes by the will, as if such child had not been born.

4254 (1958) (2287) (1923) (1602). When devise not revoked by contract for conveyance of property devised.—When any testator, after making his will, makes any contract for the conveyance of any property devised in such will, and the whole or any part of the purchase-money remains unpaid to such testator at his death, the disposition of the property by such contract is not a revocation of the devise, at law or in equity, unless it clearly appears by the contract, or some other instrument in writing, to be intended as a revocation; and such property passes to such devisee, subject to the same remedies for a specific performance thereof, in favor of the persons entitled thereto, against the person to whom such devise was made, as might be had at law or in equity against the heirs of the testator, had the same descended to them; and the purchase-money, when recovered by the executor of the testator, must be paid to the devisee of such property.

Powell v. Powell, 30 Ala. 697; Taylor v. Kelly, 31 Ala. 59; Stubbs v. Houston, 33 Ala. 555; Welch v. Pounders, 36 Ala. 668; Moore v. Spier, 80 Ala. 129; Slaughter v. Stephens, 81 Ala. 418.

4255 (1959) (2288) (1924) (1603). When devise not revoked by subsequent charge or incumbrance.—A charge or incumbrance on any real or personal property, to secure any money, or the performance of any contract, does not operate as a revocation of any devise or bequest of such property previously executed, unless it appears from the will, or the instrument creating such charge or incumbrance, that such was the intention of the testator.

See citations to preceding section.

4256 (1960) (2289) (1925) (1604). When after-acquired interest passes under devise.—When any testator, after having executed a will devising any real property, afterwards makes a conveyance of his interest, and acquires a new estate therein, such new estate passes by his will to the person to whom the original estate or interest was devised, unless it appears from the will, or the instrument conveying the estate, or by which the new estate was acquired, that the testator intended such conveyance to operate as a revocation.

4257 (1961) (2290) (1926) (1605). Effect of death on devise or legacy to child or descendant.—When any estate, real or personal, is devised or bequeathed to a child or other descendant of the testator, and such devisee or legatee dies in the lifetime of the testator, leaving a child or other descendant surviving the testator, such legacy does not lapse, but vests in such child or other descendant, as if such devisee or legatee had survived the testator, and died intestate.

Jones v. Jones, 37 Ala. 646.

4258 (1962) (2291) (1927) (1606). When debtor not released by being appointed executor.—The appointment of a debtor as an executor is not a discharge of the debt, unless it is so directed in the will.

4259 (1963) (2292) (1928) (1609). Dissent by widow; her rights on; when dissent unnecessary.—The widow may, in all cases, dissent from the will of her deceased husband, and, in lieu of the provision made for her by such will, take her dower in the lands and such portion of the personal estate as she would have been entitled to in case of intestacy. If the will makes no provision for her she may claim her dower and distributive share without dissenting from the will.

Right of dissent personal to the widow.—Donald v. Portis, 42 Ala. 29; Crenshaw v. Carpenter, 69 Ala. 572. Effect of dissent, etc.—Gaunt v. Tucker, 18 Ala. 27; Kirkman v. Mason, 17 Ala. 134; Vaughan v. Vaughan, 30 Ala. 329; Adams v. Adams, 39 Ala. 274; Dean v. Hart, 62 Ala. 308; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438. Change effected by statute.—McLeod v. McDonald, 6 Ala. 236.

4260 (1964) (2293) (1929) (1610). Dissent; when to be made. Such dissent must be made in writing, and deposited, within eighteen months from the probate of the will, with the judge of probate of the county in which the will is probated; and an entry must be made of record, specifying the day on which the dissent was made.

McGrath v. McGrath, 38 Ala. 246.

4261. Widow eighteen years of age has capacity to dissent.—If the widow is of the age of eighteen years at the time the will is admitted to probate, she has capacity to dissent as if she were twenty-one.

4262 (1965). How dissent made if widow insane, or minor under eighteen, or dead.—If the widow is insane, or if she be under the age of eighteen years at the time the will is admitted to probate, or if she be dead, upon a petition filed by her guardian or next friend, or, if dead, by her personal representative, within the time prescribed in the second preceding section, alleging that it would be to her interest, or, in case of her death, to the interest of her estate, to dissent from the will of her husband, the probate court of the county in which the will is probated has authority to declare dissent from such will for her; and upon the filing of such petition, the court must appoint a day for the hearing, not more than twenty days from the filing thereof, and if the widow is insane, or was under the age of eighteen years at the time the will was admitted to probate, a guardian ad litem must be appointed for her. If upon the hearing the court is satisfied, from the testimony of at least two disinterested witnesses, taken by deposition upon interrogatories as in chancery cases, that it is to the interest of such widow, or, in case of her death, of her estate, to dissent from the will, an order shall be made declaring such dissent. The costs of the proceeding must be paid by the person filing the application.

ARTICLE 2.

EXECUTION AND PROBATE OF WILLS.

4263 (1966) (2294) (1930) (1611). Wills to be in writing; how signed and attested.—No will is effectual to pass real or personal property, except in the cases hereinafter provided for, unless the same is in writing, signed by the testator or some person in his presence, and by his direction, and attested by at least two witnesses, who must subscribe their names thereto in the presence of the testator.

Signature to will.—Armstrong v. Armstrong, 29 Ala. 538; Woodcock v. McDonald, 30 Ala. 411; Bailey v. Bailey, 35 Ala. 687; Riley v. Riley, 36 Ala. 496. Testator's name may be signed for him by another, in his presence and by his direction.—Riley v. Riley, 36 Ala. 496; Garrett v. Heflin, 98 Ala. 615. Attesting witness may subscribe by mark.—Garrett v. Heflin, 98 Ala. 615. Testator need not inform the witnesses that the instrument is his will, or give them any information of its contents.—Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366; Garrett v. Heflin, 98 Ala. 615; Leverett v. Carlisle, 19 Ala. 80. Witnesses must sign in the presence of the testator, but need not sign in the presence of each other.—Hoffman v. Hoffman, 26 Ala. 535; Woodcock v. McDonald, 30 Ala. 411; Moore v. Spier, 80 Ala. 129; Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366. In the presence of the testator, is within his view; where he may see the witnesses attest the will if he thinks proper.—Hill v. Barge, 12 Ala. 687. A legatee or a devisee is a competent attesting witness.—Kumpe v. Coons, 63 Ala. 448; Snider v. Burks, 84 Ala. 53; Henry v. Hall, 106 Ala. 84. And testator's attorney.—Mosser v. Mosser, 32 Ala. 551. Will on detached sheets; on proof of due execution, signature referred to all the sheets.—Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366. Will unaffected by alterations not made as required by law, or unexecuted intention to alter.—Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366. Unexecuted codicil, never probated, void.—Newsom v. Guy, 109 Ala. 305. Republication must be made with all the formalities requisite to the due execution in the first instance.—Barker v. Bell, 46 Ala. 216; s. c., 49 Ala. 284. Will attested by one witness only, not open to collateral attack after probate. Leatherwood v. Sullivan, 81 Ala. 458; Sullivan v. Rabb, 86 Ala. 433. Lost will may be established by the testimony of one witness.—Skeggs v. Horton, 82 Ala. 352. Supplying or contradicting testimony of subscribing witnesses. Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366; Snider v. Burks, 84 Ala. 53; Hall v. Hall, 38 Ala. 131. By what law validity of will determined.—Hoffman v. Hoffman, 26 Ala. 535; Powell v. Powell, 30 Ala. 697; Daniel v. Hill, 52 Ala. 430; Dickey v. Vann, 81 Ala. 425.

4264 (1967) (2295) (1931) (1612). Subsequent incompetency of witnesses; effect of.—If the witnesses attesting the execution of any will are competent at the time of their attestation, their subsequent incompetency, from whatever cause it may arise, must not prevent the probate of such will, if otherwise satisfactorily proved.

4265 (1968) (2296) (1932) (1613). Revocation of wills; how made.—Except in the cases provided in the preceding article, a will in writing can only be revoked by burning, tearing, canceling, or obliterating the same, with the intention of revoking it, by the testator himself, or by some person in his presence, and by his direction, or by some other will in writing, or some other writing, subscribed by the testator, and attested as prescribed in the first section of this article; and when any will is burned, torn, canceled, or obliterated by any other person than the testator, his direction and consent thereto, and the fact of such burning, canceling, tearing, or obliteration, must be proved by at least two witnesses.

Weeks v. McBeth, 14 Ala. 474; Taylor v. Kelly, 31 Ala. 59; Stubbs v. Houston, 33 Ala. 555; Welsh v. Pounders, 36 Ala. 668; Barker v. Bell, 46 Ala. 216; s. c., 49 Ala. 284; Slaughter v. Stephens, 81 Ala. 418; Law v. Law, 83 Ala. 432; Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366.

4266 (1969) (2297) (1933) (1614). Former will not revived by revocation; exceptions.—The making of any subsequent will or writing, and the cancellation, destruction, or revocation thereof do not revive any will previously executed, unless it appear, by the terms of such revocation, that it was the intention of the testator to revive and give effect to the first will; or unless, after such cancellation or destruction, he duly republish the previous will.

4267 (1970) (2298) (1934) (1615). Unwritten wills of personal property; when valid.—An unwritten will of personal property is valid only when the property bequeathed thereby does not exceed in value five hundred dollars.

Erwin v. Hamner, 27 Ala. 296.

4268 (1971) (2299) (1935) (1616). Circumstances under which such will may be made.—Such unwritten will, to be valid, must be made during the last sickness of the deceased, and at his dwelling, or where he had resided ten days or more, except when he was taken sick from home and died before his return; and it must be proved that the testator, at the time of making the same, called upon the persons present, or some of them, to take notice, or bear witness, or to that effect, that such was his will.

Sykes v. Sykes, 2 Stew. 364; Johnson v. Glasscock, 2 Ala. 218.

4269 (1972) (2300) (1936) (1617). Soldiers, seamen and mariners may make wills as heretofore.—No provision in this article must be construed to prevent soldiers in actual military service, or mariners or seamen at sea, from disposing of their personal property as they might have done before the adoption of this Code.

4270 (1973) (2301) (1937) (1618). When and on what notice unwritten wills probated.—No unwritten will can be probated, or letters testamentary granted thereon, until after fourteen days from the death of the testator, nor until a citation has been served on the widow and next of kin to appear and contest such will, unless it is shown that such widow and next of kin are out of the state, in which case notice must be given by publication, once a week for three successive weeks, in some newspaper published in the county, or if none is published therein, in the one nearest to the court-house thereof; and no such will must be established until it is proved that such notice has been given.

Gilbert v. Gilbert, 22 Ala. 529; Bradley v. Andress 27 Ala. 596; Kirby v. Kirby, 40 Ala. 492.

4271 (1974) (2302) (1938) (1619). When must not be proved. After the expiration of six months from the time of making an unwritten will, no testimony must be received to prove the same, unless the words, or the substance thereof, was reduced to writing within six days after making of the same.

4272 (1975) (2303) (1939) (1620). Who may have will probated. Upon the death of a testator, any executor, devisee, or legatee named in the will, or any person interested in the estate, may have the will proved before the proper probate court.

McGrews v. McGrews, 1 Stew. & Port. 30.

4273 (1976) (2304) (1940) (1621). In what court will to be proved.—Wills must be proved in the several probate courts as follows:

1. When the testator, at the time of his death, was an inhabitant of the county, in the probate court of such county.

2. When the testator, not being an inhabitant of the state, dies in the county, leaving assets therein, in the probate court of such county.

3. When the testator, not being an inhabitant of the state, dies out of the county, leaving assets therein, in the probate court of the county in which such assets, or any part thereof, are.

4. When the testator, not being an inhabitant of the state, dies, not leaving assets therein, and assets thereafter come into any county, in the probate court of any county into which such assets are brought.

Subdivision 1.—Herbert v. Hanrick, 16 Ala. 581; Merrill v. Morrissett, 76 Ala. 433. Subdivision 2.—Jaques v. Horton, 76 Ala. 238. Nature of jurisdiction.—Herbert v. Hanrick, 16 Ala. 581; Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290; Goodman v. Winter, 64 Ala. 410; Acklen v. Goodman, 77 Ala. 521. Necessity of probate.—Hawkins v. Dumas, 41 Ala. 391; Goodman v. Winter, 64 Ala. 410; Jordan v. Jordan, 65 Ala. 301; Desribes v. Wilmer, 69 Ala. 25. Conclusiveness of probate.—Matthews v. McDade, 72 Ala. 377; Goodman v. Winter, 64 Ala. 410; Brock v. Frank, 51 Ala. 85; Leatherwood v. Sullivan, 81 Ala. 458; Sullivan v. Rabb, 86 Ala. 433. Probate of lost or destroyed will.—McBeth v. McBeth, 11 Ala. 596; Apperson v. Cottrell, 3 Port. 51; Jaques v. Horton, 76 Ala. 238; Skeggs v. Horton, 82 Ala. 352. Probate of foreign will.—Pope v. Pickett, 51 Ala. 584; Goodman v. Winter, 64 Ala. 410; Varner v. Bevil, 17 Ala. 286; Dickey v. Vann, 81 Ala. 425; Keith v. Proctor, Ala. (21 So. 502). Effect of foreign probate.—Moore v. Lewis, 21 Ala. 580. Meaning of "inhabitant." Merrill v. Morrissett, 76 Ala. 433. Nature of proceedings.—Deslonde v. Darrington, 29 Ala. 92. Written application, though proper, not necessary. Deslonde v. Darrington, 29 Ala. 92. Probate of codicil after probate of will. Watson v. Turner, 89 Ala. 220. Practice suggested as to probate of will of minor disposing of personalty.—Banks v. Sherrod, 52 Ala. 267.

4274 (1977) (2305) (1941) (1622). Proceedings to compel production of will; penalty.—On application to the probate court of the proper county by any person interested, duly verified by affidavit, the judge of such court must issue a citation to any person alleged to have the custody or possession of any last will, requiring such person to produce the same before such judge on a certain day, to be specified in such citation; and any person who, after service of such citation upon him, fails to produce such will, or to make an affidavit according to the provisions of the next section, by the day specified in such citation, may be committed to jail until he produces such will, makes such affidavit, or is otherwise discharged by law; and he is also liable to all persons interested for all damages caused by withholding such will.

4275 (1978) (2306) (1942) (1623). When party proceeded against, discharged.—Such person must not be committed to jail, if he makes and files an affidavit that such will was never in his possession, or that he parted with the same before the service of such citation, to some person whose name he must state, entitled to the custody thereof, in good faith, and without any intention to delay or defeat the probate thereof; or that he has casually lost or mislaid the same, and has made diligent search therefor without success.

4276 (1979) (2307) (1943) (1624). Mode of proving wills not nuncupative.—Wills offered for probate, except nuncupative wills, must be proved by one or more of the subscribing witnesses, or if they be dead, insane, or out of the state, or have become incompetent since the attestation, then by the proof of the handwriting of the testator, and that of at least one of the witnesses to the will.

Supplying or contradicting testimony of subscribing witnesses.—Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366; Snider v. Burks, 84 Ala. 53; Hall v. Hall, 38 Ala. 131.

4277 (1980) (2308) (1944) (1625). What necessary to probate by proof of handwriting.—If none of the subscribing witnesses to such will are produced, their insanity, death, subsequent incompetency, or absence from the state must be satisfactorily shown, before proof of the handwriting of the testator, or of any of the subscribing witnesses can be received.

See citations to preceding section.

4278 (1981) (2309) (1945) (1626). When proof taken by deposition.—When the subscribing witnesses, or any of them, reside out of the state, the judge of probate may issue a commission to take the testimony of such witnesses in proof of such will.

4279 (1982) (2310) (1946) (1627). Testimony to be recorded with will.—If it appears, on the proof taken before the judge of probate, that the will was duly executed, the testimony of the witnesses must be reduced to writing by him, signed by the witnesses, and, with the will, recorded in a book provided and kept for that purpose.

Reese v. Nolan, 99 Ala. 203.

4280 (1983) (2311) (1947) (1628). Certificate indorsed on will; contents.—Every will so proved must have a certificate indorsed thereon, setting forth, in substance, that such will has been duly proved and recorded, with the proof; specifying, also, the date of the probate, the book in, and page or pages on which it is recorded; which indorsement must be signed by such judge of probate.

Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290.

4281 (1984) (2312) (1948) (1629). When may be read in evidence.—Every will, so proved and indorsed, may be read in evidence in any court of the state, without further proof thereof; and the record of such will and proof, or a transcript thereof, certified by the judge of probate, must be received as evidence to the same extent as if the original will was produced, and the same proof made.

Newsom v. Holesapple, 101 Ala. 682.

4282 (1985) (2313) (1949) (1630). How will proved out of, probated in this state.—When the testator was not, at the time of his death, an inhabitant of this state, and his will has been duly proved in any other state or country, it may be admitted to probate in the proper court of this state, in the manner following:

1. If the will has been admitted to probate out of this state, but within the United States, such will, or a copy of the same, and the probate thereof, must be certified by the clerk of the court in which the same is proved, with the certificate of the judge, or one of the judges of such court, that the attestation is genuine, and by the proper officer; and if the will is proved before a court not having a clerk, or before an officer who is his own clerk, the certificate of the judge of such court or officer, stating such fact, is sufficient.

2. If the will has been admitted to probate out of the United States, such will, or a copy of the same, with the probate thereof, must be certified by the clerk, or other officer, by whatever name called, of the court in which the will was proved, with the certificate of the judge, or one of the judges of such court, that the attestation is genuine; and if the will is proved before a court having no clerk, or an officer who is his own clerk, the judge of such court or officer must so certify, and in that case the attestation must be certified to be genuine by the judge of any court of record, or the mayor or chief magistrate of any town, city, county, or borough, or by any diplomatic, consular, or commercial agent of the United States.

Puryear v. Beard, 14 Ala. 121; Broughton v. Bradley, 34 Ala. 694; Ward v. Oates, 43 Ala. 515; Brock v. Frank, 51 Ala. 85; Goodman v. Winter, 64 Ala. 410; Leatherwood v. Sullivan, 81 Ala. 458; Sullivan v. Rabb, 86 Ala. 433; Dickey v. Vann, 86 Ala. 425; Keith v. Proctor, Ala. (21 So. 502).

4283 (1986) (2314) (1950) (1631). When will may be withdrawn for proof out of state.—Whenever any will has been proved and recorded for six months in any county of this state, as required by this article, and such will is required to be proved out of this state, the judge of probate may, on the application of the executor, duly sworn to, allow him to withdraw the will.

4284 (1987) (2315) (1951) (1632). Notice of application to prove will.—Whenever an application is made to prove a will in this state, at least ten days' notice must be given to the widow and next of kin, or to either of them, residing and being within the state, before such application is heard.

Shields v. Alston, 4 Ala. 248; Hilliard v. Binford, 10 Ala. 977; Lees v. Browning, 15 Ala. 495; Roy v. Segrist, 19 Ala. 811; Stapleton v. Stapleton, 21 Ala. 587; Walker v. Jones, 23 Ala. 448; Blakley v. Blakley, 33 Ala. 611; Leslie v. Sims, 39 Ala. 161; Clemens v. Patterson, 38 Ala. 721; Allen v. Prater, 35 Ala. 169; Sowell v. Sowell, 41 Ala. 359; Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290; Dickey v. Vann, 81 Ala. 425; Reese v. Nolan, 99 Ala. 203; Herring v. Ricketts, 101 Ala. 340.

4285. Minors; how served.—If any of the next of kin are minors, such notice may be served as provided by rule 20(23) of chancery practice, the judge of probate being vested with the authority conferred by such rule upon the register or chancellor.

4286 (1988) (2316) (1952) (1633). Notice by publication.—If either the widow or next of kin reside and are without the state, notice of such application must be given by publication once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county in which application is made, and if no paper is published therein, by posting notice of the same at the court-house three weeks before such application is heard.

ARTICLE 3.

CONTESTING THE VALIDITY OF WILLS.

4287 (1989) (2317) (1953) (1634). Contest; grounds, and by whom instituted; how issue made up and tried.—A will, before the probate thereof, may be contested by any person interested therein, or by any person who, if the testator had died intestate, would have been an heir or distributee of his estate, by filing in the court where it is offered for probate allegations in writing that the will was not duly executed, or of the unsoundness of mind of the testator, or of any other valid objections thereto; and thereupon an issue must be made up, under the direction of the court, between the person making the application, as plaintiff, and the person contesting the validity of the will, as defendant; and such issue must, on application of either party, be tried by a jury.

Petition for contest must state facts showing right to contest; creditor of decedent has no such right.—Montgomery v. Foster, 91 Ala. 613. Married woman contestant; improper to join husband.—Blake v. Blake, 80 Ala. 37. Proponent should produce or account for all attesting witnesses.—Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366. Contested probate of lost will; how tried and decision revised.—Jacques v. Horton, 76 Ala. 238; Skeggs v. Horton, 82 Ala. 352. Presumption that every person of full age has testamentary capacity.—Cotton v. Ulmer, 45 Ala. 378; Daniel v. Hill, 52 Ala. 430; O'Donnell v. Rodiger, 76 Ala. 222; Knox v. Knox, 95 Ala. 495; Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366. Burden on contestant to show mental incapacity at time will executed. Stubbs v. Houston, 33 Ala. 555; Eastis v. Montgomery, 95 Ala. 486; Murphree v. Senn, 107 Ala. 424; Barnewall v. Murrell, 108 Ala. 366. Prior insanity not presumed to exist at time will executed, unless habitual and fixed.—Johnson v. Armstrong, 97 Ala. 731; Murphree v. Senn, 107 Ala. 424. Insane delusion; mistaken notion.—Florey v. Florey, 24 Ala. 241; Mosser v. Mosser, 32 Ala. 551; Hall v. Hall, 38 Ala. 131. Mental incapacity produced by use of medicine. Stedham v. Stedham, 32 Ala. 525. Unequal or unnatural disposition of property among next of kin raises no presumption of mental incapacity.—Knox v. Knox, 95 Ala. 495; Chandler v. Jost, 96 Ala. 596; Henry v. Hall, 106 Ala. 84. Undue influence; what constitutes; burden of proof.—Leverett v. Carlisle, 19 Ala. 80; Pool v. Pool, 35 Ala. 12; Hall v. Hall, 38 Ala. 131; Leeper v. Taylor, 47 Ala. 221; Daniel v. Hill, 52 Ala. 430; Moore v. Spier, 80 Ala. 129; Lyons v. Campbell, 88 Ala. 462; Eastis v. Montgomery, 93 Ala. 293; Knox v. Knox, 95 Ala. 495; Bulger v. Ross, 98 Ala. 267; Chandler v. Jost, 106 Ala. 84; Higginbotham v. Higginbotham, 106 Ala. 314; Estes v. Broadfoot, Ala. (21 So. 512). Former declarations of testator; former will; when admissible. Seals v. Chambliss, 35 Ala. 19. Confidential relations between principal beneficiary and testator; burden of proof.—Bancroft v. Otis, 91 Ala. 279; Eastis v. Montgomery, 93 Ala. 293. When will written by person intended to be benefited; presumption and onus against the instrument.—Garrett v. Heflin, 98 Ala. 615. When will partly valid and partly void for undue influence.—Henry v. Hall, 106 Ala. 84. Partial contest when only specific legacies are objected to.—Lyons v. Campbell, 88 Ala. 462. Partial probate of lost will when certain legacies not proved.—Skeggs v. Horton, 82 Ala. 352.

4288 (1990) (2318, 2319, 2323) (1954, 1955, 1959) (1635, 1636, 1640). Day fixed for trial; continuance; witnesses.—Upon the institution of such contest, a day must be appointed for the trial thereof, and the trial may, on good cause shown by either party, be continued to any other day; and the judge of probate must, on application of either party, issue subpœnas for witnesses to appear on the day fixed for such trial, and may resummon them to any day to which the same may be continued.

4289 (1991) (2320, 2322) (1956, 1958) (1637, 1639). Jury; how drawn, summoned, etc.—The judge of probate must also, when trial by jury is demanded, direct the sheriff to summon such number of persons as a jury, to sit upon such trial, as may be necessary; or he must, if either party require it, cause fifteen persons to be drawn and summoned in the same manner as jurors are drawn and summoned for the circuit court; and if, out of the number summoned, a jury is not completed from any cause, it may be completed from the bystanders or other persons summoned.

Jaques v. Horton, 76 Ala. 239.

4290 (1992) (2321) (1957) (1638). Fine for default by juror.—If any of the persons summoned as jurors fail to attend, the judge must enter a conditional fine of twenty-five dollars against him, which must be made absolute, unless such person appears within thirty days after being served with a notice of such fine, and renders a good excuse for failing to attend.

4291 (1993) (2325) (1961) (1642). Proceedings against defaulting witness.—If any witness, being duly summoned, fails to attend, the judge of probate shall enter up a conditional fine against him, not exceeding fifty dollars, and shall thereupon issue a notice to such witness to appear at a term of said court, not more than thirty days from the date of such notice, and show cause why such fine should not be made absolute; and the proceedings thereafter shall be governed by the same rules, and such witness shall be subject to the same liabilities, except as to the amount of the fine, as are provided by law in cases of defaulting witnesses in the circuit court.

4292 (1994) (2324, 2326) (1960, 1962) (1641, 1643). Depositions; rules of procedure.—For the trial of such contest, depositions of witnesses may be taken in the like cases, for the same causes, and in the same manner, as depositions are taken in civil actions in the circuit court; and in all matters relating to the organization and impaneling of the jury, to the evidence, mode of proceeding, and investigation and determination of such contest, not specially provided for by this article, the court must proceed and be governed by the same rules and regulations, so far as applicable, as prevail in courts of law in civil cases.

McElroy v. McElroy, 5 Ala. 81; Roberts v. Trawick, 13 Ala. 68; Walker v. Jones, 23 Ala. 448; Ex parte Henry, 24 Ala. 638; Deslonde v. Darrington, 29 Ala. 92; Crow v. Blakey, 31 Ala. 728; Taylor v. Kelly, Ib. 59; Blakey v. Blakey, 33 Ala. 611; Seale v. Chambliss, 35 Ala. 19; Fountain v. Brown, 38 Ala. 72; Leslie v. Sims, 39 Ala. 161; Matthews v. McDade, 72 Ala. 378; Jaques v. Horton, 76 Ala. 238; Mathews v. Forniss, 91 Ala. 157.

4293 (1995) (2329) (1965) (1647). Judgment on such contest. When the judgment of the probate court is against the validity of the will, the probate thereof must be rejected; otherwise, the will must be admitted to probate.

4294 (1996) (2331, 2332, 2335) (1967, 1968, 1971) (1649, 1650, 1653). Costs of contest; how taxed and enforced.—The costs of any contest under the provisions of this article must be paid by the party contesting, if he fails; otherwise, it must be paid by the plaintiff, or out of the estate, or in such proportion by the plaintiff, or out of the estate, as the court may direct; and for the costs directed to be paid by the plaintiff or defendant, execution may be issued as in other cases; and the costs directed to be paid out of the estate may be collected as other claims against an estate are collected.

Bradley v. Andress, 30 Ala. 80; Henderson v. Simmons, 33 Ala. 291.

4295 (1997) (2327, 2328) (1963, 1964) (1644). Change of venue; proceedings and trial when granted.—At any time before the trial of such contest, either party may remove the same to another county by proceeding as is required in civil actions in the circuit court; and when an order for the removal of the trial of such contest is made, the judge of probate must transmit the will, subpœnas, and all other papers belonging, and a transcript of all the entries of record relating thereto, to the judge of the probate court of the county to which the trial is ordered to be removed; and such judge of probate must proceed to try the case in the same manner as prescribed for the judge of probate of the county from which it has been removed.

4296 (1998) (2330) (1966). Judgment when change of venue granted.—If the judgment is rendered in the probate court to which it has been removed, and no appeal is taken within thirty days thereafter, such judgment must be certified by the judge of such probate court, and the will and other papers be returned to the probate court from which the trial was removed; and the will must be probated or rejected in such probate court as such judgment may be for or against the validity of the will.

4297 (1999) (2333, 2334) (1969, 1970) (1651, 1652). Costs certified and taxed, on change of venue.—If, on the removal of the trial, the costs are directed to be paid out of the estate, a bill of costs must be made out by the judge of probate trying the same, and certified to the judge of probate of the county from which the trial was removed; and such bill of costs may be taxed by motion in the court in which the trial was had, and the same may be re-certified to such judge of probate.

4298 (2000) (2336) (1972) (1654). Contest in chancery within eighteen months.—Any person interested in any will, who has not contested the same under the provisions of this article, may, at any time within eighteen months after the admission of such will to probate in this state, contest the validity of the same by bill in chancery, in the district in which such will was probated, or in the district in which a material defendant resides.

Johnston v. Glasscock, 2 Ala. 218; Kennedy v. Kennedy, Ib. 571; Johnston v.

Hainesworth, 6 Ala. 443; Hill v. Barge, 12 Ala. 687; Hardy v. Hardy, 26 Ala. 524; Hunt v. Acree, 28 Ala. 580; Woodcock v. McDonald, 30 Ala. 411; Copeland v. Copeland, 32 Ala. 512; McCartney v. Bone, 33 Ala. 601; Kumpe v. Coons, 63 Ala. 448; Lyons v. Campbell, 88 Ala. 462; Watson v. Turner, 89 Ala. 220; Mathews v. Forniss, 91 Ala. 157; Knox v. Knox, 95 Ala. 505; Garrett v. Heflin, 98 Ala. 615; McCutchen v. Loggins, 109 Ala. 457.

4299 (2002) (2338) (1974) (1656). Infants and lunatics allowed longer time to contest.—After the expiration of such eighteen months, the validity of the will can only be contested by infants and persons of unsound mind who had no legal guardian at the time the will was admitted to probate, who are allowed eighteen months after the appointment of a guardian, or, if none be appointed, eighteen months from the termination of their respective disabilities in which to contest such will, but in no case to exceed twenty years from the time the will was admitted to probate.

Watson v. Turner, 89 Ala. 220.

4300 (2001) (2337) (1973) (1655). Trial by jury; evidence taken on probate of will admissible.—The chancery court may, in such case, direct an issue to be tried by a jury, and on the trial before the jury, or hearing before the chancellor, the testimony of the witnesses reduced to writing by the judge of probate, according to section 4279 (1982), is evidence to be considered by the chancellor or jury.

Mathews v. Forniss, 91 Ala. 157; McCutchen v. Loggins, 109 Ala. 457.

RULES OF COURT AND PRACTICE

ADOPTED BY

THE SUPREME COURT OF ALABAMA.*

GENERAL RULES.

1. Appearances, how entered; leading counsel and notices.—The clerk of every court of record in this state shall keep in court in term time, and in his office in vacation, a book to be called the "Book of Appearances." Any attorney or solicitor, desiring to appear in any civil cause, shall make in said book, or cause to be made therein by the clerk, an entry of his name, stating the cause in which he appears, and, if there be several of the same name, its number, or other mark of identity, the party or person for whom he appears, and the date of such entry. Such entry shall be considered an appearance of record. The counsel whose name shall be so first entered shall be considered the leading counsel in the cause, for the party or person for whom he so appears, until he abandons the cause, and then the counsel whose appearance shall be next in date, and so on. Such notices, etc., as are authorized to be served on the attorney of a party, shall be served on his leading counsel.

Method here prescribed rarely pursued—entry of name on margin of docket sufficient.—Grigg v. Gilmer, 54 Ala. 425. What constitutes general appearance; effect of.—Baker v. Pope, 49 Ala. 415; Parker v. Abrams, 50 Ala. 35; Pool v. Minge, 50 Ala. 100; McCaskey v. Pollock, 82 Ala. 174; Beckert v. Whitlock, 83 Ala. 123; Ex parte Henderson, 84 Ala. 36; B'ham Flooring Mills v. Wilder, 85 Ala. 593; Stamphill v. Franklin Co., 86 Ala. 392; Stephens v. Adams, 93 Ala. 117; Rosenberg v. Claflin, 95 Ala. 249; McCreary v. Jones, 96 Ala. 592; Carter v. O'Bryan Bros., 105 Ala. 305; Ward v. Manley, Ala. (21 So. 307). Special appearance, nature and effect of.—Lampley v. Beavers, 25 Ala. 534; Moore v. Dickerson, 44 Ala. 485; Grigg v. Gilmer, 54 Ala. 425; Exchange Nat. Bank v. Clement, 109 Ala. 270. Appearance by counsel may be withdrawn.—Harrison v. Holley, 46 Ala. 84. Appearance by attorney not shown to be special or limited, taken to be general.—Collier v. Falk, 66 Ala. 223.

2. Who may appear.—No one shall be permitted to appear in a cause as counsel or attorney, unless he has been employed therein, and his appearance has been entered as aforesaid, or unless he represent other counsel whose appearance has been so entered, or may have the special leave of the court.

3. Abandonment of cause.—Counsel shall be considered as having abandoned a cause by entry to that effect, by failing, at two successive terms of the court, to appear or be represented therein, by removal from the state, by quitting the practice, or by death; in any of which, and in such other cases as the court may direct, the clerk may enter such abandonment on the book of appearances.

4. Pleadings and briefs signed by counsel.—All declarations, pleas, briefs, etc., must be signed by counsel where counsel is employed.

Complaint must be signed.—Browder v. Gaston, 30 Ala. 677. When amendment to complaint need not be.—Payne v. Crawford, 97 Ala. 604.

5. Solicitors and attorneys receipt for and keep papers twenty-four hours.—It shall be the duty of the several clerks and registers of courts in vacation to permit the attorney or solicitor of record for either party, in any suit pending in their courts, to take from the office the papers in any cause, and retain them for the space of twenty-four hours at any one time, he executing a receipt therefor, specifying the title of the cause, the pleadings, and process on file, and, if an attachment cause, the bonds and affidavits on file; the papers not to be carried beyond the limits of the town in which the office of the register or clerk is located, and the clerk or register shall at all times have access to them.

6. Substitution of lost records or papers; compelling production of written evidence in aid of.—Whenever a party to a pending suit or motion shall make or desire to make a motion to substitute a paper or record, or part thereof, which has been lost or destroyed, and such party, or his attorney, shall suppose that a party to the suit, motion, or record, or his attorney, or any other person, has a paper, book, memorandum, or record, relevant to such motion in his possession, or under his control, such party, or his attorney, or other person, may be compelled to produce the same, as evidence on such motion, after one day's notice to do so; and, on failure to do so, may be dealt with as for a contempt of court; and the court before which the motion is made may make such order or decree, or render such judgment on the motion, as, in its discretion, may seem just and proper.

7. When motion considered pending.—For the purposes of such motion, the suit or motion shall be considered as pending until a final disposition and record have been made of it.

8. When notice of motion necessary.—No notice of such motion shall be necessary, when the party against whom the motion is made is plaintiff, or is in court by personal service, appearance, or publication. If the party be not thus in court, notice of the motion may be given either by personal service, as provided by section 649 of the Revised Code, or by publication, as provided by section 653 of the Revised Code.*

*The provisions as to notice, here referred to, are embodied in section 2648 of this Code.

RULES OF PRACTICE IN THE SUPREME COURT.

1. Assignment of errors and joinder therein.—In assigning errors, it shall be sufficient to state concisely, in writing, in what the error consists. The words "There is no error in the record" shall be a sufficient joinder in error.

In civil cases, errors, except for want of jurisdiction, not considered unless assigned.—Erwin v. Reese, 54 Ala. 589; Haney v. Conoly, 57 Ala. 179; Lehman v. Meyer, 67 Ala. 396; Tuscaloosa Cottonseed Oil Co. v. Perry, 85 Ala. 158; McNeill v. Kyle, 86 Ala. 338; West v. Thomas, 97 Ala. 622; Cottingham v. Armour Packing Co., 109 Ala. 421. Definiteness and precision required in assigning errors.—Napier v. Jones, 47 Ala. 90; Sonneborn v. Bernstein, 49 Ala. 168; Morris v. Poillon, 50 Ala. 403; Alexander v. Rea, 50 Ala. 450; Glover v. Lyon, 57 Ala. 365; Robinson v. Murphy, 69 Ala. 543; Smith v. Freeman, 75 Ala. 285; Glover v. Hill, 85 Ala. 41; White v. Craft, 91 Ala. 139; Dillard v. Savage, 98 Ala. 598; Claflin v. Rodenberg, 101 Ala. 213; Nat. Fertilizer Co. v. Holland, 107 Ala. 412. In civil cases, assignments of error not urged in brief or argument treated as abandoned.—Waller v. Sultzbacher, 38 Ala. 318; Doe v. McDougal, 48 Ala. 383; Sharp v. Robertson, 76 Ala. 343; Taylor v. Smith, 104 Ala. 537; Carter v. O'Bryan, 105 Ala. 305; Henry v. Hall, 106 Ala. 97; Ala. M. Ry. Co. v. McDonald, 112 Ala. 216; So. Ry. Co. v. Cunningham, 112 Ala. 496; L. & N. R. Co. v. Morgan, Ala. (22 So. 20). What not sufficient urging to secure consideration of assignment.—Williams v. Spragins, 102 Ala. 424; Sylacauga Land Co. v. Hendrix, 103 Ala. 254. On joint appeal by several, joint assignment not available unless error injurious to all; rule as to severance.—Kimbrell v. Rogers, 90 Ala. 339; Rudulph v. Brewer, 96 Ala. 189; Beachman v. Mfg. Co. 110 Ala. 555; Lillich v. Moore, 112 Ala. 532; Hillens v. Brinsfield, Ala. (21 So. 208). Joinder in error; effect of as waiver.—Turnly v. Stinson, 1 Ala. 456; Thompson v. Lea, 28 Ala. 453; Magruder v. Campbell, 40 Ala. 611; Myers v. Segars, 41 Ala. 383; Alexander v. Nelson, 42 Ala. 462; Killam v. Costley, 52 Ala. 32; McDonald v. McMahon, 66 Ala. 115; Bolling v. Jones, 67 Ala. 508; Robinson v. Murphy, 69 Ala. 543; Mobile Mut. Ins. Co. v. Cleveland, 76 Ala. 321. Not waiver, where supreme court has not jurisdiction.—Johnston v. Fort, 30 Ala. 78; Mabry v. Dickens, 31 Ala. 243; Parish v. Galloway, 34 Ala. 163.

2. Additional assignments.—On application to the court, additional assignments may be filed at any time before joinder, but after joinder, such only as will affect the merits of the controversy.

Myrick v. Chamberlain, Minor, 357; McDonald v. Elliott, 1 Stew. 219; Stowe v. Sewall, 3 S. & P. 67.

3. Cross-assignment of errors.—When there are cross-appeals in the same cause, there shall be but one transcript, upon which each appellant may assign errors. If the appeal be taken by the party or parties on one side only, the appellee can only assign errors upon the record brought up by the appellant, by consent of the appellant in writing indorsed on the transcript, or a joinder by the appellant in such assignment of errors. When such assignment and joinder are made, the clerk shall docket the case, as if an appeal had been taken by such appellee; and the transcript shall be a part of the record in the case wherein errors are thus assigned by the appellee, as well as in the original case; and the case in which the appellee thus assigns errors shall, in all respects, be regarded as a case on appeal taken by him. As amended Dec. 17, 1884.

Cross-assignments not considered without joinder or written consent. Kirksey v. Hardaway, 41 Ala. 330; Ketchum v. Creagh, 53 Ala. 224; Page v. Francis, 97 Ala. 379; Golden v. Golden, 102 Ala. 353. What necessary to support cross-assignment.—Leslie v. Langham, 40 Ala. 524; Wright v. Evans, 53 Ala. 103; Holdsombeck v. Fancher, 112 Ala. 469.

4. Order of calling and trying cases.—Each case, not being within the rule concerning delay cases, nor within the exceptions hereinafter expressed, must be called and tried according to its order on the docket, unless, for good cause shown, it be continued or passed over.

5. Authorities furnished opposing counsel one day before trial; penalty for failure.—A list of the authorities to be used in the argument of any cause shall, if applied for, be furnished to the counsel for the adverse party, one day before the trial; otherwise, they shall not be read or commented on in the argument on behalf of the party so in default, but they may be cited.

Adopted Dec. 11, 1884.

6. Opening and conclusion of argument.—The appellant in this court shall be entitled, ordinarily, to open and conclude the case; but when there are cross-appeals, they shall be argued together as one case; and the plaintiff or complainant in the court below shall be entitled to open and conclude the argument.

7 (6). Authorities read in opening argument.—No authority which was not read in the opening argument shall be read in the conclusion, unless by leave of the court, or to rebut authority introduced by the adverse counsel.

8 (32). Arguments limited to one hour.—No argument of counsel shall extend beyond the period of one hour, unless by consent of the court, obtained before the argument of the cause is commenced.

Adopted June 28, 1890.

9. Briefs to be printed in certain cases.—All briefs and arguments of counsel, other than such as are oral, in civil cases, shall be printed on a typewriter or otherwise, when they are more than eight average pages of legal-cap paper, and the amount in controversy is three hundred dollars, or in excess of that sum.

10. Appellant's brief; how to be prepared.—The appellant, in order to prepare a case properly for submission when called, shall have filed a brief of the points relied on, in accordance with, and confined to the distinct specifications contained in his assignments of error, each ground of error insisted on being separately presented and numbered in proper order. Each point shall be stated in the form of a proposition, unless the assignment of error is itself in this form, and then it will be sufficient to copy the assignment.

11. Appellee's brief.—The appellee, in like manner, shall furnish a brief setting forth the points of the defense.

12. Succinct statement of points and authorities.—There shall be annexed to such statement of each proposition contained in the brief, at the end of it, without argument or comment, a reference simply to the authorities relied on, if any, in support of it, whether statutes, adjudged cases, or elementary authorities. Cases most nearly in point should for convenience be cited first, and citations need not be unnecessarily numerous, so as to require a waste of time in their examination.

Adopted Dec. 20, 1895.

13. Briefs of both parties to be filed on submission of cause; additional briefs; service.—Counsel for both parties at the time of submission of any civil cause shall file their briefs and arguments, printed or written as now required by the rules on that subject. If appellant's counsel is in default for failing to comply with this rule, the case shall not be submitted or heard on his motion, and may be dismissed on motion of the appellee; and when counsel for appellee is in default, he will not be heard on the merits of the appeal except by the consent of his adversary and upon the request of the court. After a cause has been submitted or heard, no brief will be allowed to be filed or furnished except on the consent of a judge of the court upon satisfactory proof that a copy thereof has been furnished to the other side, and in such case the opposite party may reply to any new matter presented by such brief.

14 (10) (7). Roll of attorneys.—The clerk shall keep a list or roll of all attorneys of this court, entering their names in the order in which they were admitted.

15 (11) (8). Special motions on Thursday, and call of roll.—Special motions shall be heard on each Thursday of the term; and for this purpose the clerk shall call over the names of the attorneys, beginning with the attorney-general, and proceeding with the others according to their order on the roll.

16 (12) (9). Motion-docket; notices of motions.—The clerk shall keep a motion-docket, in which shall be entered all motions for argument which are not ex parte, or of course. In such entry the nature and particular grounds of the motion shall be designated, and, at least one day before the hearing of the motion, the entry shall be shown to the counsel for the adverse party, or he shall have such written notice as will enable him to refer to it.

When motion not entered on docket not considered.—Capehart v. Granite Mills, 97 Ala. 353. Extraordinary writs, such as mandamus, etc., obtainable by motion entered on docket supported by transcript of proceedings in lower court.—Ex parte Garland, 42 Ala. 559; Ex parte Tower Mfg. Co., 103 Ala. 415.

17 (13) (10). Order of business on Thursday.—On each Thursday, after the ex parte motions have been heard, the criminal cases must be called, and shall be in order until they are disposed of, unless continued or postponed by the court; after the criminal cases have been disposed of, motions requiring argument, and applications for mandamus, prohibition, or other remedial writ, will be heard, and next, appeals belonging to the division from orders or decrees dissolving or refusing to dissolve injunctions, appointing or refusing to appoint receivers, sustaining or overruling a demurrer to a bill in equity, or sustaining or overruling a motion to dismiss such bill for want of equity, or sustaining or overruling a plea to such bill, shall be called, and stand for trial as preferred causes, in the order in which they stand on the docket.

18 (14) (11). Delay cases.—On any motion-day, if the counsel for the defendant in error or appellee state that it is his belief that the case is brought into this court merely for delay, the record shall be submitted to the court without argument on either side. If the court, on examining the record, consider it a delay case, the judgment shall be affirmed; but if it appear to be doubtful or difficult, or if, when so offered to be submitted, or at any time during the term, the counsel for the plaintiff in error or appellant state to the court that it is his opinion that, on more full examination, the judgment will be reversed or corrected, it shall not be so affirmed; or if such judgment of affirmance has been entered, it shall be set aside, and the case shall stand over for argument in its regular order.

19 (15) (12). Certiorari.—A certiorari to perfect or bring up a complete record may be awarded at the first term, on motion of either party, if its object be to sustain a judgment, without a showing; but if to reverse a judgment, a sufficient showing must be made.

Office of certiorari.—Montevallo Coal Co. v. Reynolds, 44 Ala. 252; Stroud v. State, 55 Ala. 77; Hightower v. Crow, 102 Ala. 584. Return to certiorari treated as the true and correct record.—Pearce v. Clements, 73 Ala. 256; Gady v. State, 83 Ala. 51; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Dobbs, 101 Ala. 219. When awarded to support jurisdiction.—Morgan v. Jones, 48 Ala. 250. And to affirm judgment.—Judson v. Eslava, Minor, 71; McDonald v. Gayle, Ib. 98. In case of surprise to appellant.—Quigley v. Campbell, 12 Ala. 58. When will not be awarded.—Looney v. Bush, Minor, 413; Eades v. Duncan, Minor, 389; State v. Shelton, 3 Stew. 343; Townsend v. Jeffries, 24 Ala. 329; Curry v. Woodward, 50 Ala. 258; Tuscaloosa Co. v. Logan, 50 Ala. 503.

20 (16) (13). Restrictions upon use of papers by attorneys.—The clerk may permit either of the attorneys concerned in a cause to take the record and papers thereof from the clerk's office, to be returned at such time as by the rules of the office may be directed; but no transcript or other papers (except briefs), after being filed in this court, or being submitted to the court shall be delivered to the bar, except for use and examination within the capitol; and all members of the bar are positively forbidden to take any such record or paper from the capitol.

21 (17) (14). Time of examination for license.—The examinations for licenses must be on any Thursday of the term.

22 (18) (15). Examination of applicants for license.—The examination of applicants under the eye of the court must be thorough, and well calculated to test the extent of the applicant's professional attainments; and when these are defective, the court must not hesitate to withhold a license.

23 (19) (16). Graduates of law department of University of Alabama.—Whenever the president and professors of the law department of the University of Alabama shall officially certify to this court, that the university has conferred the degree of Bachelor of Laws upon a graduate in that department, it shall be the duty of the clerk to enter the name of such graduate upon the roll of attorneys of this court, and to issue to him a license, upon application and payment of the usual fees, authorizing him to practice law in any court of the State of Alabama, on taking the oath prescribed by statute.

24 (20). Admission of attorneys.—Attorneys of the age of twenty-one years, licensed by the circuit courts, or courts of chancery of this state, and who have, for two years thereafter, practiced in the courts of this state, will be admitted to the bar of this court during term time, upon application and payment of the usual fees, on filing with the clerk of this court, in writing, the oath of an attorney as prescribed by the statute; and the certificate of the chancellor of the division, or judge of the circuit, in which he resides, that he is of good moral character and has so practiced for such length of time.

25 (21).(17). Agreements in writing.—No private agreement or consent between the parties or their attorneys, relating to the proceedings in any cause, shall be alleged or suggested by either against the other, unless the same be in writing, and signed by the party to be bound thereby.

Verbal agreements of no force; courts of equity will not relieve against their violation.—Collier v. Falk, 66 Ala. 223; Norman v. Burns, 67 Ala. 248. See also Wright v. Evans, 53 Ala. 103; Prestwood v. Watson, 111 Ala. 604.

26 (22) (19). Paper of transcripts.—All transcripts of records must be on paper of uniform size, according to the sample furnished by the clerk of the supreme court, with a blank margin, at the top, bottom and sides of each page, of an inch and a half, exactly conforming to those marked on the sample.

27 (23) (20). Original paper sent by order of judge or chancellor.—Whenever it shall, in the opinion of the judge of any court, or of any chancellor, be necessary or proper that original papers of any kind should be inspected in the supreme court, such judge or chancellor may make such rule or order for the safe-keeping, transporting and return of such original papers as to him may seem proper; and such papers will be considered by the supreme court in connection with the transcript of the proceedings. This rule shall apply as well to cases heretofore tried as to those which may hereafter be tried.

Prior to this rule, original papers disregarded, although sent up by order of trial-judge.—Butler v. State, 22 Ala. 43. Sending up original paper does not authorize its omission from transcript.—Pruitt v. McWhorter, 74 Ala. 315; Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317. What papers within rule.—Wright v. Dunklin, 83 Ala. 317. Must be identified as an original paper.—Gardner v. State, 96 Ala. 12. Order of trial-judge essential.—Gardner v. State, 96 Ala. 12; Frieder v. Mfg. Co., 101 Ala. 242.

28 (24) (21). Original papers not sent, but copied in transcript, except as directed in the preceding rule.—No original bill of exceptions, or paper read or offered in evidence, shall be sent to this court. Copies of bills of exceptions, and of papers therein referred to, shall be inserted in their proper places in the transcripts.

Crawford v. Bank, 7 Ala. 383.

29 (25) (22). Mode of preparing transcript.—The pages of the transcript shall be numbered. Each transcript shall be prefaced by an index of its contents, specifying the pages at which the various matters (as the writ, declaration, pleas, bill of exceptions, judgment, bill in chancery, answer of each defendant, deposition of each witness, each interlocutory order or decree, final decree, etc.) are to be found. The several answers of witnesses, as made in depositions, shall each follow consecutively the particular interrogatory to which it is responsive. Marginal references to the several matters, as above, shall be made throughout the transcript. The transcript must be fastened together on the left side of the page by ribbon or tape, so that the same may be secure, and every part conveniently read, and must be written in a fair, legible hand; and each paper or order composing such transcript must constitute at least one paragraph. No paper less than the sample furnished must form a part of such transcript, and the space within the margin must be filled with writing or printing, leaving appropriate spaces between the paragraphs, with lines drawn along such spaces.

General directions for preparing transcripts.—Foster v. Napier, 74 Ala. 393. Notes or comments of clerk should not be incorporated.—Frieder v. Mfg. Co., 101 Ala. 242; Baker v. Swift, 87 Ala. 530; Weaver v. Cooper, 73 Ala. 318; Ice v. Manning, 3 Ala. 121. Mode of copying depositions; costs disallowed when rule violated.—Rovelsky v. Brown, 92 Ala. 522. Dates of filing of pleadings, etc., should be given.—Murphy v. Wood, 103 Ala. 638.

Adopted Feb. 22, 1887.

30 (26). Papers to be omitted from transcript.—In making out transcripts in cases brought to this court by appeal or writ of error, the clerks and registers of the primary courts must not insert any subpœnas or summons for any witness, nor for any defendant, where there is an appearance by such defendant; nor any orders of continuance, as to any of which proceedings or matters no question is raised; nor any commission to examine a witness, nor certificate of a commissioner to a deposition, nor any affidavit made to obtain such commission, except where a question as to the sufficiency or legality thereof appears from the record to have been decided in the primary court.

Adopted April 25, 1878.

31 (27). Abridgement of record by agreement.—When an appeal is taken to the supreme court from any of the courts of record of this state, the parties, their solicitors, or attorneys, may make an agreement in writing, specifying what part of the proceedings shall be inserted in the transcript; and it shall be the duty of registers, clerks and judges of probate, when such agreement is filed, to include in the transcript only such part of the proceedings as shall be specified in such agreement; and the agreement itself shall be made a part of the transcript.

32 (28) (23). Seal, how placed; papers otherwise attached not parts of transcript.—The clerk's seal shall be so placed across the fastening of the cord with which the sheets are stitched that no part of the transcript can be detached without separating the seal, cord, or paper. No paper attached by wafer, paste, or in any other manner than as above, shall be considered as part of the transcript.

33 (29) (24). Certificate of appeal, citation, bond, security for costs.—All transcripts must contain a certificate of the fact that an appeal was taken, and the time when, and a copy of the appeal bond, or certificate of the names of the sureties for costs, and a copy of the citation and its service, but if a copy of such citation and service cannot be inserted in the transcript, the original may be sent to the clerk of the supreme court.

Certificate of appeal; what it should show; its necessity.—Caldwell v. Baldwin, 43 Ala. 617; Portis v. Newman, 43 Ala. 506; Shulman v. Brantly, 48 Ala. 193; Killam v. Costley, 52 Ala. 32; Winn v. Dillard, 57 Ala. 167; Armstrong v. Nelson, 57 Ala. 556. Motion to dismiss for want of certificate too late after joinder in error.—Myers v. Segars, 41 Ala. 383; Killam v. Costley, 52 Ala. 32.

34 (30) (25). Clerk furnishes sample, and must not docket case unless transcript conforms to rules.—The clerk of the supreme court furnishes samples of paper, and must not receive any transcript, or docket the cause, unless such transcript is conformable to the foregoing rules.

35 (31) (26). Affirmance on certificate.—On the fourth day of each annual term, and every Thursday afterwards when the court is in session, if an appeal to this court has been taken, and no transcript has been filed according to the rule therefor this day adopted, a motion for affirmance on certificate will be in order; but no such motion shall be entertained on any day earlier than the motion-day of the division to which the case belongs, which first occurs after the proper return-day of the appeal. It may be made, however, on any subsequent motion-day during the term.

Formerly affirmance obtainable after first three days of term.—Cowles v. Frear, 43 Ala. 642; Jones v. Matthews, 48 Ala. 558. When denied.—Tardy v. Murry, 17 Ala. 585; Shulman v. Brantly, 48 Ala. 193; Armstrong v. Nelson, 57 Ala. 556. Such a judgment may be rendered against sureties on supersedeas bond also.—Ex parte Weissinger, 7 Ala. 710. Right waived by failure to assert.—Webb v. Robbins, 77 Ala. 176.

36 (32) (27). Affirmance on certificate set aside on filing transcript.—Whenever a judgment shall be taken before a call of the division to which the case properly belongs, it will be deemed a sufficient cause to reinstate the case and to set aside the judgment, if the transcript is filed at any time before the first motion-day after the call of the division.

37 (33) (28). Setting aside affirmances in other cases.—In all other cases where a motion is submitted to set aside a judgment rendered on certificate or citation, affidavits must be produced showing satisfactory reasons why the transcript was not filed within the first three days after the call of the division to which the cause belongs. If the transcript offered is defective, the transcript must show either that application has been made for a correct transcript, or that there was not sufficient time after the defect was discovered to procure one before the adjournment of the court. And, in either event, the deficient matter must be stated with sufficient certainty to enable the defendant in error to admit the existence of the same, and to proceed as if the record was complete.

When satisfactory reasons not shown.—Jones v. Matthews, 48 Ala. 558.

38 (34) (29). Certificate when no proceedings at return-term. When an appeal has been taken, or shall hereafter be taken to this court from any court, and the term of this court to which such appeal is taken shall close its session, or cease to hear arguments, if the record in such case shall not have been filed, and no order made in this court, either continuing said cause or disposing of the same, it shall be the duty of the clerk of this court, at the request of an attorney thereof, to certify such failure to file the record, or have such order made in the cause, to the register, clerk, or probate judge of the court from which it is represented that such appeal has been prosecuted; and the certificate made pursuant to this rule shall be a full authority to the register, clerk, or probate judge to proceed in said cause as if no appeal had been prosecuted.

See rules 45 and 46, and citations thereto.

39 (35) (30). Paper of applications for bail, mandamus, etc., must correspond with transcript.—All applications to this court to admit to bail, or for the writ of habeas corpus, mandamus, or other writ or process depending on motion in this court, together with all papers and proceedings touching the same, shall be presented on folio paper, of the pattern now required by the rule for ordinary transcripts, so that the same may be in suitable form for binding; and no application shall be heard that is not so presented.

40 (36) (31). Abatement on failure to revive by next term after suggestion of death.—When the death of a party has been suggested, and an order made to revive in the name of or against the heirs or personal representatives of the deceased, and this is not done by the next term of the court, the suit shall abate, unless, for sufficient cause shown, the court shall extend the time.

When time will be extended.—Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577.

Adopted June 25, 1896.

41. Rehearings; regulations as to.—All applications for a rehearing must be filed with the secretary of the chief justice, within fifteen days after the rendition of the judgment; no such application will be received or filed unless accompanied by a brief or argument in support thereof. If the term at which judgment is rendered expires before the ten days have elapsed, the application may be filed in vacation within the fifteen days, and may be considered and granted or overruled at the succeeding term. Without the order of the court, or a judge thereof, the pendency of an application for a rehearing, shall not stay or suspend the execution of the judgment of this court.

Ib.

42. Briefs on rehearing; service of.—Wherever application for a rehearing shall be made, the counsel making the application shall, before filing his argument in support thereof, serve a copy of the argument upon the leading counsel of record for the opposite party.

Adopted July 3, 1884.

43 (38). Duty of clerk as to sending copies of opinions.—It shall be the duty of the clerk of this court to send a copy of the opinion of the court to the court below, in all cases decided on appeal, except when the judgment or decree of the lower court is simply affirmed without more; and for this he shall be allowed the usual fees for copying.

Adopted Feb. 8, 1884.

44 (39). Establishing bills of exceptions.—When it is proposed to establish a bill of exceptions under section 3111 of the Code of 1876 (section 621 of this Code), the testimony for and against such motion must be taken and certified under the following regulations: The opposing parties may agree in writing on one or more commissioners; or any competent justice of the peace, or other judicial officer, at the option of the party desiring to take testimony, may act as commissioner, with authority, in either case, to administer oaths to witnesses, and to take, reduce to writing and certify the testimony. The party desiring to examine a witness, or witnesses, under this rule, shall cause reasonable notice in writing to be served on adverse counsel, in no case to be less than five days, giving notice of the time and place of examination, and of the witnesses proposed to be examined. Such notice, with the service thereon, shall be made part of the deposition, unless the commissioner certifies that the adversary party, by himself or counsel, was present at the examination. In taking such testimony, no commission or written interrogatories shall be necessary; but interrogatories, cross-interrogatories and rebutting interrogatories may be allowed; and the whole must be taken and certified, pursuing substantially the rules and forms required in the matter of depositions in chancery. Testimony thus taken must be sealed up, directed and forwarded to the clerk of this court, with a memorandum on the envelope as follows: "Deposition in case of ——— vs. ———, pending in supreme court"; and the commissioner must sign his name thereto as commissioner.

45. Failing to file transcript by time case subject to call.—In all cases of appeal to this court taken in vacation, except those subject to call during the first week of the term, and in all cases appealed during the term, unless the transcript is filed with the clerk of this court by twelve o'clock noon of the first day of the first week during which such case is subject to call in this court, it shall be within the power of this court to tax the appellant with all, or any part of the costs of the appeal; and, in addition, such appeal may, in the discretion of the court, be dismissed on motion of appellee, if made not later than the next Thursday. The court may, however, consider any affidavit or affidavits offered in excuse of non-compliance with this rule, and may, in its discretion, decline to impose all, or any part of the foregoing penalties. Adopted June 28, 1890.

Construed.—Street v. Street, Ala. (21 So. 138).

46. Filing transcript after adjournment of term.—Upon satisfactory excuse being shown for the delay, the court may, in its discretion, permit the transcript to be filed and the cause docketed, for the first time, after the adjournment of the term to, or during which the appeal is returnable, upon such terms as the court may impose. Adopted Feb. 10, 1894.

Rule modified law as previously declared in Sears v. Kirksey, 81 Ala. 98; Winthrow v. Iron Co., 81 Ala. 100; Bayzer v. Mill Co., 13 So. 144 (not officially reported). This rule construed.—Collier v. Coggins, 103 Ala. 281; see also Street v. Street, Ala. (21 So. 138).

RULES OF PRACTICE IN THE CIRCUIT AND INFERIOR COURTS OF COMMON-LAW JURISDICTION.

1. Order of causes on docket.—The clerk must enter all causes on the proper docket according to the order in which the process commencing the same was received by the sheriff.

2. Motion-docket.—He shall keep a separate docket, in which shall be entered all motions made during the term (not incidental to the cause), in the order of time in which they are made, and they shall be called in the same order.

Motion-docket no part of record—bill of exceptions or enrollment necessary.—Waring v. Gilbert, 25 Ala. 295; T. & C. R. R. Co. v. Ry. Co., 81 Ala. 94; Wiggins v. Witherington, 96 Ala. 535; Leinkauff v. Advancing Co., 99 Ala. 619; Frieder v. Mfg. Co., 101 Ala. 242; R. & D. R. Co., v. Jones, 102 Ala. 212; Ex parte H. A. & B. R. Co., 105 Ala. 221; A. G. S. R. Co. v. Bailey, 112 Ala. 167.

3. Order-book.—He shall keep on his table, when the court is sitting, and at all other times, in his office, a memorandum-book, in which the attorneys may respectively enter precipes and other directions to him.

4. Executions, when issued.—On every final judgment rendered during the term (unless the party to be benefited thereby, or his attorney, shall, in writing, otherwise direct), the clerk shall issue execution as soon after the adjournment as the law will permit.

5. Attorneys, security for cost, but not bail.—An attorney may be surety for cost, but shall not be bail for his client, either in a civil or a criminal case.

6. Scire facias, time of pleading to, and trial of.—To every scire facias returned "made known," the defendant shall plead within the first two days of the term to which the same is returned; the plaintiff shall reply on the day next thereafter, and so on from day to day, until issue in fact or in law be joined; but either party may demand a trial at the return-term, although the court may not continue in session three days.

7. Oyer of letters testamentary, or letters of administration. When oyer of letters testamentary, or letters of administration, is demanded, it shall be granted on or before the first day of the term next after the return of the summons or writ, but the trial shall not on that account be delayed.

8. Papers; production of, and penalty.—When the action is on any instrument purporting to have been signed by the defendant, and, within the time prescribed for pleading, he shall give notice to produce it, it shall, within one day thereafter, be produced for his inspection. In default thereof, nonsuit may be entered, unless sufficient excuse be shown.

9. Defaults, at what time entered and taken advantage of. Defaults may be entered on the docket in vacation, which shall relate to the preceding term, and advantage thereof may be claimed at the next term.

Rule cited.—Hudson v. Wood, 102 Ala. 631. Defendant need not be formally called.—Home Protection of N. A. v. Caldwell, 85 Ala. 607. Default in attachment suits not grantable without general appearance or levy on property.—Jennings v. Pearce, 101 Ala. 538; Byers v. Baker, 104 Ala. 173. Effective only on property attached.—Soulard v. Oil Co., 109 Ala. 387; Ex. Bank v. Clement, 109 Ala. 270.

10. Party entering default not bound to receive plea.—After a default has been duly entered, the party claiming the benefit thereof shall not be bound to receive any plea or pleading of the party so in default.

Rule cited.—Hudson v. Wood, 102 Ala. 631. Defendant may plead at any time before default entered.—Woosley v. R. Co., 28 Ala. 536; Rhodes v. McFarland, 43 Ala. 95; Wagnon v. Turner, 73 Ala. 197. Rule different under special acts.—Reed Lumber Co. v. Lewis, 94 Ala. 626; Hudson v. Wood, 102 Ala. 631.

11. Default set aside on affidavit.—On timely application, on affidavit showing merits and sufficient matter of excuse, a default may be set aside on such terms as the court may impose.

Setting aside default discretionary and ruling irrevisable.—Goodwin v. Harrison, 6 Ala. 438; Allen v. Lumber Co., 90 Ala. 490; Truss v. R. Co., 96 Ala. 316; Ledbetter v. Vinton, 108 Ala. 644. Court may impose terms, as condition of setting aside default.—Sawyer v. Patterson, 12 Ala. 295.

12. Plea in abatement must appear by indorsement to have been filed in time.—No plea in abatement shall be received, if objected to, unless by the indorsement of the clerk it appear to have been filed within the time allowed for pleading.

Plea in abatement may not be filed with or after plea in bar.—Hart v. Turk, 15 Ala. 675; Strouse v. Leipf, 101 Ala. 433. Oral plea in abatement not receivable.—Crawford v. State, 112 Ala. 1. Rule strictly applicable only in civil cases.—Nixon v. State, 68 Ala. 535. Such pleas disfavored—must be seasonably filed in all cases.—Beck v. Glenn, 69 Ala. 121; Grimes v. State, 105 Ala. 86; Moorer v. State, Ala. (22 So. 592). When in time.—Lawrence v. State, 59 Ala. 61. When too late.—Noles v. Marable, 50 Ala. 366; Perry v. Hurt, 54 Ala. 285. When allowance after time prescribed is and is not discretionary with court.—Cobb v. Miller, 9 Ala. 499; Massey v. Steele, 11 Ala. 340; Vaughan v. Robinson, 22 Ala. 519; Hawkins v. Packing Co., 105 Ala. 545. Such plea waived by demurrer or plea in bar.—Brown v. Powell, 45 Ala. 149; Haley v. State, 63 Ala. 89. Discretionary with court to allow withdrawal of plea of not guilty and filing of plea in abatement.—Hubbard v. State, 72 Ala. 164. Objection that plea not in time to be made by motion to strike, not demurrer.—Cobb v. Miller, 9 Ala. 499; Hart v. Turk, 15 Ala. 675; Holley v. Younge, 27 Ala. 203.

13. Motions to quash, when made.—A motion to quash an attachment, appeal, or process, must be made at the first term at which it can be made, and not afterwards.

14. Agreements must be written.—No private agreement or consent between the parties or their attorneys, relating to the proceedings in any cause, shall be alleged or suggested by either against the other, unless the same be in writing, and signed by the party to be bound thereby.

Verbal agreements of no force.—Wright v. Evans, 53 Ala. 103; Collier v. Falk, 66 Ala. 223; Norman v. Burns, 67 Ala. 248. Rule not applicable to agreements in open court.—Prestwood v. Watson, 111 Ala. 604.

15. Regulations as to call of docket and trial of cases.—The docket of civil causes for trial shall be called absolutely on the first day of the term, unless the presiding judge shall order otherwise. Each cause shall be taken up according to its priority on the docket, and tried or continued. If passed over, it shall not be called again during the term until the other causes for trial have been disposed of.

Womack v. Bookman, 34 Ala. 38.

16. Rules of continuance.—The party applying for the continuance of any civil action must state in the affidavit the names and places of residence of the absent witness or witnesses, what diligence he has used to obtain his or their testimony, and what he expects to prove thereby. If the adverse party will admit what it is so alleged such absent witness will swear, the cause shall not be continued by reason of the absence of such testimony. After the first continuance, such other showing must be made, and such terms may be imposed, as to the court shall seem proper.

Force accorded admission as to testimony of absent witness.—M. & W. Road Co. v. Webb, 27 Ala. 618; Crawford v. State, 44 Ala. 382; Peterson v. State, 63 Ala. 113; Ryan v. Beard, 74 Ala. 306; Woolsey v. Jones, 84 Ala. 88; Dean v. State, 89 Ala. 46. When ruling excluding showing conclusive. Johnson v. State, 102 Ala. 1. When showing admitted, trial should proceed. Childress v. State, 86 Ala. 77. When rule not complied with, trial should proceed.—White v. State, 86 Ala. 69. Imposition of costs as a condition. Waller v. Sultzbacher, 38 Ala. 318; Dunlap v. Horton, 49 Ala. 412; Rhea v. Tucker, 56 Ala. 450; Maund v. Loeb, 87 Ala. 374; Torrey v. Bishop, 104 Ala. 548; Torrey v. Slaughter, 104 Ala. 552; Alexander v. Moore, 111 Ala. 410. Granting or refusal of continuance discretionary and irrevisable.—Ex parte Jones, 66 Ala. 202; DeArman v. State, 77 Ala. 10; White v. State, 86 Ala. 69; Walker v. State, 91 Ala. 76; Carr v. State, 104 Ala. 4; Wimberly v. Windham, 104 Ala. 409; Torrey v. Bishop, 104 Ala. 548. So also of motion to postpone to later day.—A. G. S. R. Co. v. Hill, 93 Ala. 514. In criminal cases when court without authority ex mero motu to order continuance.—Johnson v. State, 102 Ala. 1.

17. Second continuance by consent.—No cause shall be continued twice in succession by consent of parties.

18. One counsel examines witness.—On trial, only one counsel on each side shall examine a witness.

19. Right of concluding argument.—If the counsel for the plaintiff waives the right of opening the argument, he shall not have the right of concluding.

Enforcement of rule discretionary with court.—M. & M. Ry. Co. v. Yeates, 67 Ala. 164. Plaintiff entitled to open and conclude.—Grady v. Hammond, 21 Ala. 427; Chamberlain v. Gaillard, 26 Ala. 504. Proponent of will is the plaintiff.—Mathews v. Forniss, 91 Ala. 157. So also is a defendant in judgment, applying for supersedeas of execution.—Pearsall v. McCartney, 28 Ala. 110. Right not lost by failure of defendant to offer evidence.—Worsham v. Goar, 4 Port. 441. Waiver of argument, when right not revived.—Cotten v. Rutledge, 33 Ala. 110.

20. Papers, how prepared and transmitted on change of venue. On change of venue, the papers must be prepared, enveloped, delivered, or transmitted, and compensation must be paid as prescribed in chapter 12, title 1, part 3, and article 2, chapter 10, title 2, part 4, of the Revised Code.

21. Motion-day.—A particular day in each term shall be set apart for hearing motions, but they may be heard at any earlier day by leave of the court.

22. Notice of motions in arrest and for new trials; grounds and affidavit.—Reasons in arrest of judgment, and reasons for new trial, and the affidavits in support thereof, if any are relied on, shall be filed with the clerk, and notice thereof be given to the adverse party, one day before the argument. If the cause is tried on the last day of the term, the notice shall be given when the motion is entered. The party making such motion is entitled to the opening and conclusion of the argument. All such motions not acted on, or continued by order of the court, are to be considered as discharged of course on the last day of the term.

Grant of new trials on conditions.—Stephenson v. Mansony, 4 Ala. 317; Ex parte Lowe, 20 Ala. 330; Screws v. Upshaw, 34 Ala. 496; Ex parte Dillard, 68 Ala. 594; Hundley v. Yonge, 69 Ala. 89. Imposition of terms on refusal of new trial.—Walker v. Blassingame, 17 Ala. 810. Rulings on motions for new trials in criminal cases not revisable.—See section 434 of this Code, and citations thereto. When granting new trial not discretionary.—McLeod v. Improvement Co., 108 Ala. 81. Motion should specifically point out ground relied on.—Winter v. Judkins, 106 Ala. 259. Motion for new trial too late after appeal taken.—Hudson v. Grocer Co., 105 Ala. 200. Hearing of motion may be continued.—Walker v. Hale, 16 Ala. 26; Lee v. Iron Co., 102 Ala. 628. Discharge of motion not acted on.—Gunnells v. Bank, 18 Ala. 676; Ex parte H. A. & B. R. Co., 105 Ala. 221. Not continued by mere general order.—Hundley v. Yonge, 69 Ala. 89. Motion for new trial suspends judgment and enlarges time for appeal.—Florence C. & I. Co. v. Field, 104 Ala. 471. Motions in arrest and rulings thereon must be shown by record proper, not bill of exceptions.—Taylor v. State, 112 Ala. 69.

23. Rules of practice on appeals.—In cases on error or appeal, the circuit court is governed by the rules of the supreme court, as far as applicable.

24. Ejectment; consent rule.—In every action of ejectment the defendant shall specify, in the consent rule, for what premises he intends to defend, and shall consent in such rule to confess upon the trial that the defendant (if he defends as tenant, or in case he defends as landlord, that his tenant) was, at the time of the service of the declaration, in possession of such premises, and that if, upon the trial, the defendant shall not confess such possession, as well as lease, entry and ouster, whereby the plaintiff shall not be able further to prosecute his suit against the said defendant, then no costs shall be allowed for not further prosecuting the same, but the said defendant shall pay cost to the plaintiff, in that case to be taxed.

Sledge v. Doe, 51 Ala. 386; Alexander v. Wheeler, 69 Ala. 332.

25. Plaintiff in one action of ejectment may notify plaintiff in another for same premises to defend.—Where several actions of ejectment have been commenced for the same premises on the demises of different lessors, it may be lawful for the plaintiff in either of the cases, during the pendency of his suit, to serve a copy of his declaration on the lessors of the plaintiff or his attorney in the other case or cases, with a notice of the pendency of his action, and to require him or them to defend against the same; and in the event of a recovery by the plaintiff giving the notice, it shall not be lawful for the plaintiff, notified as aforesaid, to proceed in the action for the recovery of the tenements sued for, but only for the costs and damages; Provided, that sixty days' notice shall be given before the said plaintiff shall be required to join the consent rule.

26. Plaintiff having recovered may notify plaintiff in pending ejectment for same premises.—Whenever a recovery has been had in any action of ejectment, and there has been, and then is, pending an action for the recovery of the same tenements, which action was commenced before the recovery of the lessors of the plaintiff in the former suit, it shall be lawful for the plaintiff in the suit pending to serve a copy of his declaration upon the parties in possession, or who claim interest under the recovery as aforesaid, notifying the said parties of the pendency of the action, and requiring them to defend against the same; and the parties so notified may defend with, or in lieu of the tenants in possession; Provided, that the notice hereby contemplated shall be given sixty days before the trial of the cause.

27. May be admitted to defend pending ejectment.—After a recovery by a plaintiff in any action of ejectment as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the circuit court to admit his lessor to defend in any action of ejectment which may be pending at the time of his recovery, upon a motion to the court for this purpose; and it is made the duty of the court to set forth, in the order admitting parties under either of these rules, the facts that entitle them to admission.

28. Remanded cause, not continued of course.—Where a judgment is reversed, either by the circuit or supreme court, and the cause remanded, the case shall not be continued, as a matter of course, at the next succeeding term of the court to which it is sent back, but the party desiring a continuance shall show cause thereof, as in other cases.

29. Actions by transferee.—When an action is brought by the assignee, transferee, or indorsee of a contract, verbal or written, for the payment of money, or by a plaintiff averring he is the party really interested in such contract, the interest of the plaintiff in such contract, and his right to maintain such action shall not be disputed except by plea verified by affidavit.

Rule not applicable to suits in equity.—McGhee v. Bank, 93 Ala. 192. But see Paige v. Broadfoot, 100 Ala. 610. Plaintiff's ownership of interest to be denied by sworn plea.—Finnegan v. Frank, 67 Ala. 21; Mobile Life Ins. Co. v. Egger, 67 Ala. 134; Manning v. Maroney, 87 Ala. 563; Hanna v. Ingram, 93 Ala. 482; K. C. M. & B. R. Co. v. Cobb, 100 Ala. 228; Scottish Un. & Nat. Ins. Co. v. Dangaix, 103 Ala. 388; Howle v. Edwards, 113 Ala. When sworn plea filed, onus on plaintiff.—Cobb v. Bryant, 86 Ala. 316. In suit by assignee of insurance policy, sworn plea not necessary to denial of insurable interest. A. G. L. Ins. Co. v. Ins. Co., 81 Ala. 329.

30. Bills of exception, when signed.—In all circuit and inferior courts of common-law jurisdiction, bills of exception may be signed by the presiding judge at any time during the term at which the trial or proceeding is had, or, by written consent of the parties, or their counsel, filed in the cause, at any time before the next succeeding term of such court, and not afterwards.

Ladd v. State, 92 Ala. 58. See citations to sections 616 and 617 of this Code.

Adopted Dec. 13, 1887.

31. Former acquittal or conviction; special venire.—A former acquittal or conviction shall be specially pleaded. And in capital cases, in which, on any former trial, a verdict of conviction has been rendered for any grade of the offense charged less than the highest, when the court calls the case for the purpose of making the usual order fixing the day for trial, the defendant shall be required by the court to announce his election to file or to waive his plea of former acquittal; and if the record of the former trial sustains such plea, its truth may be confessed by the solicitor, of which facts the court shall enter a memorandum on its docket; and in such case, the truth of the plea being admitted, no order shall be made for a special venire for the trial of the case.
